Ordered, That Mahlon Kirkbride and George Aſhbridge wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe are met, and ready to receive any Thing he may have to lay before them, and deſire he would be pleaſed to furniſh them with a Copy of the Writs by which they were ſummoned.

William Franklin, Clerk to this Houſe, informed the Houſe, that he had by Order of the Committee of Correſpondence waited upon the Governor to obtain a Warrant for the Affixing the Great Seal to a Copy of the Minutes of the ſeveral Sittings of the preſent Aſſembly, and to a Copy of the Bill for granting Twenty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, paſſed by the Houſe on the Twelfth of December laſt (which Copies the Clerk had certified to be juſtly and truly taken from the Journals of this Houſe) to be tranſmitted Home to our Agents in England; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that it was not made known to him that the ſaid William Franklin was choſen Clerk of Aſſembly, and had a Right to certify the Proceedings of the Houſe, but if the Houſe would certify that he was choſen and appointed by them to that Office, he, the Governor, would then certify under the Great Seal of the Province, that he had received ſuch Certificate from the Houſe.———Whereupon it was Ordered, That a Copy of the Minute of this Houſe, appointing the ſaid William Franklin, Clerk of Aſſembly, be certified under the Hand of the Speaker, and that the Clerk

Clerk do wait upon the Governor with the ſame, and deſire that he would be now pleaſed to cauſe the Great Seal to be affixed to the before-mentioned Copies. 1755. June 13.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, return, and report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he would ſend a Meſſage to the Houſe To-morrow Morning, and a Copy of the Writs by which the Houſe were ſummoned.

The Speaker laid before the Houſe the Lords Juſtices Approbation of Eleven Acts of Aſſembly of this Province, paſſed in the Years 1744, 1745, 1746, and 1747, among which ſaid approved Acts is the Act paſſed by Governor Thomas (after he had received the Royal Inſtruction relating to Paper Money Acts) entituled, An Act for granting Five Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe out of the Bills of Credit now remaining in the Hands of the Truſtees of the General Loan-Office, for exchanging torn and ragged Bills, and for ſtriking the like Sum to replace in their Hands.

And the ſaid Approbation was read, and ordered to be printed with the Minutes of the laſt Sitting of Aſſembly, now in the Preſs.

Sundry Letters from Sir Peter Halkett and Colonel Dunbar to Benjamin Franklin, one of the Members of this Houſe, acknowledging the Receipt of the Preſents ſent by this Houſe to their reſpective Regiments, and returning their Thanks to the Houſe for the ſame, were laid before the Houſe, and read.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz. June 14.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'GENERAL Braddock, who has begun his March towards Fort Duqueſne, has repreſented to me, that in caſe his Majeſty's Arms under his immediate Command 'ſhould prove ſucceſsful, and he ſhould take that Fort in its preſent Condition he will 'make what Additions to it he may think neceſſary, and in it leave the Guns, Ammunition and Stores belonging to the Fort, with a proper Garriſon. —— But if the 'French ſhould abandon and deſtroy the Fortifications, with the Guns and Stores, as he 'has Reaſon to apprehend, he will in that Caſe repair or conſtruct ſome Place of Defence, in which he will likewiſe leave a Garriſon.

'But as the Artillery and Stores he has with him will be abſolutely neceſſary in the 'Proſecution of his Plan, he is determined to leave none of them behind him, and ex'pects that the neceſſary Cannon, Ammunition and Stores, as alſo Proviſions for the 'Garriſon, ſhould be ſupplied by the Governments of Virginia, Maryland and Pennſyl'vania; and that he may not be delayed in his Operations, he deſires theſe Things may 'be immediately ſent up to him under proper Convoys.

'He has lately received Intelligence, that the French, with their Indians, intend as 'ſoon as the Army is far advanced to fall upon the Back Country and deſtroy the Inhabi'tants, and this, though he thinks it a Bravado, he communicates to me, that I may 'take all poſſible Precautions to prevent it.——Upon this Application and Intelligence 'from the General, I have called you together, and muſt recommend it to you to enable 'me to furniſh ſuch Part of the Things demanded by the General as is proper for this 'Province, and to conduct them in Safety to the Places where they will be wanted, 'which cannot well be done without a ſtrong Guard.——I muſt alſo recommend it to 'you, Gentlemen, either by eſtabliſhing a Militia, or otherwiſe, to enable me to pro'tect the Inhabitants of the Back Country againſt the Incurſions of the French and their 'Indians.

'Immediately upon receiving the General's Letter, demanding Cannon and Stores, 'I wrote to the Governors of Virginia and Maryland, to know what Stores of that Kind 'they had, and what Part their Governments would reſpectively take in that Supply; 'and informed them at the ſame Time, that I had ſummoned you to meet, and till you 'were aſſembled could not ſay what I ſhould be enabled to do in that Matter.

'I need mention no other Arguments to induce you to grant the neceſſary Supply, 'than that Fort Duqueſne is within this Province, and that the great Expence the Na'tion is at on this Occaſion will be thrown away, his Majeſty's Intentions rendered 'abortive, and his Arms diſhonoured, if the Countries General Braddock ſhall recover, 'are, through the Neglect of the Colonies, left in ſuch a naked Condition, that the 'French may take Poſſeſſion of them again as ſoon as the Army is withdrawn.

'The Difficulty that has attended the procuring Carriages for the Uſe of the Army, 'and for tranſporting Proviſions and other Things to the Camp, makes it neceſſary to 'regulate by a Law the Wages or Hire of Waggons, Horſes and Men; as alſo the Price 'of Proviſions that may be wanted for the Uſe of the Troops now employed in our De'fence, that his Majeſty's Service may be carried on at a reaſonable and moderate Ex'pence, and private Men not left at Liberty to impoſe upon the Public; I therefore 'recommend this Matter to your Conſideration.

1755. June 14.

'Knowing how neceſſary your Preſence is in the Country at this buſy Seaſon of the 'Year, I would not have called you together if I could have diſpenſed with it. I ſhall 'on my Part expedite Buſineſs all I can, and muſt deſire you will not enter on any Mat- 'ters upon which we have already differed in Opinion, as it will only ſerve to conſume 'our Time without anſwering any valuable Purpoſes.

Philadelphia, June 14, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

A Copy of the Writs by which the Houſe were ſummoned was alſo laid before the Houſe by the Secretary, and read.

Ordered, That William Callender and James Burnſide wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that as he has in his Meſſage referred to a Letter from General Braddock, as the Ground for his calling the Houſe together at this Time, the Houſe therefore deſire he would be pleaſed to communicate the ſaid Letter to them for their Conſideration.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that General Braddock's Letter contained many Matters which were not proper to be made public, and therefore he did not think it ſafe to lay the ſaid Letter before the Houſe, unleſs the Houſe would previouſly aſſure him that they would not cauſe it to be printed; however, as he was not for concealing from the Houſe any Papers that might be of Service, he was willing to ſhow the ſaid Letter to a Committee of the Houſe, if the Houſe ſhould think proper to appoint one for that Purpoſe.

And the Houſe taking the ſame into Conſideration,

Ordered, That Evan Morgan, Benjamin Franklin, William Callender and James Burnſide be a Committee to prepare a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor thereupon.

Adjournment June 16.

Then the Houſe adjourned to next Second-day, at Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem

The Houſe met according to their Adjournment.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor; which being accordingly done, it was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

IT has always been the Cuſtom in this Province, when the Aſſemblies have been called by our Governors on Occaſion of Letters received, to communicate ſuch Letters to the Houſe for their Conſideration.

To give a Committee of the Houſe a Sight of ſuch Letters, does not ſeem to us ſufficient; for if the Letters are to be the Foundation of any important Step to be taken by the Aſſembly, we think they ſhould lie before the Houſe, to be read as often as is neceſſary to a thorough Underſtanding of the Matters they contain or require.

We know not what Aſſurances the Governor expects us to give, that the General's Letter ſhall not be printed, nor what will be ſatisfactory; nor are we inclined to give any Aſſurances of the Kind, till we ſee the Letter; nor do we think any previous Aſſurances neceſſary, being certain that the Prudence of the Houſe will be ſufficient to prevent the Publication of any Thing that is unfit for the Public View.

And ſince the Importance of the Contents of that Letter is given by the Governor as the Reaſon of his haſty calling us together at this unſeaſonable Time of the Year, and as we cannot take the Letter into Conſideration without ſeeing it, we hope he will not, by ſtarting new Methods of Proceeding, and engaging us in trivial Diſputes, any longer obſtruct or delay the Public Service."

And the ſaid Meſſage being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, Ordered, That Joſhua Morris and David M'Connaughy wait upon the Governor with the ſame.

It being moved, that the Act for preventing the Exportation of Proviſions, naval or warlike Stores, to the French, expired at this Sitting of Aſſembly, and that it would be neceſſary for the ſaid Act to be continued in Force for a longer Term, a Bill for that Purpoſe was brought in by a Member of the Houſe, read the firſt and ſecond times, and ordered to be tranſcribed for a third Reading.

Sundry Letters from Richard Patridge, Eſq; Agent to this Province, were laid before the Houſe by the Committee of Correſpondence, and read, and ordered to lie on the Table for the Peruſal of the Members.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe return, and report, that they had delivered the ſame, according to Order.

Adjournment June 17.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

The Bill, entituled, An Act to continue an Act, entituled, An Act to prevent the Exportation of Proviſions, naval or warlike Stores, from this Province to Cape-Breton, or to any other the Dominions of the French King, or Places at preſent in Poſſeſſion of any of his Subjects, being tranſcribed, was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

Ordered,

Ordered, That Derrick Hogeland and Calvin Cooper carry up the said Bill to the Governor for his Concurrence, and acquaint him, that the House desire he would be pleased to give it all the Dispatch in his Power. 1755. June 17.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Bill, for preventing the Exportation of Provisions to the French, to the Governor, and that he was pleased to say, he would give the said Bill all possible Dispatch.

Ordered, That James Pemberton, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, Nathaniel Pennock, Calvin Cooper, David M'Connaughy, Joseph Armstrong, Moses Starr and James Burnside be a Committee to prepare a Draught of a Bill for the better and more regular Provision of Carriages and Pack-horses, for his Majesty's Service in this Province.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down a written Message to the House, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'MR. Armstrong, on whose Judgment and kind Assistance I have principally relied in the Purchase of Provisions, and other Necessaries, for the Use of the Men employed in opening and clearing the Road towards the Ohio, will inform you of the Progress of that Work, and what still remains to be done; whence you will see that it will be attended with a much greater Expence than was at first imagined.

'The Money sent to the Commissioners has been expended in advancing small Sums to Workmen, either to enable them to subsist their Families in their Absence, or if living at a Distance from the Roads, to bear the Expences of their Journey there; so that the Country People engaged by Mr. Armstrong and Mr. John Smith to furnish the Provisions, have not as yet received any Thing for them; and as many of them are not able to lie longer out of their Money, it will be necessary to enable those Gentlemen to discharge the Debts already contracted, and to buy what will be further wanted.

'The Price of Hire, Provisions, and every other material Article, was regulated on the Spot, in the Presence of Mr. Peters, and the Representatives of the County, who went there at my Instance for this and other necessary Purposes.

'I make no Doubt but though the Expence will be great, yet it will be chearfully borne, and all done in your Power to have the Roads finished with all Expedition; the General having ordered, that the Provisions wanted for the future Subsistence of the Army should be provided out of this Province, and conveyed through this new Road.

'The General has informed me, that he has thought it necessary to discharge a Number of the Soldiers Wives, and has desired they may be subsisted in this Province till the End of the Campaign, towards which, he has ordered a Stoppage of Twelve-pence Sterlings per Week out of their Husbands Pay; but as this will not be sufficient, I recommend it to you to take Compassion of these poor People, and add as much to it as will enable them to provide a Subsistence.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down to the House a Message in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'I HAVE lately received Intelligence, and sent the same forward to the General, that several Bodies of Troops have passed from Canada over the Lake Ontario in their Way to the Ohio, to join the Forces already there; that the French are using their utmost Endeavours to engage the Indians to take Part with them in this Dispute, and are determined to oppose General Braddock, though it should require the whole Force of Canada.——There is also great Reason to apprehend, that when the English Army is removed to a considerable Distance, the French and their Indians will fall upon the Inhabitants of the Back Country, and either cut off or greatly interrupt the Communication between us and the Army, which will be attended with very fatal Consequences both with respect to our own People and the King's Troops employed for our Protection.——And as the General, upon this Intelligence, will think it necessary to keep his Troops as much as possible together, not only for prosecuting his Plan, but to defend himself against the Force they are collecting to oppose him, I must earnestly recommend it to you to grant such Supplies as may enable me to build some strong Houses, at convenient Distances, upon the new Road that is opening to the Waters of the Ohio, and to maintain such a Number of Men as may be necessary to keep open the Communication with the Army, and to escort the necessary Stores and Provisions to the Places where they may be wanted, that the General may not be laid under the Necessity of detaching any Part of his Force for that Purpose, which would not only

1755. June 17.

'weaken his main Body, and delay his Motions, but the Detachments themſelves will 'be liable to be ſurpriſed and cut off by the French and their Indians.

'I muſt alſo recommend it to you, Gentlemen, by a proper Militia Law, to put this 'Province into ſuch a Poſture of Defence, that the Inhabitants may not be expoſed to 'the cruel Incurſions of the Enemy.

'If a Number of Men ſhould be raiſed and ſupported by this Province, as there are 'by almoſt every other Colony upon the Continent, they might not only ſerve as Eſcorts, 'but might join the General, if the Numbers brought againſt him ſhould make ſuch a 'Re-enforcement neceſſary.——But if theſe Things be not done, and the Army, by 'being weakened, ſhould be defeated, or rendered unable to perform the Service they 'are deſtined for, or, ſhould they be diſtreſſed for Want of neceſſary Proviſions, I am 'fearful the Blame will be laid principally upon this Province, as we are moſt imme-'diately concerned, and beſt able to prevent thoſe Miſchiefs.

'When I conſider, Gentlemen, the Duty we owe his Majeſty, and our Mother 'Country, who have ſent theſe Troops to recover what we have ſuffered to be invaded; 'when I reflect on the Regard we ought to have for the Safety of thoſe Men that are 'employed in that Service, how much the future Proſperity and Happineſs of this 'Country depends upon their Succeſs, and how eaſy it will be for this Province, rich 'and flouriſhing as it is, to contribute to that Succeſs, by your doing what I have now 'recommended: I will not ſuffer myſelf to doubt but that you will enter immediately 'upon theſe Matters, and without Delay take the proper Steps, and grant the neceſſary 'Supplies, for carrying them into Execution.

Philadelphia, June 17, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The ſeveral Meſſages from the Governor during this Sitting were again read, and conſidered, and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, they were referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment June 18.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-Morrow Morning.

A Bill for the better and more regular Proviſion of Carriages and Pack-horſes for his Majeſty's Service in this Province, was brought in by the Committee appointed for that Purpoſe, read the firſt time, and ordered a ſecond Reading.

A Petition from ſundry Inhabitants of the County of Berks was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that the People of the ſaid County are very apprehenſive that there will be ſhortly a great Want of Bread Corn in the Province, as at this Time, by Reaſon of the late Drought and Froſt, there are ſeveral Perſons mowing their Wheat for Fodder, and the Generality of the Inhabitants believe that they ſhall not reap above a ſingle Buſhel from every Acre of their ſtanding Corn; that theſe Things conſidered, with the Neighbourhood of a conſiderable Army, to be chiefly ſupplied from this Province, and the Expectation of a large Fleet in America, which will doubtleſs call for a large Quantity of Bread and Flour, the Petitioners humbly conceive, that it is expedient that ſome Meaſures be taken to keep the ſmall Quantity of Bread Corn that remains, within the Province; the Petitioners therefore pray, that this Houſe would conſider the Premiſes, and provide a Law for preventing the Exportation of Bread, Flour and Corn in ſuch Manner as to the Wiſdom of the Houſe ſhall ſeem moſt meet.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down the Bill for continuing the Act for preventing the Exportation of Proviſions, naval or warlike Stores, to the French, with a Meſſage, that he was ready to paſs the ſame into a Law whenever the Houſe ſhould think proper to preſent it to him for that Purpoſe.

Ordered, That the ſaid Bill be immediately engroſſed.———And the ſame being accordingly done,

Ordered, That Evan Morgan and Joſeph Stretch wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Bill, entituled, An Act to continue an Act, entituled, An Act to prevent the Exportation of Proviſions, naval or warlike Stores, from this Province to Cape-Breton, or to any other the Dominions of the French King, or Places at preſent in Poſſeſſion of any of his Subjects, is engroſſed, and the Houſe deſire he would be pleaſed to appoint ſome of his Council to join with the ſaid two Members of this Houſe in comparing the engroſſed Bill with the Original.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to appoint two Members of Council to join with the two Members of the Houſe in comparing the ſaid engroſſed Bill with the Original, and that they found them to agree.

Ordered, That Griffith Owen and James Burnſide ſee the Great Seal affixed to the Law, after it ſhall be paſſed, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office.

A Meſſage from the Governor, by the Secretary:

Mr. SPEAKER,

The Governor is now in the Council Chamber, ready to receive the Houſe, in order to enact the Bill for continuing the Act for preventing the Exportation of Proviſions, naval or warlike Stores, to the French.

Then

1755. June 18.

Then the Speaker, with the whole House, waited upon the Governor.——And being returned, the Speaker resumed the Chair, and reported, that the House had waited on the Governor with the Bill, entituled, An Act to continue An Act, entituled, An Act to prevent the Exportation of Provisions, naval or warlike Stores, from this Province to Cape-Breton, or to any other the Dominions of the French King, or Places at present in Possession of any of his Subjects, to which the Governor was pleased to give his Assent, by enacting the same into a Law.

The House taking into Consideration, that the Fifteen Thousand Pounds given to the King's Use at the Sitting in April last, and paid out of the Monies in the Disposition of the House, could not answer all the Purposes intended by the Bill for granting Twenty-five Thousand Pounds, to which the Governor refused his Assent; but that the Sum intended in that Bill for a general Fund, subject to the Orders of General Braddock, and the Sum for defraying Indian Expences, cutting of Roads the better to supply the King's Troops, paying of Carriages, Expresses, and other contingent Expences in the King's Service, were yet unprovided for, and the Money in our Power almost exhausted; therefore, it was ordered, that a Bill be now brought in for giving a farther Sum to the King's Use for the said Purposes, and that Evan Morgan, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, George Ashbridge, Peter Worral, David M'Connaughy, Joseph Armstrong, Moses Starr and James Burnside be a Committee to prepare and bring in the same.

The Gentlemen appointed to see the Great Seal affixed to the Law for preventing the Exportation of Provisions to the French, report, that the same is done, and that it is deposited in the Rolls Office.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment Post Meridiem

A Bill for striking the Sum of in Bills of Credit, and giving the same to the King's Use; and for providing a Fund to sink the Bills so to be emitted, was brought in by the Committee appointed for that Purpose, read the first time, and ordered a second Reading.

William Franklin reported, that he had waited on the Governor with the Minute of Assembly appointing the said Franklin Clerk of this House, and that the Governor was pleased to say, he would issue his Warrant for affixing the Great Seal to the certified Copies of the Minutes of Assembly, and to the Copy of the Twenty Thousand Pounds Bill, agreeable to the Request of the House.

Ordered, That a Bill be now prepared for striking the Sum of Ten Thousand Pounds in Bills of Credit, to exchange such of those now by Law current within this Province as are torn and defaced.

And the same being accordingly prepared at the Table, was read the first time, and ordered a second Reading.

Then the House adjourned to Sixth-day next, at Ten o'Clock in the Morning.

Adjournment June 20.

Sundry Letters to the Governor and the Secretary, respecting the Roads now cutting towards the Ohio, were laid before the House and read, and ordered to lie on the Table for the Perusal of the Members.

A Member laid before the House a Paper he received from England, relating to the Drawbacks on Foreign Linens, which was read, and ordered to lie on the Table for the Perusal of the Members.

The Bill for striking the Sum of Pounds in Bills of Credit, and giving the same to the King's Use, &c. was read the second time, and the Question being put, What Sum should be inserted in the said Bill as given to the King's Use at this Time for the Purposes in the said Bill mentioned?

Resolved, That Fifteen Thousand Pounds be inserted in the said Bill as the Sum at this Time granted to the King's Use for the Purposes mentioned therein.—Which being accordingly done, the said Bill was ordered to be transcribed for a third Reading.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Bill for striking the Sum of Ten Thousand Pounds in Bills of Credit, to exchange such of those now by Law current within this Province as are torn and defaced, was read the second time, considered, and ordered to be transcribed for a third Reading.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment June 21.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down a written Message to the House, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'IN Answer to your Message of the Sixteenth Instant, I think it necessary to observe to you, that whoever is, by the Proprietary Appointment, and the Royal Approbation, made Governor of this Province, has a Right to call the Assembly together whenever he may think it necessary for the Public Service, and from Time to Time, as he shall judge proper, either by Speech or Message, to lay before them the Business he has to recommend; and his Speeches or Messages are a sufficient Foundation for them to proceed upon.

1755. June 21.

'As to the Letter from General Braddock, which, by a verbal Meſſage, you deſired 'might be laid before you, I informed you by your own Meſſengers, that it contained 'ſeveral Matters I thought improper to publiſh to the World, and for that Reaſon could 'not truſt it with the Houſe, unleſs they would give me ſome Aſſurance that it ſhould 'not be printed.——This Step I thought the more neceſſary, as you had but a little 'Time ago printed and publiſhed the Secretary of State's Letters to me, ſignifying his 'Majeſty's Deſigns and Commands with reſpect to the French, notwithſtanding my De-'ſire that you would not; and when you were informed, that I had directed the Printers 'not to publiſh thoſe Letters, you were pleaſed, by the Plenitude of your own Power, 'to order them immediately to proceed to the Publication of thoſe Letters, which they 'accordingly did——and this you claim a Right of doing, as to all Papers that are laid 'before you.—After this, Gentlemen, you cannot be at a Loſs for the Reaſon of my 'Caution upon the preſent Occaſion, being anſwerable for every Secret of State that 'ſhall be communicated to me by the King's Miniſters, or thoſe employed in his Ma-'jeſty's Service; and am, and from the Nature of my Station muſt be, the ſole and only 'Judge what Letters, or Papers, that come to me on his Majeſty's Service, are proper 'to be made public.

'I did not imagine you could be at any Loſs as to the Aſſurance I expect upon this 'Head; but that you may remain no longer ſo, a Promiſe of the Houſe, ſignified by a 'Meſſage, either verbal or otherwiſe, is what I expect——and whenever you will give 'it, the Letter you deſire ſhall be laid before you, but till that or ſomething tantamount 'is done, you muſt excuſe me if I do not communicate it.

'As you ſeem to think, in the Cloſe of your Meſſage, that this is a trivial Matter, 'you may wave it, conſiſtent with ſuch Opinion——I who think far otherwiſe cannot 'do it.

Philadelphia, June 21, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Bill, entituled, An Act for ſtriking the Sum of Fifteen Thouſand Pounds in Bills of Credit, and giving the ſame to the King's Uſe; and for providing a Fund for ſinking the Bills ſo to be emitted, being tranſcribed, was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

The Bill, entituled, An Act for ſtriking the Sum of Ten Thouſand Pounds in Bills of Credit, to exchange ſuch of thoſe now by Law current within this Province as are torn and defaced, being tranſcribed, was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

Ordered, That a Meſſage be now prepared, and ſent up to the Governor with the Bill for granting Fifteen Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe.

And a Draught of a Meſſage being accordingly prepared, was read, conſidered, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

AS all the Purpoſes of the Bill for granting Twenty-five Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, to which the Governor refuſed his Aſſent, could not be anſwered by our ſubſequent actual Gift of Fifteen Thouſand Pounds, out of the Monies in the Diſpoſition of this Houſe; but the Sum intended for the General Fund, ſubject to the Orders of General Braddock, and the Sum for defraying Indian Expences, cutting of new Roads for the better ſupplying the King's Troops, Hiring of Carriages, Payment of Expreſſes, and other contingent Charges for the King's Service, remained unprovided, and our Treaſury by that Gift is almoſt exhauſted; we now ſend up a new Bill, to give the additional Sum of Fifteen Thouſand Pounds for thoſe Purpoſes; Ten Thouſand Pounds whereof is for the ſaid general Fund; in which Bill we have carefully followed the Act paſſed by Governor Thomas, in 1746, for granting Five Thouſand Pounds for the King's Uſe, and the other Acts relating to our Bills of Credit, confirmed by the Crown on the Twenty-ninth of October, 1748; from which Acts ſo confirmed, the enacting Clauſes, ſo far as they could be made agreeable to our preſent Circumſtances, have been inſerted in this Bill, that every Objection ariſing from the Royal Inſtruction to Colonel Thomas, in 1740, might be obviated by a direct Deciſion of the higheſt Authority. And as that Confirmation of our Acts, which we preſume will have its due Weight with our Governor, may be more certainly known to him than it appears to have hitherto been, we take the Liberty of ſending him the Original Confirmation.

We have only to entreat the Governor would be pleaſed to give this Bill all the Diſpatch in his Power, as our long Sitting at this Time is in every Reſpect unſeaſonable, and the Preſence of many of our Members is now abſolutely neceſſary at their Homes for the better Security of their Harveſts under their preſent calamitous Circumſtances."

And the ſaid Meſſage being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe,

Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch and James Pemberton wait upon the Governor with the ſame; ſame; and likewiſe that they deliver to the Governor the two Bills which paſſed the Houſe this Morning, and acquaint him that the Houſe deſire his Concurrence thereto. 1755. June 21.

Ordered, That Joſeph Armſtrong have Leave to be abſent the Remainder of this Sitting on urgent Buſineſs.

Then the Houſe adjourned to next Second-day, at Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Houſe met purſuant to their Adjournment. June 23.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, and the two Bills, which paſſed the Houſe on Seventh-day laſt, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order. Poſt Meridiem

The Bill for the better and more regular Proviſion of Carriages and Pack-horſes, for his Majeſty's Service, in this Province, was read the ſecond time, debated, and referred for farther Conſideration.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock To-morrow Afternoon. Adjournment

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

'I AM informed that many of the Bills of Credit, now current, are in a bad Condi- A Meſſage from the Go-
'tion, and require to be exchanged; but I obſerve by the Settlement of Accounts, vernor to the
'at the Cloſe of your laſt Year's printed Minutes, that the Truſtees of the Loan-Office Aſſembly.
'then had in their Hands the Sum of Three Thouſand Three Hundred and Two Pounds
'Six Shillings and Eight-pence, of the Money formerly ſtruck for exchanging ragged and
'defaced Bills; therefore, before I give my Aſſent to the Bill now under my Conſidera-
'tion, I deſire to know what Part of the ſaid Sum has been exchanged ſince the laſt
'Settlement, and how much is now remaining in the Hands of the Truſtees.

Philadelphia, June 25, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Houſe taking the foregoing Meſſage into Conſideration,

Ordered, That the Committee of Accounts do report the State of the Exchange Money in the Hands of the Truſtees of the Loan-Office.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down the Bill for granting Fifteen Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, with a Paper containing ſundry propoſed Amendments thereto, which was read, conſidered, and debated; and, after a conſiderable Time ſpent therein, Poſt Meridiem

Reſolved, That this Houſe adhere to the ſaid Bill as it now ſtands, without admitting the Governor's propoſed Amendments.

The Committee of Accounts made the following Report in Writing, viz.

WE the Committee of Accounts do report, that by Order of the Houſe we have examined the Accounts relating to the Exchange Money in the Hands of the Truſtees, and find that by the Report of the Committee laſt Year, the Remainder of the Exchange Money then in their Hands was Three Thouſand Three Hundred and Two Pounds Six Shillings and Eight-pence; but as the Accounts of the preſent Year are not yet ſettled, we could not examine and count the old Bills at preſent in the Loan-Office, but have enquired of the ſaid Truſtees what Sums in old Bills they now judge to be in their Poſſeſſion in order to be ſunk, purſuant to our Laws; who inform us, that as the Bills in their Hands are chiefly Tickets, and other ſmall Money, they cannot immediately aſcertain the Sum, but believe there may be to the Value of Two Thouſand Pounds now ready for the Committee. This Sum would leave, to complete the Sinking of all the Bills ſtruck by our ſeveral Acts for exchanging torn and ragged Bills, One Thouſand Three Hundred and Two Pounds Six Shillings and Eight-pence, which very probably may be brought in Report from the Committee of Accounts.

1755. June 25. to the Truſtees by the uſual Time of ſettling our Accounts, and by that Means all thoſe Acts may be finally anſwered.

WILLIAM CALLENDER, EVAN MORGAN,
JOSEPH HAMTON, JOSEPH FOX,
THOMAS CUMMINGS, JOSEPH STRETCH."

Ordered, That the following Meſſage be now ſent up to the Governor, in Anſwer to his Meſſage of this Morning, and that Calvin Cooper and Peter Worral wait upon the Governor with the ſame, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

BY the Report of a Committee of our Houſe, we find, that it appears by the laſt Year's Accounts, the Remainder of the Exchange Money was then Three Thouſand Three Hundred and Two Pounds Six Shillings and Eight-pence; about Two Thouſand Pounds whereof, by the beſt Judgment the Truſtees can make, is now in their Hands, in order to be ſunk by our preſent Committee; but as this is not the uſual Time of ſettling the Accounts of the Year, the Sum cannot be exactly aſcertained without much Trouble, as it conſiſts for the moſt Part of Bills of the ſmalleſt Denominations, which are much torn and defaced. This Sum when ſunk would leave about Thirteen Hundred Pounds in their Hands for exchanging torn and ragged Bills, which may probably be brought in by the Time our Accounts are ſettled, and by that Means thoſe Acts may be finally compleated.

Signed, by Order of the Houſe,

Philadelphia, June 25, 1755. P. M. ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

Adjournment June 27.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down the Bill for ſtriking the Sum of Ten Thouſand Pounds for exchanging of torn and defaced Bills now by Law current within this Province, with ſome propoſed Amendments, which were read, conſidered, and referred to further Conſideration.

The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

THE Power of calling the Aſſembly together whenever the Public Service requires it, in the intermediate Times of their Adjournments, we preſume is, and ought to be, lodged in the Governor of this Province; and we do not recollect any Inſtance in which it has been either diſputed or diſobeyed: So long as that Power is duly exerciſed, the ſudden and unforeſeen Exigences of Government are provided for, the Aſſemblies impowered to act at all Times for the public Good, and the People themſelves obliged; and accordingly we find the Repreſentatives, when thus ſummoned, repeatedly acknowledging the Governor's Care in calling them together by his Writs, in which the Reaſons have generally been inſerted, and a proper Regard has been ſhewn to the Convenience of the Members in their Harveſts, and at the other unſeaſonable Times of the Year, or when the public Affairs were preſſing, a ſuitable Diſpatch has been given, on the Part of our Governors, without ſtudied Delays, or introducing Matters of ſmall Importance directly tending to fruſtrate the Ends for which they were called together. And under this Oeconomy the Members have chearfully attended whenever the Public Buſineſs has unavoidably interfered with their private Intereſts. But ſhould our Governors conſider this Power, as a Power of bringing us together at a great Expence to the Country, merely to ſhew their Abilities in contriving new Modes, or making new Demands upon the People, to obſtruct the Ends of their Meeting, we apprehend it will anſwer no valuable Purpoſes.

The Governor is pleaſed to inform us, that as he has a Power to ſummon us by his Writs, he has alſo a Right, by Speech or Meſſage, to lay before us the Buſineſs he has to recommend, and that his Speeches or Meſſages are a ſufficient Foundation for the Aſſembly to proceed upon; and it may occaſionally be true: But when his Writs are iſſued upon Letters or Advices, referred to in his Speeches and Meſſages, we conceive the original Papers ought to be laid before us, as has ever been the Practice in this Province; and a different Conduct at this Time, can tend only to create a Miſunderſtanding between the ſeveral Branches of the Legiſlature, and obſtruct the Ends for which he has called us together.

By the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-fourth of December laſt we are told, that "the Conduct of his Predeceſſor is no Rule to him, nor will his be for any one that "may ſucceed him;" but however Governors may be changed, or with whatever Views they may ſucceed one another, it will become the People to make their own Actions conſiſtent, which we conceive can only be done by making ſuch original Papers as the Governor ſhall think fit to lay before us the Rule of our Proceedings. It is true, the Governor has told us repeatedly, that upon our printing the Secretary of State's Letter, we "could not be at a Loſs for the Reaſon of his Caution in laying General Braddock's "Letter before the Houſe;" but when we conſider the full Anſwer already given to that Objection, we are really at a Loſs to conceive why he ſhould think it of any Weight, unleſs he can ſhew, that the Printing it diſcloſed any of his Majeſty's Deſigns and Commands, with reſpect to the French, not more generally known before by his own Meſſages, the public Prints, and the Speeches of other Governors, than they could be by our publiſhing them in our Votes, eſpecially as it was communicated to us without the leaſt Caution, and was actually printed before we had any Knowledge of the Governor's Objection to it.

That the Governor may be "anſwerable for every Secret of State, communicated to "him by the King's Miniſters, or thoſe employed in his Majeſty's Service," may be true; but if they are ſuch as he is enjoined to lay before the Aſſembly, and he accordingly recommends them as ſuch, we preſume he will be acquitted, and the Houſe muſt be anſwerable for their own Conduct. But if the Governor ſuppoſes, that from the Nature of his Station he muſt be "the ſole and only Judge" what Letters or Papers, coming to him on his Majeſty's Service, are proper to be made public, we are under a Neceſſity of differing from him ſo far as ſuch Letters or Papers are to be the Juſtification of our Conduct, which we preſume the Houſe may publiſh or not, according to their own Prudence, in which, we are aſſured, the Governor may very ſafely confide."

And the ſame being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe,

Ordered, That Nathaniel Grubb and Joſeph James wait upon the Governor with the 1755. June 27. same, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire to know whether he has come to any Reſult upon the Bill now before him for granting Fifteen Thouſand Pounds for the King's Uſe.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he had the Amendments which he propoſed to the Bill for granting Fifteen Thouſand Pounds for the King's Uſe now under his Conſideration, and ſhould return the ſaid Bill to the Houſe this Afternoon.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down the Bill for granting Fifteen Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, with a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'I HAVE re-conſidered the Amendments made by me to the Bill, entituled, An Act for ſtriking the Sum of Fifteen Thouſand Pounds in Bills of Credit, and giving the ſame to the King's Uſe, and for providing a Fund to ſink the Bills ſo to be emitted, and do adhere to thoſe Amendments.

Philadelphia, June 27, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Governor's propoſed Amendments to the Bill for ſtriking Ten Thouſand Pounds for exchanging ragged and torn Bills, being again read, and conſidered; ſome of them were agreed to by the Houſe, and in others the Houſe adhered to the Bill.

Ordered, That William Smith and Joſeph Hamton wait upon the Governor with the ſaid Bill, and acquaint him, that the Houſe have agreed to ſundry of his propoſed Amendments, and deſire that he would be pleaſed to paſs the Bill as it is now amended.

The Committee to whom the Bill for the better and more regular Proviſion of Carriages and Pack-horſes, for his Majeſty's Service in this Province, was recommitted for Amendment, reported the ſame to the Houſe, with ſundry Alterations they had made therein; and the ſame was read, and referred to farther Conſideration.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Bill, for ſtriking Ten Thouſand Pounds for exchanging ragged and torn Bills, to the Governor, with a Paper containing ſuch of his propoſed Amendments as the Houſe had agreed to, according to Order.

Adjournment June 28.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down the Bill for ſtriking the Sum of Ten Thouſand Pounds in Bills of Credit, to exchange ſuch of thoſe now by Law current within this Province as are torn and defaced, with a Meſſage, that the Governor had withdrawn his firſt propoſed Amendment to the ſaid Bill, and agreed to the Amendments the Houſe had made upon his ſecond propoſed Amendment; and was ready to paſs the ſame into a Law whenever the Houſe ſhould preſent it to him for that Purpoſe.

Ordered, That the ſaid Bill be ingroſſed.——And the ſame being done accordingly, Ordered, That Hugh Evans and Peter Dicks wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Bill for ſtriking Ten Thouſand Pounds for exchanging ragged and torn Bills is engroſſed, with the Alterations agreed on, and the Houſe deſire he would be pleaſed to appoint a Member of Council to meet a Member of this Houſe, in order to compare the ſaid Bill: And further, deſire to know what Time the Governor would be pleaſed to appoint that the Houſe ſhould wait upon him, in order to the paſſing the ſame into a Law.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, return, and report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he would immediately appoint a Member of Council to meet a Member of this Houſe, to compare the ingroſſed Bill; and that he would be ready in Half an Hour to receive the Houſe in the Council Chamber, in order to enact the ſaid Bill into a Law.

Ordered, That Peter Dicks do meet a Member of Council to compare the engroſſed Bill with the Original.

Reſolved, That this Houſe will this Day adjourn to the Firſt Day of September next.

Peter Dicks reported, that he had with a Member of Council compared the engroſſed Bill, and found it to agree with the Original.

Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch and Joſeph Fox ſee the Great Seal affixed to the Law after it is paſſed, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office: And further, that they acquaint the Governor with the propoſed Time of Adjournment.

A Meſſage from the Governor, by the Secretary:

SIR,

The Gentlemen appointed to acquaint the Governor with the propoſed Time of Adjournment, reported, that they had done the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he had no Objection thereto.

Reſolved, That the Sum of Two Hundred Pounds Sterling be now remitted to our Agents in Great-Britain, to lie in their Hands for the Service of the Province, and to be accounted for by them hereafter.

The Gentlemen appointed to ſee the Great Seal affixed to the Law, report, that the ſame is done, and that it is depoſited in the Rolls Office.

The Secretary brought down to the Houſe a Copy of the Writs by which the Houſe were ſummoned, alſo ſundry Letters and Papers which the Governor had received concerning the late Defeat.

The Governor's Speech was read at the Table, by Order, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

Governor's Speech.

'IT is with the greateſt Concern I now lay before you the melancholy Accounts of the Defeat of the Forces under the immediate Command of General Braddock, which you will find is attended with very ſhocking Circumſtances; the General killed, and moſt of the Officers that were in the Action are either killed or wounded; the Bulk of the Men cut off; his whole Train of Artillery taken; and Colonel Dunbar is now retreating, with the Remains of the Army, to Fort Cumberland. This unfortunate and unexpected Change in our Affairs will deeply affect every one of his Majeſty's Colonies, but none of them in ſo ſenſible a Manner as this Province, which, 1755. July 24.

'having no Militia, is thereby left expoſed to the cruel Incurſions of the French, and 'their barbarous Indians, who delight in ſhedding human Blood, and who make no 'Diſtinction as to Age or Sex,——as to thoſe that are armed againſt them, or ſuch as 'they can ſurprize in their peaceful Habitations——all are alike the Objects of their 'Cruelty,——ſlaughtering the tender Infant and frighted Mother with equal Joy and 'Fierceneſs. To ſuch Enemies, ſpurred on by the native Cruelty of their Tempers, 'encouraged by their late Succeſs, and having now no Army to fear, are the Inhabitants 'of this Province expoſed——and by ſuch muſt we now expect to be over-run, if we 'do not immediately prepare for our own Defence; nor ought we to content ourſelves 'with this, but reſolve to drive and confine the French to their own juſt Limits.

'This, Gentlemen, however gloomy the preſent Appearance of Things may be, is 'certainly in the Power of the Britiſh Colonies to do; and this is not only their trueſt 'and moſt laſting Intereſt, but their higheſt Duty.——The Eaſtern Governments have 'already gone a great Way towards removing that faithleſs but active People from their 'Borders; let us follow the noble Example they have ſet us, ſhew ourſelves worthy of 'the Name of Engliſhmen, and, by a vigorous Exertion of our Strength, diſlodge the 'Enemy from our Frontiers, and ſecure the future Peace and Safety of the Province; 'for we may aſſure ourſelves, that while they poſſeſs the Countries they have unjuſtly 'ſeized, we never ſhall truly enjoy either.

'Allow me therefore, Gentlemen, to recommend to your moſt ſerious Conſideration 'the preſent State and Condition of your Country, the Danger to which the Lives and 'Properties of all thoſe you have undertaken to repreſent ſtand expoſed at this critical 'and melancholy Conjuncture; and to deſire that you would not, by an ill-timed Par-'ſimony, by reviving any Matters that have been in Diſpute, or from any other Motive, 'ſuffer the People to remain any longer undefended, or the Blood of the Innocent to 'be ſhed by the cruel Hands of Savages. —— There are Men enough in this Province 'to protect it againſt any Force the French can bring, and Numbers of them are willing 'and deſirous to defend their Country upon the preſent Occaſion, but they have neither 'Arms, Ammunition nor Diſcipline, without which it will be impoſſible to repel an 'active Enemy, whoſe Trade is War. —— I therefore hope, that you will, without 'Delay, grant ſuch Supplies as may enable me not only to ſecure the People of this Pro-'vince, but by reinforcing and aſſiſting the King's Troops, enable them to remove the 'French from their preſent Encroachments.

'If ſomething very effectual be not done at this Time for the Safety and Security of 'the Province, the Enemy, who know how to make the beſt Uſe of a Victory, will 'ſtrengthen themſelves in ſuch a Manner, that it will be next to impoſſible for us to re-'move them.

'Upon the earlieſt Intelligence of the Defeat of our Forces, knowing the immediate 'Danger to which we were expoſed, I ſummoned you together, that you might have a 'timely Opportunity of exerting yourſelves in the Service of your Country, and of ſet-'ting a proper Example to the neighbouring Colonies, who will doubtleſs, if we do 'our Duty, employ their utmoſt Strength upon the preſent Occaſion, and heartily join 'in any Meaſures that may be concerted for our common Safety.

Philadelphia, July 24, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down to the House a Message in Writing, with sundry Letters relating thereto, which were severally read, and the Message is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'I HAVE just now received Information from Fort Cumberland, that Colonel Dunbar 'arrived there on the Twenty-second Instant with the Army, having about Three 'Hundred wounded Officers and Soldiers, and that he intended, as soon as Circumstances 'would admit, to march to this City, for which he is already making the necessary 'Dispositions. The Removal of the Army from the Frontiers will leave the Back Settle-'ments entirely exposed to the Incursions of the French and Indians, who are flushed 'by their late Victory, and will be encouraged, by the Retreat of the Forces, to pene-'trate deep into the Province, and the People being defenceless, will immediately quit 'their Habitations.

'I lay these Matters before you, that you may as soon as possible fall upon Measures 'for the Protection of the Western Frontiers, in which you may assure yourselves my 'best Assistance shall not be wanting.

'I think it highly necessary, that his Majesty and his Ministers should, as soon as 'possible, be informed of what has happened, and of the State of the Province, that 'they may take proper Measures for our Security; and therefore recommend it to you 'to enable me to dispatch a Vessel to England for that Purpose.

Philadelphia, July 28, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Secretary addressing himself to the Chair, said,

SIR,

Mr. Weiser reminds him of the Contents of the Letter lately communicated to you concerning the Support of the Indian Women from Aughwick, and as he presses for an Answer, you will be pleased to enable the Governor to give one.

The Governor lays before you a Letter, signed by Mr. Weiser, and some other Justices of the County of Berks, representing the State of the Roman Catholicks in that Neighbourhood, and praying, that certain Measures may be taken; concerning which he would be glad to have your Advice and Assistance.

1755. July 28.

The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

WE have conſidered that Part of the Governor's Meſſage relating to the propoſed March of Colonel Dunbar's Forces from Fort Cumberland to Philadelphia; and as the People on the Frontiers are at preſent under great Apprehenſions of Danger, and ready to abandon their Settlements; and thoſe Forces, if properly diſpoſed, might contribute very much to their Security, and be as well provided with every Thing as they could be at Philadelphia; and as there are yet ſeveral Months in which the Weather in this Climate is commonly ſuch as that it is not abſolutely neceſſary Men ſhould go into Quarters; we would requeſt the Governor to take the Steps that may be proper to procure a Diſpoſition of the Troops in ſuch Places, as may be moſt ſuitable for the Protection of the Frontier Inhabitants of this and the neighbouring Colonies, at leaſt till the Approach of Winter."

Philadelphia, July 29, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Secretary likewiſe brought down a Letter from one Hart, formerly an Indian Trader in this Province, and lately returned from Canada, whither he fled to avoid being apprehended for killing a Man in Cumberland County; which Letter the Secretary ſaid, the Governor recommended to the Conſideration of the Houſe, and deſired they would give him their Advice upon the ſame.

Adjournment Post Meridiem

A Remonstrance from sundry Inhabitants of the City and County of Philadelphia was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that the Remonstrants are informed, that this House have voted Fifty Thousand Pounds for the King's Use; to be raised by a general Tax on Estates, Real and Personal, in this Province; that they with all Submission conceive, that One Hundred Thousand Pounds is as small a Sum as will answer the present Exigency, and are therefore willing to contribute their Proportion of the same, or to a larger Sum, if the House should think it necessary.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

The House according to Order, again resolved itself into a Committee, to take into their further Consideration Ways and Means for raising Fifty Thousand Pounds for the King's Use; and, after some Time spent therein, the Speaker resumed the Chair, and Hugh Evans, Chairman, reported, that the Committee had gone through the Matters referred to them, and had come to two Resolutions thereupon, which the Committee had directed him to report to the House; and he read the same in his Place, and afterwards delivered them in at the Table, where they were again read, and agreed to by the House, as follow;

Resolved, That a Tax be now laid upon all Estates, Real and Personal, within this Province.

Resolved, That the whole of the Sum of Fifty Thousand Pounds, to be now raised for the King's Use, be raised by a Tax of Twelve-pence per Pound and Twenty Shillings per Head, yearly, for two Years, on all the Estates, Real and Personal, and Taxables, within this Province.

Ordered, That a Bill be brought in, pursuant to the foregoing Resolutions; and it is referred to Joseph Fox, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, Joseph James, James Wright, John Wright and John Smith to prepare and bring in the same.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment July 30.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Address, in Answer to the Governor's Speech, reported the same to the House; and it was read, considered, agreed to, and ordered to be engrossed, that it may be sent up to the Governor.——And the same being accordingly done, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

To the Honourable ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS, Esq; Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Pennsylvania, &c.

The ADDRESS of the Representatives of the Freemen of the said Province, in GENERAL ASSEMBLY met, at Philadelphia, the 30th Day of the Seventh Month, called July, 1755.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

Assembly's Address, in Answer to the Governor's Speech.

WE have deliberately and seriously considered the Governor's Speech of the Twenty-fourth Instant, together with the Letters and Papers he has been pleased to lay before us, by which we find, that the Defeat of the Forces, under the immediate Command of General Braddock, and the Retreat of Colonel Dunbar to Fort Cumberland, are attended with very shocking Circumstances: Nevertheless, it gives us real Satisfaction, under this unfortunate and unexpected Change in our Affairs, that this Province has seasonably and chearfully complied with the Demands of the King's Forces, and that no Part of this unhappy Defeat can be laid to our Charge.

We think it our Duty on this Occasion to be neither parsimonious nor tenacious of such Matters as have been in Dispute, and are now under the Consideration of our Superiors; but, reserving to ourselves all our just Rights, we have resolved to grant Fifty Thousand Pounds for the King's Use, by a Tax on all the real and personal Estates within this Province, in which we shall proceed with all possible Dispatch; hoping to meet in the Governor the same good Dispositions he so earnestly recommends to us.

The Governor's Call of our House at this Time is agreeable to us, as it impowers us to exert ourselves yet farther in the Service of our Country; and the like Opportunity given to the Lower Counties, under the Governor's Administration, we doubt not will be acceptable to them, and add their Contribution to the common Cause before the Time to which they stand adjourned."

And the said Address being signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House, Ordered, That Joseph Stretch, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, Nathaniel Grubb, Calvin Cooper, John Wright, John Smith and Moses Starr wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

The Secretary informed the Houſe, that the Governor recommended to the Houſe the Caſe of ſundry of the Road Cutters living near this City, who were come down from Cumberland County without their Pay, or any Certificate of what was due to them, as the Overſeer of the Roads was gone to the Camp, and they could not wait till his Return.

The Governor's propoſed Amendments to the Bill for raiſing Fifty Thouſand Pounds for the King's Uſe, by a Tax on all Eſtates, Real and Perſonal, within this Province, &c. were read, and conſidered; and it being obſerved by the Houſe, that the Governor propoſes, in the ſaid Amendments, to exempt the Proprietary Eſtate from contributing any Thing towards the Sum to be raiſed for the common Security of the Province, Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, Peter Dicks, James Wright, John Wright, John Smith and Moſes Starr be a Committee to prepare a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor thereupon.

An Account from Daniel Light, amounting to Fifteen Pounds, for his Trouble and Expences in going Expreſs from Philadelphia to Fort Cumberland, and back again, for Intelligence relating to the Army, was laid before the Houſe, read, allowed, and an Order drawn on the Treaſurer for Payment thereof.

The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

THE Taxing of the Proprietary Eſtate with the Eſtates of the People of the Province, for their common Security in this Time of imminent Danger, ſeems to us ſo perfectly equitable and juſt, that we are ſurpriſed the Governor ſhould propoſe it as an Amendment to our Bill, that the Proprietary Eſtate be in this Inſtance exempted.

As the Occaſion urges, we are extremely deſirous to come as ſoon as poſſible to a Concluſion in the Buſineſs of this Sitting; and do therefore entreat the Governor would be pleaſed to acquaint us explicitly, whether he is reſtricted by the Proprietaries from paſſing the Bill as it ſtands in that Particular, though it were otherwiſe conſiſtent with his Judgment, ſince it will only waſte Time to endeavour to convince him of its Reaſonableneſs, if after all it will not obtain his Aſſent.

Or, if it be poſſible that ſuch Exemption of the Proprietary Eſtate from its Share in the common Expence of ſecuring the Whole, ſhould appear to the Governor a Thing right in itſelf: We would then requeſt him to favour us with the Reaſons of his Opinion, that we may take them immediately into Conſideration; for till this Matter is explained, and underſtood, we think it needleſs to conſider any other propoſed Alterations."

And the ſaid Meſſage being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, Ordered, That David M'Connaughy and Derrick Hogeland wait upon the Governor with the ſame.

Ordered, That the Committee of Accounts do enquire into the Caſe of the Road-Cutters, recommended by the Governor, and report to the Houſe what they think neceſſary to be done therein.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Auguſt 6.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he would take it into Conſideration, and return an Anſwer to the Houſe ſome Time this Day.

Adjournment

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem

A Letter to the Secretary from Conrad Weiſer was laid before the Houſe, and read.

Ordered, That Joſeph Fox and William Callender wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire to know, whether they may expect any Anſwer this Afternoon to their Meſſage of Yeſterday.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that the Secretary would bring down a Meſſage to the Houſe immediately.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down a written Meſſage to the Houſe, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'IN Anſwer to your Meſſage of Yeſterday, you will give me Leave to obſerve, that in the Proprietary Commiſſion appointing me to this Government, there is a Proviſo 'that nothing therein contained ſhall extend, or be conſtrued to extend, to give me any 'Power to do or conſent to any Act whereby the Eſtate or Property of the Proprietaries 'may be hurt or incumbered: And this Proviſo being contained in the Body of the 'Commiſſion from which I derive the Power of acting as Governor, it is not only the 'higheſt Prohibition to me, but any Law that I may paſs contrary to that Proviſo, I 'imagine, would be void in itſelf for want of Power in me to give it a being.

'But had I not been thus prohibited, I ſhould ſtill have thought it my Duty, to have 'excepted the Proprietary Eſtate from the Levies propoſed to be made, for the follow-'ing Reaſons;

'1. For that all Governors, whether hereditary or otherwiſe, are, from the Nature 'of their Office, exempt from the Payment of Taxes; on the contrary, Revenues are 'generally given to them to ſupport the Honour and Dignity of Government, and to 'enable them to do the Duties of their Station.

'2. For that this Exemption from Taxes ariſing from the Nature of Government is 'enforced by a poſitive Law in this Province, which expreſsly declares, that the proper 'Eſtates of the Proprietaries ſhall not be liable to Rates or Taxes.

1755. Auguſt 6.

'3. For that the Proprietaries, by their Governor, having conſented to a Law for 'veſting in the People the ſole Choice of the Perſons to aſſeſs and lay Taxes in the ſeve-'ral Counties, without reſerving to themſelves, or their Governor, any Negative upon 'ſuch Choice, and this Conceſſion being made with an expreſs Proviſo, that the Pro-'prietary Eſtates ſhould not be taxed, it will be very unreaſonable to empower ſuch 'Perſons by a Law, without their previous Conſent, to tax their Eſtates at Diſcretion.

'4. For that it is contrary to the conſtant Practice and Uſage in this and all the Pro-'prietary Governments upon this Continent, ſo far as I have been informed, to lay any 'Tax upon the Lands or Eſtates of the Proprietaries, exerciſing the Government by 'themſelves or their Lieutenants.

'For theſe Reaſons principally I made the Amendments, relating to the Proprietary 'Eſtate, to your Bill for giving Fifty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and I hope, 'Gentlemen, they will be ſufficient to induce you to agree to thoſe Amendments. 'Were the Proprietaries now upon the Spot, I know their Love and Affection for this 'Country to be ſuch, that they would do any Thing in their Power for its Preſervation 'and Safety. But as they are not here, I have, on their Behalf, propoſed to give Lands 'Weſt of the Allegheny Mountains, without any Purchaſe-Money, and free from the 'Payment of Quitrents for Fifteen Years to come, and then not to exceed the com-'mon Quitrent in this Province.——The particular Quantity propoſed as an additional 'Encouragement for each Officer and Soldier is expreſſed in a Meſſage to you upon that 'Head.

Philadelphia, Auguſt 6, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

And the foregoing Meſſage being again read, and conſidered,

Ordered, That Evan Morgan, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, George Aſhbridge, James Wright, David M'Connaughy, John Smith and Moſes Starr be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the ſame.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Auguſt 7. A Petition from ſundry Inhabitants of Weſt-Nottingham, in Cheſter County, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth the Danger the Petitioners apprehend themſelves in ſince the late Defeat of the Engliſh Troops, and praying that this Houſe would take ſuch Meaſures for their Security as ſhall be judged moſt neceſſary.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

A Petition from the Inhabitants of Eaſt-Nottingham, in Cheſter County, of the ſame Purport with the foregoing, was preſented to the Houſe and read, and

Ordered to lie on the Table.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's laſt Meſſage, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

The Committee of Accounts made the following Report in Writing, viz.

Report from the Committee of Accounts.

WE, your Committee, in Purſuance of the Order of the Houſe, have examined the ſeveral Labourers now attending, who have been employed in clearing the Road through the Weſtern Part of this Province for the King's Service, and the Accounts not being yet come to Hand from the Commiſſioners appointed by the Governor for the Overſight thereof, are of Opinion, that each of the Labourers (whoſe Names are hereunto annexed) ſhould have the Sum of Three Pounds paid them in Part of their Work, until the Accounts come to Hand from the Commiſſioners; which we ſubmit to the Houſe.

EVAN MORGAN, JOSEPH STRETCH,
Philadelphia, 8th Mo. 7, JOSEPH FOX, WILLIAM CALLENDER."
1755. JAMES PEMBERTON,

The Labourers Names are as follow, viz. Abraham Rhinchault, John Frederick Oder, John Pickner, Henry Nemyer, Henry Chriſtian Dirkhdam, Anthony Watter, Philip Petercover, Andreas Roaths, Jacob Matz, Godfrey Kniver, Paulus Poler, John Brightfield, John Griſt, Frederick Motzfield, Daniel Shiebley, Jerig Auncle, John Redcap and Michael Chriſtian.

The foregoing Report being read, and conſidered, it was agreed to by the Houſe, and an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treaſurer for the Payment of the Sum of Fifty-four Pounds to Joſeph Fox, a Member of this Houſe, to be by him paid to the ſaid Road-Cutters in the Manner mentioned in the ſaid Report.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Auguſt 8. The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

WE have conſidered the Reaſons the Governor has been pleaſed to give, in his Meſſage of the Sixth Inſtant, for exempting the Proprietaries Eſtate in the propoſed Tax:

Tax: And as they do not appear to us ſufficient, we beg Leave to offer him our Sentiments thereon in the following Remarks; 1755. Auguſt 8.

The Governor finds in his Commiſſion a Proviſo, "That nothing therein contained "ſhall impower him to conſent to any Act whereby the Eſtate of the Proprietaries may "be hurt or encumbered;" and this he looks upon as the higheſt Prohibition to him from paſſing the Bill propoſed. But the Intention of the Bill, may it pleaſe the Governor, is not to hurt or encumber, but to free from Encumbrance the Eſtate of the Proprietaries, which cannot, in our Opinion, have a worſe Encumbrance, than the Neighbourhood of ſo miſchievous an Enemy, who, as we have frequently been informed by the Governor, have taken actual Poſſeſſion of ſome Part, and lay Claim to a much greater Part of their Country. The Eſtates of the People are all on this Side the Mountains; they are as yet neither invaded nor claimed by the French. As Repreſentatives of the People we think it as much our bounden Duty to do nothing that may hurt or encumber the Eſtates of our Conſtituents, as the Governor can poſſibly think it his Duty with regard to the Proprietary Eſtate; yet we never conceived that giving a Part to ſave the Whole, and not only to ſave it, but to render it of double or treble Value (which muſt be the Caſe with the Proprietary Lands) could properly be called hurting or encumbering an Eſtate. And if the Governor really thought that taxing the Eſtates of the People on this Occaſion would be a Hurt to them, and not a Benefit, we imagine he ought, in Duty, to refuſe his Aſſent to that Part of the Bill as well as the other, and for the very ſame Reaſon. We for our Parts think differently, and therefore lay the Tax as chearfully on our own Eſtates as on thoſe of our Conſtituents. We know their Loyalty to their King and Love to their Country is equal to ours; we do not in the leaſt doubt their Approbation of our Conduct; and we would willingly hope the Governor might, on ſuch an Occaſion, as reaſonably expect the ſame Approbation from the Proprietaries.

For there is, may it pleaſe the Governor, in the ſame Proviſo of the Proprietary Commiſſion, an abſolute Prohibition to the Governor, "to ſett, lett, leaſe out, grant, de-"miſe or diſpoſe of any Lands, Tenements, &c. or to intermeddle or concern himſelf "therewith, or with any Part of the Property thereof;" yet he is pleaſed to ſay, "he "knows the Love and Affection of the Proprietaries for their Country to be ſuch, that "if they were on the Spot, they would do any Thing in their Power for its Preſerva-"tion and Safety; and therefore he, on their Behalf, propoſes to give Lands Weſt of "the Allegheny Mountains without any Purchaſe-Money, and free from the Payment "of Quitrents for Fifteen Years to come." It cannot but ſeem ſtrange to us, that a Tax on Part of an Eſtate for Two Years ſhould be thought to hurt it, more than giving Six or Seven Hundred Thouſand Acres of it away; or that the Governor, notwithſtanding ſo expreſs a Prohibition, ſhould think himſelf more at Liberty in this Caſe than in the other. If the Proprietaries will approve in the latter Caſe, why not in the former? And if the Grant of Lands, contrary to ſuch Prohibition, would be valid, why not the Paſſing of the Bill for a Tax? Theſe are Queſtions that we cannot ſolve, without a more particular Conſideration of the propoſed Grant of Lands Weſt of the Allegheny Mountains, than we ſhould have thought neceſſary, if it had not been repeatedly mentioned to us by the Governor, apparently with a View to make the Taxing of the Proprietary Eſtate on this Occaſion appear leſs reaſonable. We are ſorry therefore that we are obliged to obſerve, that the Propoſal is made in ſuch Terms as that it may be fully complied with, and yet nothing in Reality be granted. Firſt, becauſe Lands Weſt of the Allegheny Mountains differ greatly in their Quality, and though ſome are exceeding good, there are many Hundred Thouſand Acres that are not worth accepting; and good Land is not ſo much as mentioned in the Propoſal. Secondly, becauſe the beſt Lands there, are not better than Lands of Virginia in the ſame Neighbourhood, which may be had without Purchaſe-Money, at Two Shillings Sterling Quitrent, and none to be paid for Fifteen Years. But the common Quitrent in this Province is Four Shillings and Two-pence Sterling. And therefore an Offer even of the beſt Lands in thoſe Parts on that Quitrent would be neither more nor leſs than this, That for the Encouragement of ſuch as ſhall, with the Hazard of their Lives, recover the Proprietaries Country from the Enemy, he will graciously ſell them a Part of the Lands ſo recovered, at twice the Price demanded by his Neighbour. An Offer on the Proprietary's Behalf, that may indeed be ſafely made, notwithſtanding his Prohibition, and without the leaſt Danger of offending him. If the Proprietary, to encourage the Settlement of the Weſtern Frontier of his Province, and to form a Barrier for the reſt, will, bona Fide, grant good Lands on reaſonable Terms, we doubt not but the Aſſembly will give other equivalent Encouragements to the Settlers, in Proviſions, Carriages, Utenſils of Huſbandry, Cattle, and the like; but the Governor's Power to make ſuch Grants in their Behalf, at preſent not appearing to us, we muſt leave that Matter to future Conſideration.

We are however clear, that the Governor has full Power to paſs the Bill in Queſtion, any Prohibition, were it ever ſo expreſs from the Proprietaries, notwithſtanding. Firſt, becauſe no Prohibition of the Proprietaries can leſſen or take away from the Lieutenant-Governor any Power ſuch Lieutenant is veſted with by the Royal Charter. Secondly, for that in the Royal Charter, Section IV. the King, for himſelf, his Heirs and Succeſſors, hath "granted free, full, and abſolute Power," (not only to the Proprietary and his Heirs, but) "to his and their Deputies and Lieutenants, for the good and happy "Government of the ſaid Country, to ordain, make and enact, and under his and their "Seals to publiſh, any Laws whatſoever, for the Raiſing of Money for public Uſes, or "for any End appertaining unto the public State, Peace or Safety of the ſaid Country, "according unto their beſt Diſcretion, by and with the Advice, Aſſent and Approba-"tion of the Freemen of the ſaid Country, their Delegates or Deputies." And thirdly, becauſe any Prohibition from the Proprietaries, reſtraining the Legiſlative Powers granted by the Royal Charter, is ſo far from being able to render void a Law made notwithſtanding ſuch Prohibition, that the Prohibition is in itſelf void, and a mere Nullity. This is not only conſiſtent with plain Reaſon, but has been ſolemnly conſidered and determined in the former Proprietary's own Council, his Son and Heir, his faithful Secretary, the learned Judge Mompeſſon, and ſeveral others, diſtinguiſhed for their Abilities, being both preſent and concurring, as will, we ſuppoſe, appear on their Minutes, of which we beg Leave to give the following Extract;

1755. August 8.

The Clauſe in Colonel Evans's Commiſſion, viz. "Saving always to me and my "Heirs, our final Aſſent to all ſuch Bills as thou ſhalt paſs into Laws in the ſaid Go-"vernment," &c.

"In Anſwer to a Meſſage from the Aſſembly, requeſting the Council to give their "Opinion in Writing under their Hands, concerning the Saving or Exception in the "Proprietary WILLIAM PENN's Commiſſion to the preſent Lieutenant-Governor, to "wit, whether the ſaid Saving is void in itſelf.———And whether thoſe Bills which "the preſent Lieutenant-Governor ſhall think fit to paſs into Laws, and cauſe the ſaid "Proprietary's Great Seal to be affixed thereunto, can afterwards be vacated or annulled "by the ſaid Proprietary, without Aſſent of the Aſſembly of this Province?

"We of the Council, whoſe Names are hereunto ſubſcribed, are of Opinion, that "the ſaid Saving is void in itſelf; and that thoſe Bills which the preſent Lieutenant-"Governor ſhall think fit to paſs into Laws, and cauſe the ſaid Proprietary's Great Seal "to be affixed thereunto, cannot afterwards be vacated or annulled by the Proprietary, "without Aſſent of the Aſſembly of this Province."

Having thus, we hope, effectually removed the Governor's greateſt Objection to the Paſſing of our Bill, we may be ſhorter in our Obſervations on the four other Reaſons he is pleaſed to give us.

To the firſt we ſhall only ſay, that we do not propoſe to tax the Proprietary as Governor, but as a Fellow-Subject, a Landholder and Poſſeſſor of an Eſtate in Pennſylvania; an Eſtate that will be more benefited by a proper Application of the Tax, than any other Eſtate in the Province. The Proprietary, may it pleaſe the Governor, does not govern us. The Province ſupports a Lieutenant to do that Duty for him, by a large Revenue ariſing from Licences, and other Fees and Perquiſites. But if the Proprietary actually governed us, and had a Support allowed him on that Account, we ſhould not therefore think it leſs reaſonable to tax him as a Landholder, for the Security of that Land. The Repreſentatives of the People have alſo ſome Support as a Part of the Government, by the Wages they are allowed for their Service in Aſſembly; would the Governor think this a good Reaſon, that as Owners of Eſtates they ſhould be exempt from Taxes? Can the Proprietary, as Governor, have, from the Nature of his Office, more of this pretended Right of Exemption from Taxes than the King himſelf? Are not the Tenants of the King's Lands (who by every Land Tax Act of Parliament are to pay the Poundage) impowered to deduct the ſame out of their Rent? And are not the Receivers of his Majeſty's Rents obliged, under ſevere Penalties, to allow of ſuch Deduction? But this is not the firſt Inſtance by many, in which Proprietors and Governors of petty Colonies have aſſumed to themſelves greater Powers, Privileges, Immunities, and Prerogatives, than were ever claimed by their Royal Maſter on the Imperial Throne of all his extenſive Dominions.

On the ſecond it may be ſufficient to obſerve, that the poſitive Law of this Province, hinted at by the Governor as exempting the Proprietaries Eſtates from Taxes, is no other than the Law for raiſing County Rates and Levies, which are in the ſame Act appropriated to Purpoſes for which the Proprietaries could not reaſonably be charged; ſuch as the Payment of Aſſemblymens' Wages, and of the Rewards for killing of Wolves, Crows, Foxes, with other Matters more immediately for the People's Benefit; it is not, as the Governor would insinuate, a general constitutional Law of the Province, made to enforce a natural Right, but is confined to County Affairs, and has no Relation to Provincial Taxes, especially to such as are intended for the Benefit and Advantage of the Proprietary Estate more than of any other Estate in the Province; which will be evident to the Governor, on his perusing it with the smallest Degree of Attention. 'Tis true, it is, as the Governor calls it, a positive Law, so far as it extends; but to apply it to the present Case, seems inconsistent with both Equity and Reason. We have likewise a positive Law, that the People's Representatives shall dispose of the People's Money, and this seems to us consistent generally with Reason and natural Right; but does the Governor think, that, because it is a positive Law, it ought to be extended to all Cases in Government? If so, we humbly conceive he would have proposed some other Amendments to the Bill, and different from those he has thought fit to send us: For we, considering the Intention of the Grant, have allowed him a Share in the Disposition of the Fifty Thousand Pounds; and he proposes, by his last Amendment, to have a Share likewise in the Disposition of the Overplus, if any. 1755. August 8.

On the third Reason, we would only beg Leave to ask, Whether, supposing the Proprietary Estate to be taxed, it would be equitable that he should have a Negative in the Choice of the Assessors; since that would give him Half the Choice, though he were to pay perhaps not a Hundredth Part of the Tax? In our Estimation, and we think we are not mistaken, he may have Friends, Officers and other Dependents enough in every County, to vote as much in his Behalf, or more, than his Share of the Tax can possibly amount to. But if the Proprietary shrinks at the Injustice of being taxed, where he has no Choice in the Assessors, with what Face of Justice can he desire and insist on having Half the Power of disposing of the Money levied, to which he would contribute not a single Farthing? By the Words the Governor chuses to express the Power of the Assessors, viz. "Taxing the Proprietaries Estate at Discretion," one would think their Power unlimited, and the Proprietary left at their Mercy; but in the Valuation of Estates, they are confined by the Bill within certain moderate Bounds, are enjoined, and sworn, or solemnly affirmed, "to assess themselves, and all others, equally and impartially, and "to spare no Person for Favour or Affection, nor grieve any for Hatred or Ill-will;" which we think gives the Proprietary as good Security for Equity and Justice as any Subject in the King's Dominions.

As to the Governor's fourth Reason, deduced from the Usage in this and the other Proprietary Governments, we think Usage and Custom, against Reason and Justice, ought to have but little Weight. But though it may have been the Usage in this Government, and perhaps in others, to exempt the Proprietary Estate from Taxes in Cases where their Estates could not by the Application of such Taxes be any way benefited, that Usage can, as we conceive, have no Relation to the present Case, which, as we have shewn, is of a widely different Nature. Nor, if the Governor's Rule from Usage could be allowed, viz. That the Lands or Estates of Proprietaries, exercising Government by themselves or their Lieutenants, ought to be exempt from Taxes, would it operate in Favour of the Estates of Proprietaries who not only do not exercise Government by themselves, but would restrain their Lieutenants in the Exercise of the just Powers they are vested with by the Royal Charter.

On the Whole, we beg the Governor would again calmly and seriously consider our Bill, to which End we once more send it up to him. We know that without his Assent the Money cannot be raised, nor the good Ends so earnestly desired and expected from it be obtained, and we fear his Resolution to refuse it. But we entreat him to reflect with what Reluctance a People born and bred in Freedom, and accustomed to equitable Laws, must undergo the Weight of this uncommon Tax, and even expose their Persons for the Defence of his Estate, who by Virtue of his Power only, and without even a Colour of Right, should refuse to bear the least Share of the Burthen, though to receive so great a Benefit! With what Spirit can they exert themselves in his Cause, who will not pay the smallest Part of their grievous Expences? How odious must it be to a sensible manly People, to find him, who ought to be their Father and Protector, taking Advantage of Public Calamity and Distress, and their Tenderness for their bleeding Country, to force down their Throats Laws of Imposition, abhorrent to common Justice and common Reason! Why will the Governor make himself the hateful Instrument of reducing a free People to the abject State of Vassalage;—of depriving us of those Liberties, which have given Reputation to our Country throughout the World, and drawn Inhabitants from the remotest Parts of Europe to enjoy them? Liberties not only granted us of Favour, but of Right; Liberties which in Effect we have bought and paid for, since we have not only performed the Conditions on which they were granted, but have actually given higher Prices for our Lands on their Account; so that the Proprietary Family have been doubly paid for them, in the Value of the Lands, and in the Increase of Rents with Increase of People: Let not our Affections be torn in this Manner from a Family we have long loved and honoured! Let that novel Doctrine,

1755. August 8. hatched by their miſtaken Friends, "that Privileges granted to promote the Settlement "of a Country, are to be abridged when the Settlement is obtained," iniquitous as it is, be deteſted as it deſerves, and baniſhed from all our public Councils; and let the Harmony, ſo eſſential to the Welfare of both Governors and Governed, be once again reſtored; ſince it can never be more neceſſary to our Affairs than in their preſent melancholy Situation.—We hope the Governor will excuſe ſome Appearance of Warmth, in a Cauſe of all others in the World the moſt intereſting, and believe us to be, with all poſſible Reſpect and Duty to the Proprietary Family and to himſelf, his and their ſincere Friends and Well-wiſhers."

And the foregoing Meſſage being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe,

Ordered, That Griffith Owen and Samuel Brown wait upon the Governor and deliver the ſame, together with the Bill for raiſing Fifty Thouſand Pounds for the King's Uſe, by a Tax of Twelve-pence per Pound, and Twenty Shillings per Head, yearly, for two Years, on all the Eſtates, real and perſonal, and Taxables, within this Province; and acquaint him, that the Houſe being anxious to get through the Buſineſs before them as ſoon as poſſible, deſire that he would be pleaſed to let them know his Reſult on the ſaid Bill as ſoon as conveniently he can.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor, report, that they had delivered the Fifty Thouſand Pound Bill, and the Meſſage of the Houſe, according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he thought it his Duty to give the Public Buſineſs all the Diſpatch in his Power.

The verbal Meſſage from the Governor of the Twenty-eighth of laſt Month, was again read, and conſidered, and the Houſe being informed that Conrad Weiſer was now attending, he was called in, and interrogated concerning the Letter ſent by himſelf, and other of the Juſtices in Berks County, to the Governor, relating to the Roman Catholicks in that County; and then was directed to withdraw.

Ordered, That James Pemberton and Nathaniel Pennock wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe have this Afternoon examined Conrad Weiſer, and ſome of our Members have had an Opportunity of ſpeaking with another of the Juſtices of Berks County, who ſigned the Letter, repreſenting the State of the Roman Catholicks in that Neighbourhood; from which, and what further Enquiry we have made, we apprehend there is very little Foundation for that Repreſentation: Nevertheleſs, if the Governor, upon further Information, ſhould find any Aſſiſtance of ours neceſſary, we ſhall always be willing to contribute what lies in our Power for the Public Tranquillity; and in the mean Time we requeſt his Care to do therein what he ſhall think neceſſary and right, conſiſtent with the Charters and Laws of this Province, and the Safety of the People.

The Houſe taking into Conſideration the Reſolve of the Houſe at their laſt Sitting, relating to the Maintenance of the Women belonging to the Army under the Command of General Braddock, Reſolved, That the Overſeers of the Poor of the City of Philadelphia, who undertook to provide for the ſaid Women, be directed to diſcharge ſuch of them as are capable of getting their own Living; and that this Houſe will continue to allow ſuch reaſonable Charges as the ſaid Overſeers may be put to in providing for thoſe of the ſaid Women who are now lying in, or near it, or are otherwiſe rendered incapable of getting their Livelihood, until the next Sitting of Aſſembly.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Auguſt 9. The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order.

A Letter to the Governor from the Commiſſioners for cutting the Road towards the Ohio, was laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

Sundry Accounts from Conrad Weiſer, for Indian Expences by him paid, were laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly. 'YOUR long Meſſage of Yeſterday is now under my Conſideration, and I ſhall give you an Anſwer to it as ſoon as I have fully weighed the ſeveral Parts of it. But 'in the mean Time I think it my Duty to remind you, that this Province is ſtill without a Militia, or the neceſſary Means of Defence, though the preſent Situation of our 'Affairs makes this more than ever neceſſary, as the Troops that his Majeſty ſent for the 'Protection of theſe Provinces have been defeated, and the French have now in America 'a large Body of regular Forces, without Doubt to carry into Execution the Plan they 'have long ſince formed of ſubjecting this Continent to their Dominion. And the Inha-'bitants from ſeveral Counties having by Petition repreſented to me the Dangers to 'which they ſtand expoſed, and declared themſelves willing and deſirous to defend themſelves,

'ſelves, I do therefore, in his Majeſty's Name, call upon you, Gentlemen, to put this 1755.
'Province into a Poſture of Defence by eſtabliſhing a Militia, (in doing which you will Auguſt 9.
'have a due Regard to ſcrupulous Conſciences) that this plentiful Country, ſituate in 'the Middle of the Britiſh Colonies, may no longer remain open to the Enemies, and 'thereby put it in their Power to make themſelves Maſters of the whole Continent.

'As I have frequently recommended this Matter to you, and have had no Anſwer
'from you, I muſt now deſire you will give me an explicit Anſwer upon the Subject.

Philadelphia, Auguſt 9, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Committee of Accounts reported, that they had examined the Account of Robert Thompſon, Eſq; of Lancaſter, for Caſh paid by him for Horſe-hire for Expreſſes, and were of Opinion, the ſame ought to be allowed; to which Report the Houſe agreed, and an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treaſurer, and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, for Payment of the ſame.

Then the Houſe adjourned to next Second-day, at Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Houſe met according to their Adjournment. Auguſt 11. Poſt Meridiem

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

'COLONEL Dunbar, the now Commander of his Majeſty's Forces to the Weſt- A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.
'ward, by Letter of the Sixteenth of July, notified to me his Intention to march
'thoſe Troops to this City, deſiring me to provide Quarters for One Hundred Officers,
'and Twelve Hundred Men, and on the Firſt Inſtant informed me, that he ſhould
'begin his March from Fort Cumberland the next Day; and hoped every Thing would 'be ready here for the Reception of the Troops.—As it was quite uncertain what Effect
'my Letters to Colonel Dunbar, to poſt his Troops on the Weſtern Frontiers, would have,
'I wrote to the Mayor and Corporation of this City to provide the Quarters for the 'Men and Officers mentioned in the Colonel's Letter; to which they have anſwered,
'that they know of no Law that authoriſes them to provide Quarters for thoſe Troops,
'and therefore have it not in their Power to comply with the Directions I had given.—
'As theſe Troops are marching into this Province, and whether they come quite to this 'City or not, there will be a Neceſſity of providing proper Quarters for them, and the 'Officers that command them, I muſt recommend it to you, by a Law, to enable the 'Magiſtrates to quarter ſuch of his Majeſty's Officers and Soldiers as may march through,
'or be poſted in, any of the Counties or Diſtricts within this Province.

'This will prevent all Conteſts between the civil and military Officers, between the 'Soldiers and People, and be a great Means of preſerving the internal Peace of the 'Province.

Philadelphia, Auguſt 11, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

A Copy of the Anſwer of the Mayor and Corporation of the City of Philadelphia, mentioned in the foregoing Meſſage, was alſo laid before the Houſe, and read.

Ordered, That Evan Morgan, Benjamin Franklin, Griffith Owen, Thomas Cummings, Calvin Cooper, David M'Connaughy and John Smith be a Committee to prepare a Draught of a Bill for providing Quarters for ſuch of his Majeſty's Officers and Soldiers as may arrive in this Province.

A Petition from ſundry of the Road-Cutters, relating to their Accounts, was laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz. Auguſt 12.

GENTLEMEN,

'I AM importuned by the Indians, to let them know what it is this Government has A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.
'to impart to them. If they can be made hearty for us, they may prevent a great 'Deal of Miſchief, engage other Indians in our Favour, and be prepared for any other 'Service that we may think proper to employ them in. To do this, will require great 'Skill, and an open Hand, for Preſents they certainly expect, and will not at this Time
'be ſatisfied with ſmall Ones.

'The Owendaets came on our Invitation, and ſuch Terms muſt therefore be offered
'them as will effectually engage their Friendſhip: The Matter cannot now be minced
'neither with them nor the other Nations. You will therefore pleaſe to conſider this 'Matter well, and give me your Sentiments and Counſel in this nice and critical Situa'tion of our Affairs.

Philadelphia, Auguſt 12, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The verbal Meſſage from the Governor of the Twentieth of December laſt, concerning Scaroyady's Son-in-Law's returning to the Ohio, &c. was alſo read.

Ordered,

1755. Auguſt 12. Ordered, That James Pemberton, William Callender, Joſeph Hamton, Nathaniel Grubb, James Wright, John Smith and Moſes Starr be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's laſt Meſſage, and report the ſame to the Houſe.

The Committee of Accounts reported, that they had examined the ſeveral Accounts of Conrad Weiſer, referred to them, and found the Sum of One Hundred and Thirty-five Pounds Six Shillings and One Penny due to the ſaid Weiſer.

The Committee of Accounts likewiſe made the following Report in Writing, viz.

Report from the Committee of Accounts.

YOUR Committee have, with great Attention, conſidered the Letter of the Fifth Inſtant, from the Commiſſioners appointed by the Governor to have the Overſight of cutting the Road through the Weſtern Parts of this Province for the King's Service, and are of Opinion, that the Sum of Five Thouſand Pounds, deſired by them to be ſent up for the ſaid Service, is a very extravagant Demand, eſpecially as ſeveral large Sums have already been advanced for that Service; and that we are informed, there is but Sixty-five Miles of the ſaid Road cut, which will make the Charge near One Hundred Pounds per Mile. In order to prevent Impoſition on the Public, we do report, that the ſaid Commiſſioners ſhould forthwith attend the Committee of Accounts, at Philadelphia, with their Accounts fairly ſtated, and proper Vouchers for the ſame, in order to be adjuſted;—or that the Houſe ſhould appoint ſome proper Perſons to attend the Settling the Accounts at Lancaſter or Carliſle, with Directions from the Houſe for that Purpoſe. All which we ſubmit to the Houſe.

Eighth Month 12, 1755. JOSEPH FOX, EVAN MORGAN, WILLIAM CALLENDER, JOSEPH STRETCH."

A Bill for extending ſo much of an Act of Parliament, entituled, An Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion; and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters, paſſed in the Twenty-eighth Year of the preſent Reign, as relates to the Quartering and Billeting of Soldiers, and Payment of their Quarters in that Part of Great-Britain called England, was brought in by the Committee appointed to prepare the ſame, read the firſt time, and ordered a ſecond Reading.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of this Morning, reported the ſame to the Houſe; and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

THE Secretary, by a verbal Meſſage from the Governor on the Twentieth of December laſt, acquainted the Houſe, "that Scaroyady's Son-in-Law was charged "with a Meſſage from the Owendaets to enquire what their Brethren the Engliſh de- "ſigned to do in Regard to the late Encroachments of the French; and having heard "ſince he came to Town that the King of England intended to ſend over a Number of "Troops to aſſiſt in repelling thoſe Invaders, he was willing, if the Governor thought "proper, to return to his Nation, and acquaint them with the joyful News: The "Governor therefore deſired the Opinion of the Houſe whether it would be moſt ad- "viſeable for Scaroyady's Son-in-Law to return now to the Ohio, or go to Onondago "with Scaroyady." Whereupon the Houſe gave for Anſwer, that it was their Opinion that it would be moſt proper for Scaroyady's Son-in-Law to return to the Ohio as ſoon as conveniently he could. This is all the Part our Houſe have had in Relation to the Owendaets; neither did we know of the leaſt Intention of inviting them, or any others; ſo that as they are now come down without our Knowledge or Requeſt, entirely upon the Governor's Invitation, it is ſome Surpriſe to us to find the Indians ſhould have Reaſon to importune him, or that he ſhould be at any Loſs to know what it is he has to impart to them on this Occaſion.

Our Conduct towards the Indians in our Alliance has been always candid, and free from any Subterfuge whatever, ſo that we do not underſtand what the Governor would mean by telling us "that the Matter cannot be now minced, neither with them nor "the other Nations." And we are likewiſe at a Loſs to conceive why they ſhould expect great Preſents from us who are wholly ignorant of the Intention of their coming.

The Governor has been pleaſed to refuſe his Aſſent to our Bills which had provided for Indian and other Expences, and as our Treaſury is exhauſted by the very heavy Charges for the King's Service, theſe Indians are come among us at a very unfortunate Time, when it is not in our Power to ſupply them in the Manner we are inclined to do; however we will do all that can be reaſonably expected from us, and muſt leave the reſt to be ſupplied by the Proprietaries, whoſe Intereſt is at leaſt as much concerned as ours in engaging the Affections of the Indians at this Time."

And the ſame being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe,

Ordered,

1755. August 12.

Ordered, That Joseph James and Moses Starr wait upon the Governor with the same.

The Bill for extending so much of an Act of Parliament, entituled, An Act for punishing Mutiny and Desertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters, passed in the Twenty-eighth Year of the present Reign, as relates to the Quartering and Billeting of Soldiers, and Payment of their Quarters in that Part of Great-Britain called England, was read the second time, and ordered to be transcribed for a third Reading.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Message of the House according to Order.

Then the House adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment

August 13.

The Bill, entituled, An Act for extending so much of an Act, entituled, An Act for punishing Mutiny and Desertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters, passed in the Twenty-eighth Year of the present Reign, as relates to the Quartering and Billeting of Soldiers, and Payment of their Quarters in that Part of Great-Britain called England, being transcribed, was read the third time.

Resolved, That the Bill do pass.

Ordered, That Jonathan Ingham and Peter Worral do carry up the same to the Governor for his Concurrence.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down a written Message to the House, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'WHEN I amended and sent down to you the Bill for raising Fifty Thousand Pounds for the King's Use, I expected you would have returned it to me with the Amendments, and informed me which of them you agreed to, this being the common and ordinary Method in such Cases; but you departed from this, and desired to know whether I was restrained by the Proprietaries from taxing their Estate, and the Reasons for my Opinion as to that Measure; and though this Application was unparliamentary, and I believe unprecedented, yet upon this Occasion I indulged you therein, and gave my Reasons in the mildest Terms, on which, however, you have been pleased to treat both the Proprietaries and myself in a very unbecoming Manner.

'As you have returned me the Bill without the Amendments, and in your Message that accompanied it, offer no Reasons against any of them but such as relate to taxing the Proprietary Estate, I conclude you have agreed to the others; I shall therefore consider the several Parts of your Message, and make such Observations upon, and Answer to it, as I think it merits.

'Having told you, that I had no Power by my Commission to hurt or incumber the Proprietary Estate, you take Occasion in your Answer to play with the Worts hurt and encumber, and having viewed them in different Lights, tell me, "that your Bill "is intended to free the Proprietary Estate from Hurt and Encumbrance, by removing "the French, and that you are as much bound not to hurt or encumber the Estates of "your Constituents, as I am with Respect to the Proprietary Estate;" and having shewn, as you think, that the Proviso in my Commission does not prohibit me in the present Case; you then proceed to reason upon the Clause itself, and after producing a very good Opinion of a former Council, Judge, and Secretary, as to a particular Saving in the late Proprietary Commission, you very roundly pronounce that Proviso to be a Nullity, and not at all binding on me.

'You must give me Leave to differ from you in Opinion as to the Force of the Words in that Clause, which, notwithstanding what you have said, have still the same plain and determinate Meaning they had before, every Tax, in my Mind, being an Encumbrance upon an Estate, from which it cannot be cleared but by the Payment of a certain Sum of Money; and I being expressly restrained by my Commission from consenting to any Act that may encumber the Proprietary Estate, every unprejudiced Person will see clearly that my Powers do not extend to the present Case, and that if I acceded to your Opinion, I should be guilty of a manifest Breach of Trust.

'As to the Validity of prohibitory Clauses in the Proprietary Commissions, I am not fortunate enough to comprehend the Force of your Reasonings upon this Head, which are drawn from the fourth Section of the Royal Charter; for though by that Charter Power is given to the Proprietaries, their Deputies and Lieutenants, to make Laws, yet it does not alter the Relation which by Law subsists between a Principal and his Deputy, the Intention of the Charter in that Particular, being no other than to impower Mr. PENN, and his Heirs, to administer the Government by his and their Lieutenant or Deputy, which being a judicial Office, he could not otherwise have done; and so far is the Charter, by its general Tenor, from making the Deputy equal to, or independent of, the Principal, that it makes the Proprietaries alone civilly answerable for what is done in the Province, whether by themselves or their Lieutenants, which would be unjust if the Lieutenant by the Charter was equal in Power, independent of, and uncontroulable by, the Person that appoints, and is answerable

1755. August 13.

'for his Behaviour. Though I allow the Opinion produced to be good, as to the Point 'then under Conſideration, yet it is not applicable to all Caſes, which your Arguments, 'without any Foundation, ſuppoſe;——and in the preſent One there is a wide Dif-'ference, obvious to every one who conſiders them both with the leaſt Degree of At-'tention; becauſe that Saving was even reſerving a Power to the Proprietary in his own 'Perſon to repeal a Law which he by his Lieutenant had conſented to; whereas, in the 'preſent Caſe, the Reſtriction amounts to nothing more than a reaſonable Prohibition 'upon their Governors, as ſuch, from paſſing Laws to injure their Eſtates.

'I cannot help obſerving, that you formerly uſed theſe ſame Arguments againſt the 'Validity of Royal Inſtructions, and uſing them now to deſtroy the Force of Proprie-'tary Prohibitions, you would, it ſhould ſeem, be willing that the Lieutenant Gover-'nor ſhould be independent of every Body but yourſelves.

'You ſay, "That the ſame Proviſo reſtrains me from letting or ſelling the Proprie-"tary Lands, and yet I propoſe to give away Six or Seven Hundred Thouſand Acres "upon the preſent Occaſion; and ſeem vaſtly ſurpriſed, that I ſhould think myſelf re-"ſtrained from incumbering the Proprietary Lands by Act of Aſſembly, and yet at Li-"berty to give them away; for if, ſay you, the Grant of Lands, contrary to ſuch Pro-"hibition, would be valid, why not the Paſſing the Bill for a Tax?" And this you call 'a Queſtion you cannot ſolve.——It is ſomething very extraordinary, that the Repre-'ſentative Body of Pennſylvania ſhould know ſo little of the Affairs of the Province, as 'never to have been informed, that the Governor grants the Proprietary Lands under a 'certain Power of Attorney, regularly proved and recorded, called a Commiſſion of 'Property.———That this Power was formerly veſted in private Perſons; but for ſome 'Years paſt, has been given to the Governors; and, being the Foundation of Property, 'cannot be unknown to any the leaſt acquainted with the Circumſtances of the Pro-'vince.——And to aſk a Queſtion or two in my Turn, how could you think that the 'Lands in the Province were granted under the Powers of a Commiſſion that expreſsly 'prohibits the Granting of any? Or that the People would be ſo weak as to give Money 'for Lands, and take Titles under ſuch a defective Power? As to the Propoſal itſelf, it 'was made with a good Intention; and as I am accountable to the Proprietaries for my 'Conduct under that Commiſſion of Property, you may be aſſured I did not make it 'without proper Power to carry it into Execution; and had you raiſed Money for an 'Expedition to the Weſtward, and for encouraging Settlers, I ſhould then have made 'an Offer of the Lands by Proclamation, letting the Adventurers know, that they were 'to have the Choice of the Lands in Preference to all others, with every Thing elſe that 'could reduce the Offer to a Certainty; which there was no Neceſſity of doing in a Meſ-'ſage to you, barely mentioning the Thing, and recommending to you to grant an Aid 'to thoſe that ſhould become Settlers after the French were removed.

'But whatever comes from the Proprietaries, however juſt, however favourable, muſt 'be wrong, and accordingly you are determined to repreſent in that Light a Propoſal 'generous in itſelf, and intended to promote the Public Service and Safety; which may 'ſerve to ſhew the Temper of Mind you are in, but can anſwer no good Purpoſe.—— 'You ſay, Lands equally good may be had in Virginia for Two Shillings Sterling Quit-'rent, and none to be paid in Fifteen Years: It may be ſo; but how does it appear they 'are equally good? It is plain they are not equally convenient, becauſe of their greater 'Diſtance from a Market.—The Quitrent in Virginia, I ſuppoſe, was the ſame for-'merly that it is now, and yet very great Numbers have choſen to purchaſe Lands in 'this Province of the Proprietaries at the Rate of Fifteen Pounds Ten Shillings per Cent, 'and of private Men at a much higher Price, and in both Caſes under the Quit-rent of 'Four Shillings and Two-pence Sterling, when they might have had them in Virginia 'for much leſs; and the Propoſal ought not to be conſidered by comparing it with 'other Provinces, but with the Rate that Lands have, for a Number of Years paſt, been 'ſold at in this Province; ſome of them lately in the new Purchaſe, within a few Miles 'of the Allegheny Mountains, and others very remote without any Road of Communi-'cation with this City, which is not the Caſe as to the Lands propoſed to be given, 'there being a very good Waggon Road thither: And notwithſtanding what you have 'ſaid upon this Head, I am convinced, that if you had enabled me, in Conjunction 'with the neighbouring Governments, to have ſent a Body of Troops into that Country, 'an Offer of Lands, upon the Terms above-mentioned, would have had very good Ef-'fects, and would have induced many to have gone and become Settlers there, that 'would not otherwiſe have thought of doing either, and by that Means have formed a 'Barrier for the Protection and Security of the Province; and therefore I cannot but be 'aſtoniſhed, that you ſhould have taken ſo much Pains to depreciate it.

'And now having effectually removed in your Judgment my greateſt Objection to 'paſſing your Bill, you proceed to conſider my Reaſons in their Order. And to the 'Firſt, that Governors, from the Nature of their Offices, are exempt from the Pay-'ment of Taxes.——You take a very nice Diſtinction between the Proprietary as Owner of Land, and the Proprietary as Chief Governor, and say, "you do not tax him as "Governor, but as a Land-holder, and Fellow-Subject:" Though this is a Distinction that has no Existence in Law or Reason, yet I shall for the present admit it, and consider it accordingly. Have the Proprietaries a Right to vote in the Election of Representatives as Land-holders? surely not, being hereditary Governors of the Province, and having a Voice in the Legislature by their own particular Representative the Governor. How then came you by a Right to tax them as Fellow-Subjects and Landholders, seeing they had no Voice in chusing you, nor were entitled to any, though Owners of Land in every County? From the very Principles therefore of the English Constitution, you have no Right to tax them as Freeholders or Fellow-Subjects, as you call them: If, therefore, you tax them at all, it must be as Proprietaries and Chief Governors, which is the only Capacity by which they are connected with, or related to, the Inhabitants of this Province; and under them, in that Capacity, you derive the Power of acting as an Assembly. You cannot therefore, without inverting the Order of Things, have a Power over those from whom you and every one else in the Province derive all the Power they have.—They hold the Government and Soil of this Province under the same Grant, and the Title to both is centered in their Persons, and cannot be separated or divided without destroying their Authority. It may be very true, as you say, "that the Proprietaries do not govern you;" but that is not owing to any Want of legal Authority in them, but from another Cause that I need not mention here.

'The Support, as you call it, that is paid by the Province to a Lieutenant Governor, is no other than the Fees of Office, and as such are due to any One that administers the Government, and are not, what you would insinuate, given to the Lieutenant for doing the Duty of the Principal; the chief of them are Public-house Licences, which were originally granted by Charter, not by any Concession of the People (though you from Time to Time have taken it for granted to be so) and in Favour to them, as former Governors took much larger Sums for this Service, moderate Fees have been consented to be fixed by Law, as Considerations for the Business done, not as sufficient for the Support of Government; all the Fees and Perquisites whereof do not amount, communibus Annis, to more than a Thousand Pounds.

'As to the Land-tax Acts of Parliament you refer to, they may be, as you say, with respect to the Crown's Fee Farm Rents. But I do not conceive they amount to a Proof that the King pays Taxes, all Taxes whatever being paid to him; and there seems to me an Inconsistency in supposing he can both pay and receive. I take the Clause you mention to have no other Meaning than to appropriate Part of the Revenues of the Crown to one public Use, which were before appropriated to another: For I must observe to you, that the King can have no private Estate, but from the Dignity of his Office holds his Lands in Right of the Crown. And another Reason why a Poundage is collected upon the Crown's Fee Farm Rents may be, that the Land-tax should not fall heavier upon the other Lands in the same Hundreds or Districts, as the Quotas of each were long ago settled as they now stand in the King's Books, and cannot, without Confusion, be altered upon the Crown's acquiring Lands in any of them.

'And upon this you break out into a lofty Exclamation, that "this is not the first "Instance by many in which Proprietaries and Governors of petty Colonies have assumed to themselves greater Powers, Privileges, Immunities and Prerogatives, than "were ever claimed by their Royal Master on the Imperial Throne of all his extensive "Dominions." I must acknowledge, Gentlemen, that these are sounding Words; but what Instances among the many can you give of that assuming Behaviour in your present Proprietaries? Have they ever claimed any Rights or Prerogatives not granted to them by the Royal Charter, or reserved by that of their Father, under which you sit? Can you lay to their Charge, during the Course of a long Administration over you, one Act of Injustice or Severity? Have they even exercised all those Powers which by the Royal Charter they might legally do, and to which that Charter requires the People to be obedient? On the contrary, have they not given up to the People many Things they had a Right to insist on, and indulged them in every Thing that they judged for their Benefit? How just is it therefore, Gentlemen, to accuse them of assuming Powers and Prerogatives greater than their Royal Master? Would you turn your Eyes towards your own Conduct, and apply some of these significant Words to yourselves, you would find them much more applicable than they are to the Proprietaries.—— The Charter under which you act, gives you the Powers and Privileges of an Assembly, according to the Rights of the Free-born Subjects of England, and as is usual in any of the King's Plantations in America.—This, Gentlemen, is the Foundation of your Powers, which, by the Royal Charter, were to be consonant to the Laws and Constitution of England. But instead of confining yourselves to that which your wise Ancestors thought fully sufficient to answer the Ends of good Government, and secure the Liberties of the People, you have taken upon you great and mighty Powers, dispensed with positive Laws by the Strength of your own Orders, claim a Right to dis-

1755. August 13.

'pose of all public Money, and of keeping your Proceedings a Secret from the Crown, 'with many others unknown to an Engliſh Conſtitution, and never heard of in the other 'Plantations in America. Who therefore can be ſo juſtly accuſed as yourſelves of aſ- 'ſuming unwarrantable Powers, greater than ever were claimed by a Britiſh Houſe of 'Parliament, or, to uſe your own Words, "by your Royal Maſter on the Imperial "Throne of all his extenſive Dominions," who pretends to no Powers but what the 'Conſtitution gives him, and diſclaims a Right of diſpenſing with Laws.

'To theſe Encroachments on the Conſtitution you give the ſacred Name of Privilege, 'and under the Maſk of Zeal for the Public, conceal your own Schemes, pretending 'they are all for the Benefit of the People, when they can anſwer no Purpoſe but to en- 'creaſe your own Power, and endanger the juſt Rights that the People enjoy under the 'Royal and Proprietary Charters, by making it neceſſary for his Majeſty and a Britiſh 'Parliament to interpoſe their Authority to ſave the Province. ——— The People have 'no Way ſo effectually to ſecure themſelves in the Enjoyment of their Liberty, as ſtrictly 'adhering to the Conſtitution eſtabliſhed by Charter, making that the Foundation and 'Standard of their Proceedings, and diſcountenancing every Deviation from it.

'The ſecond and third Reaſons given by me, and your Anſwers to them being de- 'duced from the Law for raiſing County Rates and Levies, I ſhall conſider them together.

'I do not ſee why the Proprietary Eſtate in each County is not benefited in common 'with other Eſtates, and by the ſame Means. The Proviſo therefore, relating to their 'Eſtates, was not inſerted becauſe he had no Benefit by the Money raiſed; but was pro- 'perly a Condition, upon which his Governor conſented to veſt the whole Power of 'chuſing the Tax Officers in the People, and is declarative of the Rights of his Station, 'of which the People in general might be ignorant.

'I think with you, that the Proprietary Tax would not be more than an Hundredth 'Part of the Whole, but cannot therefore admit, that if he is taxed, he ſhould be ex- 'cluded from any Voice in the Choice of thoſe impowered to tax him, or that the Votes 'of his Officers, in their own Right, can make the Aſſeſſors his Repreſentatives; nor 'can I eaſily conceive, that a Negative upon a Choice is Half the Choice, or indeed 'any Part of it; but as what you ſay upon this Head has very little argumentative Force, 'I ſhall not dwell upon it, but ſay ſomething as to the Law itſelf.

'From the Tenor of the Act it appears to me to be intended, not only for laying and 'raiſing Taxes to defray the neceſſary Charges in every County, but to ſettle the Mode 'of raiſing Money upon all Occaſions; it directs the Manner of chuſing Commiſſioners, 'Aſſeſſors, Collectors and Treaſurers, gives them particular Powers, and regulates the 'Conduct of thoſe entruſted with the Laying and Receiving Taxes. —— It is a poſitive 'and perpetual Law, and by a ſpecial Proviſo expreſsly declares the Proprietary Eſtate 'not liable to Taxes.——You yourſelves apply it to a Provincial Purpoſe by the Bill 'under Conſideration, and the apparent Reaſon why it was never applied to that Purpoſe 'before is, that no Provincial Tax has ever been laid ſince the Enacting of that Law.

'You are certainly empowered by ſome temporary Laws to diſpoſe of particular Mo- 'nies raiſed by thoſe Laws, when they come into the public Offices, and I do not know 'that this Power has been diſputed; the Legiſlature that gave thoſe Laws a Being, had 'a Right to paſs them in that Shape, and a future Legiſlature may do the ſame, if they 'think fit; but I do not conceive that you have from thoſe Laws a Right to diſpoſe of 'all Money that ſhall be raiſed, that being no Part of the Charter, but muſt depend 'upon the Legiſlature that raiſes it, who may reſerve the Diſpoſition to themſelves, give 'it to you, or any Body elſe they think fit.

'And here I cannot help taking Notice of an Expreſſion in your Meſſage, that you have 'allowed me a Share in the Diſpoſition of the Fifty Thouſand Pounds. ——— Is it from 'you, Gentlemen, that I derive the Right of governing this Province, or from your 'Allowance that I have a Voice in the Legiſlature? Are you the Sovereign Diſpoſers of 'Power? Have you a Right to give and take away at Pleaſure? If not, whence that 'lofty Claim of allowing your Governor a Share in the Diſpoſition of public Money? 'Is not the whole Property of the People ſubject to the Power of the Legiſlature; and 'have I not a Voice in that Legiſlature, not derived from, or dependant upon, you; and 'how came you therefore by a Right to allow me a Share in the Diſpoſition of Money, 'which cannot be raiſed without my Conſent? Such Language may poſſibly be agreeable 'to your Notions of your own ſuperlative Powers, but is not juſtified by the Conſtitu- 'tion eſtabliſhed by Charter, or any Rights properly belonging to an Aſſembly; and 'your claiming ſuch a Power, ſhews the Extenſiveneſs of your Plan, which is no leſs in 'that Reſpect, than to render yourſelves independent, and aſſume a Superiority over 'your Proprietaries and Governors; a Plan you would not fail to carry into Execution, 'were your Power equal to your Inclinations.

'The Proprietaries do not ſhrink, as you call it, at the Payment of a ſmall Sum of 'Money, nor is that the Motive for inſiſting on their Right, they having by me offered 'much more than their Proportion of this Tax can poſſibly amount to; but to preſerve

1755. August 13.

'the Rights of their Station, which if they give up whenever they are demanded, as 'Claims will never be wanting, they will very soon be stripped of every Thing they 'have a Right to enjoy, both Power and Property.

'Your Answer to my fourth Reason admits, that taxing the Estates of Proprietaries 'is contrary to the Usage and Practice in this and other Governments, by saying, that 'Custom and Usage, against Reason and Justice, ought to have but little Weight.—— 'But I do not admit that Reason and Justice are on your Side of the Question; on the 'contrary, I think I have shewn that they are with me, and look upon the Usage and 'Custom as a strong Evidence, that the Legislatures of this and other Proprietary Go-'vernments were of my Opinion; and I am very much concerned, Gentlemen, that 'you should chuse this Time of imminent Danger, when your Country is invaded, to 'introduce a new and extraordinary Claim, to the Prejudice of Persons that are absent; 'when you know, that however right you may think it, I have it not in my Power to 'consent to it, consistent with Duty and Honour.

'As to myself, I think it necessary to say, that for the Dispatch of the Public Business 'at this critical Conjuncture, when every honest Heart should be concerned for the 'Public Service, I studiously avoided every Thing that could renew the Disputes that 'subsisted between us, and earnestly recommended the same Temper of Mind to you, 'and cannot therefore but be exceedingly surprised in Return to be thus injuriously trea-'ted, and represented as the hateful Instrument of reducing a free People to the abject 'State of Vassalage. What Grounds have you, Gentlemen, for this heavy Charge? 'What Laws of Imposition, abhorrent to common Justice and common Reason, have 'I attempted to force down your Throats? Have I proposed any Thing to you, during 'the Course of my short Administration, but to grant Supplies to the Crown adequate 'to the Exigency of the Times; to assist the King's Forces sent for our Protection; and 'to put the Province into a Posture of Defence, by establishing a Militia, which is put-'ting the Sword into the Hands of the People for their own Security? And where can 'it be trusted with more Safety to themselves? Are these Impositions, or are they ab-'horrent to common Justice and Reason? I have, it is true, refused to give my Assent 'to some Bills proposed by you, because they were contrary to the King's Instructions; 'and amended others, to make them agreeable to the Charter, and consistent with the 'Safety of the People, by lodging the Disposition of the Public Money in the Hands of 'the Legislature; and for this, which is no more than a due Obedience to the lawful 'Commands of the Crown, and the free Exercise of my Reason and Judgment in Mat-'ters of Legislation, am I branded with Infamy and Reproach, and set up as the Object 'of a People's Resentment.

'I am not, Gentlemen, conscious to myself of having done, or intended to do, any 'the least Injury to the People committed to my Charge; and the Man that has been 'oppressed or injured by me, let him stand forth and complain. Who is it in your Pro-'vince that does not enjoy the Freedom of his own religious Worship? Whose Liberty 'have I taken away? Or whose Property have I invaded? Surely if I have taken Ad-'vantage of the People's Distress, and of your Regard for your Country, to force down 'your Throats Laws of Imposition, abhorrent to Justice and Reason; if I have done or 'attempted any Thing to deprive the People of their Liberties, and reduce them to the 'abject State of Vassalage, you will be able to point out some Instances of these Things; 'and I call upon you to do it, if you can, and make good your Charge. It is not to 'the People I am hateful, Gentlemen, but to yourselves; and that for no other Reason, 'but doing the Duty of my Station, exercising my own Judgment, as a Branch of the 'Legislature, with Freedom and Independency, and keeping you, as far as it was in 'my Power, to the Duty of yours.

'Had you really any Tenderness for your bleeding Country, would you have acted 'the Part you have done? Would you have looked tamely on, and see the French seat 'themselves within your Borders? Would you have suffered them to encrease their Num-'bers, and fortify themselves in a Place from whence, in a few Days, they may march an 'Army among the Inhabitants? Would you have been deaf to all the affectionate Warn-'ings and Calls of his Majesty, the faithful Guardian of his People's Safety? And would 'you have refused the proper, necessary and timely Assistance to an Army, sent to protect 'these Colonies? Or would you now, when that Army is defeated, waste your Time in 'disputing about new and extraordinary Claims of your own raising, when every Head 'and Hand should be employed for the Public Safety?

'However, Gentlemen, to conclude, let me entreat you to lay aside all Heat and 'Animosity, to consider the naked and defenceless State of the Inhabitants, with a 'Temper of Mind becoming the important Occasion; to look upon the French and their 'Indians as your only Enemies, and the Persons that intend to inslave you; and be as-'sured, that your Proprietaries, or Governor, have no Designs to the Prejudice of the 'People of Pennsylvania, but will continue to protect them in the Enjoyment of all 'their just Rights and Privileges.

Philadelphia, August 12, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

1755. Auguſt 13. The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Bill relating to quartering and billeting of Soldiers, return, and report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Governor's Meſſage of this Morning was again read, and conſidered; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That Evan Morgan, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, Joſeph Gibbons, James Wright, David M'Connaughy and Moſes Starr be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the ſame, and report it to the Houſe.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. WE have read and conſidered the Governor's long Meſſage of this Day, and purpoſe to return a full, and we hope, a ſatisfactory Anſwer; but that the Public Buſineſs, of the greateſt Importance, may not be any longer delayed by theſe Diſputes, we take Leave to acquaint the Governor, that the Bill we have ſent up to him is a Money Bill, granting Fifty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and we ſee no Reaſon to alter it; therefore we adhere to our Bill, and deſire the Governor will be pleaſed to give us his final Anſwer, whether he will or will not paſs it as it now ſtands.

Signed, by Order of the Houſe,

Auguſt 13, 1755. P. M. ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

Adjournment Auguſt 14. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order.

The Secretary brought down the Bill for quartering and billeting of Soldiers, and informed the Houſe, that the Governor was ready to paſs the ſame into a Law whenever the Houſe ſhould think proper to offer it to him for that Purpoſe.

The Secretary likewiſe brought down the Bill for granting Fifty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, with a Meſſage from the Governor in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly. 'HAVING amended the Bill for raiſing Fifty Thouſand Pounds, and not being yet 'ſatisfied that it is in my Power, or conſiſtent with my Truſt, to paſs it without 'thoſe Amendments, whatever I may be when I hear what you propoſe to ſay to me 'upon the Head, I think it neceſſary, in Anſwer to your Meſſage of Yeſterday, to in-'form you, that I do adhere to the Amendments made by me to the ſaid Bill.

Philadelphia, Auguſt 14, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Governor alſo ſent down to the Houſe, by the Secretary, another Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly. 'I HAVE received from Colonel Dunbar an Anſwer to what I wrote to him about 'poſting Part of the Troops under his Command upon the Weſtern Frontiers of this 'Province, in which he tells me, that he is willing to employ them in the beſt Manner 'he can for the Honour of his Maſter, and the Service of the Public; and encloſing 'the Opinion of a Council of War, deſiring me to meet them at Shippenſburg, where 'they would wait till I could join them, that proper Meaſures might be agreed upon 'for the Public Service; and I ſhould readily have gone thither for that Purpoſe, had I 'not received a Letter from General Shirley, in Anſwer to one I wrote him, requeſting 'his Orders for employing the Remainder of the two Engliſh Regiments for protecting 'the Frontiers of this and the neighbouring Provinces; in which he tells me, he thinks 'it for his Majeſty's Service to employ thoſe Troops another Way, as the populous Pro-'vinces of Pennſylvania, Maryland and Virginia are able to protect their own Frontiers 'upon the preſent Emergency; and therefore had ſent Orders to Colonel Dunbar, under 'Cover to me, to march his Troops to this City, which I have forwarded to him.

'And as the March of theſe Troops will leave the Weſtern Frontiers expoſed to the 'French and Indians, I think it my Duty to communicate this Matter to you, that you 'may as ſoon as poſſible make Proviſion for the Security of the Back Inhabitants, and 'for the Subſiſtence of the Troops during their March through this Province, which 'may prevent great Miſchiefs to the People inhabiting near the Road from Shippenſburg 'to this Town; and I heartily recommend theſe Matters to your Conſideration.

The Secretary informed the Houſe, that the Governor had not yet received from the Commiſſioners for making the Road towards the Ohio any Accounts of the Expences attending attending that Work, although he had wrote up to them some Time ago, expressly requiring the same. 1755. August 14.

Ordered, That the Bill for quartering and billeting of Soldiers be ingrossed.

A Petition from William Mercer, of Pequea, in the County of Lancaster, praying that this House would reimburse the Petitioner his Expences in coming down to this City after some Indians who had taken a Horse from him, was presented to the House and read, and Ordered to lie on the Table.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Bill entituled, An Act for extending so much of an Act of Parliament, entituled, "An Act for punishing Mutiny and Desertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters," passed in the Twenty-eighth Year of the present Reign, as relates to the Quartering and Billeting of Soldiers, and Payment of their Quarters in that Part of Great-Britain called England, being engrossed, was read, and compared at the Table.

Ordered, That Mahlon Kirkbride and James Wright do meet such Members of the Council as the Governor shall appoint to compare the said Bill with the Original; and that they wait upon the Governor, and desire to know when it will suit him to receive the House, in order to enact the same into a Law.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had, with a Member of Council, compared the engrossed Bill with the Original, and found them to agree; and that the Governor was pleased to say, he should be in the Council Chamber at Eleven o'Clock To-morrow Morning, in order to pass the said Bill into a Law.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment August 15.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down a written Message to the House, with the Papers referred to therein, which were read, and the Message is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'THE Secretary will lay before you the Copies of sundry Petitions that have been preferred to me from the Inhabitants of several Parts of this Province, representing their naked and defenceless Condition, and praying Means may be supplied to enable them to defend themselves, which you are sensible is not in my Power to comply with.——He will also lay before you a Letter I received last Night from John Harris, giving an Account of a large Party of Indians, actually set out from the French Fort with Design to fall upon and destroy the Inhabitants of this and the neighbouring Provinces. You have, Gentlemen, this Piece of Intelligence as I received it, and will form your own Judgment of the Truth of it. For my Part, I think it probable, and therefore recommend it to you to take immediate Thought about it, as the Consequence will be very terrible to the Inhabitants if this Account be true, and it can do them no Injury to be upon their Guard if it should prove false.

Philadelphia, August 15, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Secretary informed the House, that the Governor was now in the Council Chamber, ready to receive the House, in order to pass into a Law the Bill for quartering and billeting of Soldiers.

Ordered, That Joseph Fox and David M'Connaughy see the Great Seal affixed to the Law, after it shall be passed, and the same deposited in the Rolls Office.

Then the Speaker, with the whole House, waited upon the Governor.——And being returned, the Speaker resumed the Chair, and reported, that the House had waited on the Governor with the Bill, entituled, An Act for extending so much of an Act of Parliament, entituled, "An Act for punishing Mutiny and Desertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters," passed in the Twenty-eighth Year of the present Reign, as relates to the Quartering and Billeting of Soldiers, and Payment of their Quarters in that Part of Great-Britain called England, to which the Governor was pleased to give his Assent, by enacting the same into a Law.

The Gentlemen appointed to see the Great Seal affixed to the Law, and the same deposited in the Rolls Office, report, that they had done the same according to Order.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Report of the Committee of Accounts upon Conrad Weiser's Accounts was again read, and being agreed to by the House, an Order was drawn on the Treasurer, and signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House, for Payment of the same.

Ordered, That the Clerk do procure from the Rolls Office a certified Copy of the Commission of Property, which the present Governor has received from the Proprietaries, and bring the same to the House.

Then the House adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment August 16.

The Clerk brought to the House a Copy of the Commission of Property, according to Order, and the same being read, was ordered to be printed with the Minutes of this Sitting.

And

1756. August 16. Commiſſion of Property.

And the ſaid Commiſſion of Property accordingly follows, in theſe Words, viz.

'THOMAS PENN and RICHARD PENN, true and abſolute Proprietaries, and Governors in Chief of the Province of Pennſylvania and Counties of New-Caſtle, Kent and Suſſex, on Delaware, to ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS, Eſquire, Lieutenant-Governor of the ſaid Province and Counties, Greeting. The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Answer to the Governor's Message of the Thirteenth Instant, reported the same to the House, and the same being read, was referred for Consideration to next Second-day, in the Afternoon.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down to the House the two following Messages in Writing, with the Papers mentioned therein, which were read, and the Messages are as follow, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'BY an Extract of a Letter from Governor Lawrence, to Lieutenant Governor Phips, 'sent me by Governor De Lancey, I find that the French, at Louisburg, are in great 'Distress for Provisions, insomuch, that he thinks they may be reduced to the Neces- 'sity of giving up the Place to us, if a Supply can be prevented.

'I therefore recommend it to you to think of some proper Law that may most effectu- 'ally prevent their being supplied from this Province.

Philadelphia, August 16, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'IF my Message gave you Room to think that the Owendaets came here on a parti- 'cular Invitation of mine, at this Time, I have led you into a Mistake. They set 'out from their Country as they have informed me on the Plan set forth in the Minutes 'of Council of the Twentieth and Twenty-fourth of December last, which were laid 'before you.

'The other Indians, at their Request, accompanied them hither as they were Stran- 'gers, and Scaroyady says, he has some particular Business to transact with this Govern- 'ment. I have in the Name of the Province given Thanks to the Owendaets for this 'kind Visit, and to those of the Six Nations that were with our Army in the late Action; 'assured them all of the Affections of the English; recommended to them to continue 'firm in their Attachment to us; and given them Room to expect some Presents as a 'Token of our Regard.

'As the Treasury is exhausted, I can only say, that I will readily pass a Bill for strik- 'ing any Sum in Paper Money the present Exigency may require; provided Funds are 'established for sinking the same in Five Years.

'The Secretary will communicate to you what was said to the Indians Yesterday, and 'I shall lay before you what may further pass between us, and earnestly recommend it 'to you to enable me to send these People away perfectly satisfied.

Philadelphia, August 16, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The following Proposal was presented to the House, and read, viz.

To the Honourable HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES of the Province of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, at Philadelphia the 16*th Day of* August, 1755.

WE, the Subscribers observe, with great Concern, that the Governor and Assembly differ in Opinion, in respect to the Taxing the Proprietaries Estate: And lest by such Difference in Opinion the Bill for raising Fifty Thousand Pounds for his Majesty's Service should not take Effect.

And as the Assembly, in their Message to the Governor, seem to be of Opinion, that were the Proprietaries Lands to be taxed, the Sum would not exceed Five Hundred Pounds.

We,

1755. Auguſt 16. We, rather than the leaſt Check ſhould be given to his Majeſty's Service at this Time of imminent Danger, by a Matter ſo very trifling, do hereby promiſe and engage to pay Five Hundred Pounds Money of Pennſylvania, into the Public Stock, for the King's Uſe, in Lieu of what the Proprietaries would pay as their Part of the Fifty Thouſand Pounds, were their Lands to be taxed.

And as we declare the Abſence of the Honourable the Proprietaries to be our Motive for making this Propoſal, being well aſſured, that were they preſent it would have been altogether unneceſſary; and we doubt not but they will honourably acquit every Subſcriber of this Expence.

Auguſt 18. The Houſe met purſuant to their Adjournment.

Poſt Meridiem Sundry Letters from the Agents of this Province, at the Court of Great-Britain, were laid before the Houſe, and read.

The Draught of the Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of the Thirteenth Inſtant, was again read, and with ſome Alterations agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Auguſt 19. The Speaker having requeſted Conrad Weiſer to make out a Liſt of ſuch Goods as he ſhould think would be an acceptable Preſent to the Indians now in Town; the ſaid Weiſer accordingly laid before the Houſe a Liſt of Goods, amounting, according to his Computation, to Ninety-five Pounds Eight Shillings, which he informed the Houſe would, in his Opinion, be a very ſatisfactory Preſent to the ſaid Indians. And it was thereupon Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch and Joſeph Fox do purchaſe, at the Expence of this Houſe, the Goods mentioned in the ſaid Liſt, and cauſe them to be delivered to the Indians this Afternoon.

An Account from John Harris, of Paxton, dated July 30, 1755, for the Maintenance of ſundry Indians, was laid before the Houſe, and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

A Petition from Andrew Montour, Indian Interpreter, was preſented to the Houſe, and read, ſetting forth, that the Petitioner has been in the Public Service for ſeveral Years paſt, and was in both the late unfortunate Engagements with the French, to wit, under Colonel Waſhington laſt Year, and under General Braddock this Year; that the Petitioner has thereby loſt all his Subſtance, and is now about Eighty Pounds in Debt; that it is well known the Petitioner was worth Money before he engaged in the Service of the Public; he therefore prays this Houſe would take his Caſe into Conſideration, and grant him ſuch Aſſiſtance as they ſhall think proper. Ordered to lie on the Table.

Several Accounts relating to the Ohio Road, ſent to the Houſe by the Secretary, were read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe, a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly. 'I HAVE by Expreſs received Letters from General Shirley, wherein he acquaints me, that he has wrote to Colonel Dunbar, that it appears clear to him, as there will be four Months of good Weather before the Winter ſets in, that with the Number of Forces the Colonel now has, and the Aſſiſtances he may receive from the Provinces of Pennſylvania, Maryland and Virginia, he may yet have it in his Power to retrieve the Loſs ſuſtained by the late Defeat of Mayor General Braddock, by proceeding directly to Fort Duqueſne, and has ſent him Orders for that Purpoſe: And further ſays to me, that it will depend upon this Government, and thoſe of Virginia and Maryland, to aſſiſt Colonel Dunbar with Reinforcements, Proviſions, Ammunition, Artillery, Ordnance Stores, Carriages, Horſes, and all other Things to fit him out for his March, and the Service he is ordered upon; and that he has wrote to the ſame Effect to Governor Dinwiddie, and Governor Sharpe, whoſe Aſſiſtance, with that of this Province, he entirely relies upon at this extraordinary Criſis.

'I muſt therefore recommend it to you to enable me to do the ſeveral Things expected

'by

'by the General from this Province, and that you would take this Matter immediately 'into your Consideration, and give me your Answer thereto, that I may send the same 'forward to Colonel Dunbar, and the Governors of Maryland and Virginia, whose Re-'solutions will in a great Measure depend on what I shall be enabled to do.

'I recommend it to you, whatever Resolutions you may come to upon this Occasion, 'to keep this Matter secret.

Philadelphia, August 19, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Proposal of sundry Inhabitants of the City of Philadelphia, to pay the Proprietaries Tax, being again read, and considered,

Resolved, That such a Proposal to this House is improper, as this House is destitute of the necessary Information to assess any Estate duly, and neither can nor ought to assess the Proprietaries Estate at the Sum proposed, or at any other Sum whatever; and as, in Case the Subscribers should neglect or refuse to pay the Sum subscribed, it would not be in the Power of this House, not being a Body incorporate, to sue them for the same. ——But as the House presumes that the said Proposal may have arose from the Subscribers Judgment of the Equity of taxing the Proprietaries Estate equally with all others in this Province, for their common Safety, Ordered, That the said Proposal be sent up to the Governor as a further Security to him, in Case he should give his Assent to the Bill for raising Fifty Thousand Pounds for the King's Use, by a Tax of Twelve-pence per Pound, and Twenty Shillings per Head, yearly, for two Years, on all Estates, Real and Personal, within this Province.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Answer to the Governor's Message of the Thirteenth Instant, being transcribed, was read, and compared at the Table, and is as follows, viz. Post Meridiem

May it please the GOVERNOR,

Assembly's Answer to the Governor's Message of the 13th Instant.

HOW disagreeable soever the Task may be, to wade through all the Misrepresentations in the Governor's long Message of the Thirteenth Instant, a Regard to Truth, and to Truths of Importance to the Welfare of our Country, will oblige us to submit to it.

The Governor is pleased to tell us, that "when he sent down our Bill, for raising "Fifty Thousand Pounds, with Amendments, he expected we should have returned it "with the Amendments, and informed him which of them we agreed to, this being "the common and ordinary Method in such Cases." The Governor allows in this Message, that we have by Charter "the Powers and Privileges of an Assembly, according to "the Rights of the Freeborn Subjects of England, and as is usual in any of the King's "Plantations in America:" Now, we take it to be one of those Privileges and Powers of an Assembly, to have their Money Bills, granting Supplies to the Crown, accepted as they are tendered, if at all accepted, and that without any Proposal of Amendments. We think this is a Privilege claimed and used by the House of Commons, and as far as we know by all the Assemblies in America; so that it is far from being the common and ordinary Method to receive and debate on Amendments proposed by the Governor to such Bills. It is therefore without Foundation, that the Governor supposes we agreed to all the other Amendments, merely because we offered no Reasons against any of them, but that which related to taxing the Proprietary Estate. For we even made that Step of Deviation from the common and ordinary Method, entirely in Consideration that the Occasion for the Supply was uncommon and extraordinary, hoping thereby to come more speedily to a happy Conclusion in the Business of the Session, and without the least Intention that it should ever be drawn into Precedent.

The Governor still insists, that taxing the Proprietary Estate, though it be to free it from French Encroachments, will be an Encumbrance on that Estate. Be it so then, since the Governor will have it so, for our Differences are less about Words than Things: Does this however prove the Validity of the Prohibitory Clause in his Commission? or that it is equitable and just the Proprietary Estate alone should be exempt from a Tax which all the Estates in Britain and her Colonies now bear, or must bear, to free that very Estate from Encroachments and Encumbrance?

The Governor is "not fortunate enough, he is pleased to say, to comprehend the "Force of our Reasonings on this Head, that are drawn from the Fourth Section of the "Royal Charter;" which, though it gives Power to the "Proprietaries and their De-"puties and Lieutenants to make Laws, does not alter the Relation between a Prin-"cipal and his Deputy, or make the Deputy equal to, or independant of, the Prin-"cipal, &c." We will therefore, for the Governor's Satisfaction, endeavour to express our Sentiments yet plainer, if possible, and enforce them farther. "The Royal Charter "grants full, free and absolute Power (not only to the Proprietary and his Heirs) but "to his and their Deputies and Lieutenants, to enact any Laws whatsoever, for raising "Money for the Safety of the Country, according to their best Discretion, with the Assent "of the Freemen," &c. But the Governor objects, notwithstanding this full and free Power granted by the Royal Charter to me as the Proprietaries Deputy, I cannot use my beſt Diſcretion in this Caſe, nor enact the propoſed Law, becauſe there is in my Commiſſion a Prohibitory Clauſe or Saving which reſtrains me; and if I ſhould paſs it, ſuch Prohibition notwithſtanding, the Law would not be valid. To this we anſwered, that no Prohibition of the Proprietaries can leſſen or take away from the Lieutenant Governor any Power he is veſted with by the Royal Charter; and, in Support of this, as an Argument, at leaſt to the Governor, produced to him an Opinion of the Proprietary and Governor's former Council, on the Caſe of a Proviſo or Saving in the Lieutenant's Commiſſion, that reſtrained, in Favour of the Proprietary, the Power of making Laws which is granted to the Lieutenant in the Royal Charter. This Opinion (which the Governor allows to be a good One) declares that SAVING to be void in itſelf, and that any Laws paſſed by the Lieutenant ſhall be valid, the Saving notwithſtanding. But the Governor would diſtinguiſh it away, by alledging, "that though the Opinion was good in that "Caſe, it is not applicable to all Caſes." If it is applicable to the preſent Caſe, it is all that is neceſſary for our Purpoſe, which was to ſhew, that a Proviſo in his Commiſſion, reſtricting the Powers granted him by Charter, was void in itſelf; and that if he paſſed a Law contrary to the Proviſo, the Law would be valid. The "Relation be-"tween the Principal and his Deputy" ſtill remains entire; the Deputy is dependant on the Principal, and may be removed by him at Pleaſure. But as the Principal cannot give Powers to the Deputy which he has not himſelf, ſo neither can he leſſen the Powers given to the Deputy by the Charter. If the Proprietary can, by Prohibitory Clauſes in his Commiſſion, reſtrain the Deputy from paſſing any one Law which otherwiſe he had Power by the Charter to paſs, he may by the ſame Rule reſtrain him from paſſing every Law, and ſo the Deputy would be no Deputy. That the Charter makes the Proprietary "civilly anſwerable for what is done in the Province by their Lieutenants," we conceive to be a Miſtake. The Proprietary is, by the Charter, made anſwerable for any Miſdemeanour that he himſelf ſhall commit, or by any wilful Default or Neglect permit, againſt the Laws of Trade and Navigation. But if the Deputy commits a Miſdemeanour, which the Proprietary does not permit, through his own wilful Default or Neglect, we preſume he is not anſwerable for ſuch Miſdemeanour by the Charter; and leſs, in Reaſon, now, than when the Charter was given; as by an Act of Parliament of later Date, every Deputy appointed by the Proprietary, muſt before he can act as ſuch, receive the Royal Approbation. The very Nature and Reaſon of the Thing, moreover, ſeems to us to ſhow, that a Deputy to do a Thing, ſhould have all the Powers of the Principal neceſſary for doing that Thing; and every Lieutenant or Deputy Governor, is, by the Nature of his Office, and the Reaſon of his Appointment, to ſupply or hold the Place of a Governor. But the Royal Charter being ſo expreſs and plain in the Point, leaves us under no Neceſſity of inveſtigating this Truth by Reaſon. Should our Conſtituents, when they choſe us to repreſent them in Aſſembly, not only inſtruct us, but even take Bonds of us, that we ſhould aſſent to no Law for the better and more effectual Recovery of the Proprietary Quitrents, if ſuch a Law were required of us, or thought neceſſary by the Governor: Would he think ſuch Prohibitions or Bonds valid? Would he not ſay they were void in themſelves, as forbidding what he thinks a juſt and reaſonable Thing, depriving us of the Right of uſing our beſt Diſcretion, and reſtraining the Powers granted to us by Charter. The Caſe we conceive to be the ſame with reſpect to the Proprietaries Lieutenant (who is their Repreſentative) if he is ſo reſtrained as the Governor thinks himſelf to be. "The Government, and the Exerciſe of the Government, are inſeparable," ſays Chief Juſtice Pollexfen, a famous Lawyer, "and wherever the Government is granted, the Exerciſe "of that Government is meant and included. If the King grant to any one the Go-"vernment of Jamaica, or the like," continues he, "ſure no one will ſay, that that is "not a Grant of the Exerciſe of the Government there!" And we ſuppoſe this is as good Law, with regard to the Grant of the Government of Pennſylvania.

The Governor is pleaſed to ſay, that he cannot help obſerving, that we formerly uſed the ſame Arguments againſt the Validity of Royal Inſtructions. We have all due Reſpect and Deference for Royal Inſtructions; the King has not any where a more dutiful and loyal People; but what does the Governor intend by the VALIDITY of Inſtructions? Does he mean that they are Laws in the Colonies? And if the Royal Inſtructions were ſuch, does it follow that Proprietary Inſtructions have the ſame Validity? We apprehend there may be ſome Difference, but at preſent it is not neceſſary to diſcuſs it.

For our doubting in the leaſt the Governor's Power to make the offered Grants of Land (free of Purchaſe Money and Quitrent for Fifteen Years) in the Behalf of the Proprietary, he is pleaſed to treat us with great Contempt on account of our Ignorance, obſerving, that "it is ſomething very extraordinary, that the Repreſentative Body of Penn-"ſylvania ſhould know ſo little of the Affairs of the Province, as never to have been in-"formed, that the Governor grants the Proprietary Lands under a certain Power of At-"torney, regularly proved and recorded, called a Commiſſion of Property: That this Power "was formerly veſted in private Perſons, but for ſome Years paſt has been given to the "Governors; and being the Foundation of Property, cannot be unknown to any the " least acquainted with the Circumstances of the Province. And now, continues the " Governor, to ask a Question or two in my Turn, How could you think that the " Lands in the Province were granted under the Powers of a Commission [meaning his " Commission as Lieutenant Governor] which expresly prohibits the Granting of any?" —Really we should be very ignorant indeed if we thought so; but it happens, may it please the Governor, that we are perfectly well acquainted with all these Matters, and have even now lying before us an authentic Copy of that certain Power of Attorney, called a Commission of Property, which, we suppose, most, who have read the Governor's Message, are persuaded gives him full Powers to make the Grants of Land, which in his Message of the Twenty-eighth past, he proposed " to make to such Persons as shall now " engage to go upon an Expedition to remove the French from their Encroachment on " the River Ohio, without any Purchase Money, and free of Quitrent for Fifteen Years." Our Copy of this Commission is taken from the Records, and certified to be a true One, under the Hand and Office Seal of the Master of the Rolls. We have examined it thoroughly to find the Powers by which those Grants were to be made, and unfortunately (we are sorry we are obliged to say it to the Governor) there is no such Thing; not even a Syllable of the Kind: But on the contrary, after a Power given to the Governor to grant Lands claimed by Virtue of former Purchases, there is this Clause, " And also " by Warrants to be issued as aforesaid, to grant to any Person or Persons who shall " apply for the same, and to their Heirs and Assigns for ever, any vacant Lands within " the said Province and Counties, or any of them, upon, by and under the SAME TERMS, " Methods, Rents and Reservations, as have of late been used and practised in the said Land " Office, BUT FOR NO LESS PRICE, CONDITION, Rent or Reservation in any wise." That is, for Fifteen Pounds Ten Shillings per Hundred Acres, Purchase Money, and Four Shillings and Two-pence Sterling Quitrent. And now will the Governor give us Leave to ask a Question or two in our Turn? " How could he think that Lands might " be granted away, without any Purchase Money, and free of Quitrent for Fifteen " Years, under the Powers of a Commission which expresly forbids his granting any," under less Price, Condition, Rent or Reservation whatsoever, than has of late been used and practised in the Land Office? How could he think of referring us to such a Commission for his Power to make those Grants, when he knew it was never there? How could he slight his Reputation so much, as to hazard such an Imposition on the Assembly and whole Province!—one so easily detected! We make no further Remarks on this, lest we should again incur the Censure of treating our Governor in an " unbecoming Manner."

" The Proposal, however, the Governor is pleased to say, was made with a good In- " tention; and had we raised Money for an Expedition to the Westward, and for en- " couraging Settlers, he should then have made an Offer of the Lands by Proclamation, " letting the Adventurers know, that they were to have the Choice of the Lands, in " Preference to all others, with every Thing else that could reduce the Offer to a Cer- " tainty, which there was no Necessity of doing in a Message to us, barely mentioning " the Thing, and recommending to us to grant an Aid to those that should become " Settlers." It is remarkable how slowly and gradually this generous Offer is squeezed out. We never heard a Word of it during all the Time of General Braddock's Expedition, for which Recruits were raised both in this and the neighbouring Colonies, though the Governor brought over with him, and had in his Pocket all the while, that " certain " Power of Attorney, called a Commission of Property," to which we are referred for his Powers of making the Offer. But as soon as the House had voted to raise Fifty Thousand Pounds by a Tax on all the Estates in the Province, real and personal, down comes a Message, containing a Proposal to grant Lands to the Soldiers who should engage in the Expedition; a Proposal made with a good Intention, as the Governor says; that is, with an Intention to get the Proprietary Estate exempted from the Tax, by seeming to offer an Equivalent in another Manner; but worded in the most cautious Terms, as became an Offer made without Authority; and so as indeed to offer Nothing that could affect the Proprietary; for the Quitrent to be reserved, not being ascertained, but left in the Proprietary's Breast, he might, when the Patents were to issue, demand a Quitrent greater than the Worth of the Land. This being observed, and talked of, we had another Message, intimating that the Quitrent to be reserved should be only the common Quitrent of Four Shillings and Two-pence Sterling, per 100 Acres. But still the Land was no otherwise described than as West of the Allegheny Mountains; leaving the Proprietary at Liberty, after the Conquest should be made, to pick out, according to the modern Practice, all the best Lands for himself and his Friends, and offer the Adventurers such as they would be sure not to accept of under that Rent.——And this being pointed out, we are now told, " that a future Proclamation is to give them the CHOICE of the best " Lands; but it was not necessary to mention this to us in a Message recommending to " us the Granting an Aid to those Settlers." If we were to grant Aids to the Settlers on Proprietary Lands, was it not proper for us, as Guardians of the People, to know the Terms on which they were to hazard their Lives, and see that those Terms were good

in themſelves, and the Offer duly aſcertained?——We conceive, may it pleaſe the Governor, that whenever we grant an Aid for the Encouragement of ſuch Settlers, it will be proper to have the Terms aſcertained by the ſame Law, and not left to the precarious Effect of a Proclamation thereafter to be made by a Governor, in the Proprietary's Behalf, without any apparent Power for ſo doing. If the Offer is well meant, a Law to aſcertain it cannot hurt the Proprietaries: The Recovery of the Country, and the Settlement of the Lands, are two diſtinct Things. Let us firſt join equitably in the Tax for the Recovery; and whenever the Governor ſhall be willing to paſs ſuch a Law, we are not averſe to giving the Propoſal of granting Lands a full and mature Conſideration; and affording ſuch equivalent Encouragement to Settlers, in Proviſions, &c. as we mentioned in our former Meſſage. But if he can paſs ſuch a Law to grant the Proprietary's Lands, contrary to the Prohibition in his Commiſſion, may he not full as well paſs the Bill for taxing the Proprietaries Eſtate?

We cannot leave this Point, without a Word or two in Juſtification of ourſelves, againſt the heavy Charge of depreciating, from a bad Temper of Mind, this generous Offer, that would have had ſuch good Effects in promoting the public Service and Safety. We would not be miſunderſtood; we look upon it that Lands may be made a valuable Encouragement, but we do not ſee any Generoſity in offering them to the Recoverers at double the Market Price.——The Encouragement to Adventurers is not diminiſhed, but rather increaſed, by our telling them where they may, for their Service in the ſame Expedition, have Lands equally good and more convenient on better Terms. For the Virginia vacant Lands are many of them nearer to navigable Water than the good Weſtern Lands of this Province, and equally well accommodated by the Waggon Road made by the late Army.——It is true, the Proprietaries Price is Fifteen Pounds Ten Shillings per Hundred Acres, with a Quitrent of Four Shillings and Two-pence Sterling. Numbers who imprudently made Improvements before they obtained a Title were obliged to give that Price; and the great Aſſiſtance our Loan-Office afforded, by furniſhing Money to poor People on low Intereſt, and taking it again in ſmall Payments, thereby enabling them to purchaſe Lands, an Advantage they could not have elſewhere, might encourage many to ſtay in the Country, and take up Lands on thoſe Terms. But that is now over; for the Act is near expiring, and it ſeems we are to have no more of the Kind; and when that Encouragement had its full Force, was it ever known that any People came from Virginia to purchaſe here, on account of the ſuperior Goodneſs or Convenience of our Lands? On the contrary, have not many Thouſands of Families gone from hence thither, and within theſe few Years ſettled fifteen or twenty new Counties in that Colony? Have not Thouſands likewiſe left us to ſettle in Carolina? Had not the exorbitant Price at which the Proprietaries held their Lands, and their Neglect of Indian Purchaſing in order to keep up that Price, driven theſe People from among us, this Province would at this Day have been in a much more flouriſhing Condition. Our Number of Inhabitants and our Trade would, in all Probability, have been double; we ſhould have been more able to defend the Proprietary's Eſtate and pay his Tax for him, and poſſibly more willing:——But they are gone, and gone for ever, and Numbers are going after them!——And if the new Politicks prevail, and our diſtinguiſhing Privileges are one by one to be taken from us, we may, without the Gift of Prophecy, venture to foretel, that the Province will ſoon empty itſelf much faſter than it ever filled.

In fine, this Offer was in Fact a mere Illuſion, intended firſt to impoſe on the Aſſembly, and then on the People; it was likewiſe to figure with at Home in the Eyes of the Miniſtry.——We diſcovered the Deception, and the Governor is offended that we did not keep the Secret. He is "aſtoniſhed that we ſhould depreciate an Offer which "would have had very good Effects, and induced many to have gone on the Expedi-"tion, and become Settlers, that would not otherwiſe have thought of doing either." May it pleaſe the Governor, as bad an Opinion as he is pleaſed to entertain of us, we have ſome Conſcience; and would not chuſe, by our Silence, to have any Share in the Diſappointment and other ill Conſequences which might enſue to thoſe who ſhould have gone on that vague, empty, unwarranted Offer, and not otherwiſe have thought of it. And we, in our Turn, may be aſtoniſhed that the Governor ſhould expect it of us.

We are in the next Place told by the Governor, "that we take a very nice Diſtinction "between the Proprietary as Owner of Land, and the Proprietary as Chief Governor, "and ſay, we do not tax him as Governor, but as a Land-holder and Fellow-Subject." Our Words are, "We do not propoſe to tax him as Governor, &c." but the Governor by carefully omitting the Word propoſe, in his Quotation, gives himſelf an Opportunity of expatiating on the Abſurdity and Inſolence of our inverting the Order of Things, and aſſuming a Power to tax the Proprietaries, "under whom, he is pleaſed to ſay, we "derive the Power of acting as an Aſſembly." Had the Word propoſe been honeſtly left in its Place, there would have been no Room for all this Declamation; and the Demand, How came YOU by a Right to tax them? might have well been ſpared; ſince, though we as an Aſſembly have no Right to tax the Proprietary Eſtate, yet the Proprietary and Aſſembly together have ſurely ſuch a Right; and as he is preſent "by his own "particular Repreſentative the Governor," we may have a Right to propoſe ſuch a Thing to him, if we think it reaſonable. Eſpecially ſince we do not, as the Governor imagines we do, derive our Power of acting as an Aſſembly from the Proprietary, but from the ſame Royal Charter, that impowers him to act as Governor. 1755: Auguſt 19.

We had been told in a former Meſſage, that the Proprietary ought to be exempt from Taxes, for he was a Governor, and Governors were exempt by the Nature of their Office: We replied, that he did not govern us, but the Province ſupported his Lieutenant to do that Duty for him. On this the Governor now makes the following Obſervation, "It may be very true, as you ſay, that the Proprietaries do not govern you; but that is "not owing to any Want of a legal Authority in them, but from another Cauſe, that I "need not mention here." We were reproached in the Beginning of this Meſſage, as playing with Words; and the Governor, it ſeems, has now caught the Infection. The Reaſon we gave, why the Proprietary could not be ſaid to govern us, was a plain One; but the Governor inſinuates ſome other Cauſe without explaining it, that there may be Room for the Reader's Imagination to make it any Thing or every Thing that is bad. We diſlike theſe dark Innuendoes, and ſhall ſpeak our Minds openly. It may be thought rude and unpolite, perhaps, but it is at leaſt fair and honeſt, and may prevent Miſunderſtandings. If therefore the preſent Proprietaries do not govern us, it is becauſe they never aſſumed the Government in their own Perſons, but, as we ſaid before, employ a Deputy; and if the Deputy does not govern us, it is not becauſe we are ungovernable or rebellious, as he would inſinuate, nor for Want of ſufficient Power in his Hands by the Conſtitution, but becauſe he has not that Spirit of Government, that Skill, and thoſe Abilities, that ſhould qualify him for his Station.

The Governor is pleaſed to tell us, "That our Diſtinction between the Proprietary "as Owner of Land, and the Proprietary as Chief Governor, has no Exiſtence in Law "or Reaſon." We ſhall endeavour to ſhew him, that it exiſts in both with regard to the King, and therefore preſume it may with regard to the Proprietary. —— The Governor tells us likewiſe, as a Matter of Law, "that the King can have no private Eſtate, "but from the Dignity of his Office holds his Lands in Right of the Crown." We are not any of us Lawyers by Profeſſion, and would not venture to diſpute the Governor's Opinion, if we did not imagine we had good Authority for it: We find in Viner's Abridgment, an allowed Book, Title Deſcent of Lands, theſe Obſervations, which we hope may be ſatisfactory to the Governor in both Points. It is there ſaid, "That the "King has two Capacities, for he has two Bodies, of which the one is a Body natural, "conſiſting of natural Members, as every other Man is; the other is a Body politic, "and his Members thereof are his Subjects. He may take in his Body natural, Lands "or Tenements, as Heir to any of his Anceſtors; and alſo in this Capacity may purchaſe "to him and his Heirs, and his Heirs ſhall retain it, notwithſtanding that he is re"moved from the Royal Eſtate. And he may alſo take or purchaſe Lands or Tene"ments in Fee in his Body politic, that is to ſay, to him and to his Heirs Kings of "England, or to him and to his Succeſſors Kings of England; and ſo his double Capa"city remains, as it does in other Perſons who have a double Capacity, as Biſhop or "Dean, &c." We preſume that our Proprietaries hold the Manors they have laid out to themſelves, and the other Lands they may have repurchaſed in their Province, in their private Capacities, as Thomas Penn, or Richard Penn, and not in their Capacity of Chief Governor.———The Governor is pleaſed to allow, "that one Reaſon, why the "King's Fee Farm Rents are taxed in England, may be, that the Land Tax ſhould not "fall heavier upon other Lands in the ſame Diſtrict." It ſeems to us a good Reaſon, and to hold as well in our Caſe. For ſhould the Proprietaries go on encreaſing their already enormous Eſtate, ſue and recover all their Mortgages, add Field to Field, and make Purchaſe after Purchaſe, till the Number of Freeholders in the Province is reduced to a Handful; can it be thought reaſonable that every Eſtate as it comes into their Hands ſhall be exempt from Taxes, and the Burden of ſupporting the Government, and defending the Province, thrown all upon the Remainder? And yet this muſt be the Caſe if our Diſtinction has, as the Governor ſays, "no Exiſtence in Law or Reaſon."

The Governor denies that the Fees and Perquiſites he enjoys are paid for Support of Government; they are, he ſays, "only moderate Fees conſented to be fixed by Law, "as Conſiderations for the Buſineſs done; and the Public-houſe Licences, which are "the chief of them, were originally granted by Charter." This latter Aſſertion is quite unintelligible to us. We can find no ſuch Grant in the Royal Charter, nor can we conceive how the Proprietary can grant a Fee to himſelf by his own Charter. The Governor is a Stranger here, and may be unacquainted with the Riſe and Eſtabliſhment of what is called the Support of Government among us. He will therefore permit us to relate it to him, as we have received it from our Anceſtors, and find Traces of it on our Records. When the firſt Settlers purchaſed Lands from the Proprietary, he demanded, beſides the Conſideration Money, that a Quitrent ſhould be reſerved and paid

1755. August 19. to him and his Heirs yearly for ever. They objected againſt this as a diſagreeable and unreaſonable Encumbrance; but were told, that the Proprietary being alſo Governor, though he took the Purchaſe Money for the Land as Proprietary, he reſerved the Quitrents to be paid for his Support as Governor; for that Government muſt be ſupported, and theſe Quitrents would be the moſt equal and eaſy Tax, and prevent the Neceſſity of other Taxes for that Purpoſe here, as they did in the King's Government of Virginia. Theſe Reaſons induced them to acquieſce in it. ——But the Proprietarys Affairs calling him to reſide in England, and the Quitrents, then but few, being all wanted to ſupport him there, a Lieutenant Governor became neceſſary, and alſo a Support for that Lieutenant, as the Proprietary, through the Neceſſity of his Affairs, was unable to ſupport him. The Public-houſe Licences and other Licences and Fees were pitched upon for this ſecond Support, and by perpetual Laws were given to the Governor for the Time being. —— But Governors, a Sort of Officers not eaſily ſatisfied with Salary, complaining that theſe were inſufficient to maintain ſuitably the Dignity of their Station, occaſional Preſents were added from Time to Time; and thoſe at Length came to be expected as of Right, which, if conceded to, and eſtabliſhed by, the People, would have made a third Support.——Our Situation at this Time is, that the preſent Proprietaries claim, and enjoy the Quitrents (which were the firſt Support) as Part of their private Eſtate, and draw them to England where they reſide, remote from their Government, ſupplying their Place here by a Lieutenant. The Lieutenant takes and enjoys the Licence Money, and other Perquiſites, which were the ſecond Support, and though he has from Thirty Shillings to Three Pounds for writing his Name only (the Secretary being paid Six Shillings beſides for the Licence and Seal) ſays, they are only moderate Fees in Conſideration for Buſineſs done. And now if we do not regularly give thoſe additional Preſents, which were only the Marks of our Good-will, and Tokens of the Satisfaction we had in a Governor's Adminiſtration, every Thing elſe that a Governor enjoys is forgot, and we are charged both at Home and Abroad with the heinous Crime of preſuming to withhold the Support of Government.——Thus we ſee how ſoon Cuſtom may become a Law, how thirſty a Thing Power is, and how hard to be ſatisfied. "Claims, as the Governor ſays, "will never be wanting," and if the People will give "whenever they are required" to give, they may ſoon be "ſtripped of every Thing they have a Right to enjoy."

The Governor is pleaſed to acquaint us, that all the Fees and Perquiſites of this Government do not amount, communibus Annis, to more than a Thouſand Pounds, meaning, as we ſuppoſe, Sterling Money. This the Governor enjoys fully and freely, and we never interfere in his Diſpoſition of it, any more than in the Proprietaries Diſpoſition of the Quitrents. We think this a handſome Support for a Governor; and though he calls it only moderate Fees for Buſineſs done; yet if he can earn One Thouſand Pounds Sterling a Year in ſuch Fees, the Buſineſs muſt certainly be a good One.

On our ſaying that ſome Proprietaries and Governors of petty Colonies aſſume more Prerogatives and Immunities than ever were claimed by their Royal Maſter, the Governor grows warm in Behalf of the Proprietaries, and demands, with all the Air of a Perſon conſcious of being in the Right, What Inſtances can you give of that aſſuming Behaviour in your Proprietaries? We anſwer, the preſent Inſtance; for the King does not claim an Exemption from Taxes for his private Eſtate, as our Proprietaries do.—Have they ever claimed any Rights or Prerogatives not granted them by the Royal Charter, or reſerved by that of their Father? Yes, the Right of being exempt from Taxes for their Eſtate in Pennſylvania, when all their Fellow-Subjects (for the Proprietaries are Subjects, though the Governor ſeems to diſdain the Term) both in England and America, not excepting even the Lords and Commons of Parliament, are now obliged to undergo a Tax for the Recovery of Part and Defence of the reſt of THAT VERY ESTATE. This Right is not granted them by the Royal Charter, nor could it be reſerved by their Father's Charter. Can you lay to their Charge one Inſtance of Injuſtice or Severity? This is an Act of Injuſtice and Severity, to inſiſt that the People ſhall not be allowed to raiſe Money for their own Defence, without they will agree to defend the Proprietary Eſtates gratis. If this be complied with, and the War continues, what ſhall hinder them another Year, when the Fifty Thouſand Pounds is expended, to require, that before we are allowed to raiſe another Sum for the ſame Purpoſe, we ſhall agree not only to defend their Lands, but to plough them: For this their Lieutenant may alledge the "Uſage and Cuſtom" in Germany, and put us in Mind, that we are chiefly Germans.——Who can aſſure us, that their appropriated Lands, ſo long kept untenanted and idle, are not reſerved in Expectation of ſome ſuch fortunate Opportunity? Can other Inſtances, in Anſwer to the Governor's Queſtions be neceſſary? If he thinks it diſcreet to inſiſt on more, they may ſoon be at his Service.

We are then deſired to turn our Eyes on our own Conduct, and charged in high Terms with "taking upon ourſelves great and mighty Powers; diſpenſing with poſi-
"tive Laws, and claiming a Right of diſpoſing of all Public Money, a Right of keep"ing our Proceedings a Secret from the Crown, with, as the Governor is pleaſed to
"ſay,

" ſay, many others, unknown to an Engliſh Conſtitution, and never heard of in the other " Plantations." A round Charge, but not more eaſily made than anſwered. The Governor allows, " that we have all the Powers and Privileges of an Aſſembly, according " to the Rights of the Free-born Subjects of England, and as is uſual in any of the " King's Plantations in America;" and we neither claim nor practiſe any but what is uſual in ſome or other of them. We claim no Right of diſpenſing with Laws. — The Right of diſpoſing of our own Money, we think, is a natural Right, and we have enjoyed it ever ſince the Settlement of the Province, and conſtantly been in the Exerciſe of it in every Inſtance, except perhaps in a few, where, on extraordinary Occaſions, we have choſen to make ſpecial Appropriation by a particular Law. It is alſo poſſeſſed and practiſed by ſeveral other Aſſemblies. We have moreover the Right of diſpoſing of the preſent Revenue by poſitive Laws, which have received the Royal Aſſent. This natural and legal Right, as we contend it is, was never denied us, or called in Queſtion, as we know of, but by our preſent Proprietaries. Their ever hearty Friend, the late Governor's Father, who had lived many Years among us, and was ſkilled in our Laws, in a ſolemn Speech, recorded in our Minutes, mentions this as one of our Civil RIGHTS, among the other Happineſſes of our Conſtitution, with which he was thoroughly acquainted. Our inſerting therefore in the Bill a Clauſe, that the Governor ſhould have a Voice in the Diſpoſition of the Money intended to be raiſed, was partly in Conſideration that the Proprietary was, by the Bill, to contribute in Proportion to his Eſtate, and to avoid unſeaſonable Diſputes;——but ſince we are daily more and more convinced that the Governor is no Friend to our Country, and takes a Pleaſure in contriving all poſſible Methods of Expence, to exhauſt our Funds, and diſtreſs our Affairs (of which the preſent exorbitant Demand of Five Thouſand Pounds, beſides what we have already paid, for cutting a Road, an Undertaking he engaged us in on a Computation of its coſting Eight Hundred Pounds, and which, if this be due, muſt coſt us about an Hundred Pounds per Mile) it will become us to be more particularly careful how our Public Money ſhall be expended, when the greateſt Sums which can be raiſed upon this young Colony muſt fall ſo far ſhort of what may become abſolutely neceſſary for our common Security.

1755. Auguſt 19.

That we claim a Right of keeping our Proceedings a Secret from the Crown, another of the Governor's groundleſs Accuſations, has been twice refuted, and is yet a third time courageouſly repeated; though all the Province knows that our Votes and Proceedings are every Year printed and publiſhed, and have been ſo for theſe Thirty Years paſt and more. Equally groundleſs are the [many others] which the Governor forbears to particularize. Could he have thought of one that had the leaſt apparent Foundation, he would not have ſpared to mention it.

Plans and Schemes of aggrandizing ourſelves the Governor has often charged us with, and now repeats the Charge. He affects to conſider us as a permanent Body, or ſome particular Order of People in the State, capable of planning and ſcheming for their own particular Advantage, diſtinct from that of the Province in general. How groundleſs this muſt be, is eaſily conceived, when 'tis conſidered, that we are picked out from among the People by their Suffrages, to repreſent them for one Year only; which ended, we return again among the People, and others may be, and often are, choſen in our Places. No one of us knows a Day before the Election that he ſhall be choſen, and we neither bribe nor ſolicit the Voters, but every one votes as he pleaſes, and as privately as he pleaſes, the Election being by written Tickets folded up and put into a Box.——What Intereſt can ſuch a Body have, ſeparate from that of the Public? What Schemes can a Set of Men, continually changing, have, or what Plans can they form to aggrandize themſelves, or to what Purpoſe ſhould they have or form them? If the little Power allowed us by the Conſtitution was fixed in our particular Families, and to deſcend to our Heirs, as the Proprietary Power does in their Family, we might then be ſuſpected of theſe aggrandizing Plans and Schemes, with more Appearance of Probability. But if any of us had ſuch Schemes, the Want of a ſingle Vote in any Election might totally diſconcert them, there being no Tenure more precarious than that by popular Eſteem or Favour.

The Governor next conſiders what we have ſaid relating to the Act for raiſing County Rates and Levies, and is pleaſed to ſay, that " he does not ſee why the Proprietary " Eſtate in each County is not benefited in common with other Eſtates, and by the " ſame Means." That the Proprietaries Eſtate ſhould be excuſed in a County Rate, at leaſt ſo far as that Rate is levied for the Payment of Aſſemblymens Wages, appears to us equitable; for it would ſeem unreaſonable to tax an Eſtate to defray their Expences, if the Poſſeſſor had no Vote in chuſing a Repreſentative in that Houſe. But we conceive it is widely different in a Provincial Tax, where the common Intereſt and Security of all are concerned; and yet if the Proprietaries ſhould purchaſe Eſtates which have uſually been taxed by the County Rate and Levy Act for that Purpoſe, we preſume thoſe Eſtates ought to continue to pay their Aſſeſsments. It was the Opinion of the Sollicitor General in King WILLIAM's Time, that the Lords had no Right to vote in the Elections of a Commoner, becauſe they were not Contributors to the Expences of a Knight of the Shire or Burgeſs; and they were not Contributors to that Expence, becauſe they were of an other Houſe. But if they purchaſed Lands which were, before ſuch Purchaſe, chargeable with thoſe Expences, thoſe Lands ſhould, notwithſtanding that Purchaſe, continue chargeable therewith by Law; although before the Act, the Lands the Lords were ſeized of, or purchaſed, were excuſed from that Charge. But though ſuch Lands were excuſed from theſe Rates, will any One from thence alledge, that the Lords are exempted from paying the national Taxes? As for the reſt of the Expences provided for by that Act, we thought, as the Proprietary cultivated no Lands in any of the Counties, but let them lie for a Market, he had probably no Sheep that might ſuffer by Wolves, Poultry by Foxes, or Corn by Crows and Blackbirds, &c. and therefore might reaſonably be excuſed from thoſe Taxes that were to raiſe Money to deſtroy ſuch Vermin. But on farther Conſideration, we are willing to give up that Point to the Governor, and agree that their Eſtates may on other Conſiderations be equally benefited; concluding withal, that they ought therefore equally to pay. For as to the Conditions of Conſent the Governor mentions, they are merely imaginary, though the Governor ſpeaks of them with the ſame apparent Aſſurance as if he had the Contract between the then Governor and Aſſembly under Hand and Seal in his Poſſeſſion. The exempting Proviſo in that Act, the Governor ſays, is "declarative of the Rights of the Proprietaries Station, of "which the People in general might be ignorant." Be it ſo then; and let us ſee what are the Words: "Provided alſo, that the Proprietary and Governor's proper Eſtate ſhall "not be liable to be rated or aſſeſſed by Virtue of THIS Act." We ſubmit. Their Eſtate muſt not be taxed by Virtue of that Act, for the Purpoſes intended by that Act: —'Tis the Right of their Station, it ſeems. But is this a Reaſon, why they ſhould not be taxed by any other Act for any other Purpoſes, or by another Act for the ſame Purpoſes, when it ſhall become reaſonable and neceſſary?

There is in the ſame Act an Exemption from the ſame Tax, of all "unſettled Tracts "or Parcels of Land," belonging to any Perſon whatſoever. Is this too, "declarative "of the Right of ſuch Landholders Station," and does it expreſsly declare, that thoſe Gentlemen are "not liable to Taxes?" If ſo, why did not the Governor object to that Part of our Bill likewiſe, which propoſes to tax all located Lands, on this Occaſion, whether ſettled or unſettled. Thoſe plain Words, The Proprietary Eſtate ſhall not be liable to be rated by Virtue of THIS Act, muſt be ſtretched on the Rack before they can be extended, as the Governor extends them, to a general Declaration, "that the Pro- "prietary Eſtate is not liable to Taxes." But he is a dexterous Diſputer, and can at Pleaſure change the Meaning of the plaineſt Words, and make them ſignify more or leſs, as it ſuits his Purpoſe.——As, for another Inſtance, we had aſked this Queſtion, "Whether, "ſuppoſing the Proprietary Eſtate to be taxed, it would be equitable that he ſhould "have a Negative in the Choice of the Aſſeſſors, ſince that would give him Half the "Choice, though he were to pay perhaps not a Hundredth Part of the Tax?" The Governor eagerly lays hold of theſe very looſe and uncertain Words ["though he were "to pay PERHAPS not a Hundredth Part"] which are introduced merely for the Argument Sake, and conſtrues them into a Determination of what would be the Proprietaries Proportion, which he is pleaſed to agree to, by telling us, "I think WITH YOU "that the Proprietary Tax would not be more than a Hundredth Part of the Whole," when 'tis plain we had no Thought at all of fixing any Proportion to be paid by the Proprietary Eſtate, or any other Eſtate, being deſtitute of the proper Informations, and having by the Bill left that Matter to the Commiſſioners and Aſſeſſors, who were to have before them the Conſtables Returns, and to be ſworn, or ſolemnly affirmed, to do equal Juſtice, after informing themſelves of the Value of Eſtates in the beſt Manner they could, by all the Means in their Power. But had we mentioned Thouſandth or Ten Thouſandth Part, we make no Doubt the Governor would have been complaiſant enough to think with us in that Particular, though we ſhould differ in every Thing elſe.

The Governor "cannot eaſily conceive," he is pleaſed to ſay, "that a Negative "upon a Choice is Half that Choice, or indeed any Part of it." We think a Negative may be in Effect more than Half the Choice, and even amount to the Whole, if it be repeated till there is no Choice left but that which the Poſſeſſor of the negativing Power chuſes. The Peers of Great-Britain have no Vote, nor can they intermeddle in the Election of a Commoner; and yet the Commons claim it as a fundamental Right to ſubject their Eſtates to Taxes by a Bill, the Whole of which the Lords muſt either refuſe or paſs. And that auguſt Body, who contribute ſo largely to the Public Stock, acquieſce in it as a ſufficient Security for their Eſtates. But our Proprietaries are unhappily of different Sentiments, and cannot think themſelves ſafe, unleſs their whole Eſtate here be entirely exempted, and the Burden of defending it become an additional Weight to the Taxes on our Mother County, and on the Freemen of this and the neighbouring Colonies.

The Governor is grievouſly offended at an Expreſſion in our Meſſage, that we have in our our Bill ALLOWED him a Share in the Disposition of the Fifty Thousand Pounds; and thunders over us in a Storm of angry Questions, "Is it from you, Gentlemen, that I "derive the Right of governing this Province, or from your Allowance that I have a "Voice in the Legislature? Are you the sovereign Disposers of Power? Have you the "Right to give and take away at Pleasure? If not, Whence that lofty Claim of allow- "ing your Governor a Share in the Disposition of the Public Money?"——If the Governor will but have a little Patience, we shall endeavour, by a few cool sober Questions, to explain this Matter to him as well as we are able. Are not all Money Bills to take their rise in the House? Can he possibly have any Share in the Disposition of public Money if it is not raised? and can it be raised without our Allowance? Has the Governor a Right to make any Amendments to a Money Bill? If, therefore, a Clause is put into such Bill, giving him a Voice in the Disposition of our Money, must not such Clause be first allowed by us to be inserted? To what Purpose then were all those haughty Questions! We shall answer them in few Words. We are not "the sovereign "Disposers of Power;" nor does the Governor "derive from us the Right of govern- "ing this Province:" It were a vain Thing in us to say it, since his being our Governor would alone be a sufficient Proof to the contrary.

The Governor is pleased to say, that he studiously avoided every Thing that could renew the Disputes subsisting between us; and earnestly recommended the same Temper of Mind to us. This may be right, so far as relates to his first Speech at the Opening of the Session; but in his Amendments to our Bill, it appeared to us, that he studiously proposed every Thing that he thought could disgust us, in Hopes of engaging us in some other Dispute than that on taxing the Proprietaries Estate, and of making the Bill with the Session ineffectual and abortive. Why else, among other Things, did he strike out that harmless Part of the Preamble, which gave as a Reason for the Bill, the Exhausting of our Treasury by our late expensive Grants of Provisions, &c. to the King's Use. He did not chuse the Bill should mention any Thing we had done, lest by that Means it should reach the Royal Ear, and refute his repeated Accusations that we "had done "nothing, nor would do any Thing, for the Defence of the Country;" when he knows in his Conscience we have given all in our Power; and it was well we had it in our Power to give something, otherwise neither the British nor New-England Troops would have had the Provisions we furnished; for could the Governor possibly have done it, we have Reason to believe he would have defeated our Grant: He can no more bear to let us do any Thing commendable, than he can bear to hear what we have done mentioned.

It is true, the Governor recommended a good Temper of Mind to us: He can make plausible Speeches, that will read well in other Places where his Conduct is not known. Indeed they appear not so much to be made for us as for others; to shew the Ministry at Home his great Zeal for his Majesty's Service and Concern for the Welfare of this People! and to recommend himself, as it should seem, to some better Post hereafter, rather than to obtain the present Points that seem to be persuaded. For of what Avail are the best Speeches, not accompanied with suitable Actions? He has recommended Dispatch in very good Words, and immediately hatched some Dispute to occasion Delay. He can recommend Peace and Unanimity in fine and moving Language, and immediately contrive something to provoke and excite Discord; the settled Scheme being, not to let us do any Thing that may recommend us to those with whom he would ruin us.—— He would appear to be in great Earnest to have something done, and spurs violently with both Heels, but takes Care at the same Time to rein-in strongly with both Hands, lest the Public Business before us should go forward.—— When we offered him to raise Money on the Excise, a Method long in Use, and found easy to the People, he quarrelled with us about the Time of extending the Act, complained it would raise too little, and yet was for shortening the Term. Obsolete Instructions were mustered up against it, though Acts of the same Kind had been since passed by the Crown. Acts of Parliament made for other Colonies were to be enforced here, and the like. Then he called out for a Tax, which the Proprietaries themselves (in their Answer to our Representation) allowed to be the most equitable Way of raising Money; thinking, it is like, that we should never agree to a Tax. But now when we offer an equitable Tax on all Estates real and personal, he refuses that, because the Proprietaries are to be taxed!

The Governor thinks himself injuriously treated by our Request, "that he would not "make himself the hateful Instrument of reducing a free People to the abject State of "Vassalage," and asks, "What Grounds have you, Gentlemen, for this heavy Charge? "What Laws of Imposition, abhorrent to common Justice and common Reason, have I "attempted to force down your Throats? &c."——A Law to tax the People of Pennsylvania to defend the Proprietary Estate, and to exempt the Proprietary Estate from bearing any Part of the Tax, is, may it please the Governor, a Law abhorrent to common Justice, common Reason, and common Sense. This is a Law of Imposition, that the Governor would force down our Throats, by taking Advantage of the Distress of our Country, the Defence of which he will not suffer us to provide for, unless we will comply with it.——Our Souls riſe againſt it. We cannot ſwallow it.——What other Inſtance would the Governor deſire us to give of his endeavouring to reduce us to a State of Vaſſalage? He calls upon us for an Inſtance. We give him the very Law in Queſtion, as the ſtrongeſt of Inſtances. Vaſſals muſt follow their Lords to the Wars in Defence of their Lands; our Lord Proprietary, though a Subject like ourſelves, would ſend us out to fight for him, while he keeps himſelf a thouſand Leagues remote from Danger! Vaſſals fight at their Lords Expence, but our Lord would have us defend his Eſtate at our own Expence! This is not merely Vaſſalage, it is worſe than any Vaſſalage we have heard of; it is ſomething we have no adequate Name for; it is even more ſlaviſh than Slavery itſelf. And if the Governor can accompliſh it, he will be deemed the hateful Inſtrument (how much ſoever he is diſguſted with the Epithet) as long as Hiſtory can preſerve the Memory of his Adminiſtration. Does the Governor think to exculpate himſelf, by calling upon us to prove him guilty of Crimes we have never charged him with? Whoſe Liberty have I taken away? Whoſe Property have I invaded? If he can force us into this Law, the Liberty and Property, not only of one Man, but of all the Men in the Province, will be invaded and taken away; and this to aggrandize our intended Lord, encreaſe and ſecure his Eſtate at our Coſt, and give him the glorious Privilege that no Britiſh Nobleman enjoys, of having his Lands free from Taxes, and defended gratis. But what is the Loſs of even Liberty and Property, compared with the Loſs of our good Name and Fame, which the Governor has, by every Artifice, endeavoured to deprive us of, and to ruin us in the Eſtimation of all Mankind. Accuſations ſecretly diſperſed in the neighbouring Provinces and our Mother Country; nameleſs Libels put into the Hands of every Member of Parliament, Lords and Commons! But theſe were modeſt Attacks compared with his public Meſſages, filled with the moſt ſevere and heavy Charges againſt us, without the leaſt Foundation; ſuch as thoſe in his Meſſage of the Sixteenth of May laſt; ſome of which, though then fully refuted, he now ventures to renew, by exclaiming in theſe Terms. "Had you any Regard for your bleeding Country, would "you have been deaf to all the affectionate Warnings and Calls of his Majeſty? and "would you have refuſed the proper, neceſſary and timely Aſſiſtance to an Army ſent "to protect theſe Colonies?" For is it not well known that we have eſſayed every Method, conſiſtent with our Rights and Liberties, to comply with the Calls of the Crown, which have frequently been defeated either by Proprietary Inſtructions or the Perverſeneſs of our Governor? Did we not ſupply that Army plentifully with all they aſked of us, and even more than all? in Teſtimony of which, have we not Letters from the late General, and other principal Officers, acknowledging our Care, and thanking us cordially for our Services? Theſe Things are well known here: But there is no Charge that the Governor cannot allow himſelf to throw out againſt us, ſo it may have the leaſt Chance of gaining ſome ſmall Credit ſome where, though of the ſhorteſt Continuance.

In Fine, we are ſincerely grieved at the preſent unhappy State of our Affairs; but muſt endeavour patiently to wait for that Relief which Providence may, in due Time, think fit to favour us with, having, if this Bill is ſtill refuſed, very little farther Hopes of any Good from our preſent Governor."

And the ſaid Meſſage being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe,

Ordered, That Derrick Hogeland and John Wright do wait upon the Governor, and deliver the ſame, together with the Bill for granting Fifty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, the Propoſal for paying the Proprietaries Tax, and the two following Meſſages, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

SEVERAL Gentlemen, Inhabitants of this City, "obſerving with Concern, that "the Governor and Aſſembly differ in Opinion, in reſpect to taxing the Proprietary "Eſtate, leſt by ſuch Difference in Opinion the Bill for raiſing Fifty Thouſand Pounds "for his Majeſty's Service ſhould not take Effect, —— rather than the leaſt Check "ſhould be given to his Majeſty's Service at this Time of imminent Danger by a Sum "ſo very trifling as they apprehend the Proprietary's Share of the Provincial Tax might "amount to, have petitioned our Houſe, and engaged to pay Five Hundred Pounds in "Behalf of the Proprietaries, into the Public Stock for the King's Uſe; being well aſ-"ſured (as they alledge) that it would have been altogether unneceſſary were the Pro-"prietaries themſelves preſent; and that they do not doubt they will honourably ac-"quit every Subſcriber of that Expence." May it pleaſe the Governor, the Preſumption that it will be agreeable to our Proprietaries, and their apparent Intereſt, to pay their proportionable Part of this burdenſome but neceſſary Tax, muſt ariſe from the ſuppoſed Equity of levying it upon their Eſtates as well as all others within this Province; and therefore as we have no Power to compound for the Share any Eſtate ſhall pay, which is to be determined equitably by Aſſeſſors, under their Qualifications, and as we are not an incorporated Body to ſue or be ſued, we herewith ſend their Petition, and the reſpective Sums for which they have ſubſcribed, amounting to Five Hundred and

Two Pounds Ten Shillings, as a further Security to the Governor, not doubting those Gentlemen are legally bound, and that their Estates are sufficient to discharge their Contracts. And under this further Security, we hope the Governor will now chearfully give his Assent to our Bill. 1755. August 19.

Signed by Order of the House,

August 19, 1755. A. M. ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

May it please the GOVERNOR,

WE have considered the Governor's Message of this Day, relating to the Orders sent by General Shirley to Colonel Dunbar; and are of Opinion, that the Bill herewith sent up to the Governor, may, if he thinks fit to give it his Assent, enable him to do every Thing that can reasonably be expected from this Government on this Occasion. We therefore once more earnestly request him to enact it into a Law. A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

An Order was likewise drawn on the Treasurer for the Payment of Ten Pounds Seven Shillings and Four-pence to Conrad Weiser, being the Balance of an Account allowed by the House in December last.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Answer to the Governor's Message relating to the Exportation of Provisions to the French, reported the same to the House, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed, that it may be sent up to the Governor.

The Message to the Governor being transcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

WE have considered the Governor's Message of the 16th Instant, with the Extract from Governor Lawrence's Letter to Governor Phips, in which it is observed, "That if the excellent Laws prohibiting the Transportation of Provisions to Louisburg "continue in Force for two Months longer, there is a Probability that the Governor "of that Place will be obliged to present the Keys of the Garrison to Mr. Boscawen." And our Governor is pleased to recommend it to us, to think of some proper Law that may most effectually prevent their being supplied from this Province:——But as an Act passed this House, and received the Governor's Assent, at our last Sitting, entituled, An Act to continue an Act, entituled, An Act to prevent the Exportation of Provisions, naval or warlike Stores, from this Province to Cape-Breton, or to any other Dominions of the French King, or Places at present in Possession of any of his Subjects, by which the Act continued will be in Force at least Ten Months to come, and has been, as far as we know, effectual for the Purposes intended; and as the Governor has not pointed out to us any Defect in that Act, nor has any occurred to us, we cannot at present think what Law can be made more effectually to prevent that Place being supplied with Provisions, &c. from this Province." A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

And the foregoing Message being signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House,

Ordered, That Joshua Morris and Samuel Brown wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that as his Council were now ſitting, he would acquaint them with the Meſſage of the Houſe, and return an Anſwer to the Houſe this Afternoon.

A Meſſage from the Governor, by the Secretary.

SIR,

THE Governor having by Meſſage of the Fourteenth Inſtant informed you, that he did not think it conſiſtent with his Power or Truſt to paſs the Bill for raiſing Fifty Thouſand Pounds, without the Amendments he had made to it, and that he adhered to thoſe Amendments; is ſurprized at your Meſſage of this Day, to which he can only ſay, that he thinks it his Duty to adhere ſtill to the Amendments he made to that Bill.

The Secretary alſo brought down the Bill for grantin g Fifty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and laid before the Houſe ſome Accounts for Indian Expences, which he informed the Houſe were delivered to the Governor by Scarroyady's Wife; and the ſame were read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'ON the Ninth Inſtant I recommended to you to eſtabliſh a Militia for the Safety and Defence of the Province, and having frequently before recommended the ſame Thing, but received no Anſwer, I then deſired you would give me an explicit Anſwer upon the Subject.

'I do therefore now call upon you, and inſiſt on a plain and categorical Anſwer, whether you will or will not eſtabliſh a Militia, that his Majeſty and his Miniſters may be informed whether, at this Time of Danger, the Province of Pennſylvania is to be put into a Poſture of Defence or not.

Philadelphia, Auguſt 21, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Governor's Meſſage of the Sixteenth Inſtant, relating to the Striking of Paper Currency upon the preſent Emergency, and the Governor's verbal Meſſage of To-day, were again read, and conſidered; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That Joſeph Fox and Benjamin Franklin be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the ſame.

Two Accounts from Samuel Neave, for Goods furniſhed the Indians now in Town, being given by the Secretary to the Speaker, were laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

The Committee of Accounts made the following Report in Writing, viz.

Report from the Committee of Accounts.

WE have examined the ſeveral Accounts of the Labourers employed in cutting the Road towards the Ohio, laid before the Houſe by the Secretary, and finding the Commiſſioners appointed by the Governor for that Service have not exhibited any Account to him, nor any Proofs that the Perſons applying have really been employed in that Work, and the Charges made by them are very extravagant: We do not think ourſelves juſtifiable in making them any Allowance till the Commiſſioners produce their Accounts; which we nevertheleſs ſubmit to the Houſe.

Eighth Month 22, 1755. WILLIAM CALLENDER, EVAN MORGAN, JOSEPH STRETCH, JAMES PEMBERTON."

The Committee of Accounts alſo reported on John Harris's Account, that they were of Opinion the ſame ought to be allowed, amounting to Thirteen Pounds Four Shillings and Six-pence; to which the Houſe agreed.

The Committee of Accounts likewiſe reported, that they had examined the two Accounts from Samuel Neave, and were of Opinion, that one of the ſaid Accounts, amounting to One Hundred and Fourteen Pounds Two Shillings and Ten-pence, being nearly agreeable to the Sum voted by the Houſe as a Preſent to the Indians now in Town, ought to be allowed by the Houſe. But that as to the other Account, amounting to Fifty- seven Pounds Five Shillings and Six-pence, the Committee were of Opinion, that it ought to be returned to Samuel Neave, to be paid by those who gave Orders for purchasing the Goods therein mentioned.——To which Report the House agreed. 1755. August 22.

Orders were drawn on the Treasurer, and signed by the Speaker by Order of the House, for the Payment of John Harris's Account, of Thirteen Pounds Four Shillings and Six-pence, and Samuel Neave's Account of One Hundred and Fourteen Pounds Two Shillings and Ten-pence.

The House resuming the Consideration of the several Petitions from the Frontier Townships, setting forth their present dangerous Situation, and that many of the poorer Inhabitants were unarmed, and unable to purchase Arms for Defence of their Houses and Families,——it was

Resolved, That a Sum not exceeding One Thousand Pounds, if so much be in the Treasury at the Disposition of this House by the Laws in Force, shall be paid into the Hands of Isaac Norris, Evan Morgan, Joseph Fox, Benjamin Franklin and John Wright, to be by them disposed of (with the Consent and Approbation of the Governor of this Province) for the King's Use, in such Manner as to the said Isaac Norris, Evan Morgan, Joseph Fox, Benjamin Franklin and John Wright, or to a Majority of them, shall appear necessary.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Message to the Governor being transcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

THE Governor was pleased, in his Message of the Fourteenth Instant, to tell us, that "he was not yet satisfied it was in his Power, or consistent with his Trust, "to pass our Bill without his Amendments, whatever he might be when he heard what we "proposed to say to him on that Head;" and we understood those Words to express a Suspension of his Determination for that Time. We since sent him a long Message, containing the Reasons of our Judgment, that it was both in his Power, and consistent with his Trust, to pass the Bill without those Amendments: And yet, in Answer to our Message of Yesterday, requesting his final Resolution, he is only pleased to say, that he is surprized at such a Message, having told us in his said Message of the Fourteenth, that he adhered to his Amendments.——We cannot see the Reasons of the Governor's Surprize on this Occasion, since from all that had passed between us, and especially as he had not then sent down our Bill, we think the Governor could not but expect such a Message from us. A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

The Governor thought fit in his Message of the Sixteenth to acquaint us, "That he "would readily pass a Bill for striking any Sum in Paper-Money the present Exigency "may require, provided Funds are established for sinking the same in Five Years."

But as we have no Funds capable of sinking so great a Sum in Five Years, without the Assistance of an equitable Tax, to which the Governor would still have his Objections in Favour of the Proprietary Estate; and the Proposal of striking Paper Money might lead us again into many Disputes, which we chose, by the Form of this Bill, to avoid, agreeable to the Governor's Advice in his Speech at the Opening of the Session; we, in our Turn, should be surprized to receive such a Proposal now from him, if we had the least Reason to think he was sincerely desirous of having any Thing done for the Defence of the Province.

Being now convinced, that no farther Benefit to the Country can arise from our continuing longer together at this Time; and being under a Necessity of meeting again in a few Weeks to settle the Accounts of the Year, we take Leave to acquaint the Governor, that we incline to adjourn this Day to the Fifteenth of September ensuing, if he hath no Objection to that Time.

August 22, 1755. Signed by Order of the House,

ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

Ordered, That Griffith Owen and Thomas Cummings wait upon the Governor, and deliver the foregoing Message, together with the following one, in Answer to the Governor's Messages relating to a Militia, viz.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

IN our Message of the Thirty-first of December last, we returned an Answer to the Request the Governor then made, "that we would provide for the Defence and "Safety of the Province, not only by affording such Aids as his Majesty from Time to "Time might require, but by establishing a regular Militia within this Province, and "providing Arms and Stores of War, and building proper Magazines in the most con-"venient Places." And we have now again reconsidered that Message, and his other Messages of the Ninth, Fifteenth and Twenty-first Instant, wherein we are told that we are still without a Militia, or the necessary Means of Defence. The Elections throughout the Province are near at Hand, and our Assemblies may hereafter consider whether A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

1755. Auguſt 22. it will be of any real Advantage to eſtabliſh a regular Militia by Law. —— But as we find by the Governor's Reſult upon our Bill for granting Fifty Thouſand Pounds for the King's Uſe, he cannot think it conſiſtent with the Truſt repoſed in him by the Proprietaries to paſs that Bill, we find by Experience that it can anſwer no good Purpoſe to waſte our Time in preparing Bills for his Aſſent, in which, for the common Security and Defence of the Province, we apprehend it would be a high Breach of the Truſt repoſed in us to exclude the Proprietaries Eſtate from bearing any Part of the Burthen, and if not excluded, as the Governor aſſerts, muſt at laſt be rejected by him for Want of ſufficient Powers in his Commiſſion; and therefore (had we no other Objections) we hope the Governor will judge it reaſonable, after ſo many repeated Refuſals of the Bills we have offered to him for granting large Sums of Money for the King's Uſe, that we now wait the Determination of our Superiors what Powers he has, or ought to have, as our Governor under the Royal and Provincial Charters, and what excluſive Rights our Proprietaries may be juſtly intitled to in the Laying and Levying of Taxes for the common Security and Defence of their Eſtates, with all the other Eſtates within this Province.

In the mean time we have taken Care to anſwer the Petitions from the Inhabitants of the ſeveral Parts of this Province, recommended to us in the Governor's Meſſage of the Fifteenth Inſtant, in the beſt Manner we are able, which we hope will be ſatisfactory to them, and a Proof of the Care we have for the Eaſe and Safety, as well as the juſt Rights of thoſe we repreſent.

'gers, that I had Directions from the Secretary of State not to lay Letters before
'you, Messages from me being, in his Judgment, a sufficient Foundation for you to 'proceed upon; and I informed you by the same Messengers, that, if your Speaker, or
'a few of your Members, would attend me, I would communicate to them, for the 'Satisfaction of the House, such Parts of the Information I had received from the East-
'ward as his Majesty's Service required; and in the Evening you requested me to lay 'before you the Secretary of State's Order to me upon that Head; this I think im-
'proper for me to do, as such Orders are intended for my own Government, and for 'which I am accountable to those from whom I received them.

Philadelphia, September 19, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Secretary likewise brought down the Accounts of the Commissioners for making the Road towards the Ohio, and acquainted the House, that one of the said Commissioners was now in Town, and ready to inform the House of any Matters they may see Cause to enquire into relating to the said Accounts.

And the same were read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

A Petition from Peter Schaur, of the County of Lancaster, was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that when the Forces under Colonel Dunbar were at Lancaster, in their Way to Philadelphia, a considerable Number of Horses and Cattle belonging to them were put into the Petitioner's Meadow, and kept there for two Days, whereby the greatest Part of the Grass in the said Meadow was destroyed; that the Damage done the Petitioner by the said Horses and Cattle was valued by Jacob Myer, and others, at Eleven Pounds Seven Shillings; the Petitioner therefore prays that this House would pay him for the Damage aforesaid. Ordered to lie on the Table.

A Petition from John Brubacker, of Lancaster County, was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that a considerable Number of Horses and Cattle, belonging to the Forces under Colonel Dunbar, were put into the Petitioner's Meadow, whereby a great Part of the Grass in the said Meadow was destroyed; that Jacob Myer, and others, have valued the Damage done the Petitioner by the said Cattle and Horses at Eight Pounds Five Shillings; the Petitioner therefore prays that this House would pay him for the aforesaid Damage. Ordered to lie on the Table.

An Account from eight Constables of the City of Philadelphia, for attending the Indians lately in Town, amounting to Eight Pounds Ten Shillings, was laid before the House and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Post Meridiem

1755. any Succeſs; the Petitioners therefore pray that this Houſe would take the Premiſes into Conſideration, and grant them ſuch Relief as ſhall be thought moſt expedient.

Sepeember 19. The Petition from Samuel Carpenter, concerning his Servant being inliſted as a Soldier, was again read:

And the Houſe taking the two foregoing Petitions into Conſideration, requeſted Benjamin Franklin, one of their Members, to endeavour to prevail upon Colonel Dunbar to diſcharge the ſaid Servants and Apprentices, or take ſuch other Steps for that Purpoſe as the ſaid Member ſhall judge neceſſary.

It being moved, that in order to give the Committee of Accounts Time to ſettle the Accounts relating to the Ohio Road, and other Public Accounts, it would be neceſſary for the Houſe to adjourn for ſome Days.

Adjournment September 23. The Houſe accordingly adjourned to next Third-day, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon.

Poſt Meridiem The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

The Houſe being informed that Conrad Weiſer was now in Town, Ordered, That the ſaid Weiſer do attend this Houſe To-morrow Morning.

Ordered, That Calvin Cooper and Peter Worral wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire to know, whether he has come to any Reſult upon the Bill now before him for continuing the Act relating to the Choice of Inſpectors in the Counties of Cheſter, Lancaſter, &c.

September 24. An Account from William Buchanan, of Carliſle, for the Hire of a Horſe for an Expreſs to Fort Cumberland, and another from one Aſhton, living on the Lancaſter Road, for the Hire of a Waggon, and Horſes, for the Uſe of ſome Officers of the Army who were travelling the ſaid Road, were laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Committee of Incidental Charges.

Conrad Weiſer attending, according to Order, was called in, and having anſwered ſuch Queſtions as were put to him by the Houſe, relating to the Letters he had wrote to the Governor, which were laid before the Houſe at this Sitting, he was directed to withdraw.

The Letters to the Governor from Conrad Weiſer, laid before the Houſe at this Sitting, mentioning that the Indians lately in Town were with their Families gone to ſettle at Shamokin, and would be in Want of ſome Proviſions for their Subſiſtance, being again read, and conſidered, Reſolved, That Conrad Weiſer have, till the next Sitting of Aſſembly, Power to ſupply the ſaid Indians with ſuch a Quantity of the Flour belonging to this Province, now lying at and about Harris's Ferry, as he, the ſaid Weiſer, ſhall think is neceſſary; provided the ſaid Indians will fetch the ſame themſelves, without any Charge to the Province therefor.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down a written Meſſage to the Houſe, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'IN the Courſe of my ſhort Adminiſtration among you, I have often regretted, that at a Time when it becomes every one of us to be conſulting and acting for the Public Good, you ſhould ſtill delight to introduce new and unneceſſary Diſputes, and turn the Attention of the People from Things of the laſt Importance to their future Safety.

'Your very tedious Meſſage of the Nineteenth of Auguſt, is a ſufficient Proof of your Temper of Mind; it is indeed of ſuch an inflammatory Nature, that did not the Duties of my Station and Juſtice to the People require me to take ſome Notice of it, I ſhould think it beneath me as a Gentleman to make any Reply to a Paper of that Kind, filled with the groſſeſt Calumny and Abuſe, as well as the moſt glaring Miſrepreſentations of Facts; and what I ſhall now ſay in Anſwer to it would have been ſaid in your laſt Sitting, had you not adjourned yourſelves ſo ſoon after the Delivery of it, that I had not Time.

'You ſet out with claiming it as a Privilege to have your Bills granting Supplies paſſed as they are tendered, without Amendments, and ſay, "it is far from being an ordinary Method to receive or debate upon Amendments offered by the Governor."

'This Claim is not warranted by the Words of the Charter, nor by the Uſage of former Aſſemblies, and you yourſelves muſt know, that from the firſt Settlement of

'the

1755. September 24.

'the Province to the latter End of the Administration of Mr. Hamilton, my immediate 'Predecessor, the Governors have occasionally amended Bills for raising Money, and 'their Right of doing so was never till then contested.

'Notwithstanding all you have said as to my Offer of Lands to the Westward, I am 'persuaded unprejudiced Men will see it in its true Light, and be convinced it was made 'with a good Intention, and under a proper Authority; I mentioned my Commission 'of Property in Contradistinction to the Commission of Government, as that under 'which I granted Lands upon the common and ordinary Occasions, which you seem 'to think was done under the other: —— But as to the Offer in Question, I had such 'Directions from the Proprietaries as were sufficient to justify me in making it, and 'would have been obligatory on them to confirm the same to the Adventurers; and this 'I did then, and still do, think a good Authority.

'As you do not profess to understand Law, I am not surprized at your quoting an 'Abridgment instead of the Case abridged. ——— Viner, who is no Authority, may 'have the Words you mention, for aught I know, and may be of Opinion that the King 'can purchase and hold Lands in his private Capacity, but in that he has the Misfor-'tune to differ from my Lord Coke, and other Writers of Note and Authority in the 'Law.

'Your Answers to what you call my round Charge, and to what you afterwards call 'my haughty Questions, are, by no Means, conclusive; I grant that no Public Money 'can be raised, nor any Clause enacted for the Disposition of it, without your Consent, 'but is not mine equally necessary? Whence is it then that I should be thought more 'obliged to you for a Voice in the Disposition of Public Money, than you are to me, 'seeing the Obligation (if any) is reciprocal; the Money remaining in the People's 'Pockets cannot be taken from thence, till I think a Law necessary for that Purpose, 'and shall I have less Power over it after it is raised, and in the Public Treasury, than I 'had before? The common Security of the People requires that they should not be 'taxed but by the Voice of the whole Legislature, and is it not equally for their Security 'that the Money when raised should not be disposed of by any less Authority? Your 'Claim therefore of a natural exclusive Right to the Disposition of Public Money, because 'it is the People's, is against Reason, the Nature of an English Government, and the 'Usage of this Province, and you may as well claim the exclusive Right to all the Powers 'of Government, and set up a Democracy at once, because all Power is derived from 'the People; and this indeed may be the true Design.

'As to what you insinuate concerning the enormous Growth of the Proprietary Estate, 'I shall oppose plain Facts to your Presumptions. By the original Concessions and 'Agreement between the late Mr. WILLIAM PENN, and the first Settlers, nine Tenths 'of the Land were to be granted to the Adventurers, and the remaining Tenth to be 'laid out to the Proprietary —— but instead of this, the late Proprietary, out of the 'Lands purchased of the Indians in his Time, contented himself with taking up but a 'very small Part of what he might have done under that Agreement; and out of the 'three Indian Purchases made by his Sons since his Death, in the two first, consisting 'of four Million Acres of Land, they did not survey upwards of Twenty-five Thousand 'Acres, and those neither of the richest nor best situated; and in the last, which is by 'far the largest of all, no Surveys have been made for their Use, but they gave early 'Directions, that the Settlers should, as they applied, take their Choice of the best 'Lands, and accordingly great Numbers of People are seated on these Lands, to their 'entire Satisfaction. As to their Manors and appropriated Tracts, it is well known 'that they are mostly settled by Persons without Leave or Title, and that these pay their 'Share of all Taxes: In short, Gentlemen, if instead of setting the Proprietaries forth 'as encreasing their Estates, and using their Tenants like Vassals, you had represented 'them as forbearing with them, and using no compulsory Methods for the Obtainment 'even of their just Debts, and that for these and many other Instances of their kind 'Usage of them, the Proprietaries are entitled to the Character of good, nay of the best, 'Landlords, you had done them no more than Justice, and said only what is notorious 'to all that know their Treatment of the People in this Province.

'I can, by no Means, allow you to argue justly in saying, that the Proprietaries 'ought to submit their Estate to be taxed by Assessors chosen by the People, because 'they are sworn or solemnly affirmed to do equal Justice. When you are taxed by these 'Assessors, it is by Persons who may be considered as your Equals, and who are inter-'ested to do you Justice, as you in your Turns may become their Assessors. But the 'Proprietary Estate and Interest being considered as separate from yours, because the 'Proprietaries are a separate Branch of the Legislature, they can never in that View be 'taxed by any Persons, unless those whose Interest it is to save their own Estates by 'throwing an unequal Burden upon the Proprietaries; and you must know that this is 'the very Consideration upon which the Law in certain Cases excepts against both the 'Judgment and Evidence of intereſted Perſons, leſt they ſhould be influenced therein, 'even againſt the Solemnity and Obligations of an Oath.

1755. September 24.

'You ſay, that "all Eſtates in Britain, and her Colonies, now bear, or muſt bear, a "Tax to free the Proprietary Eſtate from Encroachments and Incumbrance." Invidious 'and ungrateful Inſinuation! Is there nothing but this at Stake? Is it for a Tract of un-'ſettled Country, belonging to the Proprietaries of this Province, that the Eyes of all 'Europe are turned upon this Continent, and ſuch mighty Preparations making both by 'Sea and Land? Or, Gentlemen, can you think that if the Enemy are ſuffered to keep 'up Fortifications in any private Eſtate whatſoever within the Limits of this Province, 'you could preſerve your Eſtates, or the Engliſh Nation preſerve its Dominions? What 'End then can ſuch Inſinuations ſerve, but to cool the Ardor of his Majeſty's good 'Subjects in recovering the Country unjuſtly taken from them, as if they were contend-'ing for a Thing of no Conſequence, which is but too much the Opinion of many 'amongſt us, raiſed and confirmed, no Doubt, by your ſtrange Conduct.

'You charge me with contriving all poſſible Methods of Expence to exhauſt your Funds, 'and diſtreſs your Affairs, and give an Inſtance of an exorbitant Demand of Five Thou-'ſand Pounds for cutting the Road for the Uſe of the Army, an Undertaking, you ſay, I 'engaged you in on a Computation of its coſting only Eight Hundred Pounds. How could 'you ſtumble on a Matter which, on a very ſlight Examination, muſt appear to be with-'out the leaſt Foundation? Your own Minutes will ſhew that you reſolved to bear the 'Charge of cutting two Roads, one to Wills's Creek, and the other to the Mohongahelo, 'and in one of your Meſſages to me, wherein you enumerate your meritorious Acts, 'you ſet this Road to the Ohio particularly forth in ſuch a Manner as to have it believed, 'that it would prove an heavy Expence, which, nevertheleſs, you would not decline to 'bear as the King's Service required it; and now you inſinuate, that had you known 'it would have coſt more than Eight Hundred Pounds, you would not have undertaken 'it, and this for no other Reaſon than to lay to my Charge a pretended Eſtimate of which 'I am totally ignorant, having never ſeen nor heard of one. The Sum of Eight Hundred 'Pounds might have been mentioned as what it would coſt in ſome Mens private 'Opinion, but not upon an Eſtimate of the Commiſſioners, nor as ſuch ſent to me. 'To be plain, Gentlemen, it was the Reſentment and Menaces of the Officers in the 'Army, entruſted with that Part of the King's Service, becauſe the Work was not begun 'in Time (and it could not have been begun ſooner by me, as you would not ſooner 'comply with my Requeſt) it was, I ſay, your Dread of having proper Repreſentations 'made of your Conduct at Home, and of an armed Force being uſed to oblige the In-'habitants to do this neceſſary Work, and nothing elſe, that induced you to engage to 'bear the Expence, and had the two Roads been cut they would have coſt a very great 'Sum indeed, but by a Repreſentation I cauſed to be made to the General, he conſented 'to drop the Road to Wills's Creek, and inſtead of extending the other to the Ohio, 'to order it to be opened no farther than to the Crow-foot of Ohiogainy, which laſt ſaved 'the Clearing of many Miles.——He likewiſe conſented, that the Road ſhould not be 'made ſo wide by one Third as the Quarter-Maſter General had given Directions for. '——Theſe were great Savings to the Province, which added to the Regulations that 'were made in the Price of Proviſions and Liquor, and in the Hire of the Waggons, 'would at any other Time have induced you to ſpeak in Commendation of my Care 'and frugal Uſe of the Public Money, and not to charge me with a Demand that I 'never made, nor indeed could it have been then made by any one, becauſe the Ac-'counts were not come in, and now that they are delivered to you, it does not appear 'that they will amount to the Sum of Three Thouſand Pounds, which is not extrava-'gant, when you conſider the Diſtance and Expedition required in the Work. The 'Commiſſioners, inſtead of being reproached with Extravagance, have a Right to the 'ampleſt Acknowledgments for their expoſing their Perſons to ſuch imminent Danger, 'and carrying on the Work with ſo much Spirit, and ſo becoming a Zeal; and though 'my Recommendations may not have much Weight with you, yet as they were en-'gaged in this hazardous Work by my Intreaties, Juſtice requires they ſhould be hand-'ſomely rewarded for their indefatigable Attendance and generous Advance of their 'own private Fortunes.

'You have, in the Meſſage now before me, and in ſeveral others, taken great Pains 'to infuſe into the Minds of the People, particularly the Germans, that the Government 'have Deſigns to abridge them of their Privileges, and to reduce them to a State of 'Slavery.——This may, and will, alienate their Affections from his Majeſty's Govern-'ment, deſtroy that Confidence in the Crown and its Delegates, which, at this Time, 'is particularly neceſſary, and render all the Foreigners among us very indifferent as to 'the Succeſs of the French Attempts upon this Continent, as they cannot be in worſe 'Circumſtances under them, than you have taught them to expect from the King's 'Government.

'This you may, with your uſual Confidence, call Duty, Loyalty and Affection to his

'Majeſty,

1755. September 24.

'Majesty, but I am convinced it will not be esteemed such by his Majesty and his 'Ministers, before whom all these Matters must be laid. —— And how the innocent 'People of this Province may be affected thereby, Time will shew.

'You are pleased to tell me, that I am destitute of Skill and Abilities for my Station, 'and have not the Spirit of Government in me. Gentlemen, I have never made any 'Boast of my Abilities, nor do I pretend to know what you mean by the Spirit of Go- 'vernment. But this I know, that if I had enough of the Spirit of Submission, I was early 'given to understand, by some of your Messages, that you would have then pronounced 'me well qualified for the Administration of this Province, even without the Assistance 'of Instructions, or the Advice of my Council.

'To your Spirit of Government however, or, in other Words, your Inclinations to 'encrease and render permanent your own Powers, is to be attributed all your late ex- 'traordinary Proceedings, and the defenceless State of the Province; for the Sake of 'gratifying this, you scruple not to stir up his Majesty's Subjects against his Govern- 'ment, forgetting all Duty to your Sovereign, and all Decency to those in Authority 'under him.

'Your Answers do not exculpate you from my Charges against you for taking on your- 'selves great and mighty Powers, and since you call upon me to particularize them, I 'shall gratify you.——You have created a Paper Currency of your own, and ordered 'the Collectors of Excise and the Trustees of the Loan-Office to receive it, against Law. '——You pay your own Wages out of the Provincial Money, when the Law requires 'and provides for their being paid in another Manner. —— Nothwithstanding it is de- 'clared by Law, that no Persons indebted on Mortgage to the Loan-Office shall be de- 'linquent in their Payment above a Year, and your Committees are enjoined, in the 'Settlement of their Accounts, to reckon all such Outstandings as Cash in the Trustees 'Hands, yet this you have dispensed with in the Settlement of the Trustees Accounts 'Year after Year, and suffered the Borrowers to continue in Arrear for Years, many of 'them for not less than Ten. —— A Practice tending to depreciate the Value of the 'Money, and greatly injurious to the Borrowers.——And lastly, instead of the Oaths 'required by Law to be taken to his Majesty by all Men in Public Office, you have 'taken upon you to administer the Affirmation to your Clerk, and several of your own 'Members, though not of the People called Quakers, nor at all scrupulous against taking 'an Oath, which deprives his Majesty of the Security provided by Law to be given by 'such as hold Offices, or act in Public Trusts.

'You have often mentioned what you have done to promote the Success of his Ma- 'jesty's Arms under General Braddock, and for the Defence of the Province, and say, 'you have Letters from the late General, thanking you for your Service; the Truth of this 'I must beg Leave to question, as the late General was too honest to say one Thing to 'you, and another to the King's Ministers. He might acknowledge the Services of 'particular Men, but how you can take those to yourselves as an Assembly, when you 'had no Hand in what was done, I am at a Loss to know. I think it will not be 'doubted, but that had you in Time opened the proper Roads, raised Men, and pro- 'vided Carriages and necessary Provisions for the Troops, as this was the only Province 'able, in the General's Situation, to furnish him with them, we might now have been 'in peaceable Possession of Fort Duquesne.

'In Fine, Gentlemen, I must remind you, that in a former Message you said you 'were a plain People that had no Joy in Disputation. But let your Minutes be exa- 'mined for Fifteen Years past, not to go higher, and in them will be found more Arti- 'fice, more Time and Money spent in frivolous Controversies, more unparalleled Abuses 'of your Governors, and more Undutifulness to the Crown, than in all the rest of his 'Majesty's Colonies put together. And while you continue in such a Temper of Mind, 'I have very little Hopes of Good either for his Majesty's Service, or for the Defence 'and Protection of this unfortunate Country.

Philadelphia, September 24, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The House met, and adjourned to Three o'Clock in the Afternoon. September 29. Post Meridiem

The Answer to the Governor's Message of the Twenty-fourth Instant, being transcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

THE Sincerity of the Governor's Regret at the "unnecessary Disputes" which subsist between us, the very first Paragraph of his Message gives us some Room to question; since it begins with a new Charge that those Disputes are of our introducing, and that we "delight to introduce them to turn the Attention of the People from Things "of the last Importance to their future Safety." This Charge itself seems designed to introduce another unnecessary Dispute, since all that are acquainted with our Disputes know by whom they were introduced, and who it is that delights in Disputing. Assembly's Answer to the Governor's Message of the 24th Instant.

That our Message of the Nineteenth of August was "a very tedious" One to the Governor we make no Doubt. It must have been so in the Matter, and might probably be so in the Manner. There was too much Truth in it, and too little Flattery. We suppose too, that the Task of answering it might be as tedious as the Message itself; since, to shorten the Work, he has passed over a Number of the most important Points, and all our Reasonings upon them, without attempting an Answer. And we think he cannot justly complain of Want of Time to answer that Message, since we sat four Days after delivering it, adjourned for near four Weeks, and had been met again nine Days before we received the Answer, which, now we have it, we find to be such an one as might have been made in a few Hours. But had our Message really been "filled with "the grossest Calumny and Abuse," as the Governor says it was, we cannot think, with the Governor, that it would therefore have been "beneath him as a Gentleman to "make any Reply to it." If we were of that Sentiment, we should make none to the Message we are now considering. We think, that what is beneath a Gentleman, is not the Answering of Calumny, but the making Use of it. And we wish, for the Governor's Sake, that he had been of the same Opinion: For he might then probably have treated us in a Manner more suitable to his Character as a Gentleman, and had more Regard to the Preservation of that Character.

The Governor denies, that our Claim of the Privilege "of having our Bills granting "Supplies passed as they are tendered without Amendments, is warranted by the Words "of the Charter;" though it gives us "all the Powers and Privileges of an Assembly, "according to the Rights of the Freeborn Subjects of England, and as is usual in any "of the King's Plantations in America." If the Free-born Subjects of England do not exercise this Right by their Representatives in Parliament, and it is not usual in any of the King's Plantations in America; then we are in the wrong to claim it, and the Governor is right in denying it. But Facts are for us; and these, in this Case, the Governor does not deny. Our Predecessors may in some few Instances have waved that Right, but they have never given it up, nor will, as we hope, those that shall succeed us. We trust they will rather be more cautious of suffering such dangerous Precedents, when they see how fond Governors are of seizing the Advantage for diminishing our Privileges.

We agree with the Governor, that what we have said as to his Offer of Lands to the Westward, will not hinder unprejudiced Men from seeing it in its true Light; we think our Remarks have rather contributed to that End, and even assisted those that might before be prejudiced: But are at a Loss to conceive how either the Prejudiced or Unprejudiced could be "convinced" the Offer was "made under a proper Authority," when neither of the Governor's Commissions, not even that which he calls "the Foundation "of Property," gave him such Authority; and he is now reduced to the Necessity of dropping them, and recurring to private Instructions, never mentioned before; of which none can judge till he shall think fit to produce them. But all may judge how well he has acquitted himself of the Imputation of attempting to impose on the Public, by introducing the Commission of Property as an Authority for the Offer; so we shall spare the Governor on that Head, and press it no farther.

If the Governor had given himself the Trouble of looking into Viner, under the Title we mentioned, he might there have found the Case abridged referred to; We, it seems, not being Lawyers, quoted improperly; but He, though a Lawyer, refers us to Lord Coke, without Page, Case or Volume; and to "other Writers of Note and Authority in "the Law," without so much as naming their Names: So that we are utterly at a Loss where to find the Law Part of his Messages; but the Politicks and the Calumny we can easily trace to their Fountain Head, though he does not vouchsafe to quote it at all. The perfect Sameness of Sentiment, and even of Expression, are sufficient to show, that they are all drawn from a late famous Libel, entituled, A Brief State of the Province of Pennsylvania:

Pennſylvania: An Author, of whom, if we do not ſay, as the Governor ſays of Viner, that he has no Authority; yet we may ſay, that his Authority diminiſhes daily, the more we ſee of his Works.

The Governor is pleaſed to ſay, that "the common Security of the People requires "that they ſhould not be taxed but by the Voice of the whole Legiſlature;" and that "we might as well ſet up a Democracy at once, as claim an excluſive Right to the "Diſpoſition of Public Money." To this we beg Leave to anſwer, that though we are not ſo abſurd as to "deſign a Democracy," of which the Governor is pleaſed to accuſe us; yet in this Particular, all our late Attempts to raiſe Money "for the common "Security of the People," being obſtructed and defeated by the Governor's having a Voice in that Matter, would rather induce us to think, that his having ſuch a Voice, is not beſt for their Security; and ſuch a Conduct in a Governor, appears to us the moſt likely Thing in the World to make People incline to a Democracy, who would otherwiſe never have dreamt of it.

But the Governor is pleaſed to tell us, that "our Claim of a natural excluſive Right "to the Diſpoſition of Public Money, becauſe it is the Peoples, is againſt Reaſon, the "Nature of an Engliſh Government, and the Uſage of this Province." He has, however, never produced that Reaſon to us; and we ſtill think, that as every Man has, ſo every Body of Men have a natural Right to the Diſpoſition of their own Money, by themſelves or their Repreſentatives; and that the Proprietary's Claim of a Voice in the Diſpoſition of Money, to which he will contribute no Part, is a Claim contrary to Reaſon. The Wiſdom of the Crown has thought fit to allow different Conſtitutions to different Colonies, ſuitable to their different Circumſtances, and as they have been long ſettled and eſtabliſhed, we apprehend that if the Governor could have Power to unſettle them all, and make in every one ſuch Changes as would be neceſſary to reduce them to a Conformity with his Idea of an "Engliſh Government," the Reformation would be productive of more Inconvenience than Advantage. The general "Uſage of this Province" in the Diſpoſition of Public Money, was ever what it now is; and as the Province has flouriſhed with it, and no Inconvenience has attended it, we hope it will ſtill continue. Particular Laws may, in a very few Inſtances, have given the Diſpoſition of particular Sums to the Governor, or to Commiſſioners, for particular Services; but a few ſuch Inſtances do not make an Uſage, and the Governor muſt in that Point have been greatly miſinformed.

It is agreed, that in the Conceſſions mentioned by the Governor, the Proprietary reſerved in every Hundred Thouſand Acres Ten to himſelf; but then (to make the Governor's "plain Fact" a little plainer) he was to have it by Lot, and not by Choice; the Quantity ſo reſerved was to lie but in one Place; and he was "bound to plant or man it with-"in Three Years after it was ſet out and ſurveyed;" or elſe (by the next Conceſſion) it was "lawful for New-comers to ſettle thereupon, and he to go higher up for his "Share." This might induce him not to take up more than he could conveniently ſettle; but can give his Succeſſors no Right to pick here and there the beſt vacant Pieces among the Settlements, excluding other Rights; nor to keep the Land-Office ſhut, as was done after the ſecond mentioned Purchaſe, till they had garbled the beſt Tracts for themſelves and Dependants, and left little beſides Rocks and barren Mountains for the reſt of the People. The third and laſt Purchaſe being made but the laſt Year, and the Land moſtly expoſed to, or, as the Governor has often informed us, in the Hands of the Enemy, we are ſurprized to hear that "great Numbers of People are ſeated on it to "their entire Satisfaction;" and more ſo, that the Proprietaries Manors and appropriated Tracts are moſtly ſettled by Perſons that pay their Share of all Taxes. If this be ſo, we muſt own ourſelves as much unacquainted with the State of his Lands, as we are with the State and Management of the Land-Office, which of late, indeed, is pretty much a Myſtery. That the Proprietaries are entitled to the Character of the beſt Landlords, we can by no Means preſume to ſay with the Governor; ſince his Majeſty's Lands are granted without Purchaſe Money, on Half the Quitrent, and the Quitrents are applied to the Support of Government and Defence of the Country: We cannot therefore but be of Opinion, that the King is a much better Landlord.

If the Governor would pleaſe to conſider, that it does not fall to the Share of perhaps one Man in Five Hundred to be an Aſſeſſor during his whole Life, and that the Chance of being favoured or not by a ſucceeding Aſſeſſor, as he himſelf ſhall behave in that Office, is proportionably ſmall; and that the very little which can poſſibly be ſaved in his Part of the Tax, by unjuſtly enhancing that of the Proprietaries, is a Matter next to Nothing; the Governor certainly cannot have ſo ill an Opinion of Mankind, as to believe theſe Temptations can be ſufficient to induce a commonly honeſt Man to forſwear himſelf; and Aſſeſſors are ſeldom Men of the meaneſt Characters for Integrity. But ſurely, a Security that all the Peers in Britain think ſufficient with regard to the Equity of Taxation on their Eſtates, might be confided in by our Proprietaries; unleſs the People here are much more depraved than we can poſſibly conceive them to be.

Our

1755. September 29.

Our Argument, that, if all the Estates in Britain and her Colonies now bear or must bear a Tax to free the Proprietary Estate from Encroachments, that Estate itself ought not to be exempted, the Governor calls, "an invidious and ungrateful Insinuation!" and asks, "Is "there nothing but this at Stake? Is it for a Tract of unsettled Country, belonging to "the Proprietaries of this Province, that the Eyes of all Europe are turned upon this "Continent, and such mighty Preparations making both by Sea and Land? Or, Gentle- "men, can you think that if the Enemy are suffered to keep up Fortifications in any "private Estate whatsoever within the Limits of this Province, you could preserve your "Estates, or the English Nation its Dominions? ——— What End then can such In- "sinuations serve, but to cool the Ardor of his Majesty's good Subjects in recovering the "Country unjustly taken from them, ——— as if they were contending for a Thing of "no Consequence, which is but too much the Opinion of many amongst us, raised and "confirmed no Doubt by your strange Conduct." Had we asserted that the Proprietary Estate only was in Danger, and argued thence, that that Estate alone ought therefore to pay for its Recovery or Security, all this Strain of the Governor's Eloquence might then have been very just and proper: But, may it please the Governor, we did think there was something else at Stake; we thought other Estates in Danger, and therefore offered a very large Sum, as our Share of the Expence, in the Bill for granting Fifty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use. But we thought the Proprietary Estate at least as much in Danger as any other Estate, and therefore imagined it ought to pay its Proportion towards the Expence of its own Security. The Governor, it seems, thinks otherwise, and because other Estates are likewise in Danger, the Proprietary Estate ought to be exempted; and unless we will agree to recover and defend that gratis, we shall not be permitted to raise Money for the Defence of our own Estates, our Neighbours, or our Sovereign's Dominions. This is our present Situation, and we cannot help it; for the Proprietary Instructions are, it seems, as unalterable as the Laws of the Medes and Persians. But let it be known to them, and to all, it is not our Insinuation, invidious as it may seem to the Governor, and ungrateful to his Ears, that cools the Ardor of his Majesty's good Subjects; but if any Thing cools that Ardor it must be the Fact insinuated, the Proprietaries claiming that invidious and odious Distinction, of being exempted from the common Burdens of their Fellow-Subjects. If there be any who think the Nation is contending for a Thing of no Consequence, it must be those who refuse to contribute their Share, and not we who offer largely —— and that Opinion in others, if such an Opinion there be, must be raised and confirmed by the Governor, and Proprietaries strange Conduct, and not by ours.

The Governor says, we "lay to his Charge a pretended Estimate (of the Expence of "cutting the Roads) of which he is totally ignorant, having never seen nor heard of one." Is it possible that the Governor can have forgotten it? He told us in his Message of the Eighteenth of March, that he had "appointed Commissioners to reconnoitre the Coun- "try, mark out where such Roads might most conveniently be made, and make Re- "port to him of their Proceedings, with an Estimate of the Expences that would attend "the Opening and Clearing them." On the Application of the Governor, in that Message, the House sent up a Bill, giving Twenty-five Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, wherein, among other Things, the Clearing of Roads for the King's Service was provided for. But, may it please the Governor, did the Commissioners never comply with their Instructions, and make that Estimate? Or, if they made it, did the Governor never lay it before the House? 'Tis true we have not that Estimate now in our Possession; it was returned again to the Governor; but we all remember the Sum, and that it was Eight Hundred Pounds. If it was indeed, as the Governor says it might possibly be, "only some Mens private Opinion," yet it was an Estimate, and sent to us by the Governor; whether made by the Commissioners, or by others, we have not said (though we think it was by the Commissioners) nor is it material: However, we have remaining in the House a subsequent Letter from one of the Commissioners, to the Secretary, dated May the Third, which says, "We sent you a Draught of the Road both to the Waters of "the Yohiogani and to the Camp, with all the principal Places marked that occured to us, "with the Amount of the Charges of laying out both, and an Estimate of the Expence "of opening and bridging the Road to the Yohiogani from the Tuscarora Mountain: "That to the Camp will not cost so much in Proportion to its Length, because it is "less hilly; but we expect Amendments upon it, so as to come into the other near "the Top of Sideling Hill, and avoid two Crossings of Juniata, and also to cut off se- "veral Miles between the Devil's Hole and the Camp. Both Roads will leave little of "Fifteen Hundred Pounds; for it is impossible to tell what Expence unexpected Oc- "currences will arise to." —— By this it appears, that an Estimate was made by the Commissioners, and that the Governor either "saw or heard of it" seems probable, since he sent down this very Letter to the House; at least he must have heard of the second Estimate, contained in this Letter, that "both Roads would leave little of Fifteen "Hundred Pounds." The House however voted still to bear the Expence of cutting 1755. September 29. both Roads, though the firſt Sum was nearly doubled, and the Refuſal of their Bill by the Governor would make it more difficult to be complied with. —— We have alſo in our Hands another Letter from the ſame Commiſſioner, dated fifteen Days after the former, wherein, after more Experience in the Work, he makes a third Eſtimate, judgeing that the "Expence of opening both Roads will be little under Two Thouſand "Pounds." This Eſtimate the Governor muſt ſurely have "ſeen or heard of," ſince the Letter is to himſelf, and by him laid before us. —— After all theſe Eſtimates gradually riſing from Eight Hundred to Two Thouſand Pounds, the Deſign of opening one of the Roads was dropt, the intended Breadth of the other was reduced one Third, its intended Length ſhortened, and even that ſhorter Extent never compleated; and yet, though it was ſuppoſed we had paid near One Thouſand Pounds in Money and Proviſions, we were given to underſtand that Five Thouſand Pounds more was wanted. Had we not Reaſon to be ſurpriſed at this; and to ſuſpect ſome Extravagance in the Management?

But the Governor is pleaſed to tell us, not only that we charged him with an Eſtimate that he never ſaw, but likewiſe that we "charged him with a Demand that he never "made." We happen, however, to have the Original Letter from his Commiſſioners, which he laid before the Houſe on the Ninth of Auguſt, wherein are theſe Words: "Shippenſburg, Auguſt 4, 1755. Honoured Sir, We have appointed a Meeting of the "Commiſſioners for the Roads leading to the Ohio, at this Town To-day, in order to fall "upon Meaſures to provide Money for the Payment of the Labourers, &c. employed in "the Service of the Roads; and we have thought of this Expedient (with Submiſſion "to your Honour's better Judgment) that ſome Perſon or Perſons ſhould be appointed "by your Honour to bring up Money, and to be ſatisfied with our Settlement of the "Accounts.——We cannot at preſent inform your Honour of the juſt Sum of Money "that will be wanted for the above Purpoſe; but we think it will amount to Five Thou- "ſand Pounds. As the People are much in Want of Money, we ſhould be glad how ſoon "the Money can be ſent, &c."——This Letter was ſigned by the ſix Commiſſioners, and ſent down to the Houſe by the Governor; to what End, unleſs that we might furniſh him with the Sum required? Yet now he knows nothing of this Demand, and is pleaſed to ſay, "it could not have been then made by any one, becauſe the Accounts were not "come in," as if a Demand in Part was a Thing impoſſible, before a Settlement. The Accounts however are at length come in, and under Examination, and it will now ſoon be ſeen, what Cauſe we ſhall have to commend the Governor's or the Commiſſioners Frugality: And we hope we ſhall not be backward to do it Juſtice.

The Governor's Judgment of our Motives to engage in this Work of opening the Roads, ſeems to us a very uncharitable one, but we hope to find more equitable Judgement elſewhere. We are obliged to him, however, for owning that we did engage in it at all. For as he is pleaſed to lay it down as a Maxim that we are very wicked People; he has ſhewn in other Inſtances, when we have done any Good, that he thinks it no more Injuſtice to us to deny the Facts, than now to deny the Goodneſs of our Motives. ——He would however think himſelf ill uſed, if any Part of his Zeal in that Affair was aſcribed to the Menaces directed to him; or to a View of accommodating by the new Road the Lands of the Proprietaries new Purchaſe, and by that Means encreaſing the Value of their Eſtate at our Expence.

The Governor is next pleaſed to tell us, "that we have taken great Pains to infuſe "into the Minds of the People, particularly the Germans, that the Government have "Deſigns to abridge them of their Privileges, and to reduce them to a State of Slavery. "That this may, and will, alienate their Affections from his Majeſty's Government, and "deſtroy that Confidence in the Crown and its Delegates, which, at this Time, is par- "ticularly neceſſary, and render all the Foreigners among us very indifferent as to the "Succeſs of the French Attempts upon this Continent, as they cannot be in worſe Cir- "cumſtances under them, than we have taught them to expect from the King's Go- "vernment." And a little lower he tells us, "that we ſcruple not to ſtir up his Ma- "jeſty's Subjects againſt his Government, forgetting all Duty to our Sovereign, and all "Decency to thoſe in Authority under him." Theſe are very heavy Charges indeed! But can the Governor poſſibly expect that any body will believe them? Can he even believe them himſelf?———We can indeed truly ſay it with Confidence, and the Governor may, if he pleaſes, call it "our uſual Confidence," that there is not a more dutiful, loyal and affectionate People to any Prince on Earth, than are the People, not only of this Colony, but of all the other Britiſh Colonies in America, to the beſt of Kings, his preſent Majeſty; and we cannot therefore forbear to ſay, that this Charge is a virulent Calumny, deſtitute of all Truth and Probability.———But what muſt we do to pleaſe this kind Governor, who takes ſo much Pains to render us obnoxious to our Sovereign, and odious to our Fellow-Subjects? Muſt we bear ſilently all theſe Abuſes? 'Tis too hard, But if we deny his Accuſations, and prove them falſe, this he calls "forgetting "all Decency to our Governor;" and if we complain of his Treatment, that is "ſtirring up his Majeſty's Subjects againſt his Government." No, may it pleaſe the Governor,

1755. September 29.

Governor, we make a wide Distinction between the King's Government, and the Governor's Conduct; and we have Reason.——Every Deputy Governor is not the Prince, and some are very indifferent Representatives of him. Every Dislike of a Governor's Behaviour is not Dislike of Government; nor every Censure of a Governor, Disaffection to the King. And indeed the more a People love their Prince and admire his Virtues, the less they must esteem a Governor who acts unlike him.

That there is a Design in the Proprietaries and Governor, to abridge the People here of their Privileges, is no Secret. The Proprietaries have avowed it in their Letter to the House, dated London, March 2, 1741. The Doctrine that it is necessary, is publicly taught in their Brief State; and the Governor himself has told us, that we have more than is suitable for a dependent Colony. It is these Proceedings that give Jealousy to the People, but do not however alienate their Affections from his Majesty's Government, though they may from the Proprietaries. Their "Confidence in the Crown" is as great as ever; but when the Delegates of Power are continually abusing and calumniating the People, it is no Wonder if they lose all "Confidence" in such Delegates.

The Governor can think himself at Liberty to tell us, That "we stir up his Majesty's "Subjects against his Majesty's Government, forgetting all Duty to our Sovereign;" and yet if we only tell him, that the Difficulties he meets with, are not owing to those Causes, which indeed have no Existence, but to his own Want of Skill and Abilities for his Station, he takes it extremely amiss, and says, "we forget all Decency to those "in Authority." We are apt to think there is likewise some Decency due to the Assembly, as a Part of the Government, and though we have not, like the Governor, had a Courtly Education, but are plain Men, and must be very imperfect in our Politeness, yet we think we have no Chance of improving by his Example. —— Skill and Abilities to govern, we apprehend fall to the Share of few; they may possibly be acquired by Study and Practice, but are not infused into a Man with his Commission; he may without them be a wise and able Man in other Affairs, and a very good and honest Man in general. But those "who stir up his Majesty's Subjects against his Government, and "forget all Duty to their Sovereign," as the Governor says we do, must be Traitors and Rebels, a Character that includes the highest Folly with the greatest Wickedness. The World will judge which of these Charges is most decent, as well as most true, and we shall leave it to their Judgment.

The Governor is pleased to repeat the Charge of our "taking upon us great and mighty "Powers," and to say, Since you call upon me to particularize them, I shall gratify you. ——We apprehend it is rather to gratify himself; for lest these Particulars should seem to be brought in improperly, the Governor says, we call upon him for them. We cannot find any such Call in our Message; but if there were, it was a very unnecessary One; for the Governor has so accustomed us to find some of these Charges in almost every Message, and so delights in renewing them, after repeated Refutations, that we might have expected them as Matters of Course. You have created a Paper Currency of your own, &c. This stale Charge was fully refuted in our Message of the Seventeenth of May last, and now repeated without taking the least Notice of that Refutation. You pay your own Wages out of the Provincial Money, when the Law requires and provides for their being paid in another Manner. This Charge is premature, as we have not yet paid ourselves any Wages out of any Money. We gave the Governor, indeed, Five Hundred Pounds out of this Provincial Money, though the Law requires and provides for his being supported by Licences of Public Houses, Fees, &c. but that he might be sure of being right, he took both. The plain State of the Matter is this; By the County Levy Act, the Commissioners and Assessors are directed "to adjust and settle the Sum and Sums "of Money which ought OF NECESSITY to be raised yearly, to pay for Representa-"tives Service in General Assembly, and to defray the Charges of Building and Repair-"ing of Court-houses, Prisons, Work-houses, Bridges and Causeways, and for de-"stroying of Wolves, &c. and to lay a Tax for these Purposes."——But other Acts of Assembly having directed that the Provincial Money, arising from the Loan-Office and Excise, "shall be disposed of as the Assembly of this Province shall direct and appoint," former Assemblies have, for many Years past, paid Provincial Charges, and the Public Salaries out of that Provincial Money, and among others, their own small Wages. Hence it happened, that the Wages being otherways paid, the Commissioners and Assessors found no Necessity of raising a Tax for that Purpose, and therefore have not done it, being no more obliged to do it without such Necessity, than to tax for building Court-houses when they have them already built, or to repair them when they need no Repairs; or to pay for Wolves Heads when none are killed.——As to the other Charge of not keeping the Borrowers in the Loan-Office strictly up to their yearly Payments as the Law required, we beg Leave to say, that we cannot think this House is strictly accountable for all the Faults of their, any more than the Governor for the Faults of his, Predecessors; nor that every Forbearing to execute a Law is properly called dispensing with Law. If it were, the Executive Power in most Governments is greatly chargeable with the ſame Offence. For our Parts, whom the Governor is pleaſed to load with this Charge, we did in May laſt expreſsly order the Truſtees to uſe the utmoſt of their Care and Diligence to collect the outſtanding Quotas, and, to quicken them, drew Orders on them nearly for the Amount; but as a ſevere Execution of that Law would in ſome Caſes have been extremely injurious, as the Evil had been almoſt imperceptibly growing, and gradually ſtole upon the Aſſemblies in a long Courſe of Years; and as a ſudden Sale of all delinquent Eſtates to recover their reſpective Quotas, would have been the Ruin of many; and no Depreciation of the Money or other conſiderable Inconvenience has followed the Forbearance, we conceive that former Truſtees and Aſſemblies, who gained nothing to themſelves by this Indulgence of the People, though not free from Blame, deſerve a leſs ſevere Cenſure than the Governor is diſpoſed to beſtow upon them. The Charge perhaps amounts to little more than this, that they did not exact from the People the Payments that by Law they ought to have exacted; which the Governor calls diſpenſing with a Law: They are not, however, chargeable with Exacting Money from the People which by Law they had no Right to exact, as we apprehend the Governor does, in the Fees for Marriage Licences, by which many Thouſand Pounds have been drawn from the Inhabitants of this Province. If this be not diſpenſing with Law, 'tis making Law, and we preſume the Governor alone has no more Right to do the one, than the Aſſembly alone the other. —— The laſt of this String of Charges, " that we have " taken upon us to adminiſter the Affirmation to our Clerk, and ſeveral of our Members " not Quakers" is a total Miſtake in Point of Fact. As an Aſſembly we diſclaim any Right of adminiſtring either an Affirmation or an Oath; and have never adminiſtred an Oath or Affirmation to our Clerk, or any Member; but whenever an Oath or Affirmation is adminiſtred in the Houſe, it is done by a Juſtice of the Peace. And our Members are always qualified according to Law.

The Governor is pleaſed to ſay, " we have often mentioned what we have done to pro- " mote the Succeſs of his Majeſty's Arms under General Braddock." We own that we have often mentioned this, but we have been forced to it by the Governor's aſſerting as often in his Meſſages, contrary to known Fact, that we had done nothing, and would do nothing of that Kind. But it ſeems we take to ourſelves the Services of particular Men, in which, the Governor ſays, we had no Hand; and adds, " that had we in Time opened " the proper Roads, raiſed Men, and provided Carriages, and neceſſary Proviſions for " the Troops, we might now have been in peaceable Poſſeſſion of Fort Duqueſne." We beg Leave to aſk the Governor, Has the Body no Share in what is done by its Members? Has the Houſe no Hand in what is done by its Committees? Has it no Hand in what is done by Virtue of its own Reſolves and Orders? Did we not, many Weeks before the Troops arrived, vote Five Thouſand Pounds for purchaſing freſh Victuals, and other Neceſſaries for their Uſe? Did we not even borrow Money on our own Credit to purchaſe thoſe Proviſions when the Governor had rejected our Bill? Will the Governor deny this, when he himſelf once charged it upon us as a Crime? Were not the Proviſions actually purchaſed by our Committee, the full Quantity required by the Commiſſary, and carried by Land to Virginia at our Expence, even before they were wanted? Did the Army ever want Proviſions, till they had abandoned or deſtroyed them? Are there not even now ſome Scores of Tons of it lying at Fort Cumberland and Conegochieg? Did the Governor ever mention the Opening of Roads to us before the Eighteenth of March, though the Requiſition was made to him by the Quarter Maſter General in January? Did we not in a few Days after ſend him up a Bill to provide for the Expence, which he refuſed? Did not the Governor proceed nevertheleſs to appoint Commiſſioners, and engage Labourers for opening the Road, whom we afterwards agreed to pay out of the Money we happened to have in our Power? Did the Work ever ſtop a Moment through any Default of ours? Was the Road ever intended for the March of the Troops to the Ohio? Was it not merely to open a Communication with this Province, for the more convenient ſupplying them with Proviſions when they ſhould be arrived there? Did they wait in the leaſt for this Road? Had they not as many Men as they wanted, and many from this Province? Were they not more numerous than the Enemy they went to oppoſe, even after the General had left near Half his Army fifty Miles behind him? Were not all the Carriages they demanded, being One Hundred and Fifty, engaged, equipt, and ſent forward in a few Days after the Demand, and all at Wills's Creek many Days before the Army was ready to march? With what Face then, of Probability, can the Governor undertake to ſay, " That had we in Time opened the proper Roads, raiſed Men, and " provided Carriages, and neceſſary Proviſions for the Troops, we might now have " been in peaceable Poſſeſſion of Fort Duqueſne?"

The Governor is pleaſed to doubt our having ſuch Letters as we mentioned; we are therefore, in our own Vindication, under a Neceſſity of quoting to him ſome Parts of them; and will ſhew him the Originals whenever he ſhall pleaſe to require it. The General's Secretary, in his Letter, of the Tenth of May, to one of our Members (who, in Purſuance of a Reſolve of the Houſe, for the Service of the Army, waited on the General at Frederic, and there occasionally undertook the furnishing of Waggons, which he performed with the Assistance of some other Members of the Committee, and for that, and other Services to the Troops, received the Thanks of the House at his Return) says, "You have done us great Service in the Execution of the Business you have kindly undertaken; and indeed without it, I don't see how the Service could have been carried on, as the Expectations from Maryland have come to nothing." And again, in his Letter of May the Fourteenth, "The General orders me to acquaint you, that he is greatly obliged to you, for the great Care and Readiness with which you have executed the Business you undertook for him. At your Request he will with Pleasure discharge the Servants that may have inlisted in the Forces under his Command, or any others for whom you may desire a Discharge; and desires that you would for that Purpose send him their Names." And again, in his Letter of May the Twentieth, "I have only Time to thank you once more, in the Name of the General, and every body concerned, for the Service you have done; which has been conducted throughout with the greatest Prudence and most generous Spirit for the Public Service." The General's own Letter, dated the Twenty-ninth of May, mentions and acknowledges the Provisions "given by the Pennsylvanian Assembly" [though the Governor will allow us to have had "no Hand" in it] and says, "Your Regard for his Majesty's Service, and Assistance to the present Expedition, deserve my sincerest Thanks, &c."——Colonel Dunbar writes, in his Letter of May the Thirteenth, concerning the Present of Refreshments and Carriage-Horses sent up for the Subalterns, "I am desired by all the Gentlemen, whom the Committee have been so good as to think of in so genteel a Manner, to return them their hearty Thanks." And again, on the Twenty-first of May, "Your kind Present is now all arrived, and shall be equally divided To-morrow between Sir Peter Halket's Subalterns and mine, which I apprehend will be agreeable to the Committee's Intent. This I have made known to the Officers of both Regiments, who unanimously desire me to return their generous Benefactors their most hearty Thanks, to which be pleased to add mine, &c." and Sir Peter Halket, in his of the Twenty-third of May, says, "The Officers of my Regiment are most sensible of the Favours conferred on the Subalterns by your Assembly, who have made them so well-timed and so handsome a Present. At their Request and Desire I return their Thanks, and to the Acknowledgements of the Officers, beg Leave to add mine, which you, I hope, will do me the Favour for the Whole to offer to the Assembly, and to assure them that we shall on every Occasion do them the Justice due for so seasonable and well-judged an Act of Generosity." There are more of the same Kind, but these may suffice to shew, that we had "some Hand in what was done," and that we did not, as the Governor supposes, deviate from the Truth, when, in our just and necessary Vindication against his groundless, cruel and repeated Charge, "that we had refused the proper, necessary and timely Assistance to an Army sent to protect the Colonies," we alledged "that we had supplied that Army plentifully with all they asked of us, and more than all, and had Letters from the late General, and other principal Officers, acknowledging our Care, and thanking us cordially for our Services."——If the General ever wrote differently of us to the King's Ministers, it must have been while he was under the first Impressions given him by the Governor to our Disadvantage, and before he knew us; and we think with the Governor, that if he had lived, he was too honest a Man not to have retracted those mistaken Accounts of us, and done us ample Justice.——

1755. September 29.

The Governor concludes with telling us, that "if our Minutes be examined for Fifteen Years past, in them will be found more frivolous Controversies, unparalleled Abuses of Governors, and more Undutifulness to the Crown, than in all the rest of his Majesty's Colonies put together." The Minutes are printed, and in many Hands, who may judge on examining them whether any Abuses of Governors and Undutifulness to the Crown are to be found in them. Controversies, indeed, there are too many; but as our Assemblies are yearly changing, while our Proprietaries, during that Term, have remained the same, and have probably given their Governors the same Instructions, we must leave others to guess from what Root it is most likely that those Controversies should continually spring. As to frivolous Controversies, we never had so many of them as since our present Governor's Administration, and all raised by himself; and we may venture to say, that during that one Year, scarce yet expired, there have been more "unparalleled Abuses" of this People, and their Representatives in Assembly, than in all the Years put together since the Settlement of the Province.

We are now to take our Leave of the Governor; and indeed, since he hopes no Good from us, nor we from him, 'tis Time we should be parted. If our Constituents disapprove our Conduct, a few Days will give them an Opportunity of changing us by a new Election; and could the Governor be as soon and as easily changed, Pennsylvania would, we apprehend, deserve much less the Character he gives it, of an unfortunate Country."

And the said Message being signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House,

1755. September 29.

Ordered, That Joſeph Gibbons and John Wright wait upon the Governor with the ſame.

Ordered, That the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-fourth Inſtant, and the Meſſage of the Houſe in Anſwer thereto, be printed in the Pennſylvania Gazette.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, return, and report, that they had been at the Governor's Houſe, and that a Servant informed them the Governor was out of Town, and would not be at Home this Evening.

Ordered, That the ſame Members go to the Secretary's, and enquire when the Governor is expected in Town; and if the Secretary ſhould ſay that he did not expect the Governor in Town To-morrow, leave the Meſſage of the Houſe with the Secretary, and deſire he would deliver it to the Governor when he returns.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had been at the Secretary's, according to Order; and that the Secretary informed them, that the Governor was gone to Rocky-Hill, in the Province of New-Jerſey, and that he did not expect him Home till Friday next; but that he would receive the Meſſage of the Houſe, and deliver it to the Governor as ſoon as he returned; whereupon the Gentlemen left the ſaid Meſſage with the Secretary.

The Meſſages from the Governor, concerning the Application of the Eaſtern Governments for Proviſions, being again read, and conſidered, Reſolved, N. C. D. That when Application is made to this Houſe by the Governor, for ſomething to be done at the Requeſt of another Government, the Letters and Papers that are to be the Foundation of our Proceedings on ſuch Application, ought to be, as they have been by all preceding Governors, laid before the Houſe for their Conſideration.

Reſolved, N. C. D. That a Sight afforded to the Speaker, or a few of the Members, of Papers remaining in the Governor's Hands, cannot be ſo ſatisfactory to the reſt of the Houſe, nor even to the Speaker, and ſuch Members, as if thoſe Papers were laid before the Houſe, where they might receive ſeveral diſtinct Readings, and be ſubject to repeated Inſpection and Diſcuſſion till they were thoroughly underſtood; and all Danger of Miſtakes and Miſconceptions through Defect of Attention or of Memory, in one or a few Perſons, effectually prevented.

Reſolved, N. C. D. That great Inaccuracies and Want of Exactneſs have been frequently obſerved by the Houſe in the Governor's Manner of ſtating Matters, laid before them in his Meſſages; and therefore they cannot think ſuch Meſſages, without the Papers therein referred to, are a ſufficient Foundation for the Houſe to proceed upon, in an Affair of Moment, or that it would be prudent or ſafe ſo to do, either for themſelves or their Conſtituents.

Reſolved, N. C. D. That though the Governor may poſſibly have obtained Orders not to lay the Secretary of State's Letters in ſome Caſes before the Houſe, they humbly conceive and hope that Letters from the neighbouring Governments, in ſuch Caſes as the preſent, cannot be included in thoſe Orders.

Reſolved, N. C. D. That when an immediate Aſſiſtance to neighbouring Colonies is required of us; to interrupt or prevent our Deliberations, by refuſing us a Sight of the Requeſt, is a Proceeding extremely improper and unſeaſonable.

But a Member of this Houſe producing a Letter to himſelf from the Honourable Thomas Hutchinſon, Eſq; a Perſon of great Diſtinction and Weight in the Government of the Maſſachuſetts-Bay, and a Member of the Council of that Province, mentioning the Application to this Government for Proviſions, and the Neceſſity of an immediate Supply: And it appearing by the Reſolution of the Council of War, held at the Carrying Place, on the Twenty-fourth paſt (an Abſtract of which is communicated to the Speaker, by the Honourable Thomas Pownal, Eſq; Lieutenant Governor of the Jerſeys) that the Army will be in Want of Blankets and other Cloathing, ſuitable to the approaching Seaſon; and this Houſe being willing to afford what Aſſiſtance may be in their Power, under their preſent unhappy Circumſtances of an exhauſted Treaſury, and a total Refuſal by the Governor of their Bills for raiſing Money;

Reſolved, That a voluntary Subſcription of any Sum or Sums, not exceeding Ten Thouſand Pounds, which ſhall be paid by any Perſons into the Hands of Iſaac Norris, Evan Morgan, Joſeph Fox, John Mifflin, Reeſe Meredith and Samuel Smith, of the City of Philadelphia, Gentlemen, within two Weeks after this Date, towards the Furniſhing of Proviſions, and Blankets, or other warm Cloathing, to the Troops now at or near Crown-Point, on the Frontiers of New-York, will be of Service to the Crown, and acceptable to the Public, and the Subſcribers ought to be thankfully reimburſed (with Intereſt) by future Aſſemblies, to whom it is accordingly by this Houſe earneſtly recommended.

The Speaker read to the Houſe a Paper containing ſome Authorities relating to the Rights of the Commons of Great-Britain over Money Bills, and in ſupport of the Bill paſſed by this Houſe for granting Fifty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, ſo far as the ſaid Bill relates to the Taxing the Proprietaries Eſtate within this Province. —— And the Speaker being requested by the House to let the same be entered upon the Minutes, consented thereto; and it accordingly follows in these Words, viz.

Speaker

1755. September 29.

The Speaker's Paper of Authorities relating to Money Bills.

THE Governor, in his Message of the Thirteenth of August last, asserts, "That as "our Proprietaries (being hereditary Governors of this Province) have no Vote in "chusing Representatives in the Assembly, therefore it is not consistent with the British "Constitution that their Estates here should be liable to pay Taxes." And in Answer to the Privilege we claim, of having our Bills granting Supplies passed as they are tendered, without Alterations, the Governor in his Message of the Twenty-fourth Instant says, that this Claim is not warranted by Charter; to which the House very justly replied on the Twenty-ninth, "that the Charter gives us all the Powers and Privileges of "an Assembly, according to the Rights of the Free-born Subjects of England, and as "is usual in any of the King's Plantations in America. If the Free-born Subjects of "England do not exercise this Right, and it is not usual in any of the King's Plantations "in America, then we are in the Wrong to claim it, and the Governor is in the Right "in denying it."

The Governor in the Beginning of his Administration has solemnly promised, "that "he would upon all Occasions be studious to protect the People committed to his Charge "in all their Civil and Religious Privileges." So far then, as these Privileges belong to the People and their Representatives, from known Facts and unexceptionable Authorities, so far the Governor must have failed of his Promise in the Protection we have a Right to from the Duty of his Station, and our Charters, and the Laws of this Province.

The Practice of the other Plantations in America, and particularly very late Instances of his Majesty's Colony of New-York, on Money Bills, are against the Governor; but I shall chuse to confine myself to the Rights of the House of Commons, to which we are entitled by our Provincial Charter, confirmed by a Law passed in the Fourth Year of the late Queen ANNE, for ascertaining the Number of Members of Assembly, &c. which enacts, in the Words of the Charter, "That the Representatives chosen and met accord-"ing to the Directions of that Act, shall have Power to chuse a Speaker, and other "their Officers; and shall be Judges of the Qualifications and Elections of their own "Members, sit upon their own Adjournments, appoint Committees, prepare Bills in "order to pass into Laws, impeach Criminals, and redress Grievances; and shall have "all other Powers and Privileges of Assembly according to the Rights of the Free-born "Subjects of England, and as is usual in any of the Queen's Plantations in America." Ch. Com. Deb. Vol. III, Pag. 311. &c.
The House of Commons then do claim, by the Law and Usage of Parliament, the Right of determining their own Elections, and consequently, and necessarily, the Right of the Electors to vote; and in Virtue of this Right it appears by the Journal of the House of Commons, Vol. XIII. Page 326, that no Peer of the Realm hath any Right to give his Vote in the Election of any Member to serve in Parliament. The same was again unanimously resolved in the Beginning of the sixth and last Parliament of King WILLIAM III, with an additional Resolve, "That for any Lord of Parliament, or any Lord Lieute-"nant of any County, to concern themselves in the Elections of Members to serve for "the Commons in Parliament, the same is a high Infringement of the Liberties and "Privileges of the Commons of England." The same unanimous Resolves appear in the first Parliament of Queen ANNE, and in the Beginning of every Parliament to the Ninth of King GEORGE, where our Journals end. And it is a standing Order of the House of Commons, "That no Peer hath a Vote in the Election of a Commoner;" Nevertheless the Commons assert, "that the Grant of all Aids to the King is by the "Commons, and that the Terms, Conditions, Limitations and Qualifications of such "Grants have been made by the Commons only." And upon a particular Order to a Committee 30 CAR. II. that they should prepare and draw up a State of the Right of the Commons in granting of Money, and how those Rights might be asserted: The House of Commons, upon their Report, resolve "that all Aids and Supplies, and Aids to "his Majesty in Parliament, are the sole Gift of the Commons; and all Bills for the "Granting any such Aids and Supplies, ought to begin with the Commons; and that "it is the undoubted and sole Right of the Commons, to direct, limit and appoint in "such Bills, the Ends, Purposes, Considerations, Conditions, Limitations and Qua-"lifications of such Grants, which ought not to be changed or altered by the House of "Lords." The House of Commons have been always extremely careful of this valuable Right, as upon the Bill for an additional Duty on Coffee, &c. 1st of WILLIAM and MARY; and the Bill for the Sale of the forfeited Estates in Ireland, and indeed upon all Occasions upon Money Bills.

Upon the Bill for appointing Commissioners to examine and state the Public Accounts, "the House of Commons were fully sensible, and thought the Bill so useful at that "Time, as could not be sufficiently expressed; yet nothing could be of greater Impor-"tance to the Public than the Maintaining the just and distinct Rights and Privileges

" which each Eſtate of the Kingdom enjoyed according to their Conſtitution; that the " Lords had many high Privileges to recommend their Lordſhips to the Favour of their " Prince, and to ſupport their Figure in the Government, but the Commons had little " beſides that One of giving Money and granting Aids, which was their undoubted and " inherent Right, and therefore every Thing that intrenched upon that the Commons " might be allowed to be extremely jealous of."

As it would be dangerous to proceed in the Subject now before us without Authorities, I ſhall add the Continuation of Rapin's Hiſtory of England by Tindal, Vol. III, Page 231, and the Record relating to the ſame Controverſy between the Houſe of Lords and Commons, as it lies upon the Journals of the Commons, in the Fourth Seſſion of King WILLIAM's ſecond Parliament.

Tindal ſays, That the Lords added a Clauſe to the Money Bill ſent up by the Commons, by which they taxed themſelves. That Clauſe was diſagreed to by the Commons, Nemine Contradicente, as an Encroachment on their Rights in the Article of giving Money, and ſent to the Lords to deſire a Conference thereupon; to whom they repreſented, " That the Commons had diſagreed to the Clauſe added by their Lordſhips to " the Money Bill, as being a notorious Encroachment upon the Rights of the Houſe of " Commons to order and ſettle all Matters relating to the Giving of Money, which " their Anceſtors had been ſo jealous of; that they thought it a Diminution of this their " fundamental Privilege to give their Lordſhips any Reaſon for ſupporting it;" and their Lordſhips, after a long Debate, reſolved to recede from the ſaid Clauſe by ſo great a Majority, that the Houſe did not divide upon it——and ſo dropped the Clauſe.

Vol. X, Page 780.

On the Journals of the Houſe of Commons it appears, " That the Lords had agreed " to the Bill, entituled, An Act for granting to their Majeſties an Aid of Four Shillings in " the Pound, &c.——with an Amendment, Provided, nevertheleſs, that all and every " the Peers that are to be rated by Virtue of this Act, for their Offices or perſonal Eſtate, " ſhall be rated by Thomas, Earl of Pembroke, Lord Privy Seal, George, Marquis of Hal- " lifax, William, Earl of Devon, Lord Steward of the Houſhold, Charles, Earl of Shrews- " bury, &c. &c. or any five of them, and not otherwiſe; and ſhall not be ſubjected to " the Impriſonment of his or their Perſons, any Thing in this Act contained to the con- " trary notwithſtanding. Provided alſo, and it is hereby declared, that the ſeveral Rates " and Taxes to which the Lords and Peers of this Realm ſhall be liable, by Virtue of this " Act, ſhall be received by a Collector to be nominated by the Peers; which ſaid Col- " lector ſhall cauſe the ſame to be paid into his Majeſty's Receipt of Exchequer, on " or before the Twenty-fifth Day of March, 1693." And the Queſtion being put, that the Houſe do agree with the Lords in the ſaid Amendment? It paſſed in the Negative. ——And by Order of the Houſe, Sir Thomas Clarges reported the Reaſons to be offered at a Conference with the Lords, " That the Right of granting Supplies to the " Crown is in the Commons alone as an eſſential Part of their Conſtitution, and the Li- " mitation of all ſuch Grants, as to the Matter, Manner, Meaſure and Time, is only " in them, which is ſo well known to be fundamentally ſettled in them, that to give " Reaſons for it, has been eſteemed by our Anceſtors to be a weakening of that Right, " and the Clauſe ſent down by their Lordſhips was a manifeſt Violation thereof;" And an Amendment being propoſed to leave out "Violation," and inſert "Invaſion" inſtead thereof, the ſame was, upon the Queſtion put thereupon, agreed unto by the Houſe.

Id. ib. Page 784.

And after ſeveral Conferences, Mr. Attorney-General reported, " That their Lordſhips " did not inſiſt upon their Proviſoes."

From theſe Records and Authorities, as well as known Facts, I apprehend it clearly appears, that the Lords do not vote in the Election of a Commoner to ſerve in Parliament, nor intermeddle therein: And that the Houſe of Commons have a Right in Money Bills, that they are to be aſſented to or rejected by the Lords without Alterations or Amendments. I will now add ſuch other Acts and Authorities as may further ſhew, that the King's Fee Farm Rents, the Palaces of St. James's, Whitehall, Somerſet-houſe, &c. and the Regalities of Wales and Cheſter, and even the Civil Liſt Revenue, are, and have been, occaſionally ſubjected to be charged by Acts of Parliament for the Public Uſes.

See Bp. Worceſter's Caſe, Jour. H. Com. Vol. XIV, Page 37. & alibi.

It is well known, that before the Revolution the whole ſtanding Income of the State was in the Power and Diſpoſal of the Crown, and was called the Revenue of the Crown; there was then no Diſtinction of what was to be allotted to the King's Uſe, and what for the Service of the Public, by which Means the King might reſerve what Part he thought fit for his own Deſigns, and employ no more than he pleaſed for the Purpoſes of the Nation: Accordingly it was found, after the Reſtoration, the Public Revenue had been conſtantly embezzled, and immenſe Sums very often ſunk, without being applied to the Uſes for which they were granted; it was therefore wiſely concerted, after the Revolution, for the Security of the Nation from perpetual Miſapplications of the Public Money, to allot a ſeparate Income for the Maintenance of the King's Houſhold, and the Support of his Dignity, which is now called the Civil Liſt, and to put the reſt of the Public Revenues entirely under the Command of the Parliament.

It was not till the Ninth and Tenth of WILLIAM III. that the Civil Liſt was ſettled upon upon the King for Life, though he had earneſtly deſired it, and had ſubjected that Revenue to be charged to the Uſes of the War. And on the Opening of the third Seſſions of the third Parliament, when they did ſettle it upon him during his Majeſty's Life, the King tells them, "That the Revenues of the Crown had been ſo anticipated by his Conſent for public Uſes, that he was wholly deſtitute of Means to ſupport the Civil Liſt:" Nevertheleſs, by an Act of the Twelfth and Thirteenth WILLIAM III. Three Thouſand Seven Hundred Pounds a Week (as the Neceſſity of the Public Affairs required it) was taken out of that Revenue "to be applied and diſpoſed of to and for the Public Uſes "during his Majeſty's Life." By an Act granting an Aid to her Majeſty by a Land-Tax, paſſed in the firſt Year of the Reign of Queen ANNE, for carrying on the War againſt France, the Receivers of the chief Rents of her Majeſty, and of the Queen Dowager, and the Receivers of any Perſons claiming under the Crown, were enjoined under ſevere Penalties to deduct their Taxes of Four Shillings in the Pound out of the ſaid Rents, and in like Manner the Fee Farm Rents of the Crown, the Palaces of St. James's, Whitehall, Windſor-Caſtle, and Somerſet-houſe, &c. are ſubjected to the Land Tax through all the ſucceeding Acts of Parliament. By an Act of the Firſt of King GEORGE, entituled, An Act to enable his Majeſty to grant the Regalities of North-Wales, South-Wales, and County of Cheſter, to his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, &c. it is enacted, "That "it ſhall and may be lawful for the King's moſt excellent Majeſty, by Letters Patent, &c. to give and grant unto his ſaid Royal Highneſs all the ſaid Honours, "Caſtles, &c. within the Counties of Flint, Denby, Montgomery, Carnarvon, &c. and "the County Palatine of Cheſter, and every or any of them, which do now belong to "his Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, &c. —— ſo nevertheleſs that the ſame do not "extend to any Taxes, Aids or Revenues whatſoever granted or to be granted to the "Crown by Parliament, to or for any public Uſe or Uſes whatſoever; to have and to "hold the ſaid Honours, Caſtles, Lordſhips, Manors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tythes, Tenements, Rents, Hereditaments, Poſſeſſions and Premiſes, ſo to be granted as aforeſaid unto him the ſaid Prince, and his Heirs, Kings of Great-Britain; ſubject, nevertheleſs, to ſuch annual and other Payments and Incumbrances as are legally charged "thereupon, or uſually ſatisfied out of the Revenues of the ſame." And upon a Computation of the Revenues of the late Prince of Wales, in the Year 1736, when the Land-Tax was at Two Shillings in the Pound, the Deductions were Five Thouſand Pounds a Year for the Land Tax upon Fifty Thouſand Pounds, the Six-penny Duty to the Civil Liſt, and the Fees payable at the Exchequer, about Two Thouſand Pounds more; ſo that his nett Revenue on the Fifty Thouſand Pounds a Year, allowed him by the King, would not amount to more than Forty-three Thouſand Pounds yearly, beſides his Dutchy of Cornwall. By this Eſtimate we ſee the Royal Family, for what they received out of the Civil Liſt, were ſubject to Parliamentary Taxes, until it was otherwiſe provided by particular Acts; and indeed by the Seventh and Eighth of WILLIAM III. Chap. 17, Sect. 12, it is enacted, "That no Letters Patent, granted by the King's Majeſty, or any "of his Royal Predeceſſors, &c. ſhall be conſtrued or taken to exempt any Perſon, City, "Borough, &c. or any of the Inhabitants of the ſame, from the Burden and Charge of "any Sum or Sums of Money granted by the Act; and all Non obſtantes, in ſuch Letter "Patent made, or to be made, in Bar of any Act or Acts of Parliament for the Supply or "Aſſiſtance of his Majeſty, are declared to be void, and of none Effect." If upon theſe, and many other Authorities which might be adduced to the ſame Purpoſe, it ſhould appear, that the Revenues of the Crown, and of the Royal Family, are, and have been, ſubjected to the national Taxes of Great-Britain, as well as the Eſtates of all the Peers and Commoners of our Mother Country, from whence we derive ourſelves and our Conſtitution, it will be difficult to conceive any good Reaſons why our Proprietaries, and their great Eſtate in this Province, ſhould alone, of all his Majeſty's Subjects, be exempted from the Payment of Taxes for the Defence and Security of their own Eſtates. But our Governor is pleaſed to inform us, "That if we tax them at all, it muſt be as Proprie-"taries and Chief Governors, which is the only Capacity by which they are connected "with, or related to, the Inhabitants; —— that they hold the Government and Soil "under the ſame Grant, and their Title to both is centered in their Perſons, and can-"not be ſeparated, without deſtroying their Authority." Now we certainly have other Connections with Thomas Penn, and with Richard Penn, beſide their being Chief Governors; and I ſuppoſe they may ſeparately eject or commence Actions at Law for Rent, or other Actions, in his Majeſty's Courts within this Province, in their private Capacity, in the ſame Manner that other Inhabitants and Freeholders could do in like Caſes; and the Powers of Government might have deſcended through the eldeſt Branches of the Family, or either of our Proprietaries, without injuring their Property in the Soil: And in this Caſe, the Governor would have been ſufficiently authorized by Commiſſion under him, in whom the Powers of Government were veſted. But the Commiſſion of Property (which our Governors have not been concerned with till very lately) would have been inſufficient, unleſs executed by all who had a Property in the Lands, and is now now executed by the Governor by Virtue of that Commiſſion in Oppoſition to his Commiſſion as Lieutenant Governor, which expreſsly enjoins him not to grant Lands, or otherwiſe interfere with the Proprietaries Affairs of Property.

But to return, as it is evident that the Peers of Great-Britain do not vote in the Election of Members to ſerve in Parliament, yet their Eſtates are taxed by Bills of Aids, and Supplies to the Crown, which ariſe out of the Houſe of Commons; I am of Opinion, that the Concluſion the Governor draws from his Reaſoning in the Meſſage of the Thirteenth of Auguſt laſt, is in direct Oppoſition to the Rights and Uſage of the Houſe of Commons; and conſequently our offering a Bill, whereby the Proprietary Eſtate was to be taxed with all other Eſtates within this Province, was not againſt the very Principles of the Britiſh Conſtitution, as he would imagine.

'Have the Proprietaries, ſays the Governor, a Right to vote in the Election of Repreſentatives as Landholders? Surely not. Being hereditary Governors of the Province, and having a Vote in the Legiſlature by their own particular Repreſentative the Governor. How then came you by a Right to tax them as Fellow-Subjects and Landholders, ſeeing they had no Voice in chuſing you, nor were intitled to any, though Owners of Land in every County?'

To which it may be anſwered,

Have the Peers of Great-Britain a Right to vote in the Election of Repreſentatives as Landholders? Surely not. Being hereditary Peers of Great-Britain, and having a Vote in the Legiſlature by their own particular Repreſentation in the Houſe of Lords. How then came the Houſe of Commons by a Right to tax the Peers as Fellow-Subjects and Landholders, ſeeing they had no Voice in chuſing them, nor were intitled to any, though Owners of Land in every County?

"From the very Principles therefore (ſays the Governor) of the Britiſh Conſtitution, "you have no Right to tax them as Freeholders, or Fellow-Subjects." But all this Kind of Reaſoning ſerves only to eaſe us from the whole Force of it, and leaves the Governor to diſpute the Principles of the Britiſh Conſtitution with a Britiſh Houſe of Commons, before whom he will undoutedly think it his Duty to produce ſtronger Arguments than theſe. The Fallacy of this Manner of Reaſoning is very obvious.

The Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes repreſent the whole Commons of England; but the Peers are preſent in Parliament for themſelves only: As it would be unjuſt to tax the Peers if they had no Repreſentation in the Legiſlature, by which they might give their Conſent; ſo it would be equally unjuſt to tax the Proprietary Eſtate here, without his Aſſent by his Repreſentative the Governor.

The Peers and our Proprietaries have their Negatives upon all Bills; but the Equity of taxing themſelves, as well as all others, for their common Safety and Defence, induces the Lords to give their Aſſent to Bills offered to them for that Purpoſe; and no doubt the ſame Equity ought to be equally binding on our Proprietaries: And it may be hoped, that all Reſtrictions, by which their Deputy is diſabled from diſcharging his Duty, will, in due Time, be conſidered by our Superiors. Our Proprietaries, I preſume, have no Right to vote for our Repreſentatives, though they are certainly Landholders in this Province: And under this Conſideration they are exempted from paying Aſſemblymens Wages by our County Rate and Levy Act. The Peers of Great-Britain are as certainly Landholders, and many of them Burgeſſes and Members of Corporations; yet they neither vote for the Knights of the Shire or Burgeſſes; and under the ſame Conſideration are exempted from contributing to their Expences. The Commons petitioned in Parliament, Firſt of RICHARD II. that all Perſons having Lay Fee might contribute to the Charge of the Knights.——The King anſwered, that the Lords of the Realm would not loſe their old Liberties: Yet in the ſame Reign, by the Twelfth of RICHARD II. Chap. 2. it is enacted, "That if any Lord, or any other Man, Spiritual or "Temporal, had purchaſed any Lands or Tenements, or other Poſſeſſions, that were "wont to be contributory to ſuch Expences before the Time of the ſaid Purchaſe, that "the ſaid Lands, Tenements and Poſſeſſions, and the Tenants of the ſame, be contributory to the ſaid Expences, as the ſaid Lands, Tenements and Poſſeſſions, were "wont to be before the Time of the ſame Purchaſe." This Law, which hath continued through ſo many Ages, appears to be founded in Juſtice and Equity, and will neceſſarily become the Rule of our Conduct; for as our Paper Money Acts are near expiring, and it may be hoped that no future Aſſembly will give up their juſt Rights for the Obtaining of new Emiſſions, whatever Inconveniences they may labour under for Want of them, the Payment of Aſſemblymens Wages muſt become very burdenſome, if they are to be kept ſitting, though to little or no Purpoſe (as of late) through a great Part of the Year; and eſpecially if our Proprietaries, againſt our Expectations, ſhould have as much Power as they have Inclination to get their encreaſing Eſtates exempted from bearing any Share of our Taxes; for in this Caſe we have Reaſon to apprehend they may judge it their private Intereſt to impoveriſh the People by exorbitant Impoſitions, or a Profuſion of the Public Money; and as under theſe Circumſtances Pretences will never be wanting, new and grievous Burdens will be repeatedly called for, till by Degrees the the Freeholds and Poſſeſſions of this young Colony muſt inſenſibly fall into the Proprietaries Hands; and thus by the continual Proprietary Exemptions, and the Weight becoming ſtill heavier upon the decreaſing Number who may be able, for a While, to bear up, and continue among the Calamities of their Country; theſe too muſt at length ſubmit and leave the Colony their Predeceſſors had cultivated and ſettled with Honour under a milder Adminiſtration."

An Account from the Truſtees of the Province Iſland was laid before the Houſe, and read, whereby it appeared that there was a Balance of Ninety-ſeven Pounds One Shilling in their Hands, due to the Province, which they are to pay into the Provincial Treaſury as the Law directs.

September 30.

The Committee of Accounts reported, that they had examined the Governor's Account, amounting to Five Hundred and Ninety-one Pounds Five Shillings and One Penny, and were of Opinion that the ſame ought to be allowed; but they ſubmitted to the Houſe, whether the Sum of Twenty-ſix Pounds Eight Shillings and Nine-pence, ſhould not be deducted out of the Balance of the ſaid Account, being paid by a Committee of Aſſembly for the Hire of a Waggon and a Half to carry the Preſent of the Government of the Lower Counties, ſent by the Governor to General Braddock. — And the Houſe agreeing that the ſaid Sum ought to be deducted,

An Order was drawn on the Treaſurer for the Payment of Five Hundred and Sixty-four Pounds Sixteen Shillings and Four-pence to the Governor, as the Balance of his Account, and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Committee of Accounts made the following Report in Writing on the Ohio Road Accounts, viz.

Report from the Committee of Accounts.

YOUR Committee have carefully examined the Accounts exhibited to the Houſe by the Commiſſioners appointed by the Governor for laying out the Road through the Weſtern Parts of this Province for the King's Service, and have hereunto affixed the ſeveral Sums and Perſons Names to whom they are due, as far as we have been able to compute the ſame, few Vouchers appearing, and ſome of the Accounts very irregularly and ambiguouſly drawn; ſundry Overcharges, and Blank Articles; ſo that there can be no juſt Eſtimation made unleſs the Perſons concerned gave their Attendance, otherwiſe we apprehend the Province may be impoſed on; ſo that we are of Opinion the Commiſſioners ſhould give their Attendance, or that ſome Perſons be appointed to ſettle the Accounts with them; nevertheleſs, we think the Money due to the Labourers ſhould be immediately paid. All which we ſubmit to the Houſe.

EVAN MORGAN, WILLIAM CALLENDER, JOSEPH STRETCH, JOSEPH FOX."

The Houſe taking the ſaid Report into Conſideration,

Reſolved, That the Book containing the Labourers Accounts be lodged in the Hands of the Treaſurer, and that he pay off the reſpective Balances due to them upon Demand; and that the Remainder of the Accounts relating to the ſaid Road be referred to the Conſideration of the next ſucceeding Aſſembly.

Upon Motion made, it was Ordered, That a Set of the old Votes of Aſſembly, lately printed in three Volumes, be ſent as a Preſent from this Houſe to Doctor Fothergill, in London.

The Report of the Committee of Public Accounts being again read, was agreed to by the Houſe, and is as follows, viz.

No. 3,

AND BE IT FURTHER ENACTED by the Authority aforeſaid, That the Commiſſioners of the reſpective Counties, or any two of them, ſhall, within Ten Days after the Publication of this Act, iſſue forth their Precepts, directed to the Conſtables of every Townſhip, requiring them to bring to the reſpective Aſſeſſors, within Three Weeks next after the Date of ſuch Precepts, fair and true Certificates in Writing, upon their Oaths or Affirmations, of the Names and Surnames of all and every the Perſons dwelling or reſiding within the Limits of thoſe Townſhips or Places, as in and by the herein before-mentioned Act for raiſing of County Rates and Levies, and as by this preſent Act is particularly ſet forth, and directed to be aſſeſſed.

THOU ſhalt well and truly cauſe the Rates and Sums of Money, by Virtue of this Act impoſed, to be duly and equally aſſeſſed, and laid, according to the beſt of thy Skill and Knowledge, and herein thou ſhalt ſpare no Perſon for Favour or Affection, nor grieve any for Hatred or Ill-will.

Which Qualification ſhall be adminiſtered as in and by the ſaid Act for raiſing County Rates and Levies is enjoined and required.

AND BE IT FURTHER ENACTED by the Authority aforeſaid, That if the ſaid Commiſſioners or Aſſeſſors ſhall refuſe or neglect to perform and diſcharge the Duties required of them by this Act, each and every of the ſaid Commiſſioners or Aſſeſſors ſo refuſing, ſhall forfeit and pay to the Provincial Treaſurer the Sum of Twenty Pounds.

No. 4.

PROVIDED ALWAYS, That all Fines and Forfeitures ariſing by Virtue of this Act, ſhall be levied as in the aforeſaid Act for raiſing of County Rates and Levies is directed, directed, and shall be paid and added to the public Provincial Stock. Provided also, that the Constables shall have and receive for their Care and Trouble in executing and returning the Precepts by the herein last-mentioned Act directed and enjoined, one Half-penny per Pound, and no more. And that the Assessors, for their Time and Labour in their Assessments, shall be allowed One-penny Half-penny per Pound, upon the whole Sum contained in the Rates of their respective Counties, after the Assessment is rectified and adjusted by the Commissioners, and no more. And that the County Treasurers shall be allowed for their Care and Trouble One per Cent for all Monies by them received and paid, and no more. And that the Collectors shall retain in their Hands for all Sums of Money by them respectively collected, Three-pence per Pound, and no more, any Thing in this Act, or in the aforesaid Act, "for raising of County Rates and Levies," to the contrary notwithstanding. 1755. No. 5.

AND BE IT FURTHER ENACTED by the Authority aforesaid, That if the said Collector or Collectors shall refuse or neglect to take upon him or themselves the Trust and Duty required of him or them by this Act, he or they so refusing shall forfeit and pay to the County Treasurer the Sum of Ten Pounds; and the Assessors shall appoint some other fit Person or Persons in the Place or Stead of the Collector or Collectors so refusing or neglecting as aforesaid.

AND BE IT FURTHER ENACTED by the Authority aforesaid, That all the Sum or Sums of Money levied by the Collectors of the respective Districts throughout this Province, by Virtue of this Act, shall be paid by the said Collectors to the County Treasurers, and by the County Treasurers, respectively, into the Hands of the Provincial Treasurer, for the King's Use. No. 6.

AND whereas some Owners of Land, whereon Improvements are made, may not reside in the same County or District where such Land lies, whereby it may be difficult to recover or collect the Tax assessed on the said Land, BE IT THEREFORE ENACTED by the Authority aforesaid, That the Tenant or other Person residing on, and having the Care of such Lands, their Goods and Chattels, and the Goods and Chattels of the Landlord (on his Refusal or Neglect to pay) if there found, shall be liable to be distrained for the Payment of the said Tax. And in case the Tenant, or Person having the Care thereof, shall pay, or their Goods be distrained for the same, then it shall and may be lawful to and for the said Tenant to deduct the Tax so paid out of the Rent agreed for; and for the Tenant or Tenants, or Person having Care of the said Land, to recover the same from the Owner, by Action of Debt, in any Court where the same shall be cognizable, together with Costs of Suit; PROVIDED, That nothing in this Act shall in any Manner alter any Contract heretofore made between any Landlord and Tenant. No. 7.

AND forasmuch as large Tracts of valuable Land have been located and held in this Province without Intention of Improvement, but merely in Expectation of receiving hereafter higher Prices for private Advantage, by Means whereof those Lands remain uncultivated, and great Numbers of People have been necessitated to leave this Province and settle in other Colonies, where Lands are more easily purchased, to the manifest Injury and Charge of the Public: And forasmuch as those Lands, by the Act for raising County Rates and Levies, herein before mentioned, are exempted, and cannot by the Laws now in being be taxed, it is thought reasonable on this Occasion to settle the Manner by which the said Lands shall be assessed and rated in their Proportion of the Tax hereby imposed, on all the Estates, Real and Personal, within this Province; BE IT THEREFORE ENACTED by the Authority aforesaid, That all such located and unimproved Lands shall be rated according to their Situation and Value at any Prices not exceeding Fifteen Pounds, nor under Five Pounds for every Hundred Acres of such unimproved Land. And if the Owner or Owners of the said Lands, or some Person or Persons for them, do not appear, or shall neglect or refuse to pay the Rates assessed thereon by the Space of Thirty Days, after the Days of Appeal, then, and so often as this shall happen, the said Lands, together with the Rates assessed thereon, shall be advertised in the Township or County in which such Lands do lie, or in the Place or Town where such Owner or Owners dwell. And the Commissioners of the respective Counties shall, and they are hereby required to give public Notice thereof in the Pennsylvania Gazette, for at least Three Months, that Sale will be made of such Part of the said Lands as shall be sufficient to discharge the Taxes due for the same, and all Charges accruing by Reason of the Refusal or Non-payment thereof. And if the Owner or Owners of such Lands, or some Person or Persons in their Behalf, do not appear and discharge and pay the said Taxes, with all Charges as aforesaid, then the said Commissioners of the respective Counties are authorized and hereby impowered to sell the said Land, or so much thereof as aforesaid, by public Vendue, to such Person or Persons as may appear and give most for the same; returning the Overplus, if any be, to the Owner or Owners of such Lands, or their legal Representative as aforesaid, after all necessary Charges deducted. And when any Sale of such Land shall be so as aforesaid made by the Sheriff or Coroner respectively, pursuant to this Act,

1755. Act, the Title and Conveyance thereof ſhall be by Deed ſigned, ſealed and delivered, by the Sheriff or Coroner, to ſuch Perſon or Perſons as ſhall purchaſe the ſame in Fee-ſimple, which ſhall be moſt abſolute and available in Law againſt the ſaid Delinquents, and their Heirs and Aſſigns, and all claiming under them.

AND whereas many Perſons reſiding in this Province have ſeated themſelves on certain large Tracts of Land, neither having Property therein, or paying Rent for the ſame, yet nevertheleſs do actually hold and occupy certain Parts thereof, and therefrom do receive the like common Benefits that the Freeholders of this Province do generally receive from their Fee-ſimple Eſtates; and to exempt ſuch Perſons, ſeated as aforeſaid, from paying their juſt Proportion of the Taxes herein directed to be levied, for the Lands they ſeverally hold and occupy as aforeſaid, would be a manifeſt Injury to the ſaid Freeholders, and other Inhabitants of this Province, made rateable by this Act: For remedying whereof, BE IT ENACTED by the Authority aforeſaid, That all and every Perſon or Perſons, reſiding within this Province, ſeated on, occupying and holding Lands, not having the Property thereof, or paying Rent for the ſame, ſhall, notwithſtanding, give a true Account of the particular Parts of all ſuch Land which they are reſpectively ſeated on, both clear and Wood-land, as much as they pretend to hold, to the Aſſeſſors of this Province reſpectively when thereunto required, and ſhall pay their ſeveral and reſpective Taxes for the ſame in like Manner as the Freeholders aforeſaid are liable to do by Virtue of the Directions of this Act; and upon neglecting or refuſing to give ſuch Accounts, and pay ſuch Taxes as aforeſaid, ſhall be ſubject to the like Pains and Penalties as the ſaid Freeholders are ſubject to by Virtue of the Directions of this
No. 8. Act, or by the before-mentioned Act for raiſing County Rates and Levies.

AND BE IT FURTHER ENACTED by the Authority aforeſaid, That the Commiſſioners and Aſſeſſors of the County of Philadelphia at their Meeting, on the Return of the Commiſſioners Precepts, or at any other Time, ſhall, and they are hereby authorized and required, by all lawful Means, to acquaint themſelves with, and procure the Amount, as near as they are able, of the Proprietaries Eſtate in Quitrents, throughout this Province, and thereupon impartially to aſſeſs and tax the ſame, in the ſame Manner as other Eſtates are aſſeſſed and taxed in the reſpective Counties by Virtue of this Act.

APPENDIX to the VOTES of the ASSEMBLY, from October, 1754, to October, 1755.

1755. BY the Governor's Meſſage to the Aſſembly on the 24th of September, 1755, it would be natural to ſuppoſe, that the Commiſſioners appointed by the Governor for opening the Roads towards the Ohio, had never eſtimated the Charge of cutting and opening thoſe Roads at Eight Hundred Pounds, or at leaſt, if they had ever made ſuch an Eſtimate, that the Governor had never ſeen nor heard of it; for in that Meſſage he was pleaſed to tell the Houſe, " You charge me with contriving all poſſible Methods of Expence to " exhauſt your Funds and diſtreſs your Affairs, and give an Inſtance of an exorbitant " Demand of Five Thouſand Pounds, for cutting the Road for the Uſe of the Army, an " Undertaking, you ſay, I engaged you in, on a Computation of its coſting only Eight " Hundred Pounds;—a pretended Eſtimate, of which I am totally ignorant, having " never ſeen nor heard of One. The Sum of Eight Hundred Pounds might have been " mentioned, as what it would coſt in ſome Mens private Opinion, but not upon an " Eſtimate of the Commiſſioners, nor as ſuch ſent to me." The Houſe were much ſurprized at this Paragraph of the Governor's Meſſage, as it related to a Fact very freſh in their Memories; but, having returned the Papers the Governor had laid before the Houſe, by a verbal Meſſage of the 25th of September, they deſired, " the Governor would be " pleaſed to let them have a Sight of thoſe Letters and Papers, relating to the Ohio Road, " which were laid before the Houſe on the 13th of May, and ſince returned the Go- " vernor." On the 26th the Members appointed " brought down ſundry Papers relate- " ing to the Ohio Road, which the Secretary told them were thoſe laid before the Houſe " on the 13th of May laſt."

Theſe Papers were endorſed from Number One to near Twenty, but ſome of the intermediate Numbers were wanting, particularly the very Letters we were enquiring after, which obliged the Houſe to anſwer with the Caution they uſed in their Meſſage to the Governor, dated the 29th of September laſt.

The original Papers were not then to be had, being either in the Governor's or the Secretary's Cuſtody; but it appearing ſome Time after, that the Clerk had taken authentic Copies of them, and that the Committee appointed by a Reſolve of the Aſſembly on the 3d of January, had kept fair Minutes of their Tranſactions, in Purſuance of that Reſolve, the ſame were examined, and the following are true Extracts therefrom, viz.

At a Meeting of the Committee, and ſuch Members of Aſſembly as were in Town, called to their Aſſiſtance, April 24, 1755.

Extracts from the Minutes of the Committee.

' The Secretary laid before us a Letter from George Croghan, and others, Commiſ- ' ſioners for laying out Roads through this Province towards the Ohio, which was read, ' as alſo a Letter from the Governor to this Committee, in the following Words, viz.

' BY a Letter I received this Morning from the Commiſſioners for running out the ' Roads over the Hills, I find the Flour, ordered to be provided for the Army, has ' not been yet delivered at the Place agreed on, and the Retardation of the March, with ' the Conſequences that may thence enſue, is aſcribed by Sir John St. Clair to this De- ' lay, and the not clearing proper Roads. I am indeed much ſurprized at the Flour's ' not having been delivered according to the Time fixed, and urge you to do all in your ' Power to expedite the Delivery of it. I think Orders ſhould iſſue immediately by the ' Return of the Expreſs, to have the Roads cleared with all poſſible Expedition, at the ' Expence of the Province, and deſire Supplies may be forthwith ſent for that Purpoſe.

The above Letter from " the Commiſſioners for running out the Roads over the Hills," ſo far as immediately relates to the ſaid Roads, follows in theſe Words, viz.

' HONOURED SIR, Fort Cumberland, April 16, 1755.

' IN Purſuance of your Commiſſion, we ſet out on the Road from Carliſle on the 29th ' of March, and with the greateſt Induſtry reached the Waters of the Yohiogain on ' the 11th Inſtant. We ſtopped at about Eighteen Miles on this Side the Three Forks, ' and would have proceeded further, had we not certain Intelligence of great Numbers ' of French and Indians, hunting and ſcouting, &c. Our Indians all fled us, ſome at Ray's ' Town, and ſome on the Allegheny Hills, ſave one Delaware. We were very fortunate

' in

'in finding a good Road all the Way, and particularly through the Allegheny Hills, con-
'ſidering how mountainous that Country is; from Parnal's Knab, or M'Dowell's Mill,
'to where we ſtopped, is about Sixty-nine Miles, and were it not for the Interpoſition
'of Mountains, would not be ſo far by Ten or Fifteen Miles. The Expence of making
'the Road Thirty Feet wide, and the principal Pinches Twenty, WILL MAKE AN EX-
'PENCE OF ABOUT EIGHT HUNDRED POUNDS, &c.

JOHN ARMSTRONG,

The Committee, after due Conſideration of the Matters laid before them, returned the following Anſwer to the Governor; and the other Members of Aſſembly preſent, agreeing with the ſaid Anſwer, at the Requeſt of the Committee, ſigned it jointly with them, viz.

AS the executive Part of the Government neither is, nor ought to be, veſted in the Aſſemblies of this Province, we can only declare our Concern the Governor had not been pleaſed to paſs our Bill, in which the Clearing of the Roads, and all the Purpoſes recommended to us by the Crown, had been provided for, according to our Abilities. Nevertheleſs, as we are willing to do every Thing in our Power for the King's Service and the Welfare of this Province, we have Reſolved, That the following Minute be ſigned by all the Members preſent, and ſent to the Governor, viz.

We are unanimouſly of Opinion, that the Aſſembly will very chearfully defray the reaſonable Expences ariſing upon the Opening ſuch Roads as may be judged neceſſary for the March of the King's Troops through this Province towards the Ohio. We are alſo of Opinion, that ſome ſmall Preſent ſhould be made to the Indians, at the Expence of the Province, &c.

ſylvania. April 24, 1755. JOSEPH STRETCH,

In Purſuance of this Reſolve, the Committee immediately furniſhed the Sum of Two Hundred Pounds, for the Purpoſe of Cutting the ſaid Roads, and the Secretary wrote the following Letter to the Commiſſioners for Opening the Roads.

'GENTLEMEN, Philadelphia, 25th April, 1755.

'THE Governor received your Letter Yeſterday, at the Time Governor Shirley was 'ſetting out, and laid it before ſuch of the Aſſembly as live in Town; and being 'obliged to accompany Governor Shirley, he commanded me to receive the Reſult of 'their Conſultation, and ſend it to you, and, if favourable, to preſs you to proceed to 'clear the Roads a ſufficient Breadth, which ſhould be by you thought neceſſary to be 'opened, and to make Cauſeways, and lay Bridges, and to ſet about it with the utmoſt 'Expedition. Encloſed is a Copy of their Letter to the Governor. Let nothing, I be-'ſeech you, be omitted in your Power; get a Number of Hands immediately, and fur-'ther the Work by all poſſible Methods.

'I am ordered to tell you, that all your Expences will be paid at the next Sitting of 'Aſſembly, which begins the 12th of May; be not therefore any Ways concerned about 'this; do your Duty, and oblige the General and Quarter-maſter if poſſible; if you can-'not pleaſe, after you have properly done your Part, you may then reſt perfectly ſatis-'fied. Surely the Flour will be delivered in Time *, or great Blame may be laid, with 'Truth, at the Door of the Commiſſioners.

'What Sir John St. Clair ſays, is ſo far true, that had the Army been ready now, and 'retarded by Delays in Matters undertaken by this Province, all the Miſchiefs thence 'ariſing would have been juſtly chargeable on this Province; but I am miſtaken if they 'can within a Month from this Date get their Artillery ſo far as your Road †, which, 'I ſuppoſe, is to croſs the Road made by Waſhington, over the Allegheny Hills to the Big 'Meadows;—or is it expected that a Road be opened and cleared, between Conegocheague 'and the Camp at Wills's Creek? I thought this had been done by Governor Sharpe.

'Be it as it will, begin with the Road that will be wanted at firſt, and finiſh it, if

'poſſible,

* The Flour was all delivered in Time, and long before it was wanted; it was indeed ſent in ſo faſt, that the General had not provided Stores and Shelters ſufficient to ſecure it from the Weather, to which great Quantities lay expoſed in Maryland, after the Delivery there.

† By this Part of the Secretary's Letter [perſonating the Governor] and the whole Proceedings of the Committee and Aſſembly, who ſupplied the Money for Opening the Roads as ſoon as applied for, it is apparent, that the Governor's Charge againſt the Aſſembly, in his Meſſage of the 24th of September, "that had they in Time opened the proper Roads, &c. the "General might have been in peaceable Poſſeſſion of Fort Duqueſne," was without the leaſt Foundation. See Votes, p. 461.

1755. ‘ poſſible, before it will be wanted to be uſed, and then proceed to any other that ſhall ‘ be thought neceſſary. If the Country does not furniſh Draught-Horſes for the Ar- ‘ tillery, the General will be under the Neceſſity of preſſing Men and Horſes.

‘ I deſire you will conſider this Letter as if the Governor himſelf had wrote it, and if ‘ I have omitted any neceſſary Directions, do not delay on that Account, but do the Duty ‘ and Service required, as if your Directions had been full and clear, and under the Go- ‘ vernor's Hand and Seal; for whatever is not done that ought to be done, will be laid ‘ at your Door, ſince I engage, on the Part of the Governor and Aſſembly, that you ‘ ſhall be paid all your Expences in clearing the Roads, and making neceſſary Cauſeways ‘ and Bridges.

I am, Gentlemen, your moſt humble Servant,

RICHARD PETERS."

It appears that the Commiſſioners conſidered this Letter (as the Secretary had deſired) as coming from the Governor himſelf, and according wrote him the following Anſwer.

§ This Commiſſion was dated the 12th of March, 1755.

‘ IN Obedience to your Honour's Commiſſion § to us, we have viewed and laid out ‘ the Roads leading from hence to the Yohiogain, and the Camp at Wills's Creek, and ‘ encloſed you have the Draughts thereof, and the Account of Diſburſements in execute- ‘ ing the Commiſſion. We have carefully avoided all unneceſſary Expence, and ſhall be ‘ pleaſed our Conduct meets with your Honour's Approbation. We received Mr. Pe- ‘ ters's Favour, of the 25th Current, at Night, ſignifying your Honour's Pleaſure that ‘ we proceed immediately to open the ſaid Roads, which we ſhall chearfully comply ‘ with; to that End we have diſperſed our Advertiſements through the Counties of Lan- ‘ caſter, York and Cumberland, to encourage Labourers to come to work, and we intend ‘ to ſet off to begin to clear upon Monday firſt.

‘ We have applied to Mr. James Wright (who happened to be here at the Time we ‘ received Mr. Peters's) and John Smith [both Members of Aſſembly] for the neceſſary Pro- ‘ viſions for the Workmen, and Waggons, who have agreed to ſupply us with whatever ‘ we ſhall want. We are,

Your Honour's moſt humble and moſt obedient Servants,

JAMES BURD, for ſelf, and George Croghan and Adam Hoops, by their Order,
JOHN ARMSTRONG, WILLIAM BUCHANAN."

All this While, and during the whole Intercourſe of the above Letters, there was no other Eſtimate whatever of the Expence of clearing the Roads but the Eight Hundred Pounds, mentioned in the Commiſſioners Letter of the 16th of April, till John Armſtrong, one of the ſaid Commiſſioners, in a Letter to the Secretary, dated Carliſle, May 3, 1755, after acknowledging the Receipt of the "Two Hundred Pounds, ſent by the Committee " of the Aſſembly, towards the Expence of the new Road," ſays, "Both Roads will " leave little of Fifteen Hundred Pounds, for it is impoſſible to tell what Expence unex- " pected Occurrences will ariſe to."

This being the true State of the Caſe, it appears clear, that the Eſtimate made by the Commiſſioners, and ſent down to the Governor, and by him firſt recommended to the Committee, and afterwards, on the 13th of May, laid before the Aſſembly, was in Fact an Expence of about Eight Hundred Pounds, which the Governor, from all Appearances, muſt have ſeen, or at leaſt heard of, however it had eſcaped his Memory at the Writing of his Meſſage of the 24th of September, herein before mentioned.

At

A Return of the Sheriff of the County of Northampton was brought to the House, whereby it appeared that William Edmonds was chosen Representative to serve in Assembly for the said County.——But a Defect being observed in the said Return (for that it was signed by Five Electors only, when the Law requires Six) the Clerk was ordered to write to the said Sheriff, and direct him forthwith to make a proper and legal Return to the House of the Representative chosen for the said County.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Message of the House, report, that they had been at the Governor's House, and were there informed, that he was out of Town; upon which they went to the Secretary's, but he not being at Home, they left Word that they desired he would, when the Governor returned, acquaint the House therewith.

That it would pleaſe the Governor to take no Notice of any Report that may be made, touching any Matter or Thing that may be moved or debated in the Houſe, until the ſame ſhall have paſſed into a Reſolve, nor give the leaſt Credit to ſuch Report. And laſtly,

That his own (the Speaker's) unwilling Miſtakes may be excuſed, and not imputed to the Houſe.

All which he had requeſted as the juſt Rights and Privileges of the Freemen of Pennſylvania, derived and confirmed to them by the Charters and Laws of the Province. And that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, "That the Houſe were entitled to them by "Law, but as it was uſual to claim them, as ſuch he therefore granted them."

Orders were drawn on the Provincial Treasurer for the Payment of Adam Terrence's and Caleb Evans's Accounts, and signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House.

Resolved, That this House will this Day adjourn to the First of December next.

The Speaker informed the House, "That after some Conversation with the Secretary this Morning on private Affairs, the Secretary occasionally mentioned two Letters, lately received, relating to the Indians on our Frontiers, and put them into the Speaker's Hands to read, which he accordingly did: That upon the Speaker's asking whether those Letters were not to be laid before the House, the Secretary said, the Governor had given him no Orders or Authority for that Purpose; and he thereupon took them back again: That the Speaker thought the said Letters contained Matters of great Importance to the Welfare of this Province, but as he could not presume to charge his Memory with the Particulars, so as to lay them before the House for the Foundation of their Conduct, he recommended the Affair to the House for their Consideration." ——— And it was thereupon Ordered, That Joseph Fox and William Callender wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the House having gone through the usual Business done at the First Sitting of Assembly, are inclined to adjourn, unless the Governor has any Thing to lay before them, particularly in regard to Indian Affairs, that may require their longer Stay. ——And the said Gentlemen are likewise directed, in case the Governor should say he had not any Thing to communicate to the House, to inform him of the proposed Time of Adjournment, and desire to know if he hath any Objection thereto.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Message of the House, return, and report, that they had delivered the same according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say, that if he had had any Business to lay before the House, he should have done it before now: And that, when the Members acquainted the Governor with the proposed Time of Adjournment, he was pleased to say, It was very well.

Upon Motion made, it was

Resolved, That this House will, until the next Sitting, continue the Supplies voted by the last Assembly for the Maintenance of the Indians about Shamokin, and other Parts of our Frontiers.

The Committee of Accounts reported, that they had examined George Croghan's Accounts, and were of Opinion, that there is a Balance of Fifty-nine Pounds and Six-pence due to him from the Province.——To which Report the House agreed; and an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treasurer, and signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House, for Payment of the same.

The House taking into Consideration the Report of the Committee of Accounts, on the Ohio Road Accounts, filled up the several blank Articles left by the said Committee, for the Commissioners Services, Loss of Horses, Tools, &c. and ordered the Clerk of this House to sign the said Accounts, and lodge them in the Hands of the Treasurer, that they may be paid off respectively as demanded.

Then the House adjourned to the First Day of December next. Adjournment

THE

1755. November 3. THE Repreſentatives of this Province having been, by Virtue of the Governor's Writs to the Sheriffs of the ſeveral Counties for that Purpoſe directed, ſummoned to meet him this Day in Aſſembly, the Houſe met accordingly.

Ordered, That William Callender and Joſeph Gibbons wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe are met in Purſuance of his Writs, and ready to receive any Thing he may have to lay before them; and deſire he would be pleaſed to furniſh them with a Copy of the Writs by which they were ſummoned.

A Letter to the Speaker from the Sheriff of the County of Northampton, incloſing a due Return of a Repreſentative choſen to ſerve in Aſſembly for the ſaid County, and excuſing his not having done the ſame before, was laid before the Houſe and read, together with the ſaid Return.

A Petition from Andrew Montour, Indian Interpreter, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that the Petitioner, ſince the late unfortunate Defeat at Monongahela (where he ſuffered conſiderable Damage) has been greatly ſtraitened in his Circumſtances, and is indebted to ſundry Perſons in ſeveral Sums of Money, for which his Goods are now taken in Execution, by Reaſon whereof his Family is greatly diſtreſſed; that the Petitioner is now employed in the Service of his Country againſt the common Enemy, and has left his Wife and Children in this Province; he therefore humbly prays that this Houſe will be pleaſed to afford his ſaid Family, during his Abſence, ſuch Relief, and provide for them in ſuch Manner, as their Circumſtances may require.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had waited upon the Governor, and delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he had a Meſſage now copying, in order to ſend down to the Houſe, which he believed would be ready in Half an Hour, if the Houſe would ſit ſo long; but in caſe it ſhould not be ready by that Time, he would acquaint the Houſe therewith by the Secretary, and ſend down by him a Copy of the Writs by which the Houſe were ſummoned.

The Houſe agreed to wait till they ſhould hear from the Governor; and ordered Candles to be brought in, which was done accordingly.

Calvin Cooper, returned a Repreſentative for the County of Lancaſter, appearing in the Houſe, took and ſubſcribed the Qualification by Law appointed to be taken by Members of Aſſembly, and then took his Seat in the Houſe accordingly.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe one of the Writs by which the Houſe were ſummoned, with ſundry Letters and Papers, which the Secretary informed the Houſe were the Foundation of the Meſſage intended to be ſent down by the Governor this Evening.

And the ſaid Writ, together with the ſaid Letters and Papers, being read, were ordered to lie on the Table for the Peruſal of the Members.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

‘ HAVING received Intelligence that a Party of French and Indians had deſtroyed ſome of the Settlements nigh the River Suſquehanna, killed a Number of the Inhabitants, and carried others off Priſoners, and that a conſiderable Body of them had paſſed the Allegheny Hills, and were moving towards the ſettled Parts of this Province, I iſſued Writs for calling you together; ſince which I have had repeated Accounts of the Motions of the Enemy, who, I am informed, are Fifteen Hundred in Number, and are encamped on the Suſquehanna, about thirty Miles above Harris's Ferry.

‘ The Papers that I have ordered to be laid before you will inform you of the Cruelties their Parties have committed upon the Inhabitants of this Province on both Sides the Suſquehanna, and that they have penetrated as far as the Kittochtinny Hills, within about eighty Miles of this City.

‘ This Invaſion was what we had the greateſt Reaſon to believe would be the Conſequence of General Braddock's Defeat, and the Retreat of the Regular Troops, and had my Hands been properly ſtrengthened, I ſhould have put this Province into ſuch a Poſture of Defence as might have prevented the Miſchiefs that have ſince happened.

‘ It ſeems clear from the different Accounts I have received, that the French have gained to their Intereſt the Delaware and Shawaneſe Indians, under the enſnaring Pretence of reſtoring them to their Country. Their intimate Knowledge of which will make them very dangerous Enemies to the Colonies in general, and to this in particular.

‘ As ſoon as I could inform myſelf of the Number and Motion of the French and Indians I ſignified the ſame to the neighbouring Governments, that they might not only be upon their Guard, but prepared to afford us ſuch Aſſiſtance as the Progreſs of

‘ the Enemy might make neceſſary; and at the ſame Time tranſmitted to his Majeſty's ‘ Miniſters the Intelligence I had received, and acquainted them with the defenceleſs ‘ State of the Province.

‘ The People in the Back Counties have on this important Occaſion behaved themſelves with uncommon Spirit and Activity; but complain much of the Want of Order and Diſcipline, as well as of Arms and Ammunition. As we have no Militia, it is not in my Power to form the People into ſuch regular Bodies as the preſent Exigency requires, and you muſt be ſenſible that I have neither Money, Arms or Ammunition at my Diſpoſal; all I have therefore been able to do has been to iſſue Commiſſions to ſuch as were willing to take them, and to encourage the People to defend themſelves and their Families till the Government was enabled to protect them.

‘ The cruel and bloody Diſpoſition of the Indians is known to all, and has been unhappily felt by too many of the Inhabitants: What the Deſigns of the Enemy are can only be conjectured from their Motions and Numbers, from which, and from the known Circumſtances of this Province, there is Reaſon to apprehend they have ſomething more in View than barely cutting off and deſtroying ſome of the Frontier Settlements.

‘ His Majeſty and the Proprietaries having committed the People of this Province to my Charge and Care, I have done, and ſtill ſhall very readily do, every Thing in my Power to fulfil that important Truſt; and to that End, I think it my Duty to call upon you to grant ſuch Supplies of Money as his Majeſty's Service, at this important and dangerous Criſis, may require, and to prepare a Bill for eſtabliſhing a regular Militia, exempting ſuch as are conſcientiouſly ſcrupulous of bearing Arms, it being impoſſible, without ſuch a Law, though large Sums of Money ſhould be raiſed, to prevent Confuſion and Diſorder, or conduct Matters with any Degree of Regularity.

‘ As the Enemy are now laying waſte the Country, and ſlaughtering the Inhabitants, there is no Time to be loſt; I therefore think it neceſſary upon this Occaſion to inform you, that I am ready and willing to conſent to a Law for emitting any Sum in Paper-Money the preſent Service may require, if Funds are eſtabliſhed for ſinking the ſame in Five Years: But I cannot think it conſiſtent either with the Powers of my Commiſſion, or the Duty I owe the Crown, to paſs any Bills of the ſame or a like Tenor of thoſe I have heretofore refuſed. And I hope you will not waſte your Time in offering me any ſuch Bills, as you muſt know from what has paſſed between me and the late Aſſembly, and the Information I now give you, it is not in my Power to conſent to; and I earneſtly recommend it to you, to afford in Time that Aſſiſtance which your bleeding Country ſtands ſo much in Need of.

Philadelphia, November 3, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

And the ſaid Meſſage being again read, and conſidered, was referred for further Conſideration to To-morrow Morning.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

November 4.

A Petition from ſundry Inhabitants of the Town and County of York was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that the Petitioners find Numbers in the ſaid County willing to inliſt, and bear Arms for the Defence of the Frontiers during the Continuance of the preſent Troubles, if they had any Aſſurance of Arms, Ammunition, and reaſonable Pay: That three Fourths of the Petitioners have neither Arms nor Ammunition, and cannot ſupply themſelves therewith, and are moreover without any proper Regulation for their Conduct: That there are no Forts to ſhelter their Wives and Families during their Abſence, ſhould they go forth againſt their Enemies. The Petitioners therefore pray, that this Houſe would take the Premiſes into Conſideration, and enact ſuch Law or Laws as they ſhall judge beſt adapted to remedy the ſame.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Governor's Meſſage being again read, and conſidered,

Ordered, That James Pemberton, William Callender, Joſeph Hamton, Joſeph Gibbons, Calvin Cooper, Francis Parvin and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor, in relation to that Part of the Governor's Meſſage which mentions the Diſaffection of the Indians in Alliance with this Government.

And the other Parts of the Governor's Meſſage were referred to farther Conſideration in the Afternoon.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

A Petition from divers Inhabitants of the County of Cheſter was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that they have certain Intelligence that the Indians have already begun to commit Hoſtilities within this Province: That the repeated Alarms of Indians advancing towards the Inhabitants, gives the Petitioners the higheſt Apprehenſions of Danger to themſelves and Families: That the Petitioners are highly ſenſible of the Zeal and Diligence of this Houſe for the Intereſt and Welfare of their Conſtituents, in contending for what ought in Juſtice to be granted: That the Petioners however beg Leave to aſſure the Houſe, that ſhould any Conſideration whatſoever, but the immediate Pre-

The Governor's Meſſage was again read, and conſidered, and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, was referred to farther Conſideration.

A Petition from Thomas Craig and Hugh Wilſon, of the Forks of Delaware, in the County of Northampton, was laid before the Houſe and read, ſetting forth the great Danger the Petitioners apprehend the Inhabitants of ſaid Forks to be in by Reaſon of the late Incurſions of the Indians, and praying that ſome Arms and Ammunition may be granted them for their Defence. Ordered to lie on the Table.

Adjournment November 5. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor, relating to that Part of the Governor's Meſſage which mentions the Diſaffection of the Indians, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

The Rules uſually obſerved by the Aſſemblies of this Province being read, Reſolved, That the two following Rules be added thereto, viz.

1. That thoſe Members who do not appear in the Houſe within Half an Hour after the Aſſembly Bell ceaſes to ring, ſhall pay One Shilling.

2. That every Member who ſhall abſent himſelf without Leave of the Houſe, or ſending a Letter containing the Reaſons of his Abſence, ſhall forfeit his whole Wages dureing that Sitting. And the Sufficiency of the Reaſons contained in ſuch Letters ſhall be determined by an immediate Vote of the Houſe.

All which Forfeitures ſhall be paid into the Charity Box, for the Uſe of the Provincial Hoſpital.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. SINCE the Iſſuing Writs for calling us together, the Governor is pleaſed to let us know, by his Meſſage of the Third Inſtant, that he had repeated Accounts of the Motions of a Party of French and Indians, who had deſtroyed ſome of the Settlements nigh the River Suſquehanna, who, he is informed, "are Fifteen Hundred in Number, "and are encamped on that River, about Thirty Miles above Harris's Ferry;" but we cannot find by the Papers and Letters the Governor has been pleaſed to lay before us, that Fifteen Hundred of the Enemy are encamped on Suſquehanna, about Thirty Miles above Harris's Ferry, or on any Part of that River. Nevertheleſs, it is too evident that the Back Settlers are greatly alarmed and terrified, and that Cruelties have been committed upon the Inhabitants, principally within the late Purchaſe made by the Proprietaries the laſt Year at Albany, by ſome Parties of the Delaware and Shawaneſe Indians, joined perhaps (though that is not very clear) with a few of the French Mohawks, who, ſeveral of the Accounts ſay, were to be followed by a large Number of Indians and French from Fort Duqueſne, with a Deſign of dividing themſelves into Parties to fall upon the remote Inhabitants of this Province and Virginia.

By theſe Hoſtilities of the French, and the Indians who have engaged to join them, the Indians who are inclined ſtill to preſerve their Alliances with us ſeem equally terrified, leſt the remote Inhabitants and the Engliſh generally ſhould revenge upon them the Barbarities committed by Parties of the Delawares and Shawaneſe Indians. Therefore, in our Opinion, it requires great Care and Judgment in conducting our Indian Affairs at this critical Juncture; for as the Six Nations are in Alliance with the Crown of Great-Britain, and Numbers of them joined the King's Forces under General Johnſon, who acted with great Fidelity and Bravery: It ſeems abſolutely neceſſary on our Part to requeſt the Governor would be pleaſed to inform us, whether he knows of any Diſguſt or Injury the Delawares or Shawaneſe have ever received from this Province, and by what Means their Affections can be ſo alienated as not only to take up the Hatchet againſt us, in Breach of their Dependance upon the Six Nations, by whom they were long ſince ſubdued, but of the friendly Interviews and Treaties we have ſo repeatedly and very lately held with them and the Indians of the Six United Nations both before and ſince the Defection of Part of the Shawaneſe under P. Chatier, to whom particularly this Government interpoſed their good Offices, in procuring the Liberty, and ſending Home a Number of their People, as we apprehended, very much to their Satisfaction.

We likewiſe requeſt the Governor would be pleaſed to inform us, whether he has any Knowledge of the Inclinations of the Six Nations, or what Part they have acted in relation to this cruel Incurſion of the Delawares and Shawaneſe within the Limits of this Province.

Province. And that he would lay before us the Indian Treaty, held at Philadelphia in September last, as we are resolved to do every Thing in our Power to redress them, if they shall appear to have received any Wrong or Injury at our Hands, though nothing of that Kind hath come to our Knowledge; and if possible to regain their Affections, rather than by any Neglect or Refusal of that Justice we owe to them and all our Indian Allies, entail upon ourselves and our Posterity the Calamities of a cruel Indian War; of which we apprehend there may be too much Danger, unless the most speedy and cautious Methods are taken to prevent it."

1755. November 5.

And the foregoing Message being signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House,

Ordered, That Griffith Owen and Samuel Brown wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same.

A Petition from William Moore, and Thirty-five others, Inhabitants of the County of Chester, praying that this House would not keep up unnecessary Disputes with the Governor, nor, by Reason of their religious Scruples, longer neglect the Defence of the Province, was presented to the House and read, and Ordered to lie on the Table.

Sundry Letters from the Agents in Great-Britain, to the Committee of Correspondence, were laid before the House and read.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down to the House a Message in Writing, together with sundry Papers therein referred to, which were severally read, and the Message is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

'I THIS Minute received Intelligence, that the Settlements at a Place called the Great Cove, in the County of Cumberland, are destroyed, the Houses burnt, and 'such of the Inhabitants as could not make their Escape either slaughtered or made Pri- 'soners. This, and the other Cruelties committed upon our Frontiers, has so alarmed 'the remaining Inhabitants, that they are quitting their Habitations, and crowding into 'the more settled Parts of the Province, which in their Turn will become the Frontier 'if some Stop is not speedily put to the cruel Ravages of these bloody Invaders. In this 'melancholy Situation of our Affairs, any Delay may be attended with the most fatal 'Consequences; I must therefore again most earnestly press you, upon this further In- 'telligence, to strengthen my Hands, and enable me speedily to draw forth the Forces 'of this Province against his Majesty's Enemies, and to afford the necessary and timely 'Assistance to the Back Inhabitants.

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

Philadelphia, November 5, 1755.
Four o'Clock, P. M. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Message of the House, return, and report, that they had delivered the same according to Order.

The Governor's Message being again read, and considered,

Resolved, That the Sum of Sixty Thousand Pounds be, at this Time, granted to the King's Use; and that the said Sum be struck in Paper Bills of Credit, and sunk by a Tax of Six-pence per Pound, and Ten Shillings per Head, yearly, for Four Years, on all the Estates, Real and Personal, and Taxables, within this Province.

Ordered, That Joseph Stretch, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, George Ashbridge, Calvin Cooper and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare and bring in a Bill pursuant to the foregoing Resolve.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment November 6.

A Petition from sundry Inhabitants of the County and Borough of Lancaster, praying, that this House would grant them a Supply of Arms and Ammunition, and take such other Measures for their Safety as to the Wisdom of the House should seem proper, was presented to the House and read, and Ordered to lie on the Table.

A Petition from divers Inhabitants of the Townships of Tinnecom, Nocamixon and Springfield, in the County of Bucks, was presented to the House and read, setting forth the great Terrors the Petitioners are under, occasioned by the Ravages of the Indians on the Borders of this and the neighbouring Provinces, and praying for a Supply of Arms and Ammunition, and that some Method may be fallen upon to enable the Inhabitants to distinguish our friendly Indians from others. Ordered to lie on the Table.

It being observed by the House, that all the Names, subscribed to the foregoing Petition from Bucks County, were in one Handwriting, and some of them on a separate Piece of Paper, pinned to the said Petition; and as the House are liable to be greatly imposed upon by admitting Petitions signed in that Manner,

Resolved, That this House will not for the future receive any Petitions but what are signed in the proper Handwriting of the Petitioners respectively.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment Post Meridiem

A Bill for striking the Sum of Sixty Thousand Pounds in Bills of Credit, and for granting the same to the King's Use; and to provide a Fund for sinking the same, by a Tax of Six-pence per Pound, and Ten Shillings per Head, yearly, for four Years, on all the Estates

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

November 7. The Houſe being informed, that ſundry Freeholders of the City of Philadelphia were attending without, and deſired Admittance, in order to preſent an Addreſs to the Houſe, they were called in; and they accordingly preſented the following Addreſs, ſigned by Twenty-three of the People called Quakers, which was read by the Clerk, and they then withdrew, viz.

To the REPRESENTATIVES of the Freemen of the Province of Pennſylvania, in GENERAL ASSEMBLY met, at Philadelphia, Eleventh Month 7, 1755.

The ADDRESS of ſome of the People called Quakers, in the ſaid Province, on Behalf of themſelves and others.

THE Conſideration of the Meaſures which have lately been purſued, and are now propoſed, having been weightily impreſſed on our Minds, we apprehend that we ſhould fall ſhort of our Duty to you, to ourſelves, and to our Brethren in religious Fellowſhip, if we did not in this Manner inform you, that although we ſhall at all Times heartily and freely contribute, according to our Circumſtances, either by the Payment of Taxes, or in ſuch other Manner as may be judged neceſſary, towards the Exigencies of Government; and ſincerely deſire that due Care may be taken, and proper Funds provided, for raiſing Money to cultivate our Friendſhip with our Indian Neighbours, and to ſupport ſuch of our Fellow-Subjects who are or may be in Diſtreſs, and for ſuch other like benevolent Purpoſes: Yet as the raiſing Sums of Money, and putting them into the Hands of Committees, who may apply them to Purpoſes inconſiſtent with the peaceable Teſtimony we profeſs, and have borne to the World, appears to us in its Conſequences to be deſtructive of our religious Liberties, we apprehend many among us will be under the Neceſſity of ſuffering rather than conſenting thereto by the Payment of a Tax for ſuch Purpoſes, and thus the Fundamental Part of our Conſtitution may be eſſentially affected, and that free Enjoyment of Liberty of Conſcience, for the Sake of which our Fore fathers left their native Country, and ſettled this, then a Wilderneſs, by Degrees be violated.

We ſincerely aſſure you we have no temporal Motives for thus addreſſing you, and could we have preſerved Peace in our own Minds, and with each other, we ſhould have declined it, being unwilling to give you any unneceſſary Trouble, and deeply ſenſible of your Difficulty in diſcharging the Truſt committed to you irreproachably in theſe perilous Times, which hath engaged our fervent Deſires, that the immediate Inſtructions of ſupreme Wiſdom may influence your Minds, and that being preſerved in a ſteady Attention thereto, you may be enabled to ſecure Peace and Tranquility to yourſelves and thoſe you repreſent, by purſuing Meaſures conſiſtent with our peaceable Principles; and then we truſt we may continue humbly to confide in the Protection of that Almighty Power, whoſe Providence has heretofore been as Walls and Bulwarks round about us."

The Bill for ſtriking the Sum of Sixty Thouſand Pounds in Bills of Credit, and for granting the ſame to the King's Uſe; and to provide a Fund for ſinking the ſame by a Tax of Six-pence per Pound, and Ten Shillings per Head, yearly, for four Years, on all the Eſtates, Real and Perſonal, and Taxables, within this Province, was read the ſecond time, debated, and ordered to be tranſcribed for a third Reading.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, George Aſhbridge, Calvin Cooper, Francis Parvin and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of a Bill for ſupplying the Weſtern and Northern Indians, Friends and Allies of Great-Britain,

Ordered to lie on the Table.

A Message from the Governor, by the Secretary:

SIR,

" The Indians have signified to the Governor, by Mr. Weiser, that they have some" thing to say to the Governor, his wise Men, and the People of this Province; and the " Governor will be at the State-house at Three o'Clock this Afternoon for that Purpose.
" The Governor orders me to give you this Notice, that you may be present if you " choose it."

Resolved, That this House will attend the Governor this Afternoon, to hear what the Indians propose to say.

Ordered, That William Peters and Francis Parvin have Leave to be absent the Remainder of this Sitting, on urgent Business.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Post Meridiem

David M'Connaughy, returned a Representative for the County of York, appearing in the House, took and subscribed the Qualification by Law appointed to be taken by Members of Assembly, and then took his Seat in the House accordingly.

A Petition from a considerable Number of the Inhabitants of the Frontier Settlements, in the County of York, was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that a savage and cruel Enemy are at this Time upon our Borders, barbarously murdering our Friends and Fellow-Subjects, while the Petitioners are unable to afford them the wanted Assistance; that the Petitioners would have been in more unhappy Circumstances, were it not for the generous Supply of Arms and Ammunition sent them by this House, for which they beg Leave to return their hearty and most grateful Acknowledgments; that the said Arms and Ammunition are put into good Hands, by Means whereof those who have received them are spirited up to withstand the common Enemy. The Petitioners therefore pray, that this House would enable them yet more to shew with what Resolution they shall endeavour to defend their Lives and Properties, their King and Country.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down to the House a Message in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

'YOU have been now sitting six Days, and instead of strengthening my Hands, and providing for the Safety and Defence of the People and Province, in this Time of imminent Danger, you have sent me a Message wherein you talk of regaining the Affections of the Indians now employed in laying waste the Country, and butchering the Inhabitants, and of enquiring what Injustice they have received, and into the Causes A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'of their falling from their Alliance with us, and taking Part with the French. Such 'Language at this Time, and while the Province is in its preſent Circumſtances, ſeems 'to me very extraordinary, as no Complaint has ever to my Knowledge been made by 'them of any Injury done them.

'I am ſorry you ſhould at this Time ſend me the Bill I have juſt now received, when 'I had heretofore refuſed my Aſſent to one of the ſame Kind, and in my Meſſage of the 'Third Inſtant informed you, that I could not give my Conſent to ſuch a Bill.

'I ſhall not enter into a Diſpute whether the Proprietaries ought to be taxed or not. '——It is ſufficient for me, that they have given me no Power in that Caſe.——And 'I cannot think it conſiſtent either with my Duty or Safety, in Matters of Govern-'ment, to exceed the Powers of my Commiſſion, much leſs to do what that Commiſ-'ſion expreſsly prohibits.

'Upon the repeated Accounts I have had of the miſerable Situation of the Back In-'habitants, and the Diſorder and Confuſion among thoſe that are aſſembled in their 'Defence, the Council have unanimouſly adviſed me to go into the Back Counties, to 'put Things in the beſt Order poſſible, and to afford my Countenance and Aſſiſtance 'to thoſe that are willing to take up Arms in Defence of their Country. This I de-'clined doing till I knew what you would propoſe upon the preſent Occaſion; and 'having now received from you a Bill that you well knew I could not give my Con-'ſent to, I deſpair of your doing any Thing, and ſhall therefore immediately ſet off for 'the Back Counties; and if they have not all the Aſſiſtance their preſent Diſtreſſes make 'neceſſary, it will not be for want of Inclination in me but Power.

'I ſhall take with me a Quorum of the Council, and if you ſhall have any Bills to 'propoſe that are conſiſtent with the Duties of my Station, and the juſt Rights of Go-'vernment, I ſhall readily give my Aſſent to them, whenever they are brought to me.

And the ſaid Meſſage being again read, and conſidered,

Ordered, That Joſeph Fox and William Edmonds wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire to know his determinate Reſolution, whether he will or will not paſs the Bill now before him for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe; and if he does not incline to paſs the ſaid Bill, that he would be pleaſed to return it to the Houſe.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, when the Members enquired whether he would or would not paſs the Sixty Thouſand Pound Bill, "That if "the Houſe would ſend him a Meſſage in Writing on that Head he would return them "an Anſwer;" and upon the Members aſking the Governor, whether he would return the ſaid Bill to the Houſe or not, he was pleaſed to ſay, "That he ſhould not return "the ſaid Bill to the Houſe."

The ſaid Members brought to the Houſe a Copy of a Minute of Council of this Morning, relating to Indian Affairs, which they ſaid was put into their Hands by the Secretary, in order to be laid before the Houſe.

And the ſaid Minute of Council was read, and ordered to lie on the Table for the Peruſal of the Members.

The Governor's Meſſage of this Afternoon, being again read, and conſidered,

Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch, Benjamin Franklin, Joſeph Hamton, George Aſhbridge, James Webb, David M'Connaughy and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor, in Anſwer thereto.

Adjournment November 10.

Then the Houſe adjourned to next Second-day, at Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem

The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of the Eighth Inſtant, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

Upon Motion made,

Reſolved, That this Houſe will allow ſuch reaſonable Expences as Conrad Weiſer may be put to, in providing the Indians now in Town with Neceſſaries.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'AFTER the Indians had in Public demanded the Aſſiſtance of this Government, 'and deſired to know what we intended to do, and whether they were to depend 'upon us for Protection, or take Care of themſelves;——they came to me in Council, 'and informed me by Mr. Weiſer, the Provincial Interpreter, that they and their 'Brethren living upon the Suſquehanna, who were about Three Hundred Fighting 'Men, were now the only Indians in this Part of the Continent, beſides the Six Nations, 'that remained firm to the Engliſh Intereſt; the French having, at a great Expence,

1755. November 10.

'and by Variety of Artifices, gained to their Alliance not only the Delawares and Shawaneſe, but other very numerous Nations to the Weſtward, compared to whom they were but a Handful: That the French and thoſe their Allies were coming down againſt the Engliſh, and had given them Notice to get out of their Way: That the Body of the Six Nations were employed in protecting their own Country, and aſſiſting the Engliſh to the Northward, and could not therefore afford them any Help at ſo great a Diſtance; wherefore they declared, that they and their Brethren were willing to act in Conjunction with the Engliſh againſt the French and their Allies, but that in their preſent Situation and Circumſtances they could not take the Weight of the War upon themſelves.

'What they deſire from us at preſent is, that we would put the Hatchet into their Hands; that we would ſend a Number of our young Men to act in Conjunction with their Warriors, and furniſh the neceſſary Arms, Ammunition and Proviſions; that we would build ſome ſtrong Houſes for the Protection of their old Men, Women and Children; and that they may be ſupplied from Time to Time with Neceſſaries.

'They further inſiſt upon knowing the Reſolutions of this Government as to theſe Matters, and upon having an explicit Anſwer without further Delay, that they may prepare to act with us, or take the neceſſary Meaſures for their own Security. They have aſſured me, in a very ſolemn and peremptory Manner, that this is the laſt Application they intend to make; in which if they do not ſucceed, they can have no longer any Dependance upon us, but muſt leave us as an infatuated People to the Mercy of our Enemies.

'I muſt obſerve, Gentlemen, that I cannot but look upon this as one of the moſt important Matters that ever came under your Conſideration. You know our own critical Situation, and cannot be Strangers to theirs: The Enemy is daily laying waſte our Country, and it cannot be expected that theſe Indians will expoſe themſelves for us to the Fury of Nations far more powerful than themſelves, unleſs we vigorouſly ſupport and aſſiſt them.——Indians are of a martial Spirit, and, at ſuch a Seaſon as this, muſt be in Action. If therefore they find that we continue to refuſe either to act in Defence of ourſelves or them, they muſt neceſſarily leave us, and throw themſelves for Protection into the Hands of the French, our buſy Enemy, who will ſpare no Expence or Trouble to gain ſuch an Advantage, and are at this Time uſing every Artifice to corrupt and alienate them from our Intereſt.

'How fatal this muſt prove to us, and all the Engliſh Colonies, you, Gentlemen, cannot be ignorant. The Effects of our paſt Diſputes have already been too ſeverely felt, and it is to be feared, if the preſent Politics and pacific Meaſures are perſiſted in, the Conſequences will be ſtill more dreadful. Let me, therefore, earneſtly recommend it to you, that you will enable me to put the Hatchet into their Hands, and afford them the Aſſiſtance of the Province in ſuch a Manner as they deſire.

'Your vigorous and hearty Compliance may be a Means of reſtoring Quiet to our poor Back Settlers, who are daily calling out for that Protection from us which is juſtly due to them. But if, through your Refuſal, theſe Indians ſhould be obliged not only to leave us, but to act againſt us, all the dreadful Conſequences of it muſt be left at your Door; for I am ready and deſirous to do any Thing, conſiſtent with my Duty to the Crown, for the Protection and Aſſiſtance as well of theſe our Allies, as of the Inhabitants of this Province in general.

'Upon this important Affair, Gentlemen, and at the preſſing Inſtances of theſe Indians, I have put off my Journey to the Back Settlements, although I conceive my Preſence among them at this Time to be extremely neceſſary. Let me, therefore, recommend Diſpatch to you, as theſe Indians are ſo preſſing to be gone, in order to ſee after their Families and Friends, declaring, in the ſtrongeſt Manner, that they have not a Moment to loſe, and muſt take their Meaſures immediately.

The foregoing Meſſage being again read, and conſidered,

Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch, Benjamin Franklin, Joſeph Hamton, George Aſhbridge, James Webb, David M'Connaughy and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor in Anſwer thereto.

A Petition from ſundry Inhabitants of the Forks of Delaware, Lower and Upper Smithfield, in the County of Northampton, praying, that a Militia Law may be paſſed as ſoon as poſſible, was preſented to the Houſe and read, and Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Bill for ſupplying the Weſtern and Northern Indians, Friends and Allies of Great-Britain, with Goods at more eaſy Rates, ſupporting an Agent or Agents among them, and preventing Abuſes in the Indian Trade, was read the ſecond time, and ordered to be tranſcribed for a third Reading.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment. November 11.

The Houſe being informed that Edward Kelly had lately committed ſundry Miſdemeanours in his Office as Door-keeper to this Houſe, he was called in, and interrogated concerning 1755. concerning the ſame; and he not having any Thing to offer in his own Vindication, was directed to withdraw.

November 11. Reſolved, That the ſaid Kelly be diſmiſſed the Service of this Houſe.

A Petition from David Edwards, of the City of Philadelphia, praying to be appointed Door-keeper to this Houſe, was preſented to the Houſe and read.

Reſolved, That the ſaid David Edwards be Door-keeper to this Houſe for the Year enſuing.

A Petition from ſundry Inhabitants of the Townſhip of Hanover, in Lancaſter County, praying for Arms and Ammunition, was preſented to the Houſe and read, and

Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of Yeſternight, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

The Treaty held with the Indians in Auguſt laſt was laid before the Houſe and read.

The Bill, entituled, An Act for ſupplying the Weſtern and Northern Indians, Friends and Allies of Great-Britain, with Goods at more eaſy Rates, ſupporting an Agent or Agents among them, and preventing Abuſes in the Indian Trade, being tranſcribed, was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of the Eighth Inſtant, being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. THE Houſe came together at this Time with the ſincereſt Diſpoſitions to avoid, if poſſible, all Diſputes with the Governor on any Account whatever. And being deeply affected with the preſent diſtreſsful Circumſtances of the Frontier Counties, determined to do, for the public Safety and Welfare, every Thing that could reaſonably be expected from them, either as dutiful Subjects to the Crown, or Lovers of their Country.

Accordingly, on reading the Governor's Meſſage of the Third Inſtant, with the Papers accompanying the ſame, a Bill was immediately propoſed for raiſing a large Sum for the King's Service, and to ſtrike the ſame in Paper Bills, and provide a Fund for ſinking the Whole within Five Years, as recommended by the Governor.

In the mean Time, as this Colony had been founded on Maxims of Peace, and had hitherto maintained an uninterrupted Friendſhip with the Natives, by a ſtrict Obſervation of Treaties, conferring Benefits on them from Time to Time, as well as doing them Juſtice on all Occaſions, it could not but ſurprize us to hear, that our old Friends were on a ſudden become our cruel Enemies. And as the Governor was pleaſed to tell us, "the French had gained the Delawares and Shawaneſe to their Intereſt, under the "enſnaring Pretence of Reſtoring them to their Country;" it ſeemed natural and proper for us to enquire, on this Occaſion, whether the Indians complained of any Injury from this Province, either in regard to their Lands, or on any other Account; and to expreſs our Readineſs to do them Juſtice (in caſe ſuch Complaints were well founded) before Hoſtilities were returned, and the Miſchief grew more extenſive. For our better Information in this Matter, and without intending the leaſt Offence to the Governor, we requeſted he would be pleaſed to lay before us the laſt Treaty, held with them in September. Our Meſſage to this Effect was ſent up on the ſecond Day after our entering on Buſineſs. But the Governor vouchſafed us no Anſwer till now, and ſeems exceedingly diſpleaſed with the Application.

From the Governor's immediate Refuſal of his Aſſent to a Bill of ſo much Importance, when he had but "juſt received it" from us, and his ſaying, it is "of the ſame Kind "with one he had before refuſed his Aſſent to," we apprehend his Refuſal ariſes from his not having allowed himſelf Time to conſider it. Indeed all Bills for raiſing Money for Public Uſe, are ſo far of the ſame Kind; but this differs greatly from every former Bill that has been offered him, and all the Amendments (of any Conſequence) which he propoſed to the Bill he laſt refuſed, are in this Bill admitted, ſave that for totally exempting the Proprietary Eſtate. And we being as deſirous as the Governor to avoid any Diſpute on that Head, have ſo framed the Bill as to ſubmit it entirely to his Majeſty's Royal Determination, whether that Eſtate has or has not a Right to ſuch Exemption. There is ſo much Time allowed by the Bill, that the King's Pleaſure may poſſibly be known even before the firſt Aſſeſsment; but it is moreover provided, that if at any Time, during the Continuance of the Act, the Crown ſhould think fit to declare, that the Eſtates of the Proprietaries in this Province ought to be exempted, in ſuch Caſe the Tax, though aſſeſſed, ſhall not be levied, or if any Part has been levied, the ſame ſhall be refunded to the Proprietaries, and an additional Tax laid on the People to ſupply the Deficiency. We cannot conceive any Thing more fair and reaſonable than this; nor could could we possibly imagine that the Governor would object to it, or what he could object to it, since the Words in his Commission, which he is pleased to suppose contain an express Prohibition of his passing such a Bill as this, do not appear to us to have any such Meaning, and we presume will not to any others who may be thought more impartial. If it be one of the "just Rights of Government" that the Proprietary Estate should be exempted in a Tax for the common Defence of all Estates in the Province, those just Rights are well understood in England; the Proprietaries are there upon the Spot, and so can the more easily solicit their own Cause, and make their Right of Exemption appear, if such a Right there be; and were they at as great a Distance as we are, they might nevertheless safely confide in his Majesty's known Wisdom and impartial Justice, that all their just Rights would be duly preserved. The Equity of their being taxed on this Occasion for their Estate in this Province, has appeared so plain even to their best Friends here, that they entered into a voluntary Subscription to pay for them, what they supposed the Tax might amount to, being assured, as they said, that if the Proprietaries were present, it would be altogether unnecessary, and that they would freely repay what should be thus advanced for them; which Subscription was put into the Governor's Hands for his Security. If the Proprietaries should chuse to shew their Good-will to the Service, this Bill, if passed, might give them a happy Opportunity of doing it, by generously soliciting the King's Approbation to the Law, and refusing to petition for the Exemption. And since this Right of Exemption contended for in their Behalf, is never like to be settled here between the Governor and Assembly, the Bill puts it in the proper Train to be finally determined, and all future Disputes about it effectually prevented.

Our Assemblies have of late had so many Supply Bills, and of such different Kinds, rejected on various Pretences; Some for not complying with obsolete occasional Instructions (though other Acts exactly of the same Tenor had been past since those Instructions, and received the Royal Assent;) Some for being inconsistent with the supposed Spirit of an Act of Parliament, when the Act itself did not any way affect us, being made expresly for other Colonies; Some for being, as the Governor was pleased to say, "of an extraordinary Nature," without informing us wherein that extraordinary Nature consisted; and others for disagreeing with new discovered Meanings, and forced Constructions of a Clause in the Proprietary Commission; that we are now really at a Loss to divine what Bill can possibly pass. The Proprietary Instructions are Secrets to us; and we may spend much Time, and much of the Public Money, in preparing and framing Bills for Supply, which, after all, must, from those Instructions, prove abortive. If we are thus to be driven from Bill to Bill, without one solid Reason afforded us; and can raise no Money for the King's Service and Relief or Security of our Country, till we fortunately hit on the only Bill the Governor is allowed to pass, or till we consent to make such as the Governor or Proprietaries direct us to make, we see little Use of Assemblies in this Particular; and think we might as well leave it to the Governor or Proprietaries to make for us what Supply Laws they please, and save ourselves and the Country the Expence and Trouble. All Debates and all Reasonings are vain, where Proprietary Instructions, just or unjust, right or wrong, must inviolably be observed. We have only to find out, if we can, what they are, and then submit and obey. But surely the Proprietaries Conduct, whether as Fathers of their Country, or Subjects to their King, must appear extraordinary, when it is considered that they have not only formally refused to bear any Part of our yearly heavy Expences in cultivating and maintaining Friendship with the Indians, though they reap such immense Advantages by that Friendship; but they now, by their Lieutenant, refuse to contribute any Part towards resisting an Invasion of the King's Colony, committed to their Care; or to submit their Claim of Exemption to the Decision of their Sovereign.

In Fine, we have the most sensible Concern for the poor distressed Inhabitants of the Frontiers. We have taken every Step in our Power, consistent with the just Rights of the Freemen of Pennsylvania, for their Relief, and we have Reason to believe, that in the Midst of their Distresses they themselves do not wish us to go farther. Those who would give up essential Liberty, to purchase a little temporary Safety, deserve neither Liberty nor Safety.—Such as were inclined to defend themselves, but unable to purchase Arms and Ammunition, have, as we are informed, been supplied with both, as far as Arms could be procured, out of Monies given by the last Assembly for the King's Use; and the large Supply of Money offered by this Bill, might enable the Governor to do every Thing else that should be judged necessary for their farther Security, if he shall think fit to accept it. Whether he could, as he supposes, "if his Hands had been properly "strenghtened, have put the Province into such a Posture of Defence, as might have "prevented the present Mischiefs," seems to us uncertain; since late Experience in our neighbouring Colony of Virginia (which had every Advantage for that Purpose that could be desired) shows clearly, that it is next to impossible to guard effectually an extended Frontier, settled by scattered single Families at two or three Miles Distance, so as to 1755. November 11. ſecure them from the inſidious Attacks of ſmall Parties of ſkulking Murderers:—But thus much is certain, that by refuſing our Bills from Time to Time, by which great Sums were ſeaſonably offered, he has rejected all the Strength that Money could afford him; and if his Hands are ſtill weak or unable, he ought only to blame himſelf, or thoſe who have tied them.

If the Governor proceeds on his Journey, and takes a Quorum of his Council with him, we hope, ſince he retains our Bill, that it will be ſeriouſly and duly conſidered by them; and that the ſame Regard for the Public Welfare, which induced them unanimouſly to adviſe his intended Journey, will induce them as unanimouſly to adviſe his Aſſent. We agree therefore to his keeping the Bill, earneſtly requeſting he would reconſider it attentively; and ſhall be ready at any Time to meet him for the Purpoſe of enacting it into a Law."

The Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of Yeſternight, being likewiſe tranſcribed, was again read, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

WE have conſidered the Governor's Meſſage of Yeſterday, relating to the Application and preſſing Inſtances of the Indians, and are glad to find, that he is at length prevailed on to declare himſelf "ready and deſirous to do any Thing, conſiſtent with "his Duty to the CROWN, for the Protection and Aſſiſtance, as well of our Allies, as of "the Inhabitants of this Province in general." We never have, and we hope never ſhall, deſire him to do any Thing inconſiſtent with that Duty. He has it now in his Power to do what he may think the Exigence requires, for the Service of the Crown, the Protection of our Allies, and of the Inhabitants of the Province. As Captain General he has, by the Royal Charter, full Authority to raiſe Men; and the Bill now in his Hands, granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds, will enable him to pay the Expences. We grant the Money chearfully, though the Tax to ſink it will be a heavy one; and we hope the Bill will receive his Aſſent immediately."

And the foregoing Meſſages being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch and Richard Pearn wait upon the Governor, and deliver the ſame, together with the Bill for ſupplying the Weſtern and Northern Indians, Friends and Allies of Great-Britain, with Goods at more eaſy Rates, ſupporting an Agent or Agents among them, and preventing Abuſes in the Indian Trade, and acquaint the Governor, that the Houſe deſire he would be pleaſed to give his Aſſent to the ſaid Bill.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

November 12. The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſages of the Houſe, and the Bill relating to the Indian Trade, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he ſhould take the ſaid Bill into Conſideration, and give it all the Diſpatch in his Power.

Ordered, That Derrick Hogeland have Leave to be abſent the Remainder of this Sitting, on urgent Buſineſs.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The following Repreſentation, ſigned by William Plumſted, Mayor of the City of Philadephia, and One Hundred and Thirty-three others, was preſented to the Houſe and read, viz.

A REPRESENTATION to the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the Province of Pennſylvania, by ſeveral of the principal Inhabitants of the City of Philadelphia, in ſaid Province.

GENTLEMEN,

A Repreſentation of the Mayor and ſeveral of the Inhabitants of Philadelphia.

AT a Time when a bold and barbarous Enemy has advanced within about One Hundred Miles of this Metropolis, carrying Murder and Deſolation along with them;——and when we ſee our Country already ſtained with the Blood of many of its Inhabitants, and upwards of a Thouſand Families who very lately enjoyed Peace and Comfort in their own Habitations, now diſperſed over the Province, many of them in the moſt miſerable and ſtarving Condition, expoſed to all the Hardſhips and Severity of the Seaſon:——We ſay, in ſuch a Situation, we ſhould think ourſelves greatly wanting in Regard for our perſonal Safety, as well as in Compaſſion for our bleeding and ſuffering Fellow-Subjects, if we did not thus publicly join our Names to the Number of thoſe who are requeſting you to paſs a Law, in order to put the Province in a Poſture of Defence, and put a Stop to thoſe cruel and ſavage Outrages, which muſt otherwiſe ſoon prove our Ruin.

We hope we ſhall always be enabled to preſerve that Reſpect to you, which we would willingly pay to thoſe who are the faithful Repreſentatives of the Freemen of this Province. But, on the preſent Occaſion, you will forgive us, Gentlemen, if we aſſume Characters ſomething higher than that of humble Suitors, praying for the Defence of our Lives and Properties, as a Matter of Grace and Favour on your Side: You will permit us to make a poſitive and immediate Demand of it, as a Matter of perfect and unalienable Right on our own Parts, both by the Laws of God and Man; and to this we are induced by the following Conſiderations. 1755. November 12.

Lives

1. The Approach of Winter brings the dreadful Proſpect of the continual Increaſe of the Inroads of thoſe preying Savages upon our Inhabitants, unleſs a proper Force is immediately provided to protect them. 2. The proper and natural Force of every Country is its Militia, without which we know of no Government that ever could ſubſiſt itſelf; for it is highly unjuſt to think that the Burden of Defence ſhould fall upon Individuals, when the Deſign of Government is, to obtain general Security by a general Union of the Force of Individuals. 3. Conſequently we conceive it a Subverſion of the very End of Government, to deny that legal Protection to the Governed, for obtaining of which, Government was originally inſtituted. 4. In our own particular Caſe, although Men could be found willing to riſk their Lives for the public Safety, and could be ſubjected to neceſſary Order and Diſcipline, without the Aid or Encouragement of a Law (which we cannot conceive poſſible) yet it would neither be adviſeable for the Sake of ſuch Men themſelves, nor yet for the Sake of public Liberty, to keep up an armed Force in the Country, without the Sanction and Authority of Law, eſpecially as it is ſo much in your Power to give ſuch a Sanction and Authority. 5. Unleſs the Defence of this Province, and of our Indian Allies is made the Act of the whole Legiſlature, and vigorouſly gone into, the Indians who are now in Town, have publicly declared for themſelves, and for their Friends yet in our Intereſt, that they can no longer repoſe any Faith in us; but muſt ſhift for their own Safety, and leave us to ourſelves, as a People void of Spirit or Conduct. 6. We are of Opinion that no Sums of Money, however great, will anſwer the Purpoſes of Defence, without ſuch a Law as we deſire. We cannot, therefore, think that it ſhews a proper Concern for the Lives of the People of this Province, to propoſe Sums of Money in the Room of ſuch a neceſſary Law; and to propoſe raiſing theſe Sums too in a Manner that muſt occaſion Diſputes and Delays, when there are ſo many unexceptionable Ways and Means agreeable, to which the People in general are very ready to pay any reaſonable Proportion of their Property for the Preſervation of the Remainder.

Upon the Whole, Gentlemen, we muſt be permitted to repeat our Demand, that you will immediately frame and offer a Law for the Defence of the Province, in ſuch a Manner as the preſent Exigency requires. The Time does not permit many Hands to be put to this Repreſentation. But if Numbers are neceſſary, we truſt we ſhall neither want a ſufficient Number of Hands nor Hearts, to ſupport and ſecond us, till we finally obtain ſuch a reaſonable Demand. Ordered to lie on the Table.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Petition from William Moore, and others, of Cheſter County, the Addreſs from Anthony Morris, and others, of the People called Quakers, and the Repreſentation from William Plumſted, and others, of the City of Philadelphia, were again read, and conſidered. And the ſaid Papers appearing to the Houſe to contain ſundry Matters of an extraordinary Nature, they were referred to Joſeph Fox, Benjamin Franklin, Joſeph Hamton, Peter Dicks, Calvin Cooper, David M'Connaughy and William Edmonds, with Orders for them to take the ſame into Conſideration, and report their Opinion what it may be fit for the Houſe to do therein. November 13.

An Account from Edward Kelly, for his Services as Door-keeper to this Houſe, was laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

Ordered, That Joſeph Trotter and David M'Connaughy wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire to know what Progreſs he has made in the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Gentlemen report, that they had waited on the Governor, and delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he had read the Bill relating to the Indian Trade twice, and had referred it to his Council for their Conſideration. Poſt Meridiem

The Committee of Accounts reported on Edward Kelly's Account, that they were of Opinion the ſame ought to be allowed, amounting to Two Pounds Eighteen Shillings and Eight-pence.——To which Report the Houſe agreed.

And an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treaſurer, and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, for Payment of the ſame.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Committee appointed to conſider the Petition from William Moore, and others, of Cheſter County, the Addreſs from Anthony Morris, and others, of the People called Quakers, and the Repreſentation from William Plumſted, and others, of the City of Philadelphia, made a Report thereon in Writing, which was read, and conſidered; but November 14.

ſome

1755. ſome Objections being made thereto, the ſame was re-committed to the Committee who brought it in, for Amendment.

November 14. Adjournment Poſt Meridiem Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

A Return of the Sheriff of the County of Cumberland was brought to the Houſe, by which it appeared, that Joſeph Armſtrong and John Smith were choſen Repreſentatives to ſerve in Aſſembly for the ſaid County.

And the ſaid Joſeph Armſtrong appearing in the Houſe, took and ſubſcribed the Qualification appointed by Law to be taken by Members of Aſſembly, and then took his Seat in the Houſe accordingly.

Ordered, That Richard Pearn and Joſeph Armſtrong wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe have waited ſeveral Days the Reſult of the Governor's Deliberations on the Bills now lying before him, and requeſt he would be pleaſed to acquaint them when they may expect to receive his final Anſwer.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he had given the Bill relating to the Indian Trade to his Clerk to tranſcribe, and the Houſe ſhould ſoon know his Reſult thereupon; and that as to the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, he was then re-conſidering it, according to the Requeſt of the Houſe, and when he came to any Reſolution upon the ſaid Bill, the Houſe might expect his final Anſwer; but he did not know when that would be.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

November 15. The Report of the Committee on the Petition from William Moore, and others, of Cheſter County, the Addreſs from Anthony Morris, and others, of the People called Quakers, and the Repreſentation from William Plumſted, and others, of the City of Philadelphia, being altered by the ſaid Committee, was read, and conſidered; and after ſome Time ſpent therein, was referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to next Second-day, at Three o'Clock, P. M.

November 17. The Houſe met, according to their Adjournment.

Poſt Meridiem A Petition from ſundry Inhabitants of the County of Cumberland, praying that a Line of Forts may be erected from Potowmack to Suſquehanna, and properly garriſoned, for the Preſervation of the Inhabitants of the ſaid County, from the Incurſions of the French and their Indians, was preſented to the Houſe and read, and

Ordered to lie on the Table.

Ordered, That Joſhua Morris and William Peters wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire to know if he has yet come to any Reſult upon the two Bills now before him.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had waited on the Governor, and delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he ſhould ſend a Meſſage in Writing to the Houſe this Evening relating to one of the Bills now before him, and that he had not as yet come to any Reſolution upon the other Bill.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe the Bill for ſtriking the Sum of Sixty Thouſand Pounds in Bills of Credit, and for granting the ſame to the King's Uſe; and to provide a Fund for ſinking the ſame by a Tax of Six-pence per Pound, and Ten Shillings per Head, yearly, for four Years, on all the Eſtates, Real and Perſonal, and Taxables within this Province, with a Paper containing ſundry propoſed Amendments thereto, and a Meſſage in Writing, which were read, and the Meſſage is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'I Have again taken into Conſideration your Bill for ſtriking Sixty Thouſand Pounds, and ſinking it by a Tax; and though I cannot recede from my former Opinion, that 'I am reſtrained by my Commiſſion from paſſing any Law for taxing the Proprietary 'Eſtate, yet I agree with you, that the Diſpute between us, whether the Proprietary 'Eſtate ought to be taxed by Act of the Legiſlature here, and whether I have a Power 'by my Commiſſion to paſs any Act for that Purpoſe, muſt in the End be determined 'by His Majeſty.

'But as I conceive the Method you propoſe by a Clauſe in your Bill of leaving that 'Matter to the Royal Determination is unprecedented, and that His Majeſty cannot properly give his Aſſent to ſome Parts of an Act, and reject others, but will, agreeable to 'the uſual Forms in ſuch Caſes, approve or diſapprove of the Whole: I have therefore 'returned, and am ready to paſs, your Bill, with ſome Amendments, the moſt material 'of which are the Striking out that Clauſe, and thoſe Parts of the Bill which ſubject the 'Proprietary Eſtate to Taxation; and in Lieu thereof, I propoſe that you ſhall prepare 'another Bill, whereby the Proprietary Eſtate ſhall be taxed in Proportion to the other 'Eſtates in the Province, and for the ſame Purpoſes; not by Aſſeſſors choſen by the 'People, but by Commiſſioners to be mutually choſen by you and me, and named in the 1755. November 17.

'the Bill, with a ſuſpending Clauſe, that the ſame ſhall not take Effect, or be in Force, 'till it has received His Majeſty's Royal Approbation.

'This Mode of doing it will, in my Opinion, as effectually anſwer the End you pro-'poſe of laying this Affair before His Majeſty for his Determination, and I think more 'properly and methodically, and, in the mean Time, without waiting for that Determi-'nation, Money will be raiſed for ſupplying the preſſing Exigencies of the Province.

'I muſt confeſs that nothing but the implicit Confidence I have in His Majeſty's 'Goodneſs and Juſtice, that he will diſapprove of it, if it is wrong, and the moſt ſincere 'and ardent Deſire I have of doing every Thing in my Power for the Good and Security 'of the People committed to my Care, could induce me to paſs a Law in any Shape for 'the Taxing the Proprietaries Eſtate. And if you are equally ſincere, and equally affected 'with the Diſtreſſes and Miſeries of your bleeding Country, you can have no Objection 'to this Method of affording them immediate Succour and Relief.

Philadelphia, November 17, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Governor's propoſed Amendments to the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe being again read, and conſidered, Reſolved, That this Houſe will adhere to the ſaid Bill, without admitting any of the Governor's propoſed Amendments.

Ordered, That John Hughes, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, George Aſhbridge, Calvin Cooper, David M'Connaughy, Joſeph Armſtrong and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of this Afternoon.

Reſolved, N. C. D. That if the Governor, after receiving the Anſwer of this Houſe to his laſt Meſſage, ſhould perſiſt in refuſing his Aſſent to the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, which is ſo juſt and equitable in its Nature, and ſo abſolutely neceſſary at this Time to the Welfare of the Britiſh Intereſt in America, this Houſe will reſpectfully remonſtrate to our Sovereign, and humbly beſeech that he would be graciouſly pleaſed to cauſe our preſent Governor to be removed from this Province, or take ſuch other Meaſures as may prevent the fatal Conſequences that are likely to enſue from his Conduct.

The Houſe being informed, that at the Time of the Treaty held with the Indians at Carliſle in the Year 1753, after the Buſineſs of the Province was ended, a Chief of the Shawaneſe complained to ſome of the Commiſſioners, that Satisfaction had not been made to them by the Proprietaries for a large Tract of Land, Part of which was ſurveyed into the Manor of Conedoguinet; and that the Secretary then promiſed the ſaid Chief that Application ſhould be immediately made to the Proprietaries, in order to obtain the Satisfaction he deſired; but which there was ſome Reaſon to believe, either through the Neglect of the Secretary, or Refuſal of the Proprietaries, was never performed.

Ordered, That the ſame Committee who are appointed to prepare a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor upon the Sixty Thouſand Pound Bill, do likewiſe prepare a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor, relating to the ſaid Application of the Shawaneſe Chief for Satisfaction for the Lands about Conedoguinet.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment. November 18.

An Account from John Harris, of Paxton, for the Maintenance of Indians at his Houſe; Alſo an Account from George Honey, of Philadelphia, for Indians Expences at his Houſe, were laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, with two Letters therein referred to, which were read, and the Meſſage follows in theſe Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'THE Secretary will lay before you the Intelligence I have received, that the Indians 'have fallen upon the Inhabitants at Tulpehocken, many of whom they have deſtroyed.

'By the Bill I have amended and returned to you, no Money can be iſſued till January 'next, before which the greateſt Part of this Province may be laid waſte, and the People 'deſtroyed, or drove from their Habitations: I think it therefore my Duty, upon the 'preſent Exigency of Affairs, to call upon you to grant an immediate Supply of Money, 'that I may be thereby enabled to afford the neceſſary and timely Aſſiſtance to the di-'ſtreſſed Inhabitants in the Back Counties, and to ſecure the Province in general.

'Should you enable me to raiſe Men upon the preſent Occaſion, I muſt recommend 'and preſs it upon you, to paſs a Law for the better Government of ſuch Forces at the 'Time when they are not joined by any of His Majeſty's regular Troops; for which you 'cannot have a better Standard than the Act of Parliament for puniſhing Mutiny and 'Deſertion, which is in ſome Things already extended to this Province.

'Without a Law of this Kind, it will be impoſſible to keep up or govern any Troops 'that may be raiſed; and as ſuch a Law is found abſolutely neceſſary in England, I hope 1755. ‘ you will think it equally ſo here, and immediately ſet about preparing one for this ‘ Province.

November 18. Philadelphia, November 18, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS.”

The Committee appointed to prepare Draughts of two Meſſages to the Governor, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and they being read, and conſidered, were agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that they may be ſent up to the Governor.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The two Meſſages to the Governor being tranſcribed, were again read, and are as follow, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. WE are glad to find, that the Governor's chief remaining Objections to the Bill are only, that the Method it propoſes in a particular Clauſe, of leaving our Diſpute to the Royal Determination, is unprecedented, and that “ His Majeſty cannot properly aſſent “ to ſome Parts of an Act, and reject others.” On which we beg Leave to ſay, that we think the Bill is not liable to either of theſe Objections. Conditional or alternative Clauſes in Laws are far from being unprecedented, and the Clauſe objected to is no other: Nor is there any Neceſſity in the Method propoſed, that the Crown ſhould give its Aſſent to ſome Parts of the Act, and reject others. The Act will be complete in itſelf, and to be carried into Execution either Way, whether His Majeſty ſhall think fit to determine in Favour of the Proprietary Exemption or not. The Royal Approbation of the Law is one diſtinct Act of the Crown; the Declaration of the Royal Pleaſure, that the Proprietaries have a Right to be exempted from Taxes (if ſuch a Declaration is ever made) is another diſtinct Act, that may be done at any other Time, or at any Time during the Continuance of the Law; which ſecond diſtinct Act of the Crown, to be done in Purſuance of the Law, is, by the Law, to be attended with certain advantageous Conſequences to the Proprietaries, ſuch as a Forbearing to levy their Tax, or a Refunding it if levied. This very Refunding the Tax, if levied, is to be done, not becauſe a Part of the Law is rejected by the Crown (for that is not the Caſe) but it is to be done in Execution of the Law, and by Virtue of the Law itſelf. Were we to go into the other Method propoſed inſtead of this, and paſs two Bills at the ſame Time, one declaring poſitively that the Proprietary Eſtate ſhall not be taxed, (which the preſent Bill declares, as it now comes down amended by the Governor) and another expreſsly to tax that Eſtate, we think we ſhould be juſtly chargeable with doing what is not only unprecedented but abſurd; and that the diametrical Contradiction of two Laws paſſed at the ſame Time, and as it were with the ſame Breath, would, ſo far as they relate to the ſame Point, infallibly deſtroy each other, and the End aimed at by the Governor, to wit, Exempting the Proprietaries from Taxation, be thereby infallibly ſecured.

As to the Governor's Propoſal of a particular Manner of chuſing Commiſſioners to aſſeſs the Proprietary Eſtate, we conceive there is not the leaſt Neceſſity of deviating from the common Method on this Occaſion. The Aſſeſſors, yearly choſen throughout the Province, have eſtabliſhed Characters for Probity and Diſcretion, which gives the People that Confidence in them that occaſions their Choice. They are moreover under Oaths or ſolemn Affirmations to do impartial Juſtice, “ according to the beſt of their Skill and “ Abilities, neither ſparing any Perſon for Favour or Affection, nor grieving any for “ Hatred or Ill-will;” and though it is poſſible that in the many private Eſtates they have to aſſeſs, ſome ſmall Inequalities may at Times eſcape their Obſervation, yet we think in aſſeſſing the Proprietary Eſtate they would be extremely careful to avoid giving any juſt Grounds of Complaint, and make their Uprightneſs in that Tranſaction a Point of Honour as well as Conſcience; in which they would be ſtrengthened by this Conſideration, that an iniquitous unjuſt Aſſeſsment of that Eſtate, would give the beſt Grounds to the Proprietaries whereon to found their Application to the Crown for the Exemption claimed; and as that Application may by the Bill be made, and the Right of Exemption declared by the Crown at any Time within the four Years Continuance of the Act, the Aſſeſſors would, by one Act of Injuſtice, incur the Danger of loſing all their Trouble in Aſſeſſing and Collecting that Tax perhaps for ſeveral Years, and loſing the whole Money raiſed by it to the Public, the Law obliging a Reſtitution to be made to the Proprietaries, whenever the Crown ſhall think fit to make ſuch Declaration. So that not only from Conſcience and Honour, but from a Regard to the Public Intereſt, the Aſſeſſors will be induced to do Juſtice to that Eſtate, and thereby prevent all Cauſe of Complaining.

But to ſatisfy the Governor farther, that not only the Taxing of the Proprietary Eſtates, but the Aſſeſſing them by the common Aſſeſſors, is agreeable to the Practice at Home in taxing the Lords of Parliament, we beg Leave to refer him to the Votes of the Houſe of Commons, an Extract of which we herewith ſend him, where the Peers in 1692 propoſed a like Amendment to a Money Bill, viz. to appoint ſeparate Aſſeſſors for the Lords to be nominated in the Bill; but it appears, that on the Commons refuſing it, their Lordſhips preſently dropped the Propoſal, and as far as we know have never ſince revived it.

It

1755. November 18.

It is, may it please the Governor, one of the most valuable Rights of British Subjects, to have their Bills granting Money to the Crown, accepted without Amendments; a Right that cannot be given up, without destroying the Constitution, and incurring greater and more lasting Mischiefs than the Grant of Money can prevent. The present Assembly, however, being a new Body, thought themselves at Liberty to consider the Twenty Amendments proposed by the Governor to the Bill of the last Assembly for granting Fifty Thousand Pounds, and without seeing the Necessity or Use of many of those Amendments, but merely as they wished and hoped thereby to avoid all Dispute, admitted every one of them that was of any Consequence into the present Bill; except that of exempting the Proprietary Estate, and that was so modified, as they imagined no farther Objection could remain.—We find, however, in this Instance, how little is to be gained by such Compliance, and how endless it is to admit any Change in such Bills; for now the Governor proposes to amend his own Amendments, adds to his own Additions, and alters his own Alterations; so that, though we should accede to these, we are not sure of being ever the nearer to a Conclusion. In Fine, as it is a Money Bill, as the whole Sum is granted to the Crown, and to be paid by a Tax on the Subjects in this Province, we cannot receive any Amendment to it. And as the Passing the proposed separate Bill is equally inconsistent with the Governor's Construction of the Prohibitory Clause in his Commission, which he seems now to have got over, and he only mentions this Mode, as in his Opinion it will "bring "the Affair before His Majesty more properly and methodically;" we hope he will not, for the Sake of a mere Opinion of more Propriety or better Method in a particular Clause, any longer refuse a Bill of so great Importance at this Juncture to His Majesty's Service, the Security of the Proprietary Estate, now going daily to Ruin, and the Relief of the poor distressed Inhabitants of the Province. The same "implicit Confidence in His Ma-"jesty's Goodness" that "induces him to pass a Bill in any Shape for taxing the Pro-"prietary Estate," may encourage him to hope, that any little Impropriety (if such there should be) in the Manner of laying the Affair before His Majesty, will be graciously passed over. Though we flatter ourselves, that the Governor will, on farther Consideration, be persuaded with us, that the Manner provided in this Bill is on many Accounts the most proper, and that the Money will be raised for the present Use with the same Readiness and Dispatch.

Whether we are "equally sincere and equally affected with the Miseries and Distresses "of our bleeding Country" with the Governor, must be left to others to judge. As we are most of us Natives of the Country, and all of us have our Estates and other more valuable Connections in it, and the Governor is a Stranger among us, it should seem, we think, at least probable, that we may be even more deeply affected with its Distresses than he is; but the many Bills our Assemblies have proposed in vain for its Relief, and our earnest Endeavours to give such great Sums to that End, which the Governor has so long refused, will, we think, put that Point beyond Dispute.

Upon the Whole, the House adheres to the Bill; as being in their Judgment a reasonable one, and what they cannot deviate from consistent with the Rights of the People; and since at such a Time as this, Disputes and Contentions between the different Parts of the Government are extremely prejudicial both to the King's Service and the Welfare of the Country, we entreat they may henceforth be laid aside, and that the Governor, by passing this just and equitable Bill, will lay the Foundation of such an Agreement as may conduce to the general Benefit of all concerned, and prevent the Necessity we shall otherwise be under of making an immediate Application and Complaint against him to our Sovereign."

" vided also, and it is hereby declared, that the several Rates and Taxes to which " the Lords and Peers of this Realm shall be liable, by Virtue of this Act, shall be re-

And the Question being put, that the House do agree with the Lords in the said Amendment? It passed in the Negative.

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to prepare Reasons, to be offered on a Conference with the Lords, for disagreeing with their Lordships in the said Amendment: And that the said Committee do immediately withdraw, and prepare the same.

And it is referred to Sir Edward Seymour, Mr. Sollicitor General, Mr. Attorney General, Mr. Gwynn, Mr. Montague, Sir John Guise, Mr. Finch, Sir *Jo. And they withdrew accordingly.

And being returned: Sir Thomas Clarges reported from the said Committee, that they had prepared Reasons to be offered at the said Conference, which they had directed him to report to the House: And which he read in his Place, and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table; where the same were read, and are as followeth, viz.

" That the Right of granting Supplies to the Crown is in the Commons alone, as " an essential Part of their Constitution: And the Limitation of all such Grants as to the " Matter, Manner, Measure and Time, is only in them: Which is so well known " to be fundamentally settled in them, that, to give Reasons for it, has been esteemed
" by our Ancestors, to be a Weakening of that Right. And the Clause sent down by " your Lordships to be added to this Bill, is a manifest Violation thereof."

And an Amendment being proposed to leave out " Violation," and insert, instead thereof, " Invasion," the same was, upon the Question put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

And then the said Reasons so amended were, upon the Question put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

Resolved, That a Conference be desired with the Lords, upon the Subject Matter of the said Amendments.

Ordered, That Sir Thomas Clarges do go to the Lords, and desire the said Conference.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Resolved, That this House doth agree to a present Conference with the Lords, as their Lordships do desire.

Another Message to the GOVERNOR from the ASSEMBLY.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

WE apprehend that our Message of the Fifth Instant, requesting to be informed by what Means the Delawares and Shawanese had been so alienated in their Affections from this Province, was too slightly answered by the Governor; and we now hope it will not be taken amiss if we enquire more particularly, Whether the Chiefs of the Shawanese did not, in 1753, complain to this Government, that Satisfaction had not been made to them by the Proprietaries for a large Tract of Land, Part of which was surveyed into the Proprietary Manor, on Conedoguinet; and whether they were not then promised, that Application should be immediately made to the Proprietaries in their Behalf to obtain the Satisfaction they desired? We hope, if so, that the Application has been accordingly made, and the Satisfaction obtained and given. But we desire, if the Governor pleases, to be informed of the Particulars."

And the foregoing Messages being signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House,

Ordered, That Joseph Stretch and Samuel Brown wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same, together with the Bill for granting Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, and acquaint him, that the House desire he would be pleased to let them know his Result upon the said Bill as soon as possible; and further, that they enquire if the Governor has yet come to any Result upon the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade.

The House being informed, that Adam Hoops and John Potter, of the County of Cumberland, were attending, they were called in, and having answered such Questions as were put to them, and acquainted the House with sundry Particulars relating to the Ravages of the Indians in the said County, they withdrew.

The Governor's Message of this Morning was again read, and considered, and after some Time spent therein, was referred to farther Consideration.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment

November 19.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the two Messages of the House, and the Bill for granting Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, reported, that they had delivered the same according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say, that he had been much hurried of late, which had prevented his coming to any Conclusion upon the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade; however, if the House sat any Time, he believed he should acquaint them with his Determination thereupon.

An Account from Henry Kepple, amounting to Five Pounds Fourteen Shillings and Six-pence for Goods furnished Scarroyady's Son, per Order of Conrad Weiser, was laid before the House and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

An Account from David Magaw, and another from James Rankin, for Service done on the Ohio Road, were also laid before the House and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

By the Leave of the House, Benjamin Franklin, a Member of this House, brought in a Bill, entituled, An Act for the better ordering and regulating the Military Force of this Province, which was read the first time, and ordered to lie on the Table for the Perusal of the Members.

The Governor's Message of Yesterday was again read, and considered; and after some Time spent therein, Ordered, That Richard Pearn, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, George Ashbridge, James Webb, David M'Connaughy, Joseph Armstrong and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Answer to the same.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Post Meridiem

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of a Message to the Governor, reported the same to the House, which was read, agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed, that it may be sent up to the Governor.

And the said Message being accordingly transcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

OUR Treasury is quite exhausted by the heavy Expences lately incurred, and we know of no Way of raising Money so expeditious as that proposed by the Bill now 1755. November 19. now before the Governor. It is true, the Money intended to be ſtruck, may not be current before the Thirty-firſt of December; but as that is not more than ſix Weeks, there is no Doubt but that Labour, Service, and any Thing elſe that Money can purchaſe among us, may be had on Credit for ſo ſhort a Time, if the Bill paſſes; and in Conſideration of the Neceſſity of "affording timely Aſſiſtance to the diſtreſſed Inhabi-"tants in the Back Counties," we ſincerely hope, and once more earneſtly entreat, that the Governor will no longer refuſe or delay his Aſſent to it.

The other Part of the Governor's Meſſage we have now under our ſerious Conſideration, and as ſoon as we come to any Reſolution thereon, ſhall immediately communicate the ſame to the Governor."

And the ſame being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe,

Ordered, That Griffith Owen and William Edmonds wait upon the Governor, and deliver the ſame.

Reſolved, That the Flour and Cattle, now in Cumberland County, belonging to the Public, be appropriated for the Uſe and Relief of thoſe Inhabitants who are driven from their Habitations by the Enemy; and that Joſeph Armſtrong and John Smith, of the ſaid County, have Power to diſtribute the ſame as they ſhall judge moſt proper.

Reſolved, That Francis Parvin and Conrad Weiſer, Eſquires, of the County of Berks, have Power to furniſh thoſe Inhabitants of ſaid County who are driven from their Habitations by the Enemy, with ſuch neceſſary Proviſions for their Subſiſtence, as they, the ſaid Parvin and Weiſer, ſhall think proper; and this Houſe will allow ſuch reaſonable Charges as ſhall attend the ſame.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

November 20. Sundry Letters and Papers from the Agents in Great-Britain, to the Committee of Correſpondence, were laid before the Houſe and read, and ordered to lie on the Table for the Peruſal of the Members.

Upon Motion made,

Reſolved, That the Bill for the better ordering and regulating the Military Force of this Province be read the ſecond time in the Afternoon.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem. The Bill for the better ordering and regulating the Military Force of this Province was again read, and conſidered; and, after conſiderable Time ſpent therein, the ſame was committed to John Hughes, Benjamin Franklin, Griffith Owen, David M'Connaughy, Joſeph Armſtrong and William Edmonds, for Alteration and Amendment.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

November 21. The Bill for the better ordering and regulating the Military Force of this Province, being amended by the Committee to whom it was referred, and an Alteration made in the Title, was again read, and conſidered; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, was ordered to be tranſcribed for a third Reading.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

An Account from John Potter, Sheriff of the County of Cumberland, for his Trouble and Expences in apprehending three Men ſuſpected of carrying on a Correſpondence with the French, and for carrying the ſaid Men up to General Braddock, and from thence back to Carliſle Goal, with the Coſt of a Guard to attend them, by the Governor's Order, amounting to Twenty-two Pounds Seventeen Shillings and Six-pence, was laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

The Bill, entituled, An Act for the better ordering and regulating ſuch as are willing and deſirous to be united for Military Purpoſes within this Province, being tranſcribed, was read the third time;

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

James Pemberton, Joſhua Morris, } Diſſentientes.
Joſeph Trotter, Peter Worral, }

Ordered, That David M'Connaughy and Joſeph Armſtrong do carry up the ſaid Bill to the Governor for his Concurrence; and acquaint him that the Houſe deſire to know if he has come to any Reſult upon the Bills already before him.

The Houſe being informed, that Patrick Burns and George Hutchinſon, two Perſons who were lately taken by the Indians, and made their Eſcape, were now in Town, and in diſtreſſed Circumſtances;

Reſolved, That the Sum of Ten Pounds be given to each of the ſaid Perſons, to furniſh them with Neceſſaries, and enable them to return to Cumberland County, the Place of their Reſidence.

And Orders were accordingly drawn on the Treaſurer, and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, for Payment of the ſame.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Militia Bill, and the Meſſage of the Houſe, according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay that that he had not come to any Result upon the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade; and as to the Bill for granting Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, the House should hear from him concerning it To-morrow Morning.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment

November 22.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down to the House a Message in Writing, relating to the Bill for granting Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'I AM no less astonished than grieved to find, by your Message of the Eighteenth Instant, that although I have even ventured to exceed what I judge to be the Powers of my Commission, in order, if possible, to accommodate our unhappy Differences, and afford the necessary Succour to our bleeding Country, yet still you adhere to your Bill and refuse to agree to the reasonable Proposal I made of submitting to his Majesty the present Dispute between us, relating to the Proprietary Tax. My Astonishment is still increased to find, that your best Argument for such an obstinate Refusal, is founded on a new and lofty Claim of Privilege, never heard of in this Province, till towards the Close of Mr. Hamilton's Administration, and the Beginning of the late French Encroachments upon this Province. At that Time, the Assembly being pressed on the Subject of Defence, first introduced, and have since occasionally continued this Claim of having their Money Bills passed as tendered, without any Amendments. And this appears to be done with a double View, to wit, either wholly to avoid giving Money for Warlike Purposes, or, by Means of the Country's Distress, to arrogate Powers which Assemblies here never were, and, from the Nature of our Constitution, never ought to be in Possession of.

'In my Message of the Twenty-fourth of September, I insisted that this Claim was neither warranted by Charter, nor yet by Usage; and it appears from the Minutes of Council (some Extracts of which I have sent you) that the Governor's Right of amending Money Bills was never questioned by your Predecessors in Assembly: And yet, Gentlemen, they were Men whose Probity and Fortune were at least equal to yours; and many of them were singularly remarkable for their superior Knowledge of the Constitution of their Country, as well as an inviolable Attachment to its true Interests.

'I have given this Matter the Precedence, though it is in the last Part of your Message, that it may appear on how slight a Claim you have founded your Refusal to pass a Bill so very important at this Juncture. Your other Arguments relate chiefly to the Form of the proposed Amendments, to which I shall reply but briefly, as you seem determined against all Amendments that come from me, however reasonable and necessary they may otherwise be.

'You say, There is no Necessity in the Method proposed, that the Crown should assent to some Part of the Act, and reject others. It is not my Business to determine what the Crown may account necessary in any of its Actions; but this I know, that it is the established Mode either to approve or reject the Whole of any Law: And I presume every Legislative Body in these Colonies expect to have their Acts wholly rejected or wholly approved. You ought, therefore, previous to your risking the Rejection of so important an Act, on account of the Proprietary Exemption, to shew more than a bare Probability, that the Crown will adopt this unprecedented Method, by which a whole Law may be first approved, then a Part of it suspended from taking Effect, and yet the Whole is to remain all the while complete, and in Force. And all this, you say, by a very nice Distinction, is to be done by Means of some wondrous Virtue of the Law itself, and in Execution of the Law, and yet that it is to cost two distinct Acts of the Crown to do it.

'But was I to enquire into the Reasons of this indirect and perplexed Method, scarce any other, it should seem to me, can be assigned, but that it is your sovereign Pleasure to have it so, unless you are diffident of the Justice of your Cause, and dare not trust it on its own Bottom, perhaps vainly imagining, that if both the Taxes are blended together, you have a better Chance of being gratified in your ambitious View of getting your Chief Governor and his Estate subjected to your Mercy, than if the Bills are separated; in which Case you probably fear, that the Merits of the Cause alone, might determine it against you.

'For my Part, I have such an implicit Confidence in the Royal Justice, that I am certain, if the Proprietary Claim to an Exemption be just in itself, the present, or any other Law, by which they are taxed, would be rejected in the common Method, although the Crown should be thereby, for a Time, deprived of the greatest Sums: Wherefore, as I foresaw the manifest Inconveniencies that might ensue, from a total Rejection of the present Law, I proposed a Separation of the two Parts of the Bill, by which Method the present Exigences of the Province would be supplied, whatever might be the Royal Determination with regard to the Proprietary Exemption.

'But you tell me, in the next Place, that my Propoſal alſo implies a Contradiction, 'namely, to paſs one Bill declaring poſitively that the Proprietary Eſtate ſhall not be taxed, 'and another expreſsly to tax it;—and the good natured Conſtruction you put upon this, 'is, that I thereby aimed to ſecure an infallible Exemption of the Proprietaries from 'Taxation, by leading you into an Abſurdity in the Mode of taxing them. This I ſhall leave 'among the reſt of your groundleſs Charges againſt me, and obſerve that the Bill, as 'amended by me, only excepts the Proprietary Eſtate in the Taxes to be laid by that 'Bill, but no where, that I can find, declares either poſitively or otherwiſe, that it ſhall 'not be taxed by another Bill; ſo that the Abſurdity you mention does not appear to me. 'However, if what you are pleaſed to call the diametrical Contradiction of the two pro-'poſed Bills be really any Objection with you, I ſhall very readily agree to one Amend-'ment more, which will perfectly reconcile them, by the Addition of a very few Words 'to the Exemption Clauſe in the firſt Bill, as follows:—[The Eſtates of the Honourable 'Thomas Penn and Richard Penn, Eſquires, excepted, which ſhall be taxed in the Man-'ner directed by a particular Law paſſed (or to be paſſed) for that Purpoſe.] Thus both 'Bills will declare poſitively, that the Proprietaries are to be taxed, if his Majeſty ſhall 'ſo think fit.

'Your Extracts from the Votes of the Houſe of Commons prove nothing to the Pur-'poſe for which you quote them; they only ſhew, what nobody denies, that, by the 'Conſtitution of England, the Commons have long claimed the Privilege of having their 'Supply-Bills paſſed or rejected without Amendments; but are by no Means applicable 'to the Circumſtances of this Province.

'The Conſtitution of England is of long Standing, founded upon ancient Uſage, and 'ripened by Time and the Wiſdom of Ages to its preſent Perfection. There the King, 'Lords and Commons make up the ſupreme Power, to each of which the Conſtitution 'has aſſigned particular and peculiar Prerogatives, Rights and Privileges, in order to keep 'up a proper Balance, and make them (what, for the Benefit of the Nation, they ought 'to be) a Check upon each other.

'The Conſtitution of this Province is founded upon certain Royal and Proprietary 'Charters, being ſubordinate, and no way ſimilar to that of England, nor compoſed of 'the like conſtituent Parts. Here the whole Power is lodged in the Governor and As-'ſembly, who have all along exerciſed equal Legiſlative Powers, each of them having 'a Right to propoſe Laws, and to amend what is propoſed by the other.

'Till, therefore, you can ſhew that the Conſtitution of this Province is ſimilar to that 'of England, compoſed of the like Parts, and that each of them have the like or ſimilar 'Powers and Privileges, you can found no Claim upon the Uſage of Parliament, for 'having your Money-Bills paſſed without the Governor's Amendments; and therefore 'your Extracts from the Votes of the Houſe of Commons were a very needleſs Addition 'to your Meſſage.

'You mention Twenty Amendments offered by me to the Bill of laſt Aſſembly, and that 'you being a new Body [compoſed almoſt wholly of the ſame Members] admitted every 'one of them that was of any Conſequence into the preſent Bill, excepting that of exempting 'the Proprietary Eſtate. But this one Amendment was of ſo material Conſequence, that 'your Refuſal to admit of it made the Propoſal of a ſeparate Bill a neceſſary Expedient, 'and obliged me to make other Amendments; ſo that you had no Reaſon for burſting 'out into ſuch a lofty Strain of Rhetoric, telling me, that now I am for amending my 'own Amendments, altering my own Alterations, and adding to my own Additions; for had 'you agreed to my firſt Amendments, Alterations and Additions, any future ones would 'have been needleſs.

'You ſpeak of many Bills propoſed in vain by you, for the Relief of your diſtreſſed 'Country. 'Tis true, you have in all propoſed to me five Money-Bills; three of them 'rejected, becauſe contrary to Royal Inſtructions. The other two were rejected on ac-'count of the unjuſt Method propoſed for taxing the Proprietary Eſtate. If you are 'diſpoſed to relieve your Country, you have many other Ways of granting Money, to 'which I ſhall have no Objection.

'In this, as well as in ſome other Meſſages, you affect to treat me as a Stranger, and 'tell me, that it is at leaſt probable you are more deeply concerned for the Diſtreſſes of 'this Country than I am, becauſe moſt of you are Natives of it, and have your Eſtates 'in it. I am ſurprized, Gentlemen, that you do not bluſh to have Recourſe to ſuch 'weak and fallacious Reaſoning. Although I was not born within the Limits of this 'Province, I was born in its Neighbourhood. Nay, the Chief Part of my Eſtate lies 'much nearer to this City than the Eſtates of ſome of you who ſit in Aſſembly; and 'when your Eſtates are in Danger, I can by no Means think mine ſafe. And here I 'would obſerve, that if the Conſideration of being bred up among you, and poſſeſſing 'large Property in the Province, could have ſecured your good Treatment of any Go-'vernor, my immediate Predeceſſor had the faireſt Claim to ſuch Treatment, and would 'have been exempted from thoſe manifold Abuſes, which it has been his Lot, as well

1755. November 22.

'as mine, to receive at your Hands.—But I conceive, Gentlemen, that our Actions, not 'the Place of our Eſtates or Nativity, are the beſt Teſt of our Affection for this Country. 'You will ſuffer me, therefore, briefly to review your Conduct and mine, and leave them 'both to ſpeak for themſelves.

'And here, was I inclined to go beyond my own Times, I might begin with remind- 'ing you how contemptuouſly you treated the Proprietary Offer of Four Hundred Pounds, 'for erecting a Place of Strength on the Ohio, together with an Offer of One Hundred 'Pounds per Annum towards its Support; which Offers were made at a Time, when your 'Concurrence would probably have prevented many of the Calamities we now groan 'under.

'I might alſo obſerve, that when Mr. Hamilton firſt called upon you, purſuant to his 'Majeſty's Orders, to grant ſuch Supplies as would enable him to draw forth the Strength 'of the Province, and to repel Force by Force, you would not admit that the French 'Encroachments and Fortifications on the Ohio were within our Limits, or his Majeſty's 'Dominions; thereby ſeeking an Excuſe to avoid doing what was required of you. And 'when, after the Loſs of much Time, you thought fit to drop this Diſpute, you then 'entered upon a freſh one, concerning the Legality of Royal Inſtructions, in order ſtill 'to gain more Time, and avoid doing what you judged inconſiſtent with your Principles; 'nevertheleſs, it is clear, that if you had complied with Mr. Hamilton's Requeſt, and 'given ſeaſonably what Money the Exciſe could raiſe in the Term he propoſed, the 'French might have been prevented from ſtrengthening themſelves in their preſent un- 'warrantable Encroachments.

'On my Acceſſion to the Government you began on the ſame Plan of Diſpute and 'Delay; but as I am informed that there was a full and ſtrong Repreſentation, both of 'your Conduct and mine, ſo far as related to the Diſputes, in the Beginning of my Ad- 'miniſtration, laid before his Majeſty in a Report of the Lords Commiſſioners of Trade, 'upon your Addreſs concerning Inſtructions, I ſhall go no farther back than December 'laſt.

'On the Nineteenth of that Month I communicated to you a Letter from Sir Thomas 'Robinſon, notifying his Majeſty's Intentions of employing four Regiments for the De- 'fence and Security of theſe Colonies, to be raiſed and augmented in America, and re- 'quiring a Sum of Money towards a general Fund, and to have Three Thouſand Men 'in Readineſs, with a proper Quantity of Proviſions, &c. the Whole to be under the 'Direction of a General Officer of Character, who was to be ſent as Commander in Chief 'of all his Majeſty's Forces in theſe Parts; but you did not think fit to raiſe a ſingle 'Man, or give One Farthing of Money in Compliance with this Requeſt. I did alſo at 'the ſame Time recommend it to you, to prepare a Law for regulating the Wages to be 'paid for ſuch Tradeſmen, Horſes and Carriages, as it might be neceſſary to impreſs into 'his Majeſty's Service. To this you replied, That you could not preſume the Military Of- 'ficers would, or ought to have, any Power of impreſſing Tradeſmen within this Province, 'and that the other Parts of my Meſſage might remain under Conſideration, without any con- 'ſiderable Inconvenience.

'As ſoon as the late General arrived, I again recommended it to you, to make an imme- 'diate Proviſion for raiſing the Men, and ſupplying the Money, and other Neceſſaries 'expected from this Province; and did, throughout the whole Summer, from Time to 'Time, preſs you to grant your Aid and Aſſiſtance to the Expedition then on Foot; but 'you had one general Anſwer for all, namely, That if ſome Bill, which you had always 'ready to offer, for ſtriking a Sum of Money for the King's Uſe, ſhould once be paſſed, 'it would anſwer all the Purpoſes required of you; and yet every one of thoſe Bills were 'all the while liable to one and the ſame Objection, on the Footing of the Royal In- 'ſtructions. And beſides this, you never took the leaſt Notice of the Demand for a Sup- 'ply of Men, which from this populous Province was at leaſt as material an Article as 'Money.

'At laſt, upon the Defeat of his Majeſty's Forces, for Want of that timely Support 'and Aſſiſtance, which it was in the Power of this Province to have afforded, I laid be- 'fore you, in the ſtrongeſt Terms, the Dangers to which this Country ſtood expoſed, 'and called upon you to put it into a Poſture of Defence, that the People might be ſe- 'cured againſt the Invaſions, naturally to be expected in Conſequence of that Defeat; 'but all this was to no Purpoſe.—However, having been informed of the Report of the 'Lords of Trade againſt your Addreſs, and that your Conduct was generally condemned 'in England, you thought fit to drop the old Diſpute concerning Inſtructions, and to 'ſtart a new one about taxing the Proprietary Eſtate, which you very well knew I had 'no Power by my Commiſſion to do: Beſides, as the Proprietaries were abſent, and this 'your extraordinary Claim related to a Matter of Property, and was contrary to a Law 'in Force, you could not imagine that it would be eaſily given up, or ſpeedily determined, 'and therefore you could propoſe nothing by it, but, as uſual, to evade the Point of 'raiſing an armed Force, and granting the neceſſary Supplies. And now, when in 1755. November 22.

'Conſideration of the Diſtreſſes of this unhappy Country, I have conſented even to exceed the Powers of my Commiſſion, in order to lay that Diſpute before his Majeſty, by a ſeparate Bill for that particular Purpoſe, you ſtart a new Claim, unknown to former Aſſemblies, of having your Bills, giving Money, paſſed without Amendments; and upon no better Foundation than this imaginary Privilege, you refuſe the neceſſary Aſſiſtance to your bleeding Country.—But, Gentlemen, I muſt tell you, that I cannot conſiſtent with my Duty, or the Truſt repoſed in me, recede from my Amendments to that your Bill. And here give me Leave to expreſs my Satisfaction at your intended Complaint againſt me, and to aſſure you, that nothing gives me greater Pleaſure, than the Hopes of having my Conduct and yours laid before the Crown, where I hope they will both undergo the ſtricteſt Examination; and as I expect no Favour from you, ſo I am not afraid of the utmoſt Efforts of your Malice, being conſcious to myſelf, that I have done nothing to the Prejudice of the People committed to my Care, or neglected any Thing in my Power that could tend to their Security or laſting Happineſs.

'Upon the Whole, it appears clear to me, that you never intended that any of your Bills ſhould paſs for raiſing Money to defend the Province; and this ſeems now to be placed beyond all Diſpute, ſince thoſe People, under whoſe Influence you are chiefly known to be, are ſaid to have declared publicly to you, that they would ſooner ſuffer than pay towards ſuch Purpoſes.

'However, I ſhall put one Proof more, both of your Sincerity and mine, in our Profeſſions of Regard for the Public, by offering to agree to any Bill, in the preſent Exigency, which it is conſiſtent with my Duty to paſs, leſt before our preſent Diſputes can be brought to an Iſſue, we ſhould neither have a Privilege to diſpute about, nor a Country to diſpute in.

Extracts from the Minutes of Council. 1701.

ON the old Proprietary's Departure from the Province in 1701, Andrew Hamilton, Eſq; was appointed Lieutenant-Governor; but by reaſon of the unſettled State of the Province, and the Aſſemblies differing with him, chiefly on account of his preſſing them to make a Militia Law, and to provide for the Defence of the Province, no Laws paſſed in his Time; and he dying in March, 1703, the Council acted till Governor Evans's Appointment to the Government in February, 1703-4.

January 12.

An Amendment inſiſted on by the Governor to the Bill, entituled, An Act for raiſing a Supply of Two-pence Halfpenny per Pound, and Ten Shillings per Head, viz. That the Aſſembly ſhould not have Power to diſpoſe of any Part of the Money to be raiſed by that Act, without the Governor's Concurrence; and it was agreed by the Houſe [all then preſent, with their Speaker David Lloyd] "That the Aſſembly ſhould have no "Power to diſpoſe of any of the ſaid Money, but for Diſcharge of Debts then incum-"bent on the Province, and for the neceſſary Charges of their own Houſe, and that in "all other Caſes the Governor's Concurrence with the Aſſembly ſhould be required." And the ſaid Supply Bill was accordingly paſſed with the ſaid Amendment.

Note, Governor Evans, ſoon after the paſſing this Law, likewiſe differing with his Aſſemblies on the diſagreeable Subject of Defence, few or no Laws were paſſed in the Remainder of his Time; and he growing extremely obnoxious to the Aſſembly, they got him ſuperſeded, and he was ſucceeded by Colonel Gookin.

In a Meſſage from the Governor to the Houſe, on his ſending back the ſaid Bills to be new drawn by them, with ſome Amendments, is this Clauſe:

"The Governor is very deſirous that a Bill of Fees, diſtinct from that of Courts, "may be immediately proceeded upon by a Committee, as he before propoſed; for he "is of Opinion, with the Council, that it will be the ſafeſt Method to bring each diſ-"tinct Matter into a ſeparate Act, that in caſe one be rejected at Home, the reſt may "not fall with it."

The following written Meſſage from the Governor was alſo brought down with the ſaid Bill, and read, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'I HAVE conſidered your Bill for the better ordering and regulating ſuch as are willing and deſirous to be united for Military Purpoſes within this Province, and though there are many Things in it of a very extraordinary Nature, and I am convinced that it will never anſwer the Purpoſe of defending this Province, even if it could be carried into Execution in any reaſonable Time, which I am afraid it cannot; yet to ſhew you that I am deſirous of doing any Thing that has even a Chance of contributing to the Safety of the People and Province, I ſhall conſent to your Bill in the Shape you have ſent it, as it would be entering into new Diſputes, ſhould I amend it properly.

Philadelphia, November 22, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

Ordered, That the Bill for the better ordering and regulating ſuch as are willing and deſirous to be united for Military Purpoſes within this Province be ingroſſed.

Ordered, That Jonathan Ingham and Joſeph James wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe have conſidered the Governor's Meſſage of this Day, relateing to the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and adhere to the ſaid Bill; and they therefore deſire, if the Governor inſiſts upon his propoſed Amendments, that he would be pleaſed to return the ſaid Bill to the Houſe.

The Meſſage from the Governor of this Morning, relating to the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, being again read, and conſidered; and it appearing to the Houſe to be little elſe than a Collection of the Governor's former groundleſs Charges and inveterate Calumnies againſt the Aſſemblies and People of this Province, which have from Time to Time been fully refuted; Ordered, That Richard Pearn, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, Peter Dicks, James Webb, David M'Connaughy, Joſeph Armſtrong and William Edmonds be a Committee to conſider the ſaid Meſſage, and report whether they think it neceſſary for this Houſe to make any Anſwer thereto.

Reſolved, That the Sum of Five Pounds be given to Rachel Lininger, in Conſideration of her preſent diſtreſſed Circumſtances, occaſioned by her Huſband being lately killed on the Frontiers of this Province by the Enemy Indians.

And an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treaſurer, and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, for Payment of the ſame.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, return, and report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he ſhould not recede from his propoſed Amendments to the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and that when he had taken ſome Copies of the ſaid Bill, it ſhould be returned to the Houſe.

The Committee of Accounts reported, that they had examined the Account of John Potter, Sheriff of Cumberland County, and were of Opinion, that the ſame ought to be allowed and paid by this Houſe.——To which Report the Houſe agreed;

And an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treaſurer, and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, for Payment of the ſame.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to next Second-day, at Three o'Clock, P. M.

November 24. The Houſe met, according to their Adjournment.

Poſt Meridiem The Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, to which the Governor had refuſed his Aſſent, was brought to the Houſe by the Clerk, who informed the Houſe, that he had received it from the Secretary, for that Purpoſe.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe Three Meſſages in Writeing, and the Report of a Committee of the Governor's Council concerning the Claim of the Shawaneſe Indians to the Lands about Conedoguinet, which were read, and are as follow, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'HAD you been as explicit in your firſt Meſſage as you was in your laſt, about the Shawaneſe Indians, I ſhould have been ſooner able to have given you a full Anſwer as to your Enquiries upon that Subject.

The

1755. November 24.

'The Government of this Province has ever been remarkable for its just and favourable Treatment of the Indians; and so far have the Proprietaries been from depriving them of their Lands, without paying for them, that they have purchased the most of them more than once; and the Indians on their Parts have upon all Occasions acknowledged this Justice, and in Return made warm Professions of their Friendship and Affection to the Proprietaries and People of this Province; and I never heard either of the particular Complaint you mention in your Message of the Eighth Instant, or of any Complaint of the Kind.——However, as it was before my Administration, I referred the Matter to the Consideration of a Committee of the Council, who have carefully examined the several Treaties and Transactions with those Indians, and have made a full Report as to the Matters you enquire about, which I send you with this; and from which it seems clear to me, that no such Complaint or Promise was ever made.

Philadelphia, November 22, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

To the Honourable ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS, Esq; Lieutenant-Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of Pennsylvania, and Counties of New-Castle, Kent and Sussex, upon Delaware.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

Council's Report.

YOUR Honour and the Council having taken into Consideration the Message from the Assembly of the Fifth Instant, wherein they "request you would be pleased to "inform them, whether you know of any Disgust or Injury the Delawares or Shawa-"nese have ever received from this Province, and by what Means their Affections can "be so alienated as to take up the Hatchet against us:" And also their other Message of the Eighteenth Instant on the same Subject, wherein they "enquire particularly, "whether the Chiefs of the Shawanese did not, in 1753, complain to this Government, "that Satisfaction had not been made to them by the Proprietaries for a large Tract of "Land, Part of which was surveyed into the Proprietary Manor on Conedoguinet, and "whether they were not then promised that Application should be immediately made "to the Proprietaries, in their Behalf, to obtain the Satisfaction they desired; and "whether such Application has been made, and the Satisfaction obtained and given." And it being, by Order of Council of the Nineteenth Day of November instant, referred to us, as a Committee of the said Council, to examine all proper Persons, and to inspect the Council Books, Indian Treaties, and other Books and Papers that could furnish us with any Lights into the Subject Matter of the said Messages, and to make our Report thereon; We now report, that we have perused the printed Treaty held by Richard Peters, Isaac Norris and Benjamin Franklin, Esquires, by special Commission from this Government, with the said Delaware and Shawanese Indians, &c. at Carlisle, in October, 1753, which we suppose was the Time and Place alluded to by the Assembly in their said second Message, of the said Indians making such Complaint of their not having received Satisfaction for the said large Tract of Land, expecting to see some Notice taken therein of such Complaint; but not finding in it any Mention made thereof, we applied to the said Mr. Peters, to know whether he remembered any such Complaint to have been made by the said Indians at Carlisle, or elsewhere, or of any Promise to make an Application for them to the Proprietaries for such Satisfaction; to which he answered, that he did not remember ever to have heard at Carlisle, or elsewhere, of any such Complaint being made by the said Indians, or any of them, or that any Promise was ever given of making Application on their Behalf to the Proprietaries for such Satisfaction; and that he never understood that the Shawanese had or could have any Right to the said Land, or any other Land in this Province.

That in order to find what Right the said Indians had or claimed to the said large Tract of Land, and whether there was any just Foundation for such a Complaint, we have inspected all the Minutes of Council, and other Books and Papers that we conceived could assist us in the said Enquiry, and find, that the Nation of Indians, called the Shawanese, are Southern Indians, who, being rendered uneasy by their Neighbours, came up to Conestogoe about the Year 1698, making about Sixty Families, and desired Leave of the Susquehanna Indians, who then lived there, to settle on that River. — That these Susquehanna Indians applied to this Government, that the Shawanese might be admitted to settle, and said, that they would become answerable for their good Behaviour.—— That the first Proprietary, WILLIAM PENN, Esq; arriving soon after this Transaction, the Chiefs of the Shawanese and Susquehanna Indians came to this City, and renewing their said Application, the Proprietary agreed to their Settlement there; whereupon the Shawanese came under the Protection of this Government. From that Time greater Numbers of those Indians followed them, and settled on Susquehanna, and the Upper Parts of Delaware.——That as they had joined themselves to the Susquehanna Indians, who were dependant on the Five Nations, they thereby fell also under their Protection. That several Treaties were held with those amongst the other Indians at different Times by this Government; and from their first coming, they were accounted and treated as 1755. November 24. our Indians.——That ſome of their young Men, about the Year 1727, committed ſome Diſorders in this Province, and though the Government had fully forgiven them for theſe Outrages, yet, being on that Account threatened by, and therefore afraid of, the Six Nations, they removed to the River Ohio in the Year 1728, or 1729, and there, ſoon after, put themſelves under the Protection of the French, who received them as their Children.——That Meſſages were ſent from this Government to them to return to us; and Applications were made to the Six Nations to interpoſe and prevail on them ſo to do. And the better to induce and encourage them to leave the French, a large Tract of Land was offered them on the Weſt-Side of Suſquehanna, where they had been ſettled before, and they were deſired by all Means to return thither.——That the Proprietary, THOMAS PENN, upon his Arrival in the Year 1732, again preſſed them to return and live on this Land, which he promiſed them ſhould be always kept for them, and their Children, if they would come and live upon it; but they declined it, ſaying, they were afraid of their Enemies the Tuteloes, and that it was not convenient for their Hunting, but deſired that the Land might be kept for them, which it has ever ſince been. But we find the Aſſembly are miſtaken in their ſaid ſecond Meſſage, in ſaying, that Part of the ſaid large Tract was ſurveyed into the Proprietary Manor, on Conedoguinet; for the Fact was, that in order the more effectually to keep off any other Settlers on that large Tract, the Proprietaries cauſed the Whole of it to be ſurveyed as a Proprietary Manor. And in looking into many of the Proprietary Indian Purchaſes, we find that this Land has been bought over and over again by the Proprietaries, as well of the Suſquehanna Indians as of the Six Nations, to whom it did belong.

We thought proper to report theſe Matters thus particularly, that it might appear evident that the Shawaneſe did not originally belong to this Province, and never had any Right to any Lands in it, or made any Pretenſions thereto, but that the Proprietaries, from Favour, and to encourage thoſe Indians to remove from the Neighbourhood of the French, and live among us, offered them the ſaid large Tract of Land for their Habitation.

We likewiſe find by the ſaid Treaty held by the ſaid Commiſſioners at Carliſle in 1753, that the Chiefs of both theſe Nations of Delawares and Shawaneſe, did, in a ſolemn Manner, renew the Treaties of Amity and Friendſhip with this Province.

We further find, that in the Fall of the Year 1754, Mr. Weiſer was deputed by this Government to have an Interview with the ſeveral Nations of Indians at Aughwick, amongſt whom were ſome of the ſame Chiefs of the Delawares and Shawaneſe as were at Carliſle the Year before; and by his Journal it appears, that theſe very Chiefs made the ſtrongeſt Profeſſions of their Friendſhip to this Government, and of the grateful Senſe they retained of the conſtant good Uſage and Favours they had received from it, and in particular, of our procuring the Diſcharge of ſome of the Shawaneſe, who had been made Priſoners at Carolina, and our kind Treatment of them in their Return, and Goodneſs in ſending them back to their Nation; and of their own Accord did ratify, confirm and renew their League with this Government, without making the leaſt Complaint againſt the Proprietaries, or this Government, on Account of the ſaid Tract of Land, or on any other Account, as it is well known to all who are acquainted with Indian Affairs they would have been ready enough to do, if they had imagined they had any juſt Cauſe for it, and without making any Enquiry whether ſuch Application had been made to the Proprietaries, and what the Succeſs thereof had been as it was natural to expect they would, if any ſuch Promiſe had been made them to do it; and therefore we conclude, that they could then have no Diſpleaſure at any Thing done to them either by the Proprietaries or Government before that Time.

And we further beg Leave to remind your Honour, that at one of the Conferences lately had with Scarroyady, one of the Six Nation Chiefs, and Andrew Montour, in the Council Chamber, they being particularly aſked, if the Delawares or Shawaneſe had any Cauſe of Complaint given them by this Government, they declared, that thoſe Indians had never mentioned any to them; and that they never heard, not did believe, they had any, but that they attributed their Defection wholly to the Defeat of General Braddock, and the Encreaſe of Strength and Reputation gained on that Victory by the French, and their intimidating thoſe Indians, and uſing all Means by Promiſes and Threats to ſeduce and fix them in their Intereſt; and to the ſeeming Weakneſs and Want of Union in the Engliſh, and their appearing unable or unwilling to protect them, and particularly this Government, who had conſtantly refuſed to put the Hatchet into their Hands. And we beg Leave to ſay, we are entirely of Opinion, that this is the true and ſole Cauſe of their Defection.

Upon the Whole, we beg Leave to aſſure your Honour, that from a careful Inſpection and Examination of all the Tranſactions between this Government and the ſaid Delaware and Shawaneſe Indians, we find that the Conduct of the Proprietaries and this Government has been always uniformly juſt, fair and generous towards thoſe Indians; and that it does not appear to us, that they could have any Pretence of Right to the ſaid Land, or any Part of it, nor any juſt Foundation for any Claim thereof, unleſs from the said voluntary Offer so made them by the Proprietaries, to come and live on the said Land, which they declined, and refused to accept of; nor that they had any just Cause of Complaint against the Proprietaries or this Government on that or any other Account; and that if they had made any such Complaint at the said Treaty at Carlisle, in 1753, the said three Commissioners, who knew so well what was proper, and have so minutely set forth the Transactions of that Treaty in their said printed Report thereof, which they therein call a full and just Account of all their Proceedings, could not possibly have omitted so material an One; but if any such Thing was there really spoke of by those Indians, they must, as we do, look upon it as a groundless, insignificant Claim, and not worthy of being inserted in their said Report.

Philadelphia, November 22, 1755.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'THE Success of his Majesty's Arms, employed in driving the French from their 'Encroachments in Nova-Scotia, put it into the Power of Governor Lawrence to 'reduce the French Inhabitants of that Colony, commonly called French Neutrals, to 'a proper Obedience to his Majesty's Government, or of forcing them to quit the Country. 'But they refusing to swear Allegiance to his Majesty, it was thought by him, and his 'Majesty's Council there, as well as by the Admirals Boscawen and Moyston, necessary 'for the Safety of that Province, that a considerable Number of them should be removed, 'and divided among the other Colonies; and a Part of those destined for this Province 'are already arrived; but as I did not think it safe, in our present Circumstances, to per-'mit them to land, I have ordered the Vessels that brought them to lie at a convenient 'Distance below the Town, and have put Guards upon them, and ordered them Pro-'visions.

'Imagining General Shirley to be at New-York, I have acquainted him of their Ar-'rival, and the Danger that might accrue to us from such a Number of People of their 'Principles coming amongst us at this Time, and desired his particular Instructions in 'what Manner I might best dispose of them; and I wait his Answer: But as I hear he 'is still at Albany, and the Doctors have reported to me, that it is dangerous to suffer 'them to continue longer in such a crouded State, I therefore think it necessary to land 'them at the Province Island, and recommend it to you to make Provision for them, and 'to enable me to place a proper Guard over them.

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

GENTLEMEN,

'ON Saturday last I received Letters from the Proprietaries, in Answer to mine give-'ing them an Account of the Defeat of the Forces under General Braddock, where-'in they express great Concern at that unfortunate Event, and at the Danger to which 'this Province was exposed in Consequence thereof. Their Care and Regard for the 'Safety of the People was such, that immediately upon receiving that Piece of Intelli-'gence, they sent me an Order upon their Receiver-General for Five Thousand Pounds, 'as a free Gift to the Public, to be applied to such Uses as that Event might make ne-'cessary for the common Security of the Province. This timely and generous Instance 'of the Proprietaries Care and Anxiety for the Inhabitants, cannot fail of making the 'most lasting Impression upon the Minds of every Well-wisher to this Country.

'I have directed the Receiver-General to have the Money ready as soon as possible; 'and it will be paid to such Persons as shall be appointed by Act of Assembly for the 'Disposition of any Sum you may think necessary to raise for the Defence of the Pro-'vince in this Time of Danger.

'Upon this Occasion, Gentlemen, I must again recommend it to you, to lay aside all 'Disputes, and to grant such Supplies, in Addition to what the Proprietaries have given, 'as his Majesty's Service and the pressing Exigences of the Province require.

Philadelphia, November 24, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Bill for the better ordering and regulating such as are willing and desirous to be united for Military Purposes within this Province, being ingrossed, was read, and compared at the Table.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment November 25.

The following Remonstrance was presented to the House and read, viz.

To the REPRESENTATIVES of the FREEMEN of the Province of Pennsylvania, in ASSEMBLY met.

A REMONSTRANCE by the Mayor, Aldermen and Common-Council of the City of Philadelphia, in Behalf of the said City.

A Remonstrance from the Mayor, &c.

GENTLEMEN,

YOU were lately called together upon more urgent Business than ever came before an Assembly of this Province; and while you have been sitting scarce a Day has passed paſſed wherein you have not heard of the inhuman Slaughter of your Fellow-Subjects, and been loudly called upon for that Protection, which, by the moſt ſacred Ties, you owe to the People. On ſuch an Emergency we imagined you had an eaſy and expeditious Mode of Procedure before you, namely, to poſtpone all Diſputes to a more ſeaſonable Time; to grant the neceſſary Supplies on ſuch Terms as thoſe on which the reſt of his Majeſty's Colonies have granted large Sums for the like Purpoſes: And laſtly, to paſs a reaſonable Law, in order to collect and regulate the Force of the Province, for repelling the preſent cruel Invaſion. Nevertheleſs, while you have been deliberating, much innocent Blood hath been ſpilt, a great Extent of our Country laid waſte, and the miſerable Inhabitants ſcattered abroad before the ſavage Spoiler.

We therefore, in the moſt ſolemn Manner, before GOD, and in the Name of all our Fellow-Citizens, call upon you, adjure you, nay, we ſupplicate you, as you regard the Lives of the People whom you repreſent, to give that legal Protection to your bleeding Country, which ought to be the chief Object of all Government at ſuch a perilous Juncture as this; and let it be no longer ſaid, that while we are daily hearing ſo much concerning Privilege and Right, we are in the mean time deprived of that moſt eſſential Right, and great firſt Privilege, (which GOD and Nature gave us) of defending our Lives, and protecting our Families.

We profeſs the ſame Reaſons for this Application which determined many of the Inhabitants of this City to make a like Application on the Twelfth Inſtant; and as thoſe Reaſons now lie before you, we need not repeat them further than by obſerving, that a well regulated Militia has always been found both the ſureſt and leaſt expenſive Method of Defence, and that, upon any other Plan, great Sums of Money muſt be thrown away to little Purpoſe, and the People thereby burdened with grievous Taxes.

Another Reaſon for thus applying to you, is the great Diſtreſs which this City, committed to our Care, is like to labour under by the vaſt Increaſe of the Poor from all Parts of the Country, and the melancholy Proſpect of having far greater Numbers of the unhappy Back Settlers driven in upon us from their Habitations, and continually flying to the Shelter and Charity of the City, as the Place of the greateſt Safety. This muſt neceſſarily be prejudicial to the general Courſe of Buſineſs, and enhance the Value of all Neceſſaries by encreaſing the Number of Mouths, and at the ſame Time diminiſhing the Number of Hands that ſhould ſupply our Market; all which will prove a Burden upon us too heavy to bear.

Seeing therefore our Affairs are brought to ſuch a Criſis, and as this our reaſonable Demand cannot require much Time for your Conſideration, having already been ſo often made to you by Petitions from all Parts of the Province, we do earneſtly recommend Diſpatch to you; for as the People ſeem already in a deplorable and deſperate Condition, we fear it will not be poſſible to preſerve the Peace and Quiet of this City, nor of the Province itſelf, much longer, if ſome effectual Methods are not ſpeedily taken for their general Defence and Security.

November 24, 1755. By Order of the Board,

WILLIAM PLUMSTED, Mayor."

Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Committee appointed to conſider the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-ſecond Inſtant, relating to the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, made a Report thereon in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

Committee's Report on the Governor's Meſſage.

WE have conſidered the Governor's long Meſſage of the Twenty-ſecond Inſtant, and are of Opinion, that as the Bulk of the ſaid Meſſage conſiſts of groundleſs Charges and Calumnies againſt the Aſſemblies and People of this Province, which have been repeatedly refuted in the Anſwers of the Aſſembly of May 17, Auguſt 8, Auguſt 19, September 29, &c. &c. there is not now the leaſt Neceſſity of giving any Anſwer to thoſe Parts of the Meſſage, they may be ſafely left to themſelves.

And though we had prepared a full Anſwer to the reſt of that Meſſage, yet as there ſeems from the Governor's Meſſage of laſt Night ſome Hopes of an Agreement with him, in the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds, which is the principal Buſineſs of the preſent Seſſion, we ſubmit it to the Houſe, whether at this Time it may not be more conſiſtent with the Prudence and Moderation of the Houſe to ſuppreſs it.

There is however one or two new Charges againſt the Aſſemblies of this Province, which it may be proper to take ſome Notice of. The firſt is, that they "contemptuouſly "treated the Proprietary Offer of Four Hundred Pounds, for erecting a Place of Strength "on the Ohio, together with an Offer of One Hundred Pounds per Annum towards its "Support; which Offers were made at a Time when the Concurrence of the Aſſembly "would probably have prevented many of the Calamities we now groan under."

What this "contemptuous Treatment" was is not here ſpecified, but may be explained by a Paſſage in the Brief State, Page 12, where it is ſaid, the Houſe refuſed the Propoſal a Place in their Minutes. But, in Truth, the Propoſal of building a ſtrong Houſe upon the the Ohio appears upon our Minutes, in Pages 75, 76 and 82*, of the Election in 1750; and nothing further than what is there could properly be made a Part of thoſe Records. The late Governor Hamilton, after ſending the Meſſage of the Thirteenth of Auguſt, 1751, requeſted a private Meeting with ſome of the Members of that Houſe, but without any Authority from the Aſſembly. 1755. November 29.

At this Meeting Governor Hamilton offered, on Behalf of the Proprietaries, Four Hundred Pounds, towards building ſuch a Houſe upon or near the Ohio (but not a Syllable of maintaining or ſupporting it.) The Indians were ſo far from preſſing our engaging in it, that Inſtructions were drawn by this Government to require it of them, at a Treaty held by G. Croghan, in May, 1751, and they evidently ſhewed themſelves apprehenſive ſuch an Attempt might give Umbrage to the French, and bring them down the Ohio with an armed Force, to take Poſſeſſion of thoſe Lands. And about two Years afterwards, theſe very Ohio Indians, at the Treaty held at Carliſle, in October, 1753, ſay to our Government, "I deſire you would hear and take Notice of what I am about to ſay; the Governor of "Virginia deſired Leave to build a ſtrong Houſe on Ohio, which came to the Ears of the "Governor of Canada, and we ſuppoſe this cauſed him to invade our Country." Treaty, Page 8. The ſame Sentiments appeared among the Six Nations at the Albany Treaty; "that the Engliſh and French were only contending which of them ſhould have their "Lands." The Reaſoning made uſe of by the Members at this private Conference with the late Governor was, that the Land, where they propoſed to build it, was claimed by the Crown, and was very probably beyond the Limits of Pennſylvania; that, at leaſt, it would be beyond the Reach of our Laws, as appeared by the People already ſettled on Juniata, juſt beyond the North Mountain; that this, inſtead of healing, might create irreconcilable Breaches with our Indians, conſidering what Sort of People would probably reſide there; that the Indians had never heartily requeſted it, nor did it ſeem to be their Intereſt ſo to do; and if they had requeſted it, as they were in Subjection to the Six Nations, it would be neceſſary to have their Aſſent; that this precipitate Act would probably create a Jealouſy in the French, and give them ſome Pretence of an Infraction of the Treaty of Utrecht on our Part, and might finally engage the Britiſh Nation in a War with France. Theſe, and many other Reaſons, were urged at that private Conference, as ſeveral of thoſe Members apprehended to Governor Hamilton's Satisfaction. And it appears by George Croghan's Journal, that thoſe Indians neither did, nor did they think they could, give Leave to build a Houſe on the Ohio, without the expreſs Conſent of the Six Nations; and accordingly they took Two Months to acquaint the Onondago Council with this Tranſaction, and then to ſend us Word, which they never complied with.

It appears further, by the Aſſembly's Meſſage to Governor Hamilton, on the Twenty-firſt of Auguſt, 1751, taken from the Informations of Conrad Weiſer and Andrew Montour, "that the Requeſt inſerted in George Croghan's Journal, as made by the Indians at "Ohio to this Government, to erect a ſtrong Trading Houſe in their Country, as well "as the Danger 'tis there ſaid they apprehended from the Attempts of the French, were "miſunderſtood, or miſrepreſented by the Perſon the Governor confided in for the Ma-"nagement of that Treaty." But it may be unneceſſary to purſue this Enquiry into an Affair wherein George Croghan thought himſelf unkindly, if not unjuſtly, ſacrificed to private Ends, as is well known to ſuch as were acquainted with this Affair, and appears in the Letters and other Papers ſent by himſelf to ſome of the Members of that Aſſembly.

The other new Charge is, "That we would not admit that the French Encroachments "were within the King's Dominions." The Proceedings of the Aſſembly at that Time will ſhew, that this Charge is as ill-founded as the other; for though the Houſe never took upon them to aſcertain the Bounds of the King's Dominions, they never directly nor indirectly denied thoſe Encroachments to be within them.

We have alſo conſidered the Extracts from the Minutes of Council, and compared them with the Journals of this Houſe; and though at firſt Sight of thoſe Extracts, it would ſeem as if many Supply Bills, granting Money to the Crown, had paſſed with Amendments from the Governor, we muſt obſerve that great Art has been uſed in the Forming this Liſt of Bills contained in the Extracts; for Firſt, Where a Number of Bills of that Kind paſſed at the ſame Time, if the Governor had propoſed Amendments to one of them, though none to the reſt, they are all put down in the Liſt as Money Bills paſſing at ſuch a Time, with the Governor's Amendments.

Secondly, Where the Governor propoſed Amendments to Bills, though ſuch Amendments were not agreed to, and the Bills paſſed without them; yet ſuch Bills ſerve to encreaſe this Liſt.

Thirdly, Where the Governor propoſed Amendments to Bills, which not being agreed to, the Bills never paſſed at all, yet theſe are recited as Bills amended by the Governor.

Fourthly, Where Amendments had been propoſed by the Governor, and refuſed by the Houſe; and the Bills dropped; but were reſumed de novo, in a ſubſequent Seſſion, or even a ſubſequent Aſſembly; and thoſe Amendments then (as they properly might be) taken in; theſe help to make up the Liſt of Bills amended by the Governor.

1755. November 25.

Fifthly, Where the Houſe, rejecting the Governor's Amendments, have ſubſtituted Amendments of their own; theſe are called Bills amended by the Governor.

Sixthly, Where the Houſe, to avoid the Occaſion of any Diſputes about Amendments of Money Bills, confiding in the Ability and good Diſpoſition of the Governor to aſſiſt them with his Advice in the Forming of their Bills, have communicated their Draughts to him before the third Reading, and he has kindly afforded his Aſſiſtance, as was common in Governor Keith's Time; theſe are all added to ſwell the Liſt of Money Bills that paſſed with the Governor's Amendments.

Seventhly, Bills that contained no general Grants of Money, but were in the Nature of private Bills, ſuch as for raiſing Money for the Uſe of the City of Philadelphia, or the particular Uſes of a County, are all added to this Liſt.

Eighthly, Little Supplementary Bills to enforce the Collection of the Arrearages of a Tax, or the like, are ranked among thoſe Money Bills to which Governors have propoſed Amendments.

Ninthly, Where the Governor only objected to the Officer nominated in an Exciſe Bill, and the Houſe adhered to their Nomination; but the Officer appearing in the Houſe, and refuſing to ſerve, and the Houſe being therefore under a Neceſſity of nominating a new Officer; this is alſo reckoned among Money Bills paſſed with the Governor's Amendments.

Tenthly, Bills merely intended to prevent Inconveniences, by laying Penalties, Half to the Uſe of the Informer, and Half to the Government, are reckoned among the Money Bills. And in ſhort, it ſeems as if every Bill that had the Word Money in it, if the Word Amendment could be found in any Minute of Council relating to it, is, right or wrong, inliſted among the Money Bills ſaid to be paſſed with the Governor's Amendments. Were all theſe to be deducted from the Liſt, it would appear that there are but few Inſtances in our Journals of proper Money Bills amended by the Governor, and the Amendments agreed to by the Houſe; this is no more than was acknowledged by the preceding Aſſembly, in their Meſſage of the Twenty-ninth of September, where they ſay, that in a very few Inſtances their Predeceſſors might have waved that Right on particular Occaſions, but had never given it up.

RICHARD PEARN, JAMES WEBB,
BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, DAVID M'CONNAUGHY,
MAHLON KIRKBRIDE, JOSEPH ARMSTRONG,
PETER DICKS, WILLIAM EDMONDS."

Ordered, That the Draught of the Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage, mentioned by the Committee in the foregoing Report, be read.

And it was read accordingly.

Reſolved, That this Houſe do agree with the Report of the Committee; and that the ſaid Anſwer be at preſent laid aſide, for the Reaſons given.

The Houſe being informed, that ſundry Inhabitants of the County of Philadelphia, and ſome from the County of Cheſter, were attending without, and deſired to be admitted to lay ſomething before the Houſe in Perſon, they were called in; and one of them preſented to the Speaker a Paper, ſigned by Twenty-nine Perſons, which was read, by Order of the Houſe, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

November 19, 1755.

" At a Meeting of the Inhabitants of the County of Philadelphia, We, your Peti" tioners, here preſent ourſelves in Perſon; humbly deſiring that our Governor and Houſe
" of Repreſentatives do unite in the Fear of Almighty God; ſo, by his Grace, be enabled " to proceed to take ſuch Ways and Meaſures as may be moſt agreeable to his divine
" Will, for our Preſervation in this Time of imminent Danger. Which is the ſincere
" Deſire and Requeſt of us whoſe Names are here under ſubſcribed."

After the foregoing Petition was read, ſome Converſation enſued between the Speaker and the Petitioners, to the following Purport: The Speaker told them, that it was well known this Houſe was compoſed of Members choſen, without any Solicitation on their Parts, to be the Repreſentatives of the People and Guardians of their Liberties; that the whole Powers the Houſe were inveſted with were derived from the People themſelves, and that as the Houſe had hitherto, ſo they ſhould ſtill continue to diſcharge the high Truſt repoſed in them to the beſt of their Underſtanding and Abilities; and then aſked them, Whether they deſired that the Houſe ſhould give up any Rights, which, in the Opinion of the Houſe, the People were juſtly intitled to? Some of the Petitioners, in Behalf of the Whole, anſwered, No; they were far from requiring any Thing of that Kind; all they wanted was that ſome Expedient might be fallen upon, if poſſible, to accommodate Matters in ſuch a Manner as that the Province might be relieved from its preſent unhappy Situation.

To

To this the Speaker replied, that Nothing could be more agreeable to this House than a Harmony between the two Branches of the Legislature; and that as the Governor had Yesterday Evening sent down a Message, intimating that the Proprietaries are now disposed to contribute a Sum of Money towards the common Security of the Province, there was a great Probability that all Controversies on that Head were at an End, and that some Method would be speedily taken for relieving the Province from its present Difficulties. 1755. November 25.

And the Petitioners being withdrawn, their Petition was again read, and considered, and, after some Time spent therein,

Resolved, That as the Bill for granting Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, which was presented to the Governor for the Purposes mentioned in the said Petition, is now returned to the House without his Assent, this House will, as soon as may be, proceed to consider what other Means are in their Power to answer the Prayer of the said Petition, and to afford the Province suitable Relief under its present distressed Circumstances.

Ordered, That Griffith Owen and David M'Connaughy wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Bill for the better ordering and regulating such as are willing and desirous to be united for Military Purposes within this Province is engrossed, and that the House desire he would be pleased to appoint some of the Council to join with the said Members of this House, to compare the same. And further, desire that the Governor would be pleased to appoint a Time when the House shall wait upon him, in order to have the said Bill passed into a Law.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor, with the Message of the House, report, that they had delivered the same according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to appoint a Member of the Council to join the Members of this House in comparing the engrossed Bill, who found it to agree with the Original; and he was pleased to say, that he would be in the Council Chamber at Four o'Clock this Afternoon, in order to pass the same into a Law. Post Meridiem

A Message from the Governor, by the Secretary,

S I R,

" The Governor is now in the Council Chamber, ready to receive the House, in or" der to pass the Militia Bill into a Law."

Ordered, That Griffith Owen and David M'Connaughy see the Great Seal affixed to the Law after it shall be passed, and the same deposited in the Rolls Office.

Then the Speaker, with the whole House, waited on the Governor.

And being returned, the Speaker resumed the Chair, and reported, that the House had waited on the Governor with the Bill, entituled, An Act for the better ordering and regulating such as are willing and desirous to be united for Military Purposes within this Province, to which the Governor was pleased to give his Assent, by enacting the same into a Law.

Upon Motion made,

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this House, that the Trustees of the Province-Island should admit as many of the French Neutrals into the Houses on said Island as conveniently may be; and this House will make Provision for defraying the Charges the said Trustees shall be put to in maintaining the said Neutrals.

The Governor's Message, relating to the Proprietaries Offer of Five Thousand Pounds, being again read, and considered;

Resolved, N. C. D. That the Right of granting Supplies to the Crown in this Province, is alone in the Representatives of the Freemen met in Assembly, being essential to an English Constitution. And the Limitation of all such Grants, as to the Matter, Manner, Measure and Time, is in them only.

Resolved, That in Consideration of the Governor's Message of Yesterday, by which it appears, that the Proprietaries have sent him an Order on the Receiver General for Five Thousand Pounds, to be paid into the Hands of such Persons as shall be appointed by Act of Assembly, and applied with such Sums as the Assembly should grant, to such Uses as may be necessary for the common Security of the Province; and as it would not be reasonable or just, at this Time, to tax the Proprietary Estate, in order to raise Money therefrom, over and above the said Grant from the Proprietaries, the House will immediately proceed to form a new Bill for granting a Sum of Money to the Use of the Crown, and therein omit the Taxation of the said Estate.

Ordered, That Joseph Stretch, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, Peter Dicks, James Wright, David M'Connaughy, Joseph Armstrong and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of a Bill for the Purposes aforesaid.

The Gentlemen appointed to see the Great Seal affixed to the Law, reported, that the same is done, and that it is deposited in the Rolls Office.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

A Bill

1755. November 26. A Bill for granting the Sum of Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and for ſtriking Fifty-five Thouſand Pounds thereof in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for ſinking the ſame (wherein the Proprietary Eſtate is exempted from Taxation towards raiſing the ſaid Sum, in Conſideration of their granting Five Thouſand Pounds in Lieu thereof) was brought in by the Committee appointed to prepare the ſame, read the firſt time, and ordered a ſecond Reading.

The Secretary brought down to the Houſe ſundry Letters and Papers, containing an Account of the Deſtruction of Mahony, a Moravian Settlement in this Province, which he informed the Houſe the Governor had juſt received by Expreſs from Northampton County.

And the ſaid Letters and Papers were read, and ordered to lie on the Table.

The Bill, entituled, An Act for granting the Sum of Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and for ſtriking Fifty-five Thouſand Pounds thereof in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for ſinking the ſame, being read the ſecond and third times, by ſpecial Order,

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

Ordered, That David M'Connaughy and Joſeph Armſtrong do carry up the ſame to the Governor for his Concurrence.

Ordered, That Mary Burden do, as ſoon as may be, in the next enſuing Spring, remove out of the Office, in the Weſtern Wing of the State-houſe, where ſhe has dwelt for ſome Time paſt; and that the Superintendants of the State-houſe do give her Notice thereof.

The Houſe being informed, that ſundry Inhabitants of the County of Northampton were attending without, and had ſomething to offer to the Houſe, they were called in; and, after informing the Houſe of the Apprehenſions the Inhabitants of ſaid County were under, on Account of the late Incurſions of the Indians, they withdrew.

Anthony Benezet attending without, was called in, and informed the Houſe, that he had, at the Requeſt of ſome of the Members, viſited the French Neutrals now on board ſundry Veſſels in the River near the City, and found that they were in great Want of Blankets, Shirts, Stockings, and other Neceſſaries; and he then withdrew.

Reſolved, That this Houſe will allow ſuch reaſonable Expences as the ſaid Benezet may be put to in furniſhing the Neutral French now in this Province with Neceſſaries.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, to the Governor, according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he ſhould immediately take the ſaid Bill into Conſideration, and give it all the Diſpatch in his Power.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem. The following Petition from ſundry Creditors of George Croghan and William Trent was laid before the Houſe and read, viz.

To the REPRESENTATIVES of the FREEMEN of the Province of Pennſylvania, in GENERAL ASSEMBLY met.

The PETITION of the principal Creditors of George Croghan and William Trent, of the County of Cumberland, Partners, and Indian Traders,

Humbly ſheweth,

Petition from G. Croghan's and W. Trent's Creditors. THAT the ſaid George Croghan and William Trent ſtand indebted to your Petitioners, and ſundry others, in conſiderable and large Sums of Money; and that by many Loſſes, occaſioned by the Defection of our Indian Allies from their former Friendſhip and Amity with this Province, and the Invaſion and Conqueſt by the French on the Ohio, and the adjacent Country, (where, for the moſt Part, the Goods purchaſed of your Petitioners were ſold, the Contracts by the ſaid George Croghan and William Trent made, and their Debts became due) they are rendered altogether deſtitute of Money or Effects to make that Satisfaction to their Creditors, which their Inclination and Conſcience would oblige them to do, were it in their Power.

That the ſaid George Croghan has been for ſome Time, and is now, at Aughwick, in the moſt melancholy and deplorable Circumſtances, in a Condition very defenceleſs, deſtitute of all Kinds of Proviſions, but what is procured at the Hazard of his Life, and daily liable to the Invaſion and Maſſacre of our Barbarian Enemies; that your Petitioners are well aſſured that the ſole Cauſe of his continuing there, in this dangerous and truly unhappy Situation, proceeds from an Apprehenſion that ſome of his Creditors would lay him under an Arreſt, and deprive him of his Liberty, ſhould he come into the more ſettled Parts of the Province; that although the chief and principal of the Creditors of the ſaid George Croghan and William Trent reſide in this City, and are of the Subſcribers hereunto, yet there are many others to whom leſs Sums are due, diſperſed throughout the the ſeveral Counties in this and the adjacent Provinces, which renders it next to impoſſible to procure all their Creditors to ſign a general Letter of Licence (the uſual Method made uſe of in ſuch Caſes) however inclinable they may be ſo to do: That your Petitioners conceiving, that the Keeping of the ſaid George Croghan under his preſent unhappy Circumſtances will anſwer no good End, and at the ſame Time taking into their Conſideration the great Knowledge of the ſaid George Croghan in Indian Affairs, his extenſive Influence among them, and the Service and public Utility he may be of to this Province in theſe Reſpects, they are willing chearfully to ſurrender up their juſt Demands againſt the ſaid George Croghan and William Trent, for the Space of Ten Years; and are induced to pray, that this Houſe would be pleaſed to take the Premiſes into their wiſe and prudent Conſideration, and enact ſuch a Law as they ſhall think moſt expedient and fit to render the ſaid George Croghan and William Trent, or either of them, free from any Arreſt, Suit, Trouble or Moleſtation whatſoever, for any Sums of Money which now are due, or contracted for, and yet to become due, as well to us as to others their ſaid Creditors. Inſerting, nevertheleſs, in the ſaid Act a Proviſo, that nothing therein contained ſhall affect any Debts which are due to any Perſon whatever from the ſaid George Croghan and William Trent, in Company with others, ſo as to diſcharge their Partners (if any there be) from ſuch Company Debts; and your Petitioners, as in Duty bound, will ever pray. 1755. Ordered, That the Petitioners have Leave to bring in a Bill for the Purpoſes mentioned in their Petition.

The Secretary brought down the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and for ſtriking Fifty-five Thouſand Pounds thereof in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for ſinking the ſame, with a verbal Meſſage, that the Governor is ready to paſs the ſame into a Law whenever the Houſe ſhall preſent it to him for that Purpoſe.

The Account from James Rankin, for Services done on the Ohio Road, was agreed to be allowed by the Houſe.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

Ordered, That James Pemberton and William Callender wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe look upon the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade, which has lain ſo long before the Governor, as a Bill of the utmoſt Conſequence to the Welfare of this Province, and deſire to know if he hath yet come to any Reſolution thereupon.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he had not yet conſidered the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade, nor did he know when he ſhould; that he conceived the ſaid Bill required a great Variety of Amendments; and that he muſt conſult the Laws of the other Provinces thereupon.

Orders were drawn on the Treaſurer for the Payment of Henry Kepple's and George Honey's Accounts, for Indians Expences (the firſt amounting to Five Pounds Fourteen Shillings and Six-pence, and the latter to Eight Pounds and Nine-pence) and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe.

A Meſſage from the Governor, by the Secretary:

S I R,

" The Governor is now in the Council Chamber ready to receive the Houſe, in order " to enact the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe into a Law."

Ordered, That Richard Pearn and John Hughes ſee the Great Seal affixed to the Law, after it ſhall be paſſed, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office.

Then the Speaker, with the whole Houſe, waited upon the Governor.

And being returned, the Speaker reſumed the Chair, and reported, that the Houſe had waited on the Governor with the Bill, entituled, An Act for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and for ſtriking Fifty-five Thouſand Pounds thereof in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for ſinking the ſame, who was pleaſed to give his Aſſent thereto, by enacting the ſame into a Law.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Bill, entituled, An Act for the Relief of George Croghan and William Trent for and during the Space of Ten Years, being tranſcribed, was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

Ordered, That Thomas Cummings and Peter Worral do carry up the ſame to the Governor for his Concurrence; and likewiſe deliver to the Governor the following Meſſage, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. AS the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade, by employing ſober and diſcreet Perſons to reſide among thoſe Nations that remain Friends to this Province, for the Purpoſe of furniſhing them with the neceſſary Goods in Exchange for their Peltry, at eaſy and reaſonable Rates, on Account of the Public, and thereby ſecuring them to our Intereſt, ſeems to us a Bill of great Importance at this Juncture, we are very deſirous of bringing it to a Concluſion as ſoon as poſſible, and therefore once more earneſtly requeſt the Governor would be pleaſed to let us know his Sentiments upon it, and communicate the Amendments he is pleaſed to ſay he thinks needful, that we may conſider them. The Bill has already lain before him above two Weeks; and we fear, if ſomething of the Kind is not immediately gone into, we ſhall loſe our few remaining Indians on Suſquehanna; for as none of our Traders now go among them, and they dare not come down to our Settlements to buy what they want, for fear of being miſtaken for Enemies, there ſeems to be the greateſt Danger of their being neceſſarily driven into the Arms of the French to be provided with the Means of Subſiſtence.

November 28, 1755. Signed by Order of the Houſe,
ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

The Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-fourth Inſtant, relating to the French Neutrals, was again read, and conſidered.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Bill for the Relief of George Croghan and William Trent, and the Meſſage of the Houſe, according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he ſhould conſider the Bill relating to the Indian Trade as ſoon as poſſible; but he ſhould not be able to come to a Determination thereupon by To-morrow.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

November 29. The Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-fourth Inſtant, relating to the Shawaneſe Indians, being again read, and conſidered; Ordered, That James Pemberton, Benjamin Franklin and James Wright be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the ſame.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly. ' SINCE your Bill for regulating the Indian Trade has been before me, my Time ' has been ſo much taken up with the Variety of Buſineſs that the Circumſtances of ' this Province made neceſſary to be diſpatched without Delay, that I have not been able

' to

'to give it the Consideration a Bill of that Nature requires, nor to examine the Laws 1755.
'of the neighbouring Provinces upon that Subject.——But as the Indian Trade is now November 29.
'at a Stand, I cannot conceive that it will be at all dangerous to the Public to defer
'the compleating of this Act till the next Sitting; especially as it will be necessary to 'call in and confine our friendly Indians to certain Limits, to prevent their being mis-
'taken for and killed as Enemies, where they must be subsisted. —— This will hinder
'them from Hunting, so that they will have no Skins to trade with.

Philadelphia, November 29, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Secretary likewise brought down the Bill for the Relief of George Croghan and William Trent, with a proposed Amendment thereto, and informed the House that the Governor was ready to pass the said Bill into a Law, provided they agreed to the said proposed Amendment.

And the said Amendment being read, was agreed to by the House; and the Bill so amended was ordered to be engrossed.

Then the House adjourned to next Second-day, at Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment him, that the House have agreed to his proposed Amendment to the Bill for the Relief of George Croghan and William Trent, and desire he would be pleased to appoint a Time when the House shall wait upon him in order to pass the same into a Law.

The House taking into Consideration the Maintenance of the French Neutrals, sent hither by Admiral Boscawen, and the Governor of his Majesty's Colony of Nova-Scotia, for the Security of the said Colony, recommended it to such of their Members as were of the Board of Commissioners for disposing of the Sixty Thousand Pounds granted to the King's Use, to provide for the Subsistence of the said Neutrals out of the said Money; the Province not having any other Fund sufficient for that Purpose.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

read, and compared at the Table.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor, with the Message of Yesternight, report, that they had delivered the same according to Order, and that the Governor was pleased to say, he should be at the Council Chamber at Eleven o'Clock this Morning, in order to enact the Bill for the Relief of George Croghan and William Trent into a Law.

Ordered, That James Pemberton do meet such of the Council as the Governor shall appoint, to compare the engrossed Bill with the Original.

And the said Member returned and reported, that he had, with a Member of Council, compared the engrossed Bill with the Original, and found them to agree.

A Message from the Governor, by the Secretary:

SIR,

" The Governor is now in the Council Chamber, ready to enact the Bill which has " passed the House with his Concurrence into a Law."

Ordered, That Joseph Fox and Joseph Gibbons see the Great Seal affixed to the Law after it shall be passed, and the same deposited in the Rolls Office.

Then the Speaker, with the whole House, waited upon the Governor.

The House being returned, the Speaker resumed the Chair, and reported, that the House had waited on the Governor with the Bill, entituled, An Act for the Relief of George Croghan and William Trent for and during the Space of Ten Years; to which the Governor was pleased to give his Assent by enacting the same into a Law.

A Remonstrance from sundry Inhabitants of the County of York, praying for an additional Quantity of Arms and Ammunition, and that Forts may be erected at different Places on the Frontiers for the Protection of the Inhabitants, was presented to the House, and read, and recommended to the Consideration of the Commissioners for disposing of the Sixty Thousand Pounds granted to the King's Use.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down to the House a Message in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

'I have lately received ſuch Intelligence as to the State of Indian Affairs, as will 'make it neceſſary for the Colonies to join in ſome general Treaty with thoſe People, as 'well to the Southward as the Northward, which can no way ſo well be reſolved on 'as at the Congreſs now already met.

'And on the other Hand, the late Incurſions of the Enemy, and the Neceſſity there 'is of putting this Province into a Poſture of Defence, as well as carrying into Execu-'tion the ſeveral Matters now in Agitation, call for my Preſence, and the Authority 'of the Government. Under theſe Difficulties I find myſelf at a Loſs which Service to 'prefer, and deſire you will give me your Sentiments on this momentous and preſſing 'Occaſion.

Philadelphia, December 2, 1755. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Secretary likewiſe brought down an Extract of a Letter from Governor Shirley, and ſeveral Minutes of Council, and other Papers relating to Indian Affairs, which were read, and conſidered.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage, relating to the Shawaneſe, reported the ſame to the Houſe; and it was read, approved, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

Adjournment

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

December 3.

The Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage, relating to the Shawaneſe Indians, being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

WE have conſidered the Report of the Committee of the Governor's Council, to which he is pleaſed to refer us for an Anſwer to our Enquiry, relating to a Claim of the Shawaneſe Indians on the Lands near Conedoguinet. We are far from deſiring to juſtify thoſe Indians in their late Outrages and Murders committed againſt the People of this Province, in Violation of the moſt ſolemn Treaties. We believe that great Care has generally been taken to do the Indians Juſtice by the Proprietaries in the Purchaſes made of them, and in all our other public Tranſactions with them: And as they have not the ſame Ideas of legal Property in Lands that we have, and ſometimes think they have Right when in Law they have none, but yet are cheaply ſatisfied for their ſuppoſed as well as real Rights, we think our Proprietaries have done wiſely not only to purchaſe their Lands, but to "purchaſe them more than once," as the Governor ſays they have done, rather than have any Difference with them on that Head, or give any Handle to the Enemies of the Province to exaſperate thoſe People againſt us. It appears indeed from the Report, that they could have but a ſlender Foundation for a Claim of Satisfaction for thoſe Lands. We are however convinced, by original Minutes taken by one of the Commiſſioners at the Treaty of Carliſle, now lying before us, that the Shawaneſe Chiefs mentioned that Claim of theirs to the Lands in Queſtion at that Time, and were promiſed that the Matter ſhould be laid before the Proprietaries. It was after the Public general Buſineſs of the Treaty was over, and was not inſerted in the printed Account of the Treaty, perhaps becauſe it was thought to relate more particularly to the Proprietary than to the Province, and one of the Commiſſioners being himſelf concerned in the Proprietaries Affairs, there was Reaſon to believe he would take Care to get it ſettled; and doubtleſs he would have done ſo, had he not, as appears by the Report, entirely forgot the whole Tranſaction. We are ſorry it was not done, though probably the Inſtigations, preſent Situation and Power of the French might have been ſufficient nevertheleſs to have engaged thoſe Indians in the War againſt us."

The Governor's Meſſage of Yeſternight, relating to the Congreſs to be held at New-York, being again read, and conſidered, Ordered, That James Pemberton, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, George Aſhbridge and James Wright be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the ſame.

Which being accordingly done, was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

Reſolved, That this Houſe will this Afternoon adjourn to the Firſt Day of the Month called March next.

The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

WE think the preſent Circumſtances of this Province call ſtrongly (as the Governor obſerves) for his Preſence here, and for the whole Authority of the Government.

But

But as the Neceſſity of his attending the Congreſs at New-York is beſt known to the Governor, who is acquainted with the Buſineſs there to be conſidered and concluded on, the Particulars of which are not communicated to us, and he can therefore beſt judge whether his Abſence from that Congreſs or from his Province will at this Time be moſt prejudicial to his Majeſty's Service in general; we muſt therefore leave it to his own Judgment and Prudence which Service to prefer. 1755. December 3.

But if Commiſſioners appointed by the Governor can in any Degree ſupply his Place at that Congreſs, either in concluding on the Matters propoſed by the Crown, or concerting Meaſures for a general Treaty with the Indians, and the Governor ſhould think fit to appoint ſome Gentlemen to that Service, we ſhall have no Objection on account of any reaſonable Expence that may attend it, or that may be neceſſary to be defrayed on the Part of this Government towards the propoſed General Treaty. For as this Province always has been, ſo we ſtill are, ready to join with the neighbouring Colonies in any Treaty with the Indians, that may conduce to the general Advantage of the Britiſh Intereſt, as well as at our own Charge to make ſuch as tend particularly to our own Peace and Security."

And the ſaid Meſſage, together with the foregoing one relating to the Shawaneſe, being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, Ordered, That Griffith Owen and William Edmonds wait upon the Governor, and deliver the ſame; and acquaint the Governor, that the Houſe incline to adjourn to the Firſt Day of the Month called March next, if he hath no Objection thereto.

The Houſe taking into Conſideration the Governor's Anſwers to the ſeveral Meſſages of the Houſe relating to the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade, Reſolved, That it is the Opinion of this Houſe, that the Governor evades giving any Anſwer, or making any Amendments to the ſaid Bill, as we apprehend by his Anſwer of the Fourteenth of November laſt, that it might be tranſcribed and ſent over to the Proprietaries for their Opinion or Aſſent.

Reſolved, That it is the Opinion of this Houſe, that the ſaid Bill is of great Importance in the preſent critical Situation of our Affairs; and the Delay or Refuſal of entering into the Conſideration thereof at this Time, may be attended with very ill Conſequences.

Reſolved, That any ill Conſequences which may attend the Poſtponing the Conſideration of the ſaid Bill at this Time, will not lie at the Door of this Houſe.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Account of the Cloathing, &c. ſent to Albany for the New-England Troops, and others in his Majeſty's Service, in Purſuance of a Vote of the laſt Aſſembly on the Twenty-ninth of September, was laid before the Houſe and read, and is as follows, viz. Poſt Meridiem

The Houſe approved of the foregoing Diſburſements, and Reſolved, That this Aſſembly will make Proviſion for the Re-payment of the ſame, agreeable to the Minute of the laſt Aſſembly on the Twenty-ninth of September laſt.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſages of the Houſe, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he had no Objection to the propoſed Time of Adjournment.

It being moved, that a Number of our Friendly Indians are now ſettled at Coneſtogoe, and in Want of Neceſſaries for their Subſiſtance, Reſolved, That this Houſe will allow ſuch reaſonable Expences as the Members for the County of Lancaſter ſhall be put to, in maintaining the ſaid Indians.

The Report of the Committee on the Petition from William Moore, and others, of Cheſter County, the Addreſs from Anthony Morris, and others, of the People called Quakers, and the Repreſentation from William Plumſted, and others, of the City of Philadelphia, being again read and conſidered;

Reſolved, That the ſaid Report be entered on the Minutes of this Houſe.

And it accordingly follows in theſe Words, viz.

Report of the Committee on three Petitions.

THE Committee have conſidered the ſeveral Papers referred to them by the Houſe, and are of Opinion, that though it be the undoubted Right of the Freemen of the Province not only to petition but even to adviſe their Repreſentatives on ſuitable Occaſions, yet their Applications to the Houſe, of whatever Kind, ought to be reſpectful, decent, pertinent, and founded in Truth.

That the Petition from William Moore, and Thirty-five others, Inhabitants of Cheſter County, dated the Third Inſtant, the Day of our firſt Meeting for Buſineſs after the Election, and before the Houſe had entered on any Buſineſs, as it ſuppoſes that the Houſe keeps up unneceſſary Diſputes with the Governor, when as yet there were none begun; and inſinuates, that the Defence of the Province is neglected by the Aſſembly, and neglected from conſcientious Scruples in the Members, is founded in Miſtake and Miſapprehenſion of Facts and Circumſtances, and ſo far improper to be preſented to the Houſe.

That the Petition, entituled, An Addreſs of ſome of the People called Quakers, in Behalf of themſelves and others, ſigned by Anthony Morris, and Twenty-two others, ſo far as it engages for any more than themſelves, and as it inſinuates that many will be under the Neceſſity of ſuffering, rather than conſenting to the Payment of Money to be raiſed and put into the Hands of Commiſſioners, who may apply it to Purpoſes inconſiſtent with the peaceable Teſtimony they profeſs and have borne to the World, appears to us (however decent the Language may be in reſpect to the Houſe) aſſuming a greater Right than they were inveſted with, and an Indication that they had not duly conſidered what has been heretofore tranſacted in the Aſſemblies of this Province, particularly in relation to the Act for granting Two Thouſand Pounds for the Queen's Uſe, paſſed in the Year 1711, and is therefore an unadviſed and indiſcreet Application to the Houſe at this Time.

That the Repreſentation from William Plumſted, and One Hundred Thirty-three others, of the principal Inhabitants, (as they ſtile themſelves) a great Part of them not Freeholders, many of them Strangers or obſcure Perſons, and ſome of them under Age, who may be ſuppoſed but imperfectly acquainted with the general Intereſts of the Province, or with the true State of Public Affairs, as it charges the Houſe with not having a proper Concern for the Lives of the People of the Province, and dictates in a haughty peremptory Manner to the Repreſentative Body of the whole People, what Laws to make, and to which the Preference ſhould be given, and threatens to force a Compliance by the Power of Numbers if its Commands are not obeyed, is a Paper extremely preſuming, indecent, inſolent, and improper to be preſented to this Houſe. And we are farther of Opinion, that the Mayor of the City of Philadelphia, by becoming a Promoter and Ringleader of ſuch an Inſult on this Part of the Government, and by his Authority, Arts and Influence, drawing in ſo many indiſcreet or unwary Perſons to be Partakers with him therein, when he ought rather to have been careful in preſerving good Order, hath exceedingly miſbehaved himſelf, and failed greatly in the Duty of his Station.

On the Whole, the Committee think that the ſaid Papers ought to be rejected. But whether at a Time, when the Houſe has ſuch weighty and important Affairs under Conſideration, it will be proper to ſpend Time in taking any farther Notice of them, or the Promoters of any of them, is, with the reſt, humbly ſubmitted to the Houſe."

November 14, 1755.

James Pemberton, William Callender, Joſeph Gibbons and Peter Worral diſſent to that Part of the Report which relates to Anthony Morris, and others, of the People called Quakers.

Then the Houſe adjourned to the Firſt Day of the Month called March next.

APPENDIX

APPENDIX to the VOTES of ASSEMBLY, from November 3, to December 3, 1755.

The following is the DRAUGHT of the prepared ANSWER to the GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE of the Twenty-ſecond of November, relating to the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, which Anſwer was not ſent up, but laid aſide at that Time for the Reaſons given in the Report of the Committee on ſaid Meſſage. 1755.

A MESSAGE to the GOVERNOR from the ASSEMBLY.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

IF, after the Experience we have had of our Governor, we could be aſtoniſhed at any Thing that comes from him, we ſhould be ſo at his Meſſage of the Twenty-ſecond Inſtant, in which, without the leaſt Remorſe or Shame, he ſums up and renews all his former groundleſs Charges and Calumnies againſt the good People of this Province, and their Repreſentatives in Aſſembly, though they have been ſo repeatedly, fully and publicly refuted.

They have been ſo fully refuted, that we think it now needleſs to do more than refer to our former Anſwers of May 17, Auguſt 8, Auguſt 19, September 29, &c. &c. and relying on the Juſtice of our Cauſe, and the Diſcernment of thoſe who are to judge of it, ſhall not waſte Time in repeating here thoſe Anſwers.

What the Governor tells us of its being the eſtabliſhed Mode for the Crown either to approve or reject the Whole of any Act; and of the Riſk of loſing ſo important an Act on Account of the Clauſe relating to the Taxation of the Proprietaries, appears to us mere Sophiſtry and Amuſement. The Clauſe is a conditional or alternative Clauſe, common in Acts; and whether the Proprietary Eſtate be taxed or exempted, it will truly be, as we have ſaid, in Purſuance of the Act, and by Virtue of the Act itſelf.—In the very ſame Bill is another Clauſe of the ſame alternative Kind, to which the Governor himſelf makes no Objection: It is provided, that in Caſe the four Years Tax falls ſhort of ſinking the Sixty Thouſand Pounds, an additional Tax ſhall be laid on the People to make good the Deficiency; and if the Money raiſed exceeds that Sum, the Overplus ſhall be diſpoſed by a future Act. The Governor may as well tell us, that "one Part of this Clauſe cannot "be approved without rejecting the other; for that the People are to ſuffer an additional "Tax if the four yearly Taxes are not ſufficient; but if ſufficient, then they are to be "exempted from any ſuch additional Tax; if they muſt pay the additional Tax, the "Exemption is rejected; and if they are exempted, the Obligation to pay the additional "Tax is rejected; and therefore, to prevent this Perplexity, we ſhould divide this Clauſe "likewiſe into two ſeparate Bills." What Difference there is in the Nature of theſe Clauſes, or in the Form, we cannot conceive, excepting that in one the Proprietary is named, and in the other the People:—In one the Exemption, if any, is to be declared by the Crown; in the other it ariſes from the Sufficiency of the four Years Tax. So that, notwithſtanding all the Duſt the Governor attempts to raiſe, it ſtill appears clear to us, that the Bill we propoſed is entirely free of the Objections he makes to it, and the Mode of ſubmitting to His Majeſty's Determination more proper than that he propoſes, and as ſafe for the reſt of the Bill, as well as for the pretended Rights of the Proprietary; that his Commiſſion has no ſuch Prohibition in it as he affects to find there; and that we cannot admit of Amendments to a Money Bill like this; Amendments not founded in Reaſon, Juſtice or Equity, but in the arbitrary Pleaſure of a Governor, without betraying the Truſt repoſed in us by our Conſtituents, and giving up their juſt Rights as Freeborn Subjects of England.

The Governor is pleaſed to tell us, "The Conſtitution of this Province is founded on "certain Royal and Proprietary Charters." It is true, and one of thoſe Charters expreſsly ſays, "That the Aſſemblies of this Province ſhall have Power to chuſe a Speaker, "and other their Officers; and ſhall be Judges of the Qualifications and Elections of "their own Members; ſit upon their own Adjournments; appoint Committees; pre-"pare Bills, in order to paſs into Laws; impeach Criminals, and redreſs Grievances; "and ſhall have ALL OTHER Powers and Privileges of an Aſſembly, according to the "Rights of the Freeborn Subjects of England, and as is uſual in ANY of the King's "Plantations in America." Theſe very Words are alſo to be found in a Law of the Province, enacted in the Fourth of Queen ANNE, and to this Day in Force. That the "Freeborn Subjects of England" have a Right to grant Money by their Repreſentatives in Parliament, in Bills that ſhall ſuffer no Amendment, the Governor does not deny; nor that it is uſual in any of the King's Plantations in America: If therefore the Freeborn Subjects of England have this Right, we have it by our Charter, and our Laws. And if we had it not by our Charter and Laws, we ſhould nevertheleſs have it; for the Freeborn Subjects of England do not loſe their eſſential Rights by removing into the King's Plantations, extending the Britiſh Dominions at the Hazard of their Lives and Fortunes, and encreaſing the Power, Wealth and Commerce of their Mother Country; they have, on 1755. the contrary, particular Privileges juſtly granted and added to their native Rights, for their Encouragement in ſo uſeful and meritorious an Undertaking.

In the Governor's Meſſage of Auguſt 12, to the late Aſſembly, he himſelf ſays, that by the Royal Charter the Powers of an Aſſembly were to be conſonant to the Laws and Conſtitution of England, and would have them confined to that; but now he tells us, that our Conſtitution is no way ſimilar to that of England. We think, however, that it will appear by the expreſſed as well as implied Powers of an Aſſembly in the above Extract from our Charter and Laws, that our Houſe of Repreſentatives is far from being no way ſimilar to a Britiſh Houſe of Commons in its Form and Conſtitution, whatever it may be in the Knowledge, Abilities and Dignity of its Members. In one Thing, indeed, it is our Misfortune, that our Conſtitution differs from that of England. The King has a natural Connection with his Subjects. The Crown deſcends to his Poſterity; and the more his People proſper and flouriſh, the greater is the Power, Wealth, Strength and Security of his Family and Deſcendants. But Plantation Governors are frequently tranſient Perſons, of broken Fortunes, greedy of Money, without any Regard to the People, or natural Concern for their Intereſts, often their Enemies, and endeavouring not only to oppreſs but defame them, and render them obnoxious to their Sovereign, and odious to their Fellow-Subjects.—Our preſent Governor not only denies us the Privileges of an Engliſh Conſtitution, but would, as far as in his Power, introduce a French one, by reducing our Aſſemblies to the Inſignificance of their Parliaments, incapable of making Laws, but by Direction, or of qualifying their own Gifts and Grants, and only allowed to regiſter his Edicts. He would even introduce a worſe; he requires us to defend our Country, but will not permit us to raiſe the Means, unleſs we will give up ſome of thoſe Liberties that make the Country worth defending; this is demanding Brick without Straw, and is ſo far ſimilar to the Egyptian Conſtitution. He has got us indeed into ſimilar Circumſtances with the poor Egyptians, and takes the ſame Advantage of our Diſtreſs; for as they were to periſh by Famine, ſo he tells us we muſt by the Sword, unleſs we will become Servants to our Pharaoh, and make him an abſolute Lord, as he is pleaſed to ſtile himſelf abſolute Proprietary.

We agree with the Governor, that the being born or bred in any Country does not neceſſarily ſecure the Affections or Eſteem of the People of that Country to the Perſon, nor the Affection of the Perſon to the Country. The Governor himſelf may be an Inſtance of both Caſes. He was born, it is true, in a neighbouring Province; but, it is ſaid, he has never ſhewn more Love for his own Country than he has for ours; and that the People there place him very little higher in their Eſteem than we do.——We think the Governor can make no Compariſon of himſelf with his immediate Predeceſſor that will not be to his own Diſadvantage. Whatever Differences our Aſſemblies had with that Gentleman, they were ſmall compared with thoſe that now ſubſiſt, and he conducted them with a Degree of Tenderneſs for his Country. But how much ſoever the People were at that Time diſſatisfied with ſome Particulars in his Adminiſtration, we acknowledge that our preſent Governor has given us abundant Reaſon to regret the Change.

" Upon the Whole (the Governor is pleaſed to ſay) it appears clear to me, that you " never intended any of your Bills ſhould paſs for raiſing Money to defend the Province;" and this, he adds, " ſeems now to be placed beyond Diſpute, ſince thoſe People, under " whoſe Influence you are chiefly known to be, are ſaid to have declared publicly to you " that they would ſooner ſuffer than pay towards ſuch Purpoſes." Not to mention the Unfairneſs of aſcribing to a whole People the Indiſcretion of a Petition from a very few Perſons, the Governor himſelf muſt own, that we are not under the Influence he ſuppoſes, when we aſſure him, as we can truly, that there were ſeveral more Votes for the Meaſure oppoſed by that Petition after receiving it than before.——But however inconſiſtently the Governor can charge us with taking Advantage of the People's (that is our own) Diſtreſs, to arrogate Powers which we ought not to have; and however uncharitably he may judge of our Intentions, we can with humble Confidence appeal to a more upright and more diſcerning Judge, the Searcher of all Hearts, that our Intentions correſponded perfectly with our Actions, and that we ſincerely deſired, and intended, to give the Money we offered.

What thoſe " many other Ways of granting Money " are, " to which the Governor " has no Objection," we muſt own ourſelves totally ignorant; as well as what the other Bill may be " that he ſhall think conſiſtent with his Duty to paſs." He thinks it inconſiſtent with his Duty to paſs any Bill contrary to his Inſtructions from the Proprietary, and thoſe (like the Inſtructions of the Preſident and Council of the North, mentioned by Lord Coke, IVth Inſt. P. 246) are to us impenetrable Secrets. That great Lawyer's Remark on Governing by ſuch Inſtructions, is truly juſt, viz. Miſera eſt Servitus, ubi Jus eſt vagum aut incognitum. Wretched is the Slavery, where Law is either uncertain or unknown. It is vain for us therefore to look out for other Ways of raiſing Money, or to form other Bills: Here we muſt reſt till his Majeſty ſhall graciouſly pleaſe to relieve us; ſince with the Governor we can no otherwiſe hope to end our unhappy Diſputes, than by ſubmitting to one Part or the other of the miſerable Alternative he mentions, either not to have a " Privilege worth diſputing about, or be deprived of a Country to diſpute it in."

THE

THE Repreſentatives of this Province having been, by Virtue of the Governor's Writs to the Sheriffs of the ſeveral Counties for that Purpoſe directed, ſummoned to meet him this Day in Aſſembly, the Houſe met accordingly. 1756. February 3. Poſt Meridiem

Ordered, That Joſeph Fox and William Callender wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe are met, and ready to receive any Thing he may have to lay before them, and deſire he would be pleaſed to furniſh them with a Copy of the Writs by which they were ſummoned.

It being moved, that the Clerk of this Houſe would be neceſſarily abſent for ſome Days, with Benjamin Franklin, one of the Commiſſioners for diſpoſing of the Sixty Thouſand Pounds, granted to the King's Uſe, who is at this Time on the Frontiers, his Abſence was excuſed.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait on the Governor, with the Meſſage of Yeſternight, report, that they delivered the ſame according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he ſhould ſend a Meſſage to the Houſe this Morning, and as what he ſhould communicate to them was of great Importance, they might, if they thought proper, either immediately proceed upon the Conſideration of it, or wait till there ſhould be a fuller Houſe; and that he ſhould ſend down a Copy of the Writs by which the Houſe were ſummoned. February 4.

A Letter from John Armſtrong, dated at York, January 30, 1756, to John and James Wright, incloſing ſundry Letters from Carliſle, dated the 28th and 29th of laſt Month, giving an Account of divers Perſons being murdered and ſcalped, and others taken Priſoners, by the Indians, at the Settlements on Juniata, were laid before the Houſe and read.

The Houſe ſat till after One o'Clock, and not hearing from the Governor, adjourned till Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Poſt Meridiem

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Copy of the Writs by which the Houſe was ſummoned, alſo a Meſſage in Writing, with ſundry Papers therein referred to, ſome of which he ſaid contained Matters that were in their Nature ſecret, and which the Governor deſired might be kept as ſuch by the Houſe.

The Meſſage from the Governor was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'AS the Seaſon for Military Preparations is far advanced, I judged it neceſſary, as ſoon as the Buſineſs I was engaged in with the Commiſſioners upon the Frontiers would admit of my Attendance in Town, to call you together to conſider of the Plan of Operations concerted in the late Council of War at New-York, for the Security of his Majeſty's Dominions on this Continent. I have directed the Secretary to lay the Plan before you, but as it is in its Nature ſecret, and the Execution of it may in ſome Meaſure be fruſtrated, if it ſhould be divulged, I muſt recommend it to you not to ſuffer any Part of it to tranſpire.

'The many Encroachments made by the French upon his Majeſty's Territories, contrary to the Faith of Treaties, and in the Times of profound Peace; the Meaſures they have taken to ſecure the Poſſeſſion of the Countries they have ſeized, and to diſturb us in the Enjoyment of the narrow Limits which they would preſcribe to us, ſufficiently ſhew what we are to expect from thoſe reſtleſs and ambitious People, if we do not, by a united, vigorous and ſteady Exertion of our Strength, diſlodge them from thoſe Encroachments, and confine them within their own juſt Bounds: And this I am perſuaded you will find the beſt and moſt effectual Way of ſecuring the Inhabitants of this and the other Colonies againſt the cruel Inſults of them and their ſavage Allies.——I muſt therefore recommend it to you, to grant ſuch Supplies as may enable me to furniſh what is expected from this Province towards the general Service. As you are ſenſible our Succeſs will very much depend upon our being early in Motion, I make no Doubt you will uſe the greateſt Diligence and Diſpatch in whatever Meaſures your Zeal for the Public Cauſe may induce you to take upon the preſent Occaſion.

'Since the laſt Seſſion, every Thing has been done that the Time would admit for the Defence and Security of the Province, and I have the Satisfaction to tell you, that a Chain of Forts and Block-houſes, extending from the River Delaware, along the Kittatinny Hills, to the Maryland Line, is now almoſt complete. They are placed at convenient Diſtances from each other, and at the moſt important Paſſes through the Mountains, and are garriſoned with Companies and Detachments, all in the Pay of the Province, from Seventy-five to Twenty Men each, according to the Situation and Importance of the Places; and if the Officers and Men, poſted there, do their Duty, I believe they will prove a ſufficient Protection to the Inhabitants againſt ſuch Parties as have hitherto appeared upon our Borders.

'I have alſo directed the Secretary to lay before you the Minutes of the ſeveral Conferences held with the Indians at Carliſle, and other Papers relating to Indian Affairs;

1756. February 4. ‘ together with a Letter I lately received from Scarroyady, and Andrew Montour, who ‘ were ſent by me on a Meſſage from this Government to the Six Nations, and to the ‘ Indians living on the Suſquehanna, by which it appears that the Bulk of the Indians on ‘ that River are in the French Intereſt, and ſeem determined not to hearken to any Thing ‘ the Six Nations may ſay to them in our Behalf. The Heads of theſe Nations have ‘ been convened by the timely Care and Orders of General Shirley, and are now met in ‘ Council to treat on theſe and other Matters. I am informed they greatly diſapprove ‘ of the Conduct of the Delawares and Shawaneſe, and ſeem inclinable to chaſtiſe them ‘ for taking up the Hatchet againſt us; and I am in great Hopes that the Warmth with ‘ which General Shirley hath recommended this Matter to them, may induce them to ‘ act vigorouſly for us on this Occaſion.

Philadelphia, February 4, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS.”

Part of the Papers ſent down with the foregoing Meſſage were read, and the Remainder was referred to To-morrow Morning.

Ordered, That the ſaid Papers be lodged in the Hands of the Speaker; and that the Members be careful not to divulge any Part of the Contents of them.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

February 5. The Governor's Meſſage of Yeſternight was again read, and conſidered, with the Papers therein referred to, which are ſeverally entituled as follow, viz.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

Adjournment Poſt. Meridiem. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Governor's Meſſage was again read, and conſidered, together with ſeveral Papers therein referred to, and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the further Conſideration thereof was referred to To-morrow Morning.

An Account from the Overſeers of the Poor of the City of Philadelphia, for the Maintenance of ſundry Soldiers Wives and Children, belonging to the late General Braddock's Army (by which it appeared, that the ſaid Overſeers had paid on the above Account the Sum of One Hundred and Twenty Pounds Twelve Shillings and Ten-pence Halfpenny, for which they pray an Allowance of Ten per Cent Commiſſion; and that there was a Balance of Eight Pounds Eight Shillings, in their Hands due to the Province) was laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

February 6. The Houſe reſumed the Conſideration of the Governor's Meſſage, and it being obſerved, that the Letter from Governor Hardy, ſent down with the ſaid Meſſage, mentioned an Information which General Johnſon had received from a Smith reſiding among the Senecas, of that Nation's complaining that ſome of their Warriors were killed and ſcalped by our Inhabitants at Conewago, in this Province.

Ordered, That Joſeph Fox and John Hughes wait upon the Governor, and requeſt he would inform the Houſe if he hath made Enquiry whether there be any Grounds for the ſaid Complaint of the Senecas, and that he would be pleaſed to furniſh the Houſe with a Copy of his Anſwer to Governor Hardy thereupon.

1756. February 6.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that upon the Receipt of the Letter from Governor Hardy he communicated the ſame to the Council, and alſo wrote a Letter to Conrad Weiſer to make Enquiry of the Indians remaining in this Province, eſpecially among the Senecas, and to take every other Method in his Power to inform himſelf what Foundation there is for the ſaid Complaint, from whom he had as yet received no Anſwer; but that he would furniſh the Houſe with a Copy of his Anſwer to Governor Hardy alſo of what he wrote to General Johnſon upon that Head, as ſoon as he could get them tranſcribed.

The Gentlemen alſo brought down from the Governor, a Letter from the Governor of New-York, dated January 30, 1756, with a Copy of ſundry Reſolves of the Aſſembly of that Colony, on the Twenty-eighth of January, 1756, which were read, and ordered to lie on the Table for the Peruſal of the Members.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem

John Smith, returned a Repreſentative for the County of Cumberland, appearing in the Houſe, took and ſubſcribed the Qualification by Law appointed to be taken by Members of Aſſembly, and then took his Seat in the Houſe accordingly.

The Houſe again reſumed the Conſideration of the Governor's Meſſage, and, after a conſiderable Time ſpent therein, the ſame was referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment February 7.

A Petition from ſundry Inhabitants of the City of Philadelphia, and other Parts of the Province, was preſented to the Houſe and read, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

To the REPRESENTATIVES of the FREEMEN of the Province of Pennſylvania, in ASSEMBLY met,

The PETITION of ſundry of the Inhabitants of the ſaid Province.

Humbly ſheweth,

Petition concerning Servants and Apprentices.

THAT by the Laws of our Mother Country, and this Province, every Maſter and Owner of Apprentices and Servants, has an undoubted Right to the Labour and Service of the former, and a juſt and legal Property in the latter, ſuch as he cannot, or ought not to be deprived of, but by an impartial Hearing and fair Trial by the Laws of his Country: That upon the Labour and Service of theſe Servants and Apprentices depends not only the Carrying on of our reſpective Trades, and the Cultivation of our Lands, but alſo the Subſiſtence and Support of the Families of many of the Inhabitants of this Province: That ſuch are the preſent Circumſtances of this Colony, that the Inhabitants being deprived of the Labour and Service of their Servants, cannot, by any Poſſibility, ſupply themſelves with Perſons to carry on their Trades and Buſineſſes, ſo abſolutely neceſſary for their own Subſiſtence and the Public Utility: That notwithſtanding this inconteſtable Right of the Maſters and Owners of Apprentices and Servants, the Servants and Apprentices of your Petitioners, and of many others the Inhabitants of this Province, have been unjuſtly and illegally taken, and yet are detained from us by certain Recruiting Officers, under a Pretence of inliſting them as Volunteers into his Majeſty's Service: That this is a growing and increaſing Miſchief, the ſaid Officers continuing daily to inliſt, take and detain, all Servants and Apprentices that they can find or procure: That your Petitioners humbly conceive, that theſe Practices are greatly oppreſſive to Individuals, preventive of the Cultivation of our Lands, deſtructive to our Trade, introductive of Beggary and Want among the poorer Sort of People, againſt the Laws of our Mother Country and this Conſtitution, and directly inconſiſtent with the Rights and Privileges of a free People. Therefore your Petitioners, in Behalf of themſelves, and others the Inhabitants of this Province, in this Particular aggrieved, intreat their Repreſentatives, in Aſſembly met, to take theſe unconſtitutional and arbitrary Invaſions of our Rights and Properties into their prudent Conſideration, to enquire into our Aggrievances, and adminiſter ſuch Relief in the Premiſes, as to them in their Wiſdom ſhall ſeem moſt convenient; and your Petitioners, &c."

Ordered to lie on the Table.

An Account from John M'Dowell, for Sundries furniſhed the Road-Cutters; alſo ſeveral other Accounts relating to the Ohio Road, were laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

The Governor's Meſſage was again read, and conſidered.

The Houſe taking the Petition relating to the Inliſtment of Servants and Apprentices into Conſideration, Ordered, That Richard Pearn, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, George Aſhbridge, James Wright, John Wright, John Smith, Francis Parvin and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Addreſs to the Governor, repreſenting the great Inconveniences and Hardſhips the Inhabitants of this Province labour under by Reaſon of the Inliſtment of Servants.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Addreſs to the Governor, relating to the Inliſtment of Servants, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

An Account from Samuel Neave, for Goods delivered to Conrad Weiſer for the Uſe of the Indians, amounting to Sixty-ſix Pounds Twelve Shillings and Nine-pence, was laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

February 11. The Addreſs to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

To the Honourable ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS, Eſq; Lieutenant Governor of the Province of Pennſylvania, &c.

The ADDRESS of the REPRESENTATIVES of the Freemen of the ſaid Province in GENERAL ASSEMBLY met.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

Aſſembly's Addreſs to the Governor about Servants.

THE Houſe being informed, by Petition from the Maſters, that a great Number of bought Servants are lately inliſted by the Recruiting Officers now in this Province, and clandeſtinely or by open Force conveyed away, to the very great Oppreſſion of the ſaid Maſters, and Injury to the Province; we beg Leave to lay this Grievance before the Governor.

We preſume, that no one Colony on the Continent has afforded more free Recruits to the King's Forces than Pennſylvania; Men have been raiſed here in great Numbers for Shirley's and Pepperell's Regiments, for Halket's and Dunbar's, for the New-York and Carolina Independent Companies, for Nova-Scotia, and even for the Weſt-India Iſlands. By this, and the Neceſſity we are under of keeping up a large Body of Men to defend our own extenſive Frontiers, we are drained of our hired Labourers; and as this Province has but few Slaves, we are now obliged to depend principally upon our Servants to aſſiſt us in tilling our Lands. If theſe are taken from us, we are at a Loſs to conceive how the Proviſions that may be expected out of this Province another Year, for the Support of the King's Armies, are to be raiſed.

We conceive, that this Province could not poſſibly have furniſhed the great Numbers of Men and Quantity of Proviſions it has done for the King's Service, had it not been for our conſtant Practice of importing and purchaſing Servants to aſſiſt us in our Labour. Many of theſe, when they become free, ſettle among us, raiſe Families, add to the Number of our People, and cultivate more Land; and many others who do not ſo ſettle are ready and fit to take Arms when the Crown calls for Soldiers. But if the Poſſeſſion of a bought Servant, after Purchaſe made, is thus rendered precarious, and he may at any Time be taken away from his Maſter at the Pleaſure of a Recruiting Officer, perhaps when moſt wanted, in the Midſt of Harveſt or of Seed-time, or in any other Hurry of Buſineſs, when another cannot be provided to ſupply his Place, the Purchaſe, and of Courſe the Importation, of Servants will be diſcouraged, and the People driven to the Neceſſity of providing themſelves with Negro Slaves, as the Property in them and their Service ſeems at preſent more ſecure. Thus the Growth of the Country by Increaſe of white Inhabitants will be prevented, the Province weakened rather than ſtrengthened (as every Slave may be reckoned a domeſtick Enemy) one great and conſtant Source of Recruits be in a great Meaſure cut off, and Pennſylvania ſoon be unable to afford more Men for the King's Service, than the Slave Colonies now do.

The Injury complained of extends not only to thoſe whoſe Servants are actually inliſted, but even to thoſe whoſe Servants are not inliſted; ſince they muſt humour them in every Thing, leſt they ſhould be provoked to inliſt, which they daily threaten in Caſe they are diſobliged; and grow idle, neglectful, inſolent and mutinous, and occaſion many Diſorders in the Families they belong to. Beſides, while this Practice continues, many leave their Maſters on Pretence of going to inliſt, and not being purſued, as their Maſters are diſcouraged by the Difficulty of recovering them, they often go quite off without inliſting, ſo that the Maſter is injured, and no Service ariſes to the King.

The

That Burdens may be chearfully borne by the Subject for the Honour of the Prince, or the Public Welfare, we apprehend they ought to be equitably laid. But this Inlisting of Servants is a most severe, unequal and oppressive Tax on Particulars, often falling on People in low Circumstances, who have been put to great Difficulties in raising Money to buy a Servant or two to assist in working their Plantations; and losing those Servants, they are unable to buy others: Or, if they have bought them on Credit, are unable to pay, sued for the Money, and ruined. 1756. February 11.

We beg Leave farther to add, that we conceive the Inhabitants of this Province have a legal Property in the Time and Service of the Servants brought into America, and purchased here under Acts of Parliament, or becoming Servants by our own Laws. That they have as true and as just a Property in the Servant bought, as they had before in the Money with which he was purchased. That the taking the Servants from us, either by open Force or private Practice, is a Violation of that Property and our Rights, a manifest and grievous Injustice and Oppression. And that the Magistrates, who have refused to assist the Masters with the Civil Authority in recovering their Servants, have egregiously failed in Point of Duty.

We therefore request the Governor, that he would be pleased to acquaint General Shirley with these Proceedings of the Officers under his Command. We know the Practice is contrary to his Judgment, having now before us his Disapprobation of it, expressed in very strong Terms, under his Hand, of which we send a Copy herewith to the Governor. We have therefore great Reason to hope, that, at the Governor's Instance, he will do the People of this Province strict Justice, by causing an immediate Restitution to be made of all the Servants taken from us under Colour of his Authority; and effectually discourage the Practice for the future.

We farther request, that the Governor would issue his Proclamation, strictly charging all Magistrates and Officers, Civil and Military, to be aiding and assisting to the Inhabitants in securing or recovering their Servants when any Attempts shall be made to take them away."

And the same being signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House,

Ordered, That Joseph Stretch, Joseph Fox, Griffith Owen, Thomas Cummings, James Webb, John Wright, Joseph Armstrong and William Edmonds wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same, together with the following Extract from Major General Shirley's Letter to Colonel Thomas Dunbar; dated from the Camp at Oswego, September 19, 1755, viz.

UPON the Advices I have received since my last to you from Gentlemen of the greatest Zeal for his Majesty's Service, as well as the best Judges of it, in Pennsylvania and the other Western Colonies, I am convinced, that the Inlisting of Apprentices and indented Servants there will greatly disserve his Interest, as well as be, in most Cases, grievous to the Subject; and would therefore recommend it to you, in the strongest Manner, to avoid doing it: It is what I have observed most strictly in recruiting for my own Regiment, not only within my own Government, but in all the other Colonies where my Officers have been sent upon that Service; and I desire you will order the Officers of your own and the late Sir Peter Halket's Regiments, as also those of the Independent Companies, to do the same in their Recruiting." Extract from General Shirley's Letter.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Address of the House, report, that they had delivered the same according to Order. Post Meridiem

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

A Representation from John Baptiste Galerm, one of the French Neutrals now in this Province, setting forth the Case of the said Neutrals, was laid before the House and read, and is as follows, viz. February 12.

To the Honourable the ASSEMBLY of the Province of Pennsylvania.

The CASE of the French Neutrals, lately arrived, and now in the said Province, humbly represented by John Baptiste Galerm, one of the said People.

ABOUT the Year 1713, when Annapolis Royal was taken from the French, our Fathers being then settled on the Bay of Fundy, upon the Surrender of that Country to the English, had, by Virtue of the Treaty of Utrecht, one Year granted them to remove with their Effects; but not being willing to lose the Fruit of so many Years Labour, they chose rather to remain there, and become Subjects of Great-Britain, on Condition that they might be exempted from bearing Arms against France (as most of them having near Relations and Friends amongst the French, which they might have destroyed with their own Hands, had they consented to bear Arms against them). This Request they always understood to be granted, on their taking the Oath of Fidelity to her late Majesty Queen ANNE; which Oath of Fidelity was by us, about Twenty-seven Years ago, renewed to his Majesty King GEORGE by General Philipse, who then allowed us an Case of the French Neutrals.

1756. Ferbuary 12. Exemption of bearing Arms againſt France; which Exemption, till lately, when we were told to the contrary, we always thought was approved of by the King. Our Oath of Fidelity, we that are brought into this Province, as well as thoſe who are carried into the neighbouring Provinces, have always inviolably obſerved, and have, on all Occaſions, been willing to afford all the Aſſiſtance in our Power to his Majeſty's Governors in erecting Forts, making Roads, Bridges, &c. and providing Proviſions for his Majeſty's Service, as is known to the ſeveral Governors and Officers that have commanded in his Majeſty's Province of Nova-Scotia; and this notwithſtanding the repeated Solicitations, Threats and Abuſes which we have continually more or leſs ſuffered from the French and the French Indians of Canada on that Account; particularly about Ten Years ago, when Five Hundred French came to our Settlements, intending to attack Annapolis Royal, which, had their Intention ſucceeded, might have made them Maſters of all Nova-Scotia, it being the only Place of Strength then in that Province, they earneſtly ſolicited us to join with and aid them therein, but we perſiſting in our Reſolutions of abiding true to our Oath of Fidelity, and abſolutely refuſing to give them any Aſſiſtance, they gave over their Intention, and returned to Canada. And about Seven Years paſt, at the Settling of Halifax, a Body of One Hundred and Fifty Indians came amongſt us, forced ſome of us from our Habitations, and by Threats and Blows would have compelled us to aſſiſt them in way-laying and deſtroying the Engliſh then employed in erecting Forts in different Parts of the Country, but we poſitively refuſing, they left us, after having abuſed us, and made great Havock of our Cattle, &c. I myſelf was Six Weeks before I wholly recovered from the Blows I received from them at that Time. Almoſt numberleſs are the Inſtances which might be given of the Abuſes and Loſſes we have undergone from the French Indians on account of our ſteady Adherence to our Oath of Fidelity. And yet, notwithſtanding our ſtrict Obſervance thereof, we have not been able to prevent the grievous Calamity which is now come upon us, and which we apprehend to be in a great Meaſure owing to the unhappy Situation and Conduct of ſome of our People ſettled at Chignecto, at the Bottom of the Bay of Fundy, where the French, about Four Years ago, erected a Fort; thoſe who were ſettled near it, after having had many of their Settlements burnt by the French, being too far from Halifax and Annapolis Royal to expect ſufficient Aſſiſtance from the Engliſh, were obliged, as we believe, more through Compulſion and Fear than Inclination, to join with and aſſiſt the French; which alſo appears from the Articles of Capitulation agreed on between Colonel Monckton and the French Commander, at the Delivery of the ſaid Fort to the Engliſh, which are expreſsly in the following Words:

* Gentleman's Magazine for July, 1755, Page 332.

"* With regard to the Acadians, as they have been forced to take up Arms on Pain of "Death, they ſhall be pardoned for the Part they have been taking."

Notwithſtanding this, as theſe People's Conduct had given juſt Umbrage to the Government, and created Suſpicions, to the Prejudice of our whole Community, we were ſummoned to appear before the Governor and Council at Halifax, where we were required to take the Oath of Allegiance, without any Exception, which we could not comply with, becauſe, as that Government is at preſent ſituated, we apprehend we ſhould have been obliged to take up Arms; but were ſtill willing to take the Oath of Fidelity, and give the ſtrongeſt Aſſurances of continuing peaceable and faithful to his Britannic Majeſty, with that Exception. But this, in the preſent Situation of Affairs, not being ſatisfactory, we were made Priſoners, and our Eſtates, both Real and Perſonal, forfeited for the King's Uſe; and Veſſels being provided, we were ſome Time after ſent off, with moſt of our Families, and diſperſed among the Engliſh Colonies. The Hurry and Confuſion in which we were imbarked, was an aggravating Circumſtance attending our Misfortunes; for thereby many, who had lived in Affluence, found themſelves deprived of every Neceſſary, and many Families were ſeparated, Parents from Children, and Children from Parents. Yet, bleſſed be GOD, that it was our Lot to be ſent to Pennſylvania, where our Wants have been relieved, and we have in every Reſpect been received with Chriſtian Benevolence and Charity. And let me add, that notwithſtanding the Suſpicions and Fears which many here are poſſeſſed of on our account, as though we were a dangerous People, who make little Scruple of breaking their Oaths, Time will manifeſt that we are not ſuch a People: No, the unhappy Situation which we are now in, is a plain Evidence that this is a falſe Charge, tending to aggravate the Misfortunes of an already too unhappy People; for had we entertained ſuch pernicious Sentiments, we might eaſily have prevented our falling into the melancholly Circumſtances we are now in, viz. Deprived of our Subſtance, baniſhed from our native Country, and reduced to live by Charity in a ſtrange Land; and this for refuſing to take an Oath, which we are firmly perſuaded Chriſtianity abſolutely forbids us to violate, had we once taken it, and yet an Oath which we could not comply with, without being expoſed to plunge our Swords in the Breaſts of our near Friends and Relations. We ſhall, however, as we have hitherto done, ſubmit to what in the preſent Situation of Affairs may ſeem neceſſary, and with Patience and Reſignation bear whatever GOD, in the Courſe of his Providence, ſhall ſuffer to come upon us. We shall also think it our Duty to seek and promote the Peace of the Country in which we are transported, and inviolably keep the Oath of Fidelity that we have taken to his gracious Majesty King GEORGE, whom we firmly believe, when fully acquainted with our Faithfulness and Sufferings, will commiserate our unhappy Condition, and order that some Compensation be made us for our Losses. 1756. February 12.

upon

And may the Almighty abundantly bless his Honour the Governor, and you the Honourable Assembly of the Province, and the good People of Philadelphia, whose Sympathy, Benevolence and Christian Charity have been, and still are, greatly manifested and extended towards us a poor distressed and afflicted People, is the sincere and earnest Prayer of JOHN BAPTISTE GALERM."

A List of the Names and Families of the said Neutrals was likewise laid before the House and read.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Case of the French Neutrals was again read, and considered, and, after some Time spent therein, Post Meridiem

Ordered, That James Pemberton, William Callender, Joseph Hamton, George Ashbridge and James Wright be a Committee to prepare a Bill for dispersing the said Neutrals into the several Counties of Philadelphia, Bucks, Chester and Lancaster, and the Townships thereof.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Committee of Accounts reported on an Account from John Harris, of Peckstone, February 13. which was laid before the House on the Eighteenth of November last, that they were of Opinion the same ought to be allowed, amounting to Ten Pounds Nine Shillings and Two-pence.

To which Report the House agreed.

And an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treasurer, and signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House, for Payment of the same.

A Petition from sundry Persons in Lancaster County, representing that they had for some Time past kept a Watch on the Frontiers of said County at their own Expence, and praying to be reimbursed by this House; also

A Petition from sundry Inhabitants of the Great Cove, in Cumberland County, praying for Assistance in their present distressed Circumstances, were presented to the House and read, and recommended to the Consideration of the Commissioners for disposing of the Sixty Thousand Pounds granted to the King's Use.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock in the Afternoon. Adjournment

The Governor, by William Peters, Esq; sent down to the House a Message in Writing, Post Meridiem with a Paper therein referred to, which were read, and are as follow, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

'I AGREE with you, that the Inlisting indented Servants is a great Hardship, and an unequal Burden upon the Inhabitants of this Province, and heartily wish, that some other effectual Method had been taken to complete the Regiments employed upon this Continent, which is a Matter of great Importance at this critical Conjuncture. A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'When the Recruiting Officers first began to inlist Servants in this City, the Council, while I was upon the Frontier, wrote a Letter to General Shirley upon the Head, setting forth the particular Injury it would be to this Province, and desiring his Interposition, a Copy of which Letter I have ordered to be laid before you, and I shall immediately write to him on the same Subject, and send him a Copy of your Address, in which the many Inconveniences attending the taking away of Servants are strongly set forth.

'His Majesty has ordered the Regiments now employed in America to be augmented, and recruited in these Colonies; and General Shirley, by a late Order, has countermanded the One he formerly gave to Colonel Dunbar, forbidding the Inlisting of Servants and Apprentices; and the Officers think it their Duty to take all Volunteers that offer, without considering whether they are Servants or not.

'Whether the Crown has such a Right to the personal Service of its Subjects as cannot be abridged or taken away by any private Contracts, or whether a Servant regularly indented and imported into the Colonies, under an Act of Parliament, is not by such Indenture deprived of the Power of becoming a Volunteer in his Majesty's Service, are Points of Law that you are sensible have been controverted in this Province ever since the Beginning of the late Spanish War, and have never to my Knowledge received an authoritative Determination; and as the Rights of the Crown, as well as the Property of the Subject, will be greatly affected by a Determination of those Points, I cannot take upon me to do it by issuing the Proclamation you propose, which will be extrajudicial, and by no Means obligatory on the Persons concerned.

'You

1756. February 13.

'You will permit me to obſerve, that though the Magiſtrates may be appointed by 'the Government, yet they receive their Authority from the Law, which muſt be the 'Rule and Meaſure of their Conduct; and a Proclamation in the preſent Caſe cannot 'create or veſt any new Powers in them. If they refuſe or neglect to do the Duties re-'quired by Law, there is a Court in the Province has Power to puniſh them, for ſuch 'Neglect or Refuſal; and if any Subject is or thinks himſelf injured, the Law and Courts 'are open, to which he may apply, where his Right, and that of the Crown, will be 'properly conſidered and determined in the ordinary Courſe of the Law.

Philadelphia, February 13, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

A LETTER from the Preſident and Council to General SHIRLEY.

Honoured Sir,

President and Council's Letter to General Shirley.

HIS Honour, Governor Morris, being at this Time on a Tour to the Back Parts of this Province, his Council have deſired me to apply to you in an Affair which, for ſome Days paſt, has thrown the Inhabitants of this City into the greateſt Conſternation, and if a timely Stop is not put to it, will raiſe moſt violent Commotions throughout every Part of the Province. The Officers recruiting here had carefully avoided inliſting indented Servants, in Obedience to the kind Orders General Braddock, in his Life-time, and of your Excellency, ſince the Command of his Majeſty's Forces was deſervedly conferred upon you, had given them to that Purpoſe, till about three Days ago, when their Serjeants, in beating up for Volunteers, publicly invited all Servants to inliſt in his Majeſty's Service, and declared, that they had Inſtructions from their Superior Officers to do ſo. Contentions immediately enſued between the Maſters of great Numbers of Servants that inliſted and the Serjeants, and their recruiting Parties, and no one can ſay where it would have ended, if Captain Hobſon, and the reſt of the Recruiting Officers, on the Interpoſition and Requeſt of ſome of the Magiſtrates, had not forbid their Serjeants taking any more Servants till your Excellency's Pleaſure could be known upon the Occaſion. I need not remonſtrate to you, who are ſo well acquainted with the Circumſtances of this Province, and know that every Kind of Buſineſs here, as well among the Tradeſmen and Mechanics as the Planters and Farmers, is chiefly carried on and ſupported by the Labour of indented Servants; nor what Diſtreſs muſt be brought on the Province in general, if the Inhabitants are deprived of the only Means of ſubſiſting their Families, and contributing their reaſonable Quota towards any future Expedition his Majeſty may ſet on Foot on this Continent againſt his Enemies; nor how much his Service in general will be affected and prejudiced by the Deficiency in the Quantities of Grain, and other Proviſions uſually raiſed in, and I preſume expected to be ſupplied from, this Province, that muſt neceſſarily follow our Farmers loſing ſo many of their Servants; eſpecially now after the Loſs of the Produce of ſo much of the Lands in our Back Counties, which are laid waſte and deſerted by the terrible Slaughter and Havock made amongſt the Inhabitants there by the Indians.

When I conſider the irreparable Calamities that a Meaſure of this Sort will entail on great Numbers of the Inhabitants of this infant and late flouriſhing Colony, and call to Mind your known Humanity and Regard for Juſtice, I cannot doubt but you will be pleaſed to give Orders to your Officers, recruiting here, againſt inliſting indented Servants, and for the Reſtoring to their Maſters ſuch as are now detained from them, and am Philadelphia, January 24, 1756.

Your Excellency's moſt humble Servant,
ROBERT STRETTELL, Preſident of the Council."

Ordered, That James Webb have Leave to be abſent the Remainder of this Sitting, upon urgent Buſineſs.

Adjournment February 14.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

A Bill for diſperſing the Inhabitants of Nova-Scotia, imported into this Province, into the ſeveral Counties of Philadelphia, Bucks, Cheſter and Lancaſter, and the Townſhips thereof; and making Proviſion for the ſame, was brought in by the Committee appointed for that Purpoſe, read the firſt time, and ordered a ſecond Reading.

Adjournment February 17.

Then the Houſe adjourned to next Third-day, at Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, with ſundry Papers therein referred to, which were read, and the Meſſage is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'HIS Majeſty, ſenſible of the great Importance it is to the Britiſh Intereſt, and to 'the Succeſs of our Schemes againſt the French, to preſerve and improve our Friend-'ſhip with the Indians, has been graciouſly pleaſed to order a conſiderable Preſent to be 'ſent to New-York for the Six Nations; and Sir Charles Hardy, propoſing to go very

'ſoon

'soon to hold a Meeting with those Indians, to distribute among them that Present, with 1756.
'an Addition which he has prevailed on the Assembly of New-York to make to it, has 'recommended it to my Consideration, in the Letter I herewith send you, whether, at February 17.
'this critical Juncture, great Good may not arise from this Province's likewise taking some 'Notice of them.

'The cruel Proofs and daily Experience we have of late had, how much it is in the 'Power of a few, even of the most inconsiderable, of those People, to do us irreparable
'Mischiefs when they are disposed to be our Enemies, make it needless for me to use
'any other Arguments to induce you to consider whether it will not be quite proper and
'necessary for this Province to make some Present now to the Six Nations, in order to 'keep up and strengthen our Alliance with them, and engage them to be more earnest
'and ready to assist us against these Savages that have done, and are still committing,
'the Murders and horrid Ravages amongst our Back Inhabitants.

Philadelphia, February 16, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

An Account from Richard Peters, Esq; for Cash paid by him for sundry Expresses, amounting to One Hundred and Twenty-four Pounds, Thirteen Shillings and Nine-pence, was laid before the House and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

The Bill for dispersing the Inhabitants of Nova-Scotia, imported into this Province, into the several Counties of Philadelphia, Bucks, Chester and Lancaster, and Townships thereof; and making Provision for the same, was read the second time, and the Consideration thereof referred to To-morrow Morning.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Governor's Message of Yesternight was again read, and considered, and, after some February 18.
Time spent therein, the same was referred to farther Consideration in the Afternoon.

A Petition from Hans Zimmerman, of the County of Lancaster, setting forth, that he is confined to Goal for sundry Debts owing by him to different Persons, and praying that this House would take such Measures to have him discharged as to their Wisdom shall seem most meet, was presented to the House and read.

Ordered, That the said Petition be rejected.

The House went upon the Consideration of a Bill for dispersing the Neutral French, and, after some Time spent therein, the same was referred to farther Consideration in the Afternoon.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The House resumed the Consideration of the Bill for dispersing the Neutral French, Post Meridiem and, after some Time spent therein, the same was referred to farther Consideration.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

A Petition from William White, of the County of Cumberland, with a Recommenda- February 19.
tion of the same by the Commissioners for laying out the Ohio Road, was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that the Petitioner being employed as a Waggoner to carry Provisions to the People employed in cutting a Road from M'Dowell's Mill to the River Monongahela, had the Misfortune to lose one of his Waggon Horses, of the Value of Ten Pounds, during the Time he attended said Service, which Loss has reduced the Petitioner to great Hardships, and rendered him in some Measure unable to satisfy his just Debts; the Petitioner therefore most humbly prays, that this House would be pleased to take his Case into Consideration, and grant him such Relief in the Premises as they shall think proper. Ordered to lie on the Table.

An Account from James Brandon, of the County of Cumberland, for the Maintenance of sundry Indians, amounting to Three Pounds Six Shillings and Five-pence, was laid before the House and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

The Committee of Accounts reported on sundry Accounts for cutting the Road towards the Ohio, produced since the last Settlement, amounting in the Whole to Twenty-three Pounds Eleven Shillings and Eleven-pence; also on James Brandon's Account for Maintenance of Indians, that they were of Opinion the same ought to be allowed.—To which Reports the House agreed.

And an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treasurer for Twenty-six Pounds Eighteen Shillings and Four-pence, payable to Joseph Armstrong, who is to pay the said Road-Cutters and Brandon's Accounts, and signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House.

The House again resumed the Consideration of the Bill for dispersing the Neutral French, and after some Alterations made therein, the same was ordered to be transcribed for a third Reading.

The following Letter, from General Shirley to Benjamin Franklin, Esq; one of the Members of this House, acknowledging the Receipt of the Cloathing sent as a Present from the Assembly for the Use of the Army about Albany, was laid before the House and read, viz.

SIR, Boston, February 4, 1756. General Shirley's Letter to Benjamin Franklin, Esq;

I WAS favoured with your Letter at New-York, dated the 2d of December, acquainting me that your Assembly had sent a Present of Thirteen Hundred and Thirty-nine 1756. February 19. warm Waiſtcoats, One Thouſand Pair of milled Stockings, and Three Hundred and Thirty-two Pair of knit Mittens, for the Comfort of the New-England Troops, and others, that might remain in Garriſon in that cold Country the enſuing Winter; and deſiring I would order a proper Diſpoſition of them, which you ſuppoſed even by that Time in the Hands of Mr. Stevenſon in Albany.

It was not 'till a few Days before my leaving New-York that I could learn the Certainty of this Cloathing's being actually arrived at Albany, and had not Time before my Departure from thence to anſwer your Letter.

I am now, Sir, to acquaint you, that I have ordered a Diſtribution of the Cloathing, and to deſire the Favour of you to make my Acknowledgments to the Aſſembly for this ſecond Inſtance of their public Spirit and Zeal for his Majeſty's Service, and the general Good of theſe Colonies, given by them in the Expedition againſt Crown-Point.

I cannot but hope that ſo laudable an Example will inſpire the other Colonies with the like Spirit, ſo neceſſary at this critical Conjuncture for putting a Stop to the Invaſions and Devaſtations of the French and their Indians within our Borders, and placing the Britiſh Northern Colonies in a State of Security againſt the Attempts which, from the Armament ſent the laſt Year from France, and their known Deſigns, we have the utmoſt Reaſon to expect they will puſh this Year; and that it will continue to animate the Government of Pennſylvania in the common Cauſe, as it hath hitherto done, ſo highly to their Advantage.

Be pleaſed likewiſe to aſſure them, Sir, that I ſhall not be wanting in making a juſt Repreſentation to his Majeſty of theſe Marks of their Zeal for the Service of their King and Country, and doing every Thing in my Power for the Service of the Province.

I am, with Truth and Regard, Sir,

Your moſt humble Servant,

W. SHIRLEY."

Another Letter from General Shirley, to Benjamin Franklin, informing him that he had taken off the Prohibition which he had formerly given concerning the Inliſting of Servants and Apprentices, was alſo laid before the Houſe and read.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Governor's Meſſage of the Seventeenth Inſtant was again read, and conſidered, and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That Joſeph Trotter, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, George Aſbbridge and James Wright be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the ſame.

Adjournment February 20. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage, reported the ſame to the Houſe and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Speaker laid before the Houſe a Letter from General Shirley, in Anſwer to the Letter from the Preſident and Council, concerning the Inliſtment of Servants, which he informed the Houſe had been put into his Hands by the Secretary.

And the ſaid Letter was read, and is as follows, viz.

SIR, Boſton, February 9, 1756.

General Shirley's Letter to the Governor. I Have received a Letter of the 24th of January laſt from the Preſident of your Council, relating to the Inliſting of indented Servants into his Majeſty's Service. I ſhould be extremely glad to have it in my Power to remove any Thing that can be thought a Hardſhip on the Province of Pennſylvania; but the Reſtraint I had put upon the Officers inliſting Servants was not taken off till I was convinced by the Complaints of the Officers that his Majeſty's Service muſt ſuffer, at this very critical Conjuncture, if they were reſtrained from inliſting ſuch as voluntarily offer themſelves; and at preſent the Number of Men wanting to complete his Majeſty's Regiments on this Continent is ſo great, and the Time ſo ſhort before they will be wanting for Service, that I can by no Means renew any Order which ſhall retard the compleating of them.

I cannot conceive that the Diſtreſs ariſing from the Inliſting a few Servants can be any Thing like what the Preſident and Council ſeem to apprehend; for the Number muſt be ſo trifling, in Proportion to the Labourers in your Government, that it can have no viſible Effect on the Province in general; and if any peculiar Inſtances of Hardſhip ſhould happen to particular Perſons thereby, I ſhall be always willing and ready to conſider Circumſtances on their being properly repreſented to me.

My own Government of the Maſſachuſetts-Bay is ſo far from thinking it a Hardſhip that indented Servants ſhould be allowed to inliſt, that they not only chearfully conſent to that, but have even impreſſed great Numbers of indented Servants for the Expedition againſt Crown-Point; and it is the conſtant Practice to impreſs them as well as other Inhabitants habitants for garriſoning our Frontier Forts, where they often remain ſeveral Years; nor is it uncommon in other Governments to do the ſame. 1756. February 20.

I am Your Honour's moſt obedient and moſt humble Servant,

W. SHIRLEY."

The Bill, entituled, An Act for diſperſing the Inhabitants of Nova-Scotia, imported into this Province, into the ſeveral Counties of Philadelphia, Bucks, Cheſter and Lancaſter, and the Townſhips thereof, and making Proviſion for the ſame, being tranſcribed, was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

AS Sir Charles Hardy does not propoſe to ſet out from New-York, for the Meeting he intends to hold with the Six Nations, till the latter End of next Month, we apprehend no Inconveniences can enſue from our not giving a determinate Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of the Seventeenth Inſtant, which may be reſumed as the Advices we now daily expect to receive from General Johnſon may render it neceſſary.

By the Papers and Accounts the Governor has been pleaſed to lay before us on this Occaſion, it appears that great Numbers of Indians were expected at the Treaty to be held with the Six Nations; and from General Johnſon's Knowledge and known Abilities in conducting Indian Affairs, we may reaſonably expect a happy Iſſue of that Treaty; but whatever it may be, we ſhall be better able to determine the Part this Province ought to act in this Matter, when Scarroyady and Andrew Montour return with an Account of the Diſpoſitions of the Indians towards us at this critical Conjuncture, and the Reſult of General Johnſon's Treaty with the Six Nations, which are now very ſoon expected."

And the foregoing Meſſage being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe,

Ordered, That Joſeph Gibbons and William Peters wait upon the Governor, and deliver the ſame, together with the Bill for diſperſing the Neutral French, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire his Concurrence to the ſaid Bill.

Reſolved, That this Houſe will now adjourn to next Second-day Week.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he had made no Amendments to the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade, thinking the ſaid Bill would be of no Uſe at this Time; however, if the Houſe thought otherwiſe, he would take it under his Conſideration: And as to the Bill for diſperſing the French Neutrals, he had laid it once before his Council, and ſhould again, and then he would acquaint the Houſe with his Reſult upon it. March 3.

The Governor's Meſſage of the Third of March, relating to an Embargo on Proviſions, was again read, and conſidered, and it being found, upon Enquiry among the Members of the ſeveral Counties, that there was not at preſent much Likelihood of there being a Scarcity of Proviſions in the Province, the ſame was referred to farther Conſideration; and in the mean Time the Members are directed to make a particular Enquiry into that Matter againſt the next Sitting.

The Houſe having ſat a conſiderable Time, and not hearing from the Governor, Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch and Richard Pearn wait upon the Governor, and deſire to know if the Houſe may expect his Reſult this Afternoon upon any of the Bills now before him.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he had nothing ready for the Conſideration of the Houſe this Afternoon, but he believed he ſhould in the Morning.

The Committee of Accounts reported on the Account of Samuel Neave, which was laid before the Houſe on the Tenth of February laſt, that they were of Opinion the ſame ought to be referred to the Commiſſioners for diſpoſing of the Sixty Thouſand Pounds granted to the King's Uſe.——To which Report the Houſe agreed; and it was accordingly referred to the ſaid Commiſſioners.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment April 9.

A Motion was made, that the Governor be addreſſed by this Houſe to ſuſpend declareing War againſt the Delawares and Shawaneſe for ſome Time longer, there appearing by the Papers laid before the Houſe ſome Reaſon to believe that an Accommodation may be brought about with thoſe Nations; and, after a conſiderable Debate thereupon, the ſame was referred to farther Conſideration.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Poſt Meridiem

An Account from the Widow Heinſelman, for the Maintenance of the Indian Jonathan Cayenquinloquois's two Sons, from the Twenty-ſeventh of Auguſt 1755, until the 19th of March 1756, amounting to Twenty-ſeven Pounds and Eight-pence, was laid before the Houſe and read.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe the Bill for aſcertaining the Fineneſs of wrought Gold and Silver; and preventing Frauds and Abuſes in Manufactures made thereof, with a verbal Meſſage, that he adhered to his propoſed Amendment to the ſaid Bill.

The Governor likewiſe ſent down the Bill for regulating the Officers and Soldiers commiſſionated and raiſed by the Governor for the Defence of this Province, with a Paper containing ſundry propoſed Amendments thereto, which were read, and conſidered; to ſome of which the Houſe agreed, and in others adhered to the Bill.

Ordered, That David M'Connaughy and William Edmonds wait upon the Governor with the ſaid Bill, and inform him which of his Amendments the Houſe have agreed to, and deſire that he would be pleaſed to paſs it as it now ſtands amended.

1756. April 9. The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe ſundry Minutes of Council, relating to the Indians now in Town, which were read, and ordered to lie on the Table for the Peruſal of the Members.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

April 10. The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Bill for regulating the Soldiers, &c. report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he would again take the ſaid Bill into his Conſideration.

A Petition from George Brey, of Marlborough Townſhip, in the County of Philadelphia, in Behalf of the ſaid Townſhip, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that the Overſeers of the Townſhip of Marlborough aforeſaid, have received an Order to make Proviſion for a certain Number of French Neutrals, which (for ſundry Reaſons mentioned in the Petition) they are not able to comply with; therefore praying that this Houſe would relieve them in the Premiſes.

Ordered, That the ſaid Petition be referred to the Commiſſioners for diſperſing the Neutral French.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down the Bill for regulating the Officers and Soldiers, &c. with a verbal Meſſage, that he adheres to his propoſed Amendments, and deſires that the Houſe would appoint a Committee to confer with him upon the ſame, either this Afternoon, or on Monday next, as the Houſe ſhould think proper.

Ordered, That Richard Pearn, William Smith, Peter Dicks, Nathaniel Grubb and James Wright be, with the Speaker, a Committee to confer with the Governor on his propoſed Amendments to the Bill for regulating the Officers and Soldiers, &c. at Four o'Clock this Afternoon, in the Council Chamber.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to next Third-day, at Ten o'Clock in the Morning.

April 13. The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

Sundry of the People called Quakers attending without, and deſiring to be admitted, they were accordingly called in, and, by the Leave of the Houſe, they read and preſented the following Addreſs, and then withdrew, viz.

To the REPRESENTATIVES of the FREEMEN of the Province of Pennſylvania, in GENERAL ASSEMBLY met,

The ADDRESS of ſome of the People called QUAKERS, reſiding in the City of Philadelphia, on Behalf of themſelves, and many others.

Addreſs of ſome of the People called Quakers.

THE mournful and deſolate Circumſtances of our Fellow-Subjects on the Frontiers of this Province, engaging the deep Concern and Sympathy of every Mind capable of conſidering the Diſtreſs and Affliction to which they are now ſubjected, and the preſent Conjuncture appearing to us the moſt critical and important the Inhabitants of this Province have ever known, we hope our Addreſs to you, at this Time, will obtain your ſerious, weighty, and deliberate Conſideration.

We have, ſome Time paſt, painfully obſerved the Meaſures which have been purſued, and how remarkably they have been diſappointed, and failed of the deſirable End of reſtoring Peace and Tranquillity; and as we are informed that the Governor hath under his Conſideration a Declaration of War againſt thoſe Indians, who, contrary to the Faith of their Treaties, and the Friendſhip they have heretofore manifeſted to us, have become our open and cruel Enemies: From the ſtrong Motives of the Fear of God, and Love of Mankind, and eſpecially of our ſuffering Brethren and Fellow-Chriſtians, we have been conſtrained to make our Addreſs to the Governor (a Duplicate of which we herewith deliver you) beſeeching him to ſuſpend a full Determination of carrying ſuch Meaſures into Execution, as may render all pacific Meaſures much more difficult; and as the Station in which you are placed, the Truſt committed to you, and the Profeſſion you make of being the Diſciples and Followers of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, the Prince of Peace, unite in demanding of your utmoſt and unwearied Endeavours to be exerted for the Safety, Peace and Proſperity of the People of this Province, we intreat and beſeech you, as you tender the Honour of God, the Reputation and Promotion of the Doctrine and fundamental Principles of Chriſtianity, and the Welfare of yourſelves, and the People whom you repreſent, to exert yourſelves on this moſt ſolemn and important Occaſion.

The Records of the ſeveral Treaties with theſe Indians, and our Anceſtors, our own, and our Neighbours Experience, have fully proved, that though they are ſavage, and inexpreſſibly cruel to their Enemies, they are not void of a large Share of natural Underſtanding; have, in many Caſes, clear Sentiments of Juſtice and Equity, and have, from the firſt Settlement of this Province, till a few Months paſt, manifeſted their Friendſhip to us; we therefore earneſtly deſire it may be the Care of all concerned (though not convinced as we are, that War is repugnant to the Doctrine and Principles of the Goſpel) to be well aſſured that our Affairs with theſe People have been tranſacted, in every Reſpect, in the moſt honeſt, upright, and equitable Manner: The Reflections which the Want of this neceſſary Care muſt ſuggeſt to every Mind, if a Time of general Deſolation ſhould enſue, are too obvious and dreadful to be mentioned, and we are aſſured that the Conſideration thereof hath made a deep Impreſſion on many, who cannot but frequently, in this melancholy Time, remember the emphatic and prophetic Expreſſions of the wiſe, worthy, firſt Proprietor of this Province: "If Friends "here keep to God, and in the Juſtice, Mercy, Equity, and Fear of the Lord, their "Enemies will be their Foot-ſtool; if not, their Heirs, and my Heirs too, will loſe "all, and Deſolation will follow." [WILLIAM PENN's Life, Folio 124.] 1756. April 13.

Reflections

That the Motives of Self-intereſted Views have not determined us to theſe urgent Addreſſes, we are ready and willing chearfully to manifeſt, as there are ſome among us who will freely aſſiſt with their Eſtates and Perſons, to endeavour the regaining the Friendſhip of our Enemies, and promoting pacific Meaſures in the ſame Manner as the unhappy Experience of ſeveral of the moſt martial neighbouring Colonies hath, after long and bloody Wars, teſtified it muſt at laſt, if ever, be obtained; but as any Propoſals, or Requeſts, made by us in our private Capacities, cannot have ſo much Weight with the Governor, as an Application and Requeſt from you, who repreſent the Freemen of the Province, and who, though not veſted with the executive Powers of the Government, are, both by ſacred and civil Obligations, bound to conſult and promote its real Welfare, we intreat you to add your Endeavours to ours to effect theſe neceſſary and ſalutary Meaſures.

Philadelphia, Fourth Month 12, 1756.

To ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS, Eſq; Lieutenant Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of Pennſylvania, &c.

The humble ADDRESS of ſome of the People called QUAKERS, reſiding in the City of Philadelphia, on Behalf of themſelves, and many others.

Addreſs of ſome of the People called Quakers to the Governor.

WITH Hearts ſorely diſtreſſed and deeply affected with the Calamities of our Fellow-Subjects, and painfully apprehenſive of the impending Deſolations conſequent of an Indian War, we addreſs the Governor, and earneſtly intreat thy favourable Attention, on this ſolemn and important Conjuncture, in which the Lives and Liberties of the People of this Province are ſo nearly concerned.

We have, with the moſt ſenſible Concern and Pain of Mind, obſerved the ſorrowful Alteration in the State of this late peaceful Province, now become the Theatre of Bloodſhed and Rapine, and diſtreſſed by the cruel Devaſtations of a barbarous Enemy, which juſtly excites the moſt aggravating Reflections in every conſiderate Mind; yet when we conſider that all Wars are attended with fatal Conſequences, and one with Enemies ſo ſavage as thoſe who have now become ours, with Circumſtances the moſt ſhocking and dreadful, we cannot omit beſeeching, that before the Reſolution of declaring War againſt them be carried into Execution, ſome farther Attempts may be made, by pacific Meaſures, to reduce them to a Senſe of their Duty, and that a farther Opportunity may be offered to ſuch as may be willing to ſeparate from thoſe who have been the wicked Inſtruments of perverting them.

The Settlement of this Province was founded on the Principles of Truth, Equity and Mercy, and the Bleſſing of Divine Providence attended the early Care of the firſt Founders to impreſs theſe Principles on the Minds of the native Inhabitants; ſo that when their Numbers were great, and their Strength vaſtly ſuperior, they received our Anceſtors with Gladneſs, relieved their Wants with open Hearts, granted them peaceable Poſſeſſion of the Land, and, for a long Courſe of Time, gave conſtant and frequent Proofs of a cordial Friendſhip; all which we humbly aſcribe to the infinite Wiſdom and Goodneſs of GOD, "whoſe Hand is for Good upon all them that ſeek him;" and as the angelic Acclamation of Glory to GOD in the Higheſt, Peace on Earth, and Good-will to Men, with which the Birth of our LORD JESUS CHRIST was publiſhed, and the Example and Precepts which He, as the Prince of Peace, gave through the Courſe of his perſonal Appearance on Earth, have given us undoubted Aſſurance that the Day is dawned in which his peaceable Reign will be exalted, and gradually become univerſal; we cannot, without Neglect of our Duty, and ſacrificing the Peace of Conſcience, we prefer to every temporal Bleſſing, omit reviving our Teſtimony in this Time of Probation, that all Wars appear to us contrary to the Nature and End of the Goſpel Diſpenſation, and that we, as a People, ſtill firmly believe, that on an humble and ſteady Acquieſcence with the Diſpenſations of Divine Providence our real Protection and Security depends, from which no temporal Inconveniences and Difficulties can juſtify our departing.

Yet, while we earneſtly deſire all may attain this happy Experience, we do not preſume to preſcribe, but as our Minds feel more, than our Words can expreſs, of Pain and Anxiety for our Brethren and Fellow-Chriſtians, whoſe Deſolation, we fear, will be increaſed and perpetuated by a haſty Declaration of War, we find ourſelves obliged to beſeech the Governor to reſume the moſt weighty, ſerious and religious Deliberation on this melancholy

1756. April 13. melancholy Occaſion, that ſo every Meaſure which hath been purſued, and whatever remains poſſible to be done, to prevent ſo fatal and lamentable an Extremity, may be ſtrictly and impartially reviewed and conſidered; that full Enquiry may be made, whether ſome Apprehenſions theſe Indians have conceived of a Deviation from the Integrity of Conduct towards them, ſo conſpicuous in the firſt Eſtabliſhment, may not, unhappily, have contributed, in ſome Degree, to the Alteration of their Conduct towards us; that full Time may be allowed for thoſe Indians who ſtill remain well affected towards us, to uſe and report the Effect of their Endeavours to reconcile our Enemies, and that proper Care may be taken to prevent our Allies being, through the Miſconduct or evil Diſpoſitions of any, injured in ſuch Manner as to provoke them likewiſe to turn their Arms againſt us; and that the Governor's Care to guard againſt involving the Innocent with the Guilty, may carry ſo clear Demonſtration of Chriſtian Tenderneſs, and Averſion to ſhedding Blood, that an Evidence may be given to the Minds of the other neighbouring Indians, which may engage them heartily and ſincerely to aſſiſt in the deſirable Work of reſtoring Peace and Tranquillity, towards which all the Meaſures hitherto taken ſeem to have contributed little good Effect.

We therefore with Sincerity and Ardency pray, that the Calamities may be averted, which will enſue on a continued War with theſe Savages, ſome of the melancholy Effects of which the Annals of a neighbouring Province, full of the moſt warlike People, have teſtified; and as the Fear of GOD, Honour of the King, Love of our Brethren and Fellow-Chriſtians, are the Motives which engaged us to make this Addreſs, we hope to demonſtrate by our Conduct, that every Occaſion of aſſiſting and relieving the Diſtreſſed, and contributing towards the obtaining Peace, in a Manner conſiſtent with our peaceable Profeſſion, will be chearfully improved by us, and even though a much larger Part of our Eſtates ſhould be neceſſary than the heavieſt Taxes of a War can be expected to require, we ſhall chearfully, by voluntary Grants, evidence our Sincerity herein.

May the Mind of the Governor be indued with that Wiſdom which the wiſeſt of Kings experienced to be "better than Weapons of War;" and may thy Councils be directed to the Honour of GOD, and Good of the People over whom thou preſideſt, is our ſincere Deſire and Prayer."

Philadelphia, Fourth Month 12, 1756. Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Committee appointed to confer with the Governor, on the Bill for regulating the Officers and Soldiers commiſſionated and raiſed by the Governor for the Defence of this Province, report, that they had done the ſame according to Order; and that they were of Opinion, from the Reaſons offered by the Governor, (which they related to the Houſe) that his Amendments to the ſaid Bill might be neceſſary.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly. 'I Have this Day received Information, that a Number of People from the Back Counties have reſolved to meet at Lancaſter on the Sixteenth Inſtant, and thence proceed to this City, to make ſome Demands of the Legiſlature now ſitting.

'As Attempts of this Kind may be dangerous to the King's Peace, and the Authority of the Legiſlature, I think proper to give you this timely Notice of it; and, by the Advice of the Council, ſhall give immediate Orders to the Provincial and other Magiſtrates, to uſe their utmoſt Endeavours to prevent the Miſchiefs that may attend ſo extraordinary a Procedure.

Philadelphia, April 13, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Houſe went upon the Conſideration of the Reaſons offered by the Governor at the Conference, in Support of his Amendments to the Bill for regulating the Officers and Soldiers, &c. and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, they were all agreed to by the Houſe, except that propoſing a longer Continuance of the Act than as mentioned in the Bill, which the Governor ſaid he was willing to recede from, if the Houſe thought proper to adhere to their Bill in that Particular.

Ordered, That the ſaid Bill be ingroſſed.

The Governor's Meſſage of this Afternoon was again read, and conſidered, and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That Joſeph Fox, William Callender, Mahlon Kirkbride, Thomas Cummings, James Wright, John Wright, Francis Parvin and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the ſame.

The Addreſs from the People called Quakers was again read, and conſidered, and, after ſome Debate thereupon, the ſame was referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

April 14. The Bill for regulating the Officers and Soldiers commiſſionated and raiſed by the Governor vernor for the Defence of this Province, being ingroſſed, was read, and compared at the Table. 1756. April 14.

Ordered, That Griffith Owen and David M'Connaughy wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Bill for regulating the Officers and Soldiers, &c. is ingroſſed with his Amendments; and that the Houſe deſire he would be pleaſed to appoint a Time to receive the Houſe, in order to enact the ſame into a Law; and likewiſe, that he would appoint ſome of his Council, to join with ſome Members of this Houſe in comparing the ſaid ingroſſed Bill with the Original.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of Yeſternight, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.—And the ſame being accordingly done, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

SO extraordinary a Procedure as "the Meeting of a Number of People from the Back Counties, to make Demands of the Legiſlature now ſitting," which the Governor has been pleaſed to give us Notice of, is truly ſurpriſing to us, conſidering the real Concern and great Care that has been demonſtrated for their Protection and Security, by granting ſuch large Sums of Money, and paſſing ſuch Laws, as in our Judgment are moſt ſuitable to thoſe Purpoſes, and moſt conſiſtent with the juſt Rights of our Conſtituents.—But, although we are at a Loſs to find out any Reaſon for this extraordinary Procedure from any Part of our Conduct, if the Governor ſhall think fit to lay before us the Information he has received upon this Occaſion, we may poſſibly be able to form ſome Judgment of their Views or Deſigns, or wherein they apprehend themſelves either aggrieved or neglected.

And as we are apprized of the Danger theſe People may involve themſelves in, from the Acts of Parliament brought over and enforced within this Province, by an Act paſſed in the Fourth Year of the late Queen ANNE, to the Penalties of which this Part of our Inhabitants may unhappily ſubject themſelves, without a due Senſe of the Extent and Severity of thoſe Acts: We therefore thank the Governor, for the Orders he has aſſured us he will immediately give to the Provincial and other Magiſtrates, to exert themſelves, and prevent the Miſchiefs that may attend their Conduct, if they ſhould unhappily continue their Reſolution of coming down to this City, to make any Demands upon the Legiſlature in a Manner inconſiſtent with our Conſtitution."

The foregoing Meſſage being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch and Richard Pearn wait upon the Governor with the ſame, and enquire whether the Governor has come to any Reſult upon the Bills now before him; and likewiſe acquaint the Governor, that the Houſe deſire he would be pleaſed to lay before them a Copy of the Remainder of the Indian Minutes, and any other Papers he may have lately received relating to Indian Affairs.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Bill for regulating the Officers and Soldiers was ingroſſed, return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he would be at the Council Chamber To-morrow Morning, in order to enact the ſaid Bill into a Law; and that he ſhould appoint two Members of Council to join the Members of this Houſe in comparing the ingroſſed Bill with the Original.

Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch and Richard Pearn do meet the Members of Council, in order to compare the ſaid ingroſſed Bill with the Original.

The Houſe again reſumed the Conſideration of the Addreſs from the People called Quakers, relating to a Declaration of War againſt the Indians, and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the ſame was referred to farther Conſideration.

Poſt Meridiem

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he had no Bills properly before him, except the Watch and Lamp Bill, which he had referred to his Council, who had not as yet reported on it. And upon being reminded by the Members, that the Bill for continuing the Exciſe Act was likewiſe before him, he replied, that he did not look upon that Bill as properly before him, by Reaſon the Houſe did not return him his propoſed Amendments with it.

The Governor ſent down, by the Members, the Remainder of the Minutes of Council, relating to Indian Affairs, which was read, and conſidered, and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the ſame was referred to farther Conſideration.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

April 15.

The Gentlemen appointed to meet two Members of Council to compare the ingroſſed Bill with the Original, report, that they had done the ſame according to Order, and that they found them to agree.

1756. April 15.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

GENTLEMEN,

'THE Indians have this Afternoon been with me, and given me Notice by Scarroyady, that they intend to move in Three Days with their Wives and Children to the Country of the Six Nations, leaving New-Caſtle and two more to go with our Forces to Shamokin; and demanding of me the neceſſary Conveyances and Paſsports.—I was much ſurprized at this Reſolution; to which, by Advice of Mr. Weiſer, I gave no other Anſwer, but that I would, when every Thing was ready, ſend for them, and take my Leave.—I am fearful ſome Diſcontent has given Riſe to this ſudden Reſolution, though I know of no Reaſon they can have for it: However, if we cannot prevail on them to act with us (which I have directed Mr. Weiſer to endeavour) it will be neceſſary to reward Scarroyady and Mr. Montour for their Trouble and Service to their Satisfaction, to ſend the others away well ſatisfied, and to give thoſe that continue with us good Encouragement.

'You will therefore give the neceſſary Directions for furniſhing what may be proper upon this Occaſion.

Philadelphia, April 15, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Secretary informed the Houſe, that the Governor was now in the Council Chamber ready to receive the Houſe, in order to paſs into a Law the Bill for regulating the Officers and Soldiers commiſſionated and raiſed by the Governor for the Defence of this Province.

Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch and Richard Pearn ſee the Great Seal affixed to the Law after it ſhall be paſſed, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office.

Then the Speaker, with the whole Houſe, waited upon the Governor.—And being returned, the Speaker reſumed the Chair, and reported, that the Houſe had waited on the Governor with the Bill, entituled, An Act for regulating the Officers and Soldiers commiſſionated and raiſed by the Governor for the Defence of this Province, to which the Governor was pleaſed to give his Aſſent, by enacting the ſame into a Law.

An Account from the Secretary, amounting to Seventy-eight Pounds Two Shillings and Six-pence, for Commiſſions granted to Military Officers, was laid before the Houſe, and referred for farther Conſideration.

The Gentlemen appointed to ſee the Great Seal affixed to the Law, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office, report, that the ſame was done according to Order.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe the following written Meſſage, which was read, viz.

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

GENTLEMEN,

'THE many and great Cruelties, committed upon his Majeſty's Subjects within this Province by the Delaware Tribe of Indians, and the little Regard they have paid to the Meſſages ſent them by our Friends and Allies the Six Nations, are ſufficient to convince us, that they have put themſelves under the Protection of the French, and will no longer regard their Treaties with us, or ſubmit to the Six Nations, to whom they owe Obedience.

'I have therefore thought proper, by and with the Advice of the Council, to declare War againſt them, and all ſuch as have, in Conjunction with them, committed Hoſtilities againſt the Inhabitants of this Province; and the Commiſſioners appointed to diſpoſe of the Sixty Thouſand Pounds, given to the King's Uſe, having, by their Letter of the Tenth Inſtant, propoſed to me, to offer certain Rewards for the Taking of Indian Priſoners and Scalps, and promiſed, as far as in them lay, to enable me to pay the ſame, I have, by Proclamation, notified this to the People, and invited them and our Friendly Indians to make uſe of every Opportunity of purſuing, taking and deſtroying, the ſaid Enemy Indians.

'But as great Part of the Sixty Thouſand Pounds is already expended, and what remains will very ſoon be conſumed in maintaining the Troops poſted on the Frontiers, and other neceſſary Services, I recommend it to you, Gentlemen, to grant ſuch further Supplies, as may be neceſſary to carry on the War with Vigour, upon the Succeſs of which, the future Peace and Safety of the Inhabitants of this Province will very much depend.

Philadelphia, April 15, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

Adjournment

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem

The Houſe being informed, that the Commiſſioners, for the County of Philadelphia, appointed to diſperſe the Neutral French, were attending without, and had ſomething to offer to the Houſe, they were called in, and they then repreſented to the Houſe ſundry

Difficulties

Difficulties they met with in the Execution of their Office, and desired the Advice of the House therein, which being accordingly given them, they withdrew. 1756. April 15.

A Petition from Jacob Duché, of the City of Philadelphia, was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that the Petitioner having a large House empty near the City at the Time of the Arrival of Colonel Dunbar's Regiment, William Plumsted, Esq; present Mayor of this City, demanded the Keys of the said House, to make an Hospital for the Wounded of the King's Troops under the late General Braddock, and at the same Time promised his Care to see the Rent paid; but all his Endeavours, as well as those of the Petitioner, to come at the said Rent from the Director of his Majesty's Hospital in North-America, have been fruitless: That the Petitioner conceiving the Sum of Fifteen Pounds (which he values the said House-rent at for the Term of Six Months) to be too great a Tax for an Individual of his Circumstances, applied to the Commissioners of the Province, and they likewise refused to pay the said Account; the Petitioner therefore prays, that this House would take the Premises into their Consideration, and grant him such Relief as they in their Wisdom shall judge proper. Ordered to lie on the Table.

Ordered, That Joseph Stretch, Joshua Morris, Mahlon Kirkbride, Peter Dicks, James Webb, David M'Connaughy, Francis Parvin and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Answer to the Governor's two last Messages.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

Resolved, That this House will this Day adjourn to the Twenty-fourth Day of the next Month, called May. April 16.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Answer to the Governor's two last Messages, reported the same to the House, and it being read, was agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed, that it may be sent up to the Governor. —— Which being accordingly done, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

THE House are of Opinion, that the Act for granting Sixty Thousand Pounds for the King's Use, passed in November last, has so fully provided for defraying our Indian Expences, under the present unhappy Circumstances of Indian Affairs, that the Gentlemen Commissioners, appointed by Virtue of that Act, will chearfully, out of that Money, reward Scarroyady and Andrew Montour, and furnish what else may be propet on the Occasion the Governor has been pleased to recommend to us in his first Message of the Fifteenth Instant; and we beg Leave to add, that it would be very agreeable to us, whenever these our Friendly Indians do go, that they may all go away satisfied; and that Scarroyady and Andrew Montour, particularly, may be made sensible of our Justice towards them, and the due Sense we have of their Trouble, and the Services they have done in Behalf of this Province. A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

That "great Part of the Sixty Thousand Pounds so lately granted is already expended, "and that what remains will be very soon consumed in maintaining the Troops posted "on the Frontiers, and other necessary Services," as the Governor informs us in his second Message of the same Date, is what we know not how to help or avoid; but as the Assessment for sinking the Bills of Credit, issued in Pursuance of the said Act, is not yet laid or levied, and a great Part of that Money is still in Hand, we cannot think it will be of Use at this Time to lay an additional Load of Taxes upon the Inhabitants, as we shall very soon meet again upon the Adjournment now so absolutely necessary to our private Affairs, having waited long for the Governor's Answers to the Bills which we have laid before him.

The Bill for regulating the Indian Trade, we earnestly recommend to his serious Consideration, as we judge it a Bill of great Importance, if hereafter we should procure a Settlement at Shamokin, to conciliate the Minds of the Indians yet unfixed in their Resolutions, and confirming those already in Alliance with us, by suplying them with such Goods and other Things they may have Occasion for, on the easiest Terms, at the Charge, and under the immediate Inspection, of the Government."

And the said Message being signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House,

Ordered, That Peter Dicks and Nathaniel Grubb wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same, together with the following Message, viz.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

EVER since we received the Governor's Message of the Fourth of March last, relating to the putting a Stop to the Exportations of Provisions, in order to prevent a Scarcity within this Province, we have had that Matter under our serious Deliberation; and now, after a full Enquiry into the Circumstances of the Country, in the Particulars recommended to us, we hope, that under the common Course of God's good Providence, with which he has hitherto been graciously pleased to bless us, no considerable Dangers or Inconveniences may arise from referring the further Consideration of it to our next Meeting, A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

1756. April 16. Meeting, at which Time we may be better able to judge of the Expediency or Neceſſity of ſuch a Prohibition, or what other Means in our Power may beſt anſwer the Ends propoſed.

Signed by Order of the Houſe,

ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

The Gentlemen ſent up with the foregoing Meſſages were likewiſe directed to acquaint the Governor with the propoſed Time of Adjournment, and to deliver him a Copy of his propoſed Amendments to the Bill for continuing the Exciſe Act.

The Committee of Accounts reported, that they had examined the Widow Heinſelman's Account, for the Maintenance of Cayenquiloquoas's two Sons, who were ſent to the Academy, and found the whole Amount thereof to be Forty-ſeven Pounds Nine Shillings and Nine-pence, one Half of which is chargeable to the Province, and the other to the Proprietaries, who by Agreement were to pay an equal Part with the Houſe for the Maintaining of the ſaid two Indian Lads.—Which Report was agreed to by the Houſe.

And an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treaſurer, and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, for Twenty-three Pounds Fourteen Shillings and Ten-pence Half-penny, payable to the ſaid Heinſelman.

The Speaker informed the Houſe that the Secretary had told him, that the Proprietaries had abſolutely refuſed to contribute towards the Maintenance of the ſaid Indian Lads any longer, and therefore if the Houſe thought it might be of any Service to have them continued here, and educated amongſt us, they muſt do it at the Expence of the Province.

And the Houſe taking the ſame into Conſideration;

Reſolved, That as Cayenquiloquoas is a principal Perſon among the Six Nations, and is deſirous to have his Sons educated amongſt the Engliſh, and as this Houſe are of Opinion, that the ſame may be attended with very good Conſequences not only to the Proprietaries, and this Province in particular, but to the Britiſh Intereſt in America in general, we will defray all ſuch reaſonable Expences as ſhall ariſe thereupon, for ſuch Time as it ſhall be judged neceſſary.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſages of the Houſe according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he had no Objection to the propoſed Time of Adjournment; that he thought, with the Houſe, there was no immediate Neceſſity for laying an Embargo on Proviſions; that he ſhould lay before the Commiſſioners the Affair of the Indians now in Town, and endeavour to ſend them away well ſatisfied; that he expected the Houſe would have made ſome Preparations for executing the Plan of Operations for the enſuing Campaign, but as they had not, it muſt lie upon them; that as to the Indian Trade, and Exciſe Bills, he ſhould conſider them againſt the next Meeting; and laſtly, that he thought it proper to mention to the Houſe by their Meſſengers, that although he had had more Burdens laid upon him than any of his Predeceſſors in the ſame Time, yet he had received leſs from the Houſe than any of them.

And the Houſe taking into Conſideration what the Governor had ſaid relating to our not having made Preparations for executing the Plan of Operations for the enſuing Campaign;

Reſolved, That as this Province has received no Aſſiſtance from our Mother Country, and as we have already expended large Sums of Money for the Raiſing and Supporting a conſiderable Body of Men for the Defence of our extenſive Frontiers againſt the continued Depredations and Encroachments of a ſavage and mercileſs Enemy, beſides what has been expended in maintaining the Friendly Indians, French Neutrals, and in other Purpoſes for the King's Service, which Expences are likely to be continued for ſome Time, the Houſe are of Opinion, that the preſent Circumſtances of the Province will not now admit of their going into any Preparations for executing the aforeſaid Plan of Operations, and that it would be not only impracticable, but very imprudent, at a Time the Country is ſo greatly diſtreſſed by the unjuſtifiable Taking of indented Servants, and ſo many of our Freemen are inliſted and gone away, to ſend ſo great a Proportion of Men as is demanded of us to ſo great a Diſtance, and thereby deprive ourſelves of their Aſſiſtance, which we have too much Reaſon to think we ſhall ſoon have Occaſion for.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to the Twenty-fourth Day of the next Month, called May.

May 10. Poſt Meridiem THE Repreſentatives of this Province having been, by Virtue of the Governor's Writs to the Sheriffs of the ſeveral Counties for that Purpoſe directed, ſummoned to meet him this Day in Aſſembly, Twenty-three Members met accordingly, but not Adjournment being a Quorum, they adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

May 11. A Quorum of the Members being met,

Ordered, That Joſeph Trotter and Joſeph Stretch wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him that the Houſe are met in Purſuance of his Writs, and ready to receive any Thing he

he may have to lay before them; and desire he would be pleased to furnish them with a Copy of the Writs by which they were summoned. 1756. May 11.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had been at the Governor's House, and were informed by one of his Servants that the Governor was not in Town, and that it was not known when he would.

Ordered, That the Clerk do enquire of the Secretary, when he expects the Governor will be in Town.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Clerk reported, that he had, according to Order, enquired of the Secretary when he expected the Governor would be in Town, who informed him that he had not heard any Thing from the Governor concerning his Return. Post Meridiem

The Secretary brought down to the House a written Message from the Governor, which he informed the House he had just received by Express.

Then the Secretary withdrew.

And it being moved, that it would be proper for the House to see by what Authority they were summoned, before they proceeded upon Business;

Ordered, That the Clerk do acquaint the Secretary, that the House do not think it proper to proceed upon Business until they have a Copy of the Writs by which they were summoned.

The Clerk returned, and reported, that he had delivered the Message of the House, according to Order, and that the Secretary said, he had not thought any Thing concerning the Writs, and he believed the Governor had not; however, he would immediately acquaint the Council therewith.

The Secretary brought to the House one of the Writs by which the House were summoned, and the same was read, and ordered to lie on the Table for the Perusal of the Members.

Then the Message from the Governor was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'THE People of the Frontier Counties to the Westward, distressed by the cruel Ravages of the Indians, having lost great Numbers of their fighting Men, and the Remainder being either drove from their Habitations, into the interior Parts of the Province, or worn out with constant Watchings, there is the greatest Reason to apprehend, upon the next Attack, the Counties of York and Cumberland will be entirely evacuated, and the River Susquehanna become the Frontier on that Side, notwithstanding all the Commissioners and myself have been able to do for their Safety. The Consideration of this deplorable and dangerous Situation of those Counties, which the most considerable of their Inhabitants have in the most affecting Manner laid before me, induced me to call you together before the Time to which you stood adjourned, that the best and speediest Measures might be taken to prevent, if possible, the total Ruin and Desolation of so considerable a Part of the Province, which there is too much Reason to fear, from what has already happened, and that our Enemies will come in larger Bodies, and, favoured by the Season of the Year, do us much greater Mischiefs than they have hitherto done.

'The Law for the better ordering and regulating such as are willing and desirous to be united for Military Purposes within this Province, has contributed very little, if any Thing, towards the Defence of the Frontiers; and, as I observed to you when I passed it, is so defective in itself, and requires so much Time to carry it into Execution, that nothing good is to be expected from it: For though many Companies have formed themselves under that Law, yet as it is not in my Power to order any of them to the Frontiers, they are, as to that most material Service, entirely useless. I must therefore recommend it to you, to form such a Militia Bill as is just and equal, that may be carried into immediate Execution, and may enable me to draw the Strength of the Province to such Parts as stand most in Need of it, that the Burden of defending the Frontiers, and consequently the Province, may not fall too heavily upon the few Inhabitants whose Circumstances oblige them to remain in the Back Counties.

'By the latest Accounts from Europe, there is the greatest Reason to apprehend that the French have sent, or intend to send, a considerable Armament into America, which in all Probability will be the Seat of War; and, as I conceive, they will depend upon being supplied with Provisions from these Colonies, through the Dutch Settlements in the West-Indies, and have already had great Quantities that Way, it may greatly contribute to our Success, if that Channel of their procuring Supplies be stopped; which, in my Opinion, cannot be effectually done but by a general Embargo; and we shall thereby not only distress them, but be better able to supply his Majesty's Forces employed in our Defence: I therefore recommend it to you to prepare a Bill to enforce and render effectual, by proper Penalties, and the Sanction of a Law, such an Em-

'bargo as ſhall be thought neceſſary by myſelf and the Governors of the neighbouring 'Provinces to anſwer thoſe Ends.

'The Affairs of the Frontiers, and the particular Expedition for building a Fort at 'Shamokin, which is of ſo great Importance to the Province, requiring my perſonal Care 'and Attendance here for ſome Time longer, it gives me Concern that I cannot be at 'Philadelphia at this Time; but you may be aſſured I will give all the Diſpatch imagin-'able to any Bills you may propoſe, which the Secretary will ſend me from Time to 'Time by Expreſs.

Harris's Ferry, May 9, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

A Petition from the Officers of the Regiment of Militia, and Artillery Company, of the City of Philadelphia, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that hoping to be ſerviceable to their Country in Time of Danger, the Petitioners, with many others, have formed themſelves into a Regiment, in Purſuance of the late Militia Law, and have uſed their utmoſt Endeavours to carry the ſame into full Execution, but without Effect; that they have yet no Articles or Rules formed for the Government of the Militia, nor (from ſundry Cauſes, well known to ſome Members of the Houſe) are they likely, under the preſent Law, to obtain any ſuch Rules, without which, all they have hitherto done muſt prove of little Service; the Petitioners therefore pray, that this Houſe would farther extend their Care of the Public Safety, by reconſidering the ſaid Law, and making ſuch additional Proviſions as ſhall render the ſame effectual for the Defence of the Province. Ordered to lie on the Table.

Adjournment — Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

May 12. — The Governor's Meſſage was again read, and conſidered, and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That John Hughes, Benjamin Franklin, Joſeph Hamton, Peter Dicks, James Webb, John Smith and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the ſame.

Adjournment — Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

May 13. — An Account from Richard Peters, Eſq; for Indian Expences, was laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Conſideration of the Commiſſioners for diſpoſing of the Sixty Thouſand Pounds granted to the King's Uſe.

Two Letters from Governor Hardy to Governor Morris, with Copies of two Bills paſſed in that Colony for reſtraining the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores, were laid before the Houſe, by the Secretary, and read.

A Bill for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores from the Province of Pennſylvania, was brought in by the Committee appointed for that Purpoſe, read the firſt and ſecond times, and ordered to be tranſcribed for a third Reading.

Adjournment — Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem — Upon Motion made,

Ordered, That the Superintendants of the State-houſe do agree with ſome ſuitable Perſon, on the moſt reaſonable Terms they can, to keep in proper Order the Clock belonging to the ſaid Building.

An Account from John Clark, of the County of Lancaſter, Goal-keeper, for the Maintenance of Michael Ruſſell, a ſuſpected French Spy, and for his Expences in bringing John Hart to Philadelphia, by Order of the Chief Juſtice, was laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

The Committee of Accounts reported, that they had examined the Account of Richard Peters, Eſq; for Expreſſes, and were of Opinion, that the ſame ought to be allowed by the Houſe; to which Report the Houſe agreed, and an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treaſurer, and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, for Payment of the ſame.

The Bill, entituled, An Act for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores from the Province of Pennſylvania, being tranſcribed, was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

Adjournment — Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

The

The Message to the Governor being transcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz. 1756. May 14.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

BEING met in Pursuance of the Governor's Call, we are concerned that he cannot be at Philadelphia at the Time he appointed, since the transacting Public Business with him at so great a Distance must be attended with many Difficulties and Inconveniences.

As by the Care of the Governor and the Commissioners for disposing of the Sixty Thousand Pounds by us granted for his Majesty's Service, the Frontier of this Province is now in a better State of Defence than that of any other Colony on the Continent, being guarded by a Line of Forts at no great Distance from each other, all strongly garrisoned; and the Soldiery, in Pay of this Government, if they were at first remiss in their Duty, are now reduced to due Obedience and Discipline, by our extending hither at our last Sitting the Act of Parliament for punishing Mutiny and Desertion; we cannot but hope the distressed Inhabitants of the Counties of York and Cumberland may, by the Blessing of GOD on those Means, become more secure in their Settlements, and their late Fears and Apprehensions be considerably abated. Especially as we understand there are in the interior Counties many formed Companies, as yet unemployed, who are ready to enter into the Service, and march to the Frontier, whenever the Government shall think fit to call for them, and a considerable Sum is still in the Hands of the Commissioners, wherewith the Expence might be defrayed. The Marching of the Militia to the Frontier on every Alarm we conceive would be less effectual for its Defence, and much more expensive and burdensome to the People, than their Proportion of a Tax for the Maintenance of Standing Guards. We have indeed had little Experience of a Militia in this Province, and a Law for regulating it was a new Thing to us; it is therefore very possible that our first Essay of that Kind may have Defects and Imperfections. But as the Governor did not point them out, when we presented the Bill, and he gave it his Assent, and they have not since occurred to us, all we can say on that Head, at present, is, that whenever he shall think fit to send us down such supplementary Amendments as he conceives will make it a good Law, and effectual to answer its Purposes, we will take them into serious Consideration. This the Governor may possibly be ready to do by the Time to which we stood adjourned, now not far distant.

We have herewith sent a Bill for prohibiting the Exportation of Provisions or Warlike Stores from this Province, which we hope will meet with the Governor's Concurrence, being in Conformity with the Law lately passed in the Colony of New-York. But as all Restrictions laid upon such Exportations by the Legislature of this Province must be rendered altogether ineffectual, as great Quantities of the Produce thereof may be exported through the Three Lower Counties, not subject to our Laws, unless they are laid under the same Restrictions within that Government, we have referred the Continuance of our Law to such future Act as the Governor and Assembly of those Counties shall pass for that Purpose. We apprehend a strict Compliance with this Law will be of great Service to the British Interest, and therefore earnestly recommend it to the Governor to use his utmost Endeavours, that this Act, when it shall have received his Assent, may be effectually carried into Execution.

As the Season requires the present Attendance of many of the Members at their Plantations, they propose to adjourn this Day to the Time of their former Adjournment, the Twenty-fourth Instant; when they hope the Affairs the Governor is at present engaged in, may be in such a Situation as to permit his Return to meet them in Philadelphia."

And the same being signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House,

Ordered, That David M'Connaughy and John Smith do, on their Return Home, wait upon the Governor at Harris's Ferry, and deliver the same, together with the Bill for the more effectual obstructing the Exportation of Provisions and Warlike Stores, to which the House desire his Concurrence.

A Petition from the Officers of the Association Companies in the City of Philadelphia was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that the Reason why they have not acted under the present Militia Law, is, because they apprehend it to be deficient in several Respects (which are particularized by the Petitioners;) they therefore pray, that the said Law may be repealed, and a new one framed, wherein the Defects of the former may be remedied.

Ordered, That the said Petition and the Petition from the Officers of the City Regiment be referred to further Consideration.

Ordered, That the Trustees of the General Loan-Office do pay off a Year's Interest due on the Province Bills, or Orders, (which were drawn in Pursuance of a Vote of the last Assembly on the Second Day of the Month called April, 1755) to such Persons as shall demand the same.

The Committee of Accounts reported, that they had examined an Account from David Magaw, for Debts due to him from sundry of the Ohio Road-Cutters, and found that the 1756. May 14. the ſame were deducted from the ſaid Road-Cutters Accounts before they were reſpectively paid, and therefore the ſaid Magaw's Account ought to be paid by this Houſe.—To which Report the Houſe agreed; and an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treaſurer, for Sixteen Pounds Four Shillings and Ten-pence, the Amount of the ſaid Account, payable to Joſeph Morris, who had an Order from the ſaid Magaw to receive the ſame, and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to the Twenty-fourth Day of this Month.

May 24. Poſt Meridiem THE Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch and John Hughes wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe are met, according to their Adjournment, and are ready to receive any Thing he may have to lay before them.

Sundry Letters from the Agents were laid before the Houſe by the Committee of Correſpondence and read.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

May 25. The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, report, that they had been at the Governor's Houſe, and were there informed by a Servant, that the Governor was not in Town, and that it was uncertain when he would.

The Speaker laid before the Houſe the Bill for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores from the Province of Pennſylvania, which he informed the Houſe he had received from the Secretary, who ſaid, that as the Governor's Preſence was required at Harris's Ferry, and the Law was immediately neceſſary, he had there affixed the Great Seal to the tranſcribed Copy, enacted it, and ordered it to be enrolled, without the uſual Formality of having it ingroſſed, &c.

And the ſame being read, and compared at the Table, and found to agree with the Copy in the Houſe, and the Houſe continuing in the ſame Opinion with regard to the ſaid Bill, it was ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, and Joſeph Fox and William Callender were ordered to ſee it depoſited in the Rolls Office.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Gentlemen appointed to ſee the Law depoſited in the Rolls Office, report, that they had done the ſame according to Order.

Sundry Letters from Robert Charles, Eſq; one of the Agents of this Province at the Court of Great-Britain, were laid before the Houſe and read.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

May 26. The Secretary brought down to the Houſe two Meſſages from the Governor in Writeing, one of which he informed the Houſe was deſigned to have been delivered at the laſt Sitting, but it did not come to Hand till about Half an Hour after the Houſe had adjourned.

And the ſaid Meſſages being read, were as follow, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly. ‘ SINCE my Meſſage to you of the Ninth Inſtant, I have received Letters from Governor Dinwiddie and Governor Sharpe, which the Secretary will lay before you, ‘ giving an Account of the miſerable Situation of their Frontiers, and the Danger they ‘ are in from the Numbers of Indians and French that have already penetrated as far as ‘ Wincheſter.

‘ Upon Receipt of this Intelligence, I have ſent Orders to the Forts and Garriſons on ‘ the Weſtern Frontier to be upon their Guard, and to put themſelves into the beſt ‘ Poſture of Defence they poſſibly can, and am doing every Thing elſe in my Power that ‘ can contribute to the better ſecuring that moſt expoſed Part of our Frontier; but as ‘ thoſe Garriſons are but ſmall, and we have no Body of Forces on the Weſt-ſide of Suſquehanna ſufficient to take the Field, I am fearful they will not be able to maintain ‘ their Poſts againſt the Numbers of the Enemy that there is the greateſt Reaſon to expect will ſoon appear in thoſe Parts: And we ſhould therefore loſe no Time in preparing in ſome more effectual Manner for their Defence.

‘ I have received from the Governor of New-York Copies of an Act for a general Embargo on Proviſions and Warlike Stores, formerly paſſed there, and expired, and of an ‘ Act paſſed there the Fourth Inſtant, for reviving it for Twenty-one Days, and then ‘ from the Time that the Legiſlature of this Province and New-Jerſey ſhall reſpectively paſs Laws for thoſe Purpoſes, and to be of equal Continuance with thoſe Laws, provided they exceed not Three Months. And in his Letter, accompanying the Copies ‘ of the ſaid Acts, deſires our Concurrence in laying a general Embargo; which, being ‘ agreeable to my Sentiments, as mentioned in my laſt Meſſage to you, I again recommend it to you immediately to prepare and ſend me a Bill for that Purpoſe. I have ‘ ordered the Secretary to lay before you Copies of the ſaid Acts, with Sir Charles Hardy's Letter.

Harris's Ferry, May 12, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS.”

GENTLE-

GENTLEMEN,

1756. May 26. A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'I Was in Hopes the Affairs I am engaged in here would have been in such Forwardness, that I might, without Prejudice to this important Part of the Public Service, have been in Philadelphia by the Time of your meeting To-morrow; but all the Dispatch I have been able to give them, has not brought them so forward as I could wish, and as the Season of the Year requires. However, I have the Satisfaction to acquaint you, that we have made a Lodgment in a very secure Place upon the River beyond the Kittatinny Hills, and above the two most difficult Falls, to which Place a considerable Part of the Provisions and Stores are removed, and the Remainder will be transported thither as fast as a Number of proper Boats can be got ready.

'The Secretary will lay before you a Letter I have received from Governor Sharpe, with the Extracts of an Act of his Government, for granting Forty Thousand Pounds for his Majesty's Service; by which you will see that it is expected we shall join in carrying on an Expedition to the Westward, and that Twenty-five Thousand Pounds, intended for that Service; is conditional, and not to be employed till Governor Sharpe has undoubted Assurances that Virginia and this Province will contribute their reasonable Quotas towards the supporting and carrying on such Expedition.

'You must be sensible, from what has already happened, that this Province has no Reason to expect either Peace or Safety while the French remain in Possession of the Country they have seized and fortified behind us; and that the most effectual Means of bringing the Indians back to their Alliance with, and Dependance upon, us, will be for these Western Colonies vigorously to unite their Strength in making a well concerted Push to dislodge the French from those their Encroachments; and no Time seems so favourable for that Purpose as while his Majesty's Troops, and those of the Eastern Provinces, are employed against them to the Northward. I must therefore recommend it to you, to take this Matter into your immediate Consideration, and enable me to give Governor Sharpe the expected Assurances that we will join and contribute our reasonable Proportion towards that Expedition, which, if successful, must tend so much to the Advantage and Security of this Province.

'By a Letter from Commodore Spry, an Extract of which will be laid before you, I find that he is in great Want of Seamen for his Majesty's Ships under his Command; a Number of which he desires may be sent him from these Colonies. As the having that Squadron fully manned at this Time is a Matter of great Importance to his Majesty's Service, and to the Safety not only of Nova-Scotia, but of the rest of the Continent; I therefore recommend it to you, to enable me, by Bounty or otherwise, to raise and send him as many Seamen as the Trade of the Province can spare, which will be a very seasonable and acceptable Service.

'I propose to leave this Place To-morrow, or on Tuesday at farthest, and hope to be with you by the Time you can have any Business prepared to lay before me.

Camp at Harris's Ferry, ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."
May 23, 1756.

The several Letters and Papers referred to in the foregoing Message, were likewise read, and considered.

The Speaker laid before the House the following Letter from John Smith, one of the Representatives for the County of Cumberland, which he informed the House he had just received, viz.

SIR, Carlisle, May 20, 1756.

ON Monday last Mr. M'Connaughy and myself arrived at Harris's Ferry, and delivered the Bill to the Governor according to Order, together with the Message of the House; and the Governor was pleased to say, he would immediately pass the Bill into a Law, in our Presence. We asked him if that would do; he said it would do well enough, and requested that we would stay and see him affix the Great Seal to it; and accordingly we did stay. I am,

Sir, your most obedient humble Servant,

Ordered, That John Hughes, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, Nathaniel Pennock, James Webb, Joſeph Armſtrong and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare and bring in a Bill purſuant to the foregoing Reſolve.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly. ‘ I HAVE directed the Secretary to lay before you Extracts from two Letters of Sir Charles Hardy's, relating to Indian Affairs, as alſo the Minutes of what has been ‘ tranſacted with the Indians on Suſquehanna, in Conſequence of thoſe Letters; by which ‘ you will ſee the Diſpoſition thoſe People are in, and the Deſire they have to be diſtinguiſhed from the Indians that have joined the French, and to renew their Alliance and ‘ Friendſhip with us.

‘ In order to render the late Embargo permanent and effectual, I have called the Aſ‘ ſembly of the Lower Counties to meet at New-Caſtle on Friday the Fourth Inſtant, ‘ and ſhall recommend it to them to paſs a Law to the ſame Effect with that lately paſ‘ ſed here; and as that will only occaſion an Abſence of three or four Days, I imagine ‘ it will not interrupt any Buſineſs that you may have under Conſideration.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

June 2. Adjournment

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Answer to the Governor's Message of Yesterday, reported the same to the House, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed, that it may be sent up to the Governor.

June 3.

And the same being accordingly done, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

AS it appears by the Letters from Sir Charles Hardy, and the Minutes of Sir William Johnson's Negotiations with a Deputation from the Onondagoes to the Delaware and Shawanese Indians, as well as by the Account of what has been transacted with the Indians on Susquehanna, which the Governor has been pleased to lay before us, that the Delaware and Shawanese Indians, by the Authority and Interposition of the Six United Nations, "have promised to cease from further Hostilities, and are disposed to renew and "strengthen their Alliance and Friendship with the English," the Governor will not fail of the necessary Support in the Prosecution of such Measures as may tend to a happy Issue of this good Disposition in the Delaware and Shawanese Tribes; and accordingly we heartily recommend it to the Commissioners appointed by Law to dispose of the Sixty Thousand Pounds lately granted to the King's Use, to concur with the Governor in furnishing such Supplies of Money as may be necessary for effectuating these good Purposes.

We are of Opinion, that the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade, which has lain a considerable Time before the Governor for his Assent, might be of great Service at this Juncture, by bringing such of our Indians as have never joined with, and desire to be distinguished from, those who have been concerned in the Hostilities committed upon the Back Settlements of this and the neighbouring Provinces, under the immediate Inspection and Care of this Government; and as by the Passing this Bill, we apprehend the Necessities of these our Friendly Indians may be supplied, and their Affections secured on the easiest Terms, and those of other Dispositions brought in by their own Interests, we request the Governor would concur with us in passing that Bill."

And the said Message being signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House,

Ordered, That James Pemberton and Joseph Stretch wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Gentlemen report, that they had delivered the Message of the House according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say, he would reconsider the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down to the House a Message in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'YOU are sensible that the Trouble and Expence attending the Administration of 'the Government, since my Arrival, have been considerably greater than in any 'former Time, and that no Sums, since your first Sessions, have been granted for my 'Support; I must therefore desire you will take this Matter into your Consideration, and make such Provision as is agreeable to Justice, and the Practice of former Assemblies.

Philadelphia, June 3, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Secretary informed the House, that the Governor desired that they would return him the Paper of proposed Amendments, which he sent down with the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade; and the same was delivered to the Secretary accordingly.

Ordered, That Joseph Fox and William Callender wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the House are very desirous of knowing the Governor's Result on the Excise, Watch, and Indian Trade Bills, that have lain so long under his Consideration, before he goes to New-Castle, if possible.

A Petition from Joseph Yeates, a Prisoner for Debt in the Goal of Philadelphia, was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that he is willing to give up all that he is worth in the World towards satisfying his Debts, but finds all his Endeavours for that Purpose ineffectual, through the Obstinacy of the Person at whose Suit he is confined; that he has no Hopes of ever being able to work on the Compassion of his said Creditor, is utterly unable to pay the Debt, and being excluded from the Benefit of the Acts of Assembly of this Province for Relief of insolvent Debtors, by the Largeness of his Debt, he has the shocking Prospect of lingering the Remainder of his Days in Goal (he being at this Time upwards of Fifty Years old) if this House will not intefere in his Behalf; the Petitioner therefore prays, that this House will take his unhappy Case into Consideration, and grant him such Relief as to their Wisdom shall seem meet.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

The

1756. June 3. The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he would again take the three Bills under his Conſideration, but he believed that he ſhould not come to any Reſult upon them till after his Return from New-Caſtle.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

June 4. A Petition from Peter Conrad, of the County of Berks, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that the Petitioner is in diſtreſſed Circumſtances, occaſioned by the Indians burning his Mill, &c. and therefore prays this Houſe would grant him Relief in the Premiſes. Ordered to lie on the Table.

Reſolved, That this Houſe will this Day adjourn to the Twenty-eighth Inſtant.

Ordered, That John Smith and William Edmonds wait upon the Governor, and deſire to know whether he has come to any Reſult upon thoſe Bills now before him, and if the Governor ſhould ſay he had not come to any Reſolution upon the ſaid Bills, then to acquaint him, that the Houſe incline to adjourn to the Twenty-eighth Inſtant, if he hath no Objection thereto.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, report, that they had been at the Governor's Houſe, and were there informed that the Governor was gone to New-Caſtle.

James Pemberton, Joſhua Morris, William Callender, William Peters, Peter Worral and Francis Parvin, Members of this Houſe, having requeſted Leave to reſign their Seats, for Reaſons ſet forth in a Paper ſigned by them, which they this Afternoon preſented to the Houſe and read, it was, after ſome Time ſpent in Conſideration thereof, Reſolved, That, if, after the Adjournment of the Houſe, the ſaid Members ſhall continue in the ſame Mind, and deliver the before-mentioned Paper into the Hands of the Speaker, their Seats ſhall be deemed vacated accordingly; and the Speaker ſhall forthwith iſſue his Order to the Provincial Secretary for the electing new Members in their Places.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to the Twenty-eighth Inſtant.

June 28. THE Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

Poſt Meridiem The Speaker informed the Houſe, that James Pemberton, Joſhua Morris, William Callender, William Peters, Peter Worral and Francis Parvin, having, immediately after the Adjournment of the Houſe, delivered to him the ſame Paper which they read at the laſt Sitting, requeſting Leave to reſign their Seats (by which Act of theirs they became diſabled to ſit or ſerve in Aſſembly, in Purſuance of a Vote of the Houſe expreſsly declaring, that upon Performance of the ſaid Act the Seats of the before-mentioned Perſons ſhould be deemed vacated) he had thereupon, according to the Directions of the Houſe, ſent an Order to the Secretary to iſſue Writs to the Sheriff of the City and County of Philadelphia, and to the Sheriffs of the Counties of Cheſter, Lancaſter and Berks, reſpectively, for electing other Perſons to ſerve in Aſſembly, in the Room and Stead of thoſe who reſigned as aforeſaid. But the Secretary refuſing to iſſue the ſaid Writs, the Speaker had, by the Advice of ſuch Members as were in Town, iſſued the Writs himſelf, according to the Direction of the Law in that Caſe made and provided.

Then the Speaker laid before the Houſe the following Papers, viz.

1. The Requeſt of the Six Members to reſign their Seats in Aſſembly.
2. A Copy of the Speaker's Order to the Secretary to iſſue Writs for a new Election.
3. The Secretary's Letter to the Speaker, concerning the Governor's Objections to iſſuing the ſaid Writs.
4. A Copy of the Speaker's Anſwer to the ſaid Letter.
5. The Secretary's Letter in Reply.
6. A Copy of the Speaker's Letter to the Sheriffs, incloſing Writs for a new Election.
7. A Copy of the Speaker's Writs to the Sheriffs for a new Election.

And the foregoing Papers being ſeverally read, were ordered to be put upon the Minutes of this Houſe.

And they accordingly follow in theſe Words, viz.

May it pleaſe the Speaker and the Houſe,

Requeſt of ſix Members to reſign. A FEW Days ſince we communicated to the Houſe our Inclinations to reſign our Seats; in which the Houſe appeared diſpoſed to favour us.

This Repetition of our continuing in thoſe Intentions does not proceed from any Deſign of involving the Houſe in unneceſſary Trouble, but as many of our Conſtituents ſeem of Opinion that the preſent Situation of Public Affairs call upon us for Services in a military Way, which, from a Conviction of Judgment, after mature Deliberation, we cannot comply with, we conclude it moſt conducive to the Peace of our own Minds, and the Reputation of our religious Profeſſion, to perſiſt in our Reſolutions of reſigning our Seats, which we accordingly now do; and requeſt theſe our Reaſons may be entered on the Minutes of the Houſe. 1756. June 28.

Philadelphia, Sixth Month, 1756.

JAMES PEMBERTON,
JOSHUA MORRIS,
WILLIAM CALLENDER,
WILLIAM PETERS,
PETER WORRAL,
FRANCIS PARVIN."

To the Provincial SECRETARY for the Time being.

Speaker's Order to the Secretary.

WHEREAS James Pemberton and Joſhua Morris, choſen to ſerve in Aſſembly for the County of Philadelphia; William Callender, choſen to ſerve in Aſſembly for the City of Philadelphia; William Peters, choſen to ſerve in Aſſembly for the County of Cheſter; Peter Worral, choſen to ſerve in Aſſembly for the County of Lancaſter; and Francis Parvin, choſen to ſerve in Aſſembly for the County of Berks; have each and every of them reſigned and vacated their Seats in this Aſſembly; whereupon I am deſired and impowered by the Houſe of Repreſentatives to iſſue my Order for a new Election of Members to ſerve in Aſſembly in their Room and Stead:

Theſe are therefore, purſuant to the Direction of a Law of this Province, to require thee forthwith to iſſue Writs to the Sheriff of the City and County of Philadelphia, and to the Sheriffs of the Counties of Cheſter, Lancaſter and Berks, reſpectively, for electing other Perſons to ſerve in Aſſembly in their Stead.

June 7, 1756. ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

SIR, Philadelphia, June 9, 1756.

Letter from the Secretary.

AGREEABLE to your Order of Yeſterday, I prepared Writs to the ſeveral Sheriffs for the Election of new Members of Aſſembly to ſerve in the Place and Stead of James Pemberton, Joſhua Morris, William Callender, William Peters, Peter Worral and Francis Parvin, Eſquires, according to the incloſed Form, and laid them, with your Order, before the Governor, in the ſame Manner as I have always done on the Receipt of ſuch Orders; who obſerved, that by the Law of the Fourth Year of Queen ANNE, to aſcertain the Number of Members of Aſſembly, and to regulate Elections, on which he preſumes the Order is founded, and from which all Power in theſe Caſes is derived, Writs to be iſſued, in Conſequence of the Speaker's Order, are expreſsly confined to the particular Caſes of Death, wilful Abſence, or a Vote of the Houſe diſabling a Member to ſit or ſerve in Aſſembly, and that the Caſe of Reſignation aſſigned in your Order for a new Election is not taken Notice of, or provided for by that Act, and therefore he could not think it right to ſign thoſe Writs; of which I think it my Duty to give you this Information: And am,

Sir, your moſt obedient humble Servant,
RICHARD PETERS, Provincial Secretary."

Speaker's Letter to the Secretary.

BY a Paper in my Poſſeſſion, ſigned by all the Members who have vacated their Seats in Aſſembly, the Houſe, upon conſulting the Precedents upon their Minutes, and the Law of the Fourth of Queen ANNE, reſolved, that if thoſe Members ſhould, after the riſing of the Houſe, ſtill continue their Reſolution of attending the Service of the Country no longer, and ſignify that Reſolution by leaving the Paper which they preſented, and was read in the Houſe, then the Speaker ſhould iſſue his Order for a new Election. —I have deſired the Sheriff to procure this Reſolve of the Houſe from the Clerk, which he will deliver herewith. I hope this Explanation may be ſatisfactory to the Governor, and that the Writs may iſſue as the Law directs, in Purſuance of the Order I have given by the Authority and Direction of the Houſe.

June 10, 1756. I am your aſſured Friend,
To Richard Peters, Eſq; ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

SIR, Philadelphia, June 11, 1756.

Secretary's Letter to the Speaker.

I LAID your Letter, delivered me by the Sheriff, and the Extract from the Minutes of the Houſe, before the Governor, who, after conſidering them, hath deſired me to let you know, that your Explanation of the Manner in which the Members therein mentioned are ſaid to have reſigned and vacated their Seats in Aſſembly, fails of giving him that Satisfaction on the Occaſion you ſeem to expect. He is ſtill of Opinion, that the Caſe of Reſignation is not provided for by the Act of the Fourth of Queen ANNE; and that as the Six Members did ſit and vote in the Houſe at the Time of Adjournment, he does not conceive that any Act done in the Receſs of the Houſe can vacate their Seats, or diſqualify them from ſitting in Aſſembly at the next Meeting. I am,

Sir, your moſt obedient humble Servant,
To Iſaac Norris, Eſq; RICHARD PETERS."

Speaker's Letter to the Sheriffs.

THE Provincial Secretary not complying with my Order to him, according to the Direction of the Act of the Fourth of Queen ANNE, entituled, An Act to aſcertain 1756. June 28. the Number of Members of Assembly, and to regulate the Elections, I do now issue the inclosed Writ, in Pursuance of the said Act.

ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

The Honourable ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS, Esq; Lieutenant Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of Pennsylvania, and Counties of New-Castle, Kent and Sussex, on Delaware, Writ to the Sheriff for a new Election.

WHEREAS James Pemberton and Joshua Morris, Esquires, chosen to serve in Assembly for the County of Philadelphia; and William Callender, Esq; chosen to serve in Assembly for the City of Philadelphia, have each and every of them resigned, and by the Authority of the House of Representatives vacated their Seats in the Assembly; these are therefore to authorize and require thee to cause two Freeholders to be elected according to Law, to serve in Assembly for the said County of Philadelphia, in the Room and Stead of the said James Pemberton and Joshua Morris, and one other Freeholder, to serve in Assembly for the said City of Philadelphia, in the Room of the said William Callender, and make Return thereof according to Law. Given under my Hand and Seal, at Philadelphia, the Fifteenth Day of June, in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty-six, and in the Twenty-ninth Year of his Majesty's Reign.

To James Coultas, Esq; ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

A Return of the Sheriff of the City and County of Philadelphia was brought to the House, whereby it appeared that Thomas Leech and Daniel Roberdeau were chosen Representatives to serve in Assembly for the said County the Remainder of the present Year, in the Room and Stead of James Pemberton and Joshua Morris; and that William Masters was chosen Representative to serve in Assembly for the said City, the Residue of the present Year, in the Room and Stead of William Callender.

A Return of the Sheriff of the County of Chester was brought to the House, by which it appeared, that John Morton was chosen Representative to serve in Assembly for the said County, in the Room and Stead of William Peters.

A Return of the Sheriff of the County of Lancaster was brought to the House, by which it appeared, that Emanuel Carpenter was chosen Representative to serve in Assembly for the said County, in the Room and Stead of Peter Worral.

A Return of the Sheriff of the County of Berks was brought to the House, whereby it appeared, that John Potts was chosen Representative to serve in Assembly for the said County, in the Room and Stead of Francis Parvin.

The House taking the said Papers and Returns into Consideration,

Resolved, N. C. D. That the said Thomas Leech, Daniel Roberdeau, William Masters, John Morton, Emanuel Carpenter and John Potts are duly elected Members of this House.

Ordered, That Joseph Hamton and Calvin Cooper wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the House are met, pursuant to their Adjournment, and ready to receive any Thing he may have to lay before them.

Adjournment June 29. Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Message of the House, report, that they had delivered the same according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to ask how many Members there were met in the House; and upon being informed that there were Thirty-one, he said that he should lay something before the House this Morning.

Thomas Leech, Daniel Roberdeau, William Masters, John Morton and Emanuel Carpenter appearing in the House, took and subscribed the usual Qualification by Law appointed to be taken by the Members of Assembly, and then took their Seats in the House accordingly.

Sundry Letters from the Agents were read; also a Bill of Exchange for Three Hundred Pounds Sterling, drawn by them on the Committee of Correspondence, for public Services to be accounted for by them hereafter;

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down to the House a Message in Writing, with sundry Papers therein referred to, which were read, and the Message is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'HIS Majesty having been pleased to appoint the Earl of Loudon Commander in Chief of all his Forces in North-America, and ordered two Regiments of Foot, a Train of Artillery, and a sufficient Quantity of Warlike Stores for the Service and Defence of these Colonies, he has commanded me to give his Lordship and the Troops all

'all the Assistance in my Power, and particularly to recommend it to you, to appro- 1756.
'prietate such Part of the Funds already raised, or which shall be raised for the Public June 29.
'Service, to be issued and applied to the general Service, in such Manner as the Com'mander in Chief shall direct.

'His Majesty, enabled by Act of Parliament, has been pleased to appoint a Number 'of German, Swiss and Dutch Protestants to be Officers of a Regiment which he has 'called the Royal American Regiment; and it being of great Importance to his Majesty's 'Service that proper Encouragement be given to such Persons as may be inclined to in-'list in the King's Troops, he has ordered me particularly to recommend it to you to 'make Provision out of such Funds as already exist, or may hereafter be raised for the 'King's Service, for repaying the Masters of such indented Servants as shall engage in 'his Majesty's Service, the Money paid by the said Masters upon the original Contract, 'in Proportion to the Time such indented Servants have to serve.

'His Majesty has further commanded me to recommend it to you, to pass effectual 'Laws for prohibiting all Trade and Commerce with the French, and to prevent their 'being supplied with Provisions; and as the Law lately passed here for an Embargo will, 'by the Expiration of the Act for that Purpose passed in the Lower Counties, end on 'the Seventh of July, I hope you will prepare a proper Bill for continuing an Embargo, 'so necessary for his Majesty's Service, and the Safety of these Colonies, for some Time 'longer.

'The Secretary will lay before you Extracts of the Secretary of State's Letters to me, 'relating to the Matters now recommended, and I hope you will without Delay enter 'upon the Consideration of them, and comply with his Majesty's Expectations.

'The Money heretofore given for the King's Use will be very soon expended, and I 'shall in that Case be under a Necessity of disbanding the Troops raised for the Defence 'of the Province, and of destroying or abandoning the several Forts erected upon our 'Frontiers; I must therefore desire you will grant such further Supplies as the present 'Situation of our Affairs require.

Philadelphia, June 29, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Governor's Message was again read, and considered, and, after some Time spent Post Meridiem therein, Ordered, That Joseph Stretch, William Masters, Mahlon Kirkbride, Joseph Gibbons, James Wright, John Wright, John Smith and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Answer to that Part of the Governor's Message which relates to the Continuation of the Embargo on Provisions.

The Bill for granting the Sum of Pounds to the King's Use, and for striking the said Sum in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for sinking the same, which was brought in at the last Sitting, was again taken up, read the second time, and considered; and after some Time spent therein, was referred to farther Consideration.

Ordered, That William Hoge and George Ashbridge wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the House desire to know whether he has come to any Result upon the three Bills now before him.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

John Potts, returned a Representative for the County of Berks, in the Room of Francis June 30. Parvin, appearing in the House, took and subscribed the Qualification by Law appointed to be taken by Members of Assembly, and then took his Seat in the House accordingly.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor, report, that they had delivered the Message of the House according to Order, and that the Governor was pleased to say, that be thought the Bill for continuing the Excise Act, and the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade, had been returned to the House Yesterday; but since they were not, he should send them down to the House this Day; and as to the Watch and Lamp Bill, he had made some Amendments thereto, which he had referred to his Council for their Consideration, who had not as yet come to any Conclusion thereupon.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Answer to that Part of the Governor's Message which relates to the Embargo on Provisions, reported the same to the House; and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed, that it may be sent up to the Governor.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down to the House the Bill for continuing the Excise Act, with sundry proposed Amendments thereto, and the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade, together with a Message in Writing, and a Copy of an Instruction from the Proprietaries.

And the said Message and Instruction being read, are as follow, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'THE Secretary will lay before you the Bill, entituled, An Act for the continuing an 'Act for laying an Excise on Wine, Rum, Brandy, and other Spirits, to which I have 'added

1756. June 30.

'added a Clauſe, that the Money ariſing thereby ſhall be diſpoſed of in ſuch Manner as 'the Governor and Commander in Chief, and in Caſe of his Death or Abſence, the 'Preſident of the Council, and the Houſe of Repreſentatives ſhall direct and appoint.— 'This Manner of diſpoſing of the Public Money appears to me moſt conducive to the 'general Intereſt, and you will obſerve by an Article in the Proprietary Inſtructions to 'me, which I ſend you herewith, that I am reſtrained from paſſing any Bill of that Na- 'ture without ſuch an appropriating Clauſe.

'I have reconſidered the Bill, entituled, An Act for ſupplying the Weſtern and North- 'ern Indians, Friends and Allies of Great-Britain, with Goods at more eaſy Rates, ſupport- 'ing an Agent or Agents among them, and preventing Abuſes in the Indian Trade, and the 'Amendments I heretofore made to it, and am ſtill of Opinion that they are juſt and 'reaſonable; and I cannot therefore recede from them.

Philadelphia, June 30, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

An INSTRUCTION from the Honourable THOMAS PENN and RICHARD PENN, Eſquires, true and abſolute Proprietaries, and Governors in Chief of the Province of Pennſylvania, and Counties of New-Caſtle, Kent and Suſſex, on Delaware,

To ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS, Eſq; Lieutenant-Governor of the ſaid Province and Counties.

An Article of the Proprietaries Inſtructions to the Governor.

'YOU ſhall not give your Aſſent to any Law for prolonging the preſent Exciſe, or 'laying any other Exciſe, or raiſing any Money on the Inhabitants of the ſaid Pro- 'vince of Pennſylvania, unleſs there be an enacting Clauſe, that all Money ariſing from 'the ſaid Exciſe, or other Duties, ſhall be diſpoſed of only as we, or either of us, exer- 'ciſing the Office of Governor, or the Lieutenant Governor, or in Caſe of his Death or 'Abſence, the Preſident of the Council, and the Houſe of Repreſentatives, for the Time 'being, ſhall direct, and not otherwiſe."

A true Copy, examined with the Original, by RICHARD PETERS, Secretary.

The Governor's propoſed Amendments to the Bill for continuing the Exciſe Act were read, and conſidered, and referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

IN Anſwer to that Part of the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-ninth Inſtant, wherein he has been pleaſed to ſignify his Majeſty's Commands that he ſhould recommend our "paſſing effectual Laws for prohibiting all Trade and Commerce with the "French, and to prevent their being ſupplied with Proviſions," the Governor muſt know, that at the Requeſt of Sir Charles Hardy, and in Purſuance of his own Recommendation, in a Meſſage of the Twenty-third of May laſt, we paſſed an Act for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores from this Province, which is yet in Force, and would have continued ſo till the Fourth of Auguſt next, the Time limited by the Law of New-York for like Purpoſes, provided the Three Lower Counties of New-Caſtle, Kent and Suſſex had paſſed a Law for prohibiting the Exportation from thence during the ſame Term.

As Proviſions might be exported from this Province through thoſe Counties, not ſubject to our Laws, and great Quantities are raiſed there, we were fully apprized that any Reſtraints we could lay upon our Exportations here would by no Means put a Stop to the Supplying the French with Proviſions, unleſs that Government prohibited the Exportations from thence alſo; we therefore limited the Continuance of our Act accordingly, and we muſt own the Aſtoniſhment we were under, when we found the Governor had enacted a Law there invalidating the Acts of the other Colonies, by limiting the Continuance of their Act to one Month only.

As our Act prohibits the Exportation of Proviſions in Conformity with the Law of New-York Colony, with which New-Jerſey, we underſtand, has alſo complied, the Governor cannot think it reaſonable, that the Colonies of New-York, New-Jerſey, and this Province, ſhould be deprived of their Laws by an Act of the Government of the Three Lower Counties; therefore as that Act was paſſed by the Governor himſelf, we preſume, inſtead of applying to us upon this Occaſion, he will think it his Duty to call the Aſſembly of the Three Lower Counties, to whom it belongs to continue their Law to the Time limited by the other Governments.

It is well known that Maryland raiſes great Quantities of Wheat, Pork, and other Proviſions, and yet, as we are informed, their Ports have hitherto continued open to the Exports of Proviſions from thence, the Governor will therefore judge the Neceſſity of recommending

recommending a Prohibition there, without which, we apprehend the Acts of the Northern and Eastern Colonies must prove ineffectual." 1756. June 30.

And the foregoing Message being signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House;

Ordered, That Griffith Owen and Samuel Brown wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same.

The Speaker laid before the House a Letter he had just received from a Merchant of the City of Philadelphia, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

SIR, Philadelphia, June 30, 1756.

Letter from J. Bell to the Speaker.

IN Consequence of my Orders from the Contractor to supply his Majesty's Troops and Garrisons in Newfoundland, I have chartered and loaded the Brigantine Princess Louisa, of this Place, with Provisions for the Use of Colonel Hopson's Regiment, and the Detachments of the Train of Artillery there, on which Provisions they depend, and have no other Expectations of being supplied; but finding the Collector of his Majesty's Customs had not Authority to admit this Vessel to a Clearance, though loaded entirely for the Use of the King's Troops, of which I am ready to give any Proof or Satisfaction that may be required, I applied to the Governor, and prayed for an Order that the Vessel might be cleared, and received for Answer, "That the Governor had laid my Application "before the Council, and the Board, in considering the Act lately passed, was unanimously of "Opinion, that no such Order could legally issue."

I have supplied the above-mentioned Troops with Provisions from hence these Six Years past, and being just come in from London, I did not know of any Act prohibiting the Exportation of Provisions for the Use of his Majesty's Troops in any Part of his Dominions, nor was I informed of it by any Person before the Vessel was ready to clear at the Custom-house: As she has been loaded some Time, the Cargo may sustain considerable Damage by a much longer Delay. I must therefore beg you will lay this Matter before the Honourable House of Assembly, who, I doubt not, will take the Affair into their Consideration, and extend the Law so as his Majesty's Service may not suffer, which, without Doubt, was their Intention when the Act was made.

As I am unacquainted with the Form of proceeding in such Cases, I hope you will excuse the Freedom of this Application: And believe me, very sincerely,

Sir, your most obedient, and most humble Servant,

To Isaac Norris, Esq; JOHN BELL."

And a Member of this House likewise represented and shewed to the House, by sundry Letters and Papers, that he had Orders from the Contractor for supplying his Majesty's Navy at Jamaica with Provisions, to ship a Quantity there for that Purpose; which he had accordingly done, and the Vessel had for some Time been ready for sailing, but the Governor had ordered the Collector not to clear her out, by Reason, as he said, that he and his Council were of Opinion, that the late Act for the more effectual obstructing the Exportation of Provisions and Warlike Stores, prohibited the same.

The Act for the more effectual obstructing the Exportation of Provisions, &c. being read, and considered,

Resolved, That the said Act is of the same Tenor with the Act of the Government of New-York, and was never intended in any wise to restrain the Exportation of Provisions for the Supplying his Majesty's Navy, or Garrisons abroad, and cannot, in our Opinion, be so understood but by the most forced Construction thereof.

Resolved, That to prevent any ill Consequences that may arise from such Interpretation of the said Act, a Bill be immediately prepared at the Table for permitting the Exportation of Provisions, Naval or Warlike Stores, for the Use of his Majesty's Ships or Garrisons.

A Bill, entituled, A Supplementary Act to a Law of this Province, entituled, An Act for the more effectual obstructing the Exportation of Provisions and Warlike Stores from the Province of Pennsylvania, being prepared at the Table, according to the Order of the House, was read the first time, and ordered a second Reading.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Message of the House return, and report, that they had delivered the same according to Order.

The House resuming the Consideration of the Bill for granting the Sum of Pounds to the King's Use, and for striking the said Sum in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for sinking the same;

Resolved, That the Sum of Forty Thousand Pounds be inserted in the said Bill as granted to the King's Use at this Time.——And the same was done accordingly.

After some further Time spent in Consideration of the said Bill, and sundry Alterations made therein, the same was referred to farther Consideration.

One of the Commiſſioners for diſpoſing of the Sixty Thouſand Pounds granted to the King's Uſe by Act of Aſſembly, laid before the Houſe a Letter which they had received from Richard Hockley, one of the Proprietaries Receivers General; and the ſame being read, is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN, Philadelphia, July 1, 1756.

HAVING been informed that the Money remaining due to you upon the Proprietaries Order for Five Thouſand Pounds will ſoon be wanted to anſwer the Public Service, I think it my Duty to let you know, that notwithſtanding all my Care and Diligence to collect in the Arrears of Quitrent, I am not able to diſcharge the remaining Sum of Four Thouſand Pounds due on that Order, but ſhall uſe my beſt Endeavours to collect it as ſoon as poſſible; and in the mean Time, if that Sum could be ſtruck in Bills of Credit, to anſwer the preſent Service, they may be ſunk out of the Payments to be made from my Office upon that Order. I have conſulted the Governor upon this Head, who declares his Readineſs to concur with the Houſe of Aſſembly in a reaſonable Bill for that Purpoſe; And if you, Gentlemen, with whom the Diſpoſition of this Money is intruſted, will do me the Favour to propoſe the Thing to the Houſe, you will oblige,

To Iſaac Norris, James Hamilton, &c. Commiſſioners for diſpoſing of the 60,000 Pounds.

Gentlemen, your moſt obedient humble Servant,

RICHARD HOCKLEY."

And the Houſe taking the ſame into Conſideration,

Ordered, That the ſaid Richard Hockley have Leave to bring in a Bill for the Purpoſes mentioned in the foregoing Letter to the Commiſſioners.

The Supplementary Bill to a Law of this Province, entituled, An Act for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores, &c. was read the ſecond time, and ordered a third Reading.

The Houſe again reſumed the Conſideration of the Bill for granting Forty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe; and after ſome Time ſpent therein, the ſame was referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Committee of Accounts reported on James Wright's Account, that they had examined the ſame, and were of Opinion, that a Balance of Thirty-nine Pounds Five Shillings and Five-pence Halfpenny was due to him from the Province, and ought to be paid by this Houſe.——To which Report the Houſe agreed; and an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treaſurer, and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, for Payment of the ſame.

The Committee of Accounts reported on John Clark's Account, that they had examined the ſame, and were of Opinion, that Five Shillings and Six-pence per Week was a ſufficient Charge for the Maintenance of Peter Griſlener, which, with the Turnkey's Fees, would amount to One Pound Eighteen Shillings and Four-pence.—And the Houſe agreeing to the ſaid Report, an Order was drawn on the Treaſurer, and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, for Payment of the ſame.

The Bill, entituled, A Supplementary Act to a Law of this Province, entituled, An Act for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores from the Province of Pennſylvania, being tranſcribed, was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch and Daniel Roberdeau do carry up the ſame to the Governor for his Concurrence.

The Houſe reſuming the Conſideration of the Governor's Meſſage of the Thirtieth of June, and the Proprietary Inſtruction ſent therewith, and his propoſed Amendments to the Bill, entituled, An Act for continuing an Act, entituled, An Act for laying an Exciſe on Wine, Rum, Brandy, and other Spirits; and alſo reconſidering the Meſſages between the Governor and Aſſembly, and the other Papers and Tranſactions during the laſt Year, in regard to the ſeveral Bills preſented to the Governor for granting Money to the King's Uſe;

Uſe; after ſome conſiderable Time ſpent therein, the Houſe came to the following unanimous Reſolutions, viz. 1756. July 1.

Reſolved, That it is the Opinion of this Houſe, that the ſaid Proprietary Inſtruction was the principal, if not the only, Obſtruction to the Paſſing the ſeveral Bills offered to the Governor by the laſt Aſſembly for granting Money for the King's Uſe.

Reſolved, That the Act for laying an Exciſe on Wine, Rum, Brandy, and other Spirits, paſſed in the Year 1744; and the Act granting Five Thouſand Pounds for the King's Uſe, paſſed the 24th of June, 1746, by which the ſaid Act for laying an Exciſe on Wine, Rum, Brandy, and other Spirits, was continued for Ten Years next after the firſt Day of June, 1746, have received the Royal Approbation.

Reſolved, That Acts laying an Exciſe on ſpirituous Liquors have been found neceſſary for defraying the Charges of Government, and have been continued within this Province for more than Thirty Years; and that the Governor's not paſſing the Bill preſented to him for continuing the Exciſe, upon the Terms of all our former Acts, repeatedly approved of by the Crown, from an Apprehenſion that he is reſtrained by the ſaid Proprietary Inſtruction, is evaſive and frivolous, and an Infringement of our juſt Rights; and that as Deputy Governor of this Province, he has, or ought to have, full Powers to give his Aſſent to all ſuch Bills as we have an undoubted Right to offer.

Reſolved, That the ſaid Inſtruction "is not calculated to promote the Happineſs and "Proſperity of this Province, and is inconſiſtent with the Prerogative of the Crown, and "the Liberties of the People;" and that all Proprietary Inſtructions, not warranted by the Laws of Great-Britain, are illegal and void in themſelves: Nevertheleſs, if the Governor ſhould apprehend himſelf bound by ſuch Proprietary Inſtructions, they may prove ruinous to the Province, and of dangerous Conſequence to the Britiſh Intereſt in America.

Reſolved, That the Houſe do adhere to the Bill for continuing the Act for laying an Exciſe on Wine, Rum, Brandy, and other Spirits, as it now ſtands, without admitting the Governor's propoſed Amendments thereto.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down the Bill for regulating and continuing the Nightly Watch, and enlightening the Streets, Lanes and Alleys of the City of Philadelphia, and for raiſing of Money on the Inhabitants and Eſtates of the ſaid City for defraying the neceſſary Expences thereof, with a verbal Meſſage, that he receded from his propoſed Amendments to the ſaid Bill, and was ready to paſs the ſame into a Law, whenever the Houſe ſhould preſent it to him for that Purpoſe.

Ordered, That the ſaid Bill be engroſſed.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Supplementary Bill to the Act for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores, report, that they had delivered the ſame, according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he would give it all the Diſpatch in his Power.

A Bill for the further continuing an Act, entituled, "An Act to prevent the Exportation of Proviſions, Naval or Warlike Stores, from this Province to Cape-Breton, or "to any other the Dominions of the French King, or Places at preſent in Poſſeſſion of "any of his Subjects," was prepared at the Table, by Order of the Houſe read the firſt time, and ordered a ſecond Reading.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

Ordered, That Joſeph James and David M'Connaughy wait upon the Governor, and deliver the Bill for continuing the Act for laying an Exciſe on Wine, Rum, Brandy, and other Spirits, together with a certified Copy of the Reſolves of the Houſe thereupon; and acquaint the Governor, that the Houſe requeſt he would be pleaſed to reconſider the ſaid Bill, and let them know his final Reſult thereupon as ſoon as poſſible. July 2.

The Bill for the further continuing the Act to prevent the Exportation of Proviſions, Naval or Warlike Stores to Cape-Breton, &c. was read the ſecond time, and ordered to be tranſcribed for a third Reading.

The Petition from Joſeph Yeates, now in the Goal of the County of Philadelphia, was again read, and conſidered, and referred to farther Conſideration.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Poſt Meridiem

The Bill, entituled, An Act for the further continuing an Act, entituled, "An Act to "prevent the Exportation of Proviſions, Naval or Warlike Stores from this Province to "Cape-Breton, or to any other the Dominions of the French King, or Places at preſent "in Poſſeſſion of any of his Subjects," being tranſcribed, was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

Ordered, That Joſeph James and David M'Connaughy do carry up the ſame to the Governor for his Concurrence; and, beſides delivering the Bill and Meſſage they were charged with this Morning, acquaint the Governor, that the Houſe deſire to know if he has come to any Reſult upon the Supplementary Bill to the Act for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he had read the Supplementary Bill to

the

1756. July 2. the Act for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores, but had not conſidered it: Upon which the Members informed the Governor, that the Reaſon why the Houſe were ſo anxious to have the ſaid Bill paſſed, was, becauſe they underſtood that there were ſome Veſſels now in this Harbour, laden with Proviſions for his Majeſty's Fleet in the Weſt-Indies, and for his Garriſons in Newfoundland, ready to ſail, but could not obtain a Clearance, as the Law for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions from this Province had been interpreted by the Governor and Council to prohibit the ſame. To which the Governor replied, that in Caſe the Legiſlature of the Three Lower Counties did not paſs an Act to continue the Embargo, the ſame would expire in a few Days, and then there would be no Neceſſity for the ſaid Supplementary Act; and if the Embargo Act of the Three Lower Counties ſhould be continued, he would have it in his Power to permit Veſſels laden with Proviſions or Stores for his Majeſty's Service to ſail at any Time, by the Bill which the Houſe had ſent him for that Purpoſe.

The Bill for granting the Sum of Forty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and for ſtriking the ſaid Sum in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for ſinking the ſame, being read the ſecond time, was ordered to be tranſcribed for a third Reading.

A Bill for ſtriking the Sum of Four Thouſand Pounds in Bills of Credit, to be replaced by the Receiver General, was brought in, purſuant to the Leave of the Houſe read the firſt time, and ordered a ſecond Reading.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

July 3. Ordered, That William Hoge and John Potts have Leave to be abſent the Remainder of this Sitting on urgent Buſineſs.

The Bill for ſtriking the Sum of Four Thouſand Pounds in Bills of Credit, to be replaced by the Receiver General, was read the ſecond time, and debated; and, after a conſiderable Time ſpent therein, the ſame was referred to Joſeph Stretch and John Hughes, to be by them altered and amended, agreeable to the Sentiments of the Houſe thereupon.

The following Letter from one of the Proprietaries to their Receivers General was laid before the Houſe and read, viz.

GENTLEMEN, London, October 4, 1755.

Proprietor's Letter to the R. General. I HAVING acquainted Robert Hunter Morris, Eſq; by Letter of this Date, that on the preſent dangerous Situation of our Affairs in America, I thought it proper we ſhould ſhew our Readineſs to contribute towards the Public Charge, have reſolved to make a free Gift of the Sum of Five Thouſand Pounds Money of Pennſylvania, to be paid out of our Arrears of Quitrent; which Sum, I deſire you, will pay out of the ſaid Arrears, to ſuch Perſon or Perſons as ſhall be appointed by the Governor and Aſſembly to receive the ſame, and place to the Account of Charges. To the REPRESENTATIVES of the FREEMEN of the Province of Pennſylvania, in GENERAL ASSEMBLY met, July 2, 1756.

AS we are informed, a Sum of Paper Currency is propoſed to be ſpeedily emitted; and knowing the good Diſpoſition of the late Aſſemblies towards eſtabliſhing the Pennſylvania Hoſpital; and as the Fund for erecting the ſame is expended, and the Building unfiniſhed, We, whoſe Names are under-written, deſire to be nominated and appointed Signers of the ſaid Currency; and whatſoever Sum you ſhall pleaſe to allow for our Service therein, ſhall wholly be applied towards finiſhing the ſaid Hoſpital.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

A Petition from George Hambleton, of the County of Cumberland, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that in June 1755, Captain Ord, of the Royal Train of Artillery, paſſed through the ſaid County to the Army, under the Command of the late

General

General Braddock, and being informed that the said Army had marched from Wills's Creek towards Monongahela, he impressed fourteen Horses belonging to the Petitioner and his Neighbours, as appears by the Captain's Certificate, and other Vouchers herewith produced; that at the Time of impressing, and at the Little-Meadows, where the Horses were discharged, the said Captain assured the Petitioner, that this was a Provincial Charge, and that the Government of Pennsylvania would pay it on seeing his Certificate; that the Petitioner relying on this, applied to Governor Morris, when at Carlisle, for Payment thereof, and did not then understand that any other Objection was made to the Application, than that the Proofs then produced were not sufficient, the Petitioner therefore, having procured further Proofs, which he hopes will be sufficient humbly prays that this House would examine them, and be pleased to order him Payment. 1756. July 3.

Ordered, That the said Petition and Account, with the Vouchers, be referred to the Committee of Accounts.

The Bill, entituled, An Act for granting the Sum of Forty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, and for striking the said Sum in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for sinking the same, being transcribed, was read the third time.

Resolved, That the Bill do pass.

Ordered, That John Morton and John Wright do carry up the same to the Governor for his Concurrence.

The Committee to whom the Bill for striking the Sum of Four Thousand Pounds in Bills of Credit, to be replaced by the Receiver General, was referred for Amendment, reported the same to the House, with sundry Alterations they had made therein, the Principal of which were in the Title and Preamble.

And the original Title and Preamble to the said Bill, with the Title and Preamble proposed by the Committee, were read, and are as follow, viz.

Original Title and Preamble to the Bill for striking 4,000 £. &c.

'An Act for striking the Sum of Four Thousand Pounds in Bills of Credit, to be replaced by the Receiver General.

'Whereas the Honourable the Proprietaries of this Province have been pleased to make 'a free Gift of the Sum of Five Thousand Pounds, to be applied towards the Public 'Charge; and by their Order, dated the Fourth Day of October last, did direct their 'Receiver General, in this Province, to pay the said Sum, out of the Arrears of Quit-'rent due to them, to such Persons as should be appointed by the Governor and Assembly 'to receive the same: And whereas, by an Act of General Assembly of this Province, 'passed at Philadelphia in the Twenty-ninth Year of his Majesty's Reign, entituled, An 'Act for granting the Sum of Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, and for striking 'Fifty-five Thousand Pounds thereof in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for sinking 'the same, among other Things it was enacted, that the said Sum of Five Thousand 'Pounds should, immediately after the Publication of the said Act, be paid by the Re-'ceiver General into the Hands of Isaac Norris, James Hamilton, John Mifflin and Ben-'jamin Franklin, Esquires, and Joseph Fox, John Hughes and Evan Morgan, Gentle-'men, to be disposed of by them, or the major Part or Survivors of them, with the Con-'sent and Approbation of the Governor or Commander in Chief of this Province for 'the Time being, and not otherwise. And whereas the Receiver General hath not yet 'been able to pay to the said Persons more than the Sum of One Thousand Pounds, in Part 'of the said Order; to the End therefore, that the good Intentions of the Proprietaries 'in the said Gift may be fully answered, and the Public may receive the immediate Be-'nefit thereof, Be it enacted, &c.

The Title and Preamble as altered by the House.

'An Act for striking the Sum of Four Thousand Pounds in Bills of Credit, and to pro-'vide for sinking the same by yearly Payments, to be made by the Proprietary's Receiver Ge-'neral, to the Trustees of the General Loan-Office of this Province, for that Purpose.

'Whereas the Honourable Proprietaries of this Province have been pleased to make a 'free Gift of the Sum of Five Thousand Pounds, to be applied towards the public Charge, 'in Consideration of being exempted from the Payment of their Taxes towards raising 'the Sum of Sixty Thousand Pounds, granted by this Assembly to the King's Use. And the latter Title and Preamble being approved of, and agreed to by the Houſe, the ſaid Bill was read the ſecond time, and ordered to be tranſcribed for a third Reading.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to next Second-day, at Eleven o'Clock in the Morning.

July 5. The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Bill for granting Forty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he ſhould give it all the Diſpatch in his Power; but that he could not ſay when the Houſe might expect to know his Reſult thereupon, as he was this Day going to New-Caſtle, in order to meet the Aſſembly of the Three Lower Counties.

The Bill entituled, An Act for ſtriking the Sum of Four Thouſand Pounds in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for ſinking the ſame, by yearly Payments to be made by the Proprietaries Receiver General to the Truſtees of the General Loan-Office of this Province for that Purpoſe, being tranſcribed, was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

Ordered, That Derrick Hogeland and William Edmonds do carry up the ſame to the Governor for his Concurrence, and acquaint him that the Houſe deſire to know whether he will paſs into a Law the Bill that has received his Aſſent, and if he will let the Houſe know his Reſult upon the Bills under his Conſideration before he goes to New-Caſtle.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, with a Paper containing ſome Indian Intelligence from Northampton County, which were read, and the Meſſage is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly. ‘ THE Secretary will lay before you a Copy of the Intelligence of Nicodemus and ‘ Joe Piepe, two Indians that lately came to Bethlehem from the Place called Diahoga, ‘ upon the Suſquehanna, by which you will ſee that the Weſtern Indians were forming ‘ themſelves into a Body, with an Intention to attack this Province about the Time of ‘ Harveſt. This Intelligence I received on Saturday, and have diſpatched Orders to the ‘ Forces to be upon their Guard, and directed them to be thrown into ſuch a Diſpoſition ‘ as would moſt effectually aſſiſt and protect the People in their Harveſt. If upon Con- ‘ ſideration of this Matter any other Meaſures are neceſſary for the Public Safety, you ‘ will enable me to take them.

Philadelphia, July 5, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS.”

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor, with the Meſſage of the Houſe, return, and report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he did not know of any Bill that was ready to be paſſed into a Law: That the Members thereupon informed him, that the Bill for regulateing the Watch, and enlightening the Streets of the City, had met with his Approbation, and was ordered to be engroſſed, that it might be enacted. To which the Governor replied, that the Houſe had not ſent him any Meſſage to acquaint him of their having agreed to his propoſed Amendments to the ſaid Bill, but that he was ready to paſs into Laws any Bills that were duly prepared for that Purpoſe.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Committee of Accounts made the following Report in Writing, viz.

JOSEPH FOX, JOSEPH STRETCH, RICHARD PEARNE."

Reſolved, That the foregoing Accounts be allowed by this Houſe.

And an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treaſurer, and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, for Payment of the ſame to Joſeph Armſtrong, Repreſentative for the County of Cumberland, to be by him paid to the reſpective Perſons above-mentioned.

An Order was likewiſe drawn on the Treaſurer, and ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, for Three Pounds Sixteen Shillings and Six-pence, payable to the ſaid Joſeph Armſtrong, for John Cox, of Cumberland County, being the Balance of his Account for Services done on the Ohio Road.

Ordered, That Mahlon Kirkbride and James Wright wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe are of Opinion, that the Supplementary Bill to the Act for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores, which has lain for ſome Time before the Governor for his Concurrence, is a Bill of great Importance to the Supplying his Majeſty's Ships and Forces with Proviſions; and alſo that the Bill for granting Forty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, now before the Governor, will, if he paſſes it, ſufficiently enable him to take any Meaſures that may be neceſſary on Account of the Intelligence he has received from Joe Piepe and Nicodemus.

The Gentlemen return, and report, they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he thought there was no immediate Neceſſity for paſſing the Supplementary Bill to the Act for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores, as in caſe the Aſſembly of the Three Lower Counties ſhould not continue their Act for laying an Embargo, all the Ports would of Courſe be open in a Day or two; and if they ſhould prolong the ſaid Act, and this Houſe would ſend him a Meſſage, expreſſing their Sentiments concerning the given Liberty to Veſſels laden with Proviſions and Stores for his Majeſty's Service to ſail from this Port, he ſhould think himſelf impowered to let them paſs, notwithſtanding the Embargo; for that the Reaſon why he had not permitted ſuch Veſſels to clear out hitherto, was, becauſe he thought it a dangerous Precedent for one Branch of the Legiſlature to diſpenſe with an Act of both: And that as to the Bill for granting Forty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, he had not read it through, but he thought it ſtood in Need of Amendment, as did ſome of the other Bills lying before him.

The Gentlemen likewiſe reported, that upon the Governor's informing them that he was juſt then going to ſet off for New-Caſtle, to meet the Aſſembly there, they acquainted him, that as it would be extremely inconvenient to the Country Members to ſit together till his Return, the Time of Harveſt being now near at Hand, and as there was no Buſineſs of Importance but what lay before the Governor, the Houſe had Thoughts of adjourning this Day to the Second Day of the next Month, by which Time they were in Hopes the Harveſt would be nearly over; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he had no Objection to their adjourning over the Harveſt, and that he approved of the Time propoſed.

Reſolved, That any ill Conſequences that may attend the Governor's not paſſing the Bill, entituled, A Supplementary Act to a Law of this Province, entituled, "An Act for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores from the Province of Pennſylvania," which provides for the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores for the King's Garriſons and Ships abroad, will not lie at the Door of this Houſe.

Then the Houſe adjourned to the Second Day of the next Month, called Auguſt. Adjournment

THE Repreſentatives of the Province having been, by Virtue of the Governor's Writs to the Sheriffs of the ſeveral Counties for that Purpoſe directed, ſummoned to meet him this Day in Aſſembly, the Houſe met accordingly. July 19. Poſt Meridiem

The Speaker laid before the Houſe a Copy of one of the Writs whereby the Houſe were ſummoned, which he had received from the Secretary for that Purpoſe; and the ſame being read, was ordered to lie on the Table for the Peruſal of the Members.

Ordered, That Joſeph Stretch and Daniel Roberdeau wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe are met in Purſuance of his Writs, and ready to receive any Thing he may have to lay before them.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to deliver them a Meſſage in Writing, with ſundry Papers therein referred to, and others relating to Public Affairs.

And

1756. July 19.

And the ſame being read, the Meſſage is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'AT your Inſtance I called the Aſſembly of the Lower Counties, and preſſed them to continue the Prohibition of Proviſions and Warlike Stores to the Time limited by the Laws of New-York and Jerſey, but they choſe only to continue it till the Twentieth Inſtant, and from thence for ſo long Time as the Legiſlature of this Province ſhould paſs or continue a Law for the like Purpoſes, provided the ſame did not exceed the Twenty-ſecond Day of October next.——I am thereby laid under the diſagreeable Neceſſity of calling you together at this buſy Seaſon, in order to have the Embargo continued for the ſame Time that it is in the Provinces of New-York and Jerſey; and as the Acts of Aſſembly paſſed for the Prohibition of Proviſions and Warlike Stores will expire with To-morrow, I hope you will immediately enter upon this Matter, and give it all the Diſpatch the Nature of the Thing requires.——The Secretary will lay before you a Copy of the Act of the Lower Counties, and you will, by proper Clauſes in the Law you may think it neceſſary on this Occaſion to propoſe, leave me at Liberty to ſend Supplies to ſuch of the King's Ships and Forces as may be employed in any Part of America, and to put the Trade of this Place, while the Embargo laſts, upon the ſame Footing it is in the other Bread Colonies.

Philadelphia, July 19, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Speaker laid before the Houſe the Bill for ſtriking the Sum of Four Thouſand Pounds in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for ſinking the ſame, by yearly Payments to be made by the Proprietaries Receiver General to the Truſtees of the General Loan-Office of this Province for that Purpoſe, which he informed the Houſe he had received from the Secretary, who ſaid that the Governor was willing to paſs the ſaid Bill into a Law, provided the Houſe would agree to leave out the whole Preamble, and let the Bill begin with the enacting Clauſe.

Adjournment

Then the Houſe adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

July 20.

The Governor's Meſſage was again read, and conſidered, together with the ſeveral Papers ſent down therewith; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That Thomas Leech, William Maſters, Joſeph Hamton, George Aſhbridge, James Webb, John Potts and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the ſaid Meſſage.

The following Petition from ſundry Merchants, &c. of the City of Philadelphia, was preſented to the Houſe and read, viz.

To the Honourable the REPRESENTATIVES of the FREEMEN of the Province of Pennſylvania, in GENERAL ASSEMBLY now ſitting.

The PETITION of divers Merchants, Owners and Maſters of Veſſels, now in the Port of Philadelphia, in Behalf of themſelves, and others intereſted therein.

Humbly ſheweth,

Petition from the Merchants, &c. againſt the Embargo.

THAT your Petitioners, preſuming the Embargo laid here the Twenty-third of May laſt on all Veſſels loaded with Proviſions, would terminate at the Time the Embargo expired in the Government of the Counties of New-Caſtle, Kent and Suſſex, on Delaware, to wit, on the Seventh Inſtant, did load their reſpective Veſſels, in Part, with Proviſions, as is uſual in Time of free Trade. That at the Expiration of that Time, your Petitioners, upon Application to the Cuſtom-houſe for the neceſſary Clearances, finding that the Governor had lodged Inſtructions with his Majeſty's Collector of this Port, not to clear any Veſſels that were ſo loaded, and ſince further learning, that the ſaid Government of the Three Lower Counties have lately extended their Act to the Twentieth Inſtant, and for ſuch further Time as ſhall be thought neceſſary by this Government, therefore take this Liberty humbly to repreſent the great Loſs which your Petitioners conceive will be ſuſtained not only by the Owners of the Veſſels ſo loaded, victualled and manned, lying in Port at great Expence, but by the Proprietors of the periſhable Proviſions on board ſuch Veſſels, many of whom are young Traders, and not able to bear ſo heavy a Loſs, as likewiſe by the Trading Part of this Province in general, which muſt very ſhortly be felt in a ſevere and ſenſible Manner, in Caſe the Prohibition ſhould continue a longer Time than by a late Law of this Province is directed, as the Cargoes already ſhipped may very probably periſh (more eſpecially at this Seaſon of the Year) and a general Stagnation of Trade muſt enſue, Proviſions being our Staple; beſides the great Loſs and Diſadvantage to the Province for Want of a due Circulation of Caſh.

That your Petitioners, notwithſtanding the Premiſes, ſhould not have preſumed to have troubled your Honourable Houſe therewith, were they convinced it was really neceſſary for his Majeſty's Service that the Embargo ſhould be continued, and that this Province was on an equal Footing with his Majesty's other Colonies to the Northward and Southward; for as to the former, your Petitioners apprehend it will rather tend to the Distress of his Majesty's Subjects in the Islands, who, your Petitioners think, by the Time the Vessels might arrive, may be in Want of Provisions; and as to the latter, Boston has little to export of Provisions, save Fish, which is excepted in their Embargo; and New-York, great Part of their Produce is taken off by the Army, by which Means they have a tolerable Market; and if the Embargo is to continue here till it is certainly known to be off there, that Colony will have greatly the Advantage of this Place, as they will have the Start, and may make the best Part of their Passage, before your Petitioners are advised thereof, and consequently take the best of the Markets from your Petitioners. 1756. July 20.

Your Petitioners further pray Leave to observe, that as to the Southern Colonies, viz. Virginia and Maryland, their Ports have been free for Provisions a long Time past, and now are, as your Petitioners are informed; and it is well known, the latter Province raises great Crops of Grain, and that their Exports, in the Provision Way, are very considerable; so that this Province appears abundantly the most distressed at present in its Trade; and if the Embargo is continued a much longer Time, this Province will be in very calamitous Circumstances.

That as a War with France is generally believed to be actually declared in England, and daily expected here, such Vessels as are now ready to sail, have a tolerable Prospect of safe Passages, the Risk at present not being so hazardous as it must consequently be a While hence; so that if detained much longer, the Danger of the Enemies Privateers on this Coast will be considerably encreased, your Petitioners having great Reason to believe and expect a Visit in that Way. That the Trade of Lisbon, Madeira and Cadiz hath oftentimes heretofore proved of great Advantage, in taking off a considerable Quantity of the Produce of this Province, and may now be carried on without interfering with the Intent of a Prohibition, an Interruption to which may be of considerable Prejudice to this Trade, more especially as a constant Bounty of at least Five Shillings per Quarter is granted by Act of Parliament on the Exportation of Wheat from Great-Britain: Certificates may be produced from the Consuls of those Places for the Delivery of the Cargoes there, for which your Petitioners are willing to give Security upon clearing at the Custom-house here.

That your Petitioners, with great Submission, conceive Bonds, with sufficient Penalties, may effectually prevent any Trade with the Dutch, or Neutral Islands, by which Channel the French have had Supplies of Provisions; and as a War with France must of Course stop all immediate Trade from hence to the French Islands, our Enemies cannot obtain Supplies, unless from the English Islands in such Case the Fault must lie with them; and as your Petitioners presume, the Governor's of those English Islands have proper Instructions on that Head, hope, if any Neglect of Duty happen there, your Petitioners may not suffer for other than their own Conduct.

Wherefore your Petitioners humbly address this Honourable House, that you will be pleased to take under your most serious Consideration their present distressed Circumstances (especially such whose Vessels are, and have been, a considerable Time loaded, and those whose Cargoes are ready to put on board) and afford them such Relief and Assistance therein as you in your Wisdom shall judge most expedient, in nowise doubting your ready and hearty Disposition towards the general Good and Service of your Country; and your Petitioners will ever pray, &c." Ordered to lie on the Table.

A Public News-paper, printed in England, entituled, "The Evening Advertiser, "No. 334. From Saturday, April 17, to Tuesday, April 20, 1756," containing an Extract of a Letter from a Correspondent at Philadelphia, dated February 23, 1756, and signed W. Smith, was laid before the House, read, and considered; and, after some Time spent therein, it was Resolved, That the said Extract of a Letter contains divers wicked Calumnies against Numbers of sober and valuable Inhabitants of this Province, and likewise most infamous, libellous, false and scandalous Assertions against the two Branches of the Legislature of this Province.

And it being represented to the House, that it is highly probable that one William Smith, now Provost of the College in Philadelphia, is the Author of the before-mentioned Extract of a Letter; it was thereupon Ordered, That the Speaker do forthwith issue his Order to the Serjeant at Arms, requiring him to bring the said William Smith to the Bar of this House, at Five o'Clock this Afternoon, to answer such Questions as shall then and there be put to him.

And the Speaker issued his Order to the Serjeant at Arms accordingly.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The House being informed that William Smith, Provost of the College of Philadelphia, attended at the Door, in Custody of the Serjeant at Arms, Post Meridiem

Ordered, That the said Smith be brought to the Bar of this House, and that the Speaker

1756. July 20. do demand of him, whether he is the Author of the Extract of a Letter which was read to the Houſe this Morning.

He was accordingly brought to the Bar, and the ſaid Extract of a Letter read to him, and then put into his Hands for his Peruſal. After which the Speaker interrogated him as follows; to which he made the Anſwers reſpectively ſubjoined, viz.

1. Whether he had wrote any Letter, dated on or about the Twenty-third of February, 1756, or at any other Time, of which, from the Tenor thereof, the Paper now read to him could be an Extract?

Anſw. 'Tis not to be ſuppoſed that I can be prepared to anſwer this Houſe, whether I have wrote any Letter, on or about the 23d of February, 1756, or at any other Time, of which, from the Tenor thereof, the Paper referred to could be an Extract; as the Queſtion, in my Opinion, ſuppoſes that I can remember the Tenor of all the Letters I have wrote.

2 Q. Whether, to the beſt of his Memory, he did, or did not, write any ſuch Letter, on or about the Date ſpecified in the firſt Queſtion, or at any other Time?

Anſw. I do not conceive that I ought to charge my Memory with any Thing of that Nature; nor do I conceive that I am obliged in Law to make any other Anſwer than what I have already done.

And the Houſe not thinking it neceſſary to aſk the ſaid Smith any more Queſtions at this Time, he was ordered to withdraw. But he having before he went deſired that he might have a Copy of the Queſtions which the Speaker had aſked him, and his Anſwers thereto, alſo a Copy of the Order to the Serjeant at Arms for bringing him to the Bar of the Houſe, the Clerk was directed to make out the ſaid Copies, and deliver them to him accordingly.

The Houſe taking into Conſideration the Anſwers given by the ſaid William Smith, to the Queſtions put to him by the Speaker, unanimouſly Reſolved, That the ſaid Anſwers are trifling and evaſive, and plainly indicate him to be the Author of the "Extract of a Letter from a Correſpondent at Philadelphia, dated "February 23, 1756," which was publiſhed in the Evening Advertiſer, No. 334.

Reſolved, That as this Houſe have Matters of conſiderable Moment before them at this Time, and can ſtay but a little While together, that all further Proceedings in Relation to the ſaid Smith, be poſtponed to a more convenient Opportunity.

Ordered, That the ſaid William Smith be therefore diſcharged out of the Cuſtody of the Serjeant at Arms, for the preſent.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it was read, agreed to, with ſome Amendments, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

Which being accordingly done, it was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

ON the 4th of May, 1756, the Legiſlature of New-York paſſed an Act to revive an Act more effectually to reſtrain the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores from that Colony, to be in Force for Twenty-one Days, and after that Time to ſuch Time as the Legiſlature of New-Jerſey and Pennſylvania ſhould paſs Acts for like Purpoſes, provided thoſe Acts did not exceed three Months from the Paſſing of that Act, which was from the Fourth of May to the Fourth of Auguſt next enſuing.

Sir Charles Hardy having recommended to our Governor, that he ſhould lay before the Aſſembly of this Province, the Neceſſity of enacting a Law of the ſame Tenor within this Government; and the Houſe being convinced that ſuch an Act would be totally uſeleſs, unleſs the Three Lower Counties of New-Caſtle, Kent and Suſſex (not ſubject to our Laws) were included, paſſed an Act on the Thirteenth of May, of the ſame Tenor, and nearly in the ſame Words, with the Act of New-York, to be in Force till the Seventh of June, and from thence for ſo long Time as the Legiſlatures of the Colony New-Jerſey, and the Counties of New-Caſtle, Kent and Suſſex, upon Delaware, ſhould reſpectively paſs Laws for the like Purpoſes, provided they exceeded not the Time limited by the Law of New-York Government.

On the Twenty-ninth of May the Legiſlature of New-Jerſey paſſed an Act, to be in Force from the Firſt Day of June to the Firſt Day of Auguſt, and from thence for ſo long Time as the Legiſlatures of the Colonies of New-York and Pennſylvania ſhould reſpectively paſs Laws for the like Purpoſes, provided they did not exceed Three Months from the ſaid Firſt Day of Auguſt.

This being the State of the Laws laying an Embargo on the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores; firſt, by the Colony of New-York on the Fourth, then by this Government on the Thirteenth, and by New-Jerſey the Twenty-ninth of May laſt; it is moſt unkind, and give us Leave to ſay, in our Opinion, unbecoming the Dignity of Government, that in the Governor's laſt Meſſage he ſhould not take the leaſt Notice of any Law being ever paſſed by us for laying any Embargo within this Port, but only mentions tions his having preſſed the Aſſembly of the Lower Counties " to continue the Prohibi- 1756.

" tion of Proviſions and Warlike Stores, to the Time limited by the Laws of New-York July 20.
" and New-Jerſey," as if no ſuch Law had ever been paſſed by himſelf within this Province! What Purpoſe ſuch a Conduct towards us is to anſwer, the Governor beſt knows. —— But when he proceeds in his ſaid Meſſage to propoſe to us " to have the Embargo " continued for the ſame Time that it is in the Provinces of New-York and Jerſey," we muſt confeſs we are entirely at a Loſs to know what the Governor would mean, our preſent Act coming preciſely within the Governor's Recommendation; being made in Compliance with the Law of New-York. If the Lower Counties have not complied with thoſe Terms, it is not to be imputed to the Aſſembly of this Province, who have fully diſcharged their Part to make the Embargo effectual.

We entreat the Governor to conſider and reflect on the Share he has had in the Laws of the Lower Counties, paſſed by himſelf, which ſeem calculated to give this Houſe unneceſſary Trouble to no good Purpoſe whatever: For now when he has thought fit to call us together in the Height of our Harveſts, our Servants generally taken from us, and the Country in Want of Labourers, What has the Governor been pleaſed to propoſe, but to paſs an Act to continue the Embargo " for the ſame Time that it is in the Provinces " of New-York and Jerſey," which is the Tenor and Limitation of our preſent Act, it being to have continued (had the Lower Counties paſſed their Acts in Conformity with the Laws of New-York, as this Province and New-Jerſey had already done) to the Fourth Day of Auguſt. And as New-York has not extended their Act, that we know of (which will probably become unneceſſary on the Proclamation of a War with France, now daily expected) any new Act we could make would only be to continue the Act of this Province to the Time it was to continue; which is ſuch an Abſurdity as we preſume on Reflection the Governor will not inſiſt upon.

But that no Time might intervene, whereby the French might be ſupplied with Proviſions or Warlike Stores from this Province, we, at our laſt Sitting, put into the Governor's Hands a Bill " to continue the Act for preventing the Exportation of Proviſions, " Naval or Warlike Stores, from this Province to Cape-Breton, or to any other the Do- " minions of the French King, or Places at preſent in Poſſeſſion of any of his Subjects," to prevent, as much as lay in our Power, any Deficiencies which might ariſe from the Conduct of the Aſſembly of the Three Lower Counties, if they ſhould think fit to invalidate the Acts of the other Colonies for laying a general Embargo.

At the ſame Time we alſo ſent up a Bill, entituled, A Supplementary Act to a Law of this Province, entituled, An Act for the more effectual obſtructing the Exportation of Proviſions and Warlike Stores from the Province of Pennſylvania; which Bill, if the Governor had paſſed it at the Time it was ſent to him by the Houſe, or if he ſhould hereafter be pleaſed to give his Aſſent thereto, would prevent all Doubts, and give full Liberty to ſend Supplies " to ſuch of the King's Ships and Forces as may be employed in any Part " of America;" and we have never endeavoured to put the Trade of this Place, where the Intereſt or Dignity of the Crown is concerned, on any other Footing than it is in the other Colonies."

And the ſaid Meſſage being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe,

Ordered, That Joſeph Fox and John Potts wait upon the Governor, and deliver the ſame, together with the Bill for ſtriking the Sum of Four Thouſand Pounds in Bills of Credit, and to provide for ſinking the ſame by yearly Payments to be made by the Proprietaries Receiver General, and acquaint him, that the Houſe think it highly neceſſary that there ſhould be ſome Preamble to the ſaid Bill, otherwiſe thoſe who are not particularly acquainted with our Affairs may imagine that the Proprietaries have thereby given Four Thouſand Pounds over and above the Five Thouſand Pounds ſpecified in the Act for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe; the Houſe therefore propoſe, that ſince the Governor is averſe to having it mentioned in the Preamble that the ſaid Five Thouſand Pounds was given by the Proprietaries in Conſideration of their being exempted from the Payment of their Taxes towards raiſing the aforeſaid Sum of Sixty Thouſand Pounds, although the ſame is expreſsly declared in that Act, without any Objection haveing been made thereto by the Governor at the Time it was paſſed, they will leave out the firſt Clauſe of the Preamble, namely, from the Word [Whereas] to the Word [Uſe] both incluſive, and inſtead thereof inſert the following Clauſe, viz.

" Whereas the Honourable Proprietaries of this Province have been pleaſed to make a free " Gift of the Sum of Five Thouſand Pounds, for the Purpoſes and in the Manner parti- " cularly ſet forth by an Act of General Aſſembly of this Province, paſſed in the Twenty-ninth
" Year of his Majeſty's Reign, entituled, An Act for granting the Sum of Sixty Thouſand
" Pounds to the King's Uſe, and for ſtriking Fifty-five Thouſand Pounds thereof in Bills
" of Credit, and to provide a Fund for ſinking the ſame."

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, July 21.
report,

1756. July 21. report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, after reading the Meſſage, that he believed the Houſe had miſunderſtood his Meſſage; that he had no Intentions of diſobliging them, and that he was ſorry to ſee they had taken any Offence; however, as he was about leaving the Government, he ſhould not return any Anſwer to it; and that as to the Bill for ſtriking Four Thouſand Pounds, to be replaced by the Proprietaries Receiver General, he thought the Houſe gave a good Reaſon why there ſhould be ſome Preamble to the ſaid Bill, and that he would take the one propoſed into Conſideration, and let the Houſe know his Reſult thereupon ſome Time this Day.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, with ſundry Minutes of Council relating to Indian Affairs, which were read, and the Meſſage is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'YOU will ſee, by the Indian Minutes, which the Secretary will lay before you, that our good Friend and faithful Meſſenger, Captain Newcaſtle, is returned from Diahoga, and has brought to Bethlehem a Number of the Suſquehanna Indians, and the Delaware King Teedyuſcung; from whom I have received a Meſſage expreſſing his Satisfaction with what has been tranſacted by Captain Newcaſtle, and telling me that he waits for my coming to him.

'You will obſerve by Sir William Johnſon's Letter to General Abercrombie, giving an Account of his Proceedings at Onondago, which I laid before you, that by Means of the Six Nations ſuch of the Delawares as attended that Meeting have already laid down the Hatchet, and engaged to follow the Example of the Six Nations, and aſſiſt us againſt the French.

'As there is the greateſt Reaſon to think, as well from Sir William Johnſon's Tranſactions, and the Meſſage from Teedyuſcung, as from what Captain Newcaſtle has communicated in Council, that the Delaware King, and People living on the River Suſquehanna, are in a good Diſpoſition to return to their Alliance and former Friendſhip with us, I think ſo favourable an Opportunity of fixing thoſe People in our Intereſt ſhould not be neglected. I therefore recommend it to you to make Proviſion for the Expence that will attend the Conferences upon this Occaſion, and for fulfilling ſuch Engagements as the preſent Exigencies may make it neceſſary for me to enter into, in which you may be aſſured I ſhall have a particular Regard to the Honour and Safety of the Province.

Philadelphia, July 21, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

The Secretary likewiſe brought down the following Letter from General Shirley to the Governor, which was read, viz.

SIR, New-York, July 13, 1756.

SOME Days ago I had the Honour to receive at Albany two Letters from the Right Honourable Mr. Fox, one of his Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State, dated the 13th and 31ſt of March laſt, acquainting me in the former with his Majeſty's Appointment of the Earl of Loudon to be General and Commander in Chief of his Forces in North-America; and in the latter ſignifying to me, that it having been "repreſented to "the King, that my Preſence in England may be very uſeful and neceſſary to his Ma"jeſty's Service at this Time, on Account of my being able to give many Lights and "Informations relative to the State of Affairs in North-America, it was his Majeſty's "Pleaſure, that I ſhould repair to England with all poſſible Expedition:" And that, for that Purpoſe, his Majeſty had given Directions to the Lords of the Admiralty, who have ordered a Frigate to receive me on board, and proceed with me directly to England. And I have the Pleaſure of being acquainted in the former of theſe Letters, that the Diſpoſition his Majeſty has thought proper to make of the Command of his Forces in North-America, is not owing to any Diſſatisfaction with my Services; but that on the contrary, it is the King's Intention to give me a new Mark of his Royal Favour.

As I think it not improper for me to give your Honour, and the Province under your Government, this Notice of my Departure for England, ſo I am deſirous of taking this Opportunity to acknowledge the repeated Inſtances of their contributing towards the Defence of his Majeſty's juſt Rights and Dominions in the Expedition againſt Crown-Point, by their Grant of Proviſions and Cloathing for the Men employed in it; to aſſure them of my beſt Wiſhes for their Welfare, and that of his Majeſty's other Northern Colonies; and that I ſhall think myſelf happy in being able, upon my Arrival in England, to give ſuch Lights and Informations, relative to the State of Affairs in North-America

at this most critical Conjuncture, as may best promote his Majesty's Service, and the general Interests of his Subjects there. I am, with great Regard and Esteem, 1756. July 21.

To the Honourable Robert Hunter Morris, Esq;

Sir, your Honour's most humble, and most obedient Servant, W. SHIRLEY."

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down the Bill for striking Four Thousand Pounds in Bills of Credit, and to provide for sinking the same by yearly Payments to be made by the Proprietaries Receiver General, with a Paper proposing to leave out the three first Clauses of the Preamble to the said Bill, namely from the Word [Whereas] to the Word [otherwise] both inclusive, and instead thereof insert the following Clause, viz.

'Whereas the Honourable the Proprietaries of this Province have been pleased to make 'a free Gift of the Sum of Five Thousand Pounds, to be applied towards the Public 'Charges, which Sum, by an Act of General Assembly of this Province, passed in the 'Twenty-ninth Year of his Majesty's Reign, entituled, An Act for granting the Sum of 'Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, and for striking Fifty-five Thousand Pounds 'thereof in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for sinking the same, is directed and appointed to be paid by the Receiver General into the Hands of Isaac Norris, James Hamilton, John Mifflin and Benjamin Franklin, Esquires, and Joseph Fox, John Hughes and Evan Morgan, Gentlemen, to be laid out for his Majesty's Use in the Manner 'therein prescribed.'

And the said proposed Preamble being read, and considered, was unanimously rejected by the House.

Ordered, That Mahlon Kirkbride and James Webb wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the House do not incline to accept of the Governor's proposed Preamble to the Bill for striking Four Thousand Pounds, &c. but are willing to pass the said Bill into a Law with the Preamble sent up to the Governor Yesterday; and further, that they enquire if the Governor hath come to any Result upon the Bill for continuing the Excise, and the Bill for granting Forty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use.

The Letter from General Shirley to the Governor being again read, and considered, Ordered, That Joseph Stretch, William Masters, Jonathan Ingham, Joseph Gibbons, Emanuel Carpenter, John Potts and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Address to the said General, expressing the Sense this House has of the Services which he has done the British Colonies in general, and returning him Thanks for the repeated Instances of his Justice towards the Inhabitants of this Province in particular.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Bill for striking Four Thousand Pounds, &c. and the Message of the House, report, that they had delivered the same according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say, that he had already given the House an Answer as to the Bill for continuing the Excise, and that he could not, nor would not, pass it otherwise than as he had amended it; and that he had considered the Bill for granting Forty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, and should let the House know his Result thereupon this Afternoon. Post Meridiem

The Governor's Message of this Morning being again read, and considered, Ordered, That John Hughes and William Masters wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the House desire to know what Sum he thinks will be sufficient to discharge the Expences of the proposed Conference with the Indians now at Bethlehem.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down to the House the Bill for striking Forty Thousand Pounds for the King's Use, with a Paper containing sundry proposed Amendments thereto; which being read, and considered,

Resolved, That this House will adhere to the said Bill as it now stands, without admitting any of the Governor's proposed Amendments thereto.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Message of the House according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say, that he had made no Calculation of the Expences likely to attend the proposed Conference, so he could not tell what it would amount to, but it seemed to him that about Four or Five Hundred Pounds might be sufficient; and that the Expences would be the greater, as he should be obliged to have a Body of Soldiers to guard him.

The Gentlemen likewise reported, that they enquired of the Governor if he intended to take any of his Council with him, and whether it would be agreeable to him to be accompanied by any of the Members of Assembly; to which he replied, that he believed he should take some of the Council with him, and that he should be glad of the Company of any of the Members of Assembly that would think proper to attend the Conference.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

1756. July 22. The following Account from the Commiſſioners for diſpoſing of the Sixty Thouſand Pounds granted to the King's Uſe by Act of Aſſembly, was laid before the Houſe by one of the ſaid Commiſſioners, and read, viz.

Dr. COMMISSIONERS, To the Province of Pennſylvania, Cr.

N. B. Of the above Balance of Three Thouſand Nine Hundred and Fifty-ſeven Pounds and Fourteen Shillings the Sum of Three Thouſand Nine Hundred and Forty Pounds Fourteen Shillings is of the Money given by the Proprietaries, not yet in the Receivers Hands, and therefore not immediately in our Power; but we are of Opinion, that even upon a Suppoſition that it was, the Debts now neceſſarily owing by the Commiſſioners for the King's Service, and for which we are called on, now does, or by the Firſt of the next Month will, amount to a greater Sum.

July 22, 1756. JAMES HAMILTON, JOHN MIFFLIN, JOSEPH FOX, EVAN MORGAN, JOHN HUGHES."

The Governor's Meſſage relating to the propoſed Conference being again read, and conſidered, Reſolved, That Joſeph Fox and William Edmonds, with the Speaker (if his Health will permit) be appointed to accompany the Governor to the ſaid propoſed Conference; and that a Sum not exceeding Three Hundred Pounds be allowed by this Houſe to defray the Expences attending the ſaid Conference.

Ordered, That Thomas Leech, William Maſters, Mahlon Kirkbride, James Webb, John Potts and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's laſt Meſſage, and report the ſame to the Houſe.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Addreſs to General Shirley, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it was read, and agreed to as follows, viz.

To Major-General WILLIAM SHIRLEY, Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of Maſſachuſetts-Bay, in New-England, &c.

The ADDRESS of the REPRESENTATIVES of the Province of Pennſylvania, in ASSEMBLY met.

Aſſembly's Addreſs to General Shirley.

OUR Governor having laid before this Houſe the General's Letter, dated at New-York, on the Thirteenth Inſtant, we find that he has been pleaſed "to give Notice "to this Government of his intended Departure for England, and his being deſirous to "take the Opportunity to acknowledge the repeated Inſtances of our contributing to-"wards the Defence of his Majeſty's juſt Rights and Dominions in the Expedition againſt "Crown-Point, by our Grant of Proviſions and Cloathing for the Men employed in it; "and that upon his Arrival in England he ſhall think himſelf happy in being able "to give ſuch Lights and Informations, relative to the State of Affairs in North-Ame-"rica, as may beſt promote his Majeſty's Service, and the general Intereſt of his Sub-"jects in theſe Parts."

The Candour with which the General has been pleaſed to expreſs himſelf towards us in particular, and his Concern for the Colonies in general, are agreeable to his known Benevolence and Public Spirit. And we can have no Doubt but that his Care of the Northern Colonies, his great Experience in American Affairs, the conſtant Application of his Thoughts for their Protection, his ſeveral judicious Plans and Undertakings to reduce the French Power, and the Zeal which he has demonſtrated for his Majeſty's Service, by expoſing his Perſon at a Time of Life which might otherwiſe naturally and reaſonably induce him to ſeek Repoſe, will, among his other diſtinguiſhed Merits, highly recommend him to the Royal Favour.

The Juſtice he has formerly done the Aſſemblies of this Province, in a Letter to one of their Members, and this freſh Inſtance of the ſame Diſpoſition of Mind, is becoming his his established Character, and is the more acceptable to us, as we have frequently, though in vain, sought that Justice where we had an undoubted Right to ask and expect it. 1756. July 22.

That the Almighty God may be pleased to protect him through his intended Voyage, and prosper his further Designs for the Public Welfare; and that the Decline of his Life may be attended with that Dignity and Ease which the important Stations he has filled and discharged with so much Honour justly entitle him to, are the sincere Wishes of the Representatives of the Freemen of the Province of Pennsylvania."

Ordered, That the said Address be engrossed, and signed by the Speaker, and transmitted to Benjamin Franklin, Esq; a Member of this House, now at New-York, to be by him delivered to General Shirley, in the Name and Behalf of this House.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Answer to the Governor's Message, reported the same to the House, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed, that it may be sent up to the Governor. Post Meridiem

Resolved, That this House will this Day adjourn to the 16th Day of the next Month.

The Message to the Governor being transcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

IT is very agreeable to us to find by the Governor's Message, "That by the Means of "the Six Nations, such of the Delawares, as attended the late Meeting with Sir Wil- "liam Johnson, have already laid down the Hatchet, and engaged to follow the Example "of the Six Nations, and assist us against the French; and that the Delaware King and "People living on the River Susquehanna are in a good Disposition to return to their "Alliance and former Friendship with us." And in this critical Juncture, when a happy Issue of a Treaty with the Indians must be of so great Advantage to the Proprietary Interest, as we apprehend the present Treaty must be, we cannot suffer ourselves to doubt their Willingness to contribute towards the heavy Expences the Province groans under for Indian Affairs; especially considering the Governor has just now refused to pass our Bill for granting Forty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, because the Proprietary Estate was therein taxed, in common with all the other Estates in this Province, for their mutual Defence; and has also refused to continue our Excise Act, some Time since expired; so that the Province is greatly indebted, and our only remaining Fund reduced to the lowest Extremity. A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

Under these Circumstances we made Application to the Commissioners, appointed by the Act for granting Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, to know whether any Money remained in their Hands, which might be applied to the present Emergency; but we find, that the Fifty-five Thousand Pounds, to be sunk by the Provincial Tax, is expended; that near Four Thousand (Part of the Five Thousand) Pounds given by the Proprietaries, in Consideration of their being exempted from their Share of that Tax, is not paid into the Commissioners Hands; and if the whole Sum was paid, the Debts, already contracted for the Defence of the Province, are nearly equal thereto. Nevertheless, as we apprehend the Treaty proposed to be held with the Susquehanna Indians, and the Delaware King Teedyuscung, may be attended with lasting good Consequences, we have resolved, that the Sum of Three Hundred Pounds be allowed by this House for that Purpose.

As the Governor has signified, that it would be agreeable to him, if some of the Members of this House would undertake the Journey with him, we have nominated Joseph Fox and William Edmonds, with the Speaker (if his Health will admit) to accompany the Governor, and such of his Council, as he may think fit to take with him to the proposed Conference; and we hope they may be of Service in conducting the Treaty to a happy Issue."

And the same being signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House,

Ordered, That Griffith Owen and Emanuel Carpenter wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same, and acquaint him, that the House incline to adjourn to the Sixteenth Day of the next Month, if he hath no Objection thereto.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Message of the House according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say, after perusing the same, that he should not engage for the Proprietaries contributing any Thing towards the Expences that may attend the proposed Conference; that as the House had voted Three Hundred Pounds for that Purpose, he should wait at Easton or Bethlehem till the Whole was expended, then take his Horse and ride away to New-York to meet Lord Loudon; and that as to the Time of Adjournment, he should not say whether he was pleased or displeased with it, but leave it entirely with the House to do as they pleased.

Then the House adjourned to the Sixteenth Day of the next Month called August. Adjournment

THE House met pursuant to their Adjournment. August 16. Post Meridiem

Ordered, That Joseph Stretch and John Hughes wait upon the Governor, and acquaint 1756. quaint him, that the Houſe are met, according to their Adjournment, and ready to receive any Thing he may have to lay before them.

Auguſt 16. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment Auguſt 17. The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he ſhould ſend a Meſſage to the Houſe this Morning.

The Governor, by William Peters, Eſq; ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'THE Money heretofore granted for the Defence of the Province being expended, 'it will be impoſſible to keep the Troops poſted on the Frontiers together without 'their Pay: I therefore recommend it to you to enter upon the Conſideration of this Matter 'without Delay, and to grant ſuch Supplies as his Majeſty's Service and the Safety of 'the Province at this Time require. What makes this the more neceſſary is, the Number 'of French and Indians that are now on our Borders, a Body of whom, under a French 'Officer, have taken and burnt Fort Granville, on the Juniata, one of our moſt con-'ſiderable Forts on the Weſtern Frontier; while others of them are murdering the In-'habitants, and laying waſte the Country.

'The People, to the Weſt of Suſquehanna, diſtreſſed by the frequent Incurſions of the 'Enemy, and weakened by their great Loſſes, are moving into the interior Parts of the 'Province; and I am fearful that whole Country will be evacuated, if timely and vi-'gorous Meaſures are not taken to prevent it.

'Major Rutherford, the Commanding Officer, in this Province, of his Majeſty's Royal 'American Regiment now raiſing, has applied to me for ſome Place in or near this City, 'where the Men belonging to that Corps may be lodged together, that they may receive 'the King's Proviſions, be taught the Uſe of Arms, and brought under proper Diſcipline, 'which he thinks it impoſſible to accompliſh while they remain ſcattered in different 'Places. As there are at preſent no Houſes proper for the Reception of Troops, I muſt 'recommend it to you to enable me to erect a Number of Barracks in ſome convenient 'Place ſufficient for the Reception of a Thouſand Men, there being already above Five 'Hundred raiſed in this Province, and about the ſame Number daily expected hither 'from Europe. And as great Numbers of the Men raiſed in the Province are indentured 'Servants, I muſt again recommend it to you to make Proviſion, agreeable to his Ma-'jeſty's Directions, for the Payment of their Maſters the Value of their Time they had 'to ſerve, that the Furniſhing Men for his Majeſty's Service may not fall too heavy upon 'Particulars.

Philadelphia, Auguſt 16, 1756. ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS."

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Governor's Meſſage was again read, and conſidered; and after ſome Time ſpent therein, Reſolved, That the Sum of Forty Thouſand Pounds be at this Time granted to the King's Uſe.

Ordered, That Daniel Roberdeau, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, Peter Dicks, James Wright, John Wright, John Potts and William Edmonds be a Committee to prepare and bring in a Bill for the Purpoſe of the foregoing Reſolve, and likewiſe to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock To-morrow Afternoon.

Auguſt 18. Poſt Meridiem The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it was read, agreed to, with ſome Alterations, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

And the ſame being accordingly done, it was again read, and is as follows. viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

THE Houſe have repeatedly offered the Governor Bills for granting conſiderable Sums to the King's Uſe, to which he has refuſed his Aſſent, being reſtrained by the Proprietaries, as he ſays, from paſſing any Bills in which their Eſtate is to be taxed towards its Defence. We know of no equitable Way of raiſing ſuch large Sums as are now neceſſary, but by a general Tax on all Eſtates, real and perſonal. We have voted another Sum of Forty Thouſand Pounds, to be raiſed in that Manner, and are preparing a new Bill to lay before the Governor for that Purpoſe. But as we are, and muſt be ſtill, of Opinion, that the Proprietary Eſtates ought to be taxed in common with thoſe of their Fellow-Subjects in all the reſt of the King's Dominions, for their common Defence, we cannot omit a Clauſe of that Kind in our Bill, without Injuſtice to the King's other Subjects, ourſelves, our Conſtituents and Poſterity; and we believe, that an equal Number of Men, of any Sect, Nation, Name or Party among us, will never be chosen to represent the Province, who would be of a different Sentiment in this Particular. 1756. August 18.

In the mean Time, we earnestly request the Governor would use his Influence with the Proprietaries Receiver General, to induce him to pay the remaining Sum of near Three Thousand Pounds, yet behind of their Contribution of Five Thousand Pounds, which by Law was to have been immediately advanced, but is still withheld from the Commissioners, to the Injury of the poor Soldiers, whose Pay is in Arrear for Want of that Money, the Fifty-five Thousand Pounds we granted by the said Bill for the King's Use being expended.

We are sensibly affected with the distressed State of our Frontier Inhabitants; though we apprehend they are in a much better Situation than those of the neighbouring Provinces, who are equally near the Enemy. And we hope they may be rendered still more secure, by a vigorous Exertion of the Force now on Foot for their Protection, and the Annoyance of the Enemy.

The other Matters recommended to us by the Governor, we will take into Consideration, and hope we may be able to do therein, whatever ought to be expected of us."

The foregoing Message being signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House, Ordered, That George Ashbridge and John Wright wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same.

Upon an Application of one Samuel Gwin, who was lately wounded by the Indians, on the Frontiers of Northampton County, the House agreed to allow him Three Pounds in Consideration thereof; and the Trustees of the Loan-Office were ordered to pay the same.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Message of Yesterday, report, that they had delivered the same according to Order. August 19.

Ordered, That George Ashbridge have Leave to be absent, on urgent Business, till the End of the Week.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The House being informed, that the Gentleman who is appointed to succeed our present Governor, is now on the Road hither from New-York, and will be in Town some Time To-morrow, adjourned to Five o'Clock To-morrow Afternoon. Post Meridiem Adjournment

WILLIAM DENNY, Esq; Governor.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of a congratulatory Address to the Governor, reported the same to the House, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed, that it may be presented to the Governor.

Resolved, N. C. D. That the Sum of Six Hundred Pounds be at this Time paid, out of the Provincial Treasury, to the Honourable WILLIAM DENNY, Esq; Lieutenant-Governor of this Province.

And an Order was accordingly drawn on the Treasurer, and signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House, for Payment of the same.

1756. The Addreſs to the Governor being tranſcribed, it was again read, and is as follows, viz.

Auguſt 23. To the Honourable WILLIAM DENNY, Eſq; Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Pennſylvania, and of the Counties of New-Caſtle, Kent and Suſſex, on Delaware,

The ADDRESS of the REPRESENTATIVES of the FREEMEN of the ſaid Province of Pennſylvania, in GENERAL ASSEMBLY met.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

Addreſs to the Governor. WE are ſincerely thankful to Almighty God, that he has been pleaſed to protect the Governor through the Dangers of the Sea, and bring him in Safety to his Government. We heartily congratulate him on his Acceſſion; and hope, from the excellent Character we have received of him, his Adminiſtration will be as happy for the Province, as we ſhall endeavour to make it eaſy and comfortable to himſelf."

And the ſaid Addreſs being ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, Ordered, That the Speaker, with the whole Houſe, wait upon the Governor, and preſent the ſame, together with the Order of the Houſe for Six Hundred Pounds.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock To-morrow Afternoon.

Auguſt 24. Poſt Meridiem The Speaker reported, that the Houſe had waited on the Governor, and preſented their Addreſs, to which he was pleaſed to make the following Anſwer, viz.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

Governor's Anſwer. 'I AM extremely obliged to you for your very affectionate Addreſs, and have the Honour to aſſure you, that I am ſincerely diſpoſed to do every Thing in my Power, 'that may promote the Happineſs, and tend to the Security and Protection of the People 'of this Province."

The Speaker likewiſe reported, that he had at the ſame Time preſented the Governor with the Order for Six Hundred Pounds, who was pleaſed to ſay, he returned the Houſe his Thanks for that Mark of their Reſpect.

Ordered, That the Clerk do cauſe a Set of the old Votes of Aſſembly, lately publiſhed in three Volumes, to be neatly bound, and preſented to the Governor.

A Meſſage from the Governor, by the Secretary:

S I R,

"The Governor requires the Attendance of the Houſe, in the Council Chamber, im-"mediately."

Then the Speaker, with the whole Houſe, waited upon the Governor; and being returned, the Speaker reſumed the Chair, and reported, that the Houſe had waited upon the Governor, who was pleaſed to make a Speech to this Houſe, a Copy of which he had delivered to the Speaker.

The Governor's Speech was read at the Table, by Order, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

Governor's Speech. 'THE Honourable the Proprietaries, on the Reſignation of Mr. Morris, having been pleaſed, with his Majeſty's Royal Approbation, to appoint me to the Government 'of this Province, and the Counties of New-Caſtle, Kent and Suſſex, on Delaware, I 'am glad of the Opportunity of meeting you thus early in Aſſembly, at a Time when the 'diſtreſſed Situation of the Affairs of this Province ſo loudly calls for your immediate 'Aid and Aſſiſtance.

'I am firmly perſuaded, that nothing can ſo much recommend me to his Majeſty 'and the Proprietaries, as the Protecting this Province from the deep laid Deſigns, and 'open Attacks, of the Enemy, and the Supporting the People in the Enjoyment of their 'Civil and Religious Rights; which Duty, as well as my own Inclination, on every 'Occaſion, will lead me to.

'You cannot but have obſerved that his Majeſty, in his Declaration of War, hath aſ-'ſigned the French Encroachments in America, particularly in that Part of the Ohio lying 'within the Limits of this Province, as the principal Cauſe of his entering into this juſt 'and neceſſary War; and therefore it is particularly incumbent on you to exert your-'ſelves in the Support of ſuch Meaſures as have been, or ſhall be, concerted for carrying 'on the ſame with Vigour.

'Since my Arrival among you, I have made it my particular Buſineſs to enquire into 'the State of the Frontiers, and have heard with Horror the Devaſtations, Cruelties, 'and Murders that have been committed there.

'As I am informed that the Money heretofore raiſed is not only quite exhauſted, but 'that there are conſiderable Sums in Arrear to the Forces ſtationed on the Borders in the 'Pay of the Province, who muſt be immediately diſbanded, and the Back Inhabitants

'quickly raiſed for their Support; I muſt recommend this Matter, in the warmeſt Terms, Auguſt 24.
'to your moſt ſerious Conſideration, and doubt not you will enable me to afford the 'People that Protection they ſo much ſtand in Need of.

'The long Experience you have had in the Affairs of this Province, renders it unne-
'ceſſary for me to enter at this Time into a particular Detail of the Buſineſs that requires
'your immediate Attention; and therefore I have only in general to recommend to you
'to cultivate Harmony, and a good Underſtanding among one another.——Let Unani-
'mity and Diſpatch prevail in your Councils.——And be aſſured that I will deny you
'nothing that I can grant, conſiſtent with my Duty to his Majeſty, and the Rights of 'the Proprietaries."

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Governor's Speech was again read, and conſidered; and, after ſome Time ſpent Auguſt 25.

Reſolved, That a Sum of Money be at this Time granted to the King's Uſe; and that the Committee appointed on the Seventeenth Inſtant to prepare and bring in a Bill for granting Forty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, do, inſtead thereof, bring in a Bill with a Blank for the Sum to be granted.

An Application from James Ferguſon, one of the Inhabitants who were driven from their Settlements on Juniata, by the French and Indians; alſo an Application from Matthias Gantſhorn, who was lately wounded in the Province Service, were laid before the Houſe and read, praying for ſome Relief in their diſtreſſed Circumſtances.

Reſolved, That the Sum of Three Pounds be allowed to each of the ſaid Perſons.

An Account from Iſaac Kite, of Blockley Townſhip, for the Maintenance of French Neutrals, was laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to the Committee of Accounts.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, with ſundry Papers therein referred to, which were read, and the Meſſage is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

'THE Secretary will lay before you an Extract of a Letter I received laſt Night by A Meſſage
'Expreſs from Lord Loudon. from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'You will be pleaſed to obſerve how much all the Colonies, and this Province in 'particular, are expoſed to the immediate Attacks of a ſucceſsful and implacable Enemy.
'If the Country is to be ſaved, it muſt be by the Diſpatch and Vigour of your Reſolu-
'tions; and I make no Doubt but that you will chearfully grant ſuch Supplies as the 'Exigency of this important Service requires. May Heaven proſper your Councils! and 'permit me to remind you, it is your Duty to enable me to protect the People, and ſup-
'port his Majeſty's Government, at this moſt critical Conjuncture.

'I alſo lay before you ſome Letters from the Frontiers, where a ſpeedy Reinforce-
'ment is abſolutely neceſſary, to ſave all from Ruin.

Auguſt 27, 1756. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Secretary informed the Houſe, that as the Letter from Lieutenant Colonel Armſtrong mentioned an Affair which had hitherto been kept a Secret, the Governor deſired that it might be ſtill kept as ſuch.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Houſe being informed, that ſome of the French Neutrals were attending without, Poſt Meridiem and had ſomething to offer to the Houſe, they were called in, and preſented a Petition, of which the following is a literal Tranſlation.

To the SPEAKER, and the Honourable MEMBERS of the ASSEMBLY of Pennſylvania.

GENTLEMEN,

INASMUCH as it has pleaſed your honourable Aſſembly to manifeſt the greateſt French Neu-
Charity towards us during the Space of Ten Months, that we have now been in this trals Petition.
Province, we hope your Charity will not now fail, but that you will be pleaſed ſtill to extend it towards us an unhappy People, who have never been guilty of any Tranſgreſſion which might ſubject us to the Calamity we have been made to endure. The Gentlemen appointed by you as Commiſſioners, have made the neceſſary Proviſion for our Subſiſtance, till we were diſperſed in different Parts of the Country, ſince which Proviſions have been entirely withheld from ſeveral Families; nevertheleſs, we are perſuaded your honourable 1756. Auguſt 27. honourable Houſe is not chargeable with this Neglect. We are alſo ſenſible that we are a Burden to this Province; yet as we are here, though againſt our Will, we ſhall certainly periſh, except your Charity preſerves us.

We humbly pray, that you would extend your Goodneſs ſo far as to give us Leave to depart from hence, or be pleaſed to ſend us to our Nation; or any where, to join our Country People; but if you cannot grant us theſe Favours, we deſire that Proviſion may be made for our Subſiſtance, ſo long as we are detained here. If this our humble Requeſt ſhould be refuſed, and our Wives and Children be ſuffered to periſh before our Eyes, how grievous will this be; had we not better have died in our native Land!

It may be it will be ſaid, that we may work for our Livelihood. It is true, many of us can; but the greateſt Part are not able to do it; beſides, the Labour of one Man, ſhould he conſtantly meet with Employment, is not ſufficient to feed and clothe a Wife and five or ſix Children: Perhaps, in order to obviate this Difficulty, and take from the Father the Burden of maintaining ſo many Children, it will be propoſed that the Children be taken from their Parents; ſhould this be the Caſe, the Unhappineſs of our Condition would be much aggravated, as we ſhould thereby be compelled to forſake thoſe moſt tender Pledges which both God and Nature have committed to our Truſt.

It is true, you have been ſo good as to offer us ſome Aſſiſtance towards procuring to ourſelves a Living, ſuch as Cows, Gardens, &c. which we have refuſed; and we are told that this Refuſal has irritated the Aſſembly againſt us, and that a Part of our Proviſion has on that Account been kept from us. Our refuſing to accept of the Aſſiſtance offered to us did not ariſe from any Undervaluement of ſuch kind Offers, but it aroſe from an Opinion which we entertained, that being Priſoners; we were not obliged to make Settlements againſt our Inclination: And we hope we ſhall not be underſtood to fail in the Reſpect that is due to you, by the Acknowledgment which we now ſincerely make, that we ſhall never fully conſent * to ſettle in this Province. This our free Confeſſion will appear ſomewhat harſh, yet not ſo much ſo, if the Promiſe made us by Mr. Charles Lawrence, Governor of Nova-Scotia, be conſidered, which, in the Preſence of his Majeſty's Council was, that he made us Priſoners even like the French Priſoners, and that he would cauſe us to be tranſported to a French Country. We beſeech you, Gentlemen, let us enjoy the ſame Privileges which French Priſoners have enjoyed, that is, the Hopes of recovering our Freedom, or at leaſt be pleaſed that ſuch Proviſion be made for us, that we periſh not.

It is very hard to ſee our Subſtance, and thoſe Places which have been granted us by his Majeſty, paying the cuſtomary Dues, and which we have ſettled by the Sweat of our Brows, we ſay, it is hard to ſee theſe Places taken from us, and we tranſported in a foreign Land, and this contrary to the moſt ſolemn Promiſe, without any Occaſion given on our Part for ſuch an Uſage.

Upon a Conſideration of our Misfortunes, we hope it will pleaſe you, Gentlemen, to caſt a charitable Eye upon our unhappy Condition; don't let us periſh for Want of Food, or afford us the neceſſary Means to go and join our Country People. Theſe are the moſt earneſt Wiſhes of thoſe who are with all poſſible Reſpect,

Your very humble and obedient Servants,

Alexis Tibaudau,	Olivier Tibaudau,	Maturin Landry,
Pierre Babin,	Jean Landry,	Simon Babin,
Pierre Aucoin,	Pierre Doucet,	Philip Melanſon,
Benoni Bourg,	Jean Doucet,	Simon Le Blanc,

On the Behalf of the whole.

The Governor's Meſſage was again read, and conſidered; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the ſame was referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Auguſt 28. The Speaker laid before the Houſe ſundry Letters from Perſons reſiding on the Frontiers of this Province, which he informed the Houſe he had received from the Governor; and the ſame being read, were ordered to lie on the Table for the Peruſal of the Members.

An Address to the Governor from the Assembly.

WE look upon the Royal Approbation of the Governor's Appointment, at this critical Time, as a Mark of the paternal Regard his Majesty has, on all Occasions, extended to his Subjects, whenever their Distresses have been laid before him; and we shall most chearfully contribute our Aid and Assistance to restore the former flourishing State of Pennsylvania.

It gives us great Pleasure to find that the Governor has promised, on every Occasion, to protect this Province from the Designs and Attacks of the Enemy, and to support the People in the Enjoyment of their Civil and Religious Rights; which, from his known Character, and the Experience we have had of his Conduct since his Arrival among us, we are confident the Governor will be led to, as well from his own Inclination as from his Duty.

The extended Western Boundary of this Province, which in a great Measure covers the Colonies of Maryland, the Three Lower Counties, on Delaware, and the Province of New-Jersey, and the dispersed Manner of settling the Back Lands in this Colony and Virginia, have exposed both to greater Damage from the Inroads of the Indians; but as our Frontier is now in a better State of Defence than that of any of our Neighbours, equally near the Enemy, we cannot but hope that the Inhabitants, by the Blessing of God on the Means hitherto provided by the Legislature, may become more secure in their Settlements; and as great Unanimity prevails among the Members of our House, we shall, as far as lies in our Power, consistent with our just Rights, enable the Governor to afford the People the Continuance of "that Protection they so much stand in need of;" in full Confidence that the Governor "will deny us nothing that he can grant, consistent with his Duty to his Majesty, and the Rights of the Proprietaries."

A MESSAGE to the GOVERNOR from the ASSEMBLY.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

AS soon as we heard and considered the Governor's Speech, and before we received his Message with the Letter from Lord Loudon, we resolved to give a Sum of Money for his Majesty's Service; demonstrating, by that Readiness, that we are not insensible of our Duty to the best of Kings, nor of the Necessity of enabling the Governor at this critical Conjuncture to protect the People committed to his Care.

As former Grants of this Kind have been long delayed, or rendered ineffectual, by Means of latent Proprietary Instructions, not communicated to us till we had spent much Time in vain in forming our Bills, we would now humbly request the Governor to lay before us full Copies of such of his Instructions as relate to Money Bills of any Kind, with the Preambles or other Parts that contain the Reasons of such Instructions; that we may, if possible, avoid all Occasions of Delay in Affairs so important, and that our Judgments may be informed of the Equity or Necessity of Rules to which a Conformity is required.

From the Governor's Candour, and sincere Desire to facilitate and expedite, by every Means in his Power, what is necessary to the public Welfare, as well as from the Reasonableness of the Thing in itself, we have no Doubt that he will favour us in granting this Request."

And the foregoing Address and Message being signed by the Speaker, by Order of the House, Ordered, That Joseph Stretch, William Masters, Joseph Hamton, Thomas Cummings, Emanuel Carpenter, David M'Connaughy, Joseph Armstrong and William Edmonds wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment

1756. Auguſt 31. Poſt Meridiem

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Addreſs and Meſſage of the Houſe, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he would take them into his immediate Conſideration.

The Houſe went upon the Conſideration of the Petition from the Neutral French, now in this Province; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That George Aſhbridge and James Wright wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire a Conference with him concerning the French Neutrals now in this Province, and that he would be pleaſed to appoint ſuch Time and Place as will be moſt agreeable to him for that Purpoſe.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, together with a Copy of the Proprietary Inſtructions relating to Money Bills, which were read, and are as follow, viz.

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

GENTLEMEN,

'AGREEABLE to your Requeſt in your Meſſage of this Morning, I now lay before you Copies of the Proprietaries Inſtructions relating to Money Bills.

Auguſt 31, 1756. WILLIAM DENNY."

COPY of the Eleventh Article of the Proprietary INSTRUCTIONS.

Proprietary Inſtructions relating to Money Bills.

WHEREAS the Intereſt Money ariſing from the Loan of Bills of Credit in the ſaid Province is intended by us and the Houſe of Repreſentatives to be applied for the Public Service of the Province, and of the Inhabitants thereof; and ſhould therefore, under the Direction of the ſame Power that raiſes it, be moſt carefully applied to thoſe Purpoſes, as a greater Security to the People againſt Miſapplication than if it was entruſted only to one Branch of the Legiſlature; and ſuch was the ancient Practice in our ſaid Province. You ſhall therefore not give your Aſſent to any Bill or Act of Aſſembly for the Emitting or Re-emitting and Continuing any Paper Currency or Bills of Credit in the ſaid Province, unleſs every ſuch Bill or Act of Aſſembly do contain one or more enacting Clauſes, whereby it ſhall be effectually enacted, that the Whole of the Intereſt Money to accrue, ariſe and become payable, from the Loan of all ſuch Paper Currency or Bills of Credit hereafter to be iſſued, emitted, continued or re-emitted, ſhall be diſpoſed of only to the very Purpoſes to be mentioned and expreſſed in the ſame Act, in ſuch Caſes where the Purpoſes may conveniently be mentioned and expreſſed therein; or, where that cannot conveniently be done, then to ſuch Purpoſes only as ſhall be mentioned and expreſſed in ſome future Act of the Governor and Aſſembly, or in ſome future Vote or Reſolution of Aſſembly, approved of and ſigned by the Governor or Commander in Chief of the ſaid Province for the Time being. And whereas there is the ſame good Reaſon for ſecuring to the Uſe of the Inhabitants any Monies raiſed on them by Exciſe or any other Method, you ſhall not give your Aſſent to any Law for prolonging the preſent Exciſe, or laying any other Exciſe, or raiſing any Money on the Inhabitants of the ſaid Province of Pennſylvania, unleſs there be the like enacting Clauſe, that all Money ariſing from the ſaid Exciſe or other Duties, ſhall be diſpoſed of only to the very Purpoſes to be mentioned and expreſſed in the ſame Act, in ſuch Caſes where the Purpoſes may conveniently be mentioned and expreſſed therein; or, where that cannot conveniently be done, then to ſuch Purpoſes only as ſhall be mentioned and expreſſed in ſome future Act of the Governor and Aſſembly, or in ſome future Vote or Reſolution of Aſſembly, approved of and ſigned by the Governor or Commander in Chief in the ſaid Province for the Time being.

WHEREAS by an Act of Aſſembly paſſed in the ſaid Province, in the Twelfth Year of his preſent Majeſty's Reign, entituled, An Act for re-printing, exchanging, and re-emitting all the Bills of Credit of this Province, and for ſtriking the further Sum of Eleven Thouſand One Hundred and Ten Pounds and Five Shillings, to be emitted upon Loan, the Paper Bills or Bills of Credit of the ſaid Province amounted unto Fourſcore Thouſand Pounds, Proclamation Money, or thereabouts; and although a reaſonable and moderate Quantity of Paper Money, or Bills of Credit, in the ſaid Province, tends greatly to the Service and Benefit of the ſaid Province and its Inhabitants, as well as to the Trade of Great-Britain, yet the Making, Emitting or Continuing too large a Quantity thereof, has, in other Colonies, and would in the ſaid Province be prejudicial, and would greatly affect the Exchange and Trade of the ſaid Province: And whereas it hath been repreſented to us, that it will be of Advantage to the Trade of the ſaid Province, to re-emit and continue the ſaid Fourſcore Thouſand Pounds, and even to enlarge and encreaſe the Quantity of Paper Money, you are therefore diligently and carefully to enquire, whether it is neceſſary, and will be convenient, to re-emit the ſaid Fourſcore Thouſand Pounds; and alſo, whether it is really neceſſary to create and iſſue any further Sum in

Paper

1756. August 31.

Paper Currency or Bills of Credit in the ſaid Province: And in Caſe, upon your beſt Enquiry, you ſhall find it to be really convenient and neceſſary, and of Advantage to the ſaid Province, then, but in no other Caſe, you may paſs and give your Aſſent to any Act or Acts of Aſſembly in the ſaid Province, for re-emitting or continuing the ſaid Fourſcore Thouſand Pounds for ſuch Time as you ſhall judge proper; and alſo for raiſing and iſſuing any further Sum or Sums in Paper Currency or Bills of Credit which you ſhall think neceſſary, not to exceed the Sum of Forty Thouſand Pounds, Proclamation Money. Always provided, that on every ſuch Bill, ſtrict Regard be had to our foregoing Inſtruction, Number Eleven, as to the Diſpoſal of all the Intereſt to ariſe from ſuch Paper Money ſo to be re-emitted or continued, or to be new raiſed or iſſued. And alſo provided, that in the very Acts for re-emitting, continuing or iſſuing ſuch Paper Currency, or in ſome other diſtinct Act or Acts to be paſſed at the ſame Time, it be effectually enacted, that all Rents and Quitrents in the ſaid Province, due, or to be due and payable to the Proprietaries for the Time being, be always paid according to the Rate of Exchange, at the Times of Payment, between the Cities of Philadelphia and London, or ſome other ſufficient Proviſion be enacted in Lieu thereof, in as effectual a Manner as was done by a ſeparate Act at the Time when the ſaid Act of the Twelfth Year of his Majeſty's Reign was paſſed."

COPY of the Twenty-firſt Article of the Proprietary INSTRUCTIONS.

WHEREAS, from the firſt Settlement of the ſaid Province, ſeveral Acts of Aſſembly have from Time to Time been paſſed for raiſing Provincial Taxes; in all which, as well when the Government was (for ſome Time) in the Hands of the Crown, as when executed by Commiſſion from our late Father, the Eſtates of the Proprietary himſelf, and, in ſome of the ſaid Acts, thoſe of his Children, and Deputies alſo, were exempted from paying towards ſuch Taxes; over and beſides which Exemption, ſeveral Acts were paſſed, giving to the ſaid Proprietary a Support, by Duties and other Impoſitions, as may appear, on Examination of the ſeveral Acts of Aſſembly. And whereas, ſince the Expiration of thoſe former Laws, no Aid hath ever been granted by the Aſſembly to us, as Proprietaries, notwithſtanding which, we have on ſeveral Occaſions ſhewn our Regard to the public Service of the ſaid Province, by voluntarily and chearfully expending ſeveral conſiderable Sums of our own Money for the Advancement thereof, although no Provincial Tax hath been laid upon the People within our Time, for any Purpoſe whatſoever, until the laſt Year; ſo that as we had no Reaſon to ſuſpect that the Aſſembly of the ſaid Province would deviate ſo much from the former Uſage, as to pretend by any Act of theirs to charge our Eſtates in the ſaid Province with the Burthen of any Taxes, we had not therefore given to your Predeceſſor any particular Inſtructions on that Head. And whereas the Aſſembly of the ſaid Province, taking Occaſion of the Troubles in America, to repreſent us in a very untrue Light, as if we were unwilling to aſſiſt the Public, by contributing towards the Defence of the Country, though no Application had ever once been made to either of us for that Purpoſe, did, in the laſt Year, prepare and ſend up to our Lieutenant-Governor, a Bill of a moſt unjuſt and extraordinary Nature and Import, entituled, An Act for raiſing Fifty Thouſand Pounds for the King's Uſe, by a Tax of Twelve-pence per Pound and Twenty Shillings per Head, yearly for two Years, on all the Eſtates real and perſonal, and Taxables within this Province. By which Bill it was propoſed to be enacted, that there ſhould be levied and raiſed, upon all the Eſtates, real and perſonal, within the ſaid Province, of all and every Perſon and Perſons, the Eſtates of us the Proprietaries not excepted, the Sum of Twelve-pence for every Pound clear Value of the ſame, yearly for the Space of two Years, to be paid by the Owners or Poſſeſſors thereof; and that all located and unimproved Lands ſhould be rated according to their Situation and Value, at any Prices not exceeding Fifteen Pounds, nor under Five Pounds for every Hundred Acres of ſuch unimproved Land; and that Part of ſuch Land ſhould be ſold to diſcharge ſuch Taxes, in Caſe the Owners of the ſame, or ſome Perſon for them, neglected or refuſed to pay the Rates aſſeſſed thereon; and that the Commiſſioners and Aſſeſſors of the County of Philadelphia ſhould acquaint themſelves with, and procure the Amount, as near as they were able, of our Eſtate in Quit-rents throughout the Province, and thereupon aſſeſs and tax the ſame, in the ſame Manner as other Eſtates were aſſeſſed and taxed in the reſpective Counties, by Virtue of that Bill. And whereas there are many other Ways of raiſing a Tax of Fifty Thouſand Pounds in the ſaid Province, without reſorting to a Land Tax for that Purpoſe; but if a Land Tax was neceſſary for the Raiſing any Supply, it ſhould be founded on Juſtice, and conformable to the Royal Charter, be conſonant to Reaſon, and not repugnant or contrary, but as near as conveniently may be, agreeable to the Laws, Statutes and Rights of the Kingdom of England; but the ſaid Bill was framed ſo contrary to Juſtice, and Laws of the ſame Kind in this Kingdom, that by it One Shilling in the Pound, for two Years, was laid on the

1756. August 31. whole Value in Fee-ſimple of every Eſtate, which, ſuppoſing the ſame computed at Twenty-five Years Purchaſe only, is a Charge of a Quarter Part more than the whole groſs Rent, without allowing for any Charges or Repairs; a Tax which never was laid, nor can poſſibly be paid, in any Country; a Part of the Eſtate only being taken for the Preſervation of the Whole; nor was ſo heavy a Tax neceſſary to be laid in Pennſylvania for raiſing the Sum of Fifty Thouſand Pounds: For if that Tax had been truly and fully aſſeſſed and paid, it muſt have amounted to many times that Sum; but the Laying ſuch a large nominal Tax, appears to us to have been moſt unjuſtly calculated for the Purpoſe of putting it in the Power of Perſons, wholly choſen by the People, to tax our Eſtates up to the full Value therein mentioned, and to eaſe other Perſons, by taxing them ſo lightly, as only to make up the Reſidue that might be wanted to complete the Fifty Thouſand Pounds; in which Caſe the Perſons choſen by the People might have laid by much the greateſt Part of the Burden upon our Eſtates alone, which, by former Uſage, had never been taxed at all. And whereas the laying of Taxes on the real Value of the Fee-ſimple, and not on the yearly Income of Eſtates, and upon unimproved Lands, which yield no annual Profit or Rent to the Owner, and the Sale of the Land itſelf, and the Inheritance thereof, for Payment of the Tax impoſed thereon, appear to us highly unreaſonable, and not to be the Practice in Great-Britain, and no way agreeable, but quite contrary to the Laws and Statutes of this Kingdom: And whereas, upon the beſt Enquiries we have made, we cannot find that the Quitrents reſerved to the Crown, or to the Proprietaries, in any other of the American Colonies, have ever been taxed towards the Raiſing any Supplies granted in thoſe Colonies; and indeed theſe Quitrents are generally ſo ſmall, that little or no Land-Tax would be due or payable on them if ariſing in Great-Britain, where Land-Tax Acts are annually paſſed, and the Grantees and Owners of ſuch Farms and Plantations on which ſuch very ſmall Quitrents or Acknowledgments are reſerved to us, do, in Caſe of a Land-Tax, pay Tax for the Value of ſuch their ſaid Farms: And whereas our Lieutenant Governor propoſed to the Aſſembly, to except or exempt our Eſtates out of the Tax to be raiſed by the ſaid Fifty Thouſand Pound Bill, which they refuſing to do, he never gave his Aſſent to the ſaid Bill, but acquainted the Aſſembly (as the Truth was) that we were ſo far from deſiring not to contribute to the Defence and Support of his Majeſty's Rights and Dominions, that immediately, on the firſt Notice ſent us of the Defeat of General Braddock, we had ſent over an Order upon our Receiver General, to pay out of the Arrears of our Quitrents the Sum of Five Thouſand Pounds, as a free Gift, towards the Defence of the ſaid Province; deſiring, at the ſame Time, that all Diſputes might be laid aſide, and that the Governor and Aſſembly would join together in Meaſures to oppoſe the common Enemy: And whereas we believe, that ſuch Five Thouſand Pounds, ſo by us given, was about Twenty times more than the Tax upon all our Eſtate there, if truly and proportionably rated, according to all other Perſons Eſtates in the ſaid Province could amount to towards raiſing a Sum of Fifty Thouſand Pounds: And whereas the Aſſembly afterwards prepared and ſent up to the ſaid Lieutenant Governor another Bill, entituled, An Act for granting the Sum of Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and for ſtriking Fifty-five Thouſand Pounds thereof in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for ſinking the ſame, whereby they propoſed to enact, that there ſhould be levied upon all the Eſtates, Real and Perſonal, within that Province, of all and every Perſon and Perſons (our Eſtates only excepted, in Conſideration of our free Gift herein before and in the ſaid Bill afterward mentioned) the Sum of Six-pence for every Pound, clear Value of the ſaid Eſtates yearly for the Space of four Years; and alſo, that all located and unimproved Lands in the ſaid Province ſhould be rated in ſuch Manner, and at ſuch Values, as had been propoſed in the ſaid former Bill, and that Part of ſuch Lands ſhould be ſold, in Caſe of Neglect or Refuſal to pay the Tax thereon: And whereas his Majeſty's Service, and the Defence of the ſaid Province, then requiring Money to be immediately raiſed, and our ſaid Lieutenant Governor not being provided with our particular Inſtructions relating to any ſuch Bill, he aſſented to the ſame in the Month of November laſt; and when the ſaid Act was ſent over hither for the Approbation of his Majeſty, we, tendering as we ought to do, the then Exigency of Affairs, and the Neceſſity of an immediate Supply for his Majeſty's Service, did not make any Application to his Majeſty for his Royal Diſallowance of the ſaid Act, as we ſhould have done at another Time, and on a leſs Occaſion: And whereas the ſaid Aſſembly, in order to raiſe the ſaid Tax, had, by both their ſaid Bills, appointed Commiſſioners and Aſſeſſors (Perſons choſen by the People only, and not any one of them by us) and thoſe but very few in Number, to aſſeſs or fix the Quotas which each Eſtate ſhould pay; which Perſons, if ever ſo well diſpoſed to act fairly and uprightly therein, can have no Knowledge of the true Value of all the ſeveral Eſtates to be taxed, and yet are made final and abſolute Judges, without Appeal, what Sum each Eſtate ſhall pay towards raiſing the ſaid Tax; whereby, and by laying ſo great a Tax, to raiſe ſo ſmall a Sum, ſuch Perſons may have it in their Power to commit great Irregularities, in taxing ſome Eſtates to their utmoſt Value, and eaſing others, which would be unequal and unjuſt, we having been informed, that in assessing the ordinary County Levies on the like Plan with that whereon the said Bills were formed, many Persons, instead of being rated to their full Worth, were not rated at one Fiftieth Part of their supposed Worth: And whereas the said Assembly appear to us to have been inclined not only to load and burden our Estates with Taxes by their Authority, directly contrary to former Usage, but even to charge the same disproportionably, and in an unequal Manner, in order to ease the Estates of others, which is a Measure we are by no Means willing to consent to: And as the present Invasion of his Majesty's American Dominions may make it necessary to raise further Supplies for his Service in our said Province, the Assembly may hereafter propose and offer Bills or Acts of Assembly, to lay additional Taxes on real Estates there; You are therefore hereby required and directed, not to give your Assent to any Bill or Act of Assembly of that Sort, unless the Act be made to continue for one single Year only, and no longer; nor unless the same be made as agreeable as possible to the general Tenor of the Acts of Parliament annually passed for raising the Land-Tax in that Part of Great-Britain called England (especially by laying the Tax, with respect to real Estates, upon the particular Houses or Lands, in the respective Counties or Districts) by which the Rate of it may at any Time be seen; nor unless the Tax, as to real Estates, be laid upon the true annual Rent or yearly Value only (such yearly Value, where Persons occupy their own Lands or Houses, to be ascertained in some such Manner as herein after mentioned) and not upon the real Value of the Fee-simple of the real Estate; nor unless the Tax, as to personal Estate, be laid upon the annual Interest or Profit, and not upon the whole Capital thereof; nor unless the whole Method of Assessing, Collecting and Paying in of the same, be particularly and specially laid down in the Body of such Bill or Act itself, and not by Reference to any other Bill or Act; nor unless, in order that such Bill or Act may be founded in equal Justice, there be effectual Clauses therein to ascertain the true and real Rent or yearly Value of every Estate in Land or Houses in the Province; First, by having a good Number of the most considerable Inhabitants out of every Township in the several Counties inserted in the Bill as Commissioners; such Commissioners, before they act, to be solemnly sworn, or affirmed, to do impartial Justice, and to have Power in them to cite and compel to appear and be sworn or affirmed before them, all Tenants and other Persons, in order to discover what Rents are really and truly paid, in Cases where Land or Houses are let out at Rack Rents; and in other Cases, or where Persons occupy their own Land, or reside in their own Houses, the Commissioners to have Power to enquire by the Means aforesaid, or by any other lawful and reasonable Ways and Means, what the Inheritance of such Lands and Houses is worth to be sold at the utmost, and then to estimate and tax such Houses and Lands as of the yearly Value of so much as the Interest of such Sum, at the low Rate of Three Pounds per Centum per Annum, amounts to; nor unless all unoccupied and unimproved Lands whatsoever, and also all our Quitrents in the said Province be expressly excepted and exempted from such Tax: But in Case the Assembly shall propose to raise Supplies by a Land-Tax Bill, and such Bill shall be clear of every the foregoing Objections or Prohibitions, and shall not contain any Tax further than after the Rate of One Shilling, Two, Three, or at the utmost Four Shillings in the Pound, for any one Year, upon the annual Rent or yearly Value, so to be ascertained as aforesaid, of Houses, Lands or Tenements, in the said Province; and also to tax personal Estates in the said Province, subject to the foregoing Regulations; then, and in such Case, you may give your Assent to the same, if you think the same a reasonable, just and necessary Bill in all other Respects. And you shall take Care, that every such Bill or Act, which you shall assent to, shall contain Clauses for the Tenants of real Estates paying such Tax, and deducting the same out of the yearly Rent payable to the Landlord, provided such yearly Rent amounts to the Sum of Twenty Shillings and upwards, according to the Act for laying a Land-Tax in England, and Clauses for Distress upon any Matters distrainable, being upon the taxed Premises; but no Clause or Power to distrain or sell the House or Land itself, or any Part thereof, in any Case, for Satisfaction of the Tax; and unless such Clauses be inserted, you shall not give your Assent to any such Bill or Act. And whereas we are, and always have been, most ready and willing to bear a just Proportion along with our Tenants in any necessary Tax for the Defence of the said Province, which shall be equally laid upon the Lands of the Inhabitants, and also upon any of our Manors or Lands, which are actually let out on Leases, either for Lives or Years, as being Estates in some Degree like to those of which the Inhabitants are possessed; therefore you are at Liberty to give your Consent to any reasonable Bill or Act for that Purpose, provided the Tax to be paid for such our last-mentioned Estates shall be payable by the Tenants and Occupiers, who shall deduct the same out of the Rents payable by them to us. And you shall not consent to any Bill or Act for taxing the Fine or Purchase-Monies, to be paid to us by any Person, on Purchase from us of any Estate, in Fee-simple, or for Life or Lives, as the Tax is to be laid on the Land; and the Taxing the Money paid for the Purchase of the Lands, or of a Freehold or Inheritance therein, would be, in Effect, to pay two Taxes for the same Thing; and 1756. August 31. that Landlords, in this Kingdom, do not pay any Land-Tax for ſuch Purchaſe-Monies, but only for the reſerved Rent, when it amounts to above Twenty Shillings per Annum, the Reſidue of the Tax for ſuch Land being paid by the Purchaſer.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment September 1.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he would be at the Council Chamber by Twelve o'Clock this Morning, in order to confer with the Houſe concerning the French Neutrals.

Ordered, That Joſeph Fox, John Hughes, William Maſters, Samuel Brown and Joſeph Gibbons be, with the Speaker, a Committee to confer with the Governor concerning the French Neutrals now in this Province.——And the Houſe being informed that the Governor was in the Council Chamber, the Committee waited upon him accordingly. And being returned, the Speaker reported, that they had ſome Converſation with the Governor concerning the French Neutrals, but did not come to any Concluſion thereupon, as the Governor informed the Committee that there was a Letter from the Governor of Nova-Scotia, and ſeveral other Papers on that Head, which he had not as yet peruſed, but that he would immediately take them into his Conſideration, and lay them before his Council for their Opinion, and then acquaint the Houſe with his Reſult.

The Houſe went upon the Conſideration of the Proprietaries Inſtructions, and Ways and Means for raiſing a Sum of Money for the King's Uſe; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the ſame was referred to farther Conſideration in the Afternoon.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Houſe again reſumed the Conſideration of the Proprietary Inſtructions, and Ways and Means for raiſing a Sum of Money for the King's Uſe; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That Joſeph Fox and Benjamin Franklin wait upon the Governor, and deliver the following Meſſage, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

THE Houſe have taken into their moſt ſerious Conſideration the Proprietary Inſtructions relating to the Paſſing of Money Bills, which the Governor has been pleaſed to lay before us; and as we are fully convinced the preſent unhappy Circumſtances of this Province require very large and immediate Supplies, we have likewiſe conſidered the Funds whereby ſuch Sums as we judge abſolutely neceſſary for the Security of the Province may be ſunk, but every Thing we have hitherto been able to propoſe, muſt be rendered in a great Degree fruitleſs by thoſe Inſtructions, if adhered to.

We therefore requeſt the Governor would be pleaſed to inform us, whether he does not apprehend himſelf at Liberty, notwithſtanding the ſaid Proprietary Inſtructions, to paſs ſuch equitable Bills as we may offer him, if conſiſtent with his own Judgment, and agreeable to ſuch Laws as have been enacted by his Predeceſſors, and received the Royal Aſſent.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment September 2.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of Yeſternight, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he would ſend an Anſwer to the Houſe this Morning.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'I AM very glad to hear the Houſe have taken the Money Bills into their ſerious Conſideration, and the Proprietary Inſtructions on that Subject.

'It would be with great Reluctance, eſpecially at this Time, if I ſhould differ in 'Sentiments with the Houſe of Repreſentatives. You will be pleaſed to obſerve how 'I am circumſtanced, and that I cannot recede from my Inſtructions without riſking 'both my Honour and Fortune, which, I am perſuaded, you, Gentlemen, are too equi-'table to deſire.

September 2, 1756. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Houſe again reſumed the Conſideration of the Proprietary Inſtructions, and Ways and Means for raiſing a Sum of Money for the King's Uſe, and after ſome Time ſpent therein, Reſolved,

September 2.

Resolved, That the Sum to be granted to the King's Use at this Time be Sixty Thousand Pounds, and that the same be struck in Bills of Credit, and sunk by an Extension of the Excise Act for Twenty Years.

Ordered, That the Committee appointed to prepare a Bill for granting a Sum of Money to the King's Use, do prepare the same according to the foregoing Resolve.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment Post Meridiem

A Bill for striking the Sum of Sixty Thousand Pounds in Bills of Credit, and giving the same to the King's Use; and for providing a Fund to sink the Bills so to be emitted, by laying an Excise on Wine, Rum, Brandy, and other Spirits, was brought in by the Committee appointed to prepare the same, read the first time, and ordered a second Reading.

A Message from the Governor, by the Secretary:

SIR,

"The Governor directs me to inform the Speaker, and the Committee, that it is the "unanimous Opinion of the Council and himself, that the French Prisoners should not "be treated as Prisoners of War.——That he recommends it to the House to provide "for them in such a Manner as they shall think fit.——That it might be better they "should be more generally dispersed and settled as far from the Frontiers as possible.

"Governor Lawrence's Letter is sent, to shew the House under what Circumstances "the Neutrals came here."

A Petition from Joseph Redman, of the City of Philadelphia, was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that the Petitioner apprehends with Submission that he has faithfully executed his late Office of Collector of the Excise for the City and County of Philadelphia, to the general Satisfaction of all Persons concerned; the Petitioner therefore prays that he may be appointed to the said Office in the Excise Bill now before the House.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

Adjournment September 3.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

The Bill for granting Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use was read the second time, and after some Time spent in Consideration thereof, the same was referred to farther Consideration in the Afternoon.

Upon Motion made,

Ordered, That John Hughes and Daniel Roberdeau wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the House desire to know whether some Letters have not been received by the late Governor from Lord Loudon, expressing his Expectations from this Province at the present Juncture, and request if any such Letters have been received, that they may be laid before the House for their Consideration.

Adjournment Post Meridiem

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Message of the House, report, that they had delivered the same according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say, that he would enquire whether any Letters had been received from Lord Loudon by the late Governor, and let the House know this Afternoon.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down sundry Letters received by the late Governor relating to public Affairs, which had not been communicated to the House before; and the Secretary informed the House that the Governor was pleased to say, that he made no Doubt but the House would think with him that the said Letters ought not to be made public.

And the same being read, were severally entituled as follow, viz.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, that Isaac Norris, Lyn-Ford Lardner, John Mifflin, Benjamin Franklin, Joseph Fox, John Hughes and William Masters, Esquires, or the major Part of them, or of the Survivors of them, with the Consent and Approbation of the Governor, or Commander in Chief of this Province for the Time being, and not otherwise, shall order and appoint the Disposition of the Residue of the Monies arising, by Virtue of this Act, for the King's Use."

Ordered, That Joseph Stretch and John Hughes do wait upon the Governor and deliver the Bill for regulating and continuing the Nightly Watch, &c. with the following Message, viz.

May it pleaſe the GOVERNOR,

September 9. A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

WE herewith ſend up to the Governor a Bill, entituled, An Act for regulating and continuing the Nightly Watch, and enlightening the Streets, Lanes and Alleys of the City of Philadelphia, and for raiſing of Money on the Inhabitants and Eſtates of the ſaid City for defraying the neceſſary Expences thereof.

This Bill was framed and ſent up to our late Governor near the End of his Adminiſtration, and, after ſeveral Amendments, was agreed to by both Parts of the Legiſlature, and engroſſed by Order of the Houſe. In this Situation it lay ready to be enacted into a Law when the Governor arrived among us: We have therefore by ſpecial Order inſerted his Name into the enacting Clauſe, and now ſend up the engroſſed Bill, together with the one which had been conſidered by our late Governor.

If the Governor ſhall think fit to paſs this Bill, we will, whenever it may ſuit him, appoint two of our Members to join ſuch of the Council as he may be pleaſed to nominate for comparing the ſame, in order to its being enacted into a Law.

September 9, 1756. Signed, by Order of the Houſe,
ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

September 10. Sundry Accounts from Bethlehem, in Northampton County, for the Maintenance of Indians, and other public Expences, were laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to further Conſideration.

Poſt Meridiem An Account from Conrad Young, of Lancaſter County, for Maintenance of ſundry Indians, in February laſt, who came down to Philadelphia with Captain Thomas Magee, was laid before the Houſe and read, and referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

September 11. Ordered, That Samuel Brown and Joſeph Gibbons wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, has now been near three Days before him, and the Houſe deſire to know when they may expect his Reſult thereupon.

The Houſe reſumed the Conſideration of the Petition from Joſeph Yeates, a languiſhing Priſoner in the Goal of the City of Philadelphia; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That the ſaid Yeates have Leave to bring in a Bill for the Purpoſes mentioned in his ſaid Petition, and that he firſt give Notice thereof to his Creditor or his Attorney.

A Meſſage from the Governor, by the Secretary:

S I R,

" The Governor meeting with ſome Difficulties in the Conſideration of the Bill for " granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, deſires a Conference with a Com- " mittee of the Houſe thereupon, in the Council Chamber, on Monday next, at Ten " o'Clock in the Morning, if that Time be agreeable to the Houſe."——And then the Secretary withdrew.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, return, and report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he had juſt ſent the Secretary with a Meſſage to the Houſe concerning the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe.

Reſolved, That this Houſe doth agree to a Conference with the Governor, agreeable to his Deſire.

Ordered, That Joſeph Fox, John Hughes, Thomas Leech, Daniel Roberdeau, Benjamin Franklin, William Maſters, Calvin Cooper, Joſeph Armſtrong, John Potts and William Edmonds be, with the Speaker, a Committee to confer with the Governor on the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, at the Time and Place by him propoſed.

Ordered, That John Hughes and Daniel Roberdeau wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe have appointed a Committee to confer with him, according to his Requeſt.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to next Second-day, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon.

September 13. The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

Poſt Meridiem The Committee appointed to confer with the Governor on the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, reported, that, purſuant to the Order of the Houſe, they had waited on the Governor, who was pleaſed to expreſs himſelf to the following Purport, viz.

" That although, at the Requeſt of the Houſe, he had laid the Proprietary Inſtruc- " tions before them, with the utmoſt Candour, yet he was ſurprized to find there was " a Clauſe in the Bill now before him, whereby the Surplus Money (if any) was to be " in the Diſpoſition of the Aſſembly, contrary to the ſaid Proprietary Inſtructions; that " the Term for ſinking the Sum granted to the King's Uſe was too long, and would

" depreciate

" depreciate the Value of the Currency; that ſo long a Time was contrary to the Senſe " of the Miniſtry, and the Spirit of the Act of Parliament, which reſtrains the Eaſtern " Colonies from ſtriking Bills of Credit for any longer Term, even upon the moſt preſ- " ſing Emergencies, than Five Years only; that in the Report of the Board of Trade " on the Act paſſed by this Aſſembly, for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's " Uſe, the chief Reaſon their Lordſhips urged for not adviſing his Majeſty to diſallow " that Act, was the Shortneſs of the Time for ſinking the ſame; and that there were " many Ways to ſink the Sum granted to the King's Uſe, by the preſent Bill, without " extending the Exciſe for ſo long a Time."

1756. September 13.

The Governor then made the following Objections (the Heads of which he afterwards delivered to them, at their Requeſt, in Writing,) viz.

OBJECTIONS to the Bill for raiſing Sixty Thouſand Pounds for the King's Uſe, &c. &c. &c.

Governor's Objections to the 60,000 £. Bill.

OBJECTION 1ſt, To the Term of Twenty Years, as too long a Time.

As ſo long a Term may endanger the entire Loſs of the Currency. The Lords of Trade in their Report of April 15, 1756, to the Committee of his Majeſty's Honourable Privy Council for Trade and Plantations on the laſt Act for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, having expreſsly declared, that the Shortneſs of the Time was the Reaſon that induced their Lordſhips to adviſe his Majeſty to give his Aſſent to it.

2d, To the Diſpoſition of the Surplus Money to ariſe on this Bill, by the Aſſembly alone.

3d, To the Making the Ten Thouſand Pounds, given in the Bill as a Contribution to a General Fund, ſubject to the Order of Lord Loudon only, and not of the Commander in Chief for the Time being of the King's Forces in America.

4th, To the Applying any of the Money to be raiſed by this Bill, to the Diſcharge of Ten Thouſand Pounds given for the Uſe of the Crown-Point Expedition, and the Intereſt ariſing on that Sum.

As the ſaid Sum was iſſued upon a Fund already eſtabliſhed.

5th, Againſt the Clauſe ſubjecting Perſons counterfeiting Bills of Credit to Capital Puniſhment, by a Reference to a former Law, which will expire before the Time limited in the Bill.

As he had taken the Advice of a Lawyer, who was of Opinion that a Puniſhment could not be inflicted by referring to a Law, after the ſaid Law ſhould be expired.

6th, Againſt laying Fines on the Court of Quarter-Seſſions, &c. &c.

As it was new and unprecedented to fine a Court.

7th, Againſt Collectors continuing only one Year in Office.

As in ſo ſhort a Time as one Year the Collectors could not ſufficiently learn the Duties of their Office.

8th, Againſt Treaſurers giving Bond to the Governor, who in Law has no Succeſſion, not being a Body Politic.

9th, Againſt taking Treaſurers Bond in ſo ſmall a Sum as One Thouſand Pounds.

10th, Againſt applying any Part of the Monies ariſing from this Bill towards the Diſcharge of any Part of the Five Thouſand Pounds given for the Canada Expedition.

As the ſame was already provided for in the former Exciſe Act.

After which the Governor added,

" That he had ſeveral Applications to him from the Frontiers, requeſting the Aid of " the Legiſlature under their preſent diſtreſſed Circumſtances: That the Eyes of the " neighbouring Colonies were upon us, and, above all, the Nation of England were in " Expectation of our granting the neceſſary Supplies for the King's Service; that he was " ſorry to find the firſt Bill offered to him ſhould be ſuch as he could not paſs; and that " he hoped we ſhould ſo conduct ourſelves as that he might make a favourable Repre- " ſentation of our Conduct to his Majeſty."

The Committee likewiſe reported, that as the Houſe had not been previouſly acquainted with the Objections intended by the Governor to be made the Subject of the Conference, they did not think it proper to make any immediate Anſwer thereto; and had therefore informed the Governor, that they would lay the ſaid Objections before the Houſe, and take the Senſe of the Members thereupon, which they would communicate to the Governor at another Conference, if he would be pleaſed to conſent to one for that Purpoſe; to which the Governor replied, that he ſhould be always ready to confer with the Houſe, at any Time they ſhould propoſe.

The Speaker informed the Houſe, that the Governor having told him at the Conference that he agreed to the Paſſing the Bill for regulating and continuing the Nightly Watch, &c. and had appointed two of his Council to join ſuch Members of the Houſe as ſhould be appointed to examine and compare the engroſſed Bill with the Original, he, the Speaker, had, in order to ſave Time, appointed Joſeph Fox and John Potts, to meet the ſaid Members of Council for that Purpoſe.

And

1756. September 13. And the ſaid Gentlemen reported, that they had, with two Members of Council, compared the engroſſed Bill with the Original accordingly, and found them to agree.

The Houſe went upon the Conſideration of the Report of the Committee appointed to confer with the Governor on the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That Joſeph Fox, John Hughes, Daniel Roberdeau, Benjamin Franklin and William Maſters be a Committee to prepare ſuch Reaſons as they may judge proper to be offered in Anſwer to the Governor's Objections to the ſaid Bill.

Ordered, That Richard Pearn and William Edmonds wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire another Conference with him on the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and requeſt that he would be pleaſed to appoint a Time for that Purpoſe.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order, and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he would be at the Council Chamber To-morrow Morning at Ten o'Clock, in order to confer with a Committee of the Houſe upon the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe.

The Committee appointed to prepare Reaſons in Anſwer to the Governor's Objections to the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, reported the ſame to the Houſe in Writing; and the ſame being read, and conſidered, were approved by the Houſe, and ordered to be tranſcribed.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

September 14. The Reaſons in Anſwer to the Governor's Objections to the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe being tranſcribed, were delivered to the Committee appointed to confer with the Governor thereupon.

And then the Committee went to the Conference.

The Committee return, and report, that they had met the Governor in Council, and had offered the following Reaſons in Anſwer to the Objections made by him to the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, which he ſaid he would take into Conſideration, and let the Houſe know his Reſult thereupon as ſoon as poſſible.

REASONS offered to the GOVERNOR, by the Committee of ASSEMBLY, at a ſecond Conference, in Anſwer to the GOVERNOR'S Objections to the Bill for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the KING's Uſe.

Reaſons, in Anſwer to the Governor's Objections to the 60,000£ Bill. The Houſe are very thankful to the Governor for the Readineſs and Candour with which he communicated to them the Proprietary Inſtructions, relating to Money Bills.

They deſire he would be pleaſed to remember, that they requeſted the Reaſons on which thoſe Inſtructions were founded, as well as the Inſtructions themſelves; their Deſign being to comply with the Inſtructions, if the Reaſons ſhould convince their Judgments, but not otherwiſe, the Proprietary Inſtructions being by no Means Laws in this Province.

They have the greateſt Reſpect and Eſteem for the Governor, and the ſtrongeſt and moſt ſincere Deſire to do every Thing that may be agreeable to him, conſiſtent with the juſt Rights and Privileges of the People they repreſent.——They beg therefore that he would be pleaſed to give no Ear to any Inſinuations to the contrary. And the Committee having taken the Senſe of the Houſe on the Objections made to the Bill for raiſing Sixty Thouſand Pounds for the King's Uſe, humbly offer the following Remarks to the Governor on thoſe Objections, in their Order.

1. The Houſe choſe, at this Time, an Exciſe Bill rather than a Land-Tax Bill, to avoid any Diſpute about taxing the Proprietary Eſtate, and becauſe, as it was a Mode of raiſing Money they were uſed to and underſtood, the Bill might more ſpeedily be formed and brought to Effect, ſo as to anſwer the preſent preſſing Emergency; and being in the ſame Form with a Number of preceding Exciſe Bills, that had been paſſed by former Governors, gone through the Offices at Home, and received the Royal Aſſent; they well hoped it might meet with no Objections.

The laſt time it paſſed, the Term was Ten Years. No Inconvenience aroſe from the Length of that Term. Could we have ſunk the Sum we wanted by the Exciſe in that Term, we ſhould not deſire to extend it. But we expect it will not yield more in Twenty Years than the Sixty Thouſand Pounds granted. The Act of Parliament made for the Eaſtern Colonies, is not in Force here. Had the Parliament thought it fit that this Province ſhould be governed by that Act, they would not have excluded Pennſylvania out of the Bill, as they actually did. Governor Hamilton had formerly offered to extend the Exciſe to any Term, during which we would load it with Three Thouſand Pounds per Annum, granted to the Crown. From whence we concluded the Term of Twenty Years would not be objected to, Sixty Thouſand Pounds being granted.

Other Taxes or Exciſes on other Conſumptions might poſſibly be laid, but we have no Experience of them: They will require a Time of more Leiſure to be well conſidered, and Laws for collecting them properly formed, ſo as to be effectual, and not injurious to our Trade. If this War continues, we may ſoon want them all; and the ſucceeding Assembly may take those Matters in Hand immediately after their Meeting, so as to have such new Excises ready before the Money now granted is expended; though we still think a well proportioned Tax on Property the most equal and just Way of raising Money. 1756. September 14.

If every Man who received our Bills of Credit in Payment, was obliged to keep them in his Hands till the End of Twenty Years, to be sure the Length of the Term would occasion a proportionable Depreciation. But they being a legal Tender in all Payments, and the Possessor able to exchange them immediately for their Value, it is not Length of Term, but Excess of Quantity, that must occasion their Depreciation; and that Quantity is by this Bill yearly to diminish. Besides, the Eighty Thousand Pounds we have out on Loan, is now to sink in the next six Years, which will greatly lessen our Currency, and consequently lessen the Danger of the Depreciation.

If the Quantity should prove too great, which we believe it will not, a subsequent Act, laying Excise or Duty on other Commodities, encreasing the Duty per Gallon, raising it also from private Consumption, or obtaining Money by any other Means for the public Service, may be made, and the Money applied to the more speedy Sinking this Sixty Thousand Pounds.

2. There will probably be little or no Surplus left to the Disposition of the Assembly. People now leave the Province faster than they come into it. The Importation of Germans is pretty much over. Many go from us to settle where Land is cheaper. —— The Danger attending Frontier Settlements will probably be long remembered, even after a Peace may be restored. And if our Inhabitants diminish, the Excise will be lessened instead of being increased. ——At its best, it produces, communibus Annis, not more than Three Thousand Pounds per Annum.

In former Excise Laws the Assembly have had the Disposition of the Whole.—They preserved the public Credit. Paid all public Debts punctually every Year. — And have not abused the Trust reposed in them.

The Instruction is not a Royal but Proprietary Instruction, calculated to establish arbitrary Government among us, to distress the Assembly and People, and put it out of their Power to support their Complaints at Home. It would moreover deprive us of a just Right and Privilege, enjoyed from the first Settlement of the Country.

3. Lord Loudon is a Nobleman distinguished by the great Trust the Crown hath placed in him. We have likewise received a high Character of his Integrity and Uprightness, which induces us to confide in him. The Chance of War (which Heaven prevent) may, after several Removes, give him a Successor unknown to us. If it should be found necessary and convenient before the Money is expended, the Governor and Assembly can at any Time, by a little Act, subject the Remainder to the Order of his Successor, the Commander in Chief for the Time being.

4. It is true, there was a Fund appropriated to sink the Notes issued for the Grant to the Crown-Point Expedition. That Fund in a great Measure fails by the Loss of one whole County to the Enemy, and the Abandoning considerable Parts of other Counties, where Lands mortgaged to the Loan-Office are situated. The whole Sum was appropriated to the King's Service. And if those Notes had not been issued, that Assistance could not have been given, as our Affairs were then circumstanced. They cannot be redeemed in due Time by that Fund, without adding to the Distresses of the People, already too great, and the Public Credit ought to be kept up, as it may be wanted on some future Emergency. Besides, those Notes bear Interest, and at this Time the Province is less able than ever to pay Interest. We should now save Money by all Means in our Power.

5. Though the Law referred to may expire some Years before the Time limited in the Bill, yet as the Punishment is to be inflicted by Virtue of the present Law, and not by Virtue of the Law referred to, which is only referred to for the Description of the Punishment; and as that Law, after its Expiration, will still remain on our Records, we apprehend no Inconveniency can arise from the Reference objected to. If any should arise, a subsequent Act may remedy it.

6. By all former Excise Laws it was required of the Magistrates not to grant Recommendations till the Certificates of Payment of Excise were produced; but no Penalty was laid for their Non-compliance. A Law without a Penalty is vain. This has proved so; being generally disregarded. As it is for the King, tending to the more effectual Collection of the Excise granted, and by no Means difficult to be complied with by the Magistrates, we think it reasonable to fix a Penalty on that Breach of Duty.

7. If the Clause were, that the Collector should not be capable of being re-appointed after one Year, the Reason would have more Weight. But he may, and probably will, be continued from Year to Year, if he shews himself diligent in Collecting, and punctual in Paying his Collections to the Treasurer. We have found by Experience, that Officers appointed for long Terms, grow negligent of their Duty, and yet are not easily removed. Great Sums have thereby been lost to the Public. And we have had Instances 1756. September 14. of Collectors appointed to fill a Vacancy a Year before the Expiration of the Term, being extremely diligent, in order to recommend themſelves to a Continuance after the Year ſhould expire, which has proved much to the public Advantage. Our Sheriffs and Coroners, whoſe Duty is more hard to learn, are choſen from Year to Year, without any Inconvenience.

8, 9. In theſe Particulars, the Bill is conformable to former Exciſe Laws, which have received the Royal Aſſent, and no Inconvenience has ariſen.

10. The Fund appropriated for ſinking the Five Thouſand Pounds, given for the Canada Expedition, was broke in upon by the late extraordinary Demands for public Money. Five Thouſand Pounds was given in Proviſions to General Braddock, and near Four Thouſand Pounds more to cut a Road for the King's Service at the Inſtance of that General; beſides large Sums for the Maintenance of Indians, extraordinary and expenſive Treaties, &c. not expected or foreſeen when the Fund was laid. It may therefore fall ſhort, and the outſtanding Debts not pay the Whole, but however the Public Credit ought to be ſupported; and the new laid Exciſe is the moſt proper Fund to ſupply Deficiencies in the Old.

The Houſe cannot be ſuppoſed inſenſible of the Diſtreſſes of their Fellow-Subjects on the Frontiers. Several of the Members reſide there. They hoped they had in this Bill provided for thoſe People the Means of ſpeedy Aſſiſtance, and avoided all Objections. They ſee none now of Importance enough, in their Opinion, to prevent the Paſſage of the Bill. They grant the Money freely to the King's Uſe, and cannot admit of Amendments to a Money Bill: They therefore perſuade themſelves, that the Governor will conſider the preſent Circumſtances of the Province, and the Conſequence of diſpiriting the Inhabitants, by depriving them at this Time of their Privileges, without which they would think the Country ſcarce worth defending; and that he will not ſuffer a Proprietary Inſtruction, new, unjuſt, and unſeaſonable, to deprive his Majeſty of a Grant ſo large, ſo freely given, and ſo neceſſary for his Service; and for the Preſervation of the Proprietary Eſtate, as well as the ſecuring the Lives and Fortunes of the Inhabitants, who promiſed themſelves great Happineſs in being placed immediately under his Care and Protection.

A Bill for the Relief of Joſeph Yeates, a languiſhing Priſoner in the Goal of Philadelphia, with Reſpect to the Impriſonment of his Perſon, was brought in, according to the Leave of the Houſe, read the firſt time, and ordered a ſecond Reading.

A Copy of the Notice ſent by the ſaid Yeates to his Creditor, or, in Caſe of his Abſence, to the Attorney of the ſaid Creditor, was laid before the Houſe and read.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down the engroſſed Bill for regulating and continuing the Nightly Watch, &c. with a verbal Meſſage, that as the ſame had been compared and found to agree with the Original, he was ready to paſs it into a Law whenever the Houſe ſhould preſent it to him for that Purpoſe.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Houſe again reſumed the Conſideration of the Proprietary Inſtructions, relating to Money Bills, and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That John Hughes, Thomas Leech, Daniel Roberdeau, Benjamin Franklin and William Maſters be a Committee to conſider the ſaid Inſtructions, and report their Opinion thereon to the Houſe.

Ordered, That the ſame Committee do likewiſe (if they find they have ſufficient Time during the Sitting of this Aſſembly) draw up a Repreſentation of the preſent State of this Province, and report the ſame to the Houſe.

Ordered, That Joſeph Trotter and Griffith Owen wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire he would be pleaſed to appoint a Time when they ſhall wait upon him, in order to enact the Bill for regulating and continuing the Nightly Watch, &c. into a Law.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

September 15. The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, reported, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he would be at the Council Chamber at a Quarter after Eleven o'Clock, in order to enact the Bill for regulating and continuing the Nightly Watch, &c. into a Law.

Ordered, That Joſeph Fox and Daniel Roberdeau ſee the Great Seal affixed to the Law, after it ſhall be paſſed, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office.

Then the Speaker, with the whole Houſe, waited upon the Governor. — And being returned, the Speaker reſumed the Chair, and reported, that the Houſe had waited on the Governor with the Bill, entituled, An Act for regulating and continuing the Nightly Watch, and enlightening the Streets, Lanes and Alleys of the City of Philadelphia; and for raiſing of Money on the Inhabitants, and Eſtates of the ſaid City, for defraying the neceſſary Expences thereof; to which the Governor was pleaſed to give his Aſſent, by enacting the ſame into a Law.

A Message from the Governor, by the Secretary:

SIR,

"The Governor returns the Bill, entituled, An Act for striking the Sum of Sixty Thou-"sand Pounds in Bills of Credit, and giving the same to the King's Use, and for provide-"ing a Fund to sink the Bills so to be emitted, by laying an Excise upon Wine, Rum, Brandy, "and other Spirits. And his Honour commands me to acquaint the House, that he will "not give his Assent to it; and there being no Person to judge between the Governor "and the House in these Parts, he will immediately transmit to his Majesty his Reasons "for so doing."

After some Time spent in the Consideration of the foregoing Message, the same was referred to further Consideration.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Bill for the Relief of Joseph Yeates, a languishing Prisoner in the Goal of Philadelphia, with respect to the Imprisonment of his Person, was read the second time, and debated; and, after some Alterations made therein, it was ordered to be transcribed for a third Reading. Post Meridiem

The Bill, entituled, An Act for the Relief of Joseph Yeates, a languishing Prisoner in the Goal of Philadelphia, with respect to the Imprisonment of his Person, being transcribed, was read the third time. September 16.

Resolved, That the Bill do pass.

Ordered, That Joseph Stretch and Richard Pearn do carry up the said Bill to the Governor for his Concurrence.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Bill for the Relief of Joseph Yeates, &c. report, that they had delivered the same according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say, that he would give it all the Dispatch in his Power. Post Meridiem

The House resuming the Consideration of the Governor's Objections to the Bill for granting Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, and the Committee's Report thereupon, with the Governor's verbal Message refusing his Assent to the said Bill, and also the Proprietary Instructions, prescribing to the Representatives of the Freemen of this Province the Modes of their raising Money for the King's Service,

Resolved, That the said Proprietary Instructions are arbitrary and unjust, an Infraction of our Charter, a total Subversion of our Constitution, and a manifest Violation of our Rights, as freeborn Subjects of England.

Resolved, That the Bill for granting Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, to which the Governor has been pleased to refuse his Assent, contains nothing "inconsistent with "our Duty to the Crown, or the Proprietary Rights," and is agreeable to Laws which have been hitherto enacted within this Province, and received the Royal Approbation.

Resolved, That the Right of granting Supplies to the Crown is in the Assembly alone, as an essential Part of our Constitution, and the Limitation of all such Grants, as to the Matter, Manner, Measure and Time, is only in them.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this House, that the many frivolous Objections, which our Governors have been advised from Time to Time to make to our Money Bills, were calculated with a View to embarrass and perplex the Representatives of the People, to prevent their doing any Thing effectual for the Defence of their Country, and thereby render them odious to their gracious Sovereign, and to their Fellow-Subjects, both at Home and Abroad.

Resolved, That the Proprietaries encreasing their Restrictions upon the Governor, beyond what they had ever done before, at a Time when the Province is invaded by the King's Enemies, and barbarous Tribes of Indians are ravaging the Frontier Settlements, and their forbidding the Passing of any Bills whereby Money may be raised for the Defence of the Inhabitants, unless those Instructions are strictly complied with, is tyrannical, cruel and oppressive, with Regard to the People, and extremely injurious to the King's Service: Since, if the Assembly should adhere to their Rights, as they justly might, the whole Province would be thrown into Confusion, abandoned to the Enemy, and lost to the Crown.

The House therefore, reserving their Rights in their full Extent on all future Occasions, and PROTESTING against the Proprietary Instructions and Prohibitions, do, nevertheless, in Duty to the King, and Compassion for the suffering Inhabitants of their distressed Country, and in humble but full Confidence of the Justice of his Majesty, and a British Parliament, wave their Rights on this present Occasion only; and do further Resolve, that a new Bill be brought in for granting a Sum of Money to the King's Use, and that the same be made conformable to the said Instructions, &c.

Ordered, That Daniel Roberdeau, Benjamin Franklin, Mahlon Kirkbride, Peter Dicks, Calvin

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

The Committee appointed to conſider the Proprietary Inſtructions, relating to Money Bills, and report thereon to the Houſe, made a Report in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

In Obedience to the Order of the Houſe, we have conſidered the Proprietaries Eleventh, Twelfth and Twenty-firſt Inſtructions, relating to Money Bills, and now offer ſuch Remarks thereon as occur to us.

THE Preamble to the Eleventh Inſtruction ſets forth, " That the Intereſt Money " ariſing from the Loan of Bills of Credit in this Province, was intended by the " Proprietaries, and the Houſe of Repreſentatives, to be applied for the Public Service " of the Province, and of the Inhabitants thereof, and ſhould therefore, under the Di- " rection of the ſame Power that raiſes it, be moſt carefully applied to thoſe Purpoſes, " as a greater Security to the People againſt Miſapplications, than if it was intruſted only " to one Branch of the Legiſlature; and ſuch was the ancient Practice in their ſaid Pro- " vince." That the Intereſt Money was intended to be applied for the Public Service of the Province, and of the Inhabitants thereof, is undoubtedly right; but that it was REPORT on the Proprietaries Inſtructions relating to Money Bills.

1756. September 23. ever the "Practice," or that there was ever even a ſingle Inſtance of the Proprietaries or their Deputies having a Vote in the Application of the Intereſt Money, we muſt abſolutely deny. Their Conſent to the Diſpoſition is not required in any of our Loan Acts from the Beginning to this Day, the conſtant Tenor of thoſe Laws being, that the "Intereſt Money ſhall be diſpoſed of as the Aſſembly of this Province ſhall from Time "to Time order and direct." Their Conſent was never aſked, unleſs in the Acceptance of Preſents made them out of that Intereſt, which could not be forced on them without their Conſent; and that Kind of Application they have indeed been graciouſly pleaſed to conſent to from Time to Time, to the Amount of above Thirty Thouſand Pounds given to themſelves out of that Fund and the Exciſe. If this was a "Miſapplication," and we know of no other, the Power they contend for would not have prevented it; for 'tis ſcarce probable they ſhould ever diſapprove or refuſe to ſign Acts, Votes or Reſolves, which they thought ſo juſt and reaſonable.

And indeed, had theſe Preſents been always as regular as the Seaſons, and never intermitted, be the Conduct of the Governor ever ſo inconſiſtent with the Public Good, your Committee have Reaſon to believe, this new Inſtruction had never been formed or thought of. But ſince the Repreſentatives of the People have dared to ſignify their Diſapprobation of a Governor's Meaſures, by withholding thoſe Tokens of their Eſteem, Affection and Gratitude, which were conſtantly given when they found themſelves well governed; this Inſtruction is thought neceſſary to be inforced. Not "for the greater "Security of the People againſt Miſapplication;" for they never complained of any; but to compel your Continuance of thoſe Preſents; to compel an Addition to them, for they are thought too ſmall; and to compel the Payment of what they are pleaſed to call the Arrears of ſuch Preſents to any Governors from whom they have at any Time been withheld. For if the People's Money cannot be diſpoſed of for their own Benefit, without the Proprietary or his Deputy's Conſent, the Paſſage of the Bill, or the Approbation of the Reſolve, muſt be "facilitated," as the Proprietaries were pleaſed to tell us on a former Occaſion, "by a Regard to their INTEREST,"——that is, by putting at the ſame Time into their private Pockets whatever Share of the Public Money they ſhall be pleaſed to inſiſt on, under the ſpecious Name of Salary or Support; though by the Quit-rents, and even by their other Fees and Perquiſites, eſtabliſhed by Law or taken by Cuſtom, they have already a Support much more than ſufficient.

The Money ariſing by the Intereſt of the Bills of Credit, as well as that ariſing by the Exciſe, is paid wholly by the People. To diſpoſe of their own Money, by themſelves or their Repreſentatives, is, in our Opinion, a natural Right, inherent in every Man, or Body of Men, antecedent to all Laws. — The Proprietaries pay no Part of this Money, and therefore can have no Right to a Share in the Power of diſpoſing of it. —— They might as reaſonably claim a Right to a Negative in the Diſpoſition of every Man's private Fortune, and for the ſame Reaſons, to wit, "the Man's greater Security, and to prevent "Miſapplication;" nay, the Reaſons would be ſtronger, Bodies of Men not being generally ſo apt to miſapply their Money, as ſingle Prodigals.——The People have never complained that any ſuch Miſapplication has been made by their Repreſentatives: On the Contrary, they have ſhewn their Approbation of the Conduct of the Aſſembly in this tender Point, by long repeated annual Elections of the ſame Men to the ſame Truſt in the ſame Office. They have always ſeen their Money diſpoſed of, from Time to Time, for the Advantage and Honour of the Public, or for the King's immediate Service, and they had Reaſon to be contented with the Diſpoſition. —— The Public Credit has been conſtantly preſerved, and every Man who ſerved the Government, has been always duly and readily paid: But if this new-claimed Negative in the Proprietaries takes Place, the People will not have it in their Power to reward the Man that ſerves them, or even to pay the Hire of the Labourer that works for them, without the Governor's Leave firſt purchaſed; much leſs will they be allowed to ſupport an Agent in England to defend their Rights, or be able to pay the Expence of proſecuting their Complaints when oppreſſed.——And to prevent their doing this, is, we conceive, another main View of this Inſtruction.

In ſhort, it does not appear to your Committee that this extraordinary Inſtance of the Proprietary's Care of the People's Money, to prevent its being waſted by their own Repreſentatives, was for the People at all neceſſary. Thoſe Repreſentatives themſelves are a Part of the People, and muſt bear a Share of their Burdens. For their own Sakes, therefore, as well as to recommend themſelves to the Eſteem and Regard of their Conſtituents, it is highly probable they will execute that Truſt, as they always have done, with Juſtice, Prudence and Frugality; with Freedom to the King's Service, and grateful Generoſity to Governors that ſincerely ſeek their Welfare, and do not join with the Proprietaries to oppreſs them.——But this Inſtruction might perhaps be neceſſary to extort thoſe Grants to Governors which they have been pleaſed to ſtile Salary, and render That certain, which before depended on the Good Will of the People: For how elſe can the Proprietaries prietaries be sure of that Share of those Grants, which, by their private Contracts sometimes made with their Governors, is (if Report says true) to be paid to themselves?

The Proprietaries are however willing to permit the Renewal of the Eighty Thousand Pounds, which is now to sink in a few Years, and even to add Forty Thousand Pounds more, the Whole to be emitted on Loan, "provided, that the Eleventh Instruction be "complied with, and half the Power of applying the Interest reserved to them; and "provided, that all Rents and Quitrents due, or to be due or payable to them, be always "paid according to the Rate of Exchange at the Times of Payment between Philadel- "phia and London, or some other sufficient Provision enacted in Lieu thereof, as was "done by a former Act." —— Your Committee cannot help observing here, that the Proprietaries Tenderness for their own Interest appears in this Instruction much stronger than their Care for That of the People. Very great Emoluments arise to them by Emissions of Paper Money on Loan, and the Interest Money is a Tax they are clear of. They are therefore willing the Quantity should be encreased; but whatever Advantages they receive from it, they are resolved to suffer no Disadvantage from any occasional Depreciation: For they will always be paid their Rents and Quitrents, according to the Rate of Exchange between Philadelphia and London. By the original Agreements, those Rents and Quitrents were to be paid in Sterling Money (or the Value in Coin current) to the Proprietary Receivers in the Province. A Bill of Exchange, besides the Sterling Sum conveyed, includes all the Freight, Risk and Expence of conveying that Sum in Specie to London. Now we conceive the People are not, nor can in Justice or Reason be, obliged to transmit their Rents to London, and pay them there to the Proprietaries. If the Proprietaries should think fit to remove to China, they might as justly add to their Demand the Rate of Exchange between London and Canton: This therefore is EXTORTION, and ought never to be allowed in any future Act, nor any Equivalent made for it. For had that Equivalent been really given as a Matter of Justice, and not extorted as Purchase Money for the Law, it would have been extended to the Rents of private Landlords, as well as those of the Proprietaries. Besides, the great Sums to be yearly remitted to them in London, for which no Returns come back to the Country, naturally tend to raise the Exchange; and even put it in the Power of their Agents to raise it occasionally, just before the periodical Times of Payment (to the great Injury of the People) and to lower it again at their Pleasure; a dangerous Power this, if no Inconvenience can arise to themselves by the Rise of Exchange! The Depreciation of Money in every Country where it happens, is a common Calamity. The Proprietary Estate ought not to be exempt from it, at the Expence of all other Estates. There are many fixed Ground-Rents, and other Rents arising in the Province belonging to the People, and due to private Estates. These Rents have as much Right to be considered, and their Deficiency, in Case of Depreciation, provided for out of the Public Funds, as those of the Proprietaries. But of these they take no Care, so their own are secured. It appears however to your Committee, that all Rents in the Country ought to be on the same Footing, with regard to any Loss by the Depreciation of its Currency, since that is less likely ever to happen which it is the Interest of all to prevent.

Your Committee now come to the Twenty-first Instruction, by the Preamble of which it is insinuated, as if Acts for Provincial Taxes had been common in this Province, and that the Proprietary's Estate had been always exempted in such Acts; whereas the Truth is, that there never were but two or three, and those in the early Times of the Province, when the Proprietary's Circumstances were low, his Affairs encumbered, and the Quitrents so small, as to be insufficient for his Support, and therefore they were not only exempted from any Part of such Tax, but Duties and Licence Fees were granted to help them out.——For more than Forty Years, as the Excise and Interest Money have been sufficient for Support of Government, no Provincial Taxes have been levied (in this very Instruction, a little lower, they themselves acknowledge none have been raised in their Time) and the Proprietary Estate has vastly encreased: Those Licence Fees are also vastly encreased, and yet they still receive them. But that their Estate should now be exempt from Provincial Taxes, raised for the Defence of that very Estate, appears to us extremely unreasonable. During the Distress of the Family, there was likewise a voluntary Subscription among the People to pay the Proprietary's Passage to England: They may from thence as justly claim a Right of having their Expences borne by the Public whenever they cross the Seas.—— But when those Aids were granted to the old Proprietary, he had a much better Claim to them than his Sons; for he undertook to act as an Agent and Advocate for his People, in England; to defend and secure their Rights and Privileges; not, like his Successors, to abolish and destroy them *.

The

* This he faithfully executed in many Instances, and particularly in his Answer to the Lords of Trade's Objections to the Act of Privileges to a Freeman, in the Year 1705; in which he informed their Lordships, that the Act was agreeable to the great Charter which all Englishmen were entitled to; —— and that "we went not so far (i. e. "from England to America) to lose a Tittle of it."

1756. September 23.

The Inſtruction farther ſays, that "ſince the Expiration of thoſe former Laws, no "Aid hath ever been granted by the Aſſembly to them as Proprietaries." As Proprietaries, what Right have they to Aids? Are they not hereditary Governors of the Province? and while they have indulged themſelves with an almoſt conſtant Reſidence in England, remote from their Country, and greatly to its Inconvenience and Prejudice, have not the Aſſemblies conſtantly ſupported their Deputy, ſent by the Proprietaries to do what they ought themſelves to have done in Perſon; though he was often an imperfect Deputy, reſtrained in thoſe Powers which ſhould always ſubſiſt and be preſent in every Government for the common Welfare? But they are pleaſed to ſay, "they have volun- "tarily and chearfully expended ſeveral conſiderable Sums of their own Money for the "Advancement of the Province." This they ſaid likewiſe to a former Aſſembly, and the Anſwer was, "We are unacquainted with theſe Expences; let the Accounts be laid "before us, and whatever Expence appears to have been made for the Service of the Pro- "vince ſhall be allowed, and repaid with Thanks." —— Thoſe Accounts have never yet appeared; and till they do, we think they ought not to be made the Foundation of any Claim whatever.

They ſay farther, "that they had no Reaſon to ſuſpect that the Aſſembly would de- "viate ſo much from the former Uſage, as to pretend, by any Act of theirs, to charge "the Proprietary Eſtate in the Province with the Burden of any Taxes." Amazing! If the Aſſembly deviated from the former Uſage, by taxing their own Eſtates, and thoſe of their Conſtituents (their uſual Funds failing) why ſhould they not deviate in the ſame Manner in taxing the Proprietary Eſtate? And what are the particular Merits of this Family, that when the whole Britiſh Nation, when every Eſtate in the Kingdom, as well as in this Province, is taxed, towards the Recovery and Defence of their Eſtate in Pennſylvania, that very Eſtate alone ſhould be exempted, and they ſo confident of its Right to an Exemption, as to have no Reaſon to ſuſpect the Aſſembly would attempt to tax it?

But it ſeems "the Aſſembly have repreſented them in an untrue Light, as if unwil- "ling to aſſiſt the Public, by contributing towards the Defence of the Country, though "no Application had ever once been made to them for that Purpoſe." How far they are placed in an untrue Light on this Account, will, we preſume, appear before we finiſh this Report. It appears too, by a Report of a former Committee.—They likewiſe ſay, "no Application was ever once made to them for their Aſſiſtance towards the De- "fence of the Country." Heretofore it was thought the Country was beſt defended by maintaining Peace and a good Underſtanding with the Indians. This was done from Year to Year by expenſive and repeated Preſents. The Proprietary reaped great Advantages from this good Underſtanding and theſe Preſents, in his Bargains with the Indians for Lands. The Expences grew yearly more and more heavy, and repeated humble Applications were made to the Proprietaries, that they would be pleaſed to bear a Part, but without Succeſs. They vouchſafed indeed an Anſwer to the laſt Application, but it was to reject it with the utmoſt Pride and Scorn, claiming an inherent Right of Exemption of their Eſtate from all public Charges whatſoever, in Virtue of their being Governors as well as Proprietaries. And the Sixty Thouſand Pound Bill is called an Attempt of the Aſſembly by "an Act of theirs," to charge the Proprietary Eſtate, as if they had preſumed to do it alone by their own Authority. The Aſſembly could not poſſibly think of taxing the Proprietary Eſtate, without the Conſent of the Proprietaries by their Deputy; the Bill was therefore another humble Application to the Proprietaries for their Conſent to a Thing ſo reaſonable; and the very Stile of it was, "we pray that it may be enacted." But that Prayer could not be granted, though the Province was on the Brink of Ruin. And yet, it ſeems the Proprietaries were not "unwilling;" though their Deputy declared they had expreſsly reſtrained him even by the Words of his Commiſſion! — The Bill however is ſtigmatized with the Character of "moſt unjuſt and extraordinary." Thus it is, when Men judge in their own Caſes. Theſe Gentlemen think it unjuſt to tax their Eſtates, though all the World thinks otherwiſe. As Provincial Taxes had not been uſual, it might be ſo far extraordinary; but the Mode of Taxation was by no Means extraordinary, being the ſame with that of raiſing our County Rates and Levies, long uſed and approved by the Province. —— And the Taxing of Proprietary Lands is uſed both in New-Jerſey and Maryland; and located unimproved Lands have formerly been taxed in this Province. Had ſuch been taxed every where from the firſt Settlement of America, we conceive it would have tended to the Encreaſe of the Inhabitants, and the greater Strength of the Colonies; for then ſuch immenſe Quantities of Land would not have been monopolized and lain dormant, but People would more eaſily have obtained Settlements, and been ſeated cloſer together.

But the Proprietaries would have it underſtood, that it is not for their own Sake only, that they object to the Fifty Thouſand Pound Bill which was refuſed, or the Sixty Thouſand Pound Act that paſſed. They are tenderly concerned for the Eſtates of others. No Part of the Lands of a Delinquent, who refuſes or neglects to pay his Tax, ought, in their their Opinion, to be sold for Payment; though Lands in America are by Act of Parliament made liable to be sold for Discharge of Debts, and were almost always so here by the Laws of this Province. If Lands, or Parts of Land, may be sold to satisfy private, why not public Debts? And though it be unusual in England, it has long been the Practice, as we are informed, in several of the Colonies, particularly in New-England. But they say, "a Tax of One Shilling in the Pound on the whole Value, is what never was "laid, nor can possibly be paid, in any Country." Strange! May not a Country in imminent Danger give a Twentieth Part of their Estates to save the other Nineteen? Is it impossible even to give a Half, or three Fourths, to save the other Half or Quarter? May they not even give Nineteen Parts to save the Twentieth? The Proprietary's Gift of Five Thousand Pounds, they afterwards say, is twenty times more than their Tax, if fairly and equally assessed, could by that Bill have amounted to. If so, it is possible to give the whole twenty Parts. — But it has always been understood, that Estates are not to be taxed to the full Value they might singly sell for. In the same Bill it was provided, that located unimproved Lands should not be valued in the Rates at more than Fifteen Pounds per Hundred Acres; when 'tis well known, that the Proprietary's lowest Price for wild Land on the Frontiers is Fifteen Pounds Ten Shillings per Hundred; and that the located unimproved Lands in their Manors, are, some of them, valued at Three or Four Hundred Pounds per Hundred; they may therefore well say, that "if that Tax had been "FULLY assessed, it must have amounted to many times the Sum;" but then their next Assertion is somewhat inconsistent, viz. That the Bill laying this Tax was "most un- "justly calculated for the Purpose of putting it in the Power of the Assessors to tax the "Proprietary Estates up to the full Value, and to ease other Persons, by taxing them so "lightly as only to make up the Residue of the Fifty Thousand Pounds, in which Case, "much the greatest Part of the Burden might have been laid on the Proprietary Estates "alone." —— The Value of the Proprietary Estate has long, for prudential Reasons, been kept a profound Secret; and the Proprietaries have lately given Five Thousand Pounds rather than submit it to the Enquiry of the Assessors. But your Committee conceive some Light may be obtained on that Head, from this Part of the Instruction compared with the Fifty Thousand Pound Bill. By that Bill their wild unsurveyed, or unlocated Lands, which are many Millions of Acres, were not to be taxed at all, though they never sell any of them for less than Fifteen Pounds Ten Shillings per Hundred Acres.—— Their taxable Estate consists chiefly in located (though uncultivated) Tracts and Manors, and in the reserved Quitrents arising from the Lands they have sold. These Manors and Tracts are generally choice, being of the best Lands, picked out of every new Purchase from the Indians, by their Surveyors, before the Office is opened, and laid by for a Market, not to be disposed of till all the surrounding Lands are sold and settled. This has encreased their Value prodigiously, so that they are now, one with another, valued at more than Three Hundred Pounds per Hundred: Yet by the Bill, they were not to be taxed as worth more than Fifteen Pounds per Hundred.——And they own, that by the same Bill, "their Quitrents were to be taxed in the same Manner as other Estates," consequently as great an Abatement to be made in the Valuation. And yet by this same Bill, under this very moderate Valuation of their Estate, they say it would have been in the Power of the Assessors to have laid much the greatest Part of the Burden on their Estates alone. Now, much the greatest Part of Fifty Thousand Pounds may be Forty Thousand Pounds, but we will say (for Moderation's Sake) it is only Thirty Thousand Pounds, and that Sum might have been raised by that Bill, on the Proprietary Estates, in two Years, by a Tax of One Shilling in the Pound, i. e. Fifteen Thousand Pounds per Annum. The Shillings in Fifteen Thousand Pounds are Three Hundred Thousand, consequently their Estates at that low Valuation are worth Three Hundred Thousand Pounds. But if you multiply that Valuation by 20, to bring it nearer the Truth, those Estates must amount to Six Millions, exclusive of their wild Lands as aforesaid. If this Computation be too high, they may be able hereafter to shew its Mistakes. At present, we conceive the Consequences fairly drawn from Facts and their own Premises.——And yet this their enormous Estate is, by their Instructions, to be exempted, while all their Fellow-Subjects groan under the Weight of Taxes for its Defence! it being the first attacked in the present War, and Part of it on the Ohio, the Prize contended for by the Enemy. —— For though they, towards the End of this Instruction, pretend to be "most ready and "willing to bear a just Proportion along with their Tenants in any necessary Tax for "the Defence of the Province," yet this appears clearly to be a mere Pretence, since they absolutely except their Quitrents, and their located unimproved Lands, their Fines, and the Purchase-Monies they have at Interest; that is, in a Manner, their whole Estate, as your Committee know of little they have left to be taxed, but a Ferry-house or two, a Kitchen, and a Dog Kennel.

But unimproved Lands should not, in our Proprietaries Opinion, pay any Taxes, because "they yield no annual Profit." This may deceive People in England (where the Value of Land is much at a Stay) as they are unacquainted with the Nature of Landed

1756. September 23.

Eſtates in growing Plantations. Here new Lands, without Cultivation, without Fencing, or ſo much as cutting down a Tree, being reſerved and laid by for a Market till the ſurrounding Lands are ſettled, improve much more in yearly Value even than Money at Intereſt upon Intereſt. —— Thirty Years ago, the beſt and richeſt Lands near the Proprietary's Coneſtogoe Manor, were worth and ſold for about Forty Pounds per Hundred Acres.——That Manor was then laid out and reſerved, containing near Seventeen Thouſand Acres: And now the Lands of that very Manor, which, though ſo long located, have never yet been cultivated, will ſell for Three Hundred and Fifty Pounds per Hundred Acres; which is near Nine for One, or Eight Hundred per Cent, Advance! Can an Eſtate thus producing Twenty-five per Cent per Annum on the prime Coſt, be, with any Propriety, called "an Eſtate yielding no annual Profit?" Is it not a well known Practice in the Colonies, to lay out great Sums of ready Money for Lands, without the leaſt Intent of Cultivation, but merely to ſell them again hereafter? Would People follow this Practice if they could not make more Profit of their Money in that Way than by employing it in Improvement of Land, in Trade, or in putting it to Intereſt, though Intereſt in the Plantations is from Six to Ten per Centum? Does not ſuch Land, though otherwiſe unimproved, improve continually in its Value? How mean and unjuſt is it then, in theſe Gentlemen, to attempt to conceal the Advantages of this Kind of Eſtate, and ſcreen it from Taxes, by lurking under the ambiguous and deceitful Terms, of unimproved Lands, and Lands yielding no annual Profit?

Meanly unjuſt indeed, in this Inſtance, do they appear to your Committee; who cannot but obſerve, that the Proprietaries, knowing their own Inclinations to ſcreen their own Eſtates, and load thoſe of the People, from thence ſuſpected the People might be equally unjuſt, and intend, by the Fifty Thouſand Pound Bill, to eaſe their Eſtates, and load thoſe of the Proprietaries. "The Bill, ſay they, appears to us to be moſt unjuſtly "calculated, for the Purpoſe of putting it in the Power of Perſons, wholly choſen by "the People, to tax our Eſtates up to the full Value therein mentioned, and to eaſe "other Perſons by taxing them ſo lightly, as only to make up the Reſidue that might "be wanted to complete the Fifty Thouſand Pounds. In which Caſe the Perſons choſen "by the People might have laid by much the greateſt Part of the Burden upon our Eſtates "alone." —— Had they intended to raiſe much the greateſt Part of the Tax of Fifty Thouſand Pounds on the Proprietaries Eſtate, would the Houſe ſo readily have accepted of Five Thouſand Pounds in Lieu of their Share of that Tax?——But why this Suſpicion of the Aſſembly? What Inſtance of Injuſtice can the Proprietaries charge them with, that could give Ground for ſuch a Suppoſition? If they were capable of ſuch an Intention, and an Endeavour to get Iniquity eſtabliſhed by a Law, muſt they not be the moſt unjuſt and diſhoneſt of Men? The Aſſeſſors, it is true, are choſen by the People; they always were ſo by our Laws; and let a Man's Eſtate be ever ſo great, he has but one Vote in the Choice of them: But have the Proprietaries no Friends in their Province? What is become of all their Dependants and Expectants; thoſe in Place, or hoping for Places; the Thouſands in their Debt; the Mortgagors at their Mercy? Will none of theſe, out of Love, or Hope, or Fear, vote for honeſt Aſſeſſors, that may take Care the Proprietary is not oppreſſed by the Weight of an unjuſt Tax? — Could the Aſſembly be certain, that the whole People were ſo wicked, as to join in chuſing and truſting Sets of diſhoneſt Aſſeſſors, merely to wrong the Proprietary? Are there no Laws in the Province againſt Perjury? Are not the Aſſeſſors by Law to be ſworn or affirmed to aſſeſs themſelves and all others impartially; and have they not always been choſen as Men of Note for Probity and Juſtice? What a dark Proſpect muſt a Man's own Heart afford him, when he can from thence form ſuch Ideas of the Hearts of a whole People! A People famous throughout the World, for the Juſtice and Equity of their Laws, the Purity of their Manners, their Humanity and Hoſpitality to Strangers, their Affection to their late honoured Proprietary, their Faithfulneſs in their Manufactures and Produce, and Uprightneſs in all their Dealings! and to whoſe Virtue and Induſtry theſe very Gentlemen owe all their preſent Greatneſs!

The Proprietaries are pleaſed farther to ſay, "That the laying Taxes on the real Value "of the Fee-ſimple, and the Sale of Land for the Payment of Taxes, are contrary to "the Laws and Statutes of Great-Britain." Your Committee cannot find that any Laws or Statutes were ever made in Great-Britain to regulate the Mode of laying Taxes in the Plantations; and if there are none ſuch, our Bill could not be contrary to what never exiſted. In Virginia the Taxes are laid on Slaves, and paid in Tobacco; and every Colony has its own Mode of Taxation, ſuited to its own Circumſtances, almoſt all different from each other as well as from that uſed in England. But different from, and contrary to, we conceive to be diſtinct and different Things; otherwiſe many of our Laws, even thoſe which have been approved at Home, and received the Royal Aſſent, are contrary to the Laws of England.——But as we ſaid before, the Laws of England themſelves make Lands liable to pay Debts in the Colonies, and therefore to ſell them, or a Part of them, to pay public Debts, is not contrary to, but conformable with, the Laws of England. 1756. September 23.

But the Proprietaries "cannot find that the Quitrents reserved to the Crown —— in "any of the other American Colonies, have ever been taxed towards the raising any Sup- "plies granted in those Colonies; and indeed those Quitrents are generally so small "(meaning the King's Quitrents, we suppose, for their own surely are large enough) "that little or no Land Tax would be due or payable on them, if arising in Great-Bri- "tain, &c."——If your Committee are rightly informed, the King's Quitrents in the other Colonies, are applied to public Purposes, generally for the Service of the Colony that raises them. When our Proprietaries shall think fit to apply those arising here in the same Manner, we believe no Assembly will attempt to tax them. The Smallness of the Parts, we cannot conceive to be a good Reason for not taxing the Whole. Where every Man worth less than Twenty Shillings a Year is exempt from Taxes, he who enjoys a Thousand a Year might, as well as our Proprietaries, plead to be excused, for that his Income is only Twenty Thousand Shillings, each of which Shillings is far within the Sum exempted by Law.——In the Whole, though what arises from each Estate be no great Sum, their Quitrents must amount to a very great Revenue; and their speaking of them in the diminutive Terms of very small Quitrents or Acknowledgments, is only to amuse and deceive. They are Property; and Property should pay for its own Preservation. They ought therefore to be taxed to the Defence of the Country. —— The Proprietaries indeed say, a Land Tax was unnecessary, as there are many other Ways of raising Money. They would doubtless chuse any Way in which their Estate could not be included.——But what are those many other Ways? —— Britain, an independent State, can lay infinite Duties, on all foreign Wares, and imported Luxuries. We are suffered little foreign Trade, and almost all our Superfluities are sent us from Britain itself. Will she permit us to discourage their Importation by heavy Imposts? or to raise Funds by taxing her Manufactures? A Variety of Excises and Duties serve only to multiply Offices and Officers, and to make a Part of the People pay for another Part who do not chuse to pay. No Excise or Duty was ever a fair and equal Tax on Property. — The fairest, as the Proprietaries themselves have acknowledged, is a Poundage on all real and personal Estate, according to its Value.

We are now to hear of the Generosity of the Proprietaries, who, as they say, "were "so far from desiring not to contribute to the Defence and Support of his Majesty's "Rights and Dominions, that immediately on the first Notice of the Defeat of General "Braddock, they had sent over an Order upon their Receiver General, to pay Five Thou- "sand Pounds as a free Gift towards the Defence of the said Province." —— We may presume to ask, why, when they knew the Assemblies were continually worried to give Money, and the Bills in which it was offered as constantly rejected; why did they not unmanacle their Governor, and at the same Time set an Example of Zeal for the common Cause by a generous Gift on their Part, before they heard of that Defeat? Why not as soon as they knew he was sent to America? Why not on Washington's Defeat, or before his first Expedition, as soon as ever their Province was attacked, and they learnt that the Enemy had built a Fort in it?——But the Truth is, the Order was sent, not immediately on the News of Braddock's Defeat; the Date of the Order will shew that it was a Month after that News arrived in England. But it was immediately after they had Advice, that the Governor had refused a Grant of Fifty Thousand Pounds to the Crown for the Defence of the Proprietaries Province, because their Estate was taxed in the Bill, alledging Restrictions from them on that Head; against which all the World exclaimed, and an universal Odium was falling on their Heads, and the King's Wrath justly dreaded; then it was, that the boasted Order issued. And yet, as soon as their Fears subsided, it was sincerely repented, and every underhand Step taken to get the Act, in which their Gift was fixed, disapproved at Home; though, if they had succeeded, when the Bills emitted were abroad, and in the Hands of the Public, many of the poor Soldiers, who had received them in Pay for their Services, would have been ruined, and Multitudes of others greatly injured.——And after all, this Free Gift, to be immediately paid, is not yet paid, though more than a Year is elapsed since the Order was given; —— and Contracts, entered into by the Commissioners in Confidence of receiving that Money, are yet unsatisfied, to the Loss and Disappointment of many, and great Detriment to the Service.

However, if we will have a Land Tax, they are pleased to form a Bill for us, or at least to direct what Clauses shall be in, and what shall not be in it, thus violating the most essential Right of the Commons in a British Constitution! —— and with this particular Injunction, that the Tax shall be laid for no more than one Year; and shall not exceed Four Shillings in the Pound on the Income; which, estimating Estates at twenty Years Purchase, is about a Fifth of a Twentieth, or, in plainer Words, a hundredth Part of the Value. Perhaps this may be well enough in Times of Tranquility; but when a Province is invaded, must it be given up to the Enemy, if a Tax of the hundredth 1756. September 23. Penny is not ſufficient to ſave it? —— Yes, that is our preſent Situation; for the Proprietaries Inſtructions are, it ſeems, unalterable.——Their Governor is bound to obſerve and inforce them, and muſt ſee the King's Province periſh before his Eyes, rather than deviate from them a ſingle Tittle. This we have experienced within a few Days, when Advantage being cruelly taken of our preſent unhappy Situation, the proſtrate Condition of our bleeding Country, the Knife of the Savages at her Throat, our Soldiers ready to mutiny for Want of Pay and Neceſſaries, our People flying in Deſpair from the Frontier for want of Protection, the Aſſembly was compelled (like Solomon's true Mother) to wave her Right, to alter our Money-Bills, abridge our free Grant to the Crown by one Half, and, in ſhort, to receive and enact a Law not agreeable to our Judgments, but ſuch as was made for us by the Proprietary Inſtructions, and the Will and Pleaſure of the Governor's Council; whereby our Conſtitution and the Liberties of our Country are wounded in the moſt eſſential Part, and even violated and deſtroyed. —— We have Reaſon to confide, however, in the Juſtice of our Sovereign and a Britiſh Parliament, that this Tyranny ſhall not long ſubſiſt; and we hope no Time will be loſt in making the proper Application.

Penny

In fine, we muſt ſay, in Juſtice to the Houſe, that the Proprietary's Charge againſt the Aſſembly, as "being inclined by their Authority to tax the Proprietary Eſtate diſpro-"portionately, &c." is, to our Knowledge, groundleſs and unjuſt. They had as little Inclination as Authority to wrong him. They have not, it ſeems, Authority enough to oblige him to do Juſtice. As to their Inclination, they bear, every one of them, and maintain, the Character of HONEST MEN. When the Proprietaries ſhall be truly willing to bear an equitable Part of the Public Burden; when they ſhall renounce their exorbitant Demand of Rent as the Exchange ſhall then be; make Reſtitution of the Money which they have exacted from the Aſſemblies of this Province, and ſincerely repent of their Extortion, they may then, and not till then, have ſome Claim to the ſame NOBLE TITLE.

Submitted by the Committee to the Correction of the Houſe.

The Speaker laid before the Houſe Extracts of two Letters from Commodore Spry, at Halifax, to Michael Lovell, a Gentleman in this City, mentioning the Arrival of the Seamen ſent by this Province for his Majeſty's Fleet on that Station, which were read, and are as follow, viz.

Auguſt 5, 1756.

Extracts from Commodore Spry's Letters. "'Tis impoſſible to conceive how much I am obliged to the Gentlemen of Penn-"ſylvania for their ready Concurrence in ſupplying his Majeſty's Ships in North-America" with ſuch a Number of Seamen, at their Government's Expence; and I muſt entreat" you to make my moſt grateful Acknowledgments to your Speaker, and the reſt of the" Gentlemen concerned in it."

Auguſt 7, 1756.

"I have joined Mr. Holmes, and we are now under Sail, with a fair Wind, for Louiſ-"bourg. Laſt Night a Ship luckily arrived with Twenty-nine Seamen more from the" People of your good Province: God bleſs them! I ſhall ever gratefully remember" and acknowledge it. I have the Seamen all on board my own Ship, except four that" are ſick at the Hoſpital."

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

September 24. Orders were drawn on the Truſtees of the Loan-Office, by Order of the Houſe, for the Payment of Joſeph Morris's and William Fiſher's Accounts, for Cloathing for the New-England Troops, and for the Sums paid by the Speaker, and Benjamin Franklin, for the ſaid Cloathing, as per Account laid before the Houſe on the Third of December laſt, and entered on the Minutes of that Day.

Ordered, That Joſeph Armſtrong's Wages, as a Member of this Houſe for the preſent Year for the County of Cumberland, be paid by the Truſtees of the General Loan-Office, in Conſideration of the preſent Circumſtances of the ſaid Member, and County.

The Report of the Committee upon the Proprietary Inſtructions relating to Money-Bills, being again read, and conſidered, was unanimouſly approved of, and agreed to by the Houſe.——And it was Reſolved, N. C. D. That it is the Opinion of this Houſe, that it is highly neceſſary a Remonſtrance be drawn up, and ſent Home to England, ſetting forth the true State of Pennſylvania, and repreſenting the pernicious Conſequences to the Britiſh Intereſt, and to the Inhabitants of this Province, if we are, contrary to our Charters and Laws, to be governed by Proprietary Inſtructions.——And as this Houſe have not ſufficient Time to go through a Matter of ſuch Importance, it is therefore earneſtly recommended to the next ſucceeding Aſſembly.

APPENDIX to the VOTES of ASSEMBLY, from October 1755, to October 1756.

1756. September 24.

An Extract of a Letter from ROBERT CHARLES, Esq; one of the Agents of this Province at the Court of Great-Britain; dated, Golden-Square, February 16, 1756.

THE Earl of Loudon, a Nobleman of amiable Qualifications, and of great Character as an Officer, is appointed to command in Chief in America: I hope, under his Lordship's Direction, Matters will be put on a proper Footing for the Security of the Colonies; and your Province cannot do any thing more acceptable here, or pursue a wiser Measure for its own Interest, than by strengthening his Lordship's Hands in carrying on the Service of the Crown.

The Parliament have likewise voted a Sum for raising an American Regiment of 4000 Men; and as it is proposed to get foreign Protestants from the great Numbers of Germans who are amongst you, to enlist and mix in this Corps, a Proposal has been made for the Employment of some foreign Officers; two Schemes on this Subject have been communicated to the Agents for North-America, whereof, and of my Observations thereon, I herewith send Copies. The Ministry are determined to carry this Measure into Execution, and for this End a Bill is now before Parliament, to enable his Majesty to grant Commissions to the foreign Officers who shall be employed in this Regiment; to which, considering the present Situation of Affairs in America, and the exposed State of your Colony, and some of the Southern Ones, I did not think it prudent to give any farther Opposition.

IT is supposed that there are not less than One Hundred Thousand Foreigners in the Colonies in North-America, few or none of whom are in Arms.

It is very difficult to raise Men in America for the Regiments there, or indeed to prevail on any Americans to inlist in any but the Provincial Corps.

It has been thought, that the foreign Protestants of America would more willingly inlist in a separate Corps, composed chiefly of themselves.

To raise and discipline such a Corps, it is imagined that some foreign Officers must be sent from Europe, our Officers not being well acquainted with the Method of traineing Swiss or German Soldiers, and being totally unacquainted with the German Tongue. The late Settlers are represented to be entirely ignorant of the English Language.

A Regiment composed of these foreign Protestants, it is presumed, would be so many Soldiers gained to the Public; they might be employed any where in America, and be particularly useful in Garrison.

The Fidelity of the Officers sent over might be depended upon, as Swiss or German Officers were seldom if ever known to betray their Trust.

This Regiment to be restrained from serving in Great-Britain, and (if thought fit) confined entirely to Service in America. The Officers not allowed to serve in English Corps.

After the first Beginning no Foreigners to be admitted, even at first not more than a certain Proportion of Officers to be sent from Europe, the other Commissions to be given to Americans, and all Vacancies in this Corps filled by his Majesty's Subjects.

Any other proper Restrictions or Regulations might be added."

The AGENT'S OBSERVATIONS on the foregoing Scheme, viz.

UPON the Communication made by the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Barrington, his Majesty's Secretary at War, to the Agents of the Northern Colonies of America, of a proposed Scheme of raising a Body of Sixteen Hundred foreign Protestants in these Colonies, and of placing foreign Officers in Command over them; the under-written Agent for the Colony of New-York, and joint Agent with Mr. Patridge for Pennsylvania, thanking his Lordship for the Honour of this Communication, humbly takes Leave to observe:

That whatever the Number of foreign Protestants may now be in America, their Settlement there was permitted in Confidence that they would, in Time, learn the Language, Laws and Constitution of Great-Britain and her Colonies, and in all Respects become truly British Subjects.

That if it be Fact, that these Foreigners "would more willingly inlist in a separate "Corps composed chiefly of themselves," that Inclination is repugnant to the Views wherewith they have been admitted into the British Colonies; and therefore, with all Submission, not so proper to be countenanced.

That

1756. September 24. That the Raiſing of a Corps of Sixteen Hundred Foreigners, unmixed with any of his Majeſty's Britiſh Subjects, and putting it under the Command of foreign Officers, to be ſent for from Swiſſerland or Germany, who, by the Laws now in being, cannot legally exerciſe ſuch Command, is a new and extraordinary Meaſure, which may create Jealouſy and Diſguſt in the King's natural-born Subjects, and may even be attended with ſome Degree of Danger to the Britiſh Intereſt in America.

If it is the Intention of the Crown to avail itſelf of the Numbers of foreign Proteſtants in America, it is apprehended that they may be inliſted and mixed with his Majeſty's Britiſh Subjects; and for this End ſome ſubaltern Commiſſions might be given amongſt the naturalized Foreigners in America, who, from their Influence and Acquaintance, may be thought beſt able to procure the Inliſtment of their Countrymen, but it is humbly conceived, that the chief Command and the chief Commiſſions ſhould be given to the King's natural-born Subjects, who, it is hoped, do not fall ſhort of any foreign Officers whatever in Point of Fidelity; and muſt ſurpaſs them in natural Affection, and real Concern for the Security and Welfare of Great-Britain and her Colonies.

Golden-Square, Jan. 1, 1756. R. CHARLES."

A COPY of Lord BARRINGTON'S Letter to the Agent, containing the ſecond SCHEME for employing foreign Officers, &c. viz.

SIR, War-Office, January 14, 1756.

I HAVE communicated to the King's Servants the Obſervations which I had received from the Agents of the North-American Colonies, on a Propoſal for raiſing a Regiment of his Majeſty's foreign Subjects there: Theſe Obſervations have been carefully and maturely weighed, and in Compliance with what is there ſtated to be the Opinion and Inclinations of the Colonies, that Scheme is laid aſide. But as the Want of Officers and Engineers is very apparent, and not to be ſupplied from hence, and it is much deſired to mix the Foreigners ſettled there with his Majeſty's natural-born Subjects in America, and to avail ourſelves of their Strength in this Time of univerſal Danger to the Colonies, the incloſed Scheme has been propoſed, which is thought to be free from all the Objections made to the other. If you have any to this, I wiſh you would propoſe Amendments, which ſhall be attended to and conſidered, and I hope they will be communicated to me as ſoon as poſſible, as ſomething muſt be concluded upon by the Beginning of next Week. I am, Sir,

Your moſt humble Servant,

BARRINGTON."

The SCHEME, ſent with the above Letter.

THE Want of Officers and regular Troops in North-America being very apparent, it is propoſed, that inſtead of Mr. Prevoſt's Scheme, an Eſtimate be laid before Parliament of a Regiment, conſiſting of three Battalions, to be raiſed out of his Majeſty's foreign and other Proteſtant Subjects reſiding in North-America.

And that a Bill be brought in, to enable his Majeſty to give Commiſſions to foreign Proteſtants, not exceeding the Number of Half the Officers in the ſaid Regiment, to ſerve in the ſame, or as Engineers, to be entituled to Half Pay, but not to rank or to ſerve any where but in America; and to be provided in the ſaid Bill, that the Command of the Regiment be always in a natural-born Subject.

It may be proper to be declared to be his Majeſty's Intention, that a certain Proportion of theſe Commiſſions be given to Americans."

The AGENT'S LETTER to Lord BARRINGTON, in Anſwer to the foregoing, viz.

My LORD, Golden-Square, January 17, 1756.

I HAVE had the Honour of your Lordſhip's Letter of the 14th Inſtant, incloſing a new Scheme for raiſing a Regiment conſiſting of three Battalions, out of his Majeſty's foreign and other Proteſtant Subjects reſiding in North-America; and acquainting me that Mr. Prevoſt's Scheme is laid aſide.

As I find, my Lord, by the Propoſition of bringing in a Bill to enable his Majeſty to give Commiſſions to foreign Proteſtants, who are not to exceed Half the Number of the Officers of the ſaid Regiment, that the Intention of employing foreign Officers is ſtill continued, I muſt, with all humble Submiſſion, make uſe of the Liberty your Lordſhip has been pleaſed to give me, by continuing to declare my Apprehenſions, that this Meaſure may be productive of much Jealouſy and Diſcontent, and may retard rather than accelerate the Inliſtment of the propoſed Corps, which is the firſt and principal Object; for I do conceive, that the Raiſing of this Regiment cannot be more effectually and ſpeedily carried on than by a proper Partition of the Commiſſions between his Majeſty's natural-born

Subjects

Subjects here, those in America, and the naturalized foreign Protestants, who have acquired Property in the British Colonies; these, my Lord, by their Residence, and from their Influence and Acquaintance, must be better able to promote this Service than Officers who are totally Strangers. And it cannot but prove a much more acceptable Measure to the Inhabitants of the Colonies in general, to see the military Commissions placed in such Hands, than to find them given to Persons who have no natural Connexion with the Country or People they are sent to defend. I have the Honour to be, with great Esteem, My Lord, 1756. September 24.

Your Lordship's most humble, and most obedient Servant,
R. CHARLES."

SIR,

"The Governor requires the Attendance of the Speaker and the House immediately, "in the Council Chamber."

The Governor's Speech was read at the Table, by Order, and follows in these Words, viz.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Assembly,

Governor's Speech.

'I AM sensible this is not the usual Time of the Year when you proceed upon Business, yet the several weighty Affairs which I have to lay before you, will admit of 'no Delay, and oblige me to desire you will take them into your immediate Consideration.

'Having received his Majesty's Commands, to take the most speedy and effectual 'Measures to hinder all Correspondence with the Subjects of the French King, and to 'prevent their being supplied, either by Land or Sea, with Provisions or Warlike Stores; 'and his Royal Pleasure being further signified by Lord Loudon, to lay a Prohibition on 'the Exportation of all Manner of Provisions, I therefore earnestly recommend to you 'to frame a Bill for an Embargo, under such Penalties as will render the same effectual.

'The King also demands your Assistance in various Matters, relating to the Forces 'which his Majesty has been graciously pleased to send over for the Protection of his 'American Dominions, the Particulars whereof are specified in the Papers the Secretary 'will now deliver to you; and I cannot doubt your chearfully raising the Supplies ne'cessary for the Services required.

'By some late Intelligence, I understand the Enemy are preparing to attack this Pro'vince with a large Body of French and Indians; nor are we secure from Insults by Sea; 'and it may be absolutely necessary to take sudden Measures of Defence, which the 'Sum already granted will not enable us to do, as a considerable Part of it has been em'ployed to pay the Arrears due to the Troops, and other former Charges.

'On a mature Consideration of the present State of this Country, and from the many 'Applications for a general Defence, made to me in a late Journey to the Frontiers, I 'find a Militia Law is absolutely necessary, the late Act being repealed by his Majesty 'in Council. The Reasons that induced his Majesty to refuse his Assent to that Act, 'are fully set forth in the Reports of the Lords Commissioners of Trade, and a Com'mittee of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, on which the Repeal is 'founded; I must therefore press you, in the warmest Terms, with all possible Dispatch, 'to frame a just and equitable Bill, not liable to the Objections that proved fatal to the 'former Law.

'In Consequence of a Treaty lately held at Easton, with the Deputies of the Susque'hannah Indians, their Chief is now on his Return with some of our unhappy People, 'not long since made Prisoners. As this Affair will occasion a considerable Expence, I 'desire you will provide for it accordingly.

'Gentlemen, let me entreat you to avoid all Disputes, raise such Supplies as are wanted 'in our present imminent Danger, and pay a ready Obedience to his Majesty's Com'mands;

1756. October 19.

'mands; which is the leaſt Return you can make for his Royal Protection, and the 'great Expence the Mother Country is at for the Preſervation of theſe Colonies."

Mr. Secretary brought down to the Houſe, the ſeveral Papers referred to in the foregoing Speech; which were read, and the following were ordered to be entered on the Minutes of this Houſe, viz.

To the Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of his MAJESTY's moſt Honourable PRIVY COUNCIL for Plantation Affairs.

My LORDS,

Report of the Board of Trade on a Petition, &c.

PURSUANT to your Lordſhips Order of the Twelfth of laſt Month, we have had under our Conſideration the Petition of ſundry of his Majeſty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, Inhabitants of the Province of Pennſylvania, in Behalf of themſelves and others, ſetting forth "the diſtreſſed and defenceleſs State of that Province; and humbly praying "that his Majeſty would graciouſly condeſcend to take their Condition under his wiſe "and princely Conſideration, which upon Enquiry will be found to be ſingularly diſtreſ-"ſing and grievous; and that his Majeſty would further be graciouſly pleaſed to inter-"poſe his Royal Authority that this important Province, ſituated in the Center of his "Majeſty's American Dominions, may be put into a Poſture of Defence;" and having been attended by Mr. Paris, Solicitor for the Petitioners, with Mr. Yorke, and Mr. Forreſter, his Counſel; and by Mr. Joſhua Sharpe, Solicitor in Behalf of the Aſſembly of Pennſylvania, with Mr. Henly and Mr. Pratt, his Counſel, and by the Agents for the ſaid Province, and ſeveral of the Perſons called Quakers, and heard what the reſpective Parties had to offer thereupon, we beg Leave to report to your Lordſhips:

That no Evidence has been laid before us, on the Part of the Petitioners, tending to prove the Facts ſet forth and alledged in their Petition; but as the defenceleſs State of the Province, ariſing from the Want of a proper Militia, and Forts and Places of Strength, has not been controverted by the Counſel for the Aſſembly; and as the Invaſion of the French, who have forcibly poſſeſſed themſelves of a Fort, built by his Majeſty's Subjects, within the actual Limits of this Province, and the Ravages and Devaſtations of the Savage Indians upon their Frontiers, are Facts well known to your Lordſhips, we apprehend your Lordſhips will not require ſuch legal Proofs of them as might be neceſſary upon a Queſtion of leſs public Concern and Notoriety.

This is not the firſt Complaints which his Majeſty's Subjects, Inhabitants of that Province, have made of the diſtreſſed State of it, ariſing from the Aſſembly's neglecting to make proper Proviſion by Law for putting it into a Poſture of Defence in Times of Danger and Hoſtility. A like Complaint was made to his Majeſty in the Year 1742; upon an Examination into which it did appear, that no Laws had ever been enacted in that Province for the Defence of it, for the building of Forts, for raiſing or training any Militia, or in general for providing againſt any Danger from without, either by Indians, Pirates, or other Enemies, as will more fully appear to your Lordſhips from the annexed Copy of a Report of this Board to the Lords of the Committee of Council on the Eighth of July, 1742.

The ſame Syſtem of Inaction, and Neglect of the Public Safety, has ever ſince prevailed and been purſued by the Aſſembly, notwithſtanding the many frequent Exhortations made to them from Time to Time by the Crown, by their Governors, and by their Fellow-Subjects, to provide for the Security and Defence of the Government.

The Reaſons urged by the Aſſembly in the Year 1742, in Juſtification of their Conduct, were, that by a Charter of Privileges, granted to them by the firſt Proprietor, and by their own Laws, they were exempted from military Service; that they had till then ſubſiſted without Forts or Militia; that being a peaceable People, they had not given Offence to their Neighbours; and as their Neighbours had never till then moleſted them, they apprehended they might ſubſiſt in Security without any military Force; and that in Caſe of any Emergency, the Proprietor was obliged, and, by his Charter, impowered, to defend them. But upon Enquiry and Examination it was found, that neither that Charter of Privileges, nor any Laws then exiſting, gave them ſuch Right of Exemption from military Service; and it was obſerved, that the Proprietor was no more obliged to be at the Expence of defending them, in Caſe of Emergency, than the Governors of any other Colonies, who had the like Power in their Commiſſions.

As the Counſel, however, for the Aſſembly, have again ſtrenuoſly inſiſted upon the Efficacy of the military Power given to Mr. Penn by his Charter, and the Obligation he is thereby under to provide for the Defence of the Province, it may be neceſſary to obſerve, that this Power, great as it is in Words, can have no Effect or Operation without the Aid and Concurrence of the Legiſlature, by enacting penal and compulſory Militia Laws, and by a proper and conſtitutional Appropriation of Money to military Purpoſes; and this Opinion is confirmed by the Practice and Uſage in all other Colonies, whether the Government be by Charter, or by Commiſſion from the Crown; in both which Caſes, notwithſtanding the Perſon intruſted with the Execution of Government has has the same Power as the Proprietaries of Pennsylvania, yet no Militia could have been, or ever was, formed, or military Service executed, without an Act of the Legislature. 1756, October 19.

It has been indeed insisted upon by the Counsel for the Assembly, that the Proprietor has in the present Exigency received proper Aid and Support in the Exercise of the military Powers in his Charter from the Assembly, who have lately passed two Laws, the one for granting Fifty-five Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, the other for regulating such Persons as are willing and desirous to be united for military Purposes. These Laws your Lordships have been pleased to refer to us by a separate Order, together with several others passed there at the same Time, and therefore we shall make a separate Report to your Lordships upon them; but we think it our Duty at present to trouble your Lordships with some short Observations, because upon the Merit or Demerit of these Laws, the Force or Weakness of the Arguments which have been attempted to be drawn from them will, in your Lordships Judgment, in great Measure depend.

By the first of these Laws, the Money thereby to be raised is to be placed in the Hands of a Committee of the Assembly, to be applied by them "for supplying friendly Indians, holding of Treaties, relieving distressed Settlers, who have been driven from their Lands, and other Purposes for the King's Use;" but not a Word is said of military Service; and though it has been argued, that the Words, other Purposes, will admit of such a Construction and Application, yet when it is considered, that the Committee, which has the sole Power and Direction of this Money, is Part of, and constituted by, an Assembly, principled against military Service, there is little Room to hope they will put such a Construction upon these Words.

As to the other Law, it is in every Respect the most improper and inadequate to the Service which could have been framed and passed, and is rather calculated to exempt Persons from military Services, than to encourage and promote them. No Methods are prescribed for compelling Persons by proper Penalties to associate in Defence of their Country, or for obliging those who are conscientiously scrupulous of bearing Arms themselves to find others in their Stead, or to provide for such as might, by the executive Power, be found ready and willing to enlist. The whole is voluntary, both in respect of Enlistment, and of the Subsistence of those who shall be inlisted; the Officers are to be elected by Ballot, and no Provision is made for that Subordination, without which, all Bodies of People, associated for military Purposes, would be absolutely useless: But these are not the only defective and mischievous Provisions of this Law, for it is enacted, that no Person under Twenty-one Years of Age should be enlisted; by which Means many able bodied Men, fit for the Service of their Country as Soldiers, would be excluded; and that no Regiment, Company or Party, shall be compelled or led more than three Days March beyond the inhabited Parts of the Province, nor be detained against their Wills longer than three Weeks in any Garrison, let the Necessity of the Case be what it will; a Proviso, which, instead of rendering this Militia effectual to the Purposes of Defence, may be the Means of encouraging Desertions, and of sacrificing such of the King's Troops as may happen to be joined with them in the same Service. But were the Provisions of this Act ever so good and proper, yet little Advantage or Benefit could be hoped for from a Law, in the Preamble of which it is declared, that the Majority of the Assembly, which is in Effect the governing Part of that Province in which it is to operate, and from whom his Majesty's Subjects ought to receive Support and Protection, are principled against bearing Arms; and that the making a Law to compel Persons thereto, would be to violate a Fundamental of the Constitution, and be a direct Breach of the Privileges of the People.

Upon the whole, we are humbly of Opinion, that the Legislature of every Country is in Duty bound, by the original Constitution, Frame and Compact of Government, to support and defend that Government, and those who are subject to it; that the Assembly of Pennsylvania is in no Degree exempted from this general Law of Nature and Society, but, on the contrary, is obliged by the Charter to the Proprietors to aid and assist them in the Execution of the Powers given to them by that Charter, which cannot be carried into Execution without such Aid and Assistance; that the Measures alleged by the Assembly to be intended for this Purpose are improper, inadequate and ineffectual; and that there is no Reason to hope that proper or effectual Measures will be taken, while the Majority of the Assembly consists of Persons whose avowed Principles are against military Services, however necessary for the Security and Defence of Government, who have declared by public Acts, that it is a Violation of a Fundamental of the Constitution, and a direct Breach of Privilege, to compel Persons to bear Arms, or to find or provide for such as will do military Service in their Stead, and who, though not a sixth Part of the Inhabitants of the Province, are yet, contrary to the Principles, the Policy and the Practice of the Mother Country, admitted to hold Offices of Trust and Profit, and sit in the Assembly, without their Allegiance being secured to the Government by the Sanction of an Oath; and therefore we see no Remedy to the Evils so justly complained of by

My LORDS,

Report of the Board of Trade, upon ſeven Acts.

WE have had under our Conſideration ſeven Acts, paſſed in the Province of Pennſylvania, in the Months of April, June, Auguſt, September and November, 1755, referred to us by your Lordſhips Orders of the Nineteenth of January, and Twelfth of February, 1756.

We have alſo conſulted Sir Matthew Lamb, one of his Majeſty's Council, upon the ſaid Acts, who has no Objection in Point of Law to either of the Three following; and as no Objection appears to us againſt them, we beg Leave to lay them before your Lordſhips, as fit to receive his Majeſty's Approbation.

" An Act to continue an Act to prevent the Exportation of Proviſions, naval or warlike " Stores, from this Province to Cape-Breton, or to any other Dominions of the French " King, or Places at preſent in the Poſſeſſion of any of his Subjects."

" An Act for ſtriking the Sum of Ten Thouſand Pounds in Bills of Credit, to exchange " ſuch of thoſe, now by Law current, within this Province, as are torn and defaced."

" An Act to continue an Act, entituled, An Act for directing the Choice of Inſpectors in " the Counties of Cheſter, Lancaſter, York, Cumberland, Berks and Northampton."

The following Act, paſſed the Fifth Day of April, 1755, entituled, " An Act to pre- " vent the Exportation of Proviſions, naval or warlike Stores, from this Province to Cape- " Breton, or to any other the Dominions of the French King, or Places at preſent in Poſ- " ſeſſion of any of his Subjects," having been enacted for one Year only, is now expired.

With reſpect to the following Act, entituled, " An Act for granting the Sum of Six- " ty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, and for ſtriking Fifty-five Thouſand Pounds " thereof in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for ſinking the ſame;" we beg Leave to acquaint your Lordſhips, that ſince our Report, dated the Third of March laſt, in which we ſtated to your Lordſhips certain Objections to ſuch Terms and Proviſions of this Act as gave us great Room to doubt, whether any Part of the Money thereby to be raiſed would be effectually applied to Purpoſes of Defence, we have been well informed, that Numbers of Men have been levied in Pennſylvania, and that Forts are now building in that Province: For theſe Reaſons, and becauſe the Act eſtabliſhes a Fund for ſinking the Bills of Credit to be thereby emitted within ſo ſhort and reaſonable a Period as four Years, we are of Opinion, that his Majeſty may be graciouſly pleaſed to approve and confirm it.

The following Act, entituled, " An Act for extending ſo much of an Act of Parliament, " entituled, An Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, and for the better Payment of the " Army and their Quarters, paſſed in the Twenty-eighth Year of the preſent Reign, as re- " lates to the Quartering and Billeting of Soldiers, and Payment of their Quarters, in that " Part of Great-Britain called England," appearing to us to be of an extraordinary and unuſual Nature, we thought it our Duty to refer it to his Majeſty's Attorney General, who has reported to us as his Opinion, " That it is not adviſeable for his Majeſty to ap- " prove thereof; that the Tendency of this Act muſt unavoidably be to cramp the pub- " lic Service, and obſtruct the Defence of the Province; that it aſſumes Propoſitions, " true in the Mother Country, and rightly aſſerted in the Reigns of CHARLES the Firſt, " and CHARLES the Second, in Times of Peace, and when Soldiers were kept up, with- " out Conſent of Parliament; but that the Application of ſuch Propoſitions to a Co- " lony, in Time of War, in the Caſe of Troops, raiſed for their Protection by the Au- " thority of the Parliament of Great-Britain, made the firſt time by an Aſſembly, many " of whom plead what they call Conſcience, for not making or aſſiſting military Opera- " tions to reſiſt the Enemy, ſhould not be allowed to ſtand as Law."

With reſpect to the Act paſſed in November, 1755, and entituled, " An Act for the " better ordering and regulating ſuch as are willing and deſirous to be united for military " Purpoſes within this Province;" it is in every Reſpect the moſt improper and inadequate to the Service which could have been framed and paſſed, and ſeems rather calculated to exempt Perſons from military Service, than to encourage and promote them. No Methods are preſcribed for compelling Perſons, by proper Penalties, to aſſociate in Defence of their Country, or for obliging thoſe who are conſcientiouſly ſcrupulous of bearing Arms themselves to find others in their Stead, or to provide for such as might, by the executive Power, be found ready and willing to enlist: The Whole, both in respect of Enlistment, and of the Subsistence of those who may be enlisted, is voluntary; the Officers are to be elected by Ballot, and no Provision is made for that due Subordination, without which, all Bodies of Men associated for military Purposes would be absolutely useless. But these are not the only defective and mischievous Provisions of this Act; for it is enacted, that no Person under Twenty-one Years of Age shall be enlisted, by which Means, many able bodied Men, fit for the Service of their Country, as Soldiers, would be excluded; and that no Regiment, Company or Party, shall be compelled or led more than three Days March beyond the inhabited Parts of the Province, nor be detained against their Wills longer than three Weeks in any Garrison, let the Necessity of the Case be what it will; a Proviso which, instead of rendering this Militia effectual to the Purposes of Defence, may be the Means of encouraging Desertion, and of sacrificing such of the King's Troops as may happen to be joined with them in the same Service. But were the Provisions of this Act ever so good and proper, yet little Advantage or Benefit could be hoped for from a Law, in the Preamble of which it is declared, that the Majority of the Assembly, which is in Effect the governing Part of the Province in which it is to operate, and from whom his Majesty's Subjects ought to receive Support and Protection, are principled against bearing Arms; and that the Making a Law to compel Persons thereto, would be to violate a Fundamental of the Constitution, and be a direct Breach of the Privileges of the People: We are therefore of Opinion, that this Act should receive his Majesty's Disallowance. We are, My Lords,

At the COUNCIL-CHAMBER, Whitehall, the 24th of June. 1756.

By the Right Honourable the LORDS of the Committee of COUNCIL for Plantation Affairs.

YOUR Majesty having been pleased, by Your Order in Council of the Eleventh of February last, to refer unto this Committee two Acts passed in the Province of Pennsylvania in August and November, 1755, the Lords of the Committee did, on the Twelfth of February last, take the said Acts into their Consideration, and thought proper to transmit the same to the Lords Commissioners for Trade and Plantations, for their Opinion thereupon, who have reported to this Committee, "That they have consideerd the same, "and that the following Act, entituled, An Act for extending so much of an Act of Par- "liament, entituled, An Act for punishing Mutiny and Desertion, and for the better Pay- "ment of the Army and their Quarters, passed in the Twenty-eighth Year of the present "Reign, as relates to the Quartering and Billeting of Soldiers, and Payment of their Quar- "ters in that Part of Great-Britain called England; appearing to them to be of an ex- "traordinary and unusual Nature, they thought it their Duty to refer it to Your Ma- "jesty's Attorney-General, who hath reported to them, as his Opinion, that it is not "adviseable for Your Majesty to approve thereof: That the Tendency of this Act must "unavoidably be to cramp the public Service, and obstruct the Defence of the Pro- "vince: That it assumes Propositions true in the Mother Country, and rightly asserted "in the Reigns of CHARLES the First, and CHARLES the Second, in Times of Peace, "when Soldiers were kept up without Consent of Parliament; but that the Application "of such Propositions to a Colony in Time of War, in the Case of Troops raised for "their Protection by the Authority of the Parliament of Great-Britain, made the first "Time by an Assembly, many of whom plead what they call Conscience for not making "or assisting military Operations to resist the Enemy, should not be allowed to stand as "Law.

Report of the Lords of the Committee for repealing two Acts.

"And with respect to the Act passed in November, 1755, entituled, An Act for the "better ordering and regulating such as are willing and desirous to be united for military Pur- "poses within this Province; the said Lords Commissioners have reported, that it is in "every Respect the most improper and inadequate to the Service which could have been "framed and passed, and seems rather calculated to exempt Persons from military Ser- "vices, than to encourage and promote them. No Methods are prescribed for com- "pelling Persons, by proper Penalties, to associate in Defence of their Country, or for "obliging those, who are conscientiously scrupulous of bearing Arms themselves, to find "others in their Stead, or to provide for such as might, by the executive Power, be "found ready and willing to enlist. " enacted, that no Perſon under Twenty-one Years of Age ſhall be enliſted, by which " Means many able bodied Men, fit for the Service of their Country, as Soldiers, would " be excluded; and that no Regiment, Company or Party, ſhall be compelled, or led, " more than three Days March beyond the inhabited Parts of the Province, nor be de- " tained againſt their Wills, longer than three Weeks, in any Garriſon, let the Neceſ- " ſity of the Caſe be what it will. A Proviſo, which, inſtead of rendering this Mi- " litia effectual to the Purpoſes of Defence, may be the Means of encouraging Deſer- " tion and of ſacrificing ſuch of your Majeſty's Troops as may happen to be joined with " them in the ſame Service. But were the Proviſions of this Act ever ſo good and pro- " per, yet little Advantage or Benefit could be hoped for from a Law, in the Preamble " of which it is declared, that the Majority of the Aſſembly, which is in effect the go- " verning Part of the Province in which it is to operate, and from whom your Ma- " jeſty's Subjects ought to receive Support and Protection, are principled againſt bear- " ing Arms; and that the making a Law to compel Perſons thereto, would be to vio- " late a Fundamental of the Conſtitution, and be a direct Breach of the Privileges of the " People. The ſaid Lords Commiſſioners were therefore of Opinion, that this Act " ſhould receive your Majeſty's Diſallowance."

Upon Conſideration whereof, the Lords of the Committee do agree humbly to report as their Opinion to your Majeſty, that both the ſaid Acts ought to be repealed.

His Majeſty's Repeal of two Laws.

WHEREAS in Purſuance of the Powers granted to the Proprietaries of the Province of Pennſylvania, by Letters Patent, under the Great Seal, the Deputy Governor, Council and Aſſembly of the ſaid Province, did in Auguſt and November, 1755, paſs two Acts, which have been tranſmitted, and are entituled as follow, viz.

" An Act for extending ſo much of an Act of Parliament, entituled, An Act for pu- " niſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quar- " ters, paſſed in the Twenty-eighth Year of the preſent Reign, as relates to the Quarter- " ing and Billeting of Soldiers, and Payment of their Quarters, in that Part of Great- " Britain called England."

Additional INSTRUCTION to Our truſty and well-beloved WILLIAM DENNY, Eſq; Deputy-Governor of Our Province of Pennſylvania, in America; or to the Commander in Chief of Our ſaid Province for the Time being. Given at our Court at Kenſington, the Fifth Day of July, 1756, in the Thirtieth Year of Our Reign.

Royal Inſtruction concerning the Exportation of Proviſions, &c to the French.

WHEREAS by Our Declaration, dated the Seventeenth Day of May laſt, we have thought fit to declare War againſt the French King, his Subjects and Vaſſals: And whereas we have been informed, that heretofore, in Times of War, our Subjects in ſeveral of our Colonies and Plantations in America, have correſponded with our Enemies, and ſupplied them with Proviſions and Warlike Stores, whereby our Service has been greatly prejudiced, and the Safety of our Dominions endangered: It is therefore our expreſs Will and Pleaſure, that you do take the moſt ſpeedy and effectual Meaſures to hinder hinder all Correspondence between any of our Subjects inhabiting our Province of Pennsylvania, under your Government, and the Subjects of the said French King, and to prevent any of the Colonies or Plantations belonging to our Enemies, or other Places possessed by them in America, being supplied either by Land or by Sea, from our said Province, under your Government, with Provisions or warlike Stores of any Kind. 1756. October 19.

And in Case you shall find it necessary to have an Act passed for the Purposes abovementioned, you are earnestly to recommend it in our Name to the Legislature of our said Province, to prepare and pass such Act.

SIR, Albany, September 22, 1756.

I HAD since my Arrival, prior to your entering upon the Administration, received two Letters from Governor Morris. He gives me an Account of a Treaty or Conference he had held at Bethlehem, with some Indians living on the East Branch of the Susquehannah. I had been apprized before, by Sir William Johnson, of the Invitation given by the Governor and Government of Pennsylvania to this Treaty. I must here answer in general, and once for all, that his Majesty having entirely taken out of the Hands of the Governments and Governors, all Right to treat with, confer, or make War or Peace, with the Five Nations, or any of their Allies or Dependents; and having reposed this Trust wholly and solely in the Hands of Sir William Johnson, his sole Agent for these Affairs, under my Direction; I do hereby for the future forbid you, or your Government, from conferring or treating with these Indians, in any Shape, or on any Account whatever; and I do direct, that whatever Business in that Branch of his Majesty's Service shall arise to your Government or Province, you do refer it, and put it into the Hands of his Majesty's sole Agent, who will, according to the Powers with which he is invested, negociate and settle such Matters in the Way his Majesty has directed. I do not at all enter into the Merits of this Affair, because these have been considered by his Majesty, and what I now direct is by his Majesty's Order thereupon. Letter from Lord Loudon to the Governor.

After the wise Steps Sir Charles Hardy had taken, in concerting with Governor Morris, and the other Governors, an Embargo on the Exportation of Provisions, I cannot but express my Sorrow to find the Effects frustrated, by Governor Morris suffering himself to be advised by his Council to discontinue it. However, I have wrote to your Government, as well as the others, in the strongest Terms, requiring them, as I am commanded by his Majesty, to lay and continue an Embargo on Provisions. This Letter you will have received, and cannot make the least Doubt of your Compliance therewith.

As his Majesty is graciously pleased to support and send over to these Parts of his Dominions, for the Defence of the good People of North-America, so large a Body of Troops;——and as so great a Part of the Expence and Charge is borne by the Mother Country, it is proper you distinctly and precisely understand what his Majesty requires, and the Mother Country expects, on your Part.

First, That each Province and Colony respectively and separately do provide for all such Charges as arise from furnishing Quarters, and Necessaries allowed in Quarters by Act of Parliament, in furnishing Carriages, Sloops, and all other necessary Means of Conveyance for his Majesty's Troops, whenever such Troops be stationed within, or shall be marching through, such Province or Colony: These Charges being peculiarly local, and arising within the Province.

Secondly, That a general Fund be established in North-America, by Monies raised in all the Colonies collectively, to be issued and applied for such Articles of a general Concern, as come properly under the general Service, in such Manner as the Commander in Chief shall direct. And that each Province and Colony do accordingly appropriate to this general Service, such Sums as shall be raised for his Majesty's Use in the Defence of the Colonies.

One Article of which general Service his Majesty is pleased to specify to be, the making Provision for the Enlisting-Money of such Levies of Men as his Majesty has directed to be raised in North-America for your Defence; as also for reimbursing the Masters of such indented Servants as shall be legally inlisted in his Majesty's Service, according to an Act of Parliament passed this last Sessions.

I do therefore, as I am directed by his Majesty's Commands, demand of your Province in the above Matters. And as his Majesty is at present graciously pleased to make such Allowance towards victualing his Troops, as must greatly remove all Difficulty of Quartering as to that Article, I must expect, that in the Article of Lodging, and such other Necessaries as are furnished in Quarters in Great-Britain in Time of War, your Province will more chearfully make full and sufficient Provision. I must therefore beg of you, that you will acquaint the People of your Province, that when I shall have Occasion to put his Majesty's Troops into Quarters, that I do and must expect to find such as are necessary in your Province. As also, that whenever I shall have Occasion to march or send any Body or Party of Troops through your Province, I must expect that they be 1756. furniſhed with all neceſſary Means of Conveyance. The providing all which in ſuch Manner as may be moſt convenient, and leaſt burdenſome to the Province, the Legiſlature thereof will I hope conſider of.

October 19.

As to the Application I received from you, and the ſeveral Governors of the other Provinces, for particular Aſſiſtance, confined to the Frontiers of each reſpective Province, I muſt give one general Anſwer, that neither the State of the Service, nor the Number of Troops I can collect, renders ſuch Meaſures proper, or, indeed, poſſible: Defend yourſelves againſt the little flying Parties of the Enemy; take Poſt where that Defence can be beſt maintained; and, by ſending me Recruits of Men, enable me to act againſt the Body of the Enemy's Force where they are collected, and, by Divine Aſſiſtance, we may ſecure and maintain his Majeſty's Dominions, and fully protect his good People of North-America. I have the Honour to be, with great Regard, Sir,

Your moſt obedient humble Servant,

LOUDON.

P. S. I am to ſit down, as ſoon as I can find Time, to write you a very long Letter on ſeveral Subjects not mentioned in this public Letter, which I imagine will be of uſe to the public Service, and I dare ſay you will approve of."

The Rules uſually obſerved by the Aſſemblies of this Province (printed in the Minutes of 1704,) with the two additional Rules made by the laſt Aſſembly, being read, were agreed to be obſerved by this Houſe.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem. The Governor's Speech was again read, with ſeveral of the Papers therein referred to; and, after ſome Time ſpent in Conſideration thereof, the ſame was referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

October 20. The Houſe reſumed the Conſideration of the Governor's Speech; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That Mr. Galloway, Mr. Maſters, Mr. Walker, Mr. Aſhbridge, Mr. Douglas, Mr. John Wright, Mr. Weſt and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to prepare and bring in a Bill for prohibiting the Exportation of Proviſions, naval or warlike Stores, from this Province to the French.

Mr. Speaker laid before the Houſe, a Copy of his Order to the Provincial Secretary for iſſuing Writs for a new Election of five Members of Aſſembly, in the Room of thoſe who had reſigned; alſo a Letter he received from the Secretary on that Head; and informed the Houſe, that he had ſent the Secretary a Copy of the Minute of the Houſe, containing the Reaſons for iſſuing the ſaid Order.

And the ſaid Order and Letter were read, and are as follow, viz.

Pennſylvania, ſſ.

Speaker's Order to the Secretary, &c. BY a Reſolve of this Aſſembly, on the Sixteenth Inſtant, I am impowered and directed to order the Provincial Secretary, that he do iſſue a Writ to the Sheriff of the County of Bucks for the Election of two Members to ſerve as Repreſentatives in this Aſſembly for the ſaid County of Bucks, in the Room and Stead of Mahlon Kirkbride and William Hoge, Eſquires; and one other Writ to the Sheriff of Cheſter County, for the Election of two Members to ſerve as Repreſentatives in this Aſſembly for the ſaid County of Cheſter, in the Room and Stead of Peter Dicks and Nathaniel Pennock, Eſquires; and likewiſe one other Writ to the Sheriff of Northampton County, for the Election of one Member to ſerve as a Repreſentative in this Aſſembly for the ſaid County of Northampton, in the Room and Stead of William Allen, Eſquire: Therefore, by Virtue of the ſaid Reſolve, and in Purſuance of an Act of Aſſembly of this Province in that Caſe made and provided, I do require that Writs be iſſued to the Sheriffs of the ſaid reſpective Counties for the Purpoſes aforeſaid, according to the Directions of the ſaid Law. Dated at Philadelphia, the Eighteenth Day of October, A. D. 1756.

ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker.

To Richard Peters, Eſq; Provincial Secretary."

SIR, October 19, 1756.

Letter from the Secretary to the Speaker. ON Receipt of your Order, requiring me to iſſue a Writ to the Sheriff of the County of Bucks, for the Election of two Members to ſerve as Repreſentatives in this Aſſembly for the ſaid County of Bucks; in the Room and Stead of Mahlon Kirkbride and William Hoge, Eſquires; and one other Writ to the Sheriff of Cheſter County, for the Election of two Members to ſerve as Repreſentatives in this Aſſembly for the ſaid County of Cheſter, in the Room and Stead of Peter Dicks and Nathaniel Pennock, Eſquires; and likewiſe one other Writ to the Sheriff of Northampton County, for the Election of a Member to ſerve as a Repreſentative in this Aſſembly, for the ſaid County of Northampton, in the Room and Stead of William Allen, Eſq; I laid the Order before the Governor, vernor, who commands me to inform you, that as it appears to him, by the Returns of the proper Officers, the Gentlemen, mentioned in your Order, were duly elected Representatives of the People in the Counties of Bucks, Chester and Northampton, he ought to be made acquainted, either by a Copy of the Resolve of the House, or Reasons assigned by you, in your Order, by what Means they have been deprived of their Rights to sit and vote as Members of Assembly in your House, previous to my issuing Writs for new Elections. 1756. October 20.

As soon as you shall be pleased to give Satisfaction to his Honour in this Point, I shall be ready to yield immediate Obedience to your Order; and am, very respectfully, Sir,

Your most obedient humble Servant,

To the Honourable Isaac Norris, Esq;
Speaker of the Assembly. RICHARD PETERS."

A Petition from Michael Lovell, Archibald Hillhouse, James Stevenson and Charles Williams, late Inhabitants of Antigua, but now resident in the City of Philadelphia, was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that it being generally reported that an Embargo is proposed to be laid on Provisions for a considerable Space of Time, and the Petitioners apprehending that the State of the Sugar Islands is not perfectly known here, particularly that of the Island of Antigua, in which they have either Families, Relations, or Negroes; they beg Leave, therefore, humbly to remonstrate, that the said Island of Antigua doth not contain Seventy Thousand Acres of Land, all the fertile Part of which is employed in the Cultivation of the Sugar Cane only; that the said Island contains above Thirty-five Thousand Inhabitants; that the Support of the said Inhabitants, with Grain, and all the Species of Bread Kind, depends principally on their Supplies from North-America; that if at this Time a very long Embargo should ensue, the numerous Inhabitants would be in Danger of perishing for Want of those Supplies, and his Majesty's Government in that Island very much distressed; the Petitioners therefore pray, that this House will take the Premises into their serious Consideration, and do therein what their Wisdom and Prudence shall direct. Ordered to lie on the Table.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The House again resumed the Consideration of the Governor's Speech; and, after some Time spent therein, the same was referred to farther Consideration. Post Meridiem

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly. 'I LAY before you Accounts of ſome very late Murders committed on the Borders, even on the Eaſt Side of Suſquehannah; and a Petition from the neighbouring Inhabitants, praying further Aſſiſtance for their Protection.

'I have likewiſe received additional Intelligence from Shamokin, which makes it very probable that ſeveral large Parties of French and Indians are now on their March againſt different Parts of the Frontiers.

'Theſe Advices make me more and more ſenſible of the Neceſſity of a Militia Law, which I have ſo earneſtly recommended to you, and hope to have the Pleaſure of hearing you have made a conſiderable Progreſs in it.

'The Indians now in Town have again applied to me to be ſent into the Country; be pleaſed therefore to come to a Determination how to diſpoſe of them, either in the Manor of Pennſbury, or elſewhere.

The following Remonstrance, from William Griffitts, of the City of Philadelphia, was presented to the House, and read, viz.

To the REPRESENTATIVES of the Freemen of the Province of Pennsylvania, in General-Assembly met,

The REMONSTRANCE of William Griffitts, one of the Commissioners by Act of Assembly appointed to dispose of the French Neutrals imported into this Province from Nova-Scotia.

SHEWETH,

THAT your Remonstrant being solely moved by the Distress those People appeared to be in upon their Arrival amongst us, to accept the Care and Trust the House was pleased to appoint him to with the other Commissioners, being early apprehensive that the due Discharge thereof would be attended with no small Trouble (to the Commissioners) and Expence to the Public, which Experience since hath abundantly verified. William Griffitts's Remonstrance concerning the Neutrals.

That about Fifty of the Neutrals have lately had the Small-pox (of which many died) a material Reason why the Accounts of your Remonstrant amount higher than usual; the extraordinary Expence arising from supplying the Sick with sundry Necessaries recommended by the Doctors, and from the Hire of several Nurses to attend them in that Distemper, without which Care many more of them, in all Probability, would have perished miserably; and as your Remonstrant hath great Reason to believe, that any Neglect of Duty to the Neutrals, in the Time of their Sickness, would have justly deserved the Censure of this House, your Remonstrant humbly hopes, that his and the other Commissioners Care and Conduct in that Respect, though attended with a considerable Expence, will be approved of by the Assembly.

That the Reason why so many Neutrals have remained in Town so long, hath, in a great Measure, been owing to the Overseers of the respective Townships absolutely refusing to take Charge of them; for though the Law provides a Remedy, and to compel the Overseers to their Duty, yet they having often declared, that they would not supply them with Provisions (the Consequence of which would be their returning to the Commissioners, which they often have done, for Relief) your Remonstrant was therefore discouraged from insisting on it; and particularly, as it often happens that many of the Overseers are People whose Circumstances will not allow them to be in Advance for the Provisions necessary for the several Families under their Care, whereby many of the Neutrals who were willing to work have had neither Meat or Bread to eat for many Weeks together, and were necessitated (as your Remonstrant is credibly informed) to pilfer and steal for the Support of Life.

That your Remonstrant is greatly concerned to observe a general Dislike in the Inhabitants of this Province against employing the Neutrals in their Service, by Means whereof, notwithstanding some of them refuse to work, many of them who are willing to work are unemployed, and the Load of Expence becomes heavier on the Province.

That your Remonstrant hath at present Accounts by him, which (by the Governor's particular Direction) he stands engaged for, to the Amount of Three Hundred and Fifty Pounds, or thereabouts, and by what he can learn, there are other Accounts to the Amount of One Hundred and Fifty Pounds more, not yet brought in; great Part of the first mentioned Sum is already paid; and as your Remonstrant finds the Expence encreasing daily, therefore prays the House to take the Premises into Consideration, and make such Provision for reimbursing the Payment of the Monies aforesaid as in your Wisdom and Justice shall seem meet. Also, if the House should think fit to frame another Law respecting those Neutrals, your Remonstrant begs Leave to request that another Person may be therein nominated as Commissioner in his Stead; yet, at all Times, he will do 1756. October 28. the utmoſt in his Power to aſſiſt the new Commiſſioners in the Execution of their Office, and for your Favours be greatly obliged.

WILLIAM GRIFFITTS."

A Return of the Sheriff of the County of Chester was brought to the House, by which it appeared that Isaac Wayne and Ralph Pyle were chosen Representatives to serve in Assembly for the said County.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait on the Governor return, and report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay he was glad the Houſe had made Proviſion for the Expences likely to accrue upon the Indians coming down to Eaſton.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, with a Letter therein referred to, which were read, and the Meſſage is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'I HAVE this Morning received a Letter, giving an Account, that the Indian Chief, 'Teedyuſcung, with a Number of Indians, was met on their Way to Eaſton; and that 'One Hundred of thoſe who ſet out with him are waiting in the Woods, beyond Fort 'Allen, to know what Reception will be given to their Chief.

'As Lord Loudoun, after being made acquainted with the former Treaty held at 'Eaſton, has been pleaſed to ſignify to me, in his Majeſty's Name, in a Letter already 'laid before you, that neither the Governor nor Government of this Province ſhould 'confer or treat with the Indians, but that they ſhould be referred to Sir William Johnſon, who, his Lordſhip ſays, has the ſole Management of Indian Affairs, committed to 'him by ſpecial Commiſſion from his Majeſty, I find myſelf under very great Dif'ficulties.

'And as I am under a Neceſſity, by theſe Advices, to come immediately to a Re'ſolution, I deſire you will give me your Advice in what Manner to conduct myſelf on 'Behalf of this Government, whoſe Security and neareſt Intereſts, as well as thoſe of the 'other Colonies, will be deeply affected by the Meaſures now taken.

'Mr. Weiſer is waiting for Orders to ſet out for Eaſton, who cannot be diſpatched till 'I have the Opinion of the Houſe.

October 29, 1756. WILLIAM DENNY."

A Meſſage from the Governor by Mr. Secretary:

"SIR,

"The French Neutrals have repreſented to the Governor, that they are in a moſt "ſtarving Condition, and pray Relief; he therefore recommends their unfortunate Caſe "to the Conſideration of the Houſe."

The Governor's Meſſage being again read and conſidered,

Ordered, That Mr. Hughes, Mr. Franklin, Mr. Smith and Mr. Aſhbridge be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the ſame.

Then the Houſe adjourned for Half an Hour.

The Houſe met, &c.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it being read, was agreed to, with ſome Alterations, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor; which being accordingly done, it was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

WE have conſidered your Honour's Meſſage of this Day, with Lord Loudoun's Letter, laid before us at the Beginning of the Seſſion. And ſince you are pleaſed to aſk our Opinion and Advice on this important Occaſion, we ſhall give it with all dutiful Freedom and Sincerity.

We are truly thankful to our gracious Sovereign for the late wiſe Regulation of putting Indian Affairs, eſpecially thoſe that relate to War or Peace with them, under a more general Direction than they have heretofore been, as we think the Britiſh Intereſt will now have more Weight with the Indians, than if ſeparate Treaties of Peace might be made by ſeparate Colonies for themſelves, without conſulting the Intereſt or Safety of their Neighbours. We cannot therefore deſire, however burdenſome the preſent War with the Indians may be to this Province, that ſuch a ſeparate Treaty ſhould be concluded on our Behalf. We are, however, of Opinion, that the Treaty begun by the late Governor (before Sir William Johnſon's Powers were made known) in Purſuance of which the Indians are now come down, ſhould not be wholly diſcontinued on our Part, leſt the Indians be diſguſted, and the Opportunity of bringing them to a general Peace with all the Britiſh Colonies be loſt. We rather think it adviſeable, that your Honour would give them an Interview, make them the cuſtomary Preſents, in Behalf of this Government, to relieve their Neceſſities, and aſſure them of our ſincere Inclination to take them again into Friendſhip, forgive their Offences, and make a firm Peace with them; but at the ſame Time to let them know, that the Government of this Province cannot agree to make a Peace with them for itſelf, and leave them at Liberty to continue the War with our Brethren of the neighbouring Colonies: That we are all Subjects of one great King, and muſt, for the future, be all at Peace or all at War with other Nations at the ſame Time: That our King has appointed Sir William Johnſon to manage theſe general Treaties for all the Governments in this Part of America, and to him we muſt therefore refer refer the Indians for a final Concluſion and Ratification of this Treaty;—promiſing alſo to write to him, acquainting him with the good Diſpoſitions the Indians have ſhown at theſe Conferences, and recommend it to him to make the Agreement firm and laſting for all Parties. An Interview of this Kind with the Indians, we apprehend, may at this Time be greatly for his Majeſty's Service, and for the Advantage not only of this, but of all the neighbouring Colonies, and not inconſiſtent with the Intention of Lord Loudoun's Letter: Which we nevertheleſs ſubmit to your Honour's prudent Conſideration. 1756. October 29.

And the Meſſage being ſigned by Mr. Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. Baynton wait upon the Governor, and deliver the ſame.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

A Petition from John Jones, Samuel Mechlin and Daniel Brown, Freeholders and Inhabitants of the County of Northampton, in Behalf of themſelves and divers of the Freeholders and Inhabitants of the ſaid County, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that an Election was held at Eaſton, in the County of Northampton aforeſaid, on Monday, the Twenty-fifth Day of this inſtant October, for chooſing a Repreſentative to ſerve in General Aſſembly for the ſaid County, at which Election the Petitioners apprehend that William Plumſted, who was returned as Repreſentative by the Sheriff, was illegally choſen, for the following Reaſons, viz. 1ſt, Matthias Riggle, one of the Inſpectors, notwithſtanding his Qualification, deſtroyed ſeveral of the Tickets which were in Favour of William Edmonds, and delivered to the ſaid Riggle. 2d, That one Perſon was ſeen to deliver Tickets repeatedly to the Inſpectors. 3d, A great Number of the Tickets were folded up together, ſome one in another, and ſome two in one, which appeared to be received by the Inſpectors as one Ticket, a Number of which were allowed and approved of by the Sheriff: The Petitioners, therefore, and as they conceive the ſaid Election is contrary to an Act of General Aſſembly of this Province, and an Infringement of their Rights and Liberties, pray that this Houſe will take the Premiſes into Conſideration, and grant them ſuch Relief as ſhall ſeem meet.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Houſe being informed that two of the Petitioners and the Sheriff of the County of Northampton were attending without, they were called in, and having anſwered ſuch Queſtions concerning the late Election in ſaid County as were put to them by the Houſe, they were directed to withdraw.

Ordered, That the preſent Sheriff of the County of Northampton do, as ſoon as may be, make a Return to this Houſe of the Liſt of Taxables, Conſtables Returns, and Names of Voters, as required by Law; and that the Clerk do write to the former Sheriff offaid County, to ſend down the ſaid Liſts for the Election held on the Firſt Day of October laſt.

Reſolved, That next Tueſday Se'nnight be appointed to hear the Merits of the Petition from Northampton County; and that the Petitioners and Sheriff do attend at that Time, with their reſpective Evidences.

S I R,

" The Governor informs the Houſe, that he propoſes, if the Weather will permit, " to go To-morrow to Eaſton, and would be pleaſed with the Company of any of the " Members that the Houſe ſhall think proper to appoint to attend the Indian Con- " ferences."

A Meſſage from the Governor by Mr. Secretary:

S I R,

" The Governor lays before the Houſe a Letter from the Secretary of State, ſigni- " fying the King's Pleaſure, that in Caſe any of his Commanders at Sea ſhould have " Occaſion to apply to this Government to ſet on Shore any French Priſoners, he ſhould " receive them, and treat them as heretofore in the late French War.

" At the ſame Time he informs the Houſe, that there are in the Goal of this City " two French Deſerters, who have lain there theſe nine Months, and one French Pri- " ſoner in Lancaſter Goal, and that there is no Proviſion made for either their Cloath- " ing, Diet or Removal."

The Letter referred to in the foregoing Meſſage was read, and is as follows, viz.

S I R, Whitehall, June 18, 1756.

Secretary of State's Letter. I AM commanded to ſignify to you the King's Pleaſure, that in Caſe any of the Commanders of his Majeſty's Ships ſhall have Occaſion to apply to you to ſet on Shore, in the Province under your Government, any French Priſoners, you ſhould receive and treat them in the ſame Manner as was practiſed during the laſt War, or in ſuch other Manner as you ſhall think moſt conducive to his Majeſty's Service. I am, Sir,

To the Deputy Governor of Pennſylvania. Your moſt obedient humble Servant, H. Fox."

Reſolved, That it be recommended to the Commiſſioners for diſpoſing of the Thirty Thouſand Pounds, granted to the King's Uſe, to make Proviſion for the Cloathing, Diet, or Removal of ſuch French Priſoners as now are, or hereafter may be, brought to this Province, in ſuch Manner as the Governor, with the ſaid Commiſſioners, ſhall judge ſuitable and neceſſary.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Bill, entituled, An Act for regulating the Officers and Soldiers commiſſionated and raiſed by the Governor for the Defence of this Province, being tranſcribed, was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

Ordered, That Mr. Gibbons and Mr. Weſt do carry up the ſame to the Governor for his Concurrence; and deſire to know whether he has the Eſtimates of the Supplies neceſſary to be granted at this Time ready, and if ſo, that he would be pleaſed to communicate the ſame to the Houſe; and further, that the ſaid Members deliver the following Meſſage to the Governor, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. THE Repreſentatives of the Province of Pennſylvania, in Aſſembly met, requeſt your Honour would be pleaſed to grant a Commiſſion to Samuel Kirk, to be Serjeant at Arms, and King's Meſſenger, at all Times to attend the Service of this Houſe, with Power to execute all Precepts, Warrants and Meſſages whatſoever, which ſhall be iſſued by their Order, as has been formerly the Uſage within this Province.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

November 4. The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Bill for regulating the Provincial Forces, and the Meſſages of the Houſe, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he would take the ſaid Bill into his Conſideration, and give it all the Diſpatch in his Power; that he had not as yet compleated an Eſtimate of the Supplies neceſſary for the preſent Year, owing to his being much engaged in public Buſineſs; and that as to the Meſſage requeſting a Commiſſion for the Serjeant at Arms, he would take it into Conſideration, and give an Anſwer to the Houſe.

The Houſe reſumed the Conſideration of the Motion concerning the Clauſes in the Law

Law for regulating and continuing the Nightly Watch, &c. which relate to the Pumps in the Streets of Philadelphia; and, after some Time spent therein, 1756. November 4.

Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Leech, Mr. Baynton and Mr. Masters, be a Committee to prepare and bring in a Bill for explaining and amending the said Act, so far as relates to the Pumps in the Streets of the City of Philadelphia.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, sent down to the House the Bill for regulating the Provincial Forces, with a Message, that he was ready to pass the same into a Law whenever it should be presented to him for that Purpose; but he recommended it to the House to consider whether it would not be proper to lessen the Number of Officers required by the Bill to constitute a Court-martial, as it would be sometimes difficult to get such a Number together, and Trials thereby be too long postponed.

And the House taking the same into Consideration, were of Opinion, that as the Law was not to be in Force longer than till the Twenty-fifth of March next; it was not necessary to make the proposed Alteration at present, especially as it would take some Time, and the Governor was now waiting in the Council Chamber to give his Assent to the Bill, being to set out for Easton To-morrow.

Ordered, That the said Bill be engrossed. —— And the same being done accordingly, was read, and compared at the Table.

Ordered, That Mr. Leech and Mr. Franklin do meet such of the Council as the Governor shall appoint, in order to compare the engrossed Bill with the Original; and that they acquaint his Honour with the Reasons why the House adhered to the Bill as it now stands.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had, with a Member of Council, compared the engrossed Bill with the Original, and found them to agree; and that they had acquainted the Governor with the Reasons why the House adhered to the Bill as it now stands; who was pleased to say, he was ready to receive the House, in order to pass the same into a Law.

Ordered, That two of the Members see the Great Seal affixed to said Law, after it is passed, and the same deposited in the Rolls Office.

Then Mr. Speaker, with the whole House, waited upon the Governor; and being returned, Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair, and reported, that the House had waited on the Governor with the Bill, entituled, An Act for regulating the Officers and Soldiers commissionated and raised by the Governor for the Defence of this Province, to which his Honour was pleased to give his Assent, by enacting the same into a Law. And Mr. Speaker further reported, that the Governor said, he had directed a Commission to be made out for the Serjeant at Arms in the usual Manner.

Resolved, That this House will this Day adjourn to Monday, the 22d Instant.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Gentlemen appointed to see the Great Seal affixed to the Law after it was passed, reported, that the same was done, and deposited in the Rolls Office.

Ordered, That Mr. Baynton, Mr. Masters, Mr. Smith, Mr. Hunt, Mr. James Wright, Mr. M'Connaughy, Mr. Allen and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to prepare a Draught of a Bill for providing for the Maintenance of the French Neutrals now in this Province, and such of our Back Inhabitants as are driven from their Habitations, and not capable of getting their Livelihood.

Ordered, That Mr. Speaker, Mr. Fox, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Franklin and Mr. Masters be a Committee to accompany the Governor to the proposed Conference with the Indians now at Easton.

Ordered, That Mr. Owen and Mr. Walker wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him therewith, and with the proposed Time of Adjournment; and desire to know if his Honour hath any Objection thereto.

Resolved, That the Hearing of the Merits of the Petition from Northampton County, relating to an undue Election; be deferred till Tuesday, the Twenty-third Instant; and that the Clerk do send Notice thereof to the Petitioners, and to the Sheriff of the said County.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Message of the House, according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say, that the Gentlemen appointed to accompany him to Easton were extremely agreeable to him; and that he had not the least Objection to the proposed Time of Adjournment.

Then the House adjourned to Monday the Twenty-second Instant. Adjournment

THE House met, pursuant to their Adjournment. November 22.

Ordered, That Mr. Galloway and Mr. Yorke wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the House are met, and ready to receive any Thing he may have to lay before them. Post Meridiem

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait on the Governor with the Message of the House, November 23.

1756. November 23. report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay he ſhould have ſomething to communicate to the Houſe concerning the Supplies for the current Year, which his being obliged to go out of Town had prevented his getting ready ſooner.

Thomas Blackledge, Ralph Pyle, and James Webb, returned Repreſentatives to ſerve in Aſſembly, appearing in the Houſe, took and ſubſcribed the Qualification appointed by Law to be taken by Members of Aſſembly, and the Abjuration; and then took their Seats in the Houſe accordingly.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Sheriff of the County of Northampton attending without, was called in, and he laid before the Houſe the Liſt of Taxables, Conſtables Returns, &c. made Uſe of at the laſt Election of a Repreſentative for the ſaid County, and then withdrew.

Ordered, That the Committee of Grievances be a Committee of Elections for the enſuing Year, who are to meet at any Time they ſhall think proper, when the Houſe is not ſitting; and that they give Notice of the Times of their Meeting, that any of the other Members may alſo attend if they think fit; and all that attend are to have Voices.

Ordered, That all the Papers laid before the Houſe, relating to the late Election in Northampton County, be referred to the ſaid Committee; and that they examine the ſame, and ſuch Perſons as they ſhall think proper, and report thereon to the Houſe.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Ordered, That Mr. Galloway and Mr. Franklin do prepare a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor, deſiring he would be pleaſed to lay before the Houſe ſuch of the Proprietary Inſtructions to him as relate to Matters of Legiſlation; alſo a Copy of the late Conference with the Indians at Eaſton.

Poſt Meridiem. The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down a written Meſſage to the Houſe, with ſundry Papers referred to therein, which were read, and the Meſſage is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'I COMMUNICATE to you a Letter from Lord Loudoun, demanding Quarters for a Battalion of Royal Americans, and two Independant Companies, and I deſire you will enable me forthwith to provide them; a Quarter-Maſter being every Day expected, to regulate that Service.

'I now lay before you an Eſtimate for the Expences of the current Year, my late Journey and Buſineſs at Eaſton having prevented me from doing it ſo ſoon as I could have wiſhed.

'The Letter herewith ſent I received by Expreſs from Governor Sharpe, incloſing the Examination of one William Johnſon, whoſe Intelligence is of ſuch Conſequence to this Country as well deſerves your Attention.

November 24, 1756. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Papers ſent down with the foregoing Meſſage were ſeverally read, and the Letter from Lord Loudoun, and the Governor's Eſtimates of the Expences for the current Year, were ordered to be entered on the Minutes; and they accordingly are as follow, viz.

SIR, Fort Edward, October 28, 1756.

Letter from Lord Loudoun to the Governor.

I HAVE had a great many Things, which I wanted to have writ to you fully about; but from the Situation in which I found Things on my Arrival here, I have been kept in ſuch a continual Hurry, as to put it entirely out of my Power; and I am afraid a great Part of them muſt now lie over, till I have the Pleaſure of ſeeing you at Philadelphia, where I propoſe to be as ſoon as I can.

As the Seaſon muſt now bring the Campaign ſoon to an End, it is neceſſary for me now to look out for Winter Quarters for the Troops; in which I muſt conſult the compleating the Troops during the Winter, and having them in a Situation fit for aſſembling in the Spring, to take the Field; for which Purpoſe I find it will be neceſſary to have in Philadelphia one Battalion of the Royal Americans, and three Companies in the Lower Counties; and I believe I ſhall be obliged likewiſe to put into your Province, in order to recruit them, two Independant Companies.

The three Companies I propoſe for the Lower Counties, are Part of a Battalion that goes into Maryland, and as they lie near one another, I imagine we may get that Battalion pretty

pretty contiguous, as I cannot agree to leſs than a Company being together; in the Beginning thoſe Companies will be ſmall, but I hope by Chriſtmas to ſee them well increaſed. 1756. November 24.

As the Order for Quarters has been ſo often ſignified from his Majeſty to every Government on the Continent, by his Secretaries of State, Lord Holderneſſe, Sir Thomas Robinſon and Mr. Fox, I muſt think it unneceſſary for me to add any Thing further on this Subject, eſpecially as I am writing to you, who is ſo thoroughly acquainted with the Quartering in England in Time of Peace, and what Things are furniſhed in Quarters for the Officers and Soldiers; and likewiſe as you are fully acquainted with how much further Quartering extends in Time of War, and even muſt do ſo, from the Nature of Things.

I muſt beg the Favour of you to give Directions to have Quarters ready againſt the Troops arrive, which ſhall be as ſoon as I can finiſh the Campaign, which the Nature of the Seaſon muſt ſoon put a Cloſe to.

I beg Leave to aſſure you, and the Province, that whatever Protection I can give to your People, from the Incurſions of their turbulent Neighbours, I will do it to the utmoſt of my Power. I am, with great Regard,

Sir, your moſt obedient humble Servant,
LOUDOUN."

The Serjeant at Arms laid before the Houſe the Commiſſion he had received from the Governor, which was read; and the Clerk was ordered to take a Copy thereof, to be depoſited among the Papers belonging to this Houſe.

Three Petitions (viz. from John Boggs, Adam Ramſover and Morris Evans, of Cheſter County) complaining of ſundry unjuſt and oppreſſive Proceedings of William Moore, Eſq; one of the Juſtices of ſaid County, and praying Redreſs, were preſented to the Houſe, and read, and Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

YOU were pleaſed by your Meſſage at the Beginning of this Seſſion to repreſent to us the Expediency of framing ſundry Laws that are neceſſary for the Defence and Utility of the Province; and we think many others, not recommended to us by your Honour, may likewiſe be for the Benefit of the People, which we are determined at this Time to take into our ſerious Conſideration, and pay that Regard and Attention to them that their Importance deſerves: But as many Bills, prepared at a burthenſome Expence to the Public by antecedent Aſſemblies for the Defence of the Province, in Compliance with his Majeſty's Orders, and other ſalutary Purpoſes, after much Time, and great Pains had been ſpent in framing them, have been rejected by your Honour's Predeceſſors, becauſe not conſiſtent with certain Inſtructions that they had received from the Proprietaries, as directory to them in Matters of Legiſlation; which Inſtructions, notwithſtanding, were unreaſonably concealed from the Repreſentatives of the People; we are, in Juſtice to ourſelves, and in Duty to thoſe we repreſent, obliged humbly to requeſt that your Honour would be pleaſed to lay before us full Copies of all ſuch of your Inſtructions that are of a public Nature, and in anywiſe relate to Matters of Legiſlation, that we may, as we are ſincerely inclined, avoid all unneceſſary Delays at this critical Juncture, in Matters of real Importance, and yield a chearful Obedience to his Majeſty's moſt gracious Orders for our Defence.

When we reflect on a late Inſtance of your Honour's Candour on the like Occaſion, and the evident Proof you gave a former Aſſembly of a ſincere Inclination to facilitate and expedite Matters, in which the public Welfare was concerned, we have no Room to doubt your Honour will favour us in complying with this reaſonable and neceſſary Requeſt. We

We also further request, that your Honour would be pleased to lay before us the Minutes taken at the last Conference held at Easton with Teedyuscung and other Indian Chiefs, that the Representatives of the People may be acquainted with Matters which so intimately relate to the public Weal and the Peace of the Province." 1756. November 24.

And the Message being signed by Mr. Speaker, by Order of the House, Ordered, That Mr. Pearne and Mr. Grubb wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same.

A Bill, impowering the Overseers of the Poor to provide for the Maintenance of the French Neutrals, and such of the Back Inhabitants as are not able to get their own Livelihood, was brought in by the Committee appointed to prepare the same, read the first time, and ordered a second Reading.

A Supplementary Bill to the Watch and Lamp Act was brought in by the Committee appointed to prepare the same, read the first time, and ordered a second Reading.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Message of the House, report, that they had delivered the same according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say, after reading the Message, that he would cause a Copy of the Minutes of the Indian Conference, lately held at Easton, to be laid before the House as soon as it could be transcribed; but that as to communicating the Proprietary Instructions, he would take some Time to consider of it: That he was determined to act an open and candid Part with the House, and between the Proprietaries and People; and that every Thing that could be reasonably expected from him he would comply with, and was persuaded the House would not desire any Thing more. November 25.

Three Petitions (viz. from Patrick Archbold, Peter Mather and Thomas Roberts, of the County of Chester) representing sundry Grievances they have sustained by Means of the arbitrary Proceedings of William Moore, Esq; a Justice of the Peace in said County, and praying Redress, was presented to the House and read, and Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Bill to prevent the Exportation of Provisions, naval and warlike Stores to the French, was read the second time, and debated; and, after some Time spent therein, the same was referred to farther Consideration.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Post Meridiem

The House resumed the Consideration of the Bill for preventing the Exportation of Provisions, naval and warlike Stores to the French; and, after some Time spent therein, the same was referred to farther Consideration.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, sent down to the House a Message in Writing, with a Copy of the Proprietaries Fourteenth Instruction to the Governor, which were read, and are as follow, viz. November 26.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'IN Compliance with your late Message, I send you the only one of the Proprietary 'Instructions, of a public Nature, in anywise relating to Matters of Legislation, which 'have not been already laid before you.

'I am as sincerely disposed as you to avoid Delays; and will most readily give my Assent to such Bills, when laid before me, as shall be thought for the Good of his Majesty's Service, and the Defence of this Country.

'The Conferences at Easton are copying, and shall be sent you as soon as they are 'finished.

November 26. WILLIAM DENNY."

COPY of the Fourteenth Proprietary Instruction.

Proprietaries 14th Instruction.

WHEREAS we conceive that a regular Militia is absolutely necessary for the Defence of the Inhabitants of our said Province and Counties, in Time of War, and the only permanent Defence which the Inhabitants of the said Province and Counties are capable of supporting, you are to take the first favourable Opportunity to settle a regular and useful Militia within both your Governments; and also to establish a Fort or Battery on some Part of the River Delaware, for the Defence of the City of Philadelphia, or in any other Part of the said Province or Counties, where it may be thought necessary, for the Security thereof; or to take any other Measures you shall judge necessary for the Defence of the said Province and Counties, so soon as ever you shall find the Houses of Representatives disposed to pass the Laws, and make the Provisions necessary for these Purposes: And in the mean Time, in Case any Exigency shall arise, you are, for the Good and Safety of the said Province and Counties, to train any Number of Men, who shall be willing to unite for the Defence of the Country, to be used and exercised pursuant to the Intention and true Meaning of the Royal Charter granted to our late Father, deceased, and to appoint Officers for them, who are to receive your Orders, and to be accountable to you, as Commander in Chief: But forasmuch as many of the Inhabitants, within the said Province and Counties, scruple to bear Arms, you are to use your utmost Endeavours 1756. November 26. that they may be admitted to furniſh other Perſons in their Stead, or ſome other Equivalent in Lieu of their own perſonal Service.

The Houſe reſumed the Conſideration of the Bill for prohibiting the Exportation of Proviſions, &c. to the French; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That the ſaid Bill be committed to the Committee who brought it in, for Amendment; and that they add a Clauſe thereto for laying a temporary Prohibition on the Exportation of Proviſions, naval and warlike Stores, to all Places in America, not ſubject to the Crown of Great-Britain, to take Place immediately after the Paſſing of the Act; and providing, that in Caſe the other Colonies ſhould come into the ſame Meaſure, the ſaid Prohibition may be continued for a longer Time, otherwiſe that the ſame be diſcontinued.

Ordered, That the Clerk do call upon Mr. Secretary for the laſt Act of Parliament relating to Mutiny and Deſertion, &c. which the Governor had been pleaſed to ſay he would ſend to the Houſe, the Committee appointed to prepare a Bill for quartering and billeting of Soldiers not having been able to complete the ſame for want of the ſaid Act.

November 27. Three Petitions (viz. from John Francis, Jacob Grove and Dennis O'Neal, of the County of Cheſter) againſt William Moore, Eſq; of the ſaid County, complaining of ſundry unjuſt and illegal Proceedings, were preſented to the Houſe, and read, and Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Supplementary Bill to the Act for regulating and continuing the Nightly Watch, &c. was read the ſecond time; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, it was committed to the Committee who brought it in, for Amendment.

A Petition from William Plumſted, of the City of Philadelphia, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that at an Election held at Eaſton, in the County of Northampton, on the Twenty-fifth of October laſt paſt, the Petitioner was elected by the Freemen of the ſaid County, to repreſent them in Aſſembly for this preſent Year, by a Majority of near two to one, and regularly returned to the Houſe by the Sheriff of the ſaid County, according to the Laws of this Province in ſuch Caſe made and provided; that the Petitioner, agreeable to his Duty, appeared ſoon afterwards in this Houſe to take his Seat, in Conſequence of the ſaid Election, and was ready to take the Qualifications required by Law for that Purpoſe, but was informed by the Houſe, that a Petition from three (only) of the Inhabitants of the ſaid County had been exhibited, complaining, that the ſaid Election was unfair and illegal; wherefore the Petitioner underſtands it was the Senſe of this Houſe, that the Petitioner ſhould not be admitted to ſit till the ſaid Complaint ſhould be heard and determined; he therefore ſubmits to the Houſe, whether it is agreeable to the conſtant Uſage of Parliament, and Practice of former Aſſemblies of this Province, by which a Member returned is admitted to take his Seat in the Houſe until undoubted Proof is made that he was unduly elected; that the Petitioner is informed a Day is appointed to examine Witneſſes in Support of the ſaid Petition, when, he hopes, and deſires, as his Right of ſerving his Country in a Legiſlative Capacity (which is one of the higheſt Privileges of an Engliſhman) is to be determined, he ſhall have an Opportunity of being heard by Counſel in the Defence of his Right; and as he cannot poſſibly be prepared to make ſuch Defence without being previouſly acquainted with the Nature of the ſaid Charge, he requeſts the Houſe will order him to be furniſhed with a Copy of the ſaid Petition. Ordered to lie on the Table.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

December 1. A Petition from ſundry Tavern-keepers in Lancaſter, praying that the Houſe would allow

The Petition from William Plumsted, and the Petition from John Jones and others of Northampton County, were again read, and considered; and, after some Time spent therein.

Ordered, That the Clerk do give a Copy of the Petition from the said Jones and others to William Plumsted; and that the said Plumsted have Leave to be heard by Counsel, agreeable to the Prayer of his Petition.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

A djournment Post Meridiem

The House went upon the Consideration of the Bill for providing for the French Neutrals, &c. and, after some Time spent therein, the same was referred to the Committee who brought it in, for Amendment.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment December 2.

Upon Motion made, that the House would determine how the Costs, arising upon the Hearing of the Merits of the late Election of a Representative for the County of Northampton, and the Charges of the Evidences who are summoned to attend the same, are to be paid, it was, after some Time spent in Consideration thereof, Ordered, That Mr. Baynton, Mr. Franklin, Mr. Denormandie, Mr. Ashbridge, Mr. James Wright, Mr. John Wright, Mr. Allen and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to inspect the Journals of the House of Commons for Precedents relating to the Payment of such Costs and Charges as attend controverted Elections, and report thereon to the House.

The House were informed that John Jones, and the other Petitioners against the Election of William Plumsted, with their Evidences, were attending, according to the Order of the Committee of Elections; and having heard that the said Plumsted had presented a Petition to the House, desiring to be heard by Counsel concerning the said Election, they requested that the same Liberty might be granted to them; and likewise that they migt have a Copy of the said Plumsted's Petition; which was accordingly agreed to, and directed by the House.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Committee to whom the Bill for preventing the Exportation of Provisions, naval and warlike Stores to the French, was committed for Amendment, reported the same to the House and it was read, with the Amendments, the first time, and ordered a second Reading.

A Bill extending several Sections of the Act of Parliament for punishing Mutiny and Desertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters, was brought in by the Committee appointed to prepare a Bill for the Quartering and Billeting of Soldiers, and read the first and second time, by special Order; and after some Time spent in Consideration thereof, the same was referred to further Consideration till To-morrow Morning.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment December 3.

The Committee appointed to inspect the Votes of the House of Commons, for Precedents relating to the Payment of Costs and Charges attending controverted Elections, made a Report in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

Report relating to Costs on controverted Elections.

IN Obedience to the Order of the House, we have examined the Votes of the House of Commons, and do find the following Precedents relating to the Charges and Expences arising in Cases of Complaint enquired into by the House.

In the Parliament of the Twenty-first of JAMES I. the Mayor of Arundel having misbehaved himself in the Election of a Burgess for that Town, was sent for, and ordered to pay the Charges of the Witnesses, to be assessed by three Members.

In the Eighteenth and Nineteenth of the same Reign, a Constable of York was sent for up, and accused of Misdemeanors; but being acquitted, he had Five Pounds ordered him for his Charges.——Also one Napper being committed to the Serjeant for serving a Subpœna on Mr. Brereton, was dismissed, after paying Costs to Mr. Brereton, and due Fees to the Officers of the House.

In the Fourth of CHARLES I. the Sheriff and one of the Aldermen of York, having conducted an Election illegally, to the Prejudice of Alderman Hoy, a Candidate, were ordered to pay all the Charges of the Witnesses of the said Hoy, to be assessed by four of the Committee.

In 1699, March 9, Thomas Hawksly and Roger Hunt, Overseers of the Poor for Nottingham, being summoned to attend the Committee of Privileges and Elections, by George Gregory, Esq; Petitioner against Robert Sacheverell, Esq; prayed that they might be relieved for their Charges in coming to Town, Expences in Town, and returning home. And it was ordered, that the said Gregory do pay the Petitioners their reasonable Charges, to be assessed by the Chairman of the Committee.

In

1756. December 3.

In 1711, the 22d of March, a Complaint being made to the Houſe, that John Cunningham was ſummoned in Behalf of Major General Hamilton, to attend the Committee of Privileges and Elections, to teſtify his Knowledge touching the late Election of a Member to ſerve in Parliament; and that Major General Hamilton refuſes to pay him his reaſonable Charges for his Journey and Attendance; it was ordered that the ſaid John Cunningham have his reaſonable Charges for his Journey and Attendance on the Committee, to be aſcertained by the Chairman.

In 1715, September 8, Anne Cater, John Burton, James Coot and Stephen Norman, praying that they may be relieved for their Charges in coming up and ſtaying in Town; being ſummoned as Witneſſes by John Hervey, Eſq; to attend the Hearing of the Merits of the Election for the County of Bedford; and the ſaid Hervey having refuſed to give them reaſonable Satisfaction, it was ordered that the ſaid Mr. Hervey do pay the Petitioners their reaſonable Charges, to be ſettled by Mr. Speaker.

In 1717, June 18, Thomas Prowſe, Steward of the Manor of Minehead, complained, that he was required, by a Warrant from Mr. Speaker, to permit George Speke, Eſq; or his Agents, to inſpect the Rolls of the ſaid Manor, and to take Notes or Copies therefrom, and to attend the Houſe with the ſaid Rolls; and that he did appear accordingly, and was examined; but that Mr. Speke's Agent refuſed him reaſonable Satisfaction for the ſame; and praying Relief, it was ordered, that the ſaid Prowſe be paid his reaſonable Charges, to be ſettled by Mr. Speaker.

In 1695, December 21, It was reſolved, that Sir George Meggot, having prefered to the Houſe a groundleſs and vexatious Petition, relating to the Election of Members to ſerve in Parliament for Southwark, do make Satisfaction to the Members he petitioned againſt for the Coſts and Expences they have been put to by Reaſon of ſuch Petitions.

In the ſame Year, March 4, It was reſolved, that Sir Richard Gipps, having prefered to the Houſe a frivolous, vexatious and groundleſs Petition, relating to the Election of Members for Totneſs, be taken into Cuſtody of the Serjeant, and make Satisfaction to the Members he petitioned againſt, for the Coſts and Expences they have been put unto by reaſon of ſuch Petition.

The Votes of Parliament being voluminous, and moſtly without Indexes, theſe are all the Precedents that the Committee, in ſo ſhort a Time, have been able to find relating to the Payment of Witneſſes Charges. Many there are in which no Application appears for the Payment of ſuch Charges, nor any Determination wo ſhould pay them; but whether there are any Determinations different or contrary in like Caſes, we cannot ſay. Theſe, without preſuming to make any Remarks upon them, are humbly ſubmitted to the Conſideration of the Houſe, by December 3, 1756.

JOHN BAYNTON,
BENJAMIN FRANKLIN,
JOHN ABRAHAM DENORMANDIE,
GEORGE ASHBRIDGE,
JAMES WRIGHT,
JOHN WRIGHT,
WILLIAM ALLEN,
THOMAS YORKE."

And the foregoing Report being again read, and conſidered,

Reſolved, That in all Cauſes and Complaints proper to be enquired into, heard and determined by the Aſſembly, wherein Witneſſes are ſummoned to attend, it is the undoubted Right of this Houſe, on Application made for that Purpoſe, to aſſeſs and aſcertain the reaſonable Coſts and Expences of ſuch Witneſſes and others, ſummoned to attend the Houſe, and order Payment thereof, together with the Officers Fees, to be made by ſuch Perſons as it ſhall appear to the Houſe ought in Juſtice to pay the ſame.

The Houſe reſumed the Conſideration of the Bill, entituled, An Act for extending ſeveral Sections of an Act of Parliament paſſed in the Twenty-ninth Year of the preſent Reign entituled, An Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the ſame was ordered to be tranſcribed for a third Reading.

And the ſaid Bill being accordingly tranſcribed, was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the Bill do paſs.

Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. Baynton, do carry up the ſame to the Governor for his Concurrence.

The Committee of Elections and Privileges report, that they had examined the Sheriff of Northampton County, relating to his Return of a Repreſentative for the ſaid County, and ſhould have made ſome further Progreſs in the Matters referred to them, but that the Parties requiring Summonſes for a conſiderable Number of Evidences, who would not attend without, they had poſtponed the Time for hearing the Merits of the Election, and had granted Summonſes for the Witneſſes, according to the Requeſt of the Parties; that both Parties were now attending with their Witneſſes, and requeſted to be heard by Counſel: The Committee therefore moved, that the Houſe would determine whether the ſaid Parties ſhould be heard at the Bar of the Houſe, or before the Committee?

And the Houſe taking the ſame into Conſideration,

Ordered,

1756.

Ordered, That both Parties, with their Counsel, be heard at the Bar of the House at Four o'Clock this Afternoon, and that the Clerk do give them Notice thereof.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

December 3. Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Gentlemen appointed to carry up the Bill for Quartering and Billeting of Soldiers reported, that they had delivered the same according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say, he would give it all the Dispatch in his Power.

John Jones, and others, Petitioners against the late Election in Northampton County, the Sheriff of said County, and William Plumsted, with their respective Evidences, attending, according to the Order of the House, were called in; and were acquainted by Mr. Speaker, that the House were ready to enter upon the Hearing of the Merits of the said Election.

John Jones informed the House, that he had, in Pursuance of the Leave granted him by the House to be heard by Counsel, applied to several Gentlemen of the Law for that Purpose, but had not been able to procure any to appear for him.

The Attorney-General acquainted the House, that he appeared as Counsel for William Plumsted, if the House had no Objection thereto.

The House informed him they had no Objection.

He then moved that the House would, previous to their entering upon the Examination of the Witnesses, admit Mr. Plumsted to a Seat in the House; and produced some Authorities to shew, that in the House of Commons the Person returned sat as a Member till the Legality of the Election was determined. He further added, that his Reason for making this Motion was not to occasion any Delay, but because he understood that the House had had this Matter already under their Consideration, and had not as yet come to any Determination thereupon.

Mr. Speaker informed the Counsel, that as what he moved did not relate to the Merits of the Dispute, he could return no Answer till he had taken the Sense of the House thereupon.

Then the Parties were ordered to withdraw.

And the House taking the Motion of the Counsel into Consideration,

Resolved, That the Parties be again called in, and that Mr. Speaker acquaint the Counsel, that the House are fully satisfied that their Conduct hitherto, with Regard to their Proceedings upon this Election, was Parliamentary; and have determined, that, as this is the Day appointed for hearing the Merits of the Election in Dispute, the Parties shall immediately proceed upon the Examination of their respective Evidences.

And the Parties being called in, were acquainted with the said Resolution accordingly.

John Jones, one of the Petitioners, moved, that, as he had not been able to obtain Counsel, he might be allowed to have a Freeholder to assist him; which being agreed to by the House, he requested the Aid of Mr. Israel Pemberton, one of the Bystanders; but he declining it on Account of his being unacquainted with the Particulars of the Affair in Dispute, the said Jones said he would proceed by himself in the best Manner he was capable.

Then Thomas Owen, one of the Witnesses brought down on this Occasion, was examined upon his solemn Affirmation, touching what he knew concerning the late Election in Northampton; but as in the Course of his Examination sundry Questions were asked him relating to the Notice required by Law to be given by the Sheriff of the Time the Election was to be held, the Counsel moved, that that Matter might not be enquired into, as it was not one of the Charges mentioned in the Petition against the Validity of the Election, and it could not be expected that he or his Client should come prepared to answer any other Matters than what were contained in those Charges: That proceeding in the present Manner was extremely improper, and might be productive of many Inconveniences.

Mr. Speaker said, he would take the Opinion of the House thereupon.

And then the Parties were ordered to withdraw.

And the House taking the Motion of the Counsel into Consideration,

Resolved, That the Legality of Elections is a Matter in which every Freeman in the Province is interested, and every Enquiry which tends to shew in what Manner the same have been conducted is proper; therefore the House will proceed in examining the Witnesses in the Way they have begun; and in Case any Matters shall arise in the Course thereof, which either of the Parties are not prepared to answer, the House will, upon Application, allow them any reasonable Time that they may require for that Purpose.

And the Parties were called in, and acquainted with the foregoing Resolution.

Ordered, That the further Hearing of the Merits of the Northampton Election be deferred till To-morrow Morning.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment December 4.

The House proceeded to the further Hearing of the Merits of the Northampton Election, and Jacob Yont, one of the Evidences, was examined on Oath; also Samuel Mechlin, 1756. December 4. one of the Petitioners, on his ſolemn Affirmation: —— And the Counſel having put ſeveral Queſtions to the latter, touching the Riſe of the Petition, which were thought to have a Tendency to make him criminate himſelf, in Caſe any indirect Practices had been uſed therein, it was objected that he ought not to be obliged to anſwer ſuch Queſtions; — and a Debate ariſing thereupon, the Parties were ordered to withdraw; which they did accordingly.

Reſolved, That no Queſtions be aſked the Witneſſes of either Side, which may tend to make them criminate themſelves; and that therefore all Queſtions ſhall be firſt propoſed to Mr. Speaker, who is to put ſuch of them as he judges not to have that Tendency.

The Parties were called in, and acquainted with the ſaid Reſolution.

The Counſel then moved, that he might have the Opinion of the Houſe, whether Mechlin might not be aſked what he knew concerning any indirect Meaſures taken to induce Brown, another of the Petitioners, to ſign the Petition?

Mr. Speaker told the Counſel, that the ſame Objection lay againſt that Queſtion as the former, for if Mechlin knew of any indirect Meaſures having been taken to get the Petition ſigned, it muſt appear wrong in him to ſign it himſelf: Beſides, as the Affair was now before the Houſe, and in a Way of being ſtrictly examined into, it mattered not whether it took its Riſe from one or more Perſons; for if the Houſe found, after hearing what could be alleged by both Parties, that the Trouble and Expence the Province is put to in enquiring into this Affair, was occaſioned by a groundleſs and vexatious Petition, they ſhould take ſuch Meaſures as would effectually puniſh the Author or Authors thereof.

Then the Counſel deſired to know, whether he might aſk any other of the Evidences concerning Jones's and Mechlin's Conduct, with Regard to the Petition?

And he was anſwered, by Mr. Speaker, that he might.

And the Houſe having gone through with Mechlin's Examination,

Ordered, That the further Hearing of the Merits of the Northampton Election be deferred till Tueſday next, at Ten o'Clock in the Morning.

Ordered, That Mr. Blackledge have Leave to be abſent the next Week on urgent Buſineſs; and that Mr. Denormandie, Mr. Melvin and Mr. Owen have Leave to be abſent till Tueſday next.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to next Monday, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon.

December 6. The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

Poſt Meridiem. The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Letter from Conrad Weiſer, and a Petition to his Honour from Heidelberg Townſhip, mentioning a Murder lately committed by the Indians in ſaid Townſhip, &c. which were read, and ordered to lie on the Table for the Peruſal of the Members.

The Committee to whom the Bill for providing for the Maintenance of the French Neutrals, &c. was committed for Amendment, reported the ſame to the Houſe, with ſundry Amendments and Alterations they had made therein; and the ſame was read the firſt time, and ordered a ſecond Reading.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

December 7. The Houſe again proceeded upon hearing the Merits of the Northampton Election; and, after a conſiderable Time ſpent in the Examination of John Rinker, the Sheriff of ſaid County, the further Hearing thereof was deferred to the Afternoon.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem. Ordered, That Mr. Owen and Mr. M'Connaughy wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire to know when they may expect his Reſult upon the Bill for Billeting and Quartering of Soldiers.

The Houſe proceeded to the Hearing of the Merits of the Northampton Election; and having gone through the Examination of John Rinker, the Sheriff of ſaid County, the further Hearing of the Merits of ſaid Election was adjourned till To-morrow Morning.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe return, and report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he would ſend a Meſſage to the Houſe within an Hour.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe the Bill for Quartering and Billeting of Soldiers, with a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly. ‘ I AM ſorry to find myſelf at this critical Time under the Neceſſity of ſending back your Bill, entituled, An Act for extending ſeveral Sections of an Act of Parliament in the Twenty-ninth Year of his Majeſty's Reign, entituled, An Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters: This Bill being the ſame as that lately repealed by his Majeſty in Council, with this only Difference, that the Preamble is left out, and the Subſtance thereof, which is chiefly 1756.

'objected to in the Repeal, is inserted in the Body of it, by extending the Twenty-fourth 'Section of the said Act of Parliament.

December 7, 1756. WILLIAM DENNY."

December 7.

And the same being again read, and considered, the House agreed not to extend hither that Part of the Twenty-fourth Section of the Act of Parliament objected to by the Governor, but that the same should be struck out of the Bill for Quartering of Soldiers within this Province; and it was done accordingly.

Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. Baynton wait upon the Governor with the said Bill, and acquaint him, that the House have agreed to strike out the Part objected to by his Honour, and desire to know, in Case he shall agree to pass the Bill as it is now altered, when the House shall wait upon him for that Purpose.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Bill for Quartering of Soldiers, and the Message of the House, according to Order, and that the Governor was pleased to say he would again consider the said Bill, and give it all the Dispatch in his Power: And being informed by the Members, that the House were in Hopes, as they had made all the Alteration proposed by his Honour, that he would this Evening have consented that it should be engrossed, ready to be enacted To-morrow Morning; he replied, that he could not come to any Determination thereupon this Evening.

Then the House adjourned till Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, sent down to the House the Bill for Quartering of Soldiers, with a Message in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

December 8.

GENTLEMEN,

'SINCE your Message of Yesterday Evening, I am well informed, from the strictest 'Enquiry, that the Quarters demanded by my Lord Loudoun for the Officers and 'Soldiers that are every Moment expected here, cannot be had in the Public-houses of 'this City. The Bill now before me therefore being insufficient to answer the End 'proposed by it, and the great Inconveniences that may arise if proper Quarters are not 'provided for the Reception of his Majesty's Troops being evident, I must, in the warmest 'Terms, recommend it to you, to make immediate Provision for that Service.

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

December 8, 1756. WILLIAM DENNY."

Then Mr. Secretary, addressing himself to the Chair, said,

"SIR,

"The Governor commands me to acquaint the House, that if they do not think pro-"per to make any further Provision than what is expressed in the Bill, the Governor "agrees to the Alteration, and is ready to pass it as it now stands."

Ordered, That the said Bill be engrossed.

Ordered, That Mr. Baynton and Mr. Franklin be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Answer to the Governor's Message.

Ordered, That the further Hearing of the Merits of the Northampton Election be deferred till Four o'Clock this Afternoon.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of an Answer to the Governor's Message reported the same to the House, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed, that it may be sent up to the Governor; and the same being accordingly done, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it please your HONOUR,

ON examining the Lists of recommended and licensed Public-houses, we find there are no less than One Hundred and Seventeen in this City only, exclusive of the Suburbs: We hope therefore your Honour will be of Opinion with us, that the Number of Soldiers for which Quarters are required may very well be disposed of among them in the Manner directed by the Act of Parliament now to be extended hither; especially as it is not necessary the Soldiers should all be lodged in the Public-houses, but those who keep such Houses may provide Lodging for the Men in other Houses, if they find it more convenient so to do."

Answer to the Governor from the Assembly.

And the said Message being signed by Mr. Speaker, by Order of the House,

Ordered, That Mr. Denormandie and Mr. Douglas wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same; and acquaint his Honour, that the Bill for Quartering of Soldiers is engrossed, and that the House desire he would be pleased to appoint a Member of Council to join a Member of this House in comparing the said Bill with the Original; and further, that he would be pleased to appoint a Time when the House shall wait upon him, in order to enact the same into a Law.

The engrossed Bill was read and compared at the Table.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had delivered the Message of the House, according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say he would appoint a Member of Council to join with such as should be nominated by this House to compare the engrossed

1756. engroſſed Bill with the Original; and that he would be at the Council Chamber at One o'Clock, in Order to enact the ſame into a Law.

December 8. Ordered, That Mr. Pearne and Mr. Hunt do meet the Member of Council appointed by the Governor, in order to compare the engroſſed Bill with the Original.

The Gentlemen return, and report, that they had, with a Member of Council, examined and compared the engroſſed Bill with the Original, and found them to agree.

Ordered, That Mr. Pearne and Mr. Hunt ſee the Great Seal affixed to the Law after it is paſſed, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office.

A Meſſage from the Governor, by Mr. Secretary:

S I R,

" The Governor requires the Attendance of the Houſe in the Council Chamber im" mediately, in order to enact into a Law the Bill which he has lately conſented to paſs."

Then Mr. Speaker, with the whole Houſe, waited on the Governor; and being returned, Mr. Speaker reported, that the Houſe had waited upon the Governor with the Bill, entituled, An Act for extending ſeveral Sections of an Act of Parliament, paſſed in the Twenty-ninth Year of the preſent Reign, entituled, An Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters, to which his Honour was pleaſed to give his Aſſent, by enacting the ſame into a Law.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Four o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Gentlemen appointed to ſee the Great Seal affixed to the Law after it was paſſed, reported that the ſame was done accordingly; and that it was depoſited in the Rolls Office.

The Houſe again proceeded upon the Affair of the Northampton Election; and the Counſel for Mr. Plumſted having moved, that in Conſideration of the Time taken up in examining the Witneſſes, and the Houſe having Affairs of great Moment before them, Mr. Plumſted, notwithſtanding he was convinced that he was duly elected and returned, was willing to wave his Right to a Seat in this Houſe, if Writs might be iſſued for a new Election, and all further Proceedings on that Affair dropt.

And the Parties being ordered to withdraw, the Houſe went upon the Conſideration of the ſaid Motion; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, it was Reſolved, That William Plumſted have Leave to withdraw his Petition and Claim to a Right to ſit in this Houſe at this Time.

The Parties were called in, and the Counſel for the ſaid William Plumſted was informed of the foregoing Reſolution.

The Counſel having deſired Time till To-morrow Morning to conſider of the Anſwer given by the Houſe to his Propoſal, the ſame was granted by the Houſe; and Mr. Speaker informed the Counſel further, that in Caſe William Plumſted ſhould not chuſe to withdraw his Petition and Claim of a Right to ſit in this Houſe, that the Houſe would proceed in the Examination of the Evidences.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

December 9. The Houſe reſumed the Affair of the Northampton Election.

The Counſel for William Plumſted acquainted the Houſe, that to prevent Miſtakes he had put his Anſwer in Writing; which, with the Leave of the Houſe, he preſented at the Table.

And the ſaid Paper being read, Mr. Speaker informed the Counſel, that it did not become the Houſe to make Terms with the Petitioner; but if he inclined, agreeable to the Reſolution of the Houſe, to withdraw his Petition and Claim to a Right to a Seat in the Houſe, he might.

The Counſel replied, that he was not impowered to make any further Anſwer than what was contained in the Paper he had preſented to the Houſe.

Ordered, That the Parties withdraw; and they withdrew accordingly.

Then the ſaid Paper was again read; and, after ſome Time ſpent in Conſideration thereof, it was Reſolved, That the written Anſwer, preſented by the Counſel for William Plumſted, is frivolous and evaſive.

Ordered, That both Parties be called in, and that Mr. Speaker do acquaint the Counſel with the foregoing Reſolve, return the ſaid written Paper, and demand a poſitive Anſwer of him, whether he will withdraw the Petition or not *?

And the ſame being done accordingly, the Counſel deſired the Houſe would proceed in

* The following is a Copy of the Paper preſented by the Counſel for William Plumſted, viz.

Mr. Plumſted, though fully convinced that he could clearly ſhew, by indubitable Proofs, that his Election as a Repreſentative for the County of Northampton was legal and fair, aſſures the Houſe, that his only Motive in making a Propoſal to wave his Right to a Seat in this Houſe, in Conſequence of ſuch Election, was founded in the Public Good, leſt the Time he finds muſt inevitably be ſpent in proſecuting his Right might obſtruct and retard Matters of the higheſt Concern and Importance to the People of this Province, which he has been informed were before the Houſe when the Petition was prefered againſt him: And though he does not take upon him to make Terms with, or preſcribe Rules to, the Houſe, yet he expected that all further Enquiry would end here, and no more Time be taken up in examining any of the great Number of Witneſſes attending on this Occaſion. But if the Houſe is ſtill deſirous to hear other Proofs, and make any further Enquiry in this Caſe, Mr. Plumſted prays the whole Teſtimony may be diſcloſed on both Sides.

December 9, 1756. A. M.

in the Examination of the rest of the Witnesses; which being agreed to by the House, William Parsons was qualified, and examined; and the further Hearing of the Merits of the Northampton Election was deferred till the Afternoon. 1756. December 9.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Post Meridiem

The House again proceeded upon hearing the Merits of the Northampton Election; and, after a considerable Time spent in the Examination of Nathaniel Vernon and Jost Fuller, of Easton, in said County, the further Hearing thereof was deferred till To-morrow Morning.

The House taking into their Consideration, that Nathaniel Vernon, of Northampton County, had, in the Course of his Evidence this Day before the House, mentioned his having received a Letter from the Reverend William Smith, Provost of the College of Philadelphia, concerning the late Election of a Representative for the said County;

Ordered, That the said Vernon do, as soon as he conveniently can, between this and the next Sitting of Assembly, deliver the said Letter to the Speaker of this House.

Upon Motion made,

Ordered, That all the Evidences who have given their Testimony before the House, concerning the Northampton Election, have Leave to return to their respective Homes.

Upon Motion made,

Ordered, That William Parsons, of Northampton County, do send to the Speaker of this House, as soon as may be, the Letterswhich were mentioned by Nathaniel Vernon, in the Course of his Testimony, to have been received by the said Parsons, concerning the last Election of a Representative for said County, from Richard Peters, Esq; Secretary, and other Persons, living in the City of Philadelphia.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The House again proceeded upon hearing the Merits of the Northampton Election; December 10. and, after some Time spent in the Examination of Nicholas Scull, late Sheriff of said County, the further Hearing thereof was referred to the Afternoon.

In the Course of the last mentioned Examination, John Jones produced a Letter, which he said he had received from the said Nicholas Scull; and the same being read, the said Scull acknowledged it to have been wrote by him.

The said Letter follows in these Words, viz.

SIR, Easton, October 12, 1756.

I MAKE no Doubt but before this Time you have heard that Johnny Jennings has lost the Sheriff's Office. I believe the Reason why, was, that Mr. Parsons wrote in Rinker's Favour, as I have had some Hints that Vernon carried a Letter which he intimated would get Rinker the Office. I think, if so, there is no Belief in Mr. Parsons; for, a few Days before the Election, Mr. Parsons and I had some Talk about them that purposed to set up for the Sheriff's Office, and he then said, that he thought Johnny much the fittest, as he was a sober well behaved young Man, and had some Experience of the Office: But you know Mr. Parsons is a Man that is not apt to forget any old Difference; and I suppose the Difference between Johnny's Father and him is the Reason that he wrote in Rinker's Favour, as Mr. Peters told me there was no Objection against Johnny, only on Account of his Father; and I think he need never set up for the Office any more, for as I told Mr. Peters I thought it very hard that any Miss-step of the Father should be thrown at the Son, when he behaved himself well; and the Answer was, That the Iniquities of the Father should be inflicted upon the Children, until the third and fourth Generation. So, if that is the Case, I think that Johnny may be easy; for as long as Mr. Parsons is in the County he will be against him. I suppose you will see Johnny soon, and he will let you know how Things has gone. I am, Nicholas Scull's Letter to John Jones.

Sir, your humble Servant,
NICHOLAS SCULL.

N. B. Vernon and Rinker has reported, that Johnny and the whole Family were against Mr. Allen's coming in the House, which may be some Reason against his not getting the Office."

It being moved, that in the Course of the Evidence already heard concerning the late Election in Northampton County, several Things were mentioned touching the Conduct of William Parsons, of said County, in that Affair, which it would be necessary for this House to make further Enquiry into; and that it was highly just and reasonable that the said Parsons should have an Opportunity of being heard in his own Vindication; it was therefore Ordered, That the said Parsons do attend this House till further Orders.

Ordered, That Nicholas Scull, late Sheriff of Northampton County, do, as soon as may be, send to the Speaker of this House the Letter which the said Scull mentioned in the Course of his Testimony to have received from Richard Peters, Esq; Secretary, acquainting him, the said Scull, that there was to be a new Election of a Representative for the said County, in the Room of William Allen, Esq; who had chosen to serve for the County of Cumberland.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

December 10. Adjournment Poſt Meridiem

The Houſe again proceeded upon hearing the Merits of the Northampton Election; and, after a conſiderable Time ſpent in going through the Examinations of James Ralſton, Lewis Klotz, Adam Deſhler and Hugh Wilſon, Inhabitants of ſaid County, the further Hearing thereof was referred to To-morrow Morning.

William Parſons having applied to the Houſe for Leave to return Home, as he was a public Officer, and ſhould be wanted at the enſuing Court, now near at hand; he was informed by Mr. Speaker, that the Houſe were willing to hear at this Time, if he thought fit, any Evidence he might have to produce in Vindication of his Conduct on the late Election of a Repreſentative for Northampton County. To which he anſwered, that as the Evidences neceſſary to clear up his Conduct in that Affair were not now preſent, he deſired he might be allowed to return Home, and he would attend again with his Evidences at any Time the Houſe ſhould think fit to appoint.

Ordered, That the ſaid Parſons have Leave to return Home; and that he attend the Houſe at ſuch Time as ſhall be hereafter appointed for that Purpoſe.

It being moved, that ſome Method ſhould be fallen upon to ſhorten the future Proceedings of the Houſe on the Affair of the Northampton Election, the Houſe went upon the Conſideration thereof; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, it was referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

December 11.

The Houſe reſumed the Conſideration of the Motion for ſhortening the Proceedings on the Northampton Election; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, it was Reſolved, That both Parties be called in, and that Mr. Speaker acquaint them, that the Houſe having ſpent much Time in hearing Witneſſes, many of whom have ſaid nothing, or but little to the Points material and eſſential to the Determination of this Controverſy, have reſolved that both Parties ſhall immediately proceed to examine Witneſſes, if any ſuch they have, to ſatisfy the Houſe in the four following Points, as they conceive them to be the only material Points ariſing in this Enquiry.

1ſt, To ſhew whether the timely Notice, required by Law, was given by the Sheriff to the Inhabitants of the County before the Election?

2dly, Whether the Election was held by proper Perſons or Judges, qualified as the Law directs?

3dly, Whether the Inſpectors were furniſhed with the alphabetical Liſts of the Taxables of the reſpective Townſhips, and wrote [Voted] on them, according to Law?

4thly, To produce ſuch alphabetical Liſts, if ſuch there were made uſe of at the Election.

And the Parties were called in, and acquainted with the foregoing Reſolve accordingly.

The Counſel for William Plumſted thereupon informed the Houſe, that they did not know at firſt what might be objected to the Validity of the Election, except what was contained in the Petition from Jones and others, and had therefore only come prepared with Evidence to anſwer the Allegations contained in the ſaid Petition; that, however, with ſuch accidental Evidence as they now had, they would endeavour to ſatisfy the Houſe in the four Points they had agreed upon.

The Counſel having alſo moved, that the Houſe would give him Leave to ſhew how the Petition againſt the Election took its Riſe; he was informed by Mr. Speaker, That that was not a Matter which concerned the Merits of the Diſpute, and that he muſt confine himſelf to the Points which had been ſettled by the Houſe.

Mr. Speaker moreover informed the Counſel, that as he had acquainted the Houſe that he had not come prepared to anſwer any other Points than what were contained in the Petition from Jones and others, the Houſe would, if he deſired it, give him Time till the next Sitting of Aſſembly, for that Purpoſe.

To which the Counſel anſwered, That they would firſt produce what Evidence they had to the four Points agreed upon, and if they ſhould find it not ſufficient, and were of Opinion they could produce more, that then they would requeſt further Time for that Purpoſe.

Then the Houſe proceeded upon the Hearing of the Merits of the Northampton Election; and, after ſome Time ſpent in going through the Examinations of Frederick Koon, John Cook, Alexander Miller and Conrad Heſs, of the ſaid County, the further Hearing thereof was referred to the Afternoon.

The Counſel for William Plumſted moved, that, as he found himſelf indiſpoſed, he might have Leave to ſend a Perſon to take Notes in his Place this Afternoon; to which the Houſe agreed.

Adjournment

Then the Houſe adjourned to Four o'Clock P. M.

Poſt Meridiem

The Houſe again proceeded upon hearing the Merits of the Northampton Election, and having gone through the Examinations of Andreas Oſtrum, George Rex, Thomas Huntzaker, George Kerſner, David Behringer, Jacob Taylor, Matthias Riggle and John Bechtal, the Petitioner, John Jones, moved, that he might be allowed to give his Evidence; but this was objected to by William Plumſted, who moved, that as the Evidence of the said Jones might be of considerable Importance with regard to the Matter in Dispute, the taking thereof might be deferred till his Counsel could attend, in order to cross-examine him. 1756. December 11.

The said Plumsted being asked, Whether he had any more Evidences to be examined, answered, that he had not any more present; but he expected more, particularly one Thomas Armstrong (to whom he had given Leave to go out of Town for a Day or two to see a Relation, about ten or twelve Miles off) would be here by Tuesday next, who he should like to have examined; and he hoped that the House would postpone any farther Proceedings on this Affair to that Time, when he imagined that his Counsel would be able to attend.

The Sheriff of Northampton County, and John Jones, the Petitioner, informed the House, that it would be extremely inconvenient for them to wait in Town till Tuesday next, after having been so long from their respective Homes, and desired, that if the Merits of the Election for said County was not now to be determined, they might be discharged from any farther Attendance on the House at present, and they would readily come down again at such future Time as the House should appoint for a Determination.

Several of the Evidences, who had been examined, likewise made the same Request to the House.

Ordered, That the Parties do withdraw; and they withdrew accordingly.

The House taking into Consideration, that William Plumsted had desired farther Time to bring more Evidence, relating to the several Points which the House had agreed to have determined; and that the House had now before them Business of the utmost Consequence to the Welfare of this Province, which will not admit of any longer Delay; it was thereupon

Resolved, That the further Hearing of the Merits of the Northampton Election be deferred to such future Time as shall be hereafter settled by this House; and that when the said Time for the further Hearing shall be so settled, the Clerk do give Notice thereof to both Parties.

Ordered, That the Sheriff, John Jones, and the Evidences now in Town, have Leave to return to their respective Homes.

Then the House adjourned to Monday next, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon. Adjournment

The House met, pursuant to their Adjournment. December 13. Post Meridiem

A Remonstrance from the Mayor, Recorder and Aldermen of the City of Philadelphia, with a Paper annexed, were presented to the House, and read, and are as follow, viz.

To the Honourable the REPRESENTATIVES of the Freemen of the Province of Pennsylvania, now sitting in Assembly,

The REMONSTRANCE of the Mayor, Recorder and Aldermen of the City of Philadelphia, sheweth,

THAT your Remonstrants have prepared Billets on the Public-houses of this City, according to the Directions of a late Act in such Case made and provided, for such of his Majesty's Forces as Lord Loudoun hath been pleased to order into Winter Quarters here; but we find, on the strictest Enquiry into the Circumstances of the Keepers of such Public-houses, that many of them are so poor and indigent, that they are neither of Ability to support the Burden of providing for so great a Number of Troops, or have proper Houses and Accommodations suitable for their comfortable Reception. We further beg Leave to remonstrate, that the commanding Officer hath demanded a Hospital, with Bedding, Fire, and other Necessaries, to be provided for a Number of Sick; but as no public Building hath been erected in this City for that Purpose, your Remonstrants, though willing and desirous to do every Thing in their Power to demonstrate their Loyalty to his Majesty, and to promote the Good of his Service, are sorry to find themselves incapable of complying with this Demand, without the Aid and Assistance of the Legislature of this Province: We therefore thought it our Duty to lay the Premises before you our Representatives, that such Regulations and Provision may be made therein as you in your Wisdom shall judge most expedient. Remonstrance from the Mayor, &c. of Philadelphia.

December 14. The Clerk reported, that he had, according to the Order of the Houſe, acquainted the Mayor, that the Houſe required him to lay before them a State of the Billeting of the Soldiers now in this City; who ſaid, that as ſeveral of the Tavern-keepers had already reſigned, and he expected that many more would do the ſame before Night, it would be of little Service to make out the ſaid State immediately; but that he would do it either this Evening or To-morrow and deliver the ſame to the Houſe, or to Mr. Speaker.

The Bill for impowering the Overſeers of the Poor of this Province to make Proviſion for ſuch of the Inhabitants of the Frontier Counties as are reduced and unable to maintain themſelves and Families, and cannot be ſupported by the Townſhips in which they had gained a Settlement; and to enable the Overſeers of the Poor for the Counties of Philadelphia, Bucks, Cheſter and Lancaſter to ſupport the Neutral French, and bind out their Children, was read the ſecond time; and after ſome Time ſpent therein, it was ordered to be referred to the Committee who prepared the ſame, in order to be formed into two ſeparate Bills; and Mr. Denormandie was added to the ſaid Committee.

Ordered, That Mr. Galloway and Mr. Maſters be a Committee to prepare and bring in a Bill for continuing the Act for regulating the Officers and Soldiers commiſſionated and raiſed by the Governor for the Defence of this Province.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Governor's Eſtimates of the Supplies neceſſary for the current Year were again read, and conſidered; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the ſame were referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

December 15. Six Petitions (viz. from Adam Rutter, William Fox, John M'Nomee, Humphrey Waine, Theophilus Thomas and Roger Martin, of the County of Cheſter) praying that this Houſe would grant them Redreſs in ſundry Grievances, occaſioned by the arbitrary and oppreſſive Conduct of William Moore, Eſq; one of the Juſtices for ſaid County, were preſented to the Houſe and read, and Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Houſe went upon the Conſideration of the Supplies neceſſary to be granted for the current Year: and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the ſame was referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Houſe again reſumed the Conſideration of the Supplies neceſſary for the current Year; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Reſolved, That a Supply of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds be granted to his Majeſty for the Service of the current Year.

Reſolved, That this Houſe will To-morrow Morning reſolve itſelf into a Committee of the whole Houſe, to conſider of Ways and Means for raiſing the Supply granted to his Majeſty.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

December 16. The Order of the Day, for the Houſe to reſolve itſelf into a Committee of the whole Houſe, to conſider of Ways and Means for raiſing the Supply granted to his Majeſty, being read,

And the said Message being accordingly transcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it please your HONOUR,

A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

A REPORT having Yesterday prevailed in Town, that your Honour had given Orders to the Sheriff to quarter the Soldiers on private Houses, which greatly surprised the Inhabitants, the House (though they do not believe it possible your Honour could be prevailed with to issue Orders so diametrically opposite to an express Law passed by yourself but a few Days before) think it necessary on this Occasion humbly to request, that your Honour would be pleased to direct the Magistrates and Officers of the City and Liberties, who have billeted the Soldiers on Public-houses, according to Law, to visit those Houses, inspect the Accommodations provided for the Men, see that they are good and sufficient, and oblige every Public House-keeper to receive, and provide for, the Officers and Soldiers that are or may be billeted on each House, in Proportion to the Number for which Quarters are required, either in the Public-houses, or such others as the Keepers of them may procure; so that the Minds of the People may be quieted, and no just Cause of Complaint may arise, that Quarters, and the Necessaries in Quarters, are not duly provided, according to the Intention of the Legislature in passing that Act.

The House have recommended it to the Provincial Commissioners to provide an Hospital for the Soldiers, which we make no Doubt will be done accordingly." *

The foregoing Message being signed by Mr. Speaker, by Order of the House, Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. Baynton wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same.

The House, according to Order, resolved itself into a Committee of the whole House, to consider further of Ways and Means for raising the Supply granted to his Majesty; and, after some Time spent therein, Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair, and Mr. Leech reported from the Committee, that they had made some further Progress in the Matters referred to them, but not having gone through the same, they had directed him to move for Leave to sit again.

Resolved, That this House will, To-morrow Morning, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, to consider further of Ways and Means for raising the Supply granted to his Majesty.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Message of the House, return, and report, that they had delivered the same according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say, that he would give it all due Attention, and return an Answer to the House.

A Petition from Philip Knight, of the County of Lancaster, was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that the Petitioner is confined in Goal for Debt; that he 1756. December 18. he has already delivered up all his Goods and Effects, and what Debts were due to him, to his Creditors, and has nothing left him to ſupport himſelf in his Confinement; that he is upwards of Fifty Years of Age, and has a Wife near the ſame Age, incapable of getting her Livelihood; that the Petitioner is a Smith by Trade, and having always been uſed to work hard, his different Manner of living ſince his Confinement has rendered him very ſickly; that the Petitioner had three very good Workmen who inliſted in the King's Service, which has been the chief Cauſe of his Ruin; that he has done all in his Power to compromiſe Matters with his Creditors, but without Succeſs, they ſaying they would keep him in Goal till he rotted; the Petitioner therefore prays, that this Houſe would take his deplorable Caſe into Conſideration, and grant him Relief, by paſſing ſuch an Act in his Behalf as in their Wiſdom ſhall ſeem moſt proper.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Order of the Day being read;

The Houſe reſolved itſelf into a Committee of the whole Houſe, to conſider further of Ways and Means for raiſing the Supply granted to his Majeſty; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Mr. Speaker reſumed the Chair, and Mr. Leech reported, that he was directed by the Committee to move, that they may have Leave to ſit again.

Reſolved, That this Houſe will, upon Tueſday next, reſolve itſelf into a Committee of the whole Houſe, to conſider further of Ways and Means for raiſing the Supply granted to his Majeſty.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly. "THE King's Troops muſt be quartered. With reſpect to the Inſufficiency of the late Act, I refer you to my Meſſage of the Eighth Inſtant, delivered immediately before the paſſing of it; and I ſee no Reaſon, from any Thing that has occurred ſince, to alter my Opinion.

December 18, 1756. WILLIAM DENNY."

And the foregoing Meſſage being again read, and conſidered; it was, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That Mr. Leech, Mr. Franklin, Mr. Walker, Mr. Aſhbridge, Mr. Carpenter, Mr. M'Connaughy, Mr. Allen and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the ſame.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

December 19. The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. TO prevent, if poſſible, any Miſunderſtanding between your Honour and this Houſe, we beg Leave to recapitulate what has paſſed on the Article of Quarters, during the preſent Seſſion.

On the 19th of October laſt, your Honour was pleaſed to communicate to us a Letter from Lord Loudoun to yourſelf, dated September 22, 1756, in which Quarters, and the Neceſſaries allowed in Quarters by Act of Parliament, were demanded of this Province: The Building of Barracks came firſt under our Conſideration, but if the Houſe had been diſpoſed to build them, the Seaſon was too far advanced, and the Dimenſions could not be judged of, as the Number of Forces to be quartered here was not expreſſed.

The Houſe then endeavoured to procure the laſt Act of Parliament that was made for the Quartering of Soldiers in England, to be their Guide in making the neceſſary Proviſion here; your Honour was applied to for a Sight of that Act, which you were ſo kind as to promiſe to procure for us, but ſome Time paſſed before we obtained it.

On the 24th of November your Honour was pleaſed to lay before us another Letter from Lord Loudoun, dated October 28, 1756, in which the Demand for Quarters was repeated, and one Battalion of the Royal Americans was mentioned to be provided for in Philadelphia, but the Number of which that Battalion ſhould conſiſt was not mentioned. His Lordſhip is not particular as to Quartering, or the Neceſſaries to be furniſhed in Quarters, as he is pleaſed to ſay, "he is writing to one who is ſo thoroughly acquainted with "the Quartering in England in Time of Peace, and what Things are furniſhed in Quar- "ters for the Officers and Soldiers, and how much further Quartering extends in Time "of War, and even muſt do ſo from the Nature of Things."

Your Honour has never been explicit on theſe Points with the Aſſembly. We know nothing of them but what is to be learnt from the Act of Parliament you were ſo good as as to furnish us with. We presented to your Honour a Bill so exactly conformable to that Act, that it brings over the very Clauses, by which Troops are quartered in England. After this Bill had lain four Days in your Honour's Hands, the House hearing the Soldiers were expected in Town the next Day, sent up to know your Result upon it. You were then pleased in a Message to object to the Preamble of one of those Clauses; we immediately agreed to strike it out, and had no Reason to expect any farther Objections. 1756. December 19.

However, before the Bill passed, and after the Amendment was agreed to, your Honour did indeed send us down the following written Message, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

"SINCE your Message of Yesterday Evening, I am well informed, from the strictest "Enquiry, that the Quarters demanded by my Lord Loudoun for the Officers and "Soldiers that are every Moment expected here, cannot be had in the Public-houses of "this City. The Bill now before me therefore being insufficient to answer the End "proposed by it, and the great Inconveniences that may arise if proper Quarters are not "provided for the Reception of his Majesty's Troops being evident, I must, in the warmest "Terms, recommend it to you, to make immediate Provision for that Service.

December 8, 1756. WILLIAM DENNY."

With the above written Message your Honour was pleased farther to send us a verbal One in these Words, viz.

"SIR,

"The Governor commands me to acquaint the House, that if they do not think pro-"per to make any further Provision than what is expressed in the Bill, the Governor "agrees to the Alteration, and is ready to pass it as it now stands."

As the House had been informed that the Number for which Quarters were demanded, did not exceed 600 Men, Officers included, and were of Opinion that the Public-houses of Philadelphia were sufficient to provide Quarters for that Number, they acquainted your Honour with their Sentiments in the following respectful Message:

May it please your HONOUR,

"ON examining the Lists of recommended and licensed Public-houses, we find there "are no less than One Hundred and Seventeen in this City only, exclusive of the Sub-"urbs: We hope therefore your Honour will be of Opinion with us, that the Number "of Soldiers for which Quarters are required may very well be disposed of among them in "the Manner directed by the Act of Parliament now to be extended hither; especially as "it is not necessary the Soldiers should all be lodged in the Public-houses, but those who "keep such Houses may provide Lodging for the Men in other Houses, if they find "it more convenient so to do."

December 8, 1756. Signed, by Order of the House,
ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

Your Honour made no Reply to this Message, but passed the Bill the same Day; and therefore we had Reason to believe you were satisfied with it.

The Bill passed on the Eighth Instant: On the 13th, the Mayor and Aldermen of Philadelphia presented to the House the following Remonstrance, and withal laid before us the annexed Paper, expressing the Number for which Quarters were demanded.

To the Honourable the REPRESENTATIVES of the Freemen of the Province of Pennsylvania, now sitting in Assembly,

The REMONSTRANCE of the Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen of the City of Philadelphia, sheweth,

"THAT your Remonstrants have prepared Billets on the Public-houses of this "City, according to the Directions of a late Act in such Case made and provided, for "such of his Majesty's Forces as Lord Loudoun hath been pleased to order into Winter "Quarters here; but we find, on the strictest Enquiry into the Circumstances of the "Keepers of such Public-houses, that many of them are so poor and indigent, that they are "neither of Ability to support the Burden of providing for so great a Number of Troops, "or have proper Houses and Accommodations suitable for their comfortable Reception. "We further beg Leave to remonstrate, that the commanding Officer hath demanded an "Hospital, with Bedding, Fire, and other Necessaries, to be provided for a Number of Sick; "but as no public Building hath been erected in this City for that Purpose, your Remon-"strants, though willing and desirous to do every Thing in their Power to demonstrate "their

"their Loyalty to his Majeſty, and to promote the Good of his Service, are ſorry to find "themſelves incapable of complying with this Demand, without the Aid and Aſſiſtance of "the Legiſlature of this Province: We therefore thought it our Duty to lay the Premiſes "before you our Repreſentatives, that ſuch Regulations and Proviſion may be made there-"in as you in your Wiſdom ſhall judge moſt expedient.

Captain TULLEKEN's Demand of Quarters, &c.

"IN Obedience to Orders received from his Excellency the Earl of Loudoun, Colonel "Stanwix has thought proper to ſend Captain Tulleken to Philadelphia to demand "Quarters for the Firſt Battalion of his Majeſty's Sixty-ſecond, or Royal American, Re-"giment.

"Captain Tulleken demands Quarters as follows:

"Quarters for 500 Men; an Hoſpital for the Sick; a Store-houſe; a Guard-room for an "Officer and Men.

"Billets for the Officers.

"Colonel one; Lieutenant-Colonel one; Majors one; Captains eight; Subalterns thir-"ty; Staff-Officers ſix. Total Forty-ſeven.

Beſides the above, Captain Gate's Company of Independents, Forty-ſeven Men, four Officers.

"The Whole have Billets delivered them on the Public-houſes.

December 13, 1756. ATTWOOD SHUTE, Mayor.

The Houſe, how deſirous ſoever that the King's Troops might have good and ſuitable Quarters, could not proceed to make further Proviſion by a Supplementary Act, without being well informed of the preſent State of the Quartering, that they might know what was deficient, and what was neceſſary to be ſupplied; they therefore immediately required the Mayor to lay before the Houſe a Liſt of the Names of the Public Houſe-keepers, with the Number of Officers and Soldiers billeted on each Houſe (which he accordingly undertook to do by the next Morning) that we might be able to judge whether they could, or could not, be comfortably quartered by thoſe Public Houſe-keepers.

This Order of the Houſe, though of ſome Days ſtanding, not being complied with, and the Houſe being ſincerely deſirous that the King's Troops ſhould be well provided for, took Occaſion, from the Report that your Honour had iſſued Orders for Quartering on private Houſes, to ſend up their Meſſage of Yeſterday, in the following Words, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

"A REPORT having Yeſterday prevailed in Town, that your Honour had given "Orders to the Sheriff to quarter the Soldiers on private Houſes, which greatly ſur-"priſed the Inhabitants, the Houſe (though they do not believe it poſſible your Honour "could be prevailed with to iſſue Orders ſo diametrically oppoſite to an expreſs Law "paſſed by yourſelf but a few Days before) think it neceſſary on this Occaſion humbly "to requeſt, that your Honour would be pleaſed to direct the Magiſtrates and Officers "of the City and Liberties, who have billeted the Soldiers on Public-houſes, according "to Law, to viſit thoſe Houſes, inſpect the Accommodations provided for the Men, "ſee that they are good and ſufficient, and oblige every Public Houſe-keeper to receive, "and provide for, the Officers and Soldiers that are or may be billeted on each Houſe, "in Proportion to the Number for which Quarters are required, either in the Public-"houſes, or ſuch others as the Keepers of them may procure; ſo that the Minds of the "People may be quieted and no juſt Cauſe of Complaint may ariſe, that Quarters, and "the Neceſſaries in Quarters, are not duly provided, according to the Intention of the "Legiſlature in paſſing that Act.

"The Houſe have recommended it to the Provincial Commiſſioners to provide an "Hoſpital for the Soldiers, which we make no Doubt will be done accordingly. *

December 17, 1756. Signed, by Order of the Houſe,
ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

To this your Honour is pleaſed to anſwer as follows, viz.

"GENTLEMEN,

"THE King's Troops muſt be quartered. With reſpect to the Inſufficiency of the "late Act, I refer you to my Meſſage of the Eighth Inſtant, delivered immediately before

* A very convenient Guard-houſe was before provided at the Expence of the Province.

" before the Passing of it; and I see no Reason, from any Thing that has occurred since, " to alter my Opinion. 1756. December 19.

December 18, 1756. WILLIAM DENNY."

On the Whole we beg Leave to remark, that if any Thing more than the Act of Parliament requires, be expected of us, we have never been explicitly informed what it is: That though your Honour is referred to by Lord Loudoun, as well acquainted with those Matters, you have never explained them to us: That when the Bill for extending the Act of Parliament hither was presented for your Concurrence, you made no Objection as to its Insufficiency, but that the Public-houses could not accommodate the Whole; which Objection we had afterwards Reason to think we had obviated to your Satisfaction. —— And lastly, that in your Message of Yesterday, you are not pleased to say that you will or will not favour us in our Request, that the Magistrates may be directed to see the Act duly executed, and good Quarters effectually provided; nor to point out any other or further Deficiency in the Act; but only tell us, as we think, somewhat abruptly, that the King's Troops must be quartered.

May it please the Governor, we know that the King's Troops must be quartered, and are desirous they should have good Quarters. The Assemblies of this Province have in very late Instances shewn their Regard for the Soldiery, by voluntarily presenting Conveniencies and Refreshments to the Officers, and furnishing Provisions and warm Cloathing for the Soldiers of the King's Forces, to the Amount of many Thousand Pounds. We thought we had by the late Law provided well for their Quartering in this Province; especially as we had exactly followed the Act of Parliament made for the same Purpose. We cannot conceive it will, when well considered, be thought adviseable, to quarter the Soldiers by Force on private Houses rather than by Law on Public-houses; and we apprehend, that if the bought Servants, which have been so lately taken from the King's good Subjects here, and no Satisfaction made their Owners, notwithstanding the Act of Parliament so expressly requires it, are now to be thrust into their Houses, and made their Masters, some Commotions may arise, dangerous to the King's Peace. On these Considerations, and being desirous to preserve a good Understanding with your Honour, we beg you would be pleased to favour us with a Conference, that this Matter may, as soon as possible, be fully understood, and finally settled."

And the said Message being signed by Mr. Speaker, by Order of the House,

Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. Hughes wait upon the Governor, and deliver the same.

Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Franklin, Mr. Masters and Mr. Allen be a Committee to confer with the Governor, concerning the Quartering of Soldiers; in Case his Honour shall agree to the Request of the House on that Head.

Then the House adjourned to Four o'Clock To-morrow Afternoon. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Message of Yesterday, reported, that they had delivered the same, according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say he would provide an Answer, and send the same to the House. December 20. Post Meridiem

The Committee appointed to confer with the Governor, on the Affair of Quartering Soldiers, report,

That the Governor having been pleased to appoint this Day at Half after Twelve o'Clock for the Conference, they had waited upon him accordingly, and found present Robert Strettell, Benjamin Shoemaker, Richard Peters, John Mifflin and Benjamin Chew, Esquires, Members of the Governor's Council.

That the Committee had opened the Conference, by assuring the Governor of the good Dispositions of the House towards the Army, and their Intention that sufficient Quarters should be provided for them; but withal expressed the Concern it gave the House to hear, that his Honour had unnecessarily, as they apprehended, issued Orders for Quartering them on private Houses by Force, and contrary to Law.

To which the Governor was pleased to answer, that he was informed the Quarters in the Public-houses were insufficient; that Beds were wanting for more than One Hundred Men.

The Committee then observed, That it was still the Opinion of the House, that the Public House-keepers of this City generally were able to provide what was necessary for the Number billeted on them; and if they did not comply with the Law, the Magistrates should do their Duty, and fine them, as the Law directed. That if some of them were too poor, others were more able, and the Proportions should be regulated.

The Governor was pleased to say, it was not his Business to enquire where the Fault lay; it was plain the Soldiers were not well quartered; and they must not suffer.

The Committee then took the Freedom to remind the Governor, that the House could only prepare Laws; they had no Power to execute them. That they had provided a good Law for this Purpose, and the Governor had passed it. That the executive Powers of Government were vested in him. His Honour being pleased to say, it could not be expected of him, to go from Houſe to Houſe to ſee how the Law was executed; the Committee anſwered,

That the Complaint being laid before his Honour, Orders might properly iſſue from him to the Magiſtrates (who are under his Direction) to enquire into and redreſs it, by exacting a due Obſervance of the Law, and enforcing it by levying the Fines.

The Committee then took Notice, that no Soldiers had yet been billeted on the Taverns in the Suburbs cloſely adjoining to the City, where there were many very capable of receiving them: That the neighbouring Towns could alſo accommodate a great Number.

The Governor replied, that the Quarters were demanded in the City, and it was his Duty to ſee the Orders executed; that if the Inhabitants thought it unequal, or a Hardſhip, they might apply to Lord Loudoun.

The Committee anſwered, that it were to be wiſhed the Governor would conſider himſelf ſomewhat more in his Civil Capacity as Governor of the Province. We expected of him, that he would be the immediate Father and Protector of the People, and if any Orders he received would in their Conſequences be grievous to the People, he would repreſent the Matter properly in our Behalf: That if an Application to Lord Loudoun, to redreſs any Grievance, was neceſſary, we conceived it ought to be made not directly, but through the Governor, and that to do otherwiſe, would be inconſiſtent with the Reſpect due to the Governor. That we did requeſt he would accordingly apply for Orders to quarter on the neighbouring Towns any farther Troops that might arrive here, more than our Public-houſes could well accommodate.

The Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he would do ſo when General Webb arrived, for he thought it reaſonable.

The Committee deſired the Governor would be pleaſed to inform us, if any further or other Proviſion ought to be made for Soldiers Quartering, than what was mentioned in the Act of Parliament.

His Honour was pleaſed to ſay, that he knew of none; and that he had anſwered that Point in a Meſſage he intended to ſend to the Houſe this Day; which Meſſage he held in his Hand.

The Committee then aſked, Whether any further Proviſion ought to be made for Quartering the Officers, than what the Act of Parliament required?

The Governor anſwered, None that he knew of. But afterwards mentioned ſomething of Money given them in Flanders, by the Name of Slope-Gelt; though he did not explain it, or ſeem to inſiſt on it.

It was aſked, What was to be underſtood by Quartering being extended further in Time of War, than in Time of Peace.

The Governor anſwered, He knew not, unleſs it was Quartering on Private Houſes.

The Governor added, That before he left England, Complaint was made, that the Public-houſes at Canterbury were oppreſſed by too great a Number of Troops quartered on them, when the Invaſion was apprehended, and it was propoſed in Parliament to make them ſome Satisfaction by a Sum of Money, but he knew not whether it was done.

The Committee replied, That in that Caſe the Parliament muſt have had the Grounds of Complaint laid before them, and been ſatisfied they were juſt. That no Complaint had ever been made to the Houſe by our Tavern-keepers, though this ſame Law had been a Year in Uſe among us, before it was at this Time again re-enacted. That the Houſe, on the Remonſtrance of the Mayor and Aldermen, had required an Account of the Billeting, in order to ſatisfy themſelves whether there was Cauſe of Complaint, but had not yet obtained it.

The Governor farther ſaid, That in Time of War, and in Caſes of Neceſſity, it was uſual in England to quarter Soldiers on private Houſes, and inſtanced Carliſle. That it was done in Scotland, in the Time of the late Rebellion, notwithſtanding the Law. That the Inhabitants of Weſtminſter and Newcaſtle had at that Time voluntarily offered to quarter a great Number of Soldiers.

It was anſwered, That in Caſes of Neceſſity, there was no Doubt but the Inhabitants of this Province would chearfully ſubmit to it; but ſuch Neceſſity did not appear to us; ſince there was Room enough in the Public-houſes of the Suburbs, and neighbouring Towns, and other Towns in the Province, for much greater Numbers than Quarters had yet been demanded for. That, where it was voluntarily offered, Proviſion might be made to render it eaſy; but where Force was uſed, it was very different, as Families might be taken unprovided.

The Governor replied, That the General was the proper Judge of ſuch Neceſſity; and the General thought it neceſſary to have the Soldiers quartered near together.

We replied, We were confident the General had no Inclination to oppreſs any of his Majeſty's good Subjects; but if Neceſſity warranted Quartering on private Houſes by Force, and contrary to Law; and Military Officers were the only Judges of that Neceſſity, they might ſay it was neceſſary to quarter the whole Army, not only in one City, but in one Square, or one Street; and thereby harraſs the Inhabitants exceſſively. That the People of this Province were as good and as loyal Subjects as any in the King's Dominions, and as well affected to the Soldiery: That we had evinced this by doing more (as we conceived) at our own Expence, for the Army since they arrived in America, than any other Province whatever: That we hoped no Measures would be taken to create Differences between the Soldiery and the People, or to render the King's Service dis-tasteful to those who had at present an hearty Affection to it: And further, that the Governor would listen to no Insinuations, nor be prevailed on to make any Representations of us to the contrary. 1756. December 20.

The Governor was pleased to say, he should represent nothing but Facts.

A Report of the Surgeons of the Hospital, that the sick Soldiers in the Taverns were badly accommodated, so that their Lives were in Danger, and the Health of the Inhabitants might be affected by the Spreading of their Distempers, being read by the Secretary;

The Committee mentioned, That an Hospital was ordered at the Province Expence for the Soldiers.

The Governor said, we had done it at last with an ill Grace.

His Honour was then reminded by one of the Committee, That when the Commissioners, on the first Application for an Hospital, had enquired of him what was the Custom in England, in that Particular? he was pleased to answer, It was the Custom for each Town or Corporation where Troops were quartered, to provide an Hospital at the Expence of the Town or City. That the Commissioners, therefore, as the Province Money in their Hands began to run low, left that Matter to the Corporation of Philadelphia, who had Money in Bank, more than sufficient for that Purpose. But the Corporation declining it, the House recommended it to the Commissioners, who had ordered it.

The Governor answered, It was the Custom in England, but the Corporations were not obliged to it.—Though when they refused it, it was not well taken.

This the Committee report as the Substance of what passed at the Conference, to the best of their Remembrance."

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down to the House a Message in Writing, mentioned in the foregoing Report, as prepared before the Conference, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

'A GREAT deal might be said in Answer to the Message of Yesterday, which I chuse to decline out of Respect to the Assembly. The King's Ministers are the best Judges of these Proceedings, to whom they will be referred. A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'Though Moderation is most agreeable to me, there might have been a Governor who would have told you, the whole Tenor of that Message was indecent, frivolous and evasive. That the Reception of his Majesty's Troops in this City shews Want of Humanity and Gratitude; for you will please to remember, that they were raised by Parliament for the Defence of these Colonies.

'For my Part, Gentlemen, I shall always avoid Disputes; but am determined to do my Duty to my King and Country.

'No other Necessaries are required for the Soldiers than what are specified in the Act.

'The Gentlemen of the Assembly who have been so long in Town, must know, or might easily have been informed of the State of the Public-houses; however, I now acquaint you, that Sixty-two Beds are actually wanted for One Hundred and Twenty-four Men, who lie upon Straw, and Quarters for the Recruits, who arrive every Day.

Monday, Twelve o'Clock,
Dec. 20, 1756. WILLIAM DENNY."

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Message to the Governor of the Nineteenth Instant, (recapitulating what had passed between him and the House relating to the Quartering of Soldiers in this City) the Report of the Committee appointed to confer with the Governor thereupon, and his Honour's Answer to the before-mentioned Message, were severally read, and considered; and, after some Time spent therein, December 21.

Ordered, That Mr. Pearne and Mr. Grubb wait upon the Governor, and deliver the following Message, viz.

May it please your HONOUR,

HAVING equal Respect for the Governor, we shall say but little in Answer to your Honour's Message of Yesterday. A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

We are contented that the King's Ministers should judge of these Proceedings; and that the World should judge of the Decency, &c. of our last Message.

Inhumanity and Ingratitude are heavy Charges, but we think by no Means applicable to the People of this Province.

We, likewise, are determined, if possible, to avoid Disputes with the Governor, and to do our Duty to our King and Country; and when it shall be made appear to us, that the 1756. December 21. the Public Houſe-keepers are not able to provide ſufficient Quartering, we ſhall take proper Meaſures to ſupply the Deficiency.

And ſince the Governor aſſures us, that no other Neceſſaries are required for the Soldiers than what are ſpecified in the Act, we hope the ſame Law which the Wiſdom of Parliament has provided, will anſwer all the Purpoſes here, whenever the Governor ſhall think fit to enforce its Execution.

A. M. ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe a Meſſage in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly. ‘ THE Magiſtrates, at my repeated Inſtances, with the Quarter-Maſter of the Troops, have been, and are ſtill inſpecting the Public-houſes, and ſettling the Quarters; and as ſoon as I ſhall receive their Return, I will lay it before you. I am glad to find you have at length agreed to take proper Meaſures to ſupply the Deficiency in Caſe the Public-houſes are not able to provide Quarters for the Number of Officers and Men demanded.

‘ That you may not miſtake me, when I ſay no other Neceſſaries are required for the Soldiers than what are ſpecified in the Act of Parliament, which is meant only in their Quarters, and in Time of Peace, I think it proper to mention the ſeveral Proviſions to be made, reſpecting theſe Articles, which his Majeſty moreover requires, your Mother Country expects, and Lord Loudoun has demanded, in ſeveral Letters laid before you; namely, That you do provide for all ſuch Charges as ariſe from furniſhing Quarters, and Neceſſaries allowed in Quarters by Act of Parliament, in furniſhing Carriages, Sloops, and all other neceſſary Means of Conveyance for his Majeſty's Troops, whenever ſuch Troops be ſtationed within, or ſhall be marching through, this Province;—and likewiſe Lodging and ſuch other Neceſſaries as are furniſhed in Quarters in Great-Britain in Time of War.

‘ I am pleaſed to hear that a Guard-room, Store-houſe and Hoſpital are already provided.

‘ If any Thing further ſhould be demanded by Lord Loudoun, I ſhall immediately acquaint you with it.

December 21, 1756. WILLIAM DENNY.”

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

December 22. The Governor's Meſſage of Yeſternight was again read, and conſidered; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That Mr. Pearne, Mr. Franklin, Mr. Smith, Mr. Hunt, Mr. James Wright, Mr. M'Connaughy and Mr. Allen be a Committee to conſider the ſaid Meſſage, and report thereon to the Houſe.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Order of the Day being read,

The Houſe reſolved itſelf into a Committee of the whole Houſe, to conſider further of Ways and Means for raiſing the Supply granted to his Majeſty; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Mr. Speaker reſumed the Chair; and Mr. Leech reported from the Committee, that they had gone through the Matters referred to them, and come to two Reſolutions, which they had directed him to report, when the Houſe will pleaſe to receive the ſame.

Ordered, That the Report be received To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

December 23. Mr. Leech (according to Order) reported from the Committee of the whole Houſe, to whom it was referred to conſider of Ways and Means for raiſing the Supply granted to his Majeſty, the Reſolutions which they had directed him to report to the Houſe; which he read in his Place, and afterwards delivered in at the Table; where the ſame were read, and agreed to by the Houſe, and are as follow, viz.

Reſolved, That for raiſing the Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds, granted to his Majeſty for the Defence of this Province, a Tax be laid and levied on all Eſtates, real and personal, and Taxables within the same, sufficient to raise the said Sum in one Year. 1756.

and

Resolved, That the Method of assessing and levying the said Tax be according to the Method and Way of raising County Rates and Levies, with such Alterations as may be thought proper by the House, for the better and more equal assessing the same. December 23.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The House went upon the Consideration of the Alterations necessary to be made in the County Rate and Levy Act, for the better and more equal assessing the Estates within this Province; and, after some Time spent therein, the Question was put, Whether the Constables should be obliged to leave at each House, in their respective Townships, a printed Paper, containing Columns headed for every Article liable to be taxed by the County Rate and Levy Act, and such other Articles as the House may hereafter add, for the several Persons liable to Taxation, to set down under each Head the Quantity they possess thereof, and sign the same with their Names; in order that the said Papers be delivered by the Constables to the Commissioners and Assessors? Past in the Negative. Post Meridiem

Resolved, That a Person in each Township be chosen, by the Inhabitants thereof, to assist the Constable in making Returns of the Property possessed by each Taxable.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The House resumed the Consideration of the Alterations necessary to be made in the County Rate and Levy Act, for the better and more equal assessing the Estates within this Province; and, after some Time spent therein, December 24.

Resolved, That the Assistants to the Constables be under the same Qualifications as the Constables, and have like Powers in enquiring into the Estates, and making the Returns to the Commissioners and Assessors; and that the said Assistants shall attend the Assessors at the Time or Times of assessing or rating the respective Townships or Wards for which they were chosen, in order to answer such Questions as shall be asked of them relating to the said Returns and Discharge of their respective Duties.

Ordered, That Mr. Leech, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Franklin, Mr. Masters, Mr. Walker, Mr. Hunt, Mr. Carpenter, Mr. M'Connaughy and Mr. West be a Committee to prepare and bring in a Bill for granting a Supply to his Majesty, agreeable to the several Resolutions of the House thereupon.

The Committee appointed to consider the Governor's last Message, relating to the Quartering of Soldiers, made a Report thereon in Writing, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

Report of the Committee on Quartering of Soldiers.

THE Committee have considered the Governor's Message of the Twenty-first Instant, and are of Opinion, that in the first Paragraph, where it is said the Governor is glad to find the House have at length agreed to take proper Measures, &c. there is some Appearance of undue Reflection on the House, as if we had delayed or refused to take proper Measures to supply the Deficiency, in Case the Public-houses were not able to provide the Quarters; when the Truth is, That the House were always willing to do it, but were never, nor are yet satisfied that there could be such Deficiency, if the Law was properly executed.

The Committee farther observe, that the second Paragraph seems to insinuate, that notwithstanding His Majesty requires, our Mother Country expects, and Lord Loudoun has demanded, in several Letters laid before us, "that we do provide for all such Charges as "arise from furnishing Quarters, and Necessaries allowed in Quarters, by Act of Par-"liament; in furnishing Carriages, Sloops, and all other necessary Means of Conveyance "for his Majesty's Troops, whenever such Troops be stationed within, or shall be "marching through, this Province; and likewise Lodging, and such other Necessaries "as are furnished in Quarters in Great-Britain in Time of War;" yet we had taken no Notice of such Expectations and Demands, nor made any Provision accordingly; whereas the Truth is, That both this and the last Assembly provided "for all such "Charges as arise from furnishing Quarters, and the Necessaries allowed in Quarters in "the Act of Parliament," by a Bill extending hither that very Act, which received the Governor's Assent: That from the very first Demand the Assembly of this Province provided for furnishing Carriages, and other necessary Means of Conveyance for the King's Troops, by putting Money into the Hands of Committees, or into the Hands of the Governor and Commissioners for the King's Use, Part of which has been applied to those Purposes, whenever any Demand has been made for Carriages; and no Account of this Kind was ever refused Payment. A considerable Sum still remains in the Governor's and Commissioners Hands, subject to such Demands; and the Supply Bill, now under the Consideration of the House, will make a further Provision: To which we may add, that in the last Sixty Thousand Pound Bill the Sum of Ten Thousand Pounds was subjected to the Orders of Lord Loudoun, for any Part of the Service his Lordship should find necessary, but the House was obliged to strike it out by the Governor's refusing to pass the Bill for a larger Sum than Thirty Thousand Pounds.

The Committee farther observe, That the Distinction between the Necessaries fur-furniſhed in Quarters in Time of Peace, and thoſe furniſhed in Time of War, is not yet underſtood by the Houſe, nor have they been able to obtain from the Governor any Explanation of it, though they applied to his Honour for ſuch Explanation, both by a written Meſſage, and by a Committee appointed expreſsly to confer with his Honour, "that this Matter might be fully underſtood." The Houſe, by extending the Act of Parliament relating to Quarters, have provided for all that they underſtood to be neceſſary in that Reſpect, and for all that the Governor informed them was neceſſary. His Honour now is pleaſed to ſay, the Act of Parliament relates only to a Time of Peace. Whenever he ſhall be pleaſed to let us know what further Neceſſaries are required in Quarters in Time of War, the Houſe will, no Doubt, conſider that Matter, and do what ſhall appear reaſonable.

As the Circumſtances of the preſent Time call rather for Action than Altercation, the Committee are of Opinion, the Houſe would do well to make no Anſwer to the Meſſage in Queſtion, but ſhow their Diſpoſition to Peace by their Silence, and apply themſelves diligently to raiſing the neceſſary Supplies for his Majeſty's Service, and to perfecting the Militia Bill now under their Conſideration.——This, their Opinion, however, is humbly ſubmitted to the Houſe."

And the Houſe taking the foregoing Report into Conſideration, approved thereof; and Reſolved, That this Houſe will, in order to prevent, as much as in them lies, any Diſputes with the Governor at this critical Juncture, take no further Notice of his laſt Meſſage relating to the Quartering of Soldiers or of his Honour's extraordinary Conduct in that Affair.

Upon Motion made,

Ordered, That Mr. Leech, Mr. Smith, Mr. Morton, Mr. Carpenter, Mr. M'Connaughy, Mr. Weſt and Mr. Yorke do procure and bring to the Houſe, at their next Sitting, the Duplicates of the Taxables in the ſeveral Counties they repreſent; and further, that they be a Committee to enquire into the Reaſons why the Tax for raiſing the Fifty-five Thouſand Pounds, granted to the King's Uſe, has not yet been laid in ſome of the Back Counties, and report thereon to the Houſe.

Adjournment

Then the Houſe adjourned to Monday, the Third Day of January next.

1757. January 3. Poſt Meridiem

THE Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

Mr. Speaker laid before the Houſe a Meſſage he had received from the Governor juſt after the Houſe had adjourned; which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'THE Coneſtogoe Indians have acquainted me, that they want Clothes, and deſire 'they may have a further Supply; which you will be pleaſed to order may be ſent 'them forthwith, that they may not ſuffer in this ſevere Seaſon.

Dec. 24, 1756. WILLIAM DENNY."

A Petition from Philip Syng and Jacob Cooper, two of the Commiſſioners for the County of Philadelphia, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that the Petitioners were elected Commiſſioners by the Freemen of the County of Philadelphia, by Virtue of the County Levy Act, to perform ſuch Duties as are therein directed, and found more Trouble than uſual in raiſing the laſt County Tax, occaſioned, as they apprehend, by the People foreſeeing heavy Taxes would enſue, great Numbers were anxious to get themſelves rated as low as poſſible, in Hopes that might be a Rule for other Taxes: That before the Petitioners could complete the Collection of the aforeſaid Tax, they were obliged, under Penalty of Twenty Pounds, to raiſe a yearly Tax of Six-pence in the Pound for the King's Uſe, which they chearfully undertook to perform, though much to their Diſadvantage, and will do their beſt Endeavour to accompliſh: That the executeing the laſt Act is attended with much more Trouble than the former, the Applications for Abatement encreaſe, and although double the Time is allowed for Appeals than heretofore, the Petitioners are harraſſed both Abroad and at Home to hear the Complaints: That they have been obliged to cauſe the Goods of many to be taken by Diſtreſs, and ſold, raiſe Accounts for each of them, ſettle the Charges, and direct what Balance ſhall be returned: That the Office of Commiſſioner is attended with much more Trouble in this County than any other, by Reaſon of the City being included; and the Petitioners have Forty-ſix Collectors to ſettle with, and rectify their Duplicates, every Tax: That the Petitioners are informed this Houſe purpoſe to prepare a Bill for a yet greater Tax on the Eſtates and Inhabitants of this Province, and that the Commiſſioners of the ſeveral Counties are to enforce the Collection thereof: —— That the Petitioners find, by Experience, the executing the two before mentioned Acts takes ſo much of their Time, that they cannot, without Prejudice to themſelves and Families, ſerve as Commiſſioners to the Bill they are informed is now under Conſideration: The Petitioners titioners therefore pray this Houſe would not impoſe any further Burden upon them, but to appoint other Commiſſioners for that particular Act. 1757. January 3.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

A Petition from divers Inn-keepers, Tavern-keepers, Victuallers, Ale-houſe Keepers, and Retailers of ſpirituous Liquors by Licenſe, Inhabitants of the City of Philadelphia, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that the preſent Billets, iſſued for quartering Soldiers only in this City, greatly injure and diſtreſs the Petitioners; that the major Part of the Petitioners are not able to bear the Expence thereof, having but very few among them whoſe Houſes, Beds, and Fire-wood are capable ſufficiently to accommodate the Soldiers now billeted on them, and if compelled thereto, will conſequently be impoveriſhed and ruined, with their Wives and Children; the Petitioners therefore pray, that this Houſe would take the Premiſes into their ſerious Conſideration, and grant them ſuch Relief as the Houſe in their Wiſdom ſhall judge moſt proper.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

Mr. Morton brought to the Houſe an Account from the Clerk of the Commiſſioners for the County of Cheſter, of the Taxes laid by them in the ſaid County, in Purſuance of the Act for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe; which was read, and ordered to lie on the Table for the Peruſal of the Members.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Commiſſioners for diſpoſing of the Thirty Thouſand Pounds granted to the King's Uſe, laid before the Houſe, for their Conſideration, a Letter they had received from the Governor, which was read, and is as follows, viz. January 4.

GENTLEMEN, Philadelphia, December 29, 1756.

MR. Croghan, who has a Deputation from Sir William Johnſon for this Part of the Northern Diſtrict, has propoſed, for the immediate Service of this and the other Colonies, to ſend one or two Meſſengers to the Suſquehannah Indians, at Otſaningo, and to Teedyuſcung, at Diahogo, to come and meet him at Harris's, where he will endeavour to engage ſome of the moſt faithful and diſcreet of them to go to the ſeveral Shawaneſe and Delaware Tribes of the Ohio Indians, in order to ſound their Inclinations with reſpect to this Province; and if they ſhall be found well diſpoſed, to invite them to a Conference in the Spring at ſome Place, to be left to their Choice. Governor's Letter to the Commiſſioners.

As Money will be wanted for this Service, I recommend it to you to allot a Part out of the Remainder of the Thirty Thouſand Pounds to defray the Expences which will ariſe by theſe Meſſages, and the Meeting at Harris's. I think this, which requires immediate Diſpatch, is of ſo much Conſequence as to merit a Preference to any other Matters. It is neceſſary that this Affair ſhould be kept ſecret. I am, Gentlemen,

Your moſt obedient humble Servant,

WILLIAM DENNY."

And the Houſe taking the foregoing Letter into Conſideration,

Ordered, That Mr. Galloway and Mr. Weſt wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire he would be pleaſed to lay before them the Deputation mentioned in the ſaid Letter, and any Inſtructions he might have that were given to George Croghan.

A Petition from Mary Edwards, and another from David Llewellyn, both of the County of Cheſter, complaining of ſundry unjuſt and illegal Practices of William Moore, Eſq; of the ſaid County, and praying Redreſs, was preſented to the Houſe and read, and

Ordered to lie on the Table.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Poſt Meridiem

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to give them a Copy of Sir William Johnſon's Inſtructions to George Croghan; alſo a Letter from ſaid Croghan to his Honour; which they delivered in at the Table.

And the ſaid Inſtructions and Letter were read, and are as follow, viz.

SIR, Fort Johnſon, November 24, 1756.

YOU will proceed to Philadelphia as ſoon as you can, or to any Part of that Province where the Good of his Majeſty's Indian Intereſt may require. Sir William Johnſon's Inſtructions to George Croghan, Eſq;

You are to endeavour all in your Power to find out the Diſpoſition of ſuch Indians as are ſtill living in them Parts, and try all Means to convince them it is their Intereſt to continue Friends to the Engliſh and the Six Nations.

If you find them well inclined, then you will encourage them to come and join his Majeſty's Arms here, or any where elſe they may be wanted next Spring.

You will alſo enquire into the Cauſe of the Delawares and Shawaneſe Behaviour to their Brethren, the Engliſh, in them Parts, and aſſure them, that if they will come,

and 1757. January 4. and let me know wherein they are injured, I will endeavour to have Juſtice done them, ſo that that unhappy Difference may be ſettled.

In Caſe you can meet with the old Onondago Indian, who lives near Shamokin, I would have you employ him, and ſend him either to the general Meeting, ſoon to be held at Onondago, there to learn what paſſes at that Council, or to the Shawaneſe and Six Nations, living at the Ohio, to know their Reſolutions; and give him in Charge to loſe no Time, ſo that I may know as ſoon as poſſible what he learns from them. You may aſſure him he ſhall be well rewarded, provided he exerts himſelf properly on this Occaſion. —— I wiſh you a good Journey, and am, Sir,

Your moſt humble Servant,

To George Croghan, Eſq; Deputy Agent of Indian Affairs for the Northern Diſtrict. WILLIAM JOHNSON."

A true Copy, RICHARD PETERS.

SIR, Philadelphia, December 13, 1756.

Mr. Croghan's Letter to the Governor.

ON Peruſal of the late Treaty held at Eaſton, I find that the Indians made a Complaint of their being defrauded out of ſome of their Lands; upon which the Commiſſioners acquainting your Honour, that more Goods were brought than could be conveniently diſpoſed of, it was agreed by you to propoſe to them immediate Satisfaction, which they refuſed, alleging they were not the Perſons who had Power to receive it; and as they could not then finiſh the great Work they came about, that they intended to come in the Spring and finiſh it.——To which your Honour was pleaſed to anſwer, you would be glad to meet them at any Time. From which I am of Opinion, that the Government cannot avoid giving the Indians a Meeting to ſettle this or any other Difference that ſubſiſts between them, as I think it will be for the Good of his Majeſty's Service to have theſe Affairs ſpeedily accommodated; and am alſo of Opinion, this Meeting ought to be held before the Firſt of March; for it is probable, if it ſhould be put off longer, it may impede his Majeſty's Service, as the Indians may be called together in the Spring by Sir William Johnſon, to join the Forces under the Command of his Excellency Lord Loudoun. And as I have a Deputation from Sir William Johnſon for the Tranſacting of Indian Affairs here, I aſſure your Honour, that I will do every Thing in my Power to ſettle, in an amicable Manner, thoſe Differences, and in the mean Time let Sir William Johnſon know that the Indians are to meet here, and have his further Inſtructions on that Head.—— I am of Opinion, if proper Steps be taken, that ſome of the Ohio Indians (who are the proper Indians to ſettle thoſe Affairs with) may be brought to this Meeting. I am, with Reſpect,

Your Honour's moſt obedient Servant,

GEORGE CROGHAN."

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

"IN Obedience to his Majesty's Commands, I recommended to you, on the Nineteenth of October last, to prepare a Bill for an Embargo on Vessels carrying Provisions, under such Penalties as might render the same effectual. I have lately received a Letter from the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners for Trade and Plantations, communicating his Majesty's further Orders to me, That an Embargo be laid, during the King's Pleasure, upon all Ships and Vessels clearing out with Provisions, from any Port or Place within this Government, except those which should be employed in carrying Provisions to any other of his Majesty's Colonies," &c. This Letter I now lay before you, and once more desire an Affair of this Importance may be no longer delayed. In the mean Time the Collector is ordered to take Care that his Majesty's Commands are punctually obeyed.

January 13, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

"SIR, Whitehall, October 9, 1756.

Letter from the Lords of Trade to the Governor.

IT having been represented to his Majesty, that the several Islands and Colonies belonging to the French, in America, have, in Times of War, been frequently supplied with Provisions of various Kinds, by Means of the Trade carried on from his Majesty's Islands and Colonies to the Colonies and Settlements belonging to the Dutch, and other neutral Powers; it is his Majesty's Pleasure that you do forthwith, upon the Receipt of this Order, give immediate Directions that an Embargo be laid, during his Majesty's Pleasure, upon all Ships and Vessels clearing out with Provisions from any Port or Place within your Government, except those which shall be employed in carrying Provisions to any other of his Majesty's Colonies and Plantations; which Ships or Vessels are to be allowed to sail from Time to Time, provided that the Masters or Owners do, before they are permitted to take any Provisions on board, enter into Bonds (with two Sureties of known Residence there, and Ability to answer the Penalty) with the chief Officers of the Customs of the Ports or Places from whence such Ships or Vessels shall set sail, to the Value of One Thousand Pounds, if the Ship be of less Burthen than One Hundred Tons; and of the Sum of Two Thousand Pounds, if above that Burthen, that the Cargoes of such Ships or Vessels, the Particulars of which are to be expressed in the Bonds, shall not be landed in any other Ports or Places than such as belong to his Majesty, or are in Possession of his Subjects; and that they will, within twelve Months after the Date thereof, the Danger of the Seas excepted, produce Certificates, under the Hands and Seals of the principal Officers of the Customs at such Ports or Places for which such Ships or Vessels cleared out, that the said Cargoes, expressing the Particulars thereof, have actually been landed there; and when there shall be Cause to suspect that such Certificates are false and counterfeit, you shall take especial Care that such Security be not cancelled, or vacated, until you shall have been informed from the said principal Officers of the Customs, that the Matter and Contents thereof are just and true; and in Case the Masters or Owners of such Ships or Vessels shall not produce the said Certificates within the Times limited, you are to attest the Copies of such Bonds, under your Hand and Seal, and to cause Prosecution thereof: And you are also to give Directions that no Person be admitted to be Security for another who has Bonds standing out undischarged, unless he be esteemed responsible for more than the Value of such Bonds.

And in order more fully to answer his Majesty's Intention of distressing the Enemy, and to render his Orders herein the more effectual, you are to take Care, in Case the Masters or Owners of any Ships or Vessels, having cleared out from the Colony under your Government, laden with Provisions for any of his Majesty's other Colonies or Islands, shall be detected in causing collusive Captures to be made of the Cargoes, that the severest

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'SOON after my Arrival to this Government, I received a Meſſage from the Aſ-
'ſembly, requeſting me to lay before them full Copies of ſuch Proprietary Inſtructions as
'related to the Paſſing of Money Bills, that the Delays which had been occaſioned by the not
'communicating ſuch Inſtructions to them, till much Time had been ſpent in forming Bills,
'inconſiſtent with ſuch Inſtructions, might thereby for the future be avoided. I immediately
'furniſhed them with a Copy of all the Inſtructions given me on that Head, which 'I preſume are entered on the Minutes of your Houſe; and in a ſubſequent Meſſage in'formed them, I could not break through ſuch Inſtructions, without riſking both my Honour
'and Fortune. In conſidering the Bill now before me, for granting to his Majeſty the 'Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds, by a Tax on all the Eſtates real and perſonal,
'and Taxables, within this Province, I am ſorry to find it is in many Parts ſo repugnant
'to theſe Inſtructions, that I am under a Neceſſity of refuſing my Aſſent to it. The 'Proprietaries are willing their Eſtates ſhould be taxed in the Manner that appears to 'them to be reaſonable, and agreeable to the Land-Tax Acts of Parliament in our 'Mother Country. I am not inclined to enter into any Diſpute with you on the Sub'ject, ſince it cannot be decided on this Side the Water, nor can I ſee what good End
'it can anſwer, as the Proprietaries have poſitively enjoined me not to paſs any Bill that 'is againſt their Inſtruction. As his Majeſty's Service, and the Defence of this Province,
'render it neceſſary to raiſe immediate Supplies, I muſt earneſtly recommend it to you
'to frame ſuch a Bill as it is in my Power to paſs, conſiſtent with my Honour and my 'Engagements to the Proprietaries, which I am perſuaded you will not deſire me to 'violate. I have ſome Amendments to propoſe to particular Parts of the Bill now be'fore me, which I ſhall communicate to you, as ſoon as I know whether you determine
'to prepare a new Bill, free from the Objection I have above mentioned.

January 25, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

And

Mr. Speaker's Paper of Authorities, relating to Money Bills; Governor Morris's List of Money Bills, which he said had been amended by former Governors; the Committee's Report thereon; the Proprietaries Instructions relating to Money Bills; and the Report of a Committee of the last Assembly thereupon, were severally read by Order.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The House resumed the Consideration of the Governor's Message of Yesternight; and, Post Meridiem after some Time spent therein, it was moved, that the whole House should wait upon the Governor, with the Speaker at their Head, and present to him the Money Bill once more, together with the following Remonstrance, viz.

To the Honourable WILLIAM DENNY, Esq; Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Pennsylvania, &c.

The REMONSTRANCE of the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the said Province, in Answer to the Governor's Message of Tuesday last, containing his Refusal of the Supply Bill, because not drawn conformable to the Proprietary Instructions.

May it please your HONOUR,

THE Representatives of the Freemen of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, do hereby humbly remonstrate to your Honour, Assembly's Remonstrance to the Governor.

That the Proprietaries professed Willingness to be taxed, mentioned by your Honour in your Message of Tuesday last, can be intended only to amuse and deceive their Superiors; since they have in their Instructions excepted all their Quitrents, located unimproved Lands, Purchase Money at Interest, and in short so much of their vast Estate, as to reduce their Tax, as far as appears to us, below that of a common Farmer or Tradesman.

That though the Proprietaries Instructions are by no Means Laws in this Province, we have so far complied with them, as to confine the Sum given to be raised in one Year. And had we complied with them in the other Particulars, the Raising any Thing near the Sum required by the present Exigencies of the Province, would be absolutely impossible.

That the apparent Necessity of so large a Sum for his Majesty's Service, and the Defence of this his Province, founded upon the Governor's own Estimate, has obliged us to an Effort beyond our Strength, being assured that Hundreds of Families must be distressed to pay this Tax.

That we have, in the due Exercise of our just Rights by the Royal and Provincial Charters, and the Laws of this Province, and as an English Representative Body, framed this Bill, consistent with those Rights.

That the Bill is agreeable to Justice and Equity, with regard to the Proprietaries, and is not repugnant to the Laws of our Mother Country, but as nearly agreeable thereto as our different Circumstances will permit, nor is it contrary to any Royal Instruction whatever.

That great as the Sum is, and hard for this People to pay, we freely offer it to our gracious King for his Service, and the Defence of this his Colony from his Majesty's Enemies.

That the Proprietaries refusing to permit us to grant Money to the Crown, in this Time of War and imminent Danger to the Province, unless we will consent thus to exempt their Estates from the Tax, we conceive to be injurious to the Interests of the Crown, and tyrannical with regard to the People.

That we do farther humbly conceive, neither the Proprietaries nor any other Power on Earth ought to interfere between us and our Sovereign, either to modify or refuse our Free Gifts and Grants for his Majesty's Service.

That

1757. January 26. That though the Governor may be under Obligations to the Proprietaries, we conceive he is under greater to the Crown, and to the People he is appointed to govern; to promote the Service of the former, preſerve the Rights of the latter, and protect them from their cruel Enemies.

We do therefore, in the Name of our moſt gracious Sovereign, and in Behalf of the diſtreſſed People we repreſent, unanimouſly DEMAND it of the Governor, as our Right, that he give his Aſſent to the Bill we now preſent him, for granting to his Majeſty One Hundred Thouſand Pounds for the Defence of this Province (and, as it is a Money Bill, without Alteration or Amendment, any Inſtructions whatſoever from the Proprietaries notwithſtanding) as he will anſwer to the Crown for all the Conſequences of his Refuſal at his Peril."

And the ſame being read and conſidered, was agreed to by the Houſe, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be preſented to the Governor.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

January 27. The Remonſtrance to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read; and being ſigned by Mr. Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, Reſolved, That the ſame be, with the Supply Bill, delivered to the Governor, by Mr. Speaker, and the whole Houſe.

Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. Baynton wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire he would be pleaſed to appoint a Time and Place for them to wait upon his Honour with the Supply Bill, and a Remonſtrance relating thereto.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem. The Gentlemen report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe, according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, he would be at the Council Chamber at Twelve o'Clock To-morrow Morning, in order to receive the Houſe, with their Remonſtrance.

Mr. Speaker, by the Leave of the Houſe, brought in a Bill for the further Continuance of an Act of General Aſſembly of this Province, entituled, An Act for the more eaſy Recovery of Legacies within this Province, which was read the firſt time, and ordered a ſecond Reading.

The Houſe reſumed the Conſideration of the Militia Bill; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the ſame was referred to farther Conſideration.

Upon Motion made,

Reſolved, That the Clerk do attend every Morning at Half an Hour after Ten o'Clock at fartheſt, and give Notice to Mr. Speaker when there ſhall be a ſufficient Number of Members met to make a Houſe; and that if the Clerk ſhall not attend and give Notice as aforeſaid, he ſhall be fined, unleſs he is prevented by being on the Buſineſs of the Public.

Adjourn ment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

January 28. A Meſſage from the Governor by Mr. Secretary:

"SIR,

"The Governor is now in the Council Chamber, ready to receive the Houſe."

Then Mr. Speaker, with the whole Houſe, waited upon his Honour; and being returned, Mr. Speaker reſumed the Chair, and reported, That the Houſe had waited upon the Governor in Council, and delivered the Remonſtrance of the Houſe; to which his Honour was pleaſed to make the following Anſwer, viz.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

Governor's Anſwer to the Aſſembly's Remonſtrance. 'THE ſame Reaſons which induced me to refuſe my Aſſent to this Bill, when it was preſented before, ſtill weigh with me, and determine me now again to reject it.

'I ſhall, however, keep the Bill, till I have taken a Copy of it, in order to lay it before his Majeſty, with my Reaſons for not paſſing it, and then return it.

'If the Houſe deſire an Exemplification of the Bill under the Great Seal, they may have it upon Application.

'The other Parts of your Remonſtrance I ſhall take Time to conſider of."

Ordered, That Mr. Galloway and Mr. Franklin wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe deſire he would be pleaſed to cauſe the Great Seal to be affixed to an Exemplification of the Supply Bill, for the Uſe of the Houſe; alſo, that his Honour would be pleaſed to favour the Houſe with a Copy of thoſe Reaſons for not paſſing the ſaid Bill, which he propoſes to tranſmit to his Majeſty.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem. The Gentlemen report, that they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe, according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he would give Orders for the Great Seal to be affixed to an Exemplification of the Supply Bill, for the Uſe of the Houſe; and that he would conſider the Requeſt of the Houſe for a Copy of the Reaſons of his Refuſal of the ſaid Bill, and let the Houſe hear from him thereupon.

The

The House went upon the Consideration of the Governor's Answer to the Remonstrance of the House; and, after some Time spent therein, 1757. January 28.

Ordered, That Mr. Denormandie have Leave to be absent four Days of the next Week; and that Mr. Morton, Mr. Carpenter and Mr. Webb have Leave to be absent the Whole of next Week, on urgent Business. January 29.

The four Provincial Commissioners, Members of this House, who were appointed to attend the Governor at the late Conference with the Indians at Easton, presented a Paper to the House, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

Report of the Committee relating to the Conferences with the Indians at Easton.

WE, the Committee appointed to attend the Governor at the Conferences with the Indians at Easton, in November last, have perused the Copy of those Conferences, drawn up and signed by the Secretary, and laid before the House;

And as we apprehend it of Importance to the Province, that the Complaints made by the Indians, whether justly founded or not, should be fully represented, and their Sense of them understood, we think it necessary to observe to the House, that we conceive the Warmth and Earnestness with which they insisted on the Wrongs that had been done them in the Purchases of Land, are much too faintly expressed in this Account of the Conference. That we were not present at the palliating Hearsay Accounts of the Walking Purchase, said to be given the Governor by Mr. Weiser and Mr. Peters, on the Fourteenth of November; though by the concluding Paragraphs under that Date, it may seem as if we were: But we well remember, that the Transaction of that Walk was at Easton universally given up as unfair, and not to be defended, even from the Accounts of some of our own People, who were present at the Walking; even the Secretary, though he did say, that he believed Satisfaction was afterwards made the Indians; and that this was the only Instance in which any Foundation of Complaint had ever been given them, yet this he allowed was (in his own Words) unworthy of any Government. We would farther observe, that when Teedyuscung claimed the Lands, even those on which the Conferences were held, no Objection was made, that neither he, nor any with him, had any Right to them; nor did we ever understand his Reason for not accepting Satisfaction to be as represented in the second Paragraph under November 17, for that "the People "to whom the Land belonged were absent;"—but for that many of them were absent, and those who were absent had not impowered him to act for them in that Matter; but he would endeavour to bring them in the Spring.

The Offer of the Commissioners to furnish the Means of making the Indians immediate Satisfaction, not being fully related, we think it necessary to add, that the Reasons we gave the Governor for that Offer, were, 1. The Absence and great Distance of the Proprietaries, who being the sole Purchasers of Land from the Indians in this Province, ought, if the Indians were injured in such Purchases, alone to make the Satisfaction; but their Agents here had not the necessary Powers. 2. For that Promises [such being proposed] of enquiring into Indian Complaints, and doing them Right hereafter, had been so often made in other Governments, and so little observed, we imagined they could be of no Weight, and would rather be looked upon as a Denial of Justice; and therefore, we thought it better, as their Demands are seldom very high, to make them immediate Reparation for the Injuries they supposed they had received, and we would furnish the Goods, and risk the Proprietaries repaying their Value to the Province. The Secretary then told us, that he thought our Proposal very considerate and well-judged; that he was sure the Proprietaries would think themselves obliged to us, and repay the Money with Thanks: The Offer was accordingly made, but not accepted for the Reasons above-mentioned. We then waited upon the Governor in a Body, and acquainted his Honour, That, as we had made the Offer in Behalf of the Province, not from an Opinion that the Province ought to be at such Expence, but from the apparent immediate Necessity of the Thing, and on Account of the Proprietaries Absence as aforesaid; so now, since the final Settlement of the Indians Claims was postponed to the Spring, and there would be sufficient Time to write to the Proprietaries, and obtain their Orders to their Agents for the Payment of such Sums as should be found necessary, we looked on ourselves and the Province as totally disengaged from that Offer, and expected that the Proprietaries would be wrote to accordingly.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe the Bill for rendering the Burden of Quartering Soldiers more equal on the Public-houſes of this Province, with the following Meſſage in Writing, viz. Poſt Meridiem

GENTLEMEN,

' I HAVE again attentively conſidered the Bill, entituled, An Act to render the Bur- A Meſſage
' den of Quartering of Soldiers more equal on the Public-houſes of this Province, but can- from the Go-
' not agree to paſs it, unleſs you accede to the third Amendment, by which it was pro- vernor to the ' poſed to lay the Duty of Two-pence per Gallon generally upon all Liquors retailed Aſſembly.
' within this Province, without confining it to the Public-houſes only, and think it ' proper to inform you, that I am induced to adhere to that Amendment for the fol' lowing Reaſons.

' Firſt, Unleſs the Duty is general, the Bill, which ſeems calculated for the Re' lief of Public Houſe-keepers, and others on whom his Majeſty's Soldiers are quartered,
' will be ſo far from anſwering the good Ends propoſed by it, that it will involve them
' in new Diſtreſſes, it being evident that they muſt loſe a great Share of their Buſineſs
' if Liquors can be purchaſed of other Retailers, who are not obliged to pay the ad-

'ditional Duty, at cheaper Rates than they, who muſt pay the Duty, can afford to 'ſell.

'Second, If the Duty is confined to Liquors ſold in Public-houſes, it will fall greatly 'ſhort of the Sum propoſed by the Bill to be allowed to Public Houſe-keepers for their 'Charge and Trouble in making Proviſion for ſuch Soldiers as are quartered upon them. 'I flatter myſelf theſe Reaſons will have Weight with you, and induce you to agree to 'the Amendment.

February 7, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

And the ſaid Meſſage being read and conſidered,

Ordered, That Mr. Hughes and Mr. Franklin be a Committee to prepare a Draught of an Anſwer to the ſame.

Adjournment February 8.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Bill for preventing the Exportation of Proviſions, naval or warlike Stores, to the French, &c. report, that they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that the Governor was pleaſed to ſay, that he would take it into his immediate Conſideration; and that he would likewiſe recommend it to the Aſſembly of the three Lower Counties to paſs a Law for the ſame Purpoſes.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor, in Anſwer to his Meſſage of Yeſternight, reported the ſame to the Houſe; and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

The Houſe being informed, that there were ſundry of the Neutral French without, who deſired to be admitted, in order to preſent a Petition to the Houſe, they were called in; and they then preſented a Petition, of which the following is a literal Tranſlation, viz.

To the Honourable Mr. NORRIS, Chief of the ASSEMBLY of Philadelphia, and to the other honourable Members of ſaid Aſſembly.

GENTLEMEN,

Petition of the French Neutrals.

PERMIT unfortunate Perſons, loaded with the Weight of their Miſeries, to take the neceſſary Steps to free themſelves from the Burden, by imploring the Succour of thoſe in whoſe Power it is to relieve them.

Pardon us, Gentlemen, if, under our preſent Misfortunes, we make bold to renew our Importunities; we follow in that the Advice of Jeſus Chriſt, who aſſures us, that whoſoever aſketh receiveth, &c. Being convinced then of the Truth of theſe Words of our divine Saviour, we are under no Apprehenſion, but that by perſevering in knocking, the Door will at length be opened unto us.

You are not unacquainted with our Misfortunes, which we beſeech you again to take under your Conſideration, and to give Attention to the Repreſentations which we have already made, relating to our Right to thoſe Lands granted us by his Britannic Majeſty in Nova Scotia, of which we have been deprived: That is over and gone; our only Refuge now is in the Compaſſion and Charity you have hitherto manifeſted towards us, in furniſhing us with the Neceſſaries of Life. But, alas, O ſorrowful Change for us! the very Gentlemen who vouchſafed thus charitably to receive us, and preſerve our Lives, will not now let us live, for they have brought us into a Condition worſe than Death, in depriving us of a Part of ourſelves, by the Act printed the 27th of January, 1757. O merciful Gentlemen, what Crime have theſe innocent Creatures been guilty of, that you ſhould thus ſeparate them from thoſe who, after God, are Authors of their Lives? Being deprived of that Subſtance which God had granted us, permit us at leaſt to live or die with our Children, and thoſe of our deceaſed Brethren. Permit us, Gentlemen, to aſk in what Quality we are here? Be pleaſed to tell us, whether we are Subjects, Priſoners, Slaves or Freemen? In our Opinion we are not Subjects, inaſmuch as it appears to us unparalelled, that his Britannic Majeſty ſhould ever oppreſs his Subjects in the Manner we have been oppreſſed.

Though we read that God has reduced his People under the hardeſt Captivity, as in Egypt, under Pharaoh, and in Babylon, under Nebuchadnezzar; yet we do not read that theſe Princes that thus oppreſſed them ever ſeparated the Children from their Parents; and although Hiſtory furniſhes us with ſuch ſtrange Events, they ought, to Chriſtian Princes, and Diſciples of Jeſus Chriſt, to be Examples rather to be wondered at than imitated.

If we are Criminals, we are ready to ſubmit to the Puniſhment due to our Crimes; but to ſeparate innocent Children, who have committed no Crime, from their Parents, appears contrary to the Precept of Jeſus Chriſt, who tells us, that the Son ſhall not bear the Iniquity of the Father. Beſides, every Superior ought to do Juſtice to his Subjects, whether in puniſhing them when guilty, or recompenſing them when they have done well, well, and to condemn none unheard, notwithstanding which, we do not feel the Effects of this Maxim. 1757. February 8.

This is a convincing Proof of our not being in the Situation of Subjects, when the Governors of Halifax, viz. His Excellency Edward Cornwallis, Peregrine Thomas Hopson and Mr. Charles Lawrence proposed to us an Oath, different from that which we formerly had taken, they did not look upon us as Subjects; for Mr. Lawrence, in the Presence of his Majesty's Council, told us, that we were at Liberty to take or refuse the new Oath; and upon our asking in what the Oath he proposed to us consisted, he answered, that we must become Englishmen, to all Intents and Purposes, like him. From hence it appears, that we were not Subjects; and not having accepted the Oath, which would have made us such, we still remain as we were. He moreover told us, that since we would be Frenchmen, he made us Prisoners of War, and that he would transport us to our own Country. Neither can we be called Slaves, because Christians have never made a Trade of such as believe in Jesus Christ. We are not Freemen neither, seeing we cannot withdraw into the Country promised us. Perhaps we shall be told, that we are free in this Country, and that we may live here like others; but what Likelihood is there of subsisting in a Country, the Language of which is unknown to us. We then conclude ourselves Prisoners, for we must be something, or be reduced to a State of Non-existence. If we are then Prisoners, we ought to be looked upon as such, and that Provision be made for us accordingly, without separating the Members from the respective Families.

But the Charges that the Province is obliged to be at for our Subsistence, are too heavy for the Inhabitants to bear; and in order to discharge them from that Burden, you have thought proper, Gentlemen, to make a Law, by which we are to be deprived of our Children; it appears to us very hard to be subjected to such a Law. The Province might much easier discharge its Subjects from that Burden, by giving us our Liberty, in causing us to be transported to our own Country, whereby the End of the Law will be answered, in taking off from the Province the Burden which it is oppressed with by our being kept among them. Besides, the Province of Pennsylvania is populous enough; besides, what Advantage can be expected by keeping an unfortunate People against their Will.

We have abandoned our Possessions only from the View of keeping our Children, wherein we have pursued our natural Rights; we must then conclude ourselves the most unhappy People that ever appeared, if, after having lost what God had given us, for the Subsistence of our Families, we see ourselves again forced to tear our Children from the Arms of our tender Wives. In the sorrowful Circumstances to which we are reduced, we desire you, Gentlemen, to believe, that our Condition would appear to us much less unhappy, should we see our Children and ourselves perish; nevertheless, we hope that the Almighty, whom we all adore, will be so gracious to us, as to inspire you with Sentiments of Compassion and Charity, in not doing to others that which you would not have done to yourselves, and that he will influence you to fulfil his Word: Be ye merciful as your heavenly Father is merciful; and that he will be pleased to soften your Hearts, in Behalf of a People plunged into an Abyss of Bitterness and Sorrow. Ye charitable Gentlemen, we hope that God will, through your Favour, do by us as he did by Hagar and Ishmael, when they were both driven out of Abraham's House; when the Bread and Water which Abraham had given Hagar was expended, she found herself in the Desert of Beersheba, she went at a Distance from the Child, in order not to see him die, then she lifted up her Voice to the Almighty, and wept. God heard the Voice of the Child, and sent his Angel, which shewed her a Well filled with Water, out of which she drew, and thereby saved the Child's Life.——We put up our daily Lamentations to the Almighty, that he would be pleased to preserve us from the Evil which threatens us, and we hope that merciful and good God will make Angels of you, who will procure us the proper Means to preserve our Children, in the same Manner which he provided to Hagar, in order to save her dear Ishmael. We hope, by the Favour of the Almighty, we shall one Day see again our dear Country, or at least be permitted to join our Nation in some Place, consistent with the Preservation of our Family. Nevertheless, if the Gentlemen are not disposed to be at the Charge of transporting us, having already been at considerable Expence on our Account, we hope that at least they will permit us to go away ourselves; it is true we are not in a Capacity to do it; yet perhaps, by the Assistance of certain charitable Persons, we shall find Means to compass it; at all Events, we are all disposed to sell the little that remains to us, as some Household-Goods, and our Clothing, to enable us to regain our Liberty.

Perhaps, Gentlemen, you may fear, that if we are released we shall join the Enemy, and aid them to bring War into his Majesty's Provinces; fear not, Gentlemen; if we had inclined to War, we should have been still, perhaps, in our own Country. Besides, we are ready to give the most solemn Assurance, that we will not take up Arms against his Britannic Majesty, nor against this Province, from which we have experienced 1757. February 8. rienced nothing but Good, and for which ourſelves, our Wives, and our Children, ſhall not ceaſe to ſupplicate the Almighty, that he would heap upon you all Bleſſings, both ſpiritual and temporal. Theſe are the moſt ſincere Wiſhes of thoſe who are, with all poſſible Reſpect, &c.

P. S. We very humbly ſupplicate you, honourable and reſpectable Gentlemen, to let us know your Intentions with regard to us, in Conſequence of this our Repreſentation, that we may no longer languiſh under our Misfortunes."

The Bill for forming and regulating the Militia of this Province, was again read, and conſidered; and, after ſome Progreſs made therein, the ſame was referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

February 9. The Tranſlation of the French Neutrals Petition was read, and conſidered; and Mr. Speaker laid before the Houſe another Copy of the ſaid Petition, directed to the Governor, which the Secretary had delivered to the Speaker, in order to be communicated to the Houſe.

The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. BY our late Law, extending ſeveral Sections of the Act of Parliament, entituled, "An "Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and "their Quarters," all the Public-houſes in this Province were ſubjected to the Billeting of Soldiers quartered within the ſame; and had the Circumſtances of his Majeſty's Service admitted of their being quartered equitably and proportionably on all thoſe Houſes, the Bill we preſented to your Honour would not have appeared to us neceſſary. But ſince it has been thought fit, that the whole Number quartered in the Province, ſhould be billeted in Philadelphia, and the Public Houſe-keepers throughout the reſt of the Province bear no Part of the Burden, this Bill was intended to render it more equal among them all; not to take it from them, and lay it upon the People, which would be the Caſe, ſhould your Honour's propoſed Amendment be acceded to; for if the Exciſe be made general, the Price muſt riſe proportionally on the Commodity exciſed, and the Farmers and labouring People, who chiefly buy it of the Retailers, and conſume it at their Harveſts, and other Labour, muſt pay the Addition.

But the Public Houſe-keepers, who ſell for the moſt Part by ſmall Meaſure, and receive at the Rate of Ten Shillings per Gallon for Rum that perhaps coſts them not more than Three Shillings, may, we think, afford to pay Two-pence a Gallon above the preſent general Exciſe of Four-pence, without any great Inconveniency; ſince the other Retailers, who are confined to ſell by no leſs Meaſure than a Quart, cannot interfere with them in that moſt profitable Part of their Buſineſs.

We would beg Leave farther to obſerve, that at preſent the Soldiers billeted on the Public-houſes at Philadelphia, amount, on an Average, to about four for each Houſe; and that the Expence of furniſhing Quarters, and Neceſſaries in Quarters to each Man, at Four-pence per Diem, will in Three Months for four Men amount to Six Pounds; this the Public-houſes are at preſent ſuppoſed to be burdened with; but the Addition to their Exciſe, by the propoſed Bill, would in few Inſtances exceed Thirty Shillings, and they would be repaid the Six Pounds. We conceive therefore, that the Payment of Thirty Shillings in a Year, could not occaſion the Loſs of a great Share of their Buſineſs, when the Payment or Expence of Six Pounds has no ſuch Effect. And that dividing equally among the whole Number of Public-houſes, a Burden which at preſent lies wholly on a Part only, muſt, in the Nature of Things, make it lighter on that Part.

Whether the Fund propoſed will be ſufficient, we cannot ſay, as both its Produce, and the Continuance of the Soldiers here, are uncertain. If it ſhould fall ſhort, a future additional Proviſion may be made, when it ſhall be thought neceſſary. We therefore offer the Bill again to the Governor for his Aſſent: If he ſhall, upon Conſideration of the Reaſons above given, think fit to wave his Amendment, the Bill may afford thoſe People ſome immediate Relief: If not, Affairs of greater Importance will not at preſent admit of our ſpending more Time about it."

And the ſame being ſigned by Mr. Speaker, by Order of the Houſe,

Ordered, That Mr. Galloway and Mr. Yorke wait upon the Governor, and deliver the ſame, same, together with the Bill for rendering the Burden of Quartering Soldiers more easy upon the Public-houses; and further, that they deliver the following written Message, viz. 1757. February 9.

May it please your HONOUR,

YOU were pleased, by your Message of the Second of September last, to inform the then Assembly, that it was your Opinion that the late Inhabitants of Nova Scotia, now in this Province, should not be treated as Prisoners of War, and recommended it to the House to make Provision for them accordingly. In Pursuance of this Message, the Assembly passed a Bill, providing for them in the best Manner their Circumstances would admit of, which has received your Approbation, and is now enacted into a Law: Yet your Honour was Yesterday pleased to send down to us a Petition, directed to your Honour, by some of the said Inhabitants of Nova Scotia, in Behalf of themselves and others, requesting they may be sent to, or permitted to join, the French Nation; but without intimating what it is you expect from us, or how far you would recommend it to us, to interfere in the Matter. We therefore having made the Provision we conceive necessary for the Relief of those People, return the Petition; but should your Honour think fit to inform us what it is you would recommend to be further done by us thereon, we will take it into our serious Consideration. A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

February 9, 1757. Signed by Order of the House,
ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

The House resumed the Consideration of the Militia Bill; and, after some Time spent in Consideration thereof, together with two different Clauses proposed by two of the Members as Alterations to the said Bill, the same was recommitted to the Committee who brought it in, to be altered and amended, agreeable to the Sentiments of the House thereupon.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the two Messages of Yesterday, and the Bill for rendering the Burden of Quartering Soldi ers more easyon the Public-houses, reported, that they had delivered the same, according to Order. February 10.

In order to give the Committee on the Militia Bill sufficient Time to amend the same,

The House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

A Bill to regulate the Hire of Carriages for his Majesty's Service within this Province, was brought in by the Committee appointed to prepare the same, read the first time, and ordered a second Reading. February 11.

Ordered, That Mr. Pearne and Mr. Grubb wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the House desire to know if he has come to any Result upon the Supply Bill, and the other Bills now before him.

The Committee to whom the Militia Bill was re-committed, reported the same to the House, with the Alterations they had made therein; and the same was read, with the Alterations of the Committee; and, after some Time spent therein, it was, upon the Question being put,

Resolved, That there be four Meetings of the several Companies of Militia, at the Places appointed by their respective Captains, in one Year, besides a general Muster.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Message of the House, report, that they had delivered the same according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to say, that he had the several Bills sent him by the House under his Consideration; but as the Supply Bill was of great Importance, and had been long depending in the House, it required more Time to consider it than had yet been allowed him; that he would however give all of them the utmost Dispatch in his Power.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The House resumed the Consideration of the Bill for forming and regulating the Militia within this Province; and, after some Time spent therein, the same was referred to farther Consideration. February 12.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, sent down to the House the Bill for the further Continuance of an Act of General Assembly of this Province, entituled, "An Act for the "more easy Recovery of Legacies within this Province;" with a Message, that he was ready to pass the same into a Law, whenever the House should present it to him for that Purpose.

The Governor likewise sent down the Supply Bill, with the following Message in Writing, which was read, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

'NO one can be more sensible than I am, of the Necessity of raising immediate Supplies for his Majesty's Service, and the Defence and Preservation of this Colony, at a Time when we may reasonably suppose the Enemy are meditating new Schemes against it. I assure you no Man can be more desirous of faithfully discharging his A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'Duty

1757. February 12.

‘ Duty to his Majeſty, or more ſincerely diſpoſed to promote the Good and Happineſs ‘ of the People of this Province, and to afford them the Protection they ſtand ſo much ‘ in Need of. It is therefore Matter of real Concern to me, to have Occaſion to differ ‘ in Opinion with you on the ſeveral Bills preſented to me for raiſing Money to anſwer ‘ the preſent Exigencies of the Province. I have conſidered the Bill, entituled, “A Sup- ‘ plement to the Act, entituled, An Act for granting the Sum of Sixty Thouſand Pounds ‘ to the King's Uſe, and for ſtriking Fifty-five Thouſand Pounds thereof in Bills of Credit, ‘ and to provide a Fund for ſinking the ſame; and for granting to his Majeſty the additional ‘ Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds, with the ſtricteſt Care and Attention; and, ‘ from the beſt Judgment I can form of it, I conceive I cannot give my Aſſent to it, con- ‘ ſiſtent with the Obligations I am under to the Proprietaries, or the Regard I have for ‘ the true Intereſt of the People committed to my Charge, for the following Reaſons:

‘ Firſt, It is provided by the Bill that Forty-five Thouſand Pounds, Part of the One ‘ Hundred Thouſand Pounds, ſhall be immediately ſtruck in new Bills of Credit, to be ſunk ‘ in four Years, by a Tax on Eſtates, real and perſonal. Nothing is of more Importance ‘ to a Country, than the preſerving the Credit of their Money, which muſt evidently ‘ riſe or fall in its Value, like every other Commodity, in Proportion to its Quantity. ‘ When this Province was in its moſt flouriſhing State, and its Commerce the moſt ex- ‘ tenſive, the Sum of Eighty Thouſand Pounds, in Bills of Credit, was found ſufficient to ‘ anſwer all the Purpoſes of Trade. By Laws lately paſſed Eighty-five Thouſand Pounds ‘ hath already been ſtruck, and added to the former Sum; and although, from the great ‘ Plenty of Government Bills, and other Contingencies, this Addition does not appear to ‘ have greatly affected the Credit of the Money; yet it is as evident, that the Exchange ‘ muſt have been lower, if new Emiſſions had not been made, as that the Striking of more ‘ muſt inevitably raiſe the Price of Exchange, and conſequently depreciate the Currency ‘ of the Province. How injurious this muſt prove to Trade in general, and how ‘ ruinous to the Eſtates of Widows and Orphans, and to the Intereſt of great Numbers ‘ of Individuals, eſpecially if Peace ſhould be reſtored, is obvious to the Underſtanding ‘ of every Man. But theſe are not the only Miſchiefs. It is not improbable that ſuch ‘ large Emiſſions of Paper Money may induce the Parliament, in the End, to deprive us ‘ of the Power of iſſuing Bills of Credit at all. To guard therefore againſt theſe Evils, ‘ other Ways and Means ſhould be fallen upon to raiſe Money on this Occaſion; or if ‘ there ſhould be an abſolute Neceſſity of ſtriking any Quantity for the immediate ‘ Service of the Public, Proviſion ſhould be made by Law to ſink the ſame in a leſs Term ‘ than four Years.

‘ Second, Every Law ought to be explicit and certain, that thoſe who are appointed ‘ to carry it into Execution may know how to conduct themſelves, and adminiſter equal ‘ and impartial Juſtice to every one under it. But it is apparent, that the Act for granting ‘ Sixty Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, &c. to which the Bill now under my Con- ‘ ſideration is a Supplement, is indeterminate and uncertain, in directing a Tax to be ‘ laid yearly on the clear Value of Eſtates, without aſcertaining whether ſuch Tax ſhall ‘ be laid on the yearly Value or Income, or on the Value of the whole Capital. From this ‘ Ambiguity in the Act, great Injuſtice may be done to many of the Inhabitants, ſome ‘ of whom may be obliged to pay a Tax laid on the capital Value of their Eſtates, while ‘ others pay no more than the Tax on the annual Income, according to the different Con- ‘ ſtructions put on the Law by the ſeveral Officers concerned in raiſing the Tax. The ‘ Act appears to me to be defective alſo, in not impowering the reſpective Officers, whoſe ‘ Duty it is to return Liſts of the Nature and Value of each Perſon's Eſtate, to enquire, ‘ either by Oath, or ſome other effectual Means, into the true and real Value of ſuch ‘ Eſtates. It is impoſſible that ſuch Officer can be acquainted with the particular Cir- ‘ cumſtances of every taxable Perſon within his Diſtrict, but he is under the Neceſſity ‘ of applying to the Parties themſelves for Information. The ſtrong Influence Self- ‘ Intereſt is known to have on Mankind in general, may occaſion many to repreſent their ‘ Eſtates to be much leſs than they really are, by which Means the Burden of the Tax ‘ will be laid very unequally on the Inhabitants under that Law.

‘ Third, The Sum propoſed to be granted to his Majeſty by the Bill is to be raiſed by ‘ a Tax on Lands and perſonal Eſtates in the Term of four Years; which is contrary to ‘ the Proprietary Inſtructions, as well as contrary to the Practice, Wiſdom and Policy of ‘ our Mother Country; where it was never known, in Times of the greateſt Extremity, ‘ that Taxes were laid on Lands for a longer Term than one Year. It has been aſſerted, ‘ that it is impoſſible to raiſe that Sum within this Province, in the Space of one Year, ‘ conſiſtent with Proprietary Inſtructions; but as we have had no Experience of ſuch a ‘ Law, I am at a Loſs to know how this Diſcovery has been made. On the contrary, ‘ it appears probable to me, that the Sum may be raiſed in that Time, without laying ‘ any great Hardſhips on the People; and if a Tax on Eſtates, real and perſonal, after ‘ taking proper Meaſures to come at their true yearly Value, be found inſufficient, the Deficiency

1757. February 12

'Deficiency might be supplied, by following the Example of our Neighbours, in taxing 'Luxury, and laying Duties on such Things as may do the least Injury to Trade.

'Fourth, I cannot conceive it just or reasonable, at this Time, to tax unimproved 'Lands, which, instead of rising in their Value, and in that View being considered as 'yielding an annual Profit, every one, who is acquainted with the present Circumstances 'of the Province, must know, have daily declined greatly in their Value, ever since the 'first Incursions of the Enemy on our Frontiers, and are not in Fact worth so much now 'as they were some Years ago.

'Fifth, The Act, to which this Bill is a Supplement, as to the Mode of levying the 'Tax, and the Duty and Powers of the Officers therein concerned, refers to the Act for 'raising County Levies, which I conceive to be unparliamentary; and such Powers and 'Duties, to avoid Confusion and Mistakes, ought to be contained in the Body of the Act 'itself, independent of any other.

'Sixth, The Trustees of the Loan-Office, into whose Hands the Sum of One Hundred 'Thousand Pounds is to be paid, are not directed by the Bill to give any additional Se- 'curity for the true and faithful Discharge of the new Trust to be reposed in them, 'which, in Justice to the Public, they ought to do.

'Seventh, The Act for granting Sixty Thousand Pounds provides, that the Money shall 'be disposed of by the Provincial Commissioners, with the Approbation of the Governor; 'yet the Commissioners alone have a Power to draw Orders on the Trustees, without 'prescribing any Means whereby it may appear that the Governor's Consent has been 'had and obtained, either by his countersigning such Orders, or otherwise.

'Eighth, The Bill, in many other Parts of it, is contrary to the Instructions given 'me by the Proprietaries, as you may perceive on comparing them together. These In- 'structions, I have repeatedly told you, I cannot dispense with; I must therefore exhort 'you not to spend any more Time in framing such Bills as you must be sensible I can- 'not give my Assent to; but to proceed, and consider of such other Ways and Means to 'supply the public Necessities, as may be free from these and the other Objections 'I have so often mentioned to you.

February 16. The Report of the Committee on the Governor's Meſſage, containing his Reaſons for refuſing the laſt Supply Bill, was again read, and conſidered; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, was referred to farther Conſideration.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

February 17. The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor, concerning his propoſed Amendments to the Bill for preventing the Exportation of Proviſions, naval or warlike Stores, to the French, reported the ſame to the Houſe; and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be ſent up to the Governor.

The Houſe reſumed the Conſideration of the Report of the Committee on the Governor's Meſſage, concerning his Refuſal of the laſt Supply Bill; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the ſame was, with ſome Alterations, agreed to by the Houſe, and is as follows, viz.

Report of the Committee on the Governor's Meſſage refuſing his Aſſent to the 100,000 £ Bill.

IN Obedience to the Order of the Houſe, we have conſidered his Honour's Meſſage of Yeſterday, refuſing the Bill for granting One Hundred Thouſand Pounds to his Majeſty's Service; and as it appears to us, that Reaſoning with the Governor can be of no poſſible Uſe, ſince, though the Houſe ſhould convince his Judgment, they cannot change his Inſtructions, and by thoſe he is determined invariably to adhere; we have choſen to throw our Remarks into the Form of a Report to the Houſe, rather than that of a Meſſage to his Honour. Not that we have any Thing to offer which the Houſe is not already fully apprized of; but ſince the Meſſage is probably intended to be read where the Motives on which the Houſe have acted may not ſo well be known, it ſeems convenient they ſhould at leaſt be found on our Minutes, that all may judge of them, who are any way concerned in the Conſequences.

We would therefore obſerve in general, that the Governor having before refuſed two Bills, one for granting Sixty Thouſand Pounds, the other for granting One Hundred Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, for various Reaſons unſatisfactory to the Aſſembly, the Houſe, ſincerely deſirous to make an effectual Grant, choſe to form the Bill in Queſtion on the Plan of the Sixty Thouſand Pound Act, paſſed by the late Governor, which, after a ſolemn Hearing before the Board of Trade in February laſt, had received the Royal Aſſent. By this Means they hoped to avoid all Objections and Difficulties, eſpecially as the Proprietaries were not by the Bill to be taxed. The Bill is a Supplement to the laſt mentioned Sixty Thouſand Pound Act, and in raiſing and diſpoſing of the Hundred Thouſand Pounds granted, the ſame Modes are to be purſued as by that Act are directed. But unfortunately the Governor, we find, is diſſatisfied with that Act alſo, and moſt of his Objections are levelled againſt it.

As to the Governor's firſt Reaſon, viz. The Danger of depreciating our Currency, if Forty-five Thouſand Pounds ſhould be ſtruck in Addition to it, to be ſunk in four Years, we may obſerve, that the Governor is allowed by the twelfth Article of his Inſtructions to re-emit the Eighty Thouſand Pounds, now current among us, with the Addition of Forty Thouſand Pounds more, for ſixteen Years, without any Proviſion againſt the Injuries the Eſtates of the Widows and Orphans might ſuſtain thereby, or any great Solicitude for the Riſe of Exchange upon Bills, provided the Proprietaries Quitrents are ſecured, by being made payable according to the Exchange between the Cities of Philadelphia and London, and that they have the Diſpoſal of the Intereſt Money, as directed by this and the eleventh Inſtruction, which muſt be ſtrictly complied with; on theſe Terms then, it ſeems, there is no Danger of depreciating the Money by an Addition of Forty Thouſand Pounds, though no Part of that Sum, or the Eighty Thouſand Pounds, were to be ſunk in many Years to come. We would further obſerve, that in the Times mentioned by the Governor, when we had but Eighty Thouſand Pounds current in Bills of Credit, there was current in the Province at leaſt Four Hundred Thouſand Pounds of Gold and Silver, moſt of which, with what has been yearly imported, is ſince drawn out of the Province for Payment of the Army at New-York and Halifax, and for Payment of our Debts to the Merchants in England; ſo that a Piece of Gold is now rarely received in Payment. In the mean Time, the Produce of the Province, and its People, ſince that Eighty Thouſand Pounds was firſt made current, are very greatly increaſed, and conſequently the Demand for a Medium of Exchange increaſed. The late Emiſſions have not in the leaſt depreciated our Money, for Bills were ſometimes higher when we had only Eighty Thouſand Pounds current, than they have been at any Time ſince the new Emiſſions. And if thoſe Emiſſions have, as the Governor ſuppoſes, prevented the Fall of Exchange, they have ſo far been of Advantage to his Majeſty's Service, as the Government Bills have thereby fetched a better Price. In the laſt War, we remember, the Crown loſt vaſt Sums by the Fall of Exchange in America, occaſioned by a Scarcity of Money, joined with a Plenty of Bills; and ſome who bought them up, when they 1757. February 17.

they had fallen from 165£ to 125£ Currency for One Hundred Pounds Sterling, may likewise remember, that they thereby made proportionable Profits. They may possibly desire now to have a like Opportunity. The Money pretended to be given to the Province, but unjustly withheld, is perhaps designed, with the late collected Quitrents, to purchase Bills when they shall be sold at the expected low Rate a Scarcity of Money may reduce them to; but we think his Majesty's Service is to be preferred to the private Advantage of the Proprietary, and a few of his Friends that trade in Exchanges. The House, however, would as carefully as possible guard against any Depreciation of the Currency. They therefore proposed to strike only Forty-five Thousand Pounds of the Hundred Thousand Pounds granted, and that to be sunk in four Years, one Fourth Part in each Year. Nor would they have chosen to strike any Bills at all, if Taxes of any Kind could possibly produce Money soon enough to answer the present Emergencies of the Government. If a Depreciation should happen, they are sensible they must suffer with others, and some of them more than many others: But when they considered, that within the present Year the following Sums are to be sunk and destroyed, viz.

Of the 80,000£ one sixth Part, or	£ 13,333	6	8
Of the 55,000£ one fourth Part, or	13,750	0	0
Of the 30,000£ one tenth Part, or	3,000	0	0
And if this Bill for 45,000£ had passed, one fourth Part of that likewise,	11,250	0	0
In all	£ 41,333	6	8

they could not conceive there was the least Danger of a Depreciation, especially as more Soldiers were daily raising and arriving, and ten new Regiments are expected from England, which must necessarily occasion a still greater Plenty of Bills of Exchange, to be sold on Behalf of the Government. If the War should continue, they judged therefore that the Exchange could not rise; and though Peace should be suddenly restored, yet the necessary Sinking of all our Eighty Thousand Pounds Loan-Money, all the Fifty-five Thousand Pounds, great Part of the Thirty Thousand Pounds, and all the proposed Forty-five Thousand Pounds, in the Terms of four, and at fartheſt six Years, would certainly prevent a Depreciation; therefore, in either Case, the Adding Forty-five Thousand Pounds only to our present Currency could not injure the Estates of Widows, Orphans, or any others. We are indeed surprised to find it so much as suggested, that striking a Sum for the Defence of the Province, and his Majesty's Service, to be sunk in four Years, may subject us to the Displeasure of Parliament; when it is so well known, that the Act of Parliament, made expressly to restrain the four New-England Colonies, in the Affair of Paper Money, allows even those Colonies to strike any Sum they may find necessary for that Purpose, if they provide Funds to sink it in five Years: And the Lords of Trade gave it as one Reason for allowing our late Act to strike Fifty-five Thousand Pounds, "that we had provided to sink "it in so short a Term as four Years." This proposed stricter Restraint, in a Time of such imminent Danger, appears to us, therefore, not only to be unreasonable in itself, but to be founded on no Law, Opinion, or Instruction whatever from our Mother Country.

On the Governor's second Reason, to wit, The Uncertainty of the Act to which this Bill is a Supplement, in the Mode directed for laying the Tax, and its Defect, in not obliging People to give an Account of their Estates upon Oath, &c. we shall only remark, that the Mode directed by that Act, is the same that has ever been used in this Province, and is what the Commissioners and Assessors are accustomed to, and well understand. The Injustice supposed, has not taken Place in the Execution of it; no one has complained of, or so much as apprehends such Injustice. The Assessors are upon Oath to tax all equally and justly; which they could not do, if they laid, as the Governor supposes they may, the Six-pence per Pound on the capital Value of some Estates, and on the annual Income only of others. Defects there may possibly be in this Bill, and even to us there appears a very considerable one, to wit, that the Proprietary Estate is not taxed; but this we cannot amend if we would; others, when found, a subsequent Act may remedy. A perfectly equal Tax never yet was, nor perhaps ever will be laid in any Country by any Law: But in no Country, that we know of, are People put to their Oaths to make them confess and declare the full and true Value of their Estates. It is inconsistent with the Laws of the English Constitution, might be ruinous to some who at present live in good Credit, impracticable to others who do not keep clear Accounts, and inconvenient to all. The Officers are therefore to make the best Returns that they can, by Enquiry or otherwise, obtain, and the Assessors the best Judgment they can on those Returns. By this Bill the People may possibly be taxed unequally, with regard to their Estates; but by the Excise Act they must certainly be so; yet to the Excise Act the Governor has given his Assent, without the least Objection on Account of such Inequality, and even recommends further Excises in the Message under Consideration.

The Governor's third Objection is, That a Tax for four Years on Lands or personal Estates, "is contrary to the Proprietary Instructions," which say, that he SHALL NOT give 1757. February 17. give his Aſſent to any Act laying ſuch a Tax for more than one Year. It is true the Inſtructions ſay that and more; they ſay the Governor SHALL NOT paſs any Act to tax the Proprietary Quitrents, nor their located unimproved Lands, nor the Fines or Purchaſe Monies they have at Intereſt, which together make the Bulk of their Eſtate; nor ſhall he paſs an Act to tax the located unimproved Lands of any other Perſon; nor to tax the Value of any other Eſtate, but the Rent or Intereſt of the Value only, and that at the low Rate of Three per Centum per Annum; nor on that Intereſt of Three per Cent. more than Four Shillings in the Pound. So that whatever the Neceſſities and Diſtreſs of the Province may be to raiſe Money for its Defence, their vaſt Eſtate in Quitrents, Money at Intereſt, and located unimproved Lands, are to be exempted, and ſhall not pay a Penny; and not only ſo, but the People themſelves ſhall be hampered with new Reſtraints, and forbid to grant his Majeſty what they find the preſent State of his Service, and the imminent Danger to the Colony, abſolutely call for. If we may not lay a Tax for more than one Year, we can grant no more than one Year's Tax will produce. If this be indeed the Practice, Wiſdom and Policy of our Mother Country, whence aroſe its Debt of Eighty Millions? A Debt greater than all their Taxes can pay in many Years, though, being rich, while we are poor, and juſt beginning to live, they have much more to tax than we have. Four Shillings in the Pound, on Three per Cent. will produce only the Hundred and Sixty-ſixth Penny of the full Value of any Eſtate. Suppoſe Four Shillings in the Pound on Five per Cent. which is the Hundredth Penny, ſhould be found abſolutely neceſſary to ſecure the Province from his Majeſty's Enemies; or ſuppoſe even the Fiftieth Penny neceſſary; muſt the Country be deſtroyed, and the Whole be loſt, rather than theſe Inſtructions be departed from? So it ſeems. For "the Governor's "Honour and Intereſt may ſuffer if he breaks them." Thus, by the Proprietaries ſhackling their Governor with Inſtructions and penal Bonds, and not allowing him to uſe his own Judgment, or the Advice of his Aſſembly, on the moſt important Occaſions, the People may be deprived of one of the moſt valuable Ends of Government, Protection, and the King's Province expoſed to Deſtruction.

The Governor, by his Eſtimate laid before the Houſe, required One Hundred and Twenty-ſeven Thouſand Pounds, as neceſſary for the Service of the current Year. Let us endeavour to compute, by the beſt Lights we have, how much of this a Tax, laid conformable to the Proprietary Inſtructions, can poſſibly produce. All their Eſtate, except a Trifle, and all located unimproved Lands, to whomſoever belonging, are to be exempted. There remains then to be taxed, only the improved Lands, Houſes and perſonal Eſtates of the People. Now it is well known, from the Tax-Books, that there are not in the Province more than 20,000 Houſes, including thoſe of the Towns, with thoſe on Plantations. If theſe, with the improved Land annexed to them, and the perſonal Eſtate of thoſe that inhabit them, are worth, one with another, Two Hundred and Fifty Pounds each, it may, we think, be reckoned their full Value; then multiply 20,000, the Number of Houſes, by 250 £ the Value of each Eſtate, and the Produce is 5,000,000 £ for the full Value of all our Eſtates, real and perſonal, the unimproved Lands excepted. Now Three per Cent. on Five Millions, is but One Hundred and Fifty Thouſand Pounds; and Four Shillings in the Pound on One Hundred and Fifty Thouſand Pounds, being but a fifth Part, is no more than Thirty Thouſand Pounds: So that we ought to have near Seventeen Millions, to produce, by ſuch a Tax, One Hundred Thouſand Pounds. If it be aſked, how then we propoſed to raiſe One Hundred Thouſand Pounds in one Year by the Bill the Governor lately refuſed, it may be anſwered, That the Proprietary Eſtate was by that Bill to be taxed; and all located unimproved Lands were to be taxed; Polls were to be taxed; and the Produce of all Offices, Trades and Employments were to be taxed, according to the uſual Method of aſſeſſing them under the County Rate and Levy Act; and yet, with all theſe Helps, we were ſure the Country muſt have been greatly diſtreſſed by that Tax, and that it would hardly have been poſſible to raiſe it within the Year. How then ſhall we make up the Deficiency, when the Tax we are allowed to lay can produce no more than Thirty Thouſand Pounds? The Governor is pleaſed to ſay, "by following "the Example of our Neighbours in taxing Luxury, and laying Duties on ſuch Things "as may do the leaſt Injury to Trade." Some of our Neighbours have indeed tried this Method; and what does it produce? The whole Produce of the Tax on the Luxuries of New-York, including the Duties on Wine, Rum, Brandy, and other diſtilled Liquors, Negroes, Cocoa and Dry Goods, from September 1, 1755, to September 1, 1756, amounts to no more, as appears by their Votes now before us, than Three Thouſand Two Hundred and Four Pounds Nineteen Shillings and Two-pence; though that is an older Colony, and inhabited by People generally richer than ours, and almoſt all the Gold and Silver of the neighbouring Colonies has, within that Term, centered there, to ſupport the Troops. Our chief Luxury, if it may be called a Luxury, is Rum, and that, with Wine, &c. is already taxed, and the Tax mortgaged for ten Years to come. This Colony is more remarkable for Induſtry and Frugality than for Luxury; and 'tis doubted whether, if all our Luxuries were aboliſhed, and the full Price of them paid to the Treaſury, it would produce any considerable Sum; much less must be produced by any Excise or Tax on them that they can bear. We may indeed create some new Offices and Officers, and embarrass Trade, or drive it from our Ports, but little Advantage can we expect to arise from such Taxes to the Public.

conſiderable

On the Governor's fourth Reason, we shall only remark, that unimproved Lands near the Frontiers may indeed be diminished in Value, yet those within the Settlements must rise as the Inhabitants retire inward from the Enemy. The high Price those Lands are, and have been, kept at, has forced out of our Country ten times more of our People than have been driven away by the Enemy, and thereby greatly weakened the Colony. The Monopolizing Lands, therefore, to lie uncultivated for a Market, is a public Injury; and besides that such Lands can well afford it, they ought to be well taxed to oblige the Owners to sell out, for the Public Utility. But the Tax laid on them by the Bill is vastly too low, the Valuation being confined between Five and Fifteen Pounds per Hundred Acres, when some of those Lands, being the first and choicest Pickings of every Indian Purchase, will actually now sell for near Three Hundred Pounds per Hundred, the War notwithstanding. And though those near the Frontier may be diminished in Value, they are however still of considerable Value, and whatever that is, they should be taxed for it. The Assessors will duly consider such Diminution of Value wherever they find it, and all other Land of the same Kind that holds its Price, should certainly not be exempted for the diminished Value of a Part only. 'Tis kind, however, in the Proprietaries to favour their Wholesale Chapmen, and encourage the Trade, by endeavouring to screen, with their own, the Purchases of their Favourites.

The Governor's fifth Reason against passing the Bill is, that the Act, to which it is a Supplement, refers to the Act for raising County Rates and Levies, and he conceives it unparliamentary for one Act to refer to another; but all the necessary Powers and Duties should be contained in the Body of the Act, independent of any other.——Were it unparliamentary, as the Governor says, yet the Act he objects to has received the Royal Approbation, and is executed without the Inconvenience supposed, having been long in Use, and well understood by the Officers. It is but a few Weeks since the Governor himself was pleased to pass an Act for extending hither great Part of an Act of Parliament, by referring to the Clauses only, without requiring them to be inserted in the Bill: And we conceive it far from being unparliamentary, as there are many Instances of one Act of Parliament referring to another.——But there being no Instruction in that Case, the Governor had then no Occasion for the Use of this Objection.

On the sixth Reason, we must observe, that to make it appear something stronger, it is said, the whole Sum of One Hundred Thousand Pounds is to be paid into the Hands of the Trustees; whereas the Bill directs only Forty-five Thousand Pounds of it to come into their Hands, and that either before it is properly Money, being but printed Paper, unsigned, or when it ceases to be Money, and is only to be burnt and destroyed.—And as it would probably be drawn out of their Hands almost as fast as it could be signed, no farther Security than they are under for the Eighty Thousand Pounds, by the Eighty Thousand Pound Act, was thought necessary. Fifty-five Thousand Pounds of the One Hundred Thousand Pounds never goes into the Trustees Hands at all, but is to be paid to the Treasurer as it arises from the Taxes, and by him issued in Discharge of the Commissioners Orders for the King's Service:—— The Treasurer therefore is to give an additional Security by the Bill. When the Forty-five Thousand Pounds comes to be sunk, the Trustees can never have much of it in their Hands at a time, as a fourth Part of it is to be yearly sunk and destroyed. And the Securities they are already under were deemed fully sufficient, especially as great Part of the Money now under their Direction will be sunk before that comes to their Hands.

The Governor's seventh Objection is likewise against the Act that has been confirmed at Home; we shall therefore only mention what we are informed was the Practice on that Act. The former Governor did at first counter-sign some Orders, but found the Practice too troublesome to be continued. The Mode has since been, for the Governor and Commissioners to agree on the Service for which Money is necessary; then the most considerable Contracts are laid before him for his Approbation, and those Agreements and Approbations are entered on the Minutes. The Commissioners afterwards only settle Accounts, which is troublesome enough, and give Orders for the Payment, in Pursuance of such previous Agreements and Contracts. They would be glad if the Governor could be present at every Meeting of the Board, and assist in transacting the Business; but it would take up too much of his Time, and is therefore impracticable. And it would be useless to give him the Trouble of signing Orders, if he cannot spare Time to examine the Accounts on which the Orders are founded; especially as two of his Council have always been two of the Commissioners; and no Governor has complained that they have drawn Orders for improper Services.

What are the many other Parts of the Bill which are contrary to the Instructions, his Honour has not been pleased to specify, nor is it material, since, if every one of those Instructions is not observed, the Bill cannot be passed. In fine, as this necessary Bill is 1757. February 17. exactly conformable to the Act ſo lately allowed by the Crown, and which is now in Practice, without the Inconveniencies objected; the Want of Compliance with thoſe Proprietary Inſtructions appears to your Committee the true and ſole Reaſon of its not paſſing. The other Reaſons, as we conceive, are only introduced to ſave That the Shame of ſtanding alone, and on Examination appear to be not ſo much Reaſons as Excuſes. And we cannot but regret the Situation of a Governor who finds himſelf under the Neceſſity of making them, and pity the Counſellors who muſt approve of them. But much more are we the unhappy People of Pennſylvania to be pitied, who muſt periſh by the Hand of the Enemy, or comply with Inſtructions, or rather Laws, made for us by ill-informed Proprietaries, at a Thouſand Leagues Diſtance; Laws unſuitable to our Circumſtances, impracticable in their Nature, or, if practicable, ineffectual.

Submitted by the Committee to the Correction of the Houſe."

The Houſe being informed that the Right Honourable the Earl of LOUDOUN was ſoon expected in this City, Ordered, That Mr. Leech, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Galloway and Mr. Maſters be a Committee to prepare a Draught of a congratulatory Addreſs to his Lordſhip, to be preſented him upon his Arrival.

Adjournment February 18. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

A Petition from the Juſtices, Grand Jury, Commiſſioners and Aſſeſſors of the County of York, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that near two Townſhips, and many other ſmall Tracts of the beſt Land in the ſaid County, are held under the Proprietary of the Province of Maryland, and therefore the Inhabitants of theſe Lands are not liable to pay Taxes, or other public Dues for the Support of this Government, neither do they (as they inform the Petitioners) pay to the Province of Maryland, under whoſe Juriſdiction they are, or ought to be, by the Royal Order; that the Situation of theſe Lands being chiefly from five to fifteen or twenty Miles and upwards North of the temporary Line, and conſequently ſeparated from Maryland by Lands held under our Proprietaries, the Petitioners apprehend to be the Reaſon why the Inhabitants of the ſaid Lands are not called upon for public Dues by the Officers of Maryland; that as many of the Inhabitants of the ſaid Lands as have convenient Situations, and are in ſuitable Circumſtances, do diſtil great Quantities of Spirits, and keep Public-houſes, and neither have Licence from, nor pay Exciſe to, either of the Provinces; that ſome of them entertain the Servants and Hirelings of their Neighbours on Sabbath-Days, and harbour and conceal many of ſuch of the Inhabitants of this Province as get in Debt, or commit any Crimes cognizable before the Court in ſaid County, to the manifeſt Injury of the Public, and of Numbers of the Inhabitants of this Province; that nevertheleſs, the Perſons reſiding on ſaid Lands ſue for, and recover, their Debts amongſt the Petitioners, and enjoy all the other Privileges of Government with thoſe who contribute towards the Support thereof; the Petitioners therefore pray, that this Houſe will conſider the Premiſes, and grant ſuch Remedy as ſhall ſeem expedient.

Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Meſſage to the Governor being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. WE have conſidered your propoſed Amendments to the Bill, entituled, An Act to prevent the Exportation of Proviſions, naval or warlike Stores, from this Province to any of the Dominions of the French King, or to any Port or Place in America, not in the Poſſeſſion of his Britannic Majeſty; all of which we have agreed to, ſave thoſe which reſtrain the Merchants of this Province from trading to the neutral Ports, or Places not in the Poſſeſſion of his Majeſty's Enemies in Europe. This we were induced to do, not from a Conviction that they were neceſſary, or founded on the former Uſage in our Laws, but from an Inclination to convince your Honour we ſincerely deſire the Paſſage of a Bill ſo neceſſary, under our preſent Circumſtances, for our own Preſervation, and to diſtreſs his Majeſty's Enemies. But as the Amendments propoſed by your Honour for laying an Embargo generally on Proviſions intended to be exported to any of the neutral Ports in Europe, as well as America, if acceded to, will effectually prevent the Commerce carried on with ſeveral of the neutral Ports in Europe, without which our Trade muſt be in a Manner deſtroyed, we cannot admit of them in the Bill.

The Inconveniency ſuch Amendments would introduce, we conclude, muſt appear to your Honour on further Conſideration. They will effectually diſable the Merchant from purchaſing or importing Wines from the Madeiras and Weſtern Iſlands. This, if no other Diſadvantage ſhould attend it, will in a great Meaſure deſtroy a Fund, upon which a conſiderable Supply, already granted to his Majeſty by the Exciſe Act, is founded, and by that Means prevent the Sinking of the Paper Bills of Credit, which have been ſtruck for that Purpoſe, and are now current. No Proviſions can be exported from hence to Liſbon or Cadiz, without which we cannot procure the Salt that is abſolutely neceſſary for the Use of his Majesty's Troops, and his other Subjects in this Colony. The Inconveniency that must necessarily arise from the Want of this Commodity, in the hot Season of the Year, is more easy to conceive than express. And without Salt, it will be impossible for the Merchant here to supply his Majesty's West-India Colonies with Beef and Pork, upon which they in a great Measure depend for Subsistence. We therefore hope the Governor will not insist on Amendments which must be attended with such Disadvantages to our Trade, and Mischief to the Community in general, as there is no Probability of its proving detrimental to his Majesty's Service, or injurious to the Public Welfare. 1757. February 18.

We conceive these Amendments were made by your Honour, in Pursuance of the Instruction from the Lords Commissioners for Trade and Plantations, lately laid before the House, and in Part recited in the Message that accompanied it. We duly weighed the Intent of that Instruction at the Time of framing the Bill, which we thought, and still think, was calculated in the fullest Manner to remedy the Mischief complained of; and that was, as appears by the Preamble of the Instruction; "The Colonies of the French "in America having, in Times of War, been frequently supplied with Provisions of "various Kinds, by Means of the Trade carried on from his Majesty's Islands and Co-"lonies to the Colonies and Settlements belonging to the Dutch and other Neutral "Powers." Hence it appears, that the Design of the Instruction was to prevent a Trade to these Settlements of the Dutch, and other Neutral Powers, from whence his Majesty's Enemies in America were supplied. And it is well known, that those Enemies have never been supplied with Provisions raised in the British Colonies from any other Neutral Ports but those in America. No other Inconveniency is complained of, or was ever experienced, and therefore needed not to be redressed. For this an adequate Remedy is provided by the Bill, which prohibits, under severe Penalties, the Exportation of Provisions from this Province to any Port or Place in America, not in the Possession of his Britannic Majesty. We conceive any Thing more than a Remedy for the Evil complained of ought not to be expected from us; and to prevent our Merchants from trading to Places in Europe, from whence it is not reasonable to expect the French Colonies or Settlements will be supplied, is embarrassing our Trade, and injuring our Commerce, without the least Advantage accruing from it, either to his Majesty's Service, or the Good of the Province.

We cannot omit observing the Difference between the Instruction your Honour was pleased to lay before us, in the early Part of this Session, given and signed by our most gracious Sovereign, and the one now under our Consideration. The former appears, from all its Parts, to have come from a gracious and good King, a Father of his People, and bespeaks a Consciousness of the Impossibility there is of forming a true Judgment of the particular Situation and Necessities of his Colonies, at so great a Distance from them: To whom, after pointing out the Mischiefs, he has left the Care of redressing them in the Manner most effectual and suitable to the several Circumstances of his Subjects, by Laws to be framed by the Legislature on the Spot, who he rationally concludes are the best Judges thereof. But how different is the latter! It not only points out the Evil, but the Mode of redressing it in all its Particulars, and enjoins an immediate and explicit Obedience to it. So that however impracticable the Remedy, however inconvenient to his Majesty's Service, or inconsistent with the Trade, Commerce and public Utility of the Province, one would conclude it must be complied with. But should your Honour separately, or jointly with us, adhere to it literally, what might be the unhappy Consequences, when your Honour is required thereby, to lay an Embargo "on all Vessels clearing out with Provisions, except those which shall be employed in "carrying Provisions to any other of his Majesty's Colonies and Plantations?" The Kingdoms of Great-Britain and Ireland, cannot with Propriety be comprized under the Denomination of Colonies or Plantations; and consequently the Effects of the Embargo would extend to them. And therefore, notwithstanding their last Harvest has failed, and there is at present a Prospect of great Scarcity of Provisions in those Places, yet it would not be in the Power of the People of this his Majesty's Colony to relieve or succour its Mother Country, let her Necessities and Distress be ever so great. But, indeed, there cannot be a more pregnant Instance of the Absurdity of giving particular Instructions, relative to the making of Laws, to Legislatures, which are so distant as we are from our Mother Country. And this will ever be the Case, where either Misinformation, or Want of Information, must render such particular Instructions improper to be observed, unsuitable to the real Circumstances of the Colony, and often, as in the present Case, not only inconsistent with the Trade and Commerce of the Province, but repugnant to the general Advantage and Utility of the Nation.

We have endeavoured to form the Bill in such Manner as will effectually prevent the Supplying his Majesty's Enemies with Provisions or warlike Stores from this Province, which was the sole Intent of the Instruction; and therefore we hope your Honour, upon further Reflection, will withdraw the Amendments which would extend the Effects of 1757. February 18. the Embargo to the Neutral Ports in Europe, as they can only tend to deſtroy the Trade of this Port, and diſtreſs his Majeſty's Subjects, without contributing any Thing to his Majeſty's Service."

And the Meſſage being ſigned by Mr. Speaker, by Order of the Houſe,

Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. Yorke wait upon the Governor, and deliver the ſame, together with the Bill for prohibiting the Exportation of Proviſions, naval or warlike Stores from this Province to any of the Dominions of the French King, or to any Port or Place in America, not in the Poſſeſſion of the Subjects of his Britannic Majeſty: And further, that they deliver the Supply Bill to the Governor, and acquaint him, "That upon receiving his Honour's Meſſage of the Twelfth Inſtant, ſent down "with our laſt Supply Bill, the Committee to whom that Meſſage was referred have "reported fully upon all the Objections againſt that Bill, which, after mature Deliberation, the Houſe have approved, and find thoſe Objections are rather Excuſes for not "paſſing the Bill, than Reaſons againſt it: That the Bill itſelf is only a Supplement to "an Act, which, after a full Hearing before the Lords of Trade, has very lately received the Royal Aſſent; and we confined ourſelves to that Act, with as few Alterations as poſſible, apprehending the Bill would be free from all Objections under the "Royal Sanction ſo lately obtained: —— That by the Eſtimate the Governor laid before us this Seſſion, he computes the Sum of One Hundred and Twenty-ſeven Thouſand Pounds as neceſſary to be raiſed for the Defence of the Province in the enſuing "Year; and yet, upon the moſt exact Computation we have been able to make, no more than Thirty Thouſand Pounds could be raiſed upon the Province in one Year by his reſtricted Powers, and not one Third of his propoſed Eſtimate, by the Addition of all "the other Meaſures he has propoſed, if the Houſe were ſo inſenſible of the Duty they "owe their Conſtituents, as to take their Money-Laws from him only: —That therefore we deſire to know his final Reſult upon this Bill, which we once more ſend up "for his Concurrence; and if he ſhould notwithſtanding continue to refuſe his Aſſent "to it as it now ſtands, we muſt refer it to his Honour to pay the Forces by him raiſed, "or to diſband them, as he ſhall judge he can beſt anſwer for his Conduct to his Majeſty, whoſe Colony we apprehend to be in imminent Danger, and for the Defence "whereof we have in vain endeavoured to make the neceſſary Proviſion as far as lay in "our Power."

The Committee appointed to prepare a Draught of a congratulatory Addreſs to Lord Loudoun, reported the ſame to the Houſe, and it was read, agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed, that it may be preſented to his Lordſhip upon his Arrival.

Upon Motion made,

Reſolved, That William Franklin have Leave to reſign his Office of Clerk to this Houſe, that he may accompany his Father, appointed one of the Commiſſioners to negotiate our Affairs in England; and that another Perſon be choſen to ſerve as Clerk, during the Abſence of the ſaid Franklin.

A Petition from Thomas Moore, of the City of Philadelphia, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that the Petitioner underſtanding that the preſent Clerk of this Houſe is about to embark for England; he therefore prays that he may be appointed to that Office.

And the ſaid Petition being again read, and conſidered, it was, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Reſolved, That Thomas Moore be Clerk to this Houſe, for the remaining Part of the current Year.

The Addreſs to Lord Loudoun being tranſcribed, was again read, and is as follows, viz.

To his Excellency the Right Honourable JOHN Earl of LOUDOUN, Commander in Chief of all His Majeſty's Forces in North-America.

May it pleaſe your LORDSHIP,

Aſſembly's Addreſs to Lord Loudoun.

WITH unfeigned Sincerity permit us to congratulate your Lordſhip on your ſafe Arrival in America, and in particular to this Province.

We eſteem it a remarkable Inſtance of his Majeſty's Royal Care and Paternal Regard for his Subjects in America, that he has been pleaſed to commiſſionate a Peer of his Realm, who has given the moſt demonſtrative Proofs of his firm Attachment to his Royal Perſon and Family, and who has nothing more at Heart, than the Glory of his Sovereign's Arms, the Support of his Royal Houſe, and the common Intereſt of his Kingdoms and People, to conduct his Forces, to fight his Battles, and protect his loyal and faithful Subjects in theſe Colonies, from the inſidious Attempts of the moſt perfidious and mercileſs Enemies.

It is with Pleaſure we reflect, that your Lordſhip's approved Skill in military Affairs, known Secrecy in Council, and experienced Valour in the Field, afford us a Proſpect of Succeſs in your glorious Undertakings.

The

The noble, loyal and vigorous Part your Lordship acted during the whole Course of the last Rebellion in North-Britain, is a pleasing Presage to us that his Majesty's Arms in America may, under God, be crowned with Victories, and his Colonies restored to the happy State of Peace and Tranquillity, through your Lordship's Prudence, Activity and Conduct. 1757. February 18.

May the same Almighty Providence, which hath hitherto prospered your Endeavours in Behalf of your Country, watch over your noble Person, attend and protect you in the Day of Battle, and crown with Honour and Success all your Attempts for his Majesty's Service, and the Good of his People."

And the Address being signed by Mr. Speaker, by Order of the House,

Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Leech, Mr. Roberdeau, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Baynton, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Masters, Mr. West and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to wait upon his Excellency, Lord Loudoun, upon his Arrival to this City, and present the said Address.

The Bill for the further Continuance of the Act relating to Legacies, being engrossed, was read, and compared at the Table.

Then the House adjourned to Monday next, at Five o'Clock in the Afternoon. Adjournment Ordered, That the Clerk make out a Copy of the said Report, in order to be sent up to the Governor.

time, follows in these Words, viz.

IN Obedience to the Order of the House, we have drawn up the Heads of the most important Aggrievances that occur to us, which the People of this Province with great Difficulty labour under; the many Infractions of the Constitution, in manifest Violation of the Royal Grant, the Proprietary Charters, the Laws of this Province, and of the Laws, Usages and Customs of our Mother Country, and other Matters, which we apprehend call aloud for Redress. They are as follow: Report of the Committee of Grievances.

First, By the Royal Charter, which has ever been, ought to be, and truly is, the principal and invariable Fundamental of this Constitution, King CHARLES the Second did give and grant unto William Penn, his Heirs and Assigns, the Province of Pennsylvania; and also to him and his Heirs, and his or their Deputies or Lieutenants, free, full and absolute Power, for the good and happy Government thereof, to make and enact any Laws, according to their best Discretion, by and with the Advice, Assent and Approbation of the Freemen of the said Country, or of their Delegates or Deputies, for the Raising of Money, or any other End appertaining to the Public State, Peace or Safety of the said Country. By the Words of this Grant it is evident, that full Powers were granted to the Deputies and Lieutenants of William Penn, and his Heirs, to concur with the People in framing Laws for their Protection, and the Safety of the Province, according to their "best Discretion," independent of any Instructions or Directions they should receive from their Principals. And it is equally obvious to your Committee, that the People of this Province, and their Representatives, were interested in this Royal Grant, and, by Virtue thereof, have an original Right of Legislation inherent in them, which neither the Proprietaries, nor any other Person whatsoever, can divest them of, restrain or abridge, without manifestly violating and destroying the Letter, Spirit and Design of this Grant.

Nevertheless, we unfortunately find, that the Proprietaries of this Province, regardless of this sacred Fundamental of all our Rights and Liberties, have so abridged and restricted their late and present Governor's Discretion in Matters of Legislation, by their illegal, impracticable and unconstitutional Instructions and Prohibitions, that no Bill, for granting Aids and Supplies to our most gracious Sovereign, be it ever so reasonable, expedient and necessary, for the Defence of this his Majesty's Colony, and Safety of his People, unless it be agreeable thereto, can meet with his Approbation; by Means whereof the many considerable Sums of Money which have been offered for those Purposes by the Assemblies of this Province, ever anxious to maintain his Honour and Rights, have 1757. February 23. been rejected, to the great Encouragement of his Majeſty's Enemies, and the imminent Danger of the Loſs of this his Colony.

Secondly, The Repreſentatives of the People in General Aſſembly met, by Virtue of the ſaid Royal Grant, and the Charter of Privileges, granted by the ſaid William Penn, and a Law of this Province, have Right to, and ought to enjoy, all the Powers and Privileges of an Aſſembly, according to the Rights of the Freeborn Subjects of England, and as is uſual in any of the Plantations in America; that it is an indubitable, and now an inconteſted Right of the Commons of England, to grant Aids and Supplies to his Majeſty in any Manner they think moſt eaſy to themſelves and the People; and that they are the ſole Judges of the Meaſure, Manner and Time of granting and raiſing the ſame.

Nevertheleſs, the Proprietaries of this Province, in Contempt of the ſaid Royal Grant, Proprietary Charter, and Law of this Colony, deſigning to ſubvert the Fundamentals of this Conſtitution, to deprive the Aſſembly and People of their Rights and Privileges, and to aſſume an arbitrary and tyrannical Power over the Liberties and Properties of his Majeſty's Liege Subjects, have ſo reſtrained their Governors by their deſpotic Inſtructions, which are not to be varied from, and are particularly directory in the framing and paſſing of Money-Bills and Supplies to his Majeſty, as to the Mode, Meaſure and Time, that it is impoſſible for the Aſſembly, ſhould they loſe all Senſe of their moſt eſſential Rights, and comply with theſe Inſtructions, to grant ſufficient Aids for the Defence of this his Majeſty's Province from the common Enemy.

Thirdly, In Purſuance of ſundry Acts of General Aſſembly, approved of by the Crown, a natural Right, inherent in every Man, antecedent to all Laws, the Aſſemblies of this Province have had the Power of diſpoſing of the public Monies that have been raiſed for the Encouragement of Trade, and Support of Government, by the Intereſt-Money ariſing by the Loan of the Bills of Credit, and the Exciſe. No Part of theſe Monies was ever paid by the Proprietaries, or ever raiſed on their Eſtates; and therefore, they can have no Pretence of Right to a Voice in the Diſpoſition of them. They have ever been applied with prudent Frugality, for the Honour and Advantage of the Public, and the King's immediate Service, to the general Approbation of the People. The Credit of the Government has been preſerved, and the Debts of the Public punctually diſcharged. In ſhort, no Inconveniencies, but great, and many, Advantages have accrued from the Aſſembly's prudent Care and Management of theſe Funds.

Yet the Proprietaries, reſolved to deprive the Aſſemblies of the Power and Means of ſupporting an Agent in England, and of proſecuting their Complaints, and remonſtrancing their Aggrievances, when injured or oppreſſed, to his Majeſty and his Parliaments, and to rob them of this natural Right, which has been ſo often approved of by their gracious Sovereign, have, by their ſaid Inſtructions, prohibited their Governor from giving his Aſſent to any Laws for emitting or re-emitting any Paper Currency or Bills of Credit, or for raiſing Money by Exciſe, or any other Method, unleſs the Governor or Commander in Chief for the Time being, by Clauſes to be inſerted therein, have a Negative in the Diſpoſition of the Monies ariſing thereby, let the languiſhing Circumſtances of our Trade be ever ſo great, and a further or greater Medium become ever ſo neceſſary for its Support.

Fourthly, By the Laws and Statutes of England, the chief Rents, Honours and Caſtles of the Crown are taxed, and pay their Proportion to the Supplies that are granted to the King for the Defence of the Realm, and Support of Government. His Majeſty, the Nobility of the Realm, and all his Britiſh Subjects, do now actually contribute their Proportion towards the Defence of America in general, and this Province in particular; and it is in a more eſpecial Manner the Duty of the Proprietaries to pay their Proportion of a Tax for the immediate Preſervation of their own Eſtates in this Province. To exempt, therefore, any Part of their Eſtates from their reaſonable Part of this neceſſary Burden, is as unjuſt as it is illegal, and as new as arbitrary.

Yet the Proprietaries, notwithſtanding the general Danger to which the Nation and its Colonies are expoſed, and great Diſtreſs of this Province in particular, by their ſaid Inſtructions, have prohibited their Governors from paſſing Laws for the Raiſing of Supplies for its Defence, unleſs all their located, unimproved and unoccupied Lands, Quitrents, Fines, and Purchaſe-Monies on Intereſt, the much greater Part of their enormous Eſtates in this Colony, are expreſsly exempted from paying any Part of the Tax.

Fifthly, By Virtue of the ſaid Royal Charter, the Proprietaries are inveſted with a Power of "doing every Thing which unto a complete Eſtabliſhment of Juſtice, unto "Courts and Tribunals, Forms of Judicature, and Manner of Proceedings do belong." It was certainly the Import and Deſign of this Grant, that the Courts of Judicature ſhould be formed, and the Judges and Officers thereof hold their Commiſſions in a Manner not repugnant, but agreeable, to the Laws and Cuſtoms of England; that thereby they might remain free from the Influence of Perſons in Power, the Rights of the People might be preserved, and their Properties effectually secured. That the Grantee William Penn, understanding the said Grant in this Light, did, by his original Frame of Government, covenant and grant with the People, that the Judges, and other Officers, should hold their Commissions during their good Behaviour, and no longer. 1757. February 23.

Notwithstanding which, the Governors of this Province have, for many Years past, granted all the Commissions to the Judges of the King's Bench, or Supreme Court of this Province, and to the Judges of the Court of Common-Pleas of the several Counties, to be held during their Will and Pleasure. By Means whereof, the said Judges being subject to the Influence and Directions of the Proprietaries and their Governors, their Favourites and Creatures, the Laws may not be duly administred or executed, but often wrested from their true Sense, to serve particular Purposes; the Foundation of Justice may be liable to be destroyed, and the Lives, Laws, Liberties, Privileges and Properties of the People thereby rendered precarious, and altogether insecure, to the great Disgrace of our Laws, and the inconceivable Injury of his Majesty's Subjects.

Your Committee further beg Leave to add, that besides these Aggrievances, there are other Hardships the People of this Province have experienced, that call for Redress. The Inlistment of Servants, without the least Satisfaction being made to the Masters, has not only prevented the Cultivation of our Lands, and diminished the Trade and Commerce of the Province, but is a Burden extremely unequal and oppressive to Individuals; and should the Practice continue, the Consequence must prove very discouraging to the further Settlement of this Colony, and prejudicial to his Majesty's future Service. Justice therefore demands that Satisfaction should be made to the Masters of such inlisted Servants, and that the Right of Masters to their Servants be confirmed and settled. But as those Servants have been inlisted into his Majesty's Service for the general Defence of America, and not of this Province only, but all the Colonies, and the Nation in general have, and will receive, equal Benefit from their Service, this Satisfaction should be made at the Expence of the Nation, and not of this Province only.

That the People now labour under a Burden of Taxes, almost insupportable by so young a Colony, for the Defence of its long extended Frontier, of about Two Hundred Miles, from New-Jersey to Maryland, without either of those Colonies, or the Three Lower Counties, on Delaware, contributing their Proportion thereto, though their Frontiers are in a great Measure covered and protected by our Forts: And should the War continue, and with it this unequal Burden, many of his Majesty's Subjects in this Province will be reduced to Want, and the Province, if not lost to the Enemy, involved in Debt, and sunk under its Load.

That notwithstanding this Weight of Taxes, the Assemblies of this Province have given to the general Service of the Nation Five Thousand Pounds to purchase Provisions for the Troops under General Braddock: Two Thousand Nine Hundred Eighty-five Pounds and Eleven-pence for clearing a Road by his Orders: Ten Thousand Five Hundred and Fourteen Pounds Ten Shillings and One Penny to General Shirley, for the purchasing Provisions for the New-England Forces; and expended the Sum of Two Thousand Three Hundred and Eighty-five Pounds One Shilling and Two-pence Halfpenny, in supporting the Inhabitants of Nova Scotia, which likewise we conceive ought to be a national Expence.

And that his Majesty's Subjects, the Merchants and Insurers in England, as well as the Merchants here, and elsewhere, did, during the last War, and will, during this present War, be greatly injured in their Property, Trade and Commerce, by the Enemy's Privateers on this Coast, and at our Capes, unless some Method be fallen on to prevent it.

Wherefore your Committee are of Opinion, that the Commissioners intended to be sent to England to solicit a Removal and Redress of the many Infractions and Violations of the Constitution, should also have it in Charge, and be instructed to represent to our most gracious Sovereign, and his Parliaments, the several unequal Burdens and Hardships before mentioned, and endeavour to procure Satisfaction to the Masters of such Servants as have been enlisted, and the Right of Masters to their Servants established and confirmed, and obtain a Re-payment of the said several Sums of Money, some Assistance towards defending our extensive Frontier, and a Vessel of War to protect the Trade and Commerce of this Province.

Then the House adjourned to Tuesday next, at Five o'Clock in the Afternoon. 1757.

The House met, pursuant to their Adjournment. April 5. Post Meridiem

The Governor sent down to the House, by the Secretary, the Bill for preventing Abuses in the Indian Trade, with a verbal Message, that he adhered to his Amendments thereon; and that the Militia Bill before him requiring more Deliberation than he at first expected, he had not then sent it to the House, but should return it as soon as he had more fully considered it.

Then the House adjourned to Twelve o'Clock To-morrow. Adjournment

Mr. Baynton and Mr. West reported, they had purchased Bills on Account of the Province, to the Amount of Seven Hundred and Fifty Pounds Sterling, at Sixty-five per Cent. Exchange; and that they had delivered the said Bills to Benjamin Franklin, Esq; according to Order. April 6.

The Question being put, Whether the Governor's Amendments on the Bill for preventing Abuses in the Indian Trade, &c. sent down to the House Yesterday, shall be admitted in the said Bill? was unanimously resolved in the Negative.

Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. West wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Business of the House being chiefly before his Honour, the Members incline to a short Adjournment, unless he has come to some Result on the Militia Bill, and is ready to lay it before them.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait on the Governor, reported, they had delivered the Message according to Order, and that his Honour was pleased to say, the Militia Bill was long, and would require more Time to consider it fully; but that he should, by a Message to the House To-morrow, let them know his Result thereon; and that the Bill for striking the Sum of Two Thousand Eight Hundred and Forty Pounds, the Remainder of the Proprietary Gift, should be returned to the House at the same Time.

Upon Motion, the Petition of Mr. Jacob Duché, presented to the House some Time ago, was again read, and being considered, was referred, with the Petition of Mr. Grubb, a Member of Assembly, and that of Mr. Joseph Wharton, to the same Purpose, to the Provincial Commissioners for Payment.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock To-morrow P. M. Adjournment

Resolved, That the House do, at their next Session, resume the Consideration of the Northampton County Election, and that the Clerk in the mean time give Notice to the Persons concerned therein, that they give their Attendance accordingly. April 7. Post Meridiem

The Governor sent down to the House, by the Secretary, the Bill for striking the Sum of Two Thousand Eight Hundred and Forty Pounds, to be sunk by Payments to be made by the Proprietaries Receiver General, with the following verbal Message:

" The Governor commands me to acquaint the House, that the Receiver General " will pay as much to the Commissioners, for the Proprietaries, at their next Meeting, " as will reduce the Sum to Two Thousand Pounds. The Receiver further promises to " use all possible Diligence in collecting the Arrears of Quitrents, and discharge the Re- " mainder out of that Fund as soon as possible, and before the Term proposed. As this " will render the Bill less necessary, the Governor returns it, being unwilling to make " any Addition to the Paper-Currency, which is already too large."

The House taking into Consideration the Governor's Message by the Secretary, Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. Galloway wait on his Honour with the Bill just sent down to the House, and a verbal Message as follows, viz.

That the Proprietaries Gift of Five Thousand Pounds was made in Consideration of their being exempted from paying their reasonable Proportion of a necessary Sum of Money long since expended in the Defence of the Province. And by the Act, entituled, An Act for granting Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, &c. the Money was to be paid immediately by their Receiver General into the Hands of the Provincial Commissioners for that Purpose.

The Commissioners have repeatedly called on him for that Money with so little Success, that they have not to this Day received one Half of the Sum given, the Payment having been evaded by Answers, that the Receiver General could not collect sufficient Sums of Money from the Arrearages of the Proprietary Quitrents to discharge their Gift. Whether this be so or not, we shall not positively determine, but are credibly informed, that considerable Sums of Money have been lately paid to the Receiver General by the People, in Discharge of their Quitrents.

The Governor is pleased to say, in his last Message, that the Receiver General " pro- " mises to use all possible Diligence in collecting the Arrears of Quitrents, and dis- " charge the Remainder out of this Fund as soon as possible, and before the Term pro- " posed." It is not material to us out of what Fund the Money is to arise, nor have we any Thing to do with the Collection of the Quitrents; and we conceive the Proprietaries are in Honour bound to " discharge the Remainder" immediately, should their Quitrents never be collected, especially as the Public have been, and still are, in great Want of the Money.—— The Term proposed was not for the Payment of the 1757. April 7. Money into the Hands of the Commiſſioners, but for ſinking it; therefore, the Receiver General's Promiſe of "diſcharging it before the Term propoſed" is unintelligible, and by no means ſatisfactory to us; nor do we apprehend the Striking ſo ſmall a Sum as Two Thouſand Pounds can be of any ill Conſequence, as Exchange is now lower than it has been for ſeveral Years paſt. The Bill was calculated to make the Payment eaſy to the Proprietaries, and to give the Public the immediate Uſe of the Money by ſtriking it, though at their own Expence, without the leaſt Deſign of depriving the Public of the preſent Benefit of a Sum of Money to which they have an undoubted Right. —— We therefore beg Leave to return the Bill to your Honour, and deſire you would paſs it into a Law."

Money

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

April 8. The Houſe taking into Conſideration the Order for Six Hundred Pounds payable to the Governor, preſented by the Aſſembly ſoon after his Arrival into this Province, Reſolved, That it will be very agreeable to this Houſe, that the ſaid Order be forthwith diſcharged, and it is unanimouſly recommended to the Provincial Commiſſioners for that Purpoſe.

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor with the Bill for ſtriking Two Thouſand Eight Hundred and Forty Pounds, and the verbal Meſſage of Yeſternight, report, they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, he would take them both into Conſideration, and give them all the Diſpatch in his Power.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Governor ſent down to the Houſe, by the Secretary, the Bill for forming and regulating the Militia of this Province, with his Amendments thereon in Writing.

The Houſe taking the ſaid Amendments into Conſideration, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the Queſtion was put, whether the Amendment, veſting his Honour with the Nomination of Officers, ſhould be admitted in the Bill? and the ſame was unanimouſly reſolved in the Negative.

The Queſtion was then put, whether the Governor's Amendment, requiring "Perſons religiouſly ſcrupulous of bearing Arms to appear in an open Court of Quarter Seſſions, there publicly to declare to what Society they belong, and that they are really and religiouſly principled againſt all War, and conſcientiouſly ſcrupulous of bearing Arms," ſhall be admitted in the Bill or not? and the ſame was unanimouſly reſolved in the Negative.

Then the Houſe went through the Amendments, and admitted of ſome, and on the reſt adhered to their Bill.

Ordered, That Mr. Galloway and Mr. Baynton wait on the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe had conſidered his Amendments, and deſire he would reconſider it, and paſs it into a Law as it now ſtands. And further, inform the Governor, that as there is ſoon to be a Treaty with the Six Nations, and other Indians, if agreeable to him, the Houſe will appoint ſome of their Members to attend him on that Occaſion.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait on the Governor with the above Meſſage, reported, they had delivered the ſame according to Order, and that his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, he would take the Bill again under Conſideration, and, if poſſible, give them an Anſwer To-morrow in the Afternoon. And that he requeſted the Houſe would nominate ſome of their Members to attend him to the ſaid Indian Treaty.

A Petition from Joſhua Humphreys, of Merion, was preſented to the Chair and read, praying the Houſe would appoint him the Officer for inſpecting and branding Flour exported from this Province.——Referred to further Conſideration.

April 9. Poſt Meridiem The Governor returned, by the Secretary, the Bill for ſtriking Two Thouſand Eight Hundred and Forty Pounds, to be ſunk by Payments to be made by the Proprietaries Receiver General; who acquainted the Houſe, that his Honour would not paſs it.

The Secretary likewiſe brought down the Bill, entituled, An Act for forming and regulating the Militia of this Province, with an Anſwer, that the Governor adhered to every one of his Amendments thereon.

Ordered, That Two Hundred Copies of the ſaid Militia Bill, with the Governor's Amendments thereto, be forthwith printed; and that Mr. Fox and Mr. Leech ſee the ſame done accordingly.

Upon Motion, the Petition of the Overſeers of the Poor of the City of Philadelphia, praying a Law for erecting a Workhouſe in the ſaid City, being read a ſecond time, Reſolved, That the ſaid Petitioners have Leave to bring in a Bill for that Purpoſe.

Reſolved, That Mr. Speaker, with Mr. Fox, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Baynton, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Maſters, Mr. Aſhbridge and Mr. Weſt, do attend the Governor to the Conferences ſoon expected to be held with the Indians of the Six Nations, and others, at Lancaſter.

Mr. Galloway having laid before the Houſe Mr. William Franklin's Account of Services vices as Clerk of Assembly; and Mr. Charles Brockden's Account against the Province, the same were referred to the Committee of Accounts. 1757. April 9.

Resolved, That Mr. Galloway be added to the Committee for revising and correcting the Minutes of the House, in the Room of Benjamin Franklin, Esq;

Ordered, That Mr. Pearne and Mr. Hunt wait on the Governor, and acquaint him, that the House have nominated Mr. Speaker, with Mr. Fox, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Baynton, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Masters, Mr. Ashbridge and Mr. West, to attend his Honour at the Treaty soon expected to be held with the Indians at Lancaster; and that the Members incline to adjourn to the Eighth Day of next August.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait on the Governor, reported, they had delivered the Message according to Order, and that his Honour was pleased to say, the Gentlemen appointed to attend him at the said Indian Treaty were very agreeable to him; and that he had no Objection to the proposed Term of Adjournment.

Then the House adjourned to the Eighth Day of August next, at Five o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

THE Representatives of the Province having been, by Virtue of the Governor's Writs to the Sheriffs of the several Counties for that Purpose directed,, summoned to meet him this Day in Assembly, Mr. Speaker, and Twenty-one of the Members, met accordingly; but a Quorum not appearing, they adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. May 30. Post Meridiem Adjournment

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait on the Governor with the Message of Yesternight, reported, they had delivered the same according to Order; and that his Honour, in Consequence thereof, was pleased to put into their Hands a written Message, with sundry other Papers, to be laid before the House, which they delivered at the Table, and the said Message being read, follows in these Words, viz. June 7.

GENTLEMEN,

'MY Duty to his Majesty, and the critical Situation of public Affairs at this Juncture, have laid me under the Necessity of calling you together before the Time of your Adjournment. A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'I now lay before you two Letters, of the Fourth and Nineteenth of February, which 'I lately received from the Secretary of State; by one of which, you will perceive it 'to be his Majesty's Pleasure, that I should press you, in the strongest Manner, to raise, with 'the utmost Expedition, as large a Number of Provincial Troops as may be, for the Service 'of the present Campaign, over and above what you shall judge necessary for the immediate 'Defence of this Province; and that the Troops so raised should act in such Parts as 'the Earl of Loudoun shall think most conducive to the Service in general.

'I likewise lay before you his Lordship's Letter of the Fifth of May, in which, after 'expressing his Concern of the Dangers to which this Province stands exposed, for want 'of a Militia Law, his Lordship desires that I will, in Compliance of his Majesty's said 'Commands, apply in the most pressing Terms to you, to raise at least Five Hundred 'Men, to be added to the Provincial Forces; and I cannot in the least doubt a ready 'Obedience on your Part, when I consider that the Security, and very Being, of this 'and the neighbouring Provinces so much depend on vigorously supporting the wise 'Measures concerted by our most gracious Sovereign for their common Defence and 'Protection. His Lordship is pleased to observe the singular Light this Province stands 'in, when every other Colony has wisely provided by such a Law for its Defence; and 'I may add, that it seems the more extraordinary, when the other Government of the 'Lower Counties has set so good an Example. I am the more concerned, when I re-'flect what Observations the King's Ministers will make on your Conduct, after receiving 'the Copy of a Militia Bill offered me in your last Sessions, which, in some Particulars 'of great Consequence, is even more anti-constitutional than that which was repealed 'by the King in Council last Year.

'The Part the Southern Provinces are to take in the Operations of this Campaign, 'was settled between Lord Loudoun and the respective Governors of those Colonies, as 'you will see by the Minutes now laid before you. It was stipulated by me, on the 'Part of this Province, that Two Hundred of our Provincial Forces should be sent 'to South-Carolina, with five Companies of the First Battalion of the Royal-American 1757. June 7. ‘ Regiment, under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Boquet; in Conſideration of ‘ which his Lordſhip agreed to leave the other five Companies of that Battalion, under ‘ the Command of Colonel Stanwix, for the Defence of this Province: It is Matter of ‘ great Concern to me, that it has not hitherto been in my Power to comply with my ‘ Engagement with his Lordſhip. You are ſenſible that the Term being lately expired ‘ for which the Provincials were inliſted, and they being diſcouraged at their not re- ‘ gularly receiving their Pay, refuſed to continue in the Service, and went off in ſo great ‘ Numbers, as to leave Part of the Frontiers in a very weak and defenceleſs Situation; ‘ but I have now the Pleaſure to inform you, that the Commiſſioners have lately agreed ‘ to give a larger Bounty to ſuch as ſhall inliſt, and the Officers meet with Succeſs in ‘ Recruiting; ſo that I hope the Regiments will ſoon be complete, and I may be en- ‘ abled to fulfil my Engagement, which I am perſuaded you will think a very ad- ‘ vantageous one for this Province.

‘ The Minutes of the Conference I lately had with the Indians at Lancaſter are pre- ‘ paring, and ſhall ſoon be laid before you. His Majeſty having truſted Sir William ‘ Johnſon with the ſole Management of Indian Affairs in the Northern Diſtrict of Ame- ‘ rica, this Interview was only acquieſced in by the Earl of Loudoun, and Sir William ‘ Johnſon, in Conſequence of a Treaty held at Eaſton, before his Lordſhip's Arrival in ‘ America, or my Acceſſion to this Government: His Lordſhip's Letter ſufficiently ex- ‘ preſſes his Sentiments of the Conduct of the People of this Province, with regard to In- ‘ dian Affairs, and he is of Opinion they will ſee it to be their Intereſt, as well as their ‘ Duty, to pay Obedience to the King's Commands, and not to interfere with his Pre- ‘ rogative of making Peace and War.

‘ As long as Colonel Stanwix is ſtationed on the Weſtern Frontier, it would be for ‘ his Majeſty's Service, and that of the Province, to have the Poſt eſtabliſhed on its for- ‘ mer Footing.

‘ The Commiſſioners having acquainted me, that the Sum of Forty-five Thouſand ‘ Pounds, lately ſtruck, is almoſt expended, and the ſmall Remainder appropriated, ‘ I muſt recommend it to you, to find ſome Means of immediately furniſhing a further ‘ Sum for the Payment of the Troops, and other neceſſary Expences of the Government.

June 6, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY.”

A Remonſtrance from a conſiderable Number of the Merchants of this City, was preſented to the Houſe; and being read, follows in theſe Words:

To the REPRESENTATIVES of the FREEMEN of the Province of Pennſylvania, in GENERAL ASSEMBLY met,

The REMONSTRANCE of the Merchants of the City of Philadelphia, in Behalf of themſelves and others,

Humbly ſheweth,

Remonſtrance of the Merchants of Philadelphia. THAT your Remonſtrants, ſenſibly affected at the unhappy and languiſhing Situation of the Trade and Commerce of the Province, under the inexpreſſible Diſtreſs of a long continued Embargo, beg Leave to repreſent their Aggrievance to your prudent Conſideration.

It would be vain in us to attempt particularly to deſcribe the preſſing Calamity of your Remonſtrants, and others the Merchants and Farmers of this Colony, occaſioned by this long Continuation of the Prohibitions on our Trade.—Words cannot expreſs, nor Thought conceive, the State of Adverſity to which the People of this Province muſt be neceſſarily reduced, unleſs this Cauſe be expeditiouſly removed.

Three

Three Months and more are now elapsed since this Prohibition has been laid in this Port; at the Beginning of which Period, your Remonstrants, and others, had large Quantities of perishable Commodities on board their Vessels, and in Store, which yet remain in their Hands: Near forty Sail of Vessels are in this Harbour, with full Cargoes of Provisions, and now ready to sail, and most of the Stores in the City filled with them, Part whereof is already perished, and the rest must inevitably share the same Fate, unless the Embargo shall be immediately taken off, and the Merchant have Liberty to export his Effects, to the inconceivable Detriment of your Remonstrants, the Discouragement of Trade, and the general Loss of the Province. 1757. June 14.

We beg Leave further to add, that by Letters from Great-Britain and Ireland we are informed our Fellow-Subjects in those Places are perishing for want of Provisions, while we abound with them here, spoiling in great Quantities on our Hands; and your Remonstrants are unhappily prohibited, though very desirous, from relieving the Necessities of their Mother Country, in a Time of the greatest Distress.

This Embargo, when first laid, was said to be for his Majesty's Service: Your Remonstrants, through a Sense of their Duty to the best of Kings, and a Resolution to give way to every Thing, however inconvenient, which should have the Aspect of assisting in the general Defence of America, chearfully submitted to it; but as we apprehend every Advantage that an Embargo could possibly produce, is already reaped from the present Prohibition, we cannot help complaining of a longer Continuation of it. If it was imposed in order to enable his Majesty's Commander in Chief to procure the necessary Seamen for the intended Expedition, they are now procured, and on board: If to procure Provisions for the King's Forces, not to mention that these Colonies, had this Measure not been taken, would have been always capable of supplying them, those Provisions are, or might have been, purchased long before this Time: If to keep the Design of the intended Expedition secret, we are surprised to see a Number of Vessels permitted to sail, while the Prohibition is in Force as to others; and the Ports of Maryland and Virginia open, while the Ports of Pennsylvania, New-Jersey and New-York are shut up.

Upon the Whole, we humbly apprehend, the Embargo, as it is now circumstanced, is partial, and that a longer Continuation of it can answer no good Purpose whatsoever, but will occasion the Loss of great Quantities of Provisions already manufactured, discourage the Commerce of the City, impoverish the Colony, and starve the People of our Mother Country, who, we have Reason to believe, are under the most distressing Circumstances for want of Supplies.

Wherefore we humbly address our Representatives, that taking this insupportable Burden on the Trade of the Province into their prudent Consideration, they will make use of every Measure in their Power, to relieve us from this unnecessary and distressing Prohibition. And your Remonstrants, &c."

The House taking the said Remonstrance into Consideration,

Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Masters, Mr. Walker, Mr. Gibbons, Mr. Allen and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to prepare an Address to the Governor, for taking off the Embargo on the Trade of this Port.

The Petition of Peter Peters, setting forth, and complaining against, the oppressive and unjust Proceedings of William Moore, Esq; of Chester County, was presented to the House, read, and ordered to lie on the Table.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Committee appointed to draw up and bring in an Address to the Governor, for taking off the Embargo, reported, they had essayed a Draught for that Purpose, which they delivered at the Table; and the same being read and amended, was ordered to be transcribed. June 15.

Then the House adjourned to Four o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Clerk having brought in a fair Transcript of the Address to the Governor, for removing the Embargo, the same was again read, and follows in these Words: Post Meridiem

To the Honourable WILLIAM DENNY, Esq; Lieutenant Governor of the Province of Pennsylvania,

The REMONSTRANCE of the Representatives of the Freemen of the said Province, in General Assembly met.

May it please your HONOUR,

THE House being acquainted, as well by an Application from the Merchants of this City, as from their own Knowledge, with the languishing Condition of the Trade and Commerce of the Province, occasioned by the long Continuance of the present Embargo, beg Leave to lay this inexpressible Grievance before the Governor, and to insist on the Removal of so great a Mischief. Assembly's Remonstrance to the Governor, relateing to the Embargo.

It is now three Months and more since this Prohibition was laid on this Port, and 1757. June 15. almoſt a total Stagnation of the Trade and Commerce of the Province has enſued: And notwithſtanding we conceived it to be illegally laid, and the Merchants had at that Time conſiderable Quantities of periſhable Commodities on board their Veſſels, and in Stores, and the Millers and Farmers much greater manufactured, and ready for Market; yet, as we apprehended it was laid with a Deſign to promote his Majeſty's Service, and the general Defence of America, and that it would be of a ſhort Duration, we were content to ſubmit to the Inconveniency, however great and diſtreſſing it might prove, until the good End intended by it ſhould be fully anſwered: But as the Fleet has been long ſince ſupplied with the neceſſary Seamen, and all the Proviſions they ſtood in Need of provided, we cannot ſee the Reaſon or Neceſſity of continuing a Prohibition, which your Honour muſt be ſenſible has already greatly diſtreſſed the Inhabitants, and muſt in a little Time totally ruin the Trade and Commerce of the Province.

We intreat your Honour to conſider how the Province, under the dreadful Calamities of an Indian and French War, the Loſs of a Number of its Inhabitants, and the heavy Burden of Taxes, neceſſarily impoſed for the Defence of a long extended Frontier, can be able to ſupport itſelf, much leſs pay her Debts to her Mother Country, and grant Aids to his Majeſty, ſhould the People be longer debarred from the Benefits of Trade.

As a further Motive to prevail on your Honour to relieve this diſtreſſed Community from its preſent unhappy Situation, we beg Leave to repreſent, that the Merchants of this City, at the Time this Embargo was laid, had large Quantities of periſhable Commodities on Hand, and have now near forty Veſſels ready to ſail with Cargoes of Proviſions, a conſiderable Part whereof is already periſhed, other Parts damaged, and the Remainder muſt ſoon be in the ſame Condition, unleſs the Prohibition be immediately taken off.

Alſo, that we are further credibly informed, by Letters from Great-Britain, Ireland, and the Weſt-Indies, that in thoſe Places the People are in the utmoſt Want of the Neceſſaries of Life, while we abound with them here, and our Bread, Flour and other Proviſions ſpoiling on the Hands of the Merchants, who are prohibited from relieving the Neceſſities of their Fellow-Subjects in the greateſt Diſtreſs.

We hope your Honour, after this impartial Repreſentation of the Circumſtances of this Colony, will not think of continuing this Prohibition any longer, had you a Right to impoſe it; eſpecially as the Embargo is taken off in New-England, Maryland and Virginia, and the Continuance of it here can anſwer no good Purpoſe whatſoever. But when the Governor duly weighs the Extent of his Authority by the Laws of England, the Royal Grant, and the Laws of this Province, by which his Power, and the People's Rights, ought to be determined, we conceive he will join in Opinion with us, that this Embargo was illegally laid.

And that his Majeſty and Miniſtry are of Opinion, that the laying of Embargoes, without the Aſſiſtance of the Legiſlature, is illegal and unwarrantable, appears clear from ſundry of their Inſtructions to your Honour and your Predeceſſors, in commanding you to recommend it to your Aſſemblies to lay ſuch Reſtrictions. Had you the Power, independent of this Branch of the Legiſlature, theſe Inſtructions would be unneceſſary. And the Parliament of our Mother Country appears to be of the ſame Sentiments, by paſſing an Act to limit our Trade to ſuch Places as they conceive the preſent State of Affairs requires, who, we preſume, are the beſt Judges of the Neceſſity and Manner of ſuch Prohibitions.

Upon the Whole, we apprehend a People cannot be ſaid to be free, nor in the Poſſeſſion of their Rights and Properties, when their Rulers ſhall, by their ſole Authority, even during the Sitting of their Aſſemblies, ſtop the Circulation of their Commerce, diſcourage the Labour and Induſtry of the People, and reduce the Province to the greateſt Diſtreſs.

To conclude, we preſented to your Honour ſuch a Bill as, in our Opinion, would have effectually prevented the Supplying the Enemy with Proviſions in the Time of War, with the leaſt Injury to the People, which your Honour was pleaſed to refuſe your Aſſent to; but inſtead thereof, during that Sitting, ſhut up our Port by a general Embargo, which has been, as we conceive, unneceſſarily continued, till the Province and its Commerce are reduced to the greateſt Extremity. And therefore we think it our indiſpenſable Duty, and do inſiſt upon it, in the warmeſt Manner, that you do immediately take off the Prohibition, and ſave the Country from that Diſtreſs and Ruin which muſt otherwiſe attend it."

And the ſaid Addreſs being ſigned by Mr. Speaker,

Ordered, That the whole Committee appointed to prepare the ſaid Addreſs, do preſent the ſame to the Governor.

Ordered, That the Clerk make out a fair Tranſcript of ſuch of the Governor's Amendments on the Militia Bill as have been admitted by the Committee.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

June 16. The Committee appointed to wait on the Governor with the Addreſs of Yeſterday, reported, reported, they had read and delivered the same according to Order; and that his Honour was pleased to say, he would consider it, and acquaint the House with his Result thereon at a proper Time. 1757. June 16.

It being moved, that a considerable Number of the French Neutrals, dispersed in the several Counties and Townships of this Province, are reduced, through many of their young People's having lately had, and still having, the Small-Pox amongst them, to very great Distress, and even the Want of common Necessaries;

Resolved, That this House are of Opinion, and do appoint, with the Assent of the Governor, that the Sums already advanced by the several Townships respectively, for Support of the said Neutral French residing therein, be paid by the Provincial Commissioners, out of the One Hundred Thousand Pounds lately granted to the King's Use; and that the further Expence hereafter necessarily accruing from the Maintenance of the said People, till they can better provide for their Subsistence, be likewise defrayed by the said Commissioners out of the public Money aforesaid.

The Clerk having brought in a fair Transcript of such of the Governor's Amendments on the Militia Bill as had been admitted by the Committee appointed to reconsider the said Bill and Amendments, the same were again read, and agreed to by the House, and being signed by Mr. Speaker, Ordered, That Mr. Morton and Mr. Trimble wait on the Governor with the said Bill, and desire he will pass the same, agreeable to the Amendments now sent up; and that his Honour will likewise be pleased to acquaint the House when they shall wait on him with the Bill for striking Fifty-five Thousand Pounds, &c. to which the Governor has given his Assent, in order to enact it into a Law, the said Bill being engrossed for that Purpose.

Then the House adjourned to Four o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Governor sent down a Message by the Secretary, which was read, and follows in these Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

'I SHALL forward your Remonstrance, presented to me last Night, by Express to Lord Loudoun, the Embargo having been laid at his Lordship's Instance, in Consequence of his Majesty's positive Orders, as will appear by his Lordship's Letters, which I have from Time to Time laid before you. A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'I am sensible of the great Distress that the Merchants and Farmers must be under, by the long Continuance of this Embargo, and hope the King's Affairs may permit his Lordship to hearken to my Application for their Relief.

'You will please to send an Answer to my Message of the Sixth Instant, in which I communicated his Lordship's Demands, and those of the Secretary of State, that it may be forwarded by the Express, as I cannot, with Decency, write to my Lord Loudoun, without letting him know your Resolutions on those Demands.

June 16, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor with the Militia Bill, and such of his Honour's Amendments thereon as the House admit into the said Bill, reported, they had delivered the same according to Order; and that the Governor was pleased to make no Answer to them on that Head, but said he would attend in the Council Chamber at Twelve o'Clock To-morrow, to enact the Bill for striking Fifty-five Thousand Pounds, &c. into a Law.

The House then resumed the Consideration of their Answer to the Governor's Message of the Sixth Instant, and having made some Alterations therein, ordered the same to be transcribed.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

June 17.

The Answer to the Governor's Message of the Sixth Instant, being transcribed, according to Order, the same was read, and agreed to, and follows in these Words, viz.

May it please your HONOUR,

THE two Letters which you was pleased to lay before us, from the Secretary of State, dated the Fourth and Nineteenth of February last, appear to us circular Letters, which must be liable to the different Abilities of the several Colonies, and the Situation of their Frontiers, and were dated before the large Grant this Assembly has lately made to the Crown, as well for the Defence of the Province, as to act offensively against the common Enemy. The very late Settlement of this Province, compared with most of the other Colonies, and the Circumstances of the People, well known to us, and to which your Honour cannot be wholly a Stranger, added to the present Distress of a long continued Embargo, and the heavy Expence of defending our long extended Frontiers, which in a great Measure cover several others of his Majesty's Colonies, must convince your Honour, that the Aid already granted, and the Men directed by Law to be raised A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

and

1757. June 17.

and ſupported, are more than our Proportion, and a Burden almoſt too heavy for this young Colony to bear; and however your Honour may judge it, your Duty to lay thoſe Letters before us, we make no Doubt the Sums we have already ſo chearfully given, will fully demonſtrate our Loyalty and Affection to the beſt of Sovereigns, and evidently ſhew how deſirous we are in this Time of War to afford the utmoſt Protection our Circumſtances would admit of, to the People we repreſent. We preſume nothing further is expected from us, "than that we would raiſe as large a Number of Provincial Troops "as might be, for the Service of the preſent Campaign;" and this was fully and chearfully complied with by us at our laſt Sitting, as we apprehend, to the Satisfaction of the Governor, as well as his Excellency the Earl of Loudoun, who was in the Province at the Time your Honour was pleaſed, after long Deliberation, to give your Aſſent to that Bill, which had been clogged and delayed for a conſiderable Time, by the unreaſonable Limitations of the moſt arbitrary and unconſtitutional Proprietary Inſtructions.

Your Honour is pleaſed to inform us, "That his Lordſhip, after expreſſing his "Concern for the Dangers to which this Province ſtands expoſed for want of a Militia "Law, deſires you would apply to us, in the moſt preſſing Terms, to raiſe at leaſt Five "Hundred Men, to be added to the Provincial Forces." We cannot doubt, from his Excellency's Activity and Conduct in his Station, of his Concern at the Danger this as well as the other Colonies are expoſed to; and have Reaſon to apprehend, from his known Juſtice, that had he duly weighed the large Sum of Money already granted by us to his Majeſty, and been fully acquainted with the Circumſtances of the Province, he would have waved preſſing us at this Time for an additional Number of Forces. But it ſeems the Reaſon of his Lordſhip's Requeſt is, "the Want of a Militia Law." To which we beg Leave to anſwer: If the Province is more expoſed, through the Want of ſuch a Law, this Branch of the Legiſlature have nothing to charge themſelves with on that Account. At our laſt Sitting we prepared and offered a Bill for forming and regulating the Militia of this Province, which you ſent down with conſiderable Amendments; theſe Amendments, and the Bill itſelf, have been reconſidered, and lie now before your Honour for your Aſſent; and whenever you ſhall think fit to enact the Bill into a Law, we do not doubt it will prove well adapted to our Circumſtances, and the Defence of this Province. In your late Meſſage, now before us, you are pleaſed to ſay, that "the Bill, in ſome "Particulars of great Conſequence, is even more anti-conſtitutional than that which "was repealed by the King in Council laſt Year." But if the Bill was ſo anti-conſtitutional, we conceive, the Governor, from the Duty he owes to the Crown, and that Regard which is due to the People he governs, would have thought it incumbent upon him to point out thoſe "Particulars," which he has not done; and therefore cannot expect we ſhould attempt to anſwer them, as we conceive this Aſſertion is without any juſt Foundation.

Had the Bill been framed with the ſame Spirit that the Amendments thereto were made, we think it might, with Juſtice, be ſaid, that it was truly "anti-conſtitutional." To prove this, a little Attention to one of the many Amendments is ſufficient. We know of no Law or Principle in our Mother, or our own, Conſtitution, that has the Appearance of, or can juſtify the "ſubjecting" the Freemen of a whole Community "to all ſuch Articles of War, Rules, Regulations, Puniſhments and Trials," in Caſe of any Neglect or Breach of Duty, as are impoſed on the mercenary Troops of the Crown; nor do we believe there ever will be, while the Britiſh Conſtitution remains free from the Yoke of Oppreſſion.

Your Honour is pleaſed to think, that "the Government of the Lower Counties has "ſet a good Example," in their Militia Law. What ſhould create ſuch a Fondneſs in the Governor for a Law ſo generally comdemned, and that has occaſioned ſo much Diſtreſs and Perſecution among the People, we are at a Loſs to determine, unleſs it be the favourite Clauſe, which inveſts him with the Power of "making and eſtabliſhing ſuch "Rules and Articles for the Regulation of the Militia as he may judge expedient?" By which Means the Liberties and Properties of the People are ſubject to his Orders, and dependent on his Pleaſure. The Governor may think this a conſtitutional Law, and worthy our Imitation; but we apprehend he will have a difficult Taſk to perſuade a free People to concur in Sentiments with him.

And ſince the Governor is pleaſed to recommend one Example of the Lower Counties to our Imitation, we beg Leave to enquire, why he has not ſolicited us to tread in their Steps in another? Had we followed the Example of that Government, we ſhould have granted but few Aids to his Majeſty, and by no Means contributed to our own, or their, Protection, who are almoſt entirely covered and defended by the Frontiers and military Force of this Province. To what Cauſe the Neglect of that Government is owing, in not contributing their Proportion of Supplies, in this Time of general Danger, when every other Colony in America is groaning under the Burden of their Taxes, we ſhall leave others to determine; but certain it is, that thoſe, whoſe Duty it was to ſolicit them, or thoſe who had the Power of granting them, will be anſwerable to his Majeſty, for this extraordinary Omiſſion of their Duty to their King, and the common Intereſt of the Colonies; which we preſume cannot eſcape the Notice of the King's Miniſters much longer, however careful the Governor and Aſſemblies of thoſe Counties may have been to keep their Tranſactions from the public View, and thereby load us with their Defect, as that Government may be accounted a Part of this Province, though entirely independent, and under a diſtinct Legiſlature. On the contrary, our Conduct has been ſuch, that inſtead of dreading the "Obſervations the King's Miniſters," or his Parliaments, will make thereon, we have determined, that all our public Tranſactions ſhall be faithfully and impartially laid before them. 1757. June 17.

Your Honour has never been pleaſed to inform us till now, "that you had ſtipulated "with Lord Loudoun, and the Governors of the Southern Colonies, when at this City, "that Two Hundred of our Provincial Troops ſhould be ſent to South-Carolina, for "the Defence of that Province," though the Aſſembly continued ſitting long after the Date of that Agreement. This, in a Matter of ſo great Importance, is ſurpriſing to us, eſpecially when we conſider, that near three Months are elapſed ſince you entered into that Engagement. If the Governor was determined to comply with it, to what could this Omiſſion be owing? We cannot reaſonably preſume, that it was from a Conception, that he had the Power of ſending that Number of Troops out of the Province, without the Aid of this Part of the Legiſlature. Had he attended to the Bill which was then before him, and afterwards paſſed into a Law, he could not have entertained ſuch an Opinion. The Law enacts, that Three Hundred of the Men ſhall be employed in Garriſon, and the remaining Eleven Hundred in ranging and ſcouting Parties, for the Protection of our Frontier Inhabitants. The Commiſſioners Power, in the Diſpoſition of the Money granted for their Support, was limited to theſe Uſes; nor could they legally have aſſented to defray the Expences of that Engagement, without a Law for that Purpoſe. The Governor, it ſeems, had entered into the Engagement, and determined to fulfil it by Virtue of his Authority only: But he is pleaſed to inform us, that, to his great Concern, "it has not been in his Power to comply with it;——the Term being "lately expired for which the Provincials were enliſted, and they, diſcouraged from "not regularly receiving their Pay, refuſed to continue in the Service, and went off in "ſo great Numbers, as to leave the Frontier in a very weak and defenceleſs Situation." To whom the Diſcouragement complained of is owing, will readily appear to thoſe who know that Supplies were timely offered, and rejected by the Governor; and that it is now near Three Months ſince the other Supplies were accepted, and Meaſures might have been taken to recruit the Battalions as the Terms of the Mens Enliſtment expired. —— We have Reaſon to believe, had the Officers been appointed for their Merits only, and recruiting Orders been given at the Time they ought to have been, when the Governor had all the Means in his Hands, the Battalions would never have been greatly defective, but before this Time complete; the Frontier Inhabitants might have received that Protection which the Law intended, and the Engagement entered into with his Lordſhip eaſily complied with, had the Governor, at the Time he entered into it, thought it a Matter worth communicating to the Aſſembly then ſitting, and obtained their Aid on this Occaſion, which they were ready to have granted. And we cannot help being "concerned, when we reflect what Obſervations his Lordſhip, and the King's Miniſters, "will make on the Conduct" of thoſe, who have ſhewn ſuch a Diſregard to his Majeſty's Service, eſpecially ſhould the Province of South-Carolina be loſt for Want of the Succour ſtipulated; notwithſtanding we find, by his Lordſhip's Letter, that the Blame has been thrown, by ſome Perſon, on thoſe who were Strangers to the Engagement.

Upon the Whole, we aſſure the Governor, we are ſincerely diſpoſed, notwithſtanding the extraordinary Diſtreſſes of the Province, and the large Number of Men that are neceſſary for our Protection, to aid and aſſiſt the neighbouring Provinces as far as our Abilities will extend. —— We do heartily approve of this Meaſure, are ſorry a Matter of ſo much Importance, a Matter ſo neceſſary for the Defence of South-Carolina, and the general Service, ſhould be ſo long delayed,——and are ready to concur with him, if it is not now too late, to anſwer the End propoſed, in enacting a Law which may enable him to fulfil that Engagement with his Lordſhip.

What the Governor intended we ſhould underſtand from the Paragraph in his Meſſage on Indian Affairs, we cannot readily conceive. We hope he does not deſign to divert the Province from proſecuting the Enquiry into the Indian Complaints, and aſſiſting in ſettling that Peace, which is ſo neceſſary to the Tranquillity of the Province, and conciliating the Minds of the Natives to the Britiſh Intereſt; eſpecially when it is done in the Preſence, and under the Direction of the Deputy of the King's Agent. If this is not the Deſign, as we hope it is not, we are ſorry he ſhould take a Pleaſure in publiſhing a Reflection on the People of this Province, which he muſt be convinced, on a little Conſideration, they do not deſerve. The People of this Province did never, that we know of, interfere "with his Majeſty's Prerogative of making Peace and War." Their known Duty and Loyalty to his Majeſty, notwithſtanding the Pains taken to miſ-1757. June 17. represent their Actions, forbid ſuch an Attempt. But as it is rendered beyond Contradiction plain, from the Enquiries made by your Honour, that the Cauſe of the preſent Indian Incurſions on this Province, and the dreadful Calamities many of the Inhabitants have ſuffered, have ariſen, in great Meaſure, from the exorbitant and unreaſonable Purchaſes made, or ſuppoſed to be made, of the Indians, and the Manner of making them;——ſo exorbitant, that the Natives complain they have not a Country left to hunt or ſubſiſt in. If to requeſt the Governor, the King's Repreſentative in this Province, aſſiſted by the Deputy of Sir William Johnſon, to enquire into theſe Complaints, which aroſe entirely from the Tranſactions of Perſons within this Government, that they may be impartially laid before his Majeſty; Complaints, in the Redreſſing of which our Lives, Liberties and Fortunes are deeply intereſted; we ſay, if this is "interfering "with his Majeſty's Prerogative," or diſobeying his Commands, then the Governor's Cenſure is juſt; if not, it muſt appear without Foundation. And we are ſo far from being inclinable, was it in our Power, to infringe on the Rights of the Crown, that, on the contrary, we ſhall think it happy for ourſelves and our Poſterity, if, in this Time of Diſtreſs, we can guard againſt the many Attempts on the People's Rights and Liberties, and preſerve to the Conſtitution thoſe Principles of Freedom, on which it was originally founded.

Before we conclude, we beg Leave to repreſent to your Honour the unhappy Situation of our Frontier Inhabitants, whoſe Diſtreſſes, as we apprehend, ariſe principally from the Want of a due Exertion of the Military Force of the Government. The recruiting Service has been too much neglected, whereby the Number in each Battalion has not been kept up; the Troops have been detained in the Forts, and not obliged to range and hunt after the Enemy, as the Law directs, while they have come in between them, deſtroyed the Inhabitants, and returned unmoleſted. Perſons are put into Offices, and receive their full Pay, who are permitted to follow other Avocations; by which Means the Public is deprived of their Service, and the People ſuffer. —— The Execution of the Law ſeems to us the only Method of affording the People that Protection they are entitled to: Wherefore, we entreat the Governor to give Orders that the Battalions be recruited as ſoon as poſſible, and that the Men be obliged to range the Frontiers in the Manner which ſhall conduce moſt to the repelling the Enemy, and the Security of the People, otherwiſe the good Deſign of granting the Supplies will be fruſtrated, and the Province left unprotected.

We agree with the Governor, in thinking that the Eſtabliſhment of a Poſt from the Weſtern Frontier will be for his Majeſty's Service; and have appointed two of our Members to agree with a ſuitable Perſon for that Purpoſe.

June 17, 1757. Signed, by Order of the Houſe,
ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

Ordered, That Mr. Pearne and Mr. Walker do ſee the Great Seal affixed to the ſaid Law, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office.

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor with the Anſwer of the Houſe to his Honour's Meſſage of the Sixth Inſtant, reported, they had delivered the ſame according to Order.

A Petition

A Petition from Richard Hill and Samuel Preſton Moore was preſented to the Houſe and read, praying Leave to bring in a Bill to enable them to make a ſufficient and legal Title to certain Lands and Lots in this Province and City, ſold and leaſed by Richard Hill, junior (Son and Brother-in-Law to the Petitioners) who died before the ſeveral Purchaſers and Leſſees of the ſaid Lands and Lots had obtained Deeds or full Titles to the ſame. 1757. June 17.

Reſolved, That the ſaid Petitioners have Leave to bring in a Bill at the next Sitting of Aſſembly for the Purpoſes expreſſed in their Petition, and that the Clerk give them Notice thereof.

The Governor ſent down a Meſſage to the Houſe by the Secretary, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

'WHEN the Forces ſhall be complete, in order to engage a Number of them to go to South-Carolina, it will be neceſſary to offer an handſome Bounty, in which, as well as their Tranſportation, and the other Expences attending my Stipulation with Lord Loudoun, I ſhall depend on your Aſſiſtance, and deſire you will prepare a Bill immediately for that Purpoſe, in which I ſhall very chearfully concur with you. A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'I have not Time at preſent to take Notice of the other Parts of your Meſſage.

June 17, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Houſe taking into their immediate Conſideration the Governor's Requeſt in the above Meſſage, Ordered, That Mr. Leech, Mr. Maſters, Mr. Weſt and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to prepare and bring in a Bill for the Purpoſe mentioned in the Governor's ſaid Meſſage.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Bill for impowering the Governor to detach from the Forces of this Province Two Hundred Men, and tranſport the ſame to South-Carolina, for the Defence of that Colony, reported, they had eſſayed a Draught of a Bill for that Purpoſe, which was delivered at the Table, read the firſt time, and ordered a ſecond Reading.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Eight o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

Then the Houſe adjourned for one Hour.

The Houſe met, and the Bill for impowering the Governor to diſcharge his Part of the Operations of this Campaign, &c. being tranſcribed, the ſame was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the ſaid Bill do paſs.

Ordered, That Mr. Morton and Mr. Yorke wait upon the Governor therewith for his Aſſent to the ſame, and requeſt his Honour will be pleaſed to paſs the ſaid Bill, if poſſible, this Day, as the Houſe have no Matters of Conſequence at preſent before them, and incline to adjourn to the Eighth Day of Auguſt next (the Time to which they ſtood adjourned at the Cloſe of their laſt Seſſion) unleſs the Governor hath further Buſineſs to lay before them, which may require their immediate Conſideration.

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor with the aforeſaid Bill and Meſſage from the Houſe, reported, they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that his Honour being then in Council, deſired the Members would wait till the ſaid Bill could be read before them; and then returning to them with it, was pleaſed to ſay, he would attend in the Council Chamber at Four o'Clock this Afternoon, to enact the ſame into a Law, provided the Houſe would admit one ſhort Amendment thereon, viz. inſtead of the Words [Officers included] to ſay [excluſive of Officers.]

The Houſe taking the Governor's propoſed Amendment into Conſideration, reſolved that the ſame be admitted, and ordered the Bill to be engroſſed accordingly.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Poſt Meridiem

The engroſſed Bill being brought in and compared,

Ordered, That Mr. Baynton and Mr. Weſt meet two of the Members of Council, to collate the engroſſed Bill with the Bill to which the Governor had given his Aſſent.

The ſaid Members returned, and reported, that they had met two Members of Council with the ſaid Bills, and found them to agree.

A Meſſage by the Secretary:

SIR,

" The Governor requeſts the Attendance of the Speaker and the Houſe in the Council " Chamber immediately."

At

1757. June 18. At the ſame Time the Secretary delivered a written Meſſage from the Governor, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'MY Time has been ſo taken up in preparing Diſpatches to the Earl of Loudoun, repreſenting to his Lordſhip the Diſtreſſes of this Province, occaſioned by the long Continuance of the Embargo, and other Matters of a public Nature, that I have not had Time to conſider the Militia Bill, laid before me on Thurſday laſt, with the Attention that is due to a Bill of ſo great Importance; I am therefore under the Neceſſity of deſiring that you will not adjourn this Evening, as I was informed by two of your Members you intended; and I hope to be able to return you my Anſwer to that Bill on Monday next.

June 18, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

Then Mr. Speaker, with the whole Houſe, attended his Honour in the Council Chamber, and being returned, the Speaker reſumed the Chair, and reported, that the Houſe had waited on the Governor with the Bill, entituled, An Act impowering the Governor to diſcharge his Part of the Operations of this Campaign, ſtipulated in Behalf of this Province between his Excellency John Earl of Loudoun, and the Governors of the Southern Colonies; to which the Governor had been pleaſed to give his Aſſent, by enacting the ſame into a Law.

Ordered, That Mr. Fox and Mr. Leech do ſee the Great Seal affixed to the ſaid Law, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Tueſday next, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon.

June 21. The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

Poſt Meridiem. Ordered, That Mr. Hughes and Mr. Baynton wait on the Governor, and acquaint him, that in Purſuance of his Honour's Meſſage on Saturday Evening, the Houſe are again met, in order to conſider any further Buſineſs the Governor may be pleaſed to lay before them.

The Members appointed to ſee the Great Seal affixed to the Act impowering the Governor to diſcharge his Part of the Operations of this Campaign, &c. and the ſaid Act depoſited in the Rolls Office, reported, they had done the ſame according to Order.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait on the Governor with the above Meſſage, reported, they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, he was not yet prepared to lay any further Buſineſs before the Houſe, but hoped he ſhould in the Morning have ſome Matters for their Conſideration; and upon being aſked at what Hour To-morrow the Houſe might expect them, he ſaid he did not know, as the Council muſt be called before a Meſſage could be ſent to the Houſe.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Eleven o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

June 22. Ordered, That Mr. Galloway and Mr. Weſt wait on the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe are again met, in order to conſider any Buſineſs he may have in Readineſs to lay before them.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait on the Governor with the above Meſſage, reported, they had ſet out for that Purpoſe, but on their Way they met the Secretary coming to the Houſe with a Meſſage from his Honour.

The Governor ſent down a written Meſſage by the Secretary, who alſo delivered ſundry Papers referred to therein, and acquainted the Houſe, that what other Matters his Honour had for their Conſideration, would be laid before them at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon preciſely. The Governor's Meſſage being read, follows in theſe Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'THE Matter ſet forth in the Memorial of Sir John St. Clair, Deputy Quarter-maſter General, is of ſo much Conſequence to his Majeſty's Service, and the Eaſe of the People of this Province, who may be diſtreſſed by a Body of Troops halting, and heavily quartered upon, in Caſe the Baggage Waggons are ſtopped by the Badneſs of the Roads: I therefore recommend to you to take this immediately into your Conſideration, and prepare a Bill to ſupply the Defects of the Laws now in Force for the Repair of Roads and Highways, ſo that they may be widened and mended while the Seaſon permits.

June 22, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Papers delivered by the Secretary with the above Meſſage, were ſeverally dated and entituled as follow, viz.

1. The Memorial of Sir John St. Clair, Baronet, Deputy Quarter-maſter General of all his Majeſty's Forces in North-America, June 21, 1757.

2. A Letter to the Governor from Timothy Horſefield, Eſq; June 19, 1757.

4. A Letter to Major Parsons from Lieutenant Jacob Orndt, June 18, 1757.

Which were read, and referred to further Consideration.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Governor sent down, by the Secretary, the Bill for forming and regulating the Militia of this Province, with a verbal Message, that his Honour adhered to his Amendments on the said Bill. The Secretary also acquainted the House, that the Governor had not yet heard from Lord Loudoun, in relation to the Embargo, but expected it every Hour, having spoke with a Gentleman just from York, who was informed by his Lordship, that the Governor would have received his Answer to that Business, by Express, before the said Gentleman got to Philadelphia; but upon Enquiry after the said Express, it could not be found that he was yet arrived. With the above Bill the Secretary likewise delivered a Message from the Governor, which was read, and follows in these Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'THE first Part of your Message containing nothing more than Excuses, why you will not comply with the Demands made on this Province by his Majesty, in the Letters of the Secretary of State and my Lord Loudoun, to raise an additional Number of Forces; I shall therefore take no further Notice of it than to inform you, that I have already transmitted your Message to his Lordship, and shall take the first Opportunity of sending it to the King's Ministers, who will judge how well those Excuses are founded.

'It is evident that Lord Loudoun is not satisfied with what has been already done by this Province, as you suppose, or he would not have demanded the Raising of an additional Five Hundred Men: A Demand founded in the highest Wisdom and Prudence, since, having no Militia, these extended Frontiers should not be left exposed to different Attacks, and the doubtful Events and Chances of War.

'I was in Hopes a Nobleman of his Lordship's distinguished Merit and Abilities, in whom his Majesty has reposed so high a Confidence and Trust, would have escaped your Censures. Whoever knows his Lordship's indefatigable Industry, and Application to Business, and the strict Attention he gives to the Conduct of this and the other Colonies, must clearly be convinced of the Injustice of your Insinuation, that his pressing you for an additional Number of Forces is owing to the Want of duly weighing the large Sum of Money already granted, and his Lordship's Ignorance of the Circumstances of this Province.

'It will be endless to enter into a Dispute about the Militia Bill. How far it was at first, or is, with the Alterations since made, adapted to the Circumstances and Defence of the Province, must be submitted to our Superiors to determine. I shall only mention two Things; First, That the late Bill which passed the House of Commons, subjected the Militia, in Time of Insurrection or Invasion, to the Penalties of Death, or such other Judgment as a Court-martial should inflict.

'Secondly, That the Law, repealed by his Majesty, constituted a Court-martial for the Trial of Offenders, which the Bill before me has not done; not to mention the loose Manner and pernicious Consequences of giving Liberties to evil disposed Persons of pretending they are actual Members of certain Congregations, when they are not; and only declare themselves so occasionally, in order to avoid defending their Country, which good and loyal Subjects are always ready to do. — By which Conduct the best and bravest of the People will be obliged to expose their Persons for the Defence and Protection of the Whole, and even of the worst.

'For the above weighty Reasons, I cannot withdraw any of my Amendments, and am obliged to reject your Militia Bill, as being injurious to the equal Privileges of the People, as well as inconsistent with the just Rights of Government, the Safety and Security of the Province, and our Duty to his Majesty.

'I am sorry you do not think the Militia Act of the Lower Counties worthy your Imitation. It is certainly thought a good one by the Lords of Trade, who have rejected a warm Application made against it; whereas the old Law of this Province was repealed on their Lordships Report by the King in Council, and your present Bill is worse than that Law, and liable to more Objections.

'In Answer to your Charge of Partiality in Favour of the Lower Counties, I would observe, that, before my Arrival, it is well known they gave, for the King's Use, as much as their Circumstances would permit; and no Doubt they would have, since that, shewn the same Spirit of Loyalty and Duty to his Majesty, if an Opportunity had been given them. But your Sitting prevented the Continuance of their first Meeting; and since that my Attention has been so much engaged by the Business of this Government, the Indian Conferences, your long Sessions of Assembly, and the great Affairs to be transacted with the Commander in Chief, that I could not attend their Adjournment; so that the 1757. June 22.

'Imputation attempted to be caſt on me, as well as the Lower Aſſembly, you know to 'be unjuſt, and without the leaſt Foundation.

'Your being pleaſed to find Fault with that Aſſembly for keeping their Tranſactions 'from public View, gives me to hope that you will, for the future, favour me with re-'gular Copies of your Minutes, in Conformity to the conſtant Practice of the Houſe of 'Commons, whoſe Votes are publiſhed daily. This I further demand of you, becauſe 'you profeſs your Determination of laying your Tranſactions before the King's Mi-'niſters, which I very much approve of.

'As to your Apprehenſions of being loaded with the Defects of the Aſſembly of the 'Lower Counties, I would obſerve, that your Proceedings are too well known, both in 'America and Great-Britain, to admit of any Doubt: You need not therefore be under 'any Concern about the World's miſtaking the Conduct of any other Aſſembly for yours.

'You ſeem ſurpriſed that I did not lay before you my Stipulations with my Lord 'Loudoun, which, relating to a ſecret Expedition, could not at firſt, with Propriety, be 'communicated to the Aſſembly. And beſides this, as the Detachment I ſtipulated for, 'was to be draughted out of the Provincial Forces, I ſaw it was impoſſible to ſpare any 'till ſuch Time as theſe Forces ſhould be completed, of which there was no Kind of 'Proſpect at that Time.

'My Duty therefore was to urge the Commiſſioners to encourage the Recruiting Ser-'vice, by giving a proper Bounty to each Recruit. That Affair hung too long on Hand; 'at firſt only a Dollar Levy Money was given; at laſt a Piſtole; and without any other 'Allowance to the Officers than Half a Dollar per Man, which has ſince been taken 'away.

'The Aſſembly has met, and may meet often again, without ſeeing the Complement 'of Troops raiſed, as the Commiſſioners have Yeſterday notified their Reſolution of al-'lowing nothing to the Officers.

'The Method, if it be ever intended, to complete the Levies, will be to give the ſame 'Bounty Money as is allotted in his Majeſty's Service, which is founded on Reaſon and 'Experience. We have no real Soldiers to be depended on for any Time, but ſuch as 'are inliſted on the new Eſtabliſhment. As ſuch uncommon Bounty Money was of-'fered in Jerſey, and ſuch great Encouragement given to inliſt in the King's Troops, it 'became abſolutely neceſſary to offer even more than the Piſtole; ſeveral of our Men, 'whoſe Times were out, having actually inliſted either with one or other of them; and 'this was ſtill the greater Misfortune, as one old Soldier was equal to three new Recruits.

'What is to be underſtood from the Paragraph of my Meſſage on Indian Affairs, is, I 'think, not hard to conceive. It being my Duty to deliver his Majeſty's Orders, ſignified 'by my Lord Loudoun, with regard to Indian Treaties, you are to conſider them as ſuch, 'and not as his Lordſhip's or mine; it grieves me to tell you, that what you call Re-'flections, publiſhed with Pleaſure by me, reſpecting the Conduct of the People of this 'Province, are Obſervations of the Commander in Chief on their paſt Meaſures, which 'I could not anſwer keeping ſecret; therefore it is too delicate a Matter for me, who 'am not perſonally concerned, even to attempt to anſwer your Objections. However, 'you will remark, that Lord Loudoun expreſsly ſays, That the People of this Province 'have obſtinately inſiſted in carrying on Negotiations with the Indians, and have even ſent to 'negotiate with them ſeparately in the King's Agent's own Houſe; which was very par-'ticular, when the Governors themſelves were ſtrictly forbid to meddle with Indian 'Treaties in any Shape whatſoever.

'Nothing ſhall be wanting on my Part, in Conjunction with the King's Agent, to 'ſettle any Differences ſubſiſting with the Indians. Numbers have been Witneſſes to my 'Candour and Impartiality in the late Tranſactions for that Purpoſe, and particularly ſome 'of your own Body. How can you then preſume to inſinuate a Doubt to the contrary?

'As a Judge, I can never ſuppoſe an Accuſation proved before it be heard, even againſt 'the loweſt Perſon of the Country; nor ought I, when the firſt and higheſt are miſ-'repreſented and blackened. Which of you, Gentlemen, would like ſuch Treatment? 'And what would you ſay, if a chief Magiſtrate acted ſuch a Part in Matters relating to 'your Character and Property?

'The Proprietaries, who have the Government under the King's Charter, are ready 'to make ample Satisfaction to the Indians, in caſe any Fraud, with reſpect to Purchaſes, 'appears to have been committed by their Agents; but the Charge is ſo heinous againſt 'Gentlemen in their high Station, that it will be a particular Pleaſure to me to right their 'Honour, and at the ſame Time do the Indians Juſtice, in caſe it appears that their 'Complaints are well founded.

'What you have therefore ſo confidently affirmed to be the chief Cauſe of the preſent 'Indian Ravages, is far from being ſo evident as to admit of no Contradiction. Tee-'dyuſcung, at the laſt Conferences at Eaſton, openly and honeſtly declared, that the ſup-'poſed fraudulent Purchaſe was not the real Cauſe, though the Blow fell heavier on that 'Account. How then can it be aſſerted, that the Hoſtilities aroſe on Account of other

'Purchaſes,

1757. June 22.

'Purchaſes, whereof he has never made any Mention? Nay, you know further, that the 'Deputies of the Six Nations made no Complaint of this Nature, though the Queſtion 'was put to them in the moſt public and ſolemn Manner during the late Conferences at 'Lancaſter, whether they had any Thing to complain of againſt this Province, with 'regard to Land Purchaſes, or on any other Account whatſoever.

'Purchaſes from the Indians have always been approved of by this Province as the 'moſt equitable and ſatisfactory Method of ſettling the Country, which you know the 'Proprietaries, in Compliance with the Royal Grant, are under the ſtrongeſt Obligations 'to do: Wherefore, if there be nothing to complain of in the Manner of making ſuch 'Purchaſes, there can be no Objection to the Extent of them, whilſt ſo neceſſary for the 'Security of the Inhabitants; eſpecially when it is repreſented to me, that the ſettled 'Part of the Province, is not one Eighth Part of the Whole, and the other Seven 'Eighths are yet open to the Indians.

'In the Concluſion of your Meſſage, you mention great Neglects in the Recruiting, 'and other Parts of the Military Service. I agree with you, that what relates to Re-'cruiting has been too much neglected, and never was worſe carried on in any Country 'in the World: Of that I have ſpoke above, and long ſince offered a Remedy. As to 'the reſt, conſtant Patroles and ranging Parties have been ordered out; but even this 'Service has been materially checked, when the Soldiers wanted both Pay and Neceſ-'ſaries; and more particularly, when the very moderate Demands of Lieutenant Colonel 'Armſtrong were refuſed, who had Inſtructions to encamp with Three Hundred Men, 'the latter End of March, or the Beginning of April, in an advanced Poſt, to cover that 'Frontier. The Attacks of the Enemy might either have been prevented, or they cut 'off in their Retreat; many Murders conſequently would not have been committed, and 'many Priſoners not led into the worſt of Slavery, if my reaſonable Application had been 'complied with, which would have put the Public to very little Expence; and the Re-'mainder of the Proprietary Preſent was more than a ſufficient Fund for that Expedition. 'As to the Aſſertion of the Numbers of each Battalion not being kept up, it has been 'ſhewn to have been owing to the determined Reſolution of the Commiſſioners to retard 'the Recruiting Service. Standing Orders were given, on my firſt coming, to re-inliſt 'Men whoſe Times were expired, and to complete the ſeveral Companies. The two 'Battalions of the Pennſylvania Regiment have been generally complete, which, all Things 'conſidered, is to be looked upon as next to a Miracle.

'With reſpect to the Auguſta Regiment, about Three Months ago the Men were ready 'to mutiny for want of Pay; the Commanding Officer expected to be beſieged every 'Hour; the Garriſon was very weak, and the Works not finiſhed. It was abſolutely 'neceſſary that the Officers ſhould remain there for the Defence of the Place; and they 'were ordered to uſe their utmoſt Endeavours to quiet the Men, who loudly demanded 'their Pay and Diſcharges, and engage them to re-inliſt; nor could they be ſpared to 'go a recruiting till Money was ſent to pay the Regiment. I was even under a Ne-'ceſſity to re-inforce the Garriſon with three Companies of another Battalion, and their Of-'ficers; and even more were ordered for the Defence of that important Place, who re-'fuſed to march for want of Pay and Neceſſaries.

'You do well to inform me of the Miſconduct of Perſons employed in the Service of 'the Government; but you would have done better to have mentioned their Names. 'I have commiſſioned none ſuch: Bring your Proofs, and they ſhall be removed. General 'Aſperſions have a very bad Appearance, and too frequently are ill-grounded and malicious.

'The whole of theſe Tranſactions will be tranſmitted Home as ſoon as poſſible.

'Thus I have endeavoured to anſwer your moſt extraordinary Meſſage with Temper 'and Moderation. If you chuſe in public Buſineſs to lay aſide Decency, it does not 'become a Gentleman in my Station to want Manners.

June 22, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Houſe taking into Conſideration the foregoing Meſſage,

Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Maſters, Mr. Leech, Mr. Roberdeau, Mr. Yorke and Mr. Weſt be a Committee to prepare an Anſwer to the ſame.

The Queſtion being then put, Whether the Houſe adhere to the Bill for forming and regulating the Militia, &c. returned by the Governor, as it now ſtands, without admitting the Governor's Amendments? the ſame was, by a great Majority, reſolved in the Affirmative.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Five o'Clock To-morrow Afternoon. Adjournment

The Governor ſent down, by the Secretary, ſundry Papers, with a written Meſſage, to the Houſe, which was read, and follows in theſe Words: June 23. Poſt Meridiem

GENTLEMEN,

'ON the Intelligence herewith ſent you, which I received this Afternoon by Ex-'preſs from Colonel Stanwix, I am obliged to preſs you, in the warmeſt Terms, 'to A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

1757. June 23. ‘ to encourage the raiſing Recruits, by giving the ſame Levy Money to the Officers for ‘ each Recruit as is given in the King's Service, or by the neighbouring Provinces; the ‘ Safety of the Country, and the Lives of the Inhabitants depending on the Troops be- ‘ ing completed as expeditiouſly as is poſſible.—I hourly expect further Accounts from ‘ Colonel Stanwix, and deſire you will not ſeparate till it is confirmed where the Attack ‘ will fall.

June 23, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY.”

The Papers delivered with the above Meſſage were a Letter from Colonel John Stanwix to the Governor, and two others from Colonel Waſhington to Colonel Stanwix, with Intelligence of a large Party of French and Indians marching towards Fort Cumberland.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Eight o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

June 24. The Committee appointed to prepare an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-ſecond Inſtant, reported, they had eſſayed a Draught for that Purpoſe, which they delivered at the Table, and the ſame was read, and conſidered.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem. The Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-ſecond Inſtant was again conſidered, and agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed.

A Petition from the Commiſſioners and Aſſeſſors of Northampton County was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that ſuch are the Diſtreſſes and neceſſitous Circumſtances of many of the Inhabitants of the ſaid County, that the Petitioners apprehend it will be both oppreſſive and fruitleſs to levy the additional Tax, impoſed by the late Supplementary Act, on many of the ſaid People, who are ſo much impoveriſhed by the late Indian Ravages on that Part of the Frontier Settlements, as to be altogether unable to pay the ſame.

The Houſe being acquainted that one of the ſaid Commiſſioners and Aſſeſſors attended without, they were called in, and acquainted from the Chair, by Order of the Houſe, that it was the Opinion of the Houſe, that, as Commiſſioners, they had a diſcretional Power, by which they were authorized to conſider the Circumſtances of ſuch who, by Reaſon of the Indian Incurſions, were rendered incapable to pay the Tax, in the ſame Manner the Commiſſioners were authorized by the County Rate and Levy Act.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

June 25. The Houſe taking into Conſideration the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-ſecond Inſtant, with the Memorial of Sir John St. Clair, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That Mr. Leech, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Maſters and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to review and conſider the Laws now in Force for repairing and regulating the Roads within this Province, and bring in a Bill to ſupply the Defects of ſaid Laws, if any ſuch ſhall appear.

The Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-ſecond Inſtant being tranſcribed, the ſame was again read, ſigned by the Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, and is as follows:

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage from the Aſſembly. THE Houſe met at this Time, in Purſuance of the Governor's Summons, ſincerely diſpoſed to do the Public Buſineſs with that Unanimity and Diſpatch the Good of the People and his Majeſty's Service required, and expected to find the ſame Temper of Mind prevailing with the Governor. But we were both concerned and ſurpriſed, when we peruſed his Meſſage, at the Beginning of this Sitting, and found in it, among many evident Reflections, two Charges of a moſt extraordinary Nature; that we had offered to your Honour an “Anti-conſtitutional” and an “Extraordinary Bill; and that the People “ of this Province had interfered with his Majeſty's Prerogative of making War and “ Peace.” Charges that plainly include a Deſign to ſubvert the Principles of the Conſtitution, and to invade one of the moſt ſettled Prerogatives of the Crown. And Charges, which, as they were without the leaſt Foundation, our Duty to his Majeſty, and a Regard to Truth, obliged us to refute; which we apprehend is fully done, by a fair and impartial Repreſentation of a Number of Facts in our late Anſwer to that Meſſage. But as the Governor has been pleaſed, in his Meſſage of the Twenty-ſecond Inſtant, to repeat thoſe Accuſations, with a Number of additional and aggravating Cenſures on our Conduct, without any juſt Reaſon, and we can have no room to doubt, but the Perſon who can cenſure without Cauſe, will not be backward in miſrepreſenting our Actions, to ſupport thoſe Cenſures, even to “the King's Miniſters,” we hope the Governor will excuſe us, if we cannot paſs over thoſe Cenſures in Silence.

The Governor is pleaſed to aſſert, that “the firſt Part of our former Meſſage contained “ nothing more than Excuſes why we would not comply with his Majeſty's Demands.” That Part of our Meſſage was a plain Narrative of Facts, referring to the Dates of Letters, the Supplies granted, and the known Circumſtances and Burdens of the People; from whence it appeared that his Majeſty's Demands had been even anticipated by the Loyalty and Zeal of his Subjects in this Province, in granting larger Supplies than they could could well pay, and greater than moſt of the other Colonies have given. This being the Caſe, we are by no Means doubtful but his Majeſty, when he ſhall be truly acquainted with the Facts, will be convinced of our Loyalty and Affection to his Royal Perſon, and our Regard for the People we repreſent.—Nor are we terrified at the repeated and numerous Threats the Governor is pleaſed to interſperſe throughout the moſt of his Meſſages, of repreſenting our Conduct to the King's Miniſters. We ſhall take the neceſſary Care to detect any Miſrepreſentations, and can chearfully rely on the Goodneſs of our Cauſe, and the Juſtice of the Crown and a Britiſh Parliament, in determining it. 1757. June 25.

The Governor's Miſrepreſentation of our Conduct can appear from nothing plainer than the Pains he has taken to prove that we have treated Lord Loudoun "with Indecency, "and unjuſtly cenſured him." Can it be poſſible the Governor could miſunderſtand the Words of the Meſſage? Or could he, whoſe Duty it is to protect us, unjuſtly intend to make that Nobleman an Enemy to the Province, by perverting the moſt decent and reſpectful Sentiments of his Lordſhip into unjuſt Cenſures? The Words of the Meſſage, referred to by the Governor, are, "We cannot doubt, from his Excellency's Activity and "Conduct in his Station, of his Concern at the Danger this, as well as the other, Co- "lonies are expoſed to: And we have Reaſon to apprehend, from his known Juſtice, that "had he duly weighed the large Sum of Money already granted by us to his Majeſty, "and been fully acquainted with the Circumſtances of the People, he would have waved "preſſing us at this Time for an additional Number of Forces." Was it unnatural or indecent to preſume that his Lordſhip, a Stranger in the Province, lately arrived from Europe, intruſted with Matters of the utmoſt Importance, which muſt neceſſarily engroſs his whole Attention, ſhould be unacquainted with the Circumſtances of the People? Or is it rational to conclude his Excellency could know the true State of the ſeveral Provinces, and particularly that of Pennſylvania, though but a Fort'night in it? If not, how could the Governor ſo manifeſtly miſrepreſent our Actions, and inſinuate, that his Lordſhip "had not eſcaped our Cenſures." But of this his Lordſhip is to judge, to whoſe Juſtice and Honour we chearfully refer this unkind Reflection upon us from our Governor, without the leaſt Foundation.

In order to juſtify the Governor's Conduct in rejecting the Militia Bill, he is pleaſed to aſſign two weighty Reaſons, as he calls them; Firſt, "That the late Bill which paſſed "the Houſe of Commons ſubjected the Militia, in Time of Inſurrection or Invaſion, to "the Penalties of Death, or ſuch other Judgments as a Court-martial ſhould inflict."—It is ſtrange, that the Governor cannot diſcriminate between that Bill and the Bill preſented by this Houſe. The former is not a general Militia Bill, nor obligatory on more than one Twentieth Part of the Community at one and the ſame Time, but every Freeholder was to have the Alternative of ſerving, or hiring a fit Perſon in his room; and if any of the Freeholders did not chuſe to ſubject themſelves to the Judgment of a Court-martial, they might by this Means avoid it. From whence we may rationally conclude, that Militia would be chiefly compoſed of hired Perſons; and this ſeems ſtill more probable from their receiving the ſame Pay as the King's Troops, and their being obliged to muſter on Sundays. The latter is a general Militia Bill, equally obligatory on the whole Community, without any ſuch Alternative; and therefore every Freeholder in the Province would be ſubject to theſe Penalties, without any Opportunity of avoiding them. — Had the former Bill extended to all the Freemen of Great-Britain, and obliged them to give their perſonal Attendance, without ſuch Choice, can it be reaſonably preſumed, that ſo wiſe a Body of Men, the great Supporters of the Engliſh Liberties, would have paſſed it?

Secondly, "That the Law repealed by his Majeſty conſtituted a Court-martial for the "Trial of Offenders, which the Bill before him has not done."—'Tis true, no ſuch Court was conſtituted by the Bill: Nor was it neceſſary, as it contained ſevere Penalties on Delinquents, and thoſe Penalties are directed to be recovered in the Courts of Juſtice, and before the Officers of the Militia. The Conſtitution of a Court-martial, in that Law, as it was repealed, might be one of the Reaſons of that Repeal. Nothing elſe can be naturally deduced from it.—How then could the Governor think of giving ſuch a Reaſon for his refuſing ſo neceſſary a Bill? The Choice of ſo bad an Argument is a clear Proof to us that good Reaſons are ſcarce with the Governor to ſupport his Conduct in this Reſpect. And as to the looſe Manner, and pernicious Conſequences, "of giving Liberties "to evil diſpoſed Perſons of pretending they are actual Members of certain Con- "gregations when they are not;"—we beg Leave to anſwer, "The evil Perſons" of every Congregation have the ſame Liberties, upon paying the Fines for Non-attendance on the Military Duties; to enforce which, an equal and conſiderable Fine is laid on every Perſon capable of bearing Arms; and the Perſons of thoſe "certain Congregations" are not excuſed from their Duty, but upon the Payment of the ſame Sums that are impoſed on others for their Delinquencies.—Where, then, is the Injuſtice or Inequality of the Bill?

But we are ſorry to find, that no Militia Bill, however neceſſary for the Defence of the Province, will meet with the Governor's Concurrence, unleſs it is framed in ſuch Manner as will enable deſigning Men to overturn the Conſtitution, ſubvert all our 1757. June 25. Rights and Privileges, and perſecute ſeveral Sects of religious Societies, and honeſt and loyal Members of the Community, whom the Governor is pleaſed to favour with the kind Appellation "of the worſt of Perſons."

The Governor is pleaſed to inform us, that "before his Arrival, the Lower Counties "had given, for the King's Uſe, as much as their Circumſtances would permit." It had been well in the Governor to have particularized the Sum given, that others might judge of that Matter as well as himſelf.—We never have heard of their granting but Two Thouſand Pounds. If more has been given, it is but trifling, compared with their Circumſtances, and the Neceſſities of the Colonies. Their Lands are rich; many of their Farmers wealthy, and have all the Advantages of our Market, to which they bring their Commodities at little Expence. Thoſe Counties, we preſume, are capable of ſupplying at leaſt the Proportion of a Tenth Part of the Aids of this Government; and yet, while this Province has expended in the Defence of itſelf and that Government near 220,000 Pounds in a ſhort Time, we know of no Taxes laid by that Aſſembly towards their own Defence, or the Support of the War, except a Part of their Exciſe, out of which the Grants we have mentioned were made.—And this, the Governor is pleaſed to ſay, was "as much as their Circumſtances would permit," and accordingly he has never called upon them for any further Aid, though he is expreſsly ordered by the Royal Inſtructions ſo to do, and has now been near Twelve Months in the Province.

The Stipulations with Lord Loudoun, the Governor ſays, "related to a ſecret Ex-"pedition, and could not at firſt, with Propriety, be communicated to the Aſſembly." They might, perhaps, relate to a ſecret Expedition, but if ſo, it was by no Means ſecretly conducted; for, during the Sitting of the Aſſembly, it was pretty generally known, and talked of, as well by the Officers of the Army as others, that ſuch an Expedition was intended. Where then could be the Impropriety of communicating it to the Repreſentatives of the People, without whoſe Aid the Stipulations could not be complied with? Why did he not requeſt our Aſſiſtance in his Meſſage at the Beginning of this Sitting? and why was the Aſſembly obliged to offer their Aid without his Requeſt? From whence it ſeems clear, that the Governor was ſo far from thinking it improper to be communicated, that he did not even think it neceſſary; but was poſſeſſed with a Notion that he could comply with that Engagement without our Aſſiſtance, though he had expreſsly, by the Tenor of the Stipulations, agreed ſo to do at the Time he entered into them.

Your Honour is pleaſed to agree with us, "that what relates to Recruiting has been too "much neglected, and never worſe carried on in any Country in the World." And you further add, "That this has been owing to a determined Reſolution in the Commiſſioners, "to retard the Recruiting Service." The Matter then is reduced to this ſingle Point, Whether the Governor or the Commiſſioners are to blame? We ſhall not here enter into a full Juſtification of thoſe Gentlemen; perhaps they may hereafter think it neceſſary to vindicate their own Conduct: But as they have laid their Minutes before us, in order to juſtify their Conduct to this Houſe, we beg Leave to ſay, it appears to us from thence, that as ſoon as the Governor recommended the giving a Piſtole Bounty, for the Inliſting of Men, they immediately and chearfully agreed to it; nor does it appear that your Honour ever requeſted a larger Bounty, or ever made that Requeſt till the 25th of April laſt. And the Reaſons thoſe Gentlemen aſſign to us, in Vindication of their Conduct in not allowing Five Pounds a Man to the Officers for each Recruit, agreeable to the Governor's Recommendation, are as follow: Firſt, Becauſe many Perſons of Reputation and Intereſt in the Province had offered, and are yet ready, to raiſe Companies of Men, without any Expence to the Public. Secondly, Becauſe, from the Nature of the Service, the large Wages that are given, the Bounty offered, and the Inclination the People have ever ſhewn to enter into that Contract with the Government, the Commiſſioners had Reaſon to expect the Battalions might be kept complete with very little Expence or Trouble, had recruiting Orders been timely given. And this appears from your Honour's own Words, in a former Meſſage, when you informed the Houſe (however inconſiſtent with the Meſſage we are now conſidering reſpecting that Matter) "That the Officers "met with Succeſs in Recruiting." And laſtly, as great Part of the Sum granted was then expended, and the Remainder not likely to prove ſufficient to anſwer the Purpoſes intended, they could not be ſo regardleſs of their Duty to the Public, and laviſh of the People's Money, as to throw, unneceſſarily, Seven Thouſand Pounds into the Pockets of a Set of Officers, from whom, either through the Default of their Commanders, or their own Neglect of Duty, the People have hitherto received but little Protection.

Thus far the Commiſſioners Conduct appears to us juſtifiable. But your Honour is pleaſed to proceed in your Cenſures of that Board, by ſaying "that conſtant Patroles and "ranging Parties have been ordered out;" and that "even this Service has been ma-"terially checked, when the Soldiers wanted Pay and Neceſſaries; and more particularly "when the very moderate Demands of Lieutenant Colonel Armſtrong were refuſed, "who had Inſtructions to encamp with Three Hundred Men the latter End of March, or "the 1757. June 25.

"the Beginning of April, in an advanced Post, to cover the Frontiers." If such Orders have been given, it can be no difficult Matter to prove "the Misconduct of the Persons employed in the Service of the Government," as your Honour calls on us to do. Was it not the Duty of the Officers to obey those Orders? Have not those Orders been almost altogether neglected, and the Men on the Frontiers sleeping in the Forts, while the adjacent Inhabitants have been murdered, without the least Attempt to relieve them? Were not near twenty of the Inhabitants, during the Time of the last Treaty at Lancaster, inhumanly butchered and captivated within thirty Miles of that Place, while the Troops, for the Space of six Days, remained inactive in their Forts, nor ever marched to their Assistance? And have not the Back Inhabitants more than once represented and complained of these Things? But "this Service was materially checked," as is said, by the Mens wanting both "Pay and Necessaries." That the Men ever wanted Necessaries, we are informed, is a Mistake; the Commissioners, whom the Governor is thus pleased to censure, having repeatedly staked their Credit and Fortunes to supply them, when the Governor arbitrarily withheld his Assent to the reasonable Bill, which, after a long and unnecessary Delay, he passed for their Pay and Support.

The Governor next proceeds to censure the Commissioners for refusing the "very mo-"derate Demands of Colonel Armstrong." We need only mention the Facts, evidently to shew how unkind and unreasonable the Governor is in this Reflection. This Demand was laid before the Board at a Time when the Province was Twenty Thousand Pounds in Debt, and the Public Money, of which they had the Disposition, entirely expended, save about Three Thousand Pounds of the Arrears of the Proprietaries Free Gift, which was then unpaid, and alone remained to discharge the Public Debts. Yet so extremely unreasonable was the Governor, as to expect that the Commissioners would further stake their Fortunes, already engaged for more than they could with Justice to their Families spare, and that upon the Public Credit; when, from the Governor's Conduct, they had as little Reason to think he would ever pass our reasonable Supply Bills to indemnify them, as they had to expect that the Proprietaries Receiver General would pay the Remainder of the Free Gift, for which he has been so often dunned, that the Commissioners had Reason to suspect there was no Design to pay it at all. But since this Encampment of Colonel Armstrong, as your Honour says, would "have cut off the Retreat of the Enemy, "prevented the many Murders that have been committed, and the Captivating the many "Prisoners that have been led into the worst of Slavery;" how has it happened that this Demand has never been made of the present Commissioners, since the Supplies have been granted, and since they have had it in their Power to have complied with it? And why was not Colonel Armstrong sent out to encamp there, when the Commissioners recommended it to the Governor at Lancaster? Are the Circumstances of the Case altered? Is not that Encampment as necessary now to cover the Frontiers, and to protect the Inhabitants, as it was then? Or, is it not more so, since this is the Season to expect the Enemy?

We are truly surprised at the Governor's Information, "That standing Orders were "given at his first coming to re-inlist Men whose Times were expired." Those Orders, it is well known, never were executed, nor attempted so to be. The Commissioners had it not in their Power to execute them; that was the Province of the Governor. And it seems to us, as if it was not expected that they should be obeyed, as nothing was ever done to enforce an Obedience to them, and as more particular Orders were granted to the several Battalions since. But we entreat the Governor would recollect a few Facts, which will set this Matter in a clear Light, and fully justify the Conduct of the Innocent. On the Twenty-third Day of March the Supply Bill was passed; a few Days after the Money was struck, and at the Disposal of the Governor and Commissioners. On the Twenty-fifth of April, as is said before, your Honour applied to the Commissioners to give a Bounty, which they immediately complied with; and yet, notwithstanding there was Money granted, a Bounty allowed for each Recruit, and the several Companies of the Augusta Regiment very incomplete, and daily diminishing, no particular Orders were given, as we are informed, nor the Officers sent out on the Recruiting Service, until the Eighteenth of May; and we have Reason to believe would not have been then, had not the Commissioners, moved with the Distresses of the People, by their Letter of that Date to your Honour, warmly requested that it might be done. But it is alleged, "that the Officers could not be spared to go a-recruiting, until Money was sent to "pay the Regiment." More than one Officer out of a Company does not seem necessary to be absent on that Service; and one would imagine, under the particular Circumstances of that Battalion, it had been more prudent to have spared one of each Company, had his Place been supplied by a Draught from another Battalion, than totally to neglect the Recruiting Service For by this Means the Fort would have received daily Supplies of Men, at that Time so much wanted, instead of their constantly diminishing in Number.

From what Part of our Message your Honour could collect that heinous Charge of "Fraud"

1757. June 25.

" Fraud" againſt the Proprietaries in their Indian Purchaſes, we are at a Loſs to judge. That Meſſage is now before us, and we cannot find the Word " Fraud" or " Pro- " prietaries" mentioned therein on that Occaſion, nor any Thing that can bear ſuch a Meaning. It would be wrong in us to criminate any Man unheard, much leſs Gentlemen in the high Station our Proprietaries bear in this Province; and the Governor muſt own, on Reflection (notwithſtanding what he has been pleaſed to inſinuate) that we have not done it; and we aſſure the Governor, it will give us as much " Pleaſure" as it can give him, " to right their Honour," and at the ſame Time do the Indians Juſtice, in " Caſe it appears that their Complaints are well founded."

We are by no Means fond of entering into a Controverſy with the Governor reſpecting Indian Purchaſes, being in Hopes the Indian Complaints will be ſettled, and Tranquillity thereby reſtored to the Province; but cannot avoid adding, that we are ſtill of our former Opinion, " that the Cauſe of the preſent Indian Incurſions on the Province, have ariſen, " in a great Meaſure, from the exorbitant Purchaſes made, or ſuppoſed to be made, of " the Indians." This appears from the general Tenor of both the late Treaties; though ſome Parts of the former, reſpecting the Indian Purchaſes, are ſo faintly and incongruouſly expreſſed, that they are ſcarce intelligible. This is the Caſe with that Part the Governor relies on to refute our Aſſertion. —— But a little Reflection on ſome other Parts of that Treaty, which are clearly expreſſed, will evidently prove it. Teedyuſcung with great Ardour declared, " that the Lands lying between Tohiccon and Wyoming, on " the River Suſquehanna, were his, and that it was taken from him by Fraud." And the Speaker of the Six United Nations, at the Lancaſter Treaty, expreſſes himſelf in this Manner: " Brothers, you deſired us to open our Hearts, and inform you of every " Thing we knew that might give Riſe to the Quarrel between you and our Nephews " and Brothers."——He proceeds to declare, that upon ſome Difference between them and the Engliſh, the Six Nations " thought proper to remove them, giving them Lands " to plant and hunt on at Wyoming and Juniata, on Suſquehanna; but that the Engliſh " covetous of Land, made Plantations there, and ſpoiled the Indians Hunting Ground: " That they complained to the Six Nations, who looked over thoſe Lands, and found " their Complaints to be true." After this open Declaration of the Six Nations, joined with that of Teedyuſcung, how can it be doubted, that the large Purchaſes, made by the Proprietaries Agents, have given them Diſguſt?——Have not the Six Nations, at their laſt Treaty, recommended it to the Governor, as the only Means of reſtoring Peace to the Province, " rather to give ſome Part of their Fields back again, than differ with " them." Is it not now manifeſt that nothing leſs will ſatisfy them, but a ſurrendering up of their Hunting Country, and the only Land they have left to live in, and a Settlement of a Boundary, not to be encroached on, between us? And ſuppoſing it true, that " the ſettled Parts of the Province are not more than one Eighth," the Concluſion of the Governor, that " the other ſeven Eighths are yet left to the Indians," will by no Means ſatisfy them. They juſtly conſider, that Purchaſes, however made, give a Pretence to remove the Poſſeſſors at Pleaſure: That ſhould they be removed from the Lands already purchaſed, or pretended ſo to be, they have no Place to ſubſiſt in; and in this Caſe it will be but little Satisfaction to them to reflect, that it is not ſettled.

We aſſure the Governor, that nothing could give us more Pleaſure, than the Reſolution he has taken, " in Conjunction with the King's Agent, to ſettle any Differences " ſubſiſting with the Indians." Nothing, we are convinced, can ſo effectually conciliate the Minds of the Natives to his Majeſty's Intereſt, as ſo ſalutary a Meaſure; and therefore we aſſure your Honour, that nothing in our Power that may contribute to ſo good a Work, ſhall be wanting. Your Honour has begun, and made a conſiderable Progreſs therein, with a good Degree of Succeſs, with which the Indians have expreſſed their Satisfaction; and therefore we requeſt your Honour will be preſent at the enſuing Conference, as your Non-attendance will certainly occaſion great Diſguſt to the Indians, and from their known Diſpoſition, in all Probability, deſtroy the good Effects that may be expected from it. We have recommended it to the Commiſſioners, who will bear the Expence of the Conference, and ſupply your Honour with what Money you ſhall think proper to call on them for, to defray your Expences on that Occaſion.

We are heartily ſorry the Governor ſhould ſo far miſunderſtand our Meſſage, as to think in any Part of it we had " laid aſide Decency." We are not conſcious of the Juſtice of that Charge. It is our undoubted Right, as an Aſſembly of this Province, to repreſent the public Grievances, and the Miſmanagement of public Affairs, and to vindicate our Conduct, which has been unjuſtly miſrepreſented. This we have done, and this we hope we may ever do, without juſtly incurring the Imputation of " Want of " Manners;" as an Omiſſion thereof would be a manifeſt Breach of our Duty to the People we repreſent.

Signed, by Order of the Houſe,
ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

June 25, 1757.

Ordered,

Ordered, That Mr. Douglas and Mr. West wait on the Governor with the foregoing Answer from the House, and acquaint his Honour, that the Members, having gone through the Business that lay before them, incline to adjourn to the Eighth Day of August next: And that if in the mean Time it be agreeable to the Governor that some of the Gentlemen of the Assembly do attend him to Easton, to the expected Conferences with Teedyuscung, and other Indians, the House will nominate the Committee who waited on his Honour to Lancaster, for that Purpose: Also, that the House, upon considering the Memorial of Sir John St. Clair, and the Governor's Message sent down therewith, have appointed a Committee to revise the Laws in Force for repairing and regulating Highways, and to bring in a Bill to supply their Defects, if any shall appear. 1757. June 25.

The Members return and reported, that they had waited on the Governor, and delivered the Message of the House according to Order; to which his Honour was pleased to answer, that he had a short Message just ready to send to the House, which it would be necessary for them to consider before they adjourned. —— That they also acquainted his Honour, the House had appointed the same Members who waited on him to Lancaster, with Mr. Hughes and Mr. Roberdeau, to attend him at the proposed Conferences to be held with Teedyuscung, at Easton, if it would be agreeable to him; upon which his Honour made a Bow, but returned no Answer.

The Governor sent down a Message, by the Secretary, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

'IN Case of an Attack, which we have the greatest Reason to expect, it will be necessary for me to raise Volunteers; to order a Detachment of the Militia of the Lower Counties to march for the Defence of this Province; and further, to apply for a Body of the Militia of New-Jersey. These Troops should be supplied with Ammunition, Provisions, Carriages, Quarters, and such other Necessaries as may be wanted for the Conveniency of their Marching and Encampment; besides, there will be wanting Arms and Accoutrements for the Volunteers: I most earnestly recommend it to you to make the proper Provisions for these several Articles, otherwise the Consequence will be fatal to this Province. A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

June 25, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

Resolved, 1. That the House are desirous to pass, and have repeatedly presented to the Governor, a Bill for forming and regulating the Militia of this Province; which, had he thought proper to have given his Assent to, would have enabled him to have protected the People: And that his Refusal of the said Bill is a Denial of that Protection which they have a Right to demand, and was his incumbent Duty to have granted.

Resolved, 2. That this House having passed a Law for granting One Hundred Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, for the Raising and Maintaining Fourteen Hundred Men for the Defence of the Province, had the Governor taken the proper Care in recruiting the Provincial Regiments, would have been sufficient at this Time, with the Assistance of the King's Forces now on our Frontiers, to have defended the Province against any Number of the Enemy we have Reason to expect are coming against us.

Resolved, 3. That the said Supply Bill has invested the Provincial Commissioners with Power to dispose of the said One Hundred Thousand Pounds, for the Defence of the People, with the Assent of the Governor, and the House doubts not but they will chearfully defray the Expence of such prudent Measures as to them shall appear necessary for the Protection of the Province.

Resolved, 4. That it appears to us, that the Governor is determined to withhold that Protection from the People of this Province which a proper Militia might afford them, unless we will present him with such a Bill as will enable certain designing Men to subvert the Constitution, and deprive the Inhabitants of every Liberty they think worth enjoying.

The Clerk having made out a fair Transcript of the foregoing Resolves, Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. West wait upon the Governor therewith, and deliver the same, in Answer to his Honour's Message of this Day.

Then the House adjourned to the Eighth Day of August next, the Time of Adjournment fixed at the Close of their last Session. Adjournment

THIS Day Mr. Speaker and Twenty of the Members met, agreeable to their Adjournment, but a Quorum not appearing, they adjourned to Three o'Clock Tomorrow Afternoon. August 8. Post Meridiem Adjournment Ordered, That Mr. Baynton and Mr. West wait on the Governor, and acquaint him, August 9.

1757. Auguſt 9. that a Quorum of the Houſe being met, purſuant to Adjournment, deſire to know if his Honour hath any Buſineſs to lay before them.

A Petition from Joſeph Thomas was preſented to the Houſe, praying that he may be appointed the Officer for inſpecting and branding Flour exported from this Province, which was read, and Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor, reported, they had delivered the Meſſage according to Order; and that his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, he had not at preſent any Buſineſs to lay before the Houſe.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Tueſday, the 16th Inſtant, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon.

Auguſt 16. The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

Poſt Meridiem Ordered, That Mr. Pearne and Mr. Walker wait on the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe being met, deſire to know if his Honour hath any Thing to lay before them.

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor, reported, they had delivered the Meſſage according to Order; and that his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, the Secretary ſhould immediately attend the Houſe with a Meſſage.

A Meſſage by Mr. Secretary:

SIR,

" The Governor requires the Attendance of the Speaker, and the Houſe, in the Coun" cil Chamber immediately."

Then Mr. Speaker, with the whole Houſe, waited on the Governor; and being returned, Mr. Speaker reſumed the Chair, and reported, that the Governor had made a Speech to the Houſe, of which he had delivered him a Copy, with ſeveral Letters referred to in the ſaid Speech.

The Governor's Speech being read, follows in theſe Words, viz.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

Governor's Speech to the Aſſembly. ' THE Letters now laid before you contain the moſt alarming Accounts of the great ' and immediate Danger to which his Majeſty's Colonies are expoſed, by the Pro-
' greſs of a French Army, compoſed of Regulars, Canadians and Indians, to the Amount ' of Eleven Thouſand, and ſupplied with a large Train of Artillery, conſiſting of Thirty-
' ſix Pieces of Cannon, and, at leaſt, five Mortars. You will perceive that Fort William
' Henry was inveſted by them on the Third Inſtant, and ſurrendered on the Eighth; and ' that the next Day they attacked Fort Edward, where it is doubted they will not meet
' with a long Reſiſtance, as there was but a ſmall Force in it, and no Probability that ' the Draughts of the Militia would arrive Time enough, from the ſeveral Northern ' Governments, for its Relief.

' Where the Progreſs of our ever vigilant and reſtleſs Enemy will be ſtopped, God
' only knows; but from their Numbers, and the vaſt Rapidity with which they pro-
' ſecute their Advantages, we may be certain that ſome grand Deſign is on Foot, as a ' Counter-project to that of his Excellency the Earl of Loudoun, for over-running and ' conquering theſe Colonies in his Abſence. And it is more than probable, from other
' Intelligence now likewiſe laid before you, that we ſhall ſoon hear of another French
' Army falling upon theſe Southern Provinces from the Ohio and Miſſiſippi, in order to
' ſupport that which is now marching down upon Albany and New-York; while moſt
' of the Cities and Places of Trade lie expoſed to the Mercy of the ſmalleſt Force from ' Sea. This, Gentlemen, is a true, but melancholy, State of our Affairs. The moſt
' prejudiced Eye cannot now ſet the Danger at a Diſtance, nor preſume to treat theſe
' Accounts as the Tales of a Day, invented or exaggerated through Party Views.

' It is not my Intention to aggravate our preſent Diſtreſs by a painful Review of what ' is paſt; but can I, Gentlemen, conſiſtent with my Duty, forbear to mention that this ' Province has been the unhappy Seat of a cruel War for upwards of two Years, groaning
' under the bloody Outrages of a moſt barbarous Enemy, the Troops ſent to our Pro' tection defeated and deſtroyed, our Borders pillaged and laid waſte, great Numbers
' murdered and carried into Captivity, and Eleven Thouſand of the Enemy at this In-
' ſtant in the Heart of a neighbouring Province, at preſent carrying all before them;
' while we, amidſt this Series of Misfortunes, are neither put into a ſufficient Poſture
' to defend ourſelves, nor have Power or Authority, out of the vaſt Number of fighting
' Men this Government contains, to ſend a ſingle Man of them to the Relief of our ' Neighbours, without calling in the ranging Parties that are conſtantly out, and eva' cuating the few Garriſons we have on our Frontiers, now more than ever neceſſary for ' their Defence. Theſe Things, Gentlemen, are ſo ſurprizing in their Nature, that ' they would exceed all Credibility, if the Facts were not too flagrant, and too fatally
' felt. Let me therefore entreat you, if you make a Diſtinction between Liberty and ' Slavery, between your ineſtimable Privileges as Engliſhmen, and a miſerable Sub' jection

1757. August 16.

'jection to arbitrary Power, to embrace this Opportunity, perhaps the laſt, to retrieve, 'as much as poſſible, former Errors, and act vigorouſly, as your All is now at Stake.

'There are three Things which I muſt immediately recommend to you:

'Firſt, To enable me to ſend an effectual Succour to the City and Province of New-York, where a Stand, it is hoped, may be made, as a Moment's Time is not to be loſt. 'This, I conceive, can only be done by encouraging a Number of able-bodied and 'public-ſpirited Volunteers to go from this City, and the Parts adjacent, as the Provincials 'cannot be ſpared from our Frontiers, without expoſing the Province to immediate 'Danger; and were they even a Force ſufficient for the Purpoſe, are at too great a Di-'ſtance, and too much diſperſed, to bring any timely Relief. It will be neceſſary there-'fore to provide a ſufficient Quantity of Arms, Ammunition, Tents, and other Camp-'Neceſſaries, for thoſe who ſhall go on this Service.

'Secondly, As you cannot but be convinced that the Want of a Militia Law in this 'Province is of the moſt dangerous Conſequence, and has been a great Source of our 'preſent Misfortunes, encouraging the Enemy in their bloody Deſigns, as well knowing 'us to be an undiſciplined Multitude, incapable of defending ourſelves, or aſſiſting 'others; I muſt once more preſs, and earneſtly requeſt, you to unite, and enable me to 'call forth the natural Strength of the Province by an equitable and conſtitutional Mi-'litia Law, which will in the ſtrongeſt Manner provide for our own Defence, ſupply 'the Means of aſſiſting our Neighbours, and render us really formidable to the Enemy, 'and at a leſs Expence than the preſent Method of Defence.

'In forming this Law, I hope you will avoid thoſe Points on which we have formerly 'differed; and particularly, that you will not endeavour to take the Appointment of the 'Officers out of the Hand of the Government, as this would be deſtructive of the juſt 'Prerogative of the Crown, to which I can never conſent, his Majeſty having already 'ſignified his Pleaſure in that Matter by the Repeal of the former Law. Let me there-'fore, Gentlemen, prevail on you to frame a proper Bill, ſuitable to our preſent im-'minent Danger, on ſuch a Plan as has been found effectual by the Wiſdom and Ex-'perience of our Neighbours and Fellow-Subjects.

'Thirdly, I recommend it to you to make the beſt Improvement of our Alliance en-'tered into with the Indians at the late Treaty at Eaſton, by enabling me to give them 'Encouragement, together with Ammunition and other Neceſſaries, to act offenſively 'againſt the Enemy; and likewiſe to comply with the ſeveral Requeſts they made of me 'at the ſaid Treaty, the Particulars whereof you will ſee from the Minutes, which ſhall 'be laid before you.

'Theſe Things will require the utmoſt Diſpatch; and they are of ſuch great and im-'mediate Conſequence to the Preſervation of our Lives and Properties at this Juncture 'of extreme Danger, that I think it my Duty to enter upon no other Buſineſs till they 'are effectually provided for."

The Papers referred to in the foregoing Speech were reſpectively dated and entituled as follow, viz.

1. A Letter from his Excellency Governor Sharpe, dated July 14, 1757; containing ſome Account of the Strength of Fort Duqueſne, given by an Engliſh Priſoner taken at Fort Granville, who made his Eſcape from the French ſome ſhort Time before the Date of ſaid Letter.

2. A Letter from Mr. G. Bartman, Aid de Camp of General Webb, to Lieutenant Governor De Lancey, dated at Fort Edward, Auguſt 3, Twelve o'Clock at Night; acquainting him, that Fort William Henry was that Morning inveſted by 4000 Canadians, 4500 Indians, and ſome Regulars, with Thirty-ſix Pieces of Cannon, and at leaſt three Mortars.

3. A Letter from Capt. G. Chriſtie, dated at Albany, Auguſt 4, Twelve o'Clock, to Governor De Lancey; adviſing him, that he had juſt received Intelligence, by Expreſs, from General Webb, at Fort Edward, that a large Body of the Enemy, to the Amount of Eleven Hundred, had landed and inveſted Fort William Henry, and that he (Capt. Chriſtie) was in no Condition to give further Aſſiſtance to the ſaid Fort, having previouſly ſent thither all the Force he could ſpare from Fort Edward.

4. A Letter from Mr. Kennedy, Preſident of the Council at New-York, dated from thence, Auguſt 6, to Governor Denny; acquainting him, that Governor De Lancey embarked the Day before for Albany, and encloſing Copies of the Letters from Mr. Bartman and Capt. Chriſtie, to him, mentioned under No. 2 and 3.

5. A Letter from Governor De Lancey, dated at Albany, Auguſt 10, Six o'Clock in the Morning, to the Council of New-York; informing them, that the Firing at Fort William Henry ceaſed the Day before, at Six o'Clock, A. M. from which he apprehended the Fort had capitulated; and in the Poſtſcript tells them he was that Inſtant acquainted, by Expreſs from General Webb, the Fort had ſurrendered at Seven.

6. A Letter from the Council at New-York, dated Auguſt 12, to Governor Denny; encloſing the above Letter from Governor De Lancey, and deſiring immediate Aſſiſtance from this Government.

The

1757. Auguſt 16. The Houſe taking into Conſideration the Governor's Speech, and the alarming Intelligence therewith laid before them, and being ſincerely deſirous to give all the Aſſiſtance in their Power to the diſtreſſed Colony of New-York, as ſoon as poſſible, Ordered, That Mr. Leech, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Maſters, Mr. Vanhorn, Mr. Morton, Meſſieurs John and James Wright, with Mr. Yorke, be a Committee to prepare a Bill for empowering the Governor to march a Part of the Troops of this Province to the Aſſiſtance of the Colony of New-York, now actually invaded by a formidable Body of French, with their ſavage Indian Allies, and in immediate Danger of being loſt to the Crown.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Auguſt 17. The Committee appointed to prepare a Bill to enable the Governor to draw out and march a Part of the Troops of this Province to the Aſſiſtance of the Government of New-York, reported, they had eſſayed a Draught for that Purpoſe, which they delivered at the Table, and the ſame being read the firſt time, was ordered to lie on the Table for the Peruſal of the Members.

The ſaid Committee likewiſe delivered a Draught of a Meſſage to the Governor, intended to accompany the ſaid Bill when ſent up to his Honour, which was read, and referred to further Conſideration.

The Houſe being acquainted, that a Number of the Petitioners againſt William Moore, Eſq; of Cheſter County, were attending without, agreeable to the Notice given them for that Purpoſe, Reſolved, That a Hearing of the ſaid Petitioners be deferred to Thurſday next, the Twenty-fifth Inſtant, and that the Clerk give them Notice to attend accordingly.

Ordered, That the Clerk give Notice to William Moore, Eſq; of the ſaid Appointment, in order that he may attend with the Petitioners at the Time aforeſaid.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Two o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem. The Houſe reſumed the Conſideration of the Bill to enable the Governor to draw out and march One Thouſand Men, Part of the Troops of this Province, or the like Number of Volunteers, to be raiſed for the Aſſiſtance of the Province of New-York; which being read the ſecond time, was ordered to be tranſcribed.

The Meſſage intended to accompany the ſaid Bill being alſo read a ſecond time, was ordered to be tranſcribed, and brought in therewith.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Auguſt 18. The Bill, entituled, An Act to enable the Governor to draw out and march One Thouſand Men, Part of the Troops of this Province, or the like Number of Volunteers, to be raiſed for the Aſſiſtance of the Province of New-York, being tranſcribed, was read the third time.

Reſolved, That the ſaid Bill do paſs.

The Meſſage to the Governor was read, and agreed to, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. WE are truly ſenſible of the Diſtreſs which the Province of New-York is under by the Invaſion of a French Army, joined by their ſavage Allies, and the Danger to which his Majeſty's Colonies in general are expoſed; and we think it our Duty to afford them all the Aſſiſtance in our Power, under our preſent Circumſtances, and that in the moſt expeditious Manner. For which Purpoſe we have prepared a Bill to enable your Honour to draw out Part of the Provincial Forces, and to march them to ſuch Parts of that Province as ſhall moſt require their Aid; and, that this Province may not in the mean Time be unprovided with the neceſſary Defence, to impower you, by giving a Bounty, to inliſt and take into immediate Pay, as many Men as will be ſufficient to ſupply their Places until the Provincials ſhall return to their Stations. The Meaſure propoſed by your Honour, we apprehend, would be attended with ſo much Delay, that the Aſſiſtance intended could not poſſibly arrive Time enough to be of any Service.—The raiſing of Volunteers, even for the Service of this Government, we have found by Experience to be very difficult, and requires much Time to inliſt but a ſmall Number of them, ſince the Province has been drained of its ſingle Men by the King's Officers in the Recruiting Service; ſo much, that the preſent Invaſion of the Colony of New-York, we apprehend, muſt be determined before they could be raiſed. But your Honour muſt be ſenſible, that our Frontier Inhabitants have received ſo little Protection from the Provincial Forces, under their preſent Management, that from one End of our Borders to the other they are obliged to keep Watch, for the Defence of their Lives and Properties, at their own Expence. A Number of theſe Men have applied to your Honour to be taken into Pay, and are willing to do all the Duties of Provincials, and, we conceive, would immediately enter as Volunteers, to defend the Frontiers, for a very ſmall Bounty, and the Provincials might thereupon be immediately diſpatched to the Relief of New-York. In order to do this with Expedition, we cannot avoid recommending it to you, to grant Commiſſions to ſuch Men as are intereſted in the Defence of the Province, have an Influence with the People, in whom they have a Confidence, and under whom they are willing to ſerve. By this Means only we know, from Experience, Volunteers are to be raised with Speed. In the Beginning of the Indian Depredations, when Officers and Men were wanted, and your Honour's Predecessor pursued this Measure, more than sufficient offered their Service without a Bounty; the same we are assured would be done on this distressing Occasion, and without this we are persuaded your Honour will not be able to raise a Number of Volunteers, either to defend the Frontiers in the Absence of the Provincials, or to march to the Assistance of the neighbouring Province: And therefore we entreat your Honour to exert yourself on this Occasion, and to issue a Proclamation, informing the People, that such as shall provide a Company of Men shall be immediately commissioned, and, with their Companies, be taken into Pay for the Defence of our Frontiers. 1757. August 18.

But as we are sincerely disposed to give every Aid in our Power on this Occasion, if your Honour, notwithstanding what we have offered, should think you can with more Expedition raise a Number of Volunteers in this City and the adjacent Counties, we have also in the Bill enabled the Commissioners, with your Approbation, to give a large Bounty to such as shall inlist for that Purpose, and to supply them with the necessary Arms and Ammunition."

The foregoing Message being signed by Mr. Speaker, by Order of the House,

Ordered, That Mr. Denormandie and Mr. Trimble wait on the Governor, and deliver the same, together with the above-mentioned Bill, for his Honour's Concurrence therewith.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

Ordered, That Mr. Owen and Mr. Smith wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that, as his Honour had recommended to the House, in his Speech of the Sixteenth Instant, three Points in particular to be considered by them, viz.—1st, To enable the Governor to send immediate Assistance to the distressed Colony of New-York.—2dly, To frame and and present to him a Militia Bill, by which the natural Strength of this Province may be exerted. And 3dly, To improve the Peace lately concluded with the Indians. Pursuant to the said Recommendation the House had considered the first of those Particulars, and laid their Result before him: The second was in the Hands of a Committee appointed for that Purpose; and the House are now ready to enter upon the third; but cannot proceed for want of the Minutes of the Indian Treaty lately held at Easton, and therefore desire to know when his Honour will be pleased to lay the said Minutes before the House, and acquaint them with his Result upon the Bill sent up this Morning. Post Meridiem

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor, reported, they had delivered the foregoing Message according to Order; and that his Honour was pleased to say, a Copy of the Minutes of the late Indian Treaty, held at Easton, should be laid before the House as soon as it could be made ready, and that he had the Bill presented to him in the Forenoon then under Consideration.

A Meſſage by Mr. Secretary:

"SIR,

"The Governor requires the Attendance of Mr. Speaker, and the Houſe, in the "Council Chamber immediately."

Then Mr. Speaker, with the whole Houſe, waited on his Honour; and being returned, Mr. Speaker reſumed the Chair, and reported, that the Houſe had waited on the Governor with the Bill, entituled, An Act to enable the Governor to draw out and march One Thouſand Men, Part of the Troops of this Province, or the like Number of Volunteers, to be raiſed for the Aſſiſtance of the Province of New-York, to which the Governor had been pleaſed to give his Aſſent, by enacting the ſame into a Law.

Ordered, That Mr. Blackledge and Mr. Trimble do ſee the Great Seal affixed to the ſaid Law, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office.

The Committee appointed to prepare and bring in a Bill for forming and regulating the Militia of this Province, reported, they had eſſayed a Draught for that Purpoſe, which they delivered at the Table.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Auguſt 20. The Members appointed to ſee the Great Seal affixed to the Law, enacted Yeſterday Afternoon, and the ſaid Law depoſited in the Rolls Office, reported, they had done the ſame according to Order.

The Draught of a Bill for forming and regulating the Militia of this Province, brought in Yeſterday by the Committee appointed for that Purpoſe, was read the firſt time, and Ordered to lie on the Table.

The Governor ſent down to the Houſe, by the Secretary, a Copy of the Treaty lately held at Eaſton between this Government and Teedyuſcung, King of the Delawares, together with a Letter from George Croghan, Eſq; to his Honour, informing him, that Teedyuſcung had deſired the Minutes of the ſaid Treaty might not be made public till tranſmitted to Sir William Johnſon, and publiſhed by him, or with his Aſſent.

The ſaid Minutes were in Part read.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Monday next, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon.

Auguſt 23. Mr. Maſters, Mr. Fox, Mr. Hughes and Mr. Galloway (Provincial Commiſſioners) obſerving in the Minutes of the Eaſton Treaty, read laſt Night in Aſſembly, that a Remonſtrance from them to the Governor, in Behalf of Teedyuſcung's being allowed a Clerk, was inſerted in the ſaid Minutes, deſired Leave of the Houſe to have his Honour's Reply to that Remonstrance, and their Answer to the said Reply also, read before them; which being agreed to, the same were read accordingly. 1757.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock precisely, P. M. August 23. Adjournment Post Meridiem

Mr. Speaker presented to the House a Letter he had received from William Plumsted, Esq; relating to the late Northampton Election, which was read.

The House being acquainted, that William Parsons, Esq; and some others, principally concerned in the late Election for the County of Northampton, were attending without, agreeable to Notice given them for that Purpose;

Ordered, That the said William Parsons be called in, which was accordingly done.

Mr. Speaker then, by Order of the House, acquainted him, that as it appeared from certain Affidavits, that he detained the Writ, issued to the Sheriff for holding that Election, so long as to prevent certain of the Inhabitants of the said County from receiving timely Notice thereof, with other illegal Practices respecting the said Election; the House had now summoned him before them to know what he could say in his Vindication, and to require that he would produce the Letter from the Secretary, inclosing the said Writ to him.

To which Mr. Parsons replied, that he did not indeed, as he had before acknowledged to the House, deliver the said Writ to the Sheriff till the Day after he received it, which was owing rather to an Error in Judgment than to any Party Views or dishoneſt Intentions: And as to the Secretary's Letter, which he engaged to lay before the House, it was not now in his Power to do it, as he had for some Years past made it a Rule, in order to prevent too great an Increase of Papers in his Office, to destroy all that came to his Hands, except those immediately relative to Business; and supposed that the Paper now demanded by the House, had, amongst others, been so destroyed; but humbly assured the House, that the Paper inclosing the Writ to him, contained (to the best of his Memory) no Letter, nor had any Writing on it, except the Superscription; and that he hoped the House would favour him with Copies of the Allegations contained in the said Affidavits against him.

He was then desired to withdraw, and Mr. Speaker having taken the Opinion of the House respecting his Request of Copies of the Charges against him, the said Parsons was again called in, and acquainted, that he should be furnished with the necessary Extracts from the Affidavits referred to: — He humbly thanked the House for their Indulgence, and desired the further Favour of Counsel, in Case he should think it necessary to his Vindication; which being granted, he withdrew.

Ordered, That Mr. Hughes, Mr. Galloway and Mr. Masters be a Committee to extract from the Affidavits, taken before the House, the Charges therein contained against the said William Parsons, and furnish him with Copies of the same.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

A Petition from the Inhabitants of Paxton Township was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that the small Company of Provincials, stationed at Fort Hunter, being removed from thence, has left the neighbouring Settlements exposed to great Danger from Incursions of the Indian Enemy, insomuch that the People must soon be reduced to the Necessity of deserting their Habitations to preserve their Lives; and earnestly recommending and praying, that Fort Halifax may be evacuated, as useless, and its Garrison stationed at Fort Hunter, where they will not only be a Guard to the Petitioners, but can more effectually protect Supplies going up to Augusta. August 24.

The House having considered the said Petition, and being informed that Matthew Cowdon, on Behalf of the Petitioners, was attending without, ordered him to be called in, and acquainted him, that the House had taken their Petition into Consideration, and were touched with Compassion for the Sufferings and dangerous Situation of the Inhabitants in that Part of the Province; but as they had no Right to order any of the Provincial Forces to their Assistance, the Petitioners had judged well in presenting a Petition for that Purpose to the Governor, who had the Power of giving the Protection they asked; wherefore, they advised him to wait for his Honour's Determination, and acquaint the House with it.

Then the House adjourned to Two o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Committee appointed to extract the Charges contained in the Affidavits taken before the House against William Parsons, Esq; reported, they had made an Essay for that Purpose, which they delivered at the Table, and the same being read, Post Meridiem

Ordered, That the Clerk make a fair Transcript thereof, and deliver it to the said Parsons, which was done accordingly.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

A Number of the Petitioners against William Moore, Esq; attending without, agreeable to Notice given for that Purpose, but the said Moore not appearing, though in the City, August 25.

Ordered, That the Clerk give him and the said Petitioners Notice to attend the House at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon.

The House resumed the Consideration of the Militia Bill, and having spent some Time therein, adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

William Moore, Eſq; with a Number of the Petitioners againſt him, attending, according to Appointment, were called in, and Mr. Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, acquainted the ſaid Moore, that as many Petitions had been preſented to the Houſe, charging him with Oppreſſion and Injuſtice, in the Execution of his Office as a Magiſtrate, they had determined to allow the Petitioners a public Hearing before them; but as no Man ought to be condemned without an Opportunity of making his Defence, the Houſe thought it proper that he, the ſaid Moore, ſhould be preſent at the ſaid Hearing, and therefore he had been required to give his Attendance at this Time.

The ſaid Moore then delivered a Paper at the Table, and deſired it might be read, which was done accordingly.

He was then, with the Petitioners, and others, deſired to withdraw.

The Houſe having conſidered the Paper preſented by William Moore, ordered him to be again called in, and Mr. Speaker acquainted him, that the Houſe had no Doubt as to their Right of proceeding to hear and enquire into the Complaints of the Petitioners, at which he had Liberty to be preſent, and might take the Aſſiſtance of ſuch Counſel as he choſe; and that as it was neceſſary to his Defence he ſhould be furniſhed with Copies of the Petitions againſt him, they had been ſome Days in Readineſs for that Purpoſe, and ſhould be delivered him, which was accordingly done.—He then withdrew.

The Houſe taking into Conſideration that the ſaid Moore, though ſupplied with Copies of the Charges againſt him, was ſtill unprepared for an immediate Defence of his Character, and being unwilling to deprive him of any Aids and Opportunities neceſſary to it, notwithſtanding they were now wanting through his own Neglect to procure them, he was again ordered, with the Petitioners, to be called in; when Mr. Speaker further informed him, that the Houſe, though convinced by their Clerk, and his own Acknowledgments, of his having received ſufficient Notice of the Day appointed for a Hearing of the Allegations againſt him, to have provided himſelf with Copies of thoſe Allegations, which were in Time made out, and which he had purpoſely neglected to apply for, yet they had conſented to defer their Enquiry into the Complaints of the Petitioners till the firſt Day of September next, by which Time he might be fully prepared for his Vindication, and was required, with all the Petitioners preſent, to give his Attendance again on the Houſe.

In Anſwer to the above, the ſaid Moore confeſſed he had received ſome Days Notice from the Clerk of Aſſembly, that Copies of the Petitions were in Readineſs for him, but he was required to pay the Expence of tranſcribing them at the Time of Delivery, which had prevented his Application. Mr. Speaker replied, nothing could be more reaſonable than ſuch a Demand, and that the Clerk had the Authority of the Houſe for ſo doing.

He was then, with all the Petitioners, diſmiſſed, and the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment

Auguſt 26. A Petition from ſundry of the Inhabitants of Derry Townſhip, in Lancaſter County, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth their Sufferings and Loſſes from the late Incurſions of the Indian Enemy, and praying that the Company of Provincials, ſtationed on that Part of the Frontier for their Protection, may be encreaſed, as they have Reaſon to believe the Number of the Enemy is conſiderable.

Ordered, That Mr. James Read and Mr. James Biddle, now in Town, be deſired to attend the Houſe at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon.

The Governor ſent down by the Secretary a Letter from Captain Jacob Orndt, dated at Fort Allen, Auguſt 19, 1757; acquainting his Honour, that he, with Teedyuſcung, and other Indians, were ſafely arrived at that Place; that the King, and his People, ſeemed well pleaſed, and did not blame any of their Brethren the Engliſh for the Death of the Indian near Eaſton, believing he had been killed by ſome of their own People; that Teedyuſcung deſired him to inform the Governor, that he (Teedyuſcung) had forgot, at the late Treaty, to appoint the Time when he ſhould come down, with other Indians, to ſettle at Wyoming, and therefore requeſted his Honour would be pleaſed to ſend Workmen thither this Fall, or early in the Spring, to build a ſmall Fort for the Security of their Wives and Children, and they would remove from Diahogo to it ſome Time in May next. —— Teedyuſcung went from Fort Allen on the Seventeenth much pleaſed, though he left ſeveral of the Indians ſick behind him.

With the ſaid Letter the Secretary delivered a verbal Meſſage from his Honour, deſiring the Houſe would take the Contents thereof into Conſideration, together with ſome other Matters recommended to them in a late Meſſage.

The Houſe then reſumed the Conſideration of the Militia Bill, and having made ſome Progreſs therein, adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment

Poſt Meridiem Mr. James Read attending, agreeable to the Requeſt of the Houſe, was called in, and aſked ſundry Queſtions reſpecting the Conduct of Colonel Weiſer, and his Battalion; which having anſwered, ſo far as was conſiſtent with his own Knowledge, and common Report, he withdrew.

The Petitioners from Paxton and Derry Townships, again attending, were called in, and acquainted the House, that the Governor had been pleased to appoint a Company of Fifty Men, under the Command of Captain Busse, to range from Fort Hunter to Mannida Gap, for their Protection, which in great Measure answered the Prayer of their Petition.——They then withdrew.

The House then went again upon the Militia Bill, and, after some Time spent therein, adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment

August 27.

The House took up the Militia Bill again, and, after some Debates upon an additional Clause proposed to be admitted therein, Ordered, That the said Clause be recommitted to the Committee who brought in the Bill.

Then the House adjourned to Monday next, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon.

Adjournment

August 29.

The House met, pursuant to their Adjournment.

Post Meridiem

The Committee to whom the additional Clause in the Militia Bill was recommitted, reported, they had essayed an Amendment on the said Clause, which they delivered at the Table; and the same being twice read, and admitted into the Bill, the Whole was read the second time, and ordered to be transcribed.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment

August 30.

A Petition from the Commissioners and Assessors of the County of Berks was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that many of the Inhabitants of said County are so much impoverished by the Losses sustained, and Interruptions given to Business, through the Indian Ravages on that Part of the Frontier, that they are unable to pay their usual Assessments, and praying that such may be exempted therefrom at the Discretion of the Commissioners for said County.

The Petitioners being called in, were acquainted, that it is the Opinion of the House, that the Commissioners of the said County are vested with Power by the County Rate and Levy Act to consider the Circumstances of the People, and make such Abatements in their Taxes as appear to them requisite.

The House then proceeded to the third Point recommended in the Governor's Message, viz. An Improvement of our Alliance lately concluded with the Indians, and, after some Time spent therein, adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment

The House resumed the Consideration of the Engagements entered into by the Governor with Teedyuscung at the late Treaty at Easton; and, after some Time spent therein, adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment

August 31.

Mr. Speaker brought into the House a Letter to him from Mr. Charles Thompson, Secretary to King Teedyuscung, together with a Copy of the Treaty lately held at Easton, delivered by the said Thompson, agreeable to the Request of Teedyuscung, that Mr. Speaker and the Assembly might transmit the same, with Copies of the Deeds, and other necessary Papers, to his Majesty, for his Royal Determination of the Disputes between the Proprietaries of this Province and the Indians, concerning the Purchases of Lands.

The said Letter being read, was ordered to lie on the Table, for the Perusal of the Members.

The House resumed the Consideration of the Governor's Speech of the Sixteenth Instant, relating to the Request of Teedyuscung in Behalf of the Indians at the late Treaty at Easton, and, after some Time spent therein, Ordered, That Mr. Walker and Mr. West do wait upon the Governor with the following Message, viz.

"Under the third Head in your Honour's Speech of the Sixteenth Instant, you recommend to us "to make the best Improvement of the Alliance entered into with the In- "dians at the late Treaty at Easton, by enabling you to comply with the several Re"quests the Indians made of you at the said Treaty, the Particulars whereof we should
"see from the Minutes."

By those Minutes it appears, that Teedyuscung, among other Things, informed your Honour, that the Indians intended to settle at Wyoming; and requested to have certain Boundaries fixed between them and the People of this Province, and a certain Tract of Land fixed, which it should not be lawful for them or their Children ever to sell, or for the Proprietaries, or any of their Children, ever to buy: To which you were pleased to answer, that you had considered Teedyuscung's Request in Behalf of the Indians, about a Settlement for themselves and their Posterity at Wyoming; that you were pleased they had made Choice of that Place; that it was perfectly agreeable to you; and you assured them you would heartily concur with him, in using all the Means in your Power to have those Lands settled on them and their Posterity, agreeable to Teedyuscung's Request.

This Request appears to us so reasonable and necessary for securing the Frontiers of this Province from the Inroads of the Enemy, by settling the Indians at Wyoming, that if your Honour has Power, as you have declared your Inclination, to have those Lands settled upon them and their Posterity, in the Manner they have proposed, we shall immediately prepare and offer you a Bill to be enacted into a Law for that Purpose."

" Being very ſenſible of the Expediency and many Advantages that will reſult to this " Province by ſettling the Indians at Wyoming, and appropriating to them a ſufficient " Quantity of Land for Planting and Hunting, I aſſured the Indians at the late Treaty, " that the Proprietaries had not purchaſed thoſe Lands from the Indians, and in their " Names diſclaimed all Indian Right to the ſame. I ſhall write them by the firſt Op- " portunities, and deſire, in the moſt preſſing Manner, that they would not only ſend " me Powers to confirm thoſe Lands to the Indians, but that they would alſo ſolicit the " Six Nations, who have the Indian Right, to join with me in ſuch Confirmation, and " in aſcertaining ſuch Boundaries as ſhall be agreeable to them, to which I have not the " leaſt Doubt they will readily conſent."

"UPON considering the late Treaty at Easton, and the Minutes of Council of the 30th of August last, laid before us by your Honour, it gives us great Pleasure to find that the Ohio Indians are willing to join in the Peace concluded at Easton, and the Shawanese, Mohiccons and Unamies are desirous of settling on Susquehannah, and have requested your Honour, by their several Chiefs, to build a little Fort at Wyoming, for the Safety of their Wives and Children.

The securing an Indian Barrier to the Frontiers of this Province is of so much Importance to the Safety and Welfare of the People, that we are of Opinion, a Compliance with this Request should not be postponed a Moment longer than necessary: Therefore we earnestly entreat your Honour, with all Expedition, to proceed to build such a Place of Security as shall be agreeable to the Indians, and as many Houses as they shall stand in Need of, at the Place nominated by Teedyuscung, for their comfortable Living and Safety.

To enable your Honour to do this, we have recommended it to the Commissioners to defray the Expence thereof out of the One Hundred Thousand Pounds lately granted to his Majesty's Use.

The other Matters mentioned in your Honour's Speech, relative to Indian Affairs, we have now under our Consideration, and shall proceed to do every Thing in our Power to enable your Honour to comply with the reasonable Demands of the Natives, and to secure their Affections to his Majesty's Interest.

And that they further acquaint the Governor, that as the House are sincerely desirous to have the Matters mentioned in the said Message carried effectually, and without Loss of Time, into Execution, it will be very agreeable to them, in case public Affairs should not admit the Governor's superintending such a Work in Person, that one of the Provincial Commissioners, who, at the Request of the House, has generously offered his Service, might be vested with proper Powers for that Purpose."

The Governor sent down, by the Secretary, a written Message, dated the Twelfth of September, with a Letter from Captain Orndt, at Fort Allen, to Timothy Horsefield, Esq; Also a Letter from the said Horsefield to the Governor.

The Governor's Message being read, follows in these Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'ON Friday last, in the Evening, an Express brought me a Letter from Justice Horsefield, dated the 8th Instant, in which was inclosed one wrote the Day before from the Commanding Officer at Fort Allen, informing him, that two Indians were arrived there in six Days from Diahogo, with Advice of their having met with five Frenchmen and five French Indians, who told them they expected to be joined by Twenty more French Indians, and would go to Minisink, and from thence to all the Forts on the Frontier, to spy them, and try to get Prisoners, that they might see and enquire which would be the most convenient Way to fall, with the French, on this Province.

'Mr. Horsefield acquaints me, that on this Letter being communicated to Teedyuscung, he gave it as his Advice, that this Government should immediately fix what Rewards they would allow for Scalps and Prisoners, and send him a Belt of black Wampum, with an Account of it. He added, that though he did not at the Treaty urge for a positive Answer to this Point, which he remembers to have been then mentioned by him, yet now he saw a Necessity for it, and hoped I would dispatch the Messenger with it.

'The Provincial Commissioners, at my Instance, met early on Saturday Morning, and on laying the Letters before them, referred me to one of theirs, wrote upon the Subject at Easton, and though I then concurred with them in Opinion, that it was not expedient at that Time to promise any Rewards for Scalps, yet as the French Indians are now renewing their Ravages on the Frontiers, and our Friendly Indians do not incline to act even defensively for us, without fixing the Rewards for Scalps, I think the Cruelty of our Enemies, and the pressing Necessity of the present Occasion, loudly demand a Compliance with their Request. I need not observe to you of what Importance it is to this Province to secure the Friendship of the Indians, and engage them heartily to join us in opposing the Designs of the Enemy; and as it is not reasonable to expect that this can be done without making them ample Satisfaction for their Services, I most earnestly recommend it to you to take this Matter into your serious Consideration, and enable me immediately to return a satisfactory Answer to the Indian Chief, at Bethlehem, by the Express, who is detained by me for that Purpose.

September 12, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Governor likewise sent down, by the Secretary, another Message, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'YOU well know, that at the earnest Request of the Indians, Promises have been made them on the Part of the Government, that a Trading-house should be established at Fort Augusta, within this Province, well furnished with a suitable Assortment of Goods, where they might vend their Skins and Peltry, and be reasonably supplied with such Necessaries as they might want.—Yo will see by the Letters herewith sent you, that Thirty Delaware Indians lately came down to the Fort, in Consequence of these Promises, with Skins, in order to trade with us, but finding no Goods there, some of them are gone away very much dissatisfied. As therefore it is not in my Power to take any Steps in this Matter, which is a very important and interesting one to the People of this Province, without your Aid and Assistance, I must earnestly recommend it to you, without Loss of Time, to prepare a Bill for regulating the Indian Trade, and enable me to keep the Public Faith with them.

September 22. The Committee appointed to inſpect the Flour Act, made their Report in Writing, which was read, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

Report of the Committee relating to the Flour Act.

IN Obedience to the Order of the Houſe, we have examined the Laws relating to the Exportation of Flour, and find, that at a Seſſions of Aſſembly, held in the Year 1733, a Law was paſſed to prevent the Exportation of Flour not merchantable, which Law is without Limitation of Time; that afterwards, in the Nineteenth Year of his preſent Majeſty, a Supplementary Act was made, which continued for four Years, and from thence to the End of the next Seſſions of Aſſembly; that on the Eighteenth Day of Auguſt, in the Year 1750, and before the Expiration of the ſaid Supplementary Act, another Supplementary Act was paſſed, which continued the ſaid firſt Supplementary Law for ſeven Years from the Publication thereof, and from thence to the End of the next Seſſions of Aſſembly; and that this preſent Sitting of Aſſembly began on the Eighth of Auguſt laſt. Upon this State of the Facts reſpecting the Flour Acts, your Committee conceive, that all the ſaid Laws are yet, and will remain, in Force, until the next Seſſions of Aſſembly; and that the further Conſideration of the ſaid Laws may be poſtponed to the next Seſſions, without any great Inconveniency to the Public. —— Submitted to the Houſe, by

The Anſwer to the Governor's Speech, and the Addreſs for the Removal of William Moore, Eſq; from his Offices, being tranſcribed, were ſigned by the Speaker, and follow in theſe Words, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. HAVING, by our Meſſage of the Eighteenth of Auguſt laſt, anſwered that Part of your Speech relating to the Succour of the City and Province of New-York, and complied with every Thing you requeſted of us on that Occaſion; permit us to take under our Conſideration the Remainder of it, and make ſuch Remarks thereon, as a Regard for the Rights of the People and our bleeding Country obliges us to do.

There was a Time when your Honour was pleaſed to declare, that "the Protection "of the Province, and the Supporting the People in the Enjoyment of their Civil and "Religious Rights, was what your Duty as well as Inclination would lead you to," but we are ſorry to find that Time but of a ſhort Duration. More Pains ſeem now to be taken to deſtroy than "ſupport" our Rights; to perſuade the World to believe that we are unwilling to defend the Province, than defend it, or to unite in Meaſures for that Purpoſe; and that we have "ſet Danger at a Diſtance, and preſumed to treat the Ac-"counts thereof as the Tales of a Day," than to guard againſt and protect us from that Danger. 'Tis true, ſo little Care has been taken to gain Intelligence of the Enemy's Motions and Deſigns, that our Accounts thereof are generally ſo confuſed, no one can depend on them, and but few of them hitherto have proved to be true: Whether they were "invented or exaggerated through Party Views," we cannot determine, nor did we ever charge them to be ſo; the firſt Hint thereof comes from the Governor, and it is more than probable he may know it to be true. But we cannot help ſaying, this Inſinuation, ſinuation, ſo artfully made againſt us, is without the leaſt Foundation, and as unkind as it is unjuſt: And that had your Honour the ſame Senſe of the Danger you can ſo well deſcribe, and the ſame Motives and Inclinations to defend the Province, and protect our "Civil and Religious Rights," as we have, they muſt have prevailed on you to paſs one among many of the reaſonable and neceſſary Bills that have been preſented to you for thoſe Purpoſes; nor would you have had Occaſion ſo repeatedly to call on us for the framing of Bills, at a great Expence to the People, which neither your Duty or Inclination, if we may judge from your Actions, could prevail on you to enact into Laws.

No one, unacquainted with the Tranſactions between us, upon Peruſal of your Speech, would ſuſpect that we had ever offered for your Aſſent reaſonable Bills for the Defence of the Province, or that you were by any Means concerned in preventing us from being "put into a Poſture to defend ourſelves, or aſſiſt our Neighbours," but that the whole Blame was juſtly imputable to the Aſſembly. Weak and prejudiced Men may be deceived by ſpecious Inſinuations, but it ſhould be remembered, that they are not, with the Candid and Unprejudiced, ſufficient to invalidate notorious and inconteſtable Facts. This Aſſembly have done every Thing they on their Parts could do, conſiſtent with the Rights and Privileges of the People. In the early Part of our Seſſion we prepared a Bill for granting One Hundred Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe, which you rejected: Another was immediately offered, which would have met with the ſame Fate, had not a Regard for Juſtice, his Majeſty's Intereſt, and the Welfare of the People, prevailed on a worthy Nobleman to interpoſe. Great Part of the ſaid Sum is already expended, in paying the Troops under your Honour's Command, and yet, what Service has been done by thoſe Troops? What Protection has the Province received from them? Have they relieved the Frontier Inhabitants from the inſupportable Burdens of keeping Watch Night and Day at their own Expence? Or has a ſingle Indian been killed or taken Priſoner by them, though our Enemies have been continually committing Depredations on the Frontiers, and conſtantly murdering the People? The Law expreſsly directs, that Eleven Hundred of the Troops ſhould be employed in making Incurſions into the Enemy's Country, to watch their Motions, gain Intelligence, and communicate their Deſigns in Time to the Inhabitants, that they might be prepared againſt them. But this eſſential Part of the Law, and our Defence, has been altogether neglected: Theſe are Facts "too flagrant, "and too fatally felt" by our unhappy Frontiers, to require Proof. The Fault muſt lie ſomewhere; it cannot be juſtly charged to us; we have granted a ſufficient Number of Men to protect the Province, and Supplies to ſupport them, and more than the People are able to bear another Year. — This is all we had a Right to do, or could do, the reſt was the Duty of the Governor. From a View of theſe Facts it will readily appear who it is that neglects the Protection of the Province, or has failed on their Parts to put it into a Poſture of Defence.

Your Honour is pleaſed again to call on us for an "equitable and conſtitutional Militia "Law;" this we apprehend we have more than once complied with. At our firſt Seſſions we prepared a Bill equitable in all its Parts, adapted to the Genius of the People, and to preſerve the Conſtitution of the Government. At our next Adjournment, having taken in many of your Amendments, we ſent you up a ſecond; and ſince our preſent Sitting, more of your Amendments being agreed to, we preſented you with a third, enabling you not only to defend the Province, but to aſſiſt our Neighbours in Times of Diſtreſs and Invaſion: But all theſe Bills you were pleaſed to reject as unequal and unconſtitutional. What the Governor means by an "equitable and conſtitutional Militia Law," we may readily perceive by his Amendments; a Law that will oblige the Inhabitants to take a Teſt as to their religious and conſcientious Scruples. If this be equitable and conſtitutional, it is the Equity and Conſtitution of Portugal, or ſome other Popiſh Countries, where the Inquiſition is in Uſe, and not of any free Government, where the People enjoy their religious Liberties. That it is not conſtitutional in the Opinion of the Crown and a Britiſh Parliament, is evident, they having made a Law exempting the Moravians, or Congregations of the Unitas Fratrum, in America, from Military Duties, without ſuch Teſt; nor is there an Inſtance thereof in any of the Militia Bills that have been framed or enacted by our Mother Conſtitution. But we are ſorry to find the Example of our gracious Sovereign, and his Parliaments, is no Rule to the Governor; nor does he ſeem to think the People of this Province entitled to the Rights of Engliſhmen and Freemen.

Another Thing which in your Opinion would tend to make the Bill "conſtitutional," is, to give the Governor the abſolute Nomination of all the Military Officers, without being recommended by the People, to oblige the whole Freemen of the Community to inliſt under them, and to ſubject them to all the Penalties of a Court-martial, which your Honour would appoint. Whence it is that the Governor receives his Ideas of our Conſtitution, we are at a Loſs to determine, but fear it is from thoſe who are either ignorant of its Laws, or wicked enough to be an Enemy to it. It is the diſtinguiſhing Privilege of Engliſhmen, that they cannot be condemned in their Perſons or Properties, but by a Jury of their Country. To ſubject the People to the Judgment of a Court-martial, and ſuch Fines, Penalties and corporal or capital Puniſhments as ſhall be thereby inflicted, is directly inconſiſtent with this Privilege, and what Freemen will never aſſent to, were the Powers of Government exerciſed with ever ſo much Juſtice and Lenity; but when all Confidence is loſt between the Governor and Governed; when Schemes are purſuing, in this Time of extreme Diſtreſs, by a few particular Perſons, to enſlave the whole Community; and when theſe Schemes meet with the Countenance of thoſe whoſe Duty it is to preſerve our Rights, we never can conſent to ſuch an Amendment in a general Militia Bill. This would be giving up the Perſons and Properties of our Conſtituents to the abſolute Power of a Party, out of which, we have no room to doubt, the Officers will be choſen, whenever the Governor ſhall be veſted with the ſole Appointment of them.

The Charge againſt us, of "endeavouring to take the Appointment of the Officers out "of the Hands of the Government," is too general; and ſeems calculated rather to ſerve a particular Purpoſe, than to convey a true State of the Matter. That by the Bill a Number of Perſons was to be elected to each Office, and recommended to the Governor by the Voice of the People, out of which he was to chuſe and commiſſionate the Militia Officers, is true; but this is ſo far from "taking the Appointment out of the Hands of the "Government," that the Governor would have the Choice of ſeveral, and might appoint which of them he pleaſed. This we thought, and ſtill think, reaſonable; eſpecially as your Honour is a Stranger among us, and cannot know who is proper, and who not, for thoſe important Places, unleſs you take your Information from a Party, who have ever conſulted their private Views, and the Intereſt of their Friends, more than the Public Welfare. Theſe are Motives which the People collectedly cannot have; and therefore we apprehend it will more effectually anſwer the End of a Militia Law, to permit the People to recommend their own Officers, under whom they are willing to ſerve, as it is natural to preſume they will fix on Men of Integrity and public Spirit, on whoſe Courage and Reſolution they can depend for the Protection of the Country, and the Preſervation of their Civil and Religious Liberties.

But, however reaſonable this may be, it does not ſuit with the avowed Deſigns of a Party, which they have been weak and wicked enough to publiſh to the World in their Brief State. The Plan the Governor recommends to us, is the Plan they wiſh for. They declare, they expect it will "alter the Face of Affairs, by creating a vaſt Number of new "Relations, Dependencies and Subordinations in Government: The Militia will vote for "Members of Aſſembly, and being dependent on their Officers, would probably be in-"fluenced by them;" and the Officers being recommended by the Proprietary Creatures, and commiſſioned by their Deputy, would be directed by them, and thus our Proprietaries would be veſted with the Appointment of both the Branches of Legiſlature. Under this extenſive Influence, added to that which ever will attend the immenſe Property of the Proprietaries, can any Liberty, that the People are intitled to, be ſafe? The Freedom of Elections and of Parliament will be violated and deſtroyed. The Balance of Power between the Governor and People, ſo wiſely eſtabliſhed by the Royal and Proprietary Charters, and Laws of the Province, will be totally ſubverted, and our preſent Conſtitution be transformed into a Government the moſt deſpotic and arbitrary. Proprietary Inſtructions, calculated to promote their private Intereſt and Views, and to oppreſs the People, will have the Sanction of Edicts, not to be diſobeyed. Supply Bills will ſtand in no Need of Amendments, as they will be framed agreeable to ſuch Inſtructions. Our Aſſemblies will not preſume to tax the Proprietary's enormous Eſtate in common with the reſt of his Majeſty's Subjects for the Defence of their Colony; but they will make all their Laws by Direction, and become as inſignificant in the Conſtitution as the Parliament of France, who have only the Power of aſſenting to, and regiſtering, their Tyrant's Edicts.

The Governor is pleaſed next to recommed to us, "to make the beſt Improvement of "our Alliance entered into with the Indians at the late Treaty at Eaſton, by enabling "him to comply with the ſeveral Requeſts they made of him at the ſaid Treaty." We concur with you in thinking "theſe Things are of great and immediate Conſequence to "the Preſervation of our Lives and Properties at this Juncture." And we further know them to be of the utmoſt Importance to the general Safety of the Colonies, and his Majeſty's Intereſt: And therefore, with all Expedition, we preſented a Bill every Way calculated for theſe good Ends. But we cannot help ſaying, that the Governor's Words and his Actions do not ſeem to correſpond.——The unreaſonable Amendments he has ſent down to the Bill, convince us he had no Deſign of paſſing it, as he could not expect we could be ſo inſenſible of the People's Rights as to agree to them. In that Bill we nominated Commiſſioners, whoſe Integrity we have experienced, to ſerve the Country, and gave the Governor, for the Time being, a Negative on the Diſpoſition of the Sum that was to be put into their Hands to carry on the Indian Trade. But we find nothing leſs than the Nomination of the Commiſſioners and Agents will ſatisfy the Governor, or rather thoſe with whom he adviſes. Should we conſent to theſe Amendments, the Negative in the Bill would be uſeleſs, as there can be no Doubt but the Perſons who could be so lost to their own Rights as to accept of the Office from the Governor's Nomination, would implicitly obey his Directions. 1757. September 28.

Our Duty obliges us to declare and protest against this Amendment, as an Infringement on the Rights of this House; and that the Nomination of the Commissioners in Bills of this Nature, is the settled Right of the House of Commons, whose Powers we have as Englishmen, and by our Charters, which we hope the Governor will not, upon further Consideration, attempt to violate. Nothing is of greater Importance to the Government, than the Supporting the just and distinct Rights and Privileges of the Legislature; and as to our own, we assure the Governor we are resolved never to give them up, while the People entrust us with them.

Permit us therefore to persuade the Governor to resume the Consideration of this necessary and important Bill:—Reflect on its Importance to the Preservation of this Province, his Majesty's Colonies, and the British Interest in America. It is a Bill, which, if enacted into a Law, and well executed, will secure to us an effectual Barrier against our Enemies, and rescue our Fellow-Subjects from the barbarous Depredations of the Savages, and relieve them in a great Measure from their present almost insupportable Burden of Taxes. And a Bill, which, in its necessary Consequences, must procure to the English Interest the Friendship and Alliance of the most distant Indian Nations. And if the solemn Promises you made the Indians at the Treaties of Lancaster and Easton, the Good of this particular Province, the bleeding Circumstances of our Frontiers, the miserable Subjection of our captivated Inhabitants, have no Weight with your Honour, let the Good of the Colonies in general, and your Duty to preserve the Interest of the Crown, plead the important Cause of this Bill. We intreat you no longer to look on yourself "as a Passenger" only in the Province, as you have been pleased more than once to express yourself on Matters of a public Nature. Consider yourself as intimately concerned in the Welfare of the Province, bound in Duty to defend the King's Colony, and obliged to co-operate with us in every Thing that may tend to protect it, and preserve the People's Liberties. Let not arbitrary Proprietary Instructions be the sole Rule of your Conduct; exercise your own Judgment and Reason in your public Acts; pay less Regard to the Advice of the Proprietary Council, who have no Powers of Legislation, nor Right to direct or dictate to a Governor in any Matter whatever. Let his Majesty's Interest, and the Good of his Subjects, be the grand Objects of your Government, and restore Peace, Liberty and public Virtue to the Province, for it is in a great Measure in your Power. Do these Things, and your Government will be easy and pleasant, your Life happy, and you will rejoice in the Prayers, Love and Esteem of a free and grateful People.

Permit us to add, before we conclude, that we can have no Views but the Good of the Province. We cannot consider ourselves "as Passengers" therein, as too many of our Governors have done. Our Fortunes, Friends, and the nearest and tendereſt Connections are in it, and inseparable from it; and should the Country be sacrificed to the private Views of particular Men, who have seized this Time of Distress to invade our Rights, we fall the melancholy Victims. This Consideration certainly must convince every impartial Man, that we can have no Motive but the Good of the People, and the Preservation of our Country; and that its Distress, and present defenceless State, has not been occasioned by a Want of the most earnest Endeavours on our Parts to put it into a Posture of Defence. But, should our Constituents think otherwise, the Day of our anniversary Election is at hand, and we shall soon again mix with the People; and if our late Conduct has been inconsistent with their Sentiments, they will no Doubt supply our Places with such as they conceive will accede to your Honour's Measures, and give up those Rights which we have thought, and ever shall think, it our indispensable Duty to support and maintain. But whether you meet us again, or other Persons in Legislation, we sincerely wish greater Harmony in Sentiments may subsist, and more Good be done the Country than we have been able, during this Session, to effectuate with all our Endeavours.

To the Honourable WILLIAM DENNY, Esq; Lieutenant Governor of the Province of Pennsylvania, &c.

The ADDRESS of the Representatives of the Freemen of the said Province.

May it please your HONOUR,

WE, the Representatives of the Freemen of the Province of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, having received many Complaints against William Moore, Esq; one of the Justices of the Peace for the County of Chester, charging him with divers Misdemeanors, fraudulent and extortionate Practices in his said public Office; and having summoned Assembly's Address to the Governor.

Wherefore we do entreat your Honour to remove the ſaid William Moore from the Offices of Judge of the Court of Common Pleas and Juſtice of the Peace, and from all other public Offices, Poſts and Employments whatſoever under his Majeſty within this Government.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down the Bill for preventing Abuses in the Indian Trade, &c. with a verbal Message, that his Honour adhered to his Amendments thereon. At the same Time the Secretary delivered three written Messages, which were read, and are as follow, viz. September 30.

GENTLEMEN,

'AS common Justice requires that no Man should be condemned unheard, in any Matter that affects his Life, Fortune or Character, I cannot think myself justified in removing Mr. Moore from his public Employments, till I have made him acquainted with A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

1757. September 30.

' with the Complaints and Evidence exhibited againſt him, and given him an Opportunity ' of making his Defence: I therefore deſire you will furniſh me with Copies of the Pe- ' titions and Proofs on which your Application to me againſt him is grounded, and you ' may aſſure yourſelves, that on a full Hearing of the Matters, ſtrict Juſtice ſhall be done, ' both to him and the Public.

September 30, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

' AS you have not publiſhed your Minutes ſince laſt February, I deſire you will, ' with all convenient Diſpatch, furniſh me with Copies of them ſince that Time; ' and likewiſe of the public Accounts of the Loan-Office, and Exciſe, as ſettled this ' Year. If the Duplicates of the Aſſeſsments of this and the laſt Year are returned to ' the Houſe, I alſo deſire to have Copies of them as ſoon as conveniently may be.

September 30, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

' IF Detraction and perſonal Abuſe of your Governor, and a bold Aſſertion of Facts, ' without Proofs to ſupport them, were to paſs for Reaſon and Argument, it muſt be ' acknowledged your Meſſage of Yeſterday contains a full Juſtification of your public ' Conduct, and that I am juſtly chargeable with neglecting to do what was in my Power ' to prevent many of the Evils which have befallen this diſtreſſed Province. But I have ' already, during my ſhort Adminiſtration, been ſo accuſtomed to this Kind of Treatment ' from you, for daring to exerciſe my own Judgment, and preſuming to differ in Opinion ' with you, in Matters which highly concern his Majeſty's Honour and Intereſt, and the ' Welfare of the People, that I am the leſs ſurpriſed at the many unjuſt Reflections caſt ' upon me in your long Meſſage of Yeſterday, preſented to me late laſt Night: Indeed I ' have the leſs Reaſon to regret ſuch Uſage, when I conſider that ſeveral worthy Gentlemen, ' who preceded me, have not been better treated, which muſt convince every unbiaſſed ' Judgment, that you are not ſo much diſpleaſed with the Perſon governing, as impatient of ' being governed at all.

' Your delaying to anſwer my Meſſage of the Sixteenth of Auguſt laſt, till two Days ' before the Time appointed by the Charter for a new general Election, may, perhaps ' anſwer your Ends; eſpecially as the Shortneſs of Time will not admit me, by a Re- ' ply, to take off the Gloſſes you have put on your Proceedings, ſhew your Aſſertions, ' rather than Arguments, to be falſe, and ſet in a true Light Numbers of Facts you have ' groſsly miſrepreſented: But, Gentlemen, whatever may be your popular Views here, ' you cannot flatter yourſelves that your Arts will blind the Eyes of our Superiors, to ' whom both you and I are accountable, and before whom theſe Proceedings ſhall be ' laid for their Determination. To them muſt be ſubmitted the Sincerity of your Pro- ' feſſions as well as mine, and to which of us the Calamities and Miſchiefs that may at- ' tend this Province, from the Want of proper Laws for eſtabliſhing a Militia, and for ' regulating the Indian Trade, may be juſtly chargeable.

' Your Thirſt of Power, and Fondneſs to monopolize all Offices of Truſt and Profit, in- ' duced you, in the laſt mentioned Bill, to nominate all the Commiſſioners for Indian ' Affairs among your own Members; five of whom are alſo Provincial Commiſſioners. ' The Abſurdity of impowering the Provincial Commiſſioners to draw Orders, payable ' to the Commiſſioners for Indian Affairs, who are the ſame Perſons, and the dangerous ' Conſequences to the Public of appointing none but Members of Aſſembly to hold Offices ' of great Truſt, for which they are to account with the very Aſſembly whereof they are ' Part, and ſeveral other weighty Reaſons, induced me to object to the Commiſſioners ' named in the Bill, and inſert others of good Fortune, and moſt unexceptionable Cha- ' racter, in their Stead, out of the Houſe, for your Conſideration. Had you really ' thought the Bill a Matter of that Importance you profeſs, you would, inſtead of waſting ' Time in a laboured Meſſage, wherein you declare and proteſt againſt this Amendment, ' as an Infringement of the Rights of the Houſe, have rejected the Perſons recommended ' to you by me, if you did not approve of them, and inſerted others more agreeable to ' you, in their Stead. By this Method, if you are not ſo ſanguine and ſelf-ſufficient as ' to conceive, that in this populous Province none can be found, but among yourſelves, ' fit to hold and enjoy an Office of ſuch great Truſt and Importance, proper Perſons ' might have been agreed on between us.

' Though I am not aſhamed to own that I have, on many Occaſions, adviſed with my ' Council in Matters of Government, and have received Information and Aſſiſtance ' from them, yet they never aſſumed a Power in Legiſlation, or a Right to direct or dic- ' tate to me, in any Matter whatever, as you unjuſtly inſinuate: Their Fortunes, Families, ' and moſt intimate Connections, lie in this Province as well as yours: The Freedom of ' themſelves and their Poſterity, and their Intereſt and Happineſs, are blended with, and

' inſeparable

1757. September 30.

'inseparable from, the rest of their Fellow-Subjects: They are moreover independent, 'and devote their Time and Trouble to the Public without Fee or Reward, while you 'are amply paid for all the Services you do. Why then is it not reasonable to suppose 'they act for the public Good, on Principles of Honour and Virtue? And why are they, 'on all Occasions, treated by you with the greatest Ingratitude, and represented as Enemies 'to the Community? Privy Councils are, and always have been, in use in our Mother 'Country, in this, and all other civilized Governments; and therefore, your considering 'the Council here as a Clog on Government, and oppressive to the People, is most in-'vidious and unjust.

'To conclude, Gentlemen, the Reasons that at first weighed with me to make the 'Amendments to the Bill for regulating the Indian Trade, still prevail, and I cannot re-'cede from them; and you may assure yourselves, that in this, and every other Part of 'my Conduct, while I continue in this Government, no Abuse from you shall induce 'me to deviate from the Principles of Duty and Honour, or act a Part that I cannot 'justify to the King, to the People committed to my Care, and to my own Conscience.

September 29, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

The House taking into Consideration the last of the three foregoing Messages from the Governor, Ordered, That Mr. Leech, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Masters and Mr. Pearne be a Committee to prepare and bring in an Answer to the said Message.

The Committee appointed to prepare an Answer to the Governor's Message, reported, they had essayed a Draught for that Purpose, which they delivered at the Table, and the same being read, was ordered to be transcribed.

The Answer to the Governor's Message being transcribed, and signed by the Speaker, was again read, and follows in these Words, viz.

May it please the GOVERNOR,

A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

TIME will not permit us to give a full Answer to your Message of this Afternoon: But we cannot help remarking, the Facts asserted in our Message, are of such Notoriety, that in this Province they cannot want Proof. Have we not given to the King's Use the Sum therein mentioned? Is not that Sum nearly expended? Has there been a single Indian killed by all the Troops since that Sum was granted? Are not Eleven Hundred Men sufficient to make at least one Incursion into the Enemy's Country? Has the Province received that Protection from them it ought to have received? Have not our News-papers been filled with continual Accounts of the bleeding and distressed Situation of our Frontiers? Have we not tendered you many Militia Bills equitable and constitutional? Are not the Designs of the Proprietaries, and their Party, known to a Cloud of Witnesses among the People? Have not the ill Effects of Proprietary Instructions been long experienced and manifested in the Province? Has not your Honour declared you are obliged to obey those Instructions? If so, are not those Instructions of the Nature of Laws to us, as no Laws can be made but agreeable to them? Have we not tendered a Bill to you for promoting a Peace with the Indians, and securing them to his Majesty's Interest? Have you not rejected that Bill because we nominated Commissioners therein, agreeable to the Practice and indubitable Right of the House of Commons? And have you not more than once declared, that you were but a Passenger in the Province? These are Facts well known, and we confide in the Justice of "our Superiors before "whom these Proceedings will be laid for their Determination," where we can depend an injured and bleeding People will meet with ample Redress.

The "Thirst after Power, and a Fondness to monopolize Offices," were no Inducements to us in nominating Commissioners for Indian Affairs,—it was our undoubted Right, which your Honour cannot invade without violating our Charters; and by Virtue of that Right we might nominate them out of the Members of this House, agreeable to the Practice of Parliament, where no such dangerous Consequences to the Public, as are pointed out by the Governor, were ever apprehended. Those Gentlemen had assented to accept of the Trust; had been present at the several late Treaties, and were acquainted with the Importance of the Indian Alliance to his Majesty's Interest and this Province, and we believe of as "unexceptionable Characters" as those of your Nomination, without any Disparagement to them. But the Men your Honour appointed, or at least a Majority of them, were never consulted; and several of them have declared they would not have accepted of the Office. What then could induce the Governor to nominate them? Could it be with a Design that the good Effects of the Bill should not take Place, had it passed into a Law?

The Absurdity of "impowering the Provincial Commissioners to draw Orders, payable "to the Commissioners for Indian Affairs," is not so glaring as the Governor has represented it. There were two Persons added to five of the seven Provincial Commissioners, who were to be the Commissioners for Indian Affairs, and consequently the Commissioners for Indian Affairs, and the Provincial Commissioners, were not the same Persons.

We

1757. September 30.

We have no Views but his Majeſty's Intereſt and the Good of the People we repreſent; nor had we any "Deſign in delaying to anſwer your Speech." We ſhould have anſwered it ſooner, had the Buſineſs you recommended therein been finiſhed before. The Charge therefore againſt us is as groundleſs, as the Excuſe for not pointing out the Falſhoods you are pleaſed to ſay it contains, is evaſive; "two Days" being a Time very ſufficient to have replied and ſhewn one of our Aſſertions at leaſt to be (as the Governor is pleaſed to call them) falſe, which you have not thought fit to do.

Signed by Order of the Houſe,

September 30, 1757. ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker."

Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Masters, Mr. Smith, Mr. Gibbons, Mr. James Wright, Mr. John Wright, Mr. Yorke and Mr. Plumsted wait upon the Governor, and acquaint him, that, pursuant to the Charter and Laws of this Province, a Quorum of the Representatives have met, and proceeded to the Choice of a Speaker, and desire to know when his Honour will be pleased to receive the House, that they may present their Speaker.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait on the Governor with the Message of Yesternight, reported, they had delivered the same according to Order; and that his Honour was pleased to say, he would receive the House, for the Presentation of their Speaker, at One o'Clock this Afternoon. October 15.

A Message by Mr. Secretary:

"SIR,

"The Governor requires the Attendance of the Speaker, and the House, in the "Council Chamber immediately."

Then Mr. Speaker, with the whole House, waited on the Governor, and being returned, the Speaker resumed the Chair, and reported, that the House had waited on the Governor, and presented their Speaker; and that his Honour was pleased to approve their Choice. That the Speaker had then, in the Name and Behalf of the House, claimed the usual Privileges, viz.

First, That the better to discharge the Business of the Public, they may at all seasonable Times have free Access to the Governor.

Secondly, That their Persons may be protected from all Arrests and Insults, during the Time of Privilege accustomed.

Thirdly, That it would please the Governor to take no Notice of any Report that may be made, touching any Matter or Thing that may be moved or debated in the House, until the same shall have passed into a Resolve, nor give the least Credit to such Report.

Fourthly and lastly, that his own (the Speaker's) unwilling Mistakes may be excused, and not imputed to the House.

All which he had requested as the just Rights and Privileges of the Freemen of Pennsylvania, derived and confirmed to them by the Charters and Laws of the Province. And that the Governor was pleased to say, "That he should support the House in them, "or any others they were entitled to."

The Clerk having, pursuant to Order, brought in two Copies of the Qualification appointed by Law to be taken by the Members of Assembly, and the Test of Abjuration, 1757. the ſame were taken and ſubſcribed, firſt by Mr. Speaker in the Chair, and then at the Table by all the reſt of the Members preſent in their Order.

October 15. Reſolved, That Charles Moore be Clerk to this Houſe for the enſuing Year.

And he took and ſubſcribed the uſual Qualification accordingly.

Reſolved, That Samuel Kirk be Sergeant at Arms to this Houſe for the enſuing Year.

Reſolved, That David Edwards be Door-keeper to this Houſe for the enſuing Year.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Monday next, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon.

October 17. Poſt Meridiem The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down an Extract of a Letter from Lord Loudoun, with a written Meſſage to the Houſe, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'THOUGH in Times of public Peace and Tranquillity it has not been uſual for the Repreſentatives of the People to proceed to Buſineſs at this Seaſon of the Year, yet I hope you will be of Opinion with me, that at this critical Conjuncture, and Time of public Calamity, when his Majeſty's Enemies are daily committing the moſt cruel Ravages on our Frontiers, and carrying on Deſigns which threaten this and the neighbouring Colonies with total Ruin, a Moment's Time ought not to be loſt. Surely every Meaſure in our Power ſhould be vigorouſly executed, that may tend to the Security of this valuable Province, and the Protection of its Inhabitants. Give me Leave therefore, at this your firſt Meeting, to recommend to your immediate Conſideration, ſuch Matters as appear to me the moſt likely to anſwer the above Purpoſes, ſo much deſired by every loyal Subject and Well-wiſher to his Country.

'A well framed conſtitutional Militia Law deſerves your firſt Attention. Experience, and the Wiſdom of all States ſhew, that a well regulated Militia is the beſt Security to every Country. By a conſtitutional Militia Law, I mean ſuch a one as is founded on the Principles of an Engliſh Conſtitution, and preſerves equally the legal Prerogatives of the Crown, and the juſt Rights of the People. The ſeveral Militia Bills preſented to me by the laſt Aſſembly, were formed on the ſame Plan with the late Militia Law of this Province, repealed by our Royal Sovereign in Council, particularly in that Part reſpecting the Election of Officers, which, among other Matters objected to, was aſſigned as one of the principal Cauſes for repealing it. How conſiſtent ſuch a Conduct was with the Duty and Obedience due from loyal Subjects to the beſt of Kings, I ſhall not take upon me to determine. As to my Part, I ſhall on all Occaſions think myſelf indiſpenſably obliged to conform to the Royal Determination; which Principle then did, and ever will, induce me to refuſe my Aſſent to a Bill of the ſame Import with one his Majeſty has been pleaſed to reject. Theſe Conſiderations, I hope, Gentlemen, will prevail with you to prepare a new Militia Bill, free from the Objections that proved fatal to the former Law.

'A Bill for regulating the Indian Trade, and preventing the Abuſes formerly practiſed on the Natives, is alſo of the utmoſt Importance to this Province, as well to attach firmly the Indians to his Majeſty's Intereſt, as to enable this Government to fulfil the ſeveral Engagements that have been made with them in the late Treaties.

'As I am informed that the Supplies given to his Majeſty's Uſe, for the Defence and Protection of the Province, are near expended, I muſt recommend it to you to think in Time of proper Ways and Means to raiſe further Supplies, by an equal and juſt Taxation of the Eſtates of the Inhabitants, or ſuch other Methods as you may judge will be the leaſt burdenſome to them.

'I lay before you an Extract of a Letter I lately received from the Earl of Loudoun, wherein his Lordſhip requires, that the public Roads throughout this Province ſhould immediately be put into good Repair, and ſeveral new ones cut; without which it will be impoſſible to defend and relieve the Province, in Caſe of an Attack from the Enemy, or to act offenſively againſt them. His Lordſhip's Demands are ſo juſt, reaſonable, and abſolutely neceſſary, that I am perſuaded you will without Heſitation enable me to carry them into Execution.

'I propoſe going to my other Government on Thurſday next. I ſhall preſs that Aſſembly to make all poſſible Diſpatch with Regard to the public Buſineſs, and hope, on my Return, to find the ſeveral Bills recommended to you ready to be laid before me.

'The Affair of the Roads not admitting of the leaſt Delay, I deſire this may be finiſhed before I ſet out.

October 17, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

October 18. Mr. Roberdeau, Mr. Denormandie and Mr. Blackledge appearing, were qualified as uſual, and took their Seats in the Houſe accordingly.

Ordered,

1757. October 18.

Ordered, That Mr. Leech, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Fox, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Masters and Mr. Yorke, with Mr. Speaker, be a Committee of Correspondence for the ensuing Year.

Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Smith, Mr. Strickland, Mr. Ashbridge, Mr. Saunders, Mr. John Wright, Mr. Yorke and Mr. Plumsted be a Committee of Grievances for the ensuing Year, and that they have full Power and Authority to send for Persons, Papers and Records, &c.

Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Roberdeau, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Baynton, Mr. Pearne, Mr. Walker and Mr. Morton be a Committee to audit and settle the Accounts of the General Loan-Office, and other public Accounts; and to sink and destroy the Bills of Credit received in Exchange, pursuant to the several Paper Money Acts; and to count all the Monies, and report, together with the said Accounts, the Sum they shall actually find in the Trustees Hands; and they have full Power and Authority to send for Persons, Papers and Records, &c.

Ordered, That Mr. Fox and Mr. Galloway, with the Speaker, be a Committee to revise the Minutes of this House, before they are printed.

Resolved, That Samuel Preston Moore, Esq; be Treasurer of this Province for the ensuing Year.

Resolved, That Benjamin Franklin, Esq; be, and he is hereby continued and appointed Agent of this Province to solicit and transact the Affairs thereof in Great-Britain, in Pursuance of the Powers and Instructions given to him by the last Assembly, and of such further Instructions as may be hereafter given him by this House.

Resolved, That Robert Charles and Richard Patridge, Esquires, be appointed Agents to assist the said Benjamin Franklin in the Discharge of his Duty in transacting the Affairs of this Province, according to the aforesaid Resolve, during his Stay in Great-Britain, and then joint Agents during the remaining Part of the Year.

Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Leech, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Masters, Mr. Gibbons and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to prepare and bring in a Bill for regulating the Indian Trade.

Then the House adjourned to Four o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Committee appointed to prepare a Bill for regulating the Indian Trade, reported they had essayed a Draught for that Purpose, which they delivered at the Table, and the same being read the first time, was taken up again by special Order, and having passed the second Reading, after some Amendments thereon, was ordered to be transcribed for a third.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

Adjournment October 19.

The Bill for regulating the Indian Trade being transcribed, was read the third time.

Resolved, That the said Bill do pass.

It being moved that a short Message be sent up to the Governor, with the Bill just passed by the House, a rough Draught thereof was wrote at the Table, read, and being agreed to, was ordered to be transcribed, and follows in these Words, viz.

"The House taking into their Consideration your Message of the Seventeenth Instant, and conceiving the Establishment and Regulation of the Indian Trade to be at present a Matter of the last Importance to the Welfare of this Province, and to his Majesty's American Interest in general, have prepared a Bill for that Purpose, and now present it to your Honour for your Assent.

"The House apprehends there can be no Use in offering Arguments to prevail on the Governor to pass a Bill so indispensably necessary for his Majesty's Service, and the Defence of this Colony, especially as the Governor's solemn Engagements, and the public Faith, are staked for the Performance of those Things for which the Bill is immediately calculated.

"They were induced to prefer this Bill to the other Matters recommended in your Message, by an Information they have received, that the Natives have frequently come down to Fort Augusta with their Peltry, under an Expectation of being supplied with Goods, agreeable to the Governor's Engagements to them, and have returned much dissatisfied at the Disappointment.

"Therefore, as the Postponing of this necessary Bill may be attended with a total Alienation of the Indians from the British Interest, and consequently not only affect this, but all the other Colonies, they entreat the Governor to take it into his serious Consideration, and give it Dispatch, before he proceeds to the Business of his other Government."

Ordered, That Mr. Walker and Mr. Plumsted wait on the Governor with the said Bill and Message, and acquaint him, that the House propose to continue sitting till his Honour's Departure for New-Castle to meet the Assembly of the Lower Counties, and that then, as the said Assembly did little Business last Year, and the Governor will be therefore probably detained some Time below, the Members incline to adjourn to the Second Day of January next.

Then the House adjourned to Five o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor with the Bill for preventing Abuses in 1757. October 19. in the Indian Trade, &c. and the verbal Meſſage of the Houſe, reported, they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, he would immediately take the ſaid Bill into Conſideration, and give it all the Diſpatch in his Power; but thought the Term of Adjournment propoſed by the Houſe too long, and therefore recommended to their immediate Conſideration the other Parts of his Meſſage of the 17th Inſtant, reſpecting a Militia Bill, and further Supplies.

Reſolved, That this Houſe are of Opinion, that the Expence of the Poſt eſtabliſhed betwixt this City and Carliſle, upon a Recommendation from his Honour the Governor for that Purpoſe, is and ought to be paid by the Provincial Commiſſioners, out of the Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds granted to his Majeſty's Uſe; and the ſame is hereby recommended to the ſaid Commiſſioners for immediate Payment.

The Rules of the Houſe being read as uſual were agreed to, with the additional One impoſing certain Fines on the Members for irregular and unſeaſonable Attendance.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

October 20. The Governor, by the Secretary, returned the Bill for preventing Abuſes in the Indian Trade, &c. with his Amendments thereon, which were read: Mr. Secretary alſo delivered a Meſſage from his Honour to the Houſe, which being read, is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'MY Meſſage of the Seventeenth fully ſhews my Opinion of the Neceſſity of a good Law to regulate the Indian Trade within this Province, but as I am a Branch of the Legiſlature, neither that Neceſſity, nor the public Faith pledged to the Indians on Preſumption of a proper Bill being offered, can juſtify me in paſſing one that appears inadequate to the good Ends propoſed, or that deprives the Government of having a due Share in the Management of an Affair wherein his Majeſty's Intereſt is ſo intimately concerned. I took into Conſideration the Bill, entituled, An Act for preventing Abuſes in the Indian Trade, &c. as ſoon as I received it, and now return it to you with ſuch Amendments thereto as appear to me both juſt and reaſonable, in which I hope I ſhall have your Concurrence. Though I intended to ſet out for New-Caſtle this Morning early, to meet the Aſſembly of my other Government, I have this Bill ſo much at Heart, that I have delayed my Journey till the Afternoon, before which, I hope, I ſhall know the Reſult of your Determinations upon the Amendments propoſed.

'I now lay before you a Letter I received laſt Night from the Governor of New-York, with Intelligence that a Number of Seneca Warriors are gone to join the Delawares, or River-Indians, and fall on the Southern Provinces, Miniſink and Eſopus. This, among other Reaſons, induces me again to preſs you to proceed on the ſeveral important Matters recommended to you in my laſt Meſſage without Loſs of Time.

'I hope my Journey to New-Caſtle will not occaſion you to adjourn over to a further Day, as I am perſuaded I ſhall not be detained there above a Fortnight at moſt, againſt which Time you may prepare ſuch Bills as were recommended to you.

October 20, 1757. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Houſe taking into Conſideration the Governor's Amendments on the Bill for preventing Abuſes in the Indian Trade, &c. brought down by the Secretary, admitted ſome of the ſaid Amendments, and in others adhered unanimouſly to the Bill: And the ſaid Amendments agreed to by the Houſe being tranſcribed, Ordered, That Mr. M'Connaughy and Mr. Strickland wait on the Governor therewith, and return to his Honour the Bill ſent down by the Secretary this Morning, and deſire he will be pleaſed to paſs the ſaid Bill as it now ſtands.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Members appointed to wait on the Governor, reported, they had delivered the ſaid Bill and Amendments, with the Meſſage of the Houſe, according to Order; and that his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, he would take the ſame into his immediate Conſideration.

The Governor again ſent down the Bill for preventing Abuſes in the Indian Trade, &c. by the Secretary, who acquainted the Houſe, that his Honour adhered to all his Amendments on the ſaid Bill, as otherwiſe he muſt give up the moſt eſſential Rights of Government, which he was not inclined to do.

The Queſtion being then put, whether the Houſe do adhere to their Bill, as laſt ſent up to the Governor? the ſame was unanimouſly reſolved in the Affirmative.

A Petition from Joſhua Humphreys was preſented to the Houſe and read, praying to be appointed the Officer for inſpecting and branding of Flour exported from this Province. Referred to further Conſideration.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

October 21. The Houſe taking under Conſideration ſome material Omiſſions in, and conſiderable Differences between, the Minutes of the Treaty held at Eaſton, as printed by Order of the the Governor, and those delivered to the House by Mr. Charles Thompson, Secretary to Teedyuscung, King of the Delawares, 1757. October 21.

Ordered, That the latter be forthwith printed, and that the Committee of the House appointed to attend the Governor to the said Treaty, do report thereon, and publish their said Report as an Appendix to the said last mentioned Minutes.

Then the House adjourned to the Second Day of January next. Adjournment

A QUORUM of the Representatives being met, pursuant to their Adjournment, and acquainted that Mr. Speaker was so much indisposed as to be unable to attend public Business, they proceeded to the Choice of another in his Room, and THOMAS LEECH, Esq; was unanimously chosen Speaker, and accordingly placed in the Chair. 1758. January 2. Post Meridiem

Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Masters, Mr. Owen, Mr. Gibbons, Mr. Carpenter and Mr. Yorke wait on the Governor, and acquaint him, that the late Speaker being through Indisposition prevented from attending the House, the Members have made Choice of another in his Stead, and desire to know when the Governor will be pleased to receive the House, to present him.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor with the Message of Yesternight, reported, they had delivered the same according to Order; and that his Honour was pleased to say, he would receive the House in the Council Chamber, at Twelve o'Clock To-day, to present their Speaker. January 3.

A Message by Mr. Secretary:

SIR,

" The Governor requires the Attendance of the House, in the Council Chamber " immediately, to present their Speaker."

Mr. Speaker then, with the whole House, waited on the Governor, and being returned, the Speaker resumed the Chair, and reported, that the House had waited on the Governor, and presented their Speaker, of whom he was pleased to express his Approbation. That the Speaker had then said, that as the late Speaker had claimed the usual Privileges, it was needless for him to repeat them, except that which related particularly to himself as Speaker, viz. that his unwilling Mistakes might be excused, and not imputed to the House.

Mr. Hunt, Mr. Grubb, Mr. Carpenter and Mr. Allen, returned Representatives for the Counties of Chester, Lancaster and Cumberland, appearing in the House, took and subscribed the Qualification appointed by Law to be taken by the Members of Assembly, and then took their Seats accordingly.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

Ordered, That Mr. Baynton and Mr. Morton wait on the Governor, and acquaint him that the House are ready to proceed on any Business he may be pleased to lay before them, and report the Answer from his Honour to the House To-morrow. Post Meridiem

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor with the Message of Yesternight, reported, they had delivered the same according to Order; and that his Honour was pleased to say, he had some Business of great Importance to lay before the House, which should be communicated to them by a Message this Forenoon. January 4.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down a written Message to the House, which was read, and follows in these Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

'IN my Message to you at your first Meeting in October last, I laid before you several Matters, which as they appeared to me of the utmost Consequence to his Majesty's Interest, and the Well-being of this Province, I pressed you to take into your immediate Consideration, and give them all possible Dispatch. In Consequence of which you prepared and sent up to me one Bill only for regulating the Indian Trade; to which I proposed such Amendments as I thought reasonable, but on your refusing to accede thereto, that necessary Bill was laid aside, and you were pleased to adjourn to Yesterday, without proceeding at that Time to the other Matters recommended to you. I now refer you to that Message, and again press you in the most earnest Manner to resume the Consideration of the several Matters therein mentioned. The Supplies necessary not only for the Protection and Defence of this Province, in the present critical and dangerous Situation of Affairs, but for the Payment of the Money now in Arrear to the Provincial Forces, merit your first Attention. In this you no Doubt will have particular Regard to the Circumstances of your Constituents, and consider whether some other Modes of raising Taxes, such as are practised in our Mother Country, or the other Colonies, ought not to be pursued, to come in Aid of the Taxes which you may think proper to lay on Estates Real and Personal. In Pursuance of the Treaty of A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

1758. January 4.

'Peace concluded with Teedyuſcung, and the Confederate Indians, at Eaſton, in Auguſt 'laſt, I have ſent Commiſſioners to Wyoming to erect Houſes there for their Habitation, 'and now lay before you the Commiſſioners Report to me of the Progreſs made by them 'in Diſcharge of their Truſt; in which they ſhew, that their Return, before their Or- 'ders were fully carried into Execution, was owing to a Requeſt made by Teedyuſcung, 'that the Finiſhing the Work ſhould be deferred till the Spring.

'After your Adjournment, a temporary Expedient was agreed upon by me and the 'late Provincial Commiſſioners to prevent the fatal Conſequences that might have at- 'tended the not ſupplying the Indians with a Store of Winter Goods at Shamokin, agree- 'able to the Promiſes made them at Lancaſter, and Goods, to the Value of One Thou- 'ſand Pounds, have been ſent up to that Place, under the Care and Direction of Mr. 'John Carſon, who was commiſſioned by me for that Purpoſe. Though this may ſa- 'tisfy the Indians for the preſent, yet nothing can ſo effectually ſecure to us their Al- 'liance and Affection, or guard againſt their being abuſed and impoſed on in their Deal- 'ings with us, as a proper Law to regulate the Trade with them, and I think myſelf 'obliged once more warmly to recommend to you the Preparing a Bill for that Purpoſe.

'I lay before you a Letter from Lord Colvill, Commander in Chief of his Majeſty's 'Ships and Veſſels in North-America, requeſting a Supply of Seamen from this Province 'to recruit the Ships under his Lordſhip's Command, and hope that you will enable 'me ſpeedily to comply with a Demand ſo neceſſary for the Protection of his Majeſty's 'Colonies.

'If any Thing material ſhould occur during the Time of your Sitting, I ſhall take 'Care to communicate it to you. All I have at this Time further to recommend to you 'is, that in your Deliberations you will act with Vigour, Temper, and Moderation, which 'at all Times are neceſſary in public Councils, but are more particularly ſo in the Co- 'lonies at this Conjuncture.

January 3, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

With the foregoing Meſſage, the Secretary delivered ſundry Papers, which were ſeverally read, and entituled as follow, viz.

1. A Letter dated at Halifax, November 14, 1757, from Lord Colvill, Commander in Chief of his Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels in North-America, to his Honour the Governor; requeſting a Supply of as many Seamen, and able-bodied Landmen, as can be raiſed in this Colony, may be ſent, with the utmoſt Diſpatch, to Halifax, to recruit the Ships under his Command.

2. A Letter dated at Barnabas Hughes's, Lancaſter County, November 23, 1757, from John Hughes, Edward Shippen, and James Galbreath, Eſquires, Indian Commiſſioners, to the Governor; containing a Report of their Proceedings at Wyoming.

4. A Letter to the Governor, dated at Bethlehem, December 31, 1757, from Mr. William Edmonds; with Advice, that John Jacob (Teedyuſcung's Son) was returned in Thirty-one Days from the Allegheny Town, and brought an Account that he had ſeen ſome of the Indian Chiefs (the Head of whom is Caſteregua) who, upon enquiring for News of the ſaid John Jacob, was acquainted by him with the Peace concluded at Eaſton with the Conſent of the Six Nations, which they (the ſaid Chiefs) were glad to hear of: That when he came away he heard Tom Leman was come amongſt them with a large Belt given by the Governor at the laſt Treaty, from which Teedyuſcung ſoon expected to hear of good Effects. That the ſaid John Jacob further related, while they were at the Allegheny Town, which is about twenty Miles from the French Fort called Venango, there came Deputies from the French with five Strings, who ſaid they intended in three Months from that Time to aſſemble many Soldiers, and expected alſo ſome French Indians, whom they called their own Sons, to join them in attacking the Fort at Shamokin, and that they came with thoſe Strings to invite them to aſſiſt in the Attempt; but Caſteregua on hearing the good News of Peace concluded at Eaſton, told his young Men they ſhould all ſtay at Home, and not liſten to the French, but to the Peace lately made by their Brethren the Delawares; and this he engaged with John Jacob for his young Men at that Town; though he could not ſay any Thing in Behalf of another Town about Fifty-five Miles diſtant on the Waters that come from the Great Lake.

Ordered, That the Governor's Meſſage and the ſaid Papers lie on the Table for the Peruſal of the Members.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem. Upon Motion by Mr. Walker, a Repreſentative for the County of Bucks, acquainting the Houſe with the Deceaſe of John Abraham Denormandie, Eſq; a late Member of this Aſſembly for the ſaid County,

The House resumed the Consideration of the Governor's Message by Paragraphs, and, after some Time spent therein, Ordered, That Mr. Galloway, Mr. Masters, Mr. Smith, Mr. Ashbridge, Mr. Carpenter, Mr. John Wright and Mr. Allen be a Committee to prepare and bring in a Bill to regulate the Indian Trade.

Mr. Speaker laid before the House a Copy of his Order to the Provincial Secretary for issuing a Writ for a new Election of a Member of Assembly in the Room of John Abraham Denormandie, Esq; lately deceased; and the said Order being read, follows in these Words, viz.

Pennsylvania ss.

BY a Resolve of this Assembly on the Fourth of this Instant, I am impowered and directed to order the Provincial Secretary, that he do issue a Writ to the Sheriff of the County of Bucks, for the Election of a Member to serve as a Representative in this Assembly for the said County of Bucks, in the Room and Stead of John Abraham Denormandie, Esq; lately deceased. Therefore, by Virtue of the said Resolve, and in Pursuance of an Act of Assembly of this Province in that Case made and provided, I do require that a Writ be issued to the Sheriff of the said County, for the Purpose aforesaid, according to the Directions of the said Law. Upon Motion, January 6.

An Address, presented to his Honour the Governor by William Moore, a Magistrate of Chester County, on the Nineteenth of October last, and afterwards printed in the public News-papers, containing many injurious Charges, and slanderous Aspersions against the Conduct of the late Assembly, and highly derogatory of, and destructive to, the Rights of this House, and the Privileges of Assembly, was read by Order; and after some Time spent in the Consideration thereof, Ordered, That Mr. Speaker do immediately issue his Warrant to the Serjeant at Arms, requiring him to bring the said William Moore forthwith to the Bar of this House, to answer such Questions, touching the said Address, as shall there be put to him.

Dr.

1758. January 6. Dr. Phineas Bond, he was ordered in, and acquainted by Mr. Speaker, that the Houſe having had Intimations that he could give them ſome Light in relation to a ſcandalous Libel, entituled, The humble Addreſs of William Moore, lately publiſhed in the Weekly News-papers of this City, they had required his Appearance before them, to declare what he knew concerning the ſaid Addreſs.

He replied, that as the Houſe muſt be ſenſible the Notice given for his Appearance before them was ſo ſhort, that he could not but be unprepared to anſwer the Queſtions they might think proper to put to him, he hoped he ſhould be ſo far indulged as to receive the Queſtions of the Houſe in Writing, and be allowed ſome little Time for Recollection, and to conſult with his Friends, before he returned his Anſwers, which could not otherwiſe be made with any ſatisfactory Degree of Strictneſs or Certainty.

He was then ordered to withdraw, and Mr. Speaker having collected the Sentiments of the Houſe, reſpecting his Requeſt of Time, and the Queſtions in Writing, the ſaid Bond was again called in, and acquainted, that his Requeſt being unprecedented, and ſuch as could not have any Foundation in Reaſon, ſince the Queſtions intended to be aſked him had no Tendency to criminate himſelf, the Houſe were not diſpoſed to grant it, but required that he would proceed immediately to give his Evidence in the uſual Way.

The ſaid Bond, ſtill heſitating, and more ſtrenuouſly urging the Impoſſibility of an immediate Compliance with the Demand of the Houſe, for certain Reaſons only known to himſelf, and which he could not impart to them, was further acquainted, that the Houſe, in Regard to his known Connections with Mr. Moore, were diſpoſed to treat him with the utmoſt Lenity in their Manner of taking his Evidence, and ſhould aſk him no Queſtions which had any Tendency to criminate that Gentlemen, or himſelf, but only a third Perſon, to whom he was not publicly known to be under any Obligations; but even admitting he ſhould, that thoſe Obligations ought not to be put in Competition with, or obſtruct, public Juſtice; and therefore he could have no reaſonable Plea for any longer refuſing an immediate Anſwer to the following Queſtion, viz.

Whether to his Knowledge a Paper, containing the Subſtance of an Addreſs preſented to the Governor, and ſubſcribed William Moore, was corrected, altered, or amended at any Time whatever by William Smith, Provoſt of the Academy of this City? —— To which, after ſome Deliberation, the ſaid Bond replied, I will not give a categorical Anſwer to that Queſtion at this Time; whereupon he was ordered into Cuſtody of the Serjeant at Arms, and the Houſe taking into Conſideration the general good Character of the ſaid Evidence, together with the Difficulties he might be under from his particular Situation, and being altogether averſe to a rigorous Procedure againſt him, while there was any Proſpect of Succeſs from the contrary,——

Reſolved, That nothing which the ſaid Phineas Bond ſhall teſtify or declare in the Courſe of his preſent Examination before this Houſe, ſhall in any wiſe, or on any Occaſion, be of any Force, Validity, or Effect, in charging him the ſaid Bond with any Offence or Miſdemeanor in promoting, writing, or abetting, a certain ſcandalous Libel againſt the late Aſſembly, entituled, The humble Addreſs of William Moore, one of the Juſtices of the Peace for the County of Cheſter.

And the ſaid Evidence being again ordered in, the ſame was read to him; but he ſtill obſtinately perſiſting in his Refuſal to give a direct Anſwer at this Time to the Queſtion,

Reſolved, That the ſaid Refuſal is an high Contempt to the Authority and Powers of this Aſſembly, and hath a manifeſt Tendency to ſuppreſs the Truth, and obſtruct public Juſtice. Therefore Ordered, That the ſaid Phineas Bond be committed to the Cuſtody of the Serjeant at Arms, until he ſhall make Anſwer to the ſaid Queſtion, or till further Orders from this Houſe, and that the Serjeant do not permit any Perſon whatſoever to converſe with, or ſpeak to, the ſaid Bond, but in his Preſence and Hearing.

Doctor Thomas Bond was then ordered in, and, after being examined by the Houſe, was directed to withdraw.

The Serjeant at Arms acquainting the Houſe that Doctor Phineas Bond, committed to his Cuſtody, requeſted the Indulgence of being further heard before them, he was again admitted, and addreſſing himſef to the Chair, acquainted the Houſe, that as a certain Evidence examined before them ſince he was, had in the Courſe of his Teſtimony, diſcloſed ſome Facts, which he had apprehended himſelf obliged by the Ties of Honour and Friendſhip to conceal, he now thought he was thereby abſolved from thoſe Obligations, and would candidly anſwer the Queſtion before propoſed to him: Whereupon the ſaid Queſtion being again put to him, and the ſaid Bond giving a direct and ſatisfactory Anſwer thereto, Ordered, That he be diſcharged from the Cuſtody of the Serjeant at Arms.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

January 7. The Serjeant at Arms attending at the Door with Michael Lovell, Robert Levers, David

David Hall and William Bradford, in Pursuance of the Order of the House for that Purpose, they were severally called to the Bar, and, after being examined, were ordered to withdraw. 1758. January 7.

Then the House adjourned to Monday next, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon. Adjournment

The House met, pursuant to their Adjournment. January 9. Post Meridiem

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down a written Message tothe House, which was read, and follows in these Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'I RECEIVED an Address from the late Assembly of this Province, dated the Twenty-eighth of September last, wherein they in general Terms charged William 'Moore, Esq; one of the Justices of the Peace for the County of Chester, with Extortion, and divers other oppressive and illegal Practices committed by him in the Execution of his said Office; and therefore entreated me to remove him from the Offices of Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, and Justice of the Peace, and from all other public Offices, Posts and Employments whatsoever under his Majesty within this Government. In Answer to this Address I informed that Assembly, as common Justice required that no Man should be condemned unheard, in any Matter that affected his Life, Fortune or Character, I could not think myself justified in removing Mr. Moore from his public Employments, till I had made him acquainted with the Complaints and Evidence exhibited against him, and given him an Opportunity of making his Defence, and therefore desired they would furnish me with Copies of the Petitions and Proofs on which their Application to me against him was founded, and that, on a full Hearing, strict Justice should be done, both to him and the Public. From the Moment I received the above Address, I determined on a full and close Enquiry into the Charges against Mr. Moore, and to make a public Example of him, as far as my Power extended, if it should appear he had misbehaved himself, or oppressed his Majesty's Subjects under Colour of his Office: And to that End I appointed this Day for hearing all the Proofs in the Case, after due Notice being given to the Parties and their Witnesses. Accordingly I attended on that Occasion this Morning, with my Council, in the Council Chamber at the State-house, but received a Letter from Mr. Moore, informing me, that he was arrested on Friday last, by a Deputy of your Serjeant at Arms, and brought to this Town by Warrant from your House, and is now confined in close Custody, and therefore could not appear in Obedience to my Order, to make his Defence. I thought it proper to give you this Information, to shew you I was sincerely disposed to do every Thing in my Power, consistent with the Rules of Justice, in this Matter, and that any Delay therein cannot be imputed to me.

January 9, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

The House taking the foregoing Message from the Governor into Consideration, after some Time spent therein, Ordered, That Mr. Galloway, Mr. Masters, Mr. Strickland, Mr. Gibbons, Mr. Saunders, Mr. John Wright, Mr. Allen and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to draw up and bring in an Answer to the said Message.

Upon Motion,

That the Reverend Mr. Hanshew, a Lutheran Minister, could give some Information to this House, touching the Share and Concern which William Smith, Provost of the Academy, hath had in translating and publishing in Dutch a late scandalous Libel, entituled, The humble Address of William Moore, one of the Justices of the Peace for the County of Chester.

Ordered, That Mr. Speaker do forthwith issue an Order, requiring the said Hanshew to give his Attendance immediately before this House, to answer such Questions as shall then and there be put to him touching the said Address.

The House being informed that the Serjeant at Arms was attending at the Door with the said Hanshew, he was ordered in, and, after being examined by the House, withdrew.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Committee appointed to prepare an Answer to the Governor's Message of Yesterday, reported, they had essayed a Draught for that Purpose, which they delivered at the Table, and the same being read, and considered by Paragraphs, was agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed. January 10.

The Petition of John Bound, junior, was presented to the House and read, praying Redress of the Injustice done him by William Moore, Esq; in reversing a Judgment given in his Favour by Justice Lightfoot, and adjudging the Petitioner to pay the Costs of both Suits.

A Petition from the Overseers of the Poor of the City of Philadelphia was presented to the House and read, praying Provision may be made for repaying the Sums they have advanced in Support of the French Neutrals.

1758. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

January 10. Poſt Meridiem A Petition from Jane Rogers was preſented to the Houſe and read, complaining of William Moore's unjuſtly detaining Money from her, due to the Eſtate of her late Huſband Daniel Howell, deceaſed.

The Petition of Joſeph Rogers was preſented and read, praying Redreſs of the Injuſtice of William Moore, in refuſing to ſettle Accounts with him, and pay a Balance due to the Petitioner.

The Petition of Theophilus Thomas, and others, was preſented to the Houſe and read, praying an Amendment of the Law concerning Adminiſtrations.

The Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage being tranſcribed, was read, ſigned by Mr. Speaker, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. THE late Aſſembly of this Province did addreſs your Honour to remove William Moore, Eſq; from all public Offices, Poſts and Employments whatſoever under his Majeſty in this Government, being convinced, on an impartial Enquiry, that he had greatly miſbehaved himſelf in his public Office as a Juſtice of the Peace, and that, as he had ſo manifeſtly violated the Truſt repoſed in him, he was unworthy of all public Truſt and Confidence whatſoever. This Enquiry, we beg Leave to obſerve, was attended with the ſame Rules of Juſtice your Honour intends to proceed on, "that of making him ac- "quainted with the Complaints and Evidence exhibited againſt him, and of giving him "an Opportunity of making his Defence." — This, that Aſſembly was conſcious, common Juſtice required, and therefore gave William Moore repeated Notice of their Reſolution to examine into the Aggrievances complained of, and required his Attendance to exculpate himſelf, and prove his Innocence, if in his Power, as appears from the Minutes of the Houſe.

It is likewiſe true, that the ſaid William Moore was arreſted by a Deputy of our Serjeant at Arms, and is now in Cuſtody for publiſhing an inſolent and ſcandalous Libel, replete with the moſt indecent Calumnies, and ſhameful Falſhoods, againſt the late Aſſembly of this Province, tending in the moſt evident Manner to bring the Authority and Dignity of the Houſe of Repreſentatives into Deriſion and Contempt among the People, and to a Diſſolution of ſome of the moſt eſſential Powers and Privileges of the Conſtitution.

This your Honour cannot be a Stranger to, as the Author had the Aſſurance to addreſs and preſent it to your Honour, and afterwards publiſh it in the public Gazette.

We ſhould think ourſelves extremely defective in our Duty to the late, as well as all future Aſſemblies, had we not, prior to all other Buſineſs, taken the neceſſary Steps to bring to Juſtice ſuch an heinous Offender againſt the Peace, Tranquillity and Authority of the Conſtitution.

And we hope, when your Honour conſiders how neceſſary it is that both the Branches of the Government ſhould act in Concert, when the legal Rights and Powers of either are abuſed, that you will chearfully concur, if neceſſary, in ſupporting the Rights and Privileges of the Aſſembly, and in puniſhing thoſe who ſhall dare to infringe or invade them; for, permit us to remark, the ſame reſtleſs and factious Spirit that ſhall have Wickedneſs enough to inſult the one, will be prevailed on to abuſe the other: And ſhould they ſucceed in their arbitrary Deſigns of cruſhing the Powers of the Aſſembly, may with the ſame Reſolution attack the other Branch of the Conſtitution, and, if poſſible, reduce it to equal Deriſion and Contempt; to prevent which inconceivable Miſchief, nothing can be ſo effectual as a ſteady Unanimity in the Legiſlature, and a due Exertion of the Powers of each, for the Preſervation of both.

It is therefore with Pleaſure we obſerve your Honour is determined, as far as your Powers extend, to make a public Example of ſuch who have miſbehaved or oppreſſed his Majeſty's Subjects, under Colour of their Offices, and that you are "ſincerely diſpoſed "to do every Thing in your Power, conſiſtent with the Rules of Juſtice," with reſpect to the Complaints and Petitions againſt William Moore.

At the Time we, in the Character of the late Aſſembly, preſented the Addreſs againſt him to your Honour, we did expect that, upon an impartial Examination of the Aſſembly into the Complaints and Oppreſſion of their Conſtituents, you would have been pleaſed to have removed a Perſon from his public Offices, who, it appeared from the Petitions and Examinations, taken on Oath, and laid before your Honour, had ſo heinouſly offended, and been ſo long in the conſtant Practice of diſtreſſing the poor and neceſſitous Part of the People.

A Multitude of Inſtances might be adduced to your Honour, where this has been done by the Crown, upon the Examinations of the Commons, whoſe Power of Enquiry into the Grievances of the People has been eſtabliſhed ever ſince the Exiſtence of the preſent happy Conſtitution: But as your Honour ſeems determined not to remove him without an Enquiry into the Facts before yourſelf, "and to that End had appointed a Day for "hearing

" hearing the Proofs," we beg Leave to remark, that we never had any Notice of that Appointment, which we humbly conceive we ought to have had, in order to enable us to have drawn up the Charges againſt him in ſo many ſeveral Articles of Impeachment, directed proper Perſons to proſecute in Behalf of the injured and diſtreſſed People, and to have had a Committee of the Houſe preſent during the Courſe of the Trial. 1758. January 10.

Theſe Steps, may it pleaſe your Honour, are ſtrictly agreeable to the Uſage of Parliament, and Cuſtoms of our Mother Country, which we hope will ever be (as they ought) the invariable Rules of the Conduct of both the Branches of the Legiſlature. Without this no regular or legal Procedure can be had in the Trial of any Perſon whatſoever before your Honour, no more than an inferior Court can proceed to try and convict a Felon, without a Preſentment or Indictment from the Grand Inqueſt for that Purpoſe. The Power of impeaching is inconteſtably in the Aſſembly, by the Charter of Privileges, and an eſtabliſhed Law of the Province; and the Power of determining ſuch Impeachments in the Governor alone: And therefore a Concern for the Honour of the Governor, and the Rights of the People we repreſent, obliges us to inform him, that all Hearings and Trials before the Council, where they aſſume a Voice in the judicial Determination, is an high Infringement on the Rights of the People, a Violation of theCharters of the Province, and an Innovation in the Conſtitution, as it would be erecting a new Court of Judicature, unknown in the Government before, which neither the Laws or Charters of the Province will ſupport or countenance.

Therefore, in order to avoid a Failure of Juſtice, and at the ſame Time to ſupport the Rights and Privileges of the Conſtitution, and Uſages of Parliament, we requeſt your Honour will appoint a Day for the Trial of William Moore, upon ſuch Articles of Impeachment as ſhall be exhibited againſt him by this Houſe; upon due Notice whereof we will with all Expedition proceed to draw up in Form ſuch of the People's Complaints as are of the moſt heinous Nature, and can be evidently proved againſt him, and preſent them to your Honour, for your Determination thereon. As ſoon as this is done, our Serjeant at Arms ſhall either attend with the Priſoner in his Cuſtody, or deliver him over to ſuch Perſon as your Honour ſhall appoint for that Purpoſe, during the Trial, as ſhall be moſt agreeable to your Honour.

Signed by Order of the Houſe,

January 10, 1758. THOMAS LEECH, Speaker."

Ordered, That Mr. Trimble and Mr. Aſh wait upon the Governor, and deliver the ſaid Meſſage.

A Petition from Samuel Lightfoot, and ſundry others, of Pikeland Townſhip, was preſented to the Houſe and read, praying a Reviſal and Amendment of the Law for recovering Debts under Forty Shillings.

A Petition from ſundry Inhabitants of New-London Townſhip, in the County of Cheſter, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth the arbitrary and unjuſt Proceedings of William Moore, in the Settlement of John Frew's Affairs, and praying the Removal of ſaid Moore from his Office of Juſtice of the Peace.

A Petition from many of the Freeholders of Cheſter County, preſented to the Governor, praying the Removal of William Moore from his Office of a Magiſtrate for the ſaid County, was alſo preſented to the Houſe and read.

The Petition of John Bound was preſented and read, praying Redreſs againſt the Injuſtice and Oppreſſion of William Moore, Eſquire.

Another Petition from the Freeholders of Cheſter County was preſented and read, praying the Removal of William Moore, Eſq; from his Office of a Magiſtrate.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait on the Governor with a Meſſage from the Houſe of Yeſternight, reported, they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, he would take it into Conſideration, and give it ſuch an Anſwer as it required. January 11.

The Petition of Andrew Parks was preſented and read, ſetting forth the illegal, arbitrary and cruel Proceedings of William Moore's Conſtables againſt him, and praying Redreſs of the ſame.

The Houſe being acquainted that the Serjeant at Arms was attending at the Door with William Moore, he was ordered in, and being ſhewn a printed Paper, with the Manuſcript from which it was printed, containing an Addreſs to the Governor againſt the late Aſſembly, ſubſcribed William Moore, he, the ſaid Moore, was aſked by Mr. Speaker, whether he was the Author of ſaid Addreſs, ſhewn him both in Manuſcript and in Print? To which the ſaid Moore (after examining the ſaid Manuſcript) replied, that it was his own Hand-writing, and that he had delivered the ſame to the Printer for Publication, in Juſtice to his Character, which he apprehended had been much aſperſed and injured by an Addreſs preſented to the Governor by the late Aſſembly, deſiring his Removal from his public Offices.

The

1758. January 11. The ſaid Moore was then further aſked, whether he had been aſſiſted in drawing up, writing or amending the ſaid Addreſs?—To which he anſwered as follows: — "I drew "it up myſelf, Part at my own Houſe, and Part in Town; — I did indeed ſhew it to "ſeveral of my Friends, who made few or no Alterations in it; I am therefore the "Author of it myſelf."

It being then moved, that ſome Petitions preſented Yeſterday and this Morning to the Houſe againſt the ſaid Moore, be read, and the Evidences attending in Support of the ſaid Petitions be called in and examined before him:——He replied, that as he was not acquainted with the Nature of the Charges contained in thoſe Petitions, he could make no immediate Anſwers to them, and ſhould therefore be ſilent in caſe they were read, believing the Houſe had no Cognizance of ſuch Matters.

The ſaid Moore was then ordered to withdraw, and to be continued in Cuſtody of the Serjeant at Arms till further Orders.

Reſolved, That the ſaid William Moore is guilty of an high Contempt to the Authority of this Houſe, in ſuch Refuſal and Declaration, that he will not anſwer before them to the Petitions exhibited againſt him.

The Houſe taking into Conſideration the unreſerved Confeſſion made by the ſaid William Moore of his being the Author and Publiſher of the ſaid libellous Addreſs againſt the late Aſſembly, Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Maſters, Mr. Carpenter, Mr. Aſh, Mr. Melvin and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to draw up ſuch Reſolves as may be proper for this Houſe to make on the ſaid libellous Paper, entituled, The humble Addreſs of William Moore, one of the Juſtices of the Peace for the County of Cheſter.

Ordered, That William Moore be immediately furniſhed with Copies of the Petitions of Andrew Parks and John Bound, ſenior, preſented Yeſterday and this Forenoon to the Houſe; and that this Houſe will proceed to hear the Evidences attending in Support of the ſaid Petitions this Afternoon; alſo, that the Serjeant at Arms have Notice to bring the ſaid Moore again before this Houſe, that he may be preſent at the ſaid Examination.

Ordered, That Mr. Hughes, Mr. Pearne and Mr. Baynton be a Committee to examine and ſelect the moſt material Petitions preſented to the late as well as to this preſent Aſſembly againſt the ſaid William Moore, and report the ſame to the Houſe, and that the Clerk do ſerve the ſaid Moore with Copies of the Petitions ſo ſelected.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Committee appointed to draw up Reſolves upon the Addreſs of William Moore, reported, they had eſſayed a Draught for that Purpoſe, which they delivered at the Table, and the ſame being read, were agreed to, and follow in theſe Words, viz.

Report of the Committee on William Moore's Addreſs. THE Committee appointed to draw up ſuch Reſolves as ſhould be proper for this Houſe to make on The humble Addreſs of William Moore, one of the Juſtices of the Peace for the County of Cheſter, beg Leave to report the following, and ſubmit them to the Correction of the Houſe:

Reſolved, 1. That to write or publiſh any Piece or Libel, reflecting upon the Proceedings of the preſent or laſt Houſe of Aſſembly of this Province, or any Member thereof, for, or relating to, his Service therein, is an high and manifeſt Violation of the Rights and Privileges of the Repreſentatives of the People.

Reſolved, 2. That the Piece, entituled, The humble Addreſs of William Moore, one of the Juſtices of the Peace for the County of Cheſter, is a falſe, ſcandalous, virulent and ſeditious Libel, highly reflecting on the Honour, Dignity and Proceedings of the laſt Houſe of Aſſembly of this Province, by charging them, when in the faithful Diſcharge of their Duty, with Partiality, Corruption, Oppreſſion and Perſecution, and tending to create Differences and Diſcontent between the two Branches of the Legiſlature, and Animoſities, Riots and Diſorders among the People.

Reſolved, 3. That to aſſert, either directly or indirectly, that an Aſſembly of this Province hath no Right or Power, or is not inveſted with legal Authority to hear the Petitions, examine into and redreſs the Aggrievances and Complaints of the People againſt public Officers, or in any other Caſe where the Subject is oppreſſed, tends to promote and encourage wicked Men in oppreſſing and diſtreſſing the Community, the Deſtruction of the Rights and Privileges of the Repreſentatives of the People, and the Subverſion of one of the fundamental and moſt eſſential Powers of the Conſtitution."

Reſolved, That it appears to this Houſe, upon the Confeſſion of the ſaid William Moore, that he did write, ſign and deliver to Mr. David Hall, to be publiſhed, a Manuſcript Copy of the ſaid libellous Addreſs; and therefore Ordered, That the ſaid William Moore be forthwith committed to the common Goal of the County of Philadelphia, there to remain until he ſhall willingly make ſuch a Retraction of the Aſperſions and Falſhoods contained in the ſaid Libel, as this Houſe ſhall approve of, or obey ſuch other Order as this Houſe ſhall take for the ſame, during the Continuance of this preſent Aſſembly.

Ordered,

Ordered, That the said libellous Address be burnt by the common Hangman, at such Time and Place as this House shall hereafter direct and appoint. 1758. January 11.

Mr. Moore being again called in, and the foregoing Resolves and Orders distinctly read to him, he was asked, whether he would make the Submission and Recantation required by the House? and answered peremptorily in the Negative.

He then desired Leave to prefer a Complaint against the Behaviour of the Deputy Serjeant to him; but being acquainted, that though it was reasonable his Complaint, if well grounded, should be heard, yet the present was an improper Time for it, the Deputy being absent; but he might present it by Petition hereafter, and was ordered to withdraw.

The following Order being then made out, was signed by Mr. Speaker, by Order of the House, and delivered to James Coultas, Esq; Sheriff of the County of Philadelphia:

Pennsylvania, ss.

To James Coultas, Esq; Sheriff of the County of Philadelphia.

THE House of Assembly of this Province hath this Day adjudged William Moore for writing, signing and publishing a false, scandalous, virulent and seditious Libel against the last House of Assembly of this Province, and highly derogatory to, and subversive of, the Rights and Privileges of this present House; and also for a Contempt committed against this House, in refusing to answer to certain Petitions exhibited against him, complaining of Misdemeanors, and corrupt Practices in his Office as a Justice of the Peace for the County of Chester: These are therefore, in Behalf and by Order of the said last mentioned House of Assembly, to require and charge you to receive the said William Moore into your Custody, within the common Goal of your County, under your Charge, and him therein safely to keep and detain until you shall receive further Orders from this House. Hereof fail not, as you shall answer the contrary at your Peril. Given under my Hand, this Eleventh Day of January, in the Year of our Lord 1758. Speaker's Order to the Sheriff.

THOMAS LEECH, Speaker."

Upon Delivery of the foregoing Mittimus to the Sheriff,

Ordered, That Mr. Speaker do give it in Charge to the Sheriff to keep his Prisoner William Moore in close Custody, agreeable to the Direction of the Commitment to him delivered, and that he do not obey any Writ of Habeas Corpus, or other Writ whatsoever, that may come to his Hands for the Bailing and Discharging the said William Moore, or otherwise discharge him from his Custody, on any Pretence whatsoever, and that this House will support him in his Obedience to this Order.

Resolved, That the House will proceed To-morrow Morning to hear and examine the Petitioners attending against William Moore, Esq;

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment January 12.

N. B. The Sum due to the Contractors for Proviſions, is known to the Commiſſioners.

Reſolved, That the Houſe will proceed To-morrow Morning to a further Hearing of William Smith, ſtill in Cuſtody of the Serjeant at Arms.

Adjournment

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

January 13. The Serjeant at Arms attending, according to Order, with William Smith, he was called in, and acquainted from the Chair, that he was charged with being a Promoter and Abettor of the Writing and Publiſhing a Libel, entituled, The humble Addreſs of William Moore, one of the Juſtices of the Peace for the County of Cheſter, and was now brought to anſwer to the ſame before the Houſe.

The ſaid Addreſs being then read to him, he was further told, that the Houſe having taken ſome Evidences in Support of the Charge exhibited againſt him, they ſhould be read before him, and that afterwards he ſhould be at Liberty to call for and examine any Evidences he could produce to exculpate himſelf from the ſaid Charge.

In Anſwer, Mr. Smith begged Leave to remark to the Houſe, before they proceeded any further, that as he had never been ſerved with a Copy of the Charge againſt him, and therefore did not underſtand it, neither had been preſent at the Examination of the Evidence in Support of it, he was unprepared for his Defence, and therefore hoped the Houſe would allow him Copies of the Charge, and of his own Examination before them, and alſo Counſel, a future Day of Trial, and his Liberty (upon giving ſufficient Security) till that Day, in order to prepare for his Defence. He was then ordered to withdraw, and the Houſe taking into Conſideration the ſaid Requeſts, Ordered, That the Clerk do furniſh the ſaid Smith with a Copy of the Minute containing the Charge againſt him, and alſo a Copy of his own Examination before this Houſe.

Reſolved, That the ſaid Smith be allowed Counſel, and a future Day of Trial.

Reſolved, That the ſaid Smith's Counſel, and ſuch others of his Friends as he ſhall chuſe to conſult with, have free Acceſs to him, and privately conſult with him under the Cuſtody of the Serjeant at Arms, in order to prepare for his Trial.

Reſolved,

Resolved, That next Tuesday, the Seventeenth of this Instant, be appointed the Day for the said Trial. 1758. January 13.

The said Smith being again called in, the foregoing Order and Resolves were read to him, and he was told, he must acquaint the House either this Evening or To-morrow Morning, what Gentleman he made Choice of for Counsel, and then withdrew.

Then the House adjourned to Four o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Post Meridiem

The House being acquainted that the Serjeant at Arms was attending at the Door with William Smith, agreeable to Notice, he was ordered in, and asked what Counsel he had made Choice of? To which he replied, he had not had an Opportunity, since he left the House, of speaking to some Gentlemen of the Law he intended to apply to, but before he came here in the Morning, he had asked Mr. Chew whether he would appear for him as Counsel, in Case it should be necessary, and the said Chew had consented to serve him. Mr. Speaker then informed the said Smith, that the House were of Opinion the Gentleman he had made Choice of, from the Nature of his Office as King's Attorney, ought not to be permitted to appear for him, and it was therefore the Advice of the House, that he should provide himself with other Counsel, and not depend singly upon the Attorney-General.

The Governor, by the Secretary, sent down a written Message to the House, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

GENTLEMEN,

'ALL I intended by my last Message to you, was to shew you I had paid great Regard to the Remonstrance made to me by the late Assembly of this Province against Mr. Moore, and had taken the proper Steps to enquire into the Truth of the many Petitions exhibited against him; and further, to acquit myself from any Charge of Delay on that Occasion.

'I did not take upon me to require of you the Causes of his being arrested and imprisoned, nor do I think it now becomes me to enquire, whether the Address you mention contains libellous Matter against the late Assembly; or if it does, whether you, who (as you are pleased to say) in the Character of the late Assembly, presented the Address against Mr. Moore, can, in your present Capacity, as a new Assembly, take Notice of, and punish the Author of it. You no Doubt will judge how far your legal Power extends, and take Care to confine yourselves within the Limits by which it is circumscribed. You ought, and I am persuaded, will, support your own Dignity and legal Rights, in which you will always find me ready, if necessary, to join and act in Concert with you, so far as I have Power to do it.

'I cannot help observing, that from several Parts of your last Message, you seem apprehensive that, in the Steps taken by me to bring the Complaints against Mr. Moore to a full Hearing, I have attempted to establish a new Judicature, unknown to the Constitution; and that a Concern for my Honour obliged you to inform me, that all Hearings and Trials before the Council, where they assume a Voice in the judicial Determination, is an high Infringement of the Rights of the People, a Violation of the Charter of the Province, and an Innovation in the Constitution. I am much obliged to you, Gentlemen, for the Concern you express for my Honour; but I cannot conceive what could give Rise to your Apprehensions. A Concern for my own Honour, and that of the Council, lays me under the Necessity of telling you, that your Fears had no just Foundation; that in no one Instance, since my Accession to this Government, I have ever by myself, or in Conjunction with my Council, sat as Court of Judicature, or given any judicial Determination.

'On considering the Matters complained of in the late Assembly's Address against Mr. Moore, I could not be so absurd as to suppose that I had a judicial Power to arraign, try, condemn and punish him, for the Offences therein charged upon him. Indeed the only particular Charge alleged against him was that of Extortion, an Offence very criminal in its Nature, and for which (if guilty) he ought to be severely punished; but I well knew that a positive Act of Assembly of this Province annexed a Penalty to that Offence, and directed the Mode of Trial therein, and that without assuming a Power of dispensing with Law, I could not sit in a judicial Capacity on his Trial: However, as the Office, in which it is said he had misbehaved himself, was held under this Government, I thought it a Duty I owed to Justice, and to the Public, to satisfy myself of his Guilt or Innocence, that if he could not clearly acquit himself from the Charges, I might, by depriving him of his Commission, at least put it out of his Power to commit the like Offences for the future. To this End only I appointed Monday last for the Hearing, and desired the Assistance of my Council. If in this I have violated the Charter, and been guilty of an Innovation in the Constitution, and erected a new Court of Justice, I leave you and the World to judge.

'I have very carefully considered, as well as the Shortness of the Time would admit, that Part of your Message, wherein you assert, that the Power of impeaching is in-

'contestably

1758. January 13.

'conteſtably in the Aſſembly, by the Charter of Privileges, and an eſtabliſhed Law of this Province, and the Power of determining ſuch Impeachments in the Governor alone, and do aſſure you, that if I could be as fully convinced as you ſeem to be, that I am legally veſted with ſo ſupreme a Power, I would not heſitate one Moment to take upon me the Exerciſe of it. Give me Leave to obſerve to you, Gentlemen, that in the Eſtabliſhment of ſo tranſcendent a Power, in the ſingle Perſon of a Governor of this Province, ſo widely differing in its preſent Frame and Conſtitution from that of our Mother Country, eſpecially in the Branches of the Legiſlative Body, the Lives, Liberties and Properties of every Freeman in it, are deeply intereſted. I agree with you, that Impeachments are warranted by the Uſage of Parliament, and Cuſtoms of our Mother Country; but you will pleaſe further to conſider, that the Parliament of England conſiſts of three different Bodies and Eſtates, namely, the King, Lords and Commons, each of which have, inherent in them, diſtinct Prerogatives, Privileges, Powers and Juriſdictions, which I conceive they do not derive under any poſitive Laws made for that Purpoſe; but ſuch their Rights are originally founded in the Nature of their Inſtitution, and the Principles of an Engliſh Government. The Commons have an undoubted Right to impeach Criminals for ſuch high Crimes and Miſdemeanors as they cannot be called to an Account for in the ordinary and eſtabliſhed Courts of Juſtice; and it is as undoubtedly the Right of the Houſe of Lords only, to hear, try and paſs Sentence of Death, or otherwiſe, as they ſee Occaſion, againſt ſuch Offenders. The Legiſlature here conſiſts of two Parts only, the King's Repreſentative and the Repreſentatives of the People, without any middle State, reſembling the Houſe of Lords, between them; and neither of the Branches of the Legiſlature of this Province have any other Powers or Juriſdictions but thoſe which are expreſsly delegated and granted them. Admitting therefore, for Argument Sake, the Words of the Charter and Law of the Province, you refer to, in their full Latitude and Extent, which are, that the Aſſembly ſhall have Power to chuſe a Speaker, and other their Officers; and ſhall be Judges of the Qualifications and Elections of their own Members, ſit upon their own Adjournments, appoint Committees, prepare Bills, in order to paſs into Laws, impeach Criminals, and redreſs Grievances; and ſhall have all other Powers and Privileges of an Aſſembly, according to the Rights of the freeborn Subjects of England, and as is uſual in any of the King's Plantations in America; yet it does not follow, that the Governor of the Province has the Power of hearing, trying and paſſing Sentence on ſuch Impeachments. No ſuch Juriſdiction is given him by the Words of the Charter, or elſewhere, that I can find, on the ſtricteſt Scrutiny. Nor does it ſeem to me for the Security of the Lives and Liberties of the good People of this Province, that their Governor alone, or any one Man living, ſhould be inveſted with ſo high a Truſt. Power has in it great Allurements, and, when offered, is ſeldom refuſed; but I have the Pleaſure to find, that a preceding Governor of this Province had Virtue enough to decline acting as a Judge in a Caſe of Impeachment under the preſent Charter.

'Be pleaſed to remember, Gentlemen, that the Freedom and Happineſs of an Engliſhman conſiſts, in a great Meaſure, in the moſt ineſtimable Privilege of being tried by his Equals, in every Caſe that affects his Life, Liberty, Character or Fortune, and that to deprive him of that Right againſt Law, or without clear Law, is the higheſt Injury that can poſſibly be done him; and that whoever in ſuch a Caſe, under an Engliſh Conſtitution, takes away the Life of a Subject, is anſwerable for his Blood, and guilty of Murder. Theſe Conſiderations, among others, have ſuch Weight with me, that I dare not accept of the Power you offer me as the ſole Judge in Impeachments, till it is demonſtrated to me, that the Law has inveſted me with it; when that is done, I will chearfully comply with what my Duty requires of me; but till then, you will excuſe me, if I decline any ſuch Juriſdiction, leſt I may juſtly ſubject myſelf to the Charge of eſtabliſhing a new Judicature, uſurping an illegal Power, infringing the Liberties of the People, and, in ſhort, of ſubverting the Conſtitution.

'Permit me now to remind you, Gentlemen, that the Defence and Protection of this Province, greatly depends on your attending, without Loſs of Time, to the ſeveral weighty Matters recommended to you in my Meſſages of the Seventeenth of October, and Third of this Inſtant; and therefore I again moſt earneſtly entreat you, that every Conſideration of leſs Moment, and public Concern, may in your Deliberations give Place to them, and that you will defer all other Matters to more Leiſure, and convenient Seaſon.

January 13, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

Adjournment

Then the Houſe adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

January 14. The Houſe went upon the Conſideration of the Governor's Meſſage, ſent down by the Secretary laſt Night, and the ſame being read, and debated,

Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Baynton, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Maſters, Mr. Smith, Mr. Strickland, Mr. Gibbons, Mr. Aſhbridge, Mr. James Wright, Mr. Carpenter, Mr. John

Mr. John Wright, Mr. Yorke and Mr. Plumsted be a Committee to prepare and bring in an Answer to the Governor's Message. 1758.

Then the House adjourned to Monday next, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon. January 14. Adjournment

The House met, pursuant to their Adjournment. January 16. Post Meridiem

The Committee appointed to prepare an Answer to the Governor's Message, reported, they had essayed a Draught for that Purpose, which they delivered at the Table; and the same being read, and considered by Paragraphs, after some Amendments therein, was agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed.

Then the House adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

It appearing, from the Sheriff's Return for the County of Bucks, that Jonathan Ingham, Esq; was duly elected on the Thirteenth of this Instant, to serve in Assembly for the remaining Part of this Year, in the Room and Stead of John Abraham Denormandie, Esq; lately deceased, the said Ingham took and subscribed the Qualification appointed by Law to be taken by the Members of Assembly, and then took his Seat in the House accordingly. January 17.

The Answer of the House to the Governor's Message being transcribed, was read, signed by Mr. Speaker, and follows in these Words, viz.

May it please your HONOUR,

A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

WE cannot help expressing our Surprise, that you should be at a Loss to "conceive "what could give Rise to our Apprehensions, that you had attempted to establish "a new Court of Judicature, unknown to the Constitution." For the Cause we think we could safely appeal to your Honour's Heart, but we know we can to your Expressions. In your Message of the Ninth Instant, you expressly inform us, "that common "Justice required that no Man should be condemned unheard in any Matter that af-"fected his Life, Fortune or Character, and therefore declared your Design of giving "William Moore an Opportunity of making his Defence." That "from the Moment "you received the Address of the late Assembly for his Removal, you were determined "on a full and close Enquiry into the Charges against him, to make a public Example "of him as far as your Power extended." And that "to that End you had appointed "the same Day for hearing all the Proofs in the Case, after due Notice given to the "Parties and their Witnesses," and "accordingly attended with your Council in the "Council Chamber." Certainly, we should be incredulous indeed, and very defective in our "Apprehensions," did not these positive Declarations prevail on us to believe you did attempt to set up a new Judicature; and had not our Serjeant at Arms, for a very high Misdemeanor, arrested the Person intended to be tried, that Attempt had been fully executed. If the issuing Process to convene the Parties before your Honour, and your Council, the giving of Orders for the Summoning of Witnesses by the Sheriff and his Deputies, in order to "hear all the Proofs in the Case," and thereupon to acquit or condemn the Person charged, and a Meeting at the Council Chamber for that Purpose, are not evident Proofs of such Attempt, we leave the Impartial to determine.

These are what your Honour calls "proper Steps," to enquire into the Truth of the many Petitions against "William Moore;" though you are pleased to declare, "that "you could not be so absurd as to suppose you had a judicial Power to Arraign, Try, "Condemn and Punish." If you did not intend to arraign, why was the Party charged to come before your Honour and Council? If not to try or judicially determine, where was the Use of Witnesses? If not to condemn or acquit, what could you mean by the Intimation, "that no Man should be condemned unheard?" If not to punish, how could you make a "public Example of him?" Or if no judicial Determination was to be had thereon, what could be the Design of "hearing the Proofs," and "giving the "Party an Opportunity of making his Defence?"

As to the Propriety of these "Steps," we beg Leave to remark, that they are not supported by our Charters, or the Laws of the Constitution, nor by any Precedent in our Mother Country; and have a Tendency to institute an Authority, never attempted by our gracious Sovereign, or any of his Councils.——"Steps," that may be of dangerous Consequence to the Lives, Liberties and Properties of the People; and should your Honour and Council pursue them, we know not where they may end: For if you and your Council may, without the Shadow of Law, institute a "full and close Enquiry," at which you are to hear all the Proofs, and examine the Witnesses upon Oath, "give "the Party charged an Opportunity of making his Defence," and of being "acquit-"ted" or "condemned," in this Case, you may with the same Kind of Reason and Degree of Law, do it in every other; and at last determine not only Matters which affect the Properties, but the Liberties and Lives of the Subject, and that without the Security which ever must attend an antecedent Trial before, and Impeachment by, the Delegates of the People. Wherever a Person in a judicial Capacity breaks over the Verge and Confines of Law, he may rove in the Field of Oppression, and never stop, his Power becomes transcendent and unconfined indeed. Your Honour will therefore 1758. January 17. excuſe us for thinking, that in the Eſtabliſhment of a Power ſo unlimited, the Lives, Liberties and Properties of the People are very intimately concerned, and may be more eſſentially affected than where they cannot be tried but by the Impeachment of their Repreſentatives.

We have again conſidered, and ſtill perſiſt in, our Requeſt, that you would either remove William Moore from his public Offices, or permit us to impeach him of the many heinous Miſdemeanors charged againſt him, ſome of which are not cognizable in the ordinary Courts of Juſtice. We have no Doubt reſpecting our Right to impeach; nor are we obliged to your Honour for admitting it, "for Argument Sake" only. The Charter of Privileges, and a Law of the Province, are declarative of it, in too explicit Terms, to admit of the leaſt Doubt with the meaneſt and moſt prejudiced Capacity; and we ſtill are of Opinion, that your Honour ought to determine on ſuch Impeachment. By the Royal Grant the Governor and Aſſembly here are conſtituted the two Branches of the legiſlative Authority; the one holding his Power under the Crown, the other deriving their Authority from the People, and a Negative on our Laws is reſerved in the Crown; each of which, we agree, "have inherent in them diſtinct Prerogatives, Privileges, "Powers, and Juriſdictions, founded in the Nature of their Inſtitution, and the Principles "of an Engliſh Government;" and that to the Powers of each are annexed certain Requiſites, not expreſsly granted by the Royal Charter, which are to be exerted occaſionally for the neceſſary Support and Exerciſe of their reſpective Juriſdictions, for the Peace and Safety of the Province. The Governor here may be deemed to ſupply a middle State, and from the Nature of his Inſtitution muſt be inveſted with theſe Powers and Requiſites, and we apprehend ought, and was intended, to ſupply the Place of an Houſe of Lords in an inferior Degree, with reſpect to hearing and determining on Impeachments. This cannot be denied, conſiſtent with the Freedom and Principles of an Engliſh Government, where the Right of the Commons to redreſs Grievances is one of the moſt eſſential Checks in the Conſtitution. Without this Power in the Governor, there muſt be a manifeſt Failure of Juſtice. The Proprietary Officers, and others, may be guilty of the moſt atrocious Offences, not cognizable in the ordinary Courts of Juſtice, and the Government will be deſtitute of the Means of puniſhing them; which would be ſuch a Defect in our Conſtitution, that common Senſe forbids the Suppoſition. Of this Opinion was a former Aſſembly of this Province on the like Occaſion; where they aſſert, that "the "Power of impeaching Criminals is incident to the legiſlative Authority, for the com-"mon Safety, and that the Ends of Government cannot be anſwered without it." And in Purſuance of this Opinion, they Reſolved, N. C. D.

Firſt, "That the preſent Conſtitution of this Government, which veſts the legiſlative "Authority in the Governor and Repreſentatives of the People of this Province, does "well warrant us to impeach, and the Governor to judge of ſuch Impeachments."

"Secondly, That the Council having, by our Conſtitution, no Share in the legiſlative "Authority, ought not to ſit with the Governor judicially upon ſuch Impeachments."

But your Honour is pleaſed to ſay, that "no ſuch Juriſdiction is given you by the "Charter, or elſewhere, that you can find." —— We agree that it is not "expreſsly," but contend, that it is implicitly granted to you, as the middle State of our Legiſlature, and "founded in the very Nature of your Inſtitution." If you have no other Powers or Juriſdiction "but thoſe which are expreſsly delegated and granted," by Virtue of what expreſs Authority or Delegation has your Honour, and your Predeceſſors, aſſumed to yourſelves the Right and Power of altering and amending Bills paſſed by the Aſſembly, and of putting an abſolute Negative on them, with other Powers and Rights, belonging to the Houſe of Lords alone, and no more expreſsly granted than the Power of judging on Impeachments? It cannot be by Virtue of your Repreſentation of the Crown; becauſe his Majeſty never exerciſed ſuch Powers. And therefore we confeſs we cannot underſtand why you ſhould be ſo fond of aſſuming the one, and fearful of the other. We hope it cannot proceed from an Inclination to ſcreen wicked Miniſters from Juſtice, and to render ineffectual an eſſential and invaluable Power of the Conſtitution.

We beg Leave further to remark, that the Governor's aſſuming a Power to determine on the Impeachments of the Aſſembly, cannot be attended with the leaſt Inſecurity "to "the Lives and Liberties of the People." But, on the contrary, the Invaders of their Liberties, and their Oppreſſors, by this Means will be brought to Juſtice, who otherwiſe would oppreſs on with Impunity, and the diſtreſſed Subject be without Redreſs. Your Honour will remember, that antecedent to any Impeachment before you, the grand Inqueſt of the Province, the Repreſentatives of the People, his Peers and "Equals," muſt be made ſenſible of his Guilt. A Sheriff may be corrupted, a Jury packed, a Court who hold their Commiſſions during Pleaſure may be influenced; but it is unnatural to preſume that the Repreſentative Body of the People ſhould be partial, corrupted, or do Injuſtice. Beſides, your Honour has the ſame Power, which you are ſo fearful of aſſuming, whenever a Bill of Attainder or Diſability is preſented for your Approbation; and in that Caſe the "Lives, Liberties and Properties" of the People are as much in your your Hands as in the Case of Impeachments; with this Difference only, that in the first you may determine on the Report of the Assembly only, but in the latter there must be a judicial and solemn Hearing. 1758. January 17.

We are sorry we cannot see the "Virtue" of refusing to determine on the Impeachment of the Assembly, any more than that of instituting a new Court of Judicature, without their Assent. The Instance you give us of a preceding Governor's "Virtue in "declining to act as a Judge in a Case of Impeachment," must certainly arise from your not being acquainted with his Character.——He was a Gentleman remarkable for being destitute of every Virtue, either moral, political or religious. The Government was in a continual Ferment during his whole Administration: The Rights of the People in perpetual Jeopardy by his arbitrary and unjust Invasions. He was charged by the Assembly with being guilty of "frequent and notorious Excesses and Debaucheries, not fit to be re-"hearsed," and that his Behaviour was "offensive to God Almighty, dishonourable to the "Queen, and encouraging all Manner of Wickedness;" and, upon their Complaint, removed from his Government. Whence we are induced to believe that this Gentleman's declining to determine on Impeachments, did not proceed from any Disrelish he had to Power, or from his Virtues, either public or private, but from a determined Resolution to protect a Favourite.

Had your Honour, upon the Address of the late Assembly, founded upon the most impartial Enquiry, paid that Regard to it, and the Examinations of many disinterested Witnesses laid before you, which we humbly conceive you ought to have done, and removed William Moore, this Dispute about your Power to determine on Impeachments had not happened: But, may it please the Governor, when we perceive you are deaf to the Address of that Assembly, regardless of the Affidavits laid before you, instituting a new Court of Judicature for his Trial without the Assent of the Representatives of the People, and in the mean Time permitting him to exercise all the Powers of his Offices, and the Means of his former Oppression, to the great Terror and Anxiety of the People, who continue to exhibit to this House fresh Complaints against him, we cannot be silent. We beg Leave to say, it is usual with the Crown to remove wicked Ministers on the Address of the Commons, sometimes when that Address is founded on Rumour only, and often when on an Examination before the House.——And a former worthy Governor of this Province, when he was about to pass a Bill of Disability, required no other Satisfaction of the Guilt of the Person, than what he collected from a Conference with a Committee of Assembly. It is well known, that the Complaints against this Gentleman are not of a late Date only, your Honour is the third Governor to whom the People have applied for Redress against his Oppression; but as yet remain without Relief.

We therefore entreat your Honour to consider, that the principal Powers of our Assemblies are, those of making Laws, granting Aids to the Crown, and redressing the Grievances and Oppressions of the People. The first, you well know, is highly invaded, and greatly diminished, by arbitrary Proprietary Instructions, now in your Possession, which you have declared you are bound to obey. The second has been greatly violated by the frequent and constant Amendments in our Money Bills, directing the Assemblies as to the Manner, Measure and Time of granting Supplies; insomuch, that though they have not admitted such Amendments, yet they have often been necessitated, for the Preservation of the Country, to frame new Bills agreeable to them. And should your Honour persist in refusing to remove William Moore, on the Address of the late Assembly, and the earnest Solicitations of this, and will not exercise your Power of determining on the Articles of Impeachment, we are ready to exhibit against him, the third and last, that of redressing Grievances, will in a great Measure be rendered ineffectual: A Failure of Justice must ensue in the Government: Wicked Ministers and Magistrates may oppress the Subject, and distress the Poor, with Impunity: That important Check in the Constitution, on the Actions of wicked Officers, who hold their Commissions during Pleasure, will be wanting: The three only essential and important Branches of the Assembly's Authority will be manifestly violated: The whole Powers of the Constitution be vested in the Hands of the Governor, and our excellent mixt Frame of Government totally dissolved.

Under these Circumstances we entreat your Honour would consider with what Spirit or Pleasure can the Assemblies of this Province give, or the People pay, their Aids to the Crown. We are a faithful and loyal People, solicitous of assisting in the general Defence of America, as well as in that of our own particular Province; we are willing and ready to grant Supplies, if our Governors would leave us the Possession of any Thing worth defending. Redress our Grievances, relieve our Fellow-Subjects from Oppression and Slavery, restore the Constitution, and every Thing your Honour can reasonably ask, will be chearfully granted.

Signed by Order of the House,

January 17, 1758. THOMAS LEECH, Speaker."

Ordered,

1758. Ordered, That Mr. Pearne and Mr. Hunt wait upon the Governor, and deliver the foregoing Anſwer to his Meſſage of the Thirteenth Inſtant.

January 17. The Members return and report, they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that his Honour was pleaſed to commit to their Hands, in Writing, a Correction on his laſt Meſſage to the Houſe, which was read, and is as follows, viz. "After the Words "[and the Principles of an Engliſh Government.] the Word [Hence] ſhould have begun "the next Sentence, but in tranſcribing is omitted. I deſire it may be inſerted in my Meſſage."

The Houſe taking into Conſideration the Mode of conducting the Trial of William Smith, after ſome Debate thereon, the following Queſtions were put, viz.

Firſt, Whether the Counſel for ſaid Smith ſhall be allowed to diſpute the Power and Authority of this Houſe to enquire into, and puniſh Perſons guilty of, Libels againſt the Government? Reſolved in the Negative.

Secondly, Whether the ſaid Counſel ſhall be allowed to ſhew the Addreſs of William Moore to the Governor is not a Libel, in Contradiction to the Judgment and Reſolves of this Houſe? Reſolved in the Negative.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem Mr. Smith, with his Counſel, being called in, was acquainted, that he was now brought before the Houſe to anſwer to the Charge exhibited againſt him, of being a Promoter and Abettor of the Writing and Publiſhing a Libel, entituled, The humble Addreſs of William Moore, &c. which was thereupon read.

Mr. Roſs, Counſel for the ſaid Smith, then begged Leave to be allowed, in the Courſe of his Defence for the Priſoner, to enquire chiefly into the three following Points, viz. Firſt, What Authority this Houſe has to take up Perſons for writing and publiſhing Libels againſt a former Aſſembly? Secondly, How far the Paper Mr. Smith is charged with being an Abettor of, is a Libel?—And, Thirdly, Whether the ſaid Smith can be proved to be an Abettor and Promoter of the ſame?——As to the two firſt Heads, Mr. Speaker acquainted the Counſel, they were not at Liberty to enquire into, or controvert, them, becauſe inconſiſtent with, and contrary to, certain Reſolves, which the Houſe had previouſly entered into.

The Houſe then proceeded to the Examination of Witneſſes before the ſaid Smith and his Counſel; and, having ſpent much Time therein, adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-mor-

Adjournment row Morning.

January 18. Mr. Bradford, Printer, attending, agreeable to Order, was called in, and being aſked, whether he had found the Manuſcript delivered to him by William Moore for printing his Addreſs from, and declared to be loſt, in the ſaid Bradford's Examination before the Houſe, replied, he had made a careful Search for it, but could not yet find it, and was apprehenſive he might have ſent it to Doctor Phineas Bond with the Proof Sheet, but upon Enquiry of the ſaid Bond, he was informed he had not got it. He further acquainted the Houſe, that the ſaid Manuſcript ſeemed to him to be wrote in a Clerk's Hand, large, fair and upright, without any Interlineations in it; whereupon being directed to make further Search for the ſaid Manuſcript, and when found to produce the ſame forthwith to the Houſe, he promiſed ſo to do, and was ordered to withdraw.

Mr. Smith and his Counſel being then admitted, the Houſe proceeded to the Examination of Mr. Levers, which the Clerk having taken down in Writing, they adjourned

Adjournment to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Houſe went next upon the Examination of Mr. Hanſhew, and then called in Mr. Armbruſter, a German Printer, who ſeeming to prevaricate, and decline to anſwer a certain Queſtion repeatedly put to him,

Ordered, That the ſaid Armbruſter be committed to the Cuſtody of the Serjeant at Arms for a Contempt to this Houſe, in prevaricating in his Teſtimony, and refuſing to anſwer in a Caſe wherein he was produced as a Witneſs; and that the ſaid Serjeant do not permit any Perſon whatſoever, either directly or indirectly, to converſe with, or ſpeak to the ſaid Armbruſter, till further Orders from this Houſe.

Meſſieurs Hall and Bradford, the laſt Evidences brought in, were called for by the Priſoner, firſt examined by the Houſe, and then croſs-examined by his Counſel: After which the ſaid Counſel deſired the Favour of the Houſe, as he had not taken down the ſeveral Examinations of the Witneſſes at Length, that they would allow him Copies thereof, (upon paying the Expence of tranſcribing) as the ſame had been taken by their Clerk, and grant him Time to conſider and ſum up the Evidence.

The Priſoner, with his Counſel, were then directed to withdraw, and the Houſe taking the Requeſt of the latter into Conſideration, Ordered, That the Clerk do make out Copies of the ſaid Examinations, to be delivered to the Counſel for the Purpoſe requeſted.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock To-morrow Afternoon.

January 19. The Clerk having made out Copies of the ſeveral Examinations taken before the Houſe, Poſt Meridiem and the ſame being compared at the Table,

Ordered,

Ordered, That the Clerk deliver the said Copies to the Counsel for the Prisoner. 1758.

Mr. Armbruster, committed Yesterday to the Custody of the Serjeant at Arms for a Contempt, was again called to the Bar of the House, and having asked Pardon for his Misbehaviour, and given direct and categorical Answers to the Questions before put to him, January 19.

Ordered, That he be discharged from the Custody of the Serjeant at Arms, paying the Fees arising on his Confinement.

The Counsel for Mr. Smith having been called in, to be present at the Examination of this last Witness, and to cross-examine him, after the said Witness was dismissed, begged to be allowed a little Time to consider and sum up the Evidence before the House came to a Determination; wherefore,

Resolved, That the Counsel be allowed for the said Purpose till Saturday next, at Ten o'Clock in the Morning.

Then the House adjourned to Four o'Clock To-morrow Afternoon. Adjournment

The House taking into Consideration the Expences likely to arise on the Confinement and Trial of William Smith, and the Fees to be allowed to the Officers of this House, for their extraordinary Trouble therein, January 20. Post Meridiem

Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Strickland, Mr. Carpenter, Mr. John Wright, Mr. Allen, Mr. Yorke and Mr. Plumsted be a Committee to consider and settle the said Fees, and report the same to the House.

Then the House adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Committee appointed to regulate the Fees of the Officers of the House, reported, they had made some Progress therein, and desired further Time for consulting Precedents, and completing the same. January 21.

Agreeable to the Appointment of this House, William Smith, attended by his Counsel, was admitted to the Bar, and the said Counsel having summed up the Evidence, and offered such Arguments thereon as they judged necessary, they were ordered to withdraw.

And three particular Members of the House apprehending that the Counsel for Mr. Smith, in the Course of their Animadversions on the Testimony of Mr. Hall, had endeavoured to criminate them, by insinuating they had promoted and advised the Publication of the libellous Paper, entituled, The Address of William Moore to the Governor, and that in Consequence of such Publication in the Pennsylvania Gazette, it had been taken into the German News-paper, the said Members desired Leave to withdraw from their Seats, and submit their Conduct on that Occasion to the Judgment and Determination of the House, praying, that if they should be found culpable, they might receive the Censure of the House accordingly; but if not, that the House would acquit them of the Charge.——They were permitted to withdraw accordingly.——And the House taking into Consideration the Charge against the said three Members, after some Debate thereon, the following Question was put, viz.——Whether the three Members withdrawn, are deserving of any Censure from this House on Account of what passed between them and David Hall, Printer, respecting the Publication of William Moore's Address to Governor Denny? —— And the same was resolved in the Negative, N. C. D. (one Voice only excepted.) The said Members were then called in, and, by Order of the House, acquainted from the Chair, that the House highly commended them for the prudent Caution they had given Mr. Hall concerning the Publication of the said Address, and for the due Care they had taken at the same Time to guard against any Encroachment on so useful a Privilege as the Liberty of the Press.

Then the House adjourned to Monday next, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon. Adjournment

The House met, pursuant to their Adjournment. January 23.

A Petition, from sundry Inhabitants of the City of Philadelphia was presented to the House and read, praying that William Smith may be admitted to Bail, and offering to enter into proper Recognizance in whatever Sum the House in their Wisdom and Clemency shall think it reasonable to demand. Post Meridiem

Referred to further Consideration.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The House taking into Consideration the Amount of the Evidence exhibited in the Course of the late Trial of William Smith, January 24.

Resolved, N. C. D. That no Part of Robert Levers's Testimony, respecting the Similitude of Hands, is Evidence, or ought to have any Weight in the Determination of the Guilt or Innocence of William Smith.

After full Consideration of the whole Evidence, and some Debate thereon,

Resolved, by a great Majority, That the said William Smith is guilty of promoting and publishing the libellous Paper, entituled, The Address of William Moore to Governor Denny.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

Upon Motion by Mr. Roberdeau, That he be excused from his Attendance on the House till To-morrow Morning, January 25.

Ordered, That the said Member be excused accordingly.

1758. January 25. The Houſe then proceeded to the Conſideration of the Caſe of William Smith; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the following Queſtion was put, viz. Whether the ſaid Smith, for promoting and publiſhing an infamous Libel, entituled, The humble Addreſs of William Moore, &c. ſhall be committed to the Goal of this County, there to remain till he ſhall give Satisfaction to this Houſe for the ſaid Offence?

Reſolved in the Affirmative.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down a written Meſſage to the Houſe, which was read, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'I HAVE taken into Conſideration your laſt Meſſage, not leſs remarkable for the great Freedom with which you are pleaſed to treat my Character, than the Strangeneſs of the Doctrines contained in it, and the weak Arguments brought to ſupport them. In my Meſſage of the Thirteenth Inſtant, I flattered myſelf, I had demonſtrated to you and all the World, that your Apprehenſions of my having a Deſign to eſtabliſh a new Court of Judicature (in the Steps taken by me on the late Aſſembly's Addreſs to remove William Moore from his public Offices) were groundleſs and unjuſt, and I ſolemnly diſclaimed any ſuch Intention. But, to my great Aſtoniſhment, I find a conſiderable Part of your Meſſage is taken up with trite Queſtions and Reaſonings, tending to ſhew that I actually had ſuch a Deſign; and you do not ſcruple to aſſert, that had not your Serjeant at Arms, for a very high Miſdemeanor, arreſted the Perſon intended to be tried, that Attempt had been fully executed. In this you take upon you to charge me with a direct Falſhood.

'I ſhould be unworthy indeed of the Commiſſion I have the Honour to bear under his Majeſty, tamely to ſuffer ſuch an Indignity, without thus publicly expreſſing my Deteſtation of the Charge, and the juſt Reſentment with which an honeſt Heart muſt neceſſarily be inſpired againſt the Authors of it. Had any one offered a like Affront to you, Gentlemen, we, no Doubt, ſhould have heard enough of Breach of Privileges; but, for ought I know, you may claim a Right of vilifying and abuſing your Governors, as one among the many boaſted Powers and Privileges of the Conſtitution you have lately diſcovered.

'The laſt Aſſembly, in their Addreſs againſt William Moore, only deſired that I would remove him from his Offices, on a Suppoſition, I preſume, that he was guilty of the Crimes laid to his Charge. It is not eaſy to conceive you could think, Gentlemen, that I would take this Guilt upon Hear-ſay, nor yet upon a Number of ex Parte Depoſitions, taken in the Abſence of Mr. Moore, who I know was not heard in his Defence before the Houſe, nor any of his Witneſſes examined on his Behalf. It was my Duty to give him and his Accuſers a full Hearing Face to Face. I appointed a Day for that Purpoſe, and, from the whole Tenor of my Conduct in that Affair, I am perſuaded that no impartial Perſon can be induced to think I had any Thing in View but a full Examination of Witneſſes, to ſatisfy my own Conſcience whether he was a fit Miniſter of Juſtice, and worthy any longer to enjoy the Commiſſion he bore under this Government; without taking ſuch Steps, I might have been deemed arbitrary indeed. This is a Method that ſince my Arrival in this Government I have taken, where Complaints have been made to me againſt Juſtices of Peace, one of whom I have actually removed in Conſequence of ſuch Enquiry, and it is further ſupported by the Practice of preceding Governors, to the great Eaſe and Satisfaction of the People, who have repeatedly expreſſed their Acknowledgments for the Trouble their Governors have taken, and the Juſtice done the Public in ſuch Caſes. Reſting therefore under this Perſuaſion, and a Conſciouſneſs of the Rectitude and Sincerity of my own Intentions, I ſhall take no further Notice of the unprovoked Abuſe, and ill Treatment of me, in the firſt Part of your long Meſſage.

'It is very diſagreeable to me, Gentlemen, that I am laid under the Neceſſity of ſaying ſo much; I can truly declare, that I met you in Aſſembly determined to avoid, if poſſible, any Differences with you; and, notwithſtanding the Ignominy with which you have attempted to load me, I ſtill think myſelf indiſpenſably obliged ſo far to ſuppreſs my juſt Indignation, as that it ſhall have no Influence on my public Conduct with you, or interfere with that Duty I owe to his Majeſty, and the good People he has been pleaſed to commit to my Charge.

'I have very cloſely attended to that Part of your Meſſage, wherein you endeavour to manifeſt my Right, under the Charter and Laws of the Province, to ſit as a Court of Judicature on Impeachments, and am ſo far from changing my firſt Opinion, that I am ſtill more confirmed in my Judgment, that ſuch a Power would be uſurped by me, and the Act arbitrary in the higheſt Degree. You agree with me, that in the Mother Country the Houſe of Lords, which is the middle State between the King and the Commons, hath the ſole inherent Power of trying Impeachments, and that the Legiſlature of this Province conſiſts of two Branches: You then add, that the Governor here may 1758. January 25.

'be deemed to ſupply the Place of a Houſe of Lords, "in an inferior Degree", and contend, that though the Power of trying Impeachments is not expreſsly, yet it is implicitly, granted to the Governor of this Province, as a middle State of your Legiſlature, and founded in the Nature of your Inſtitution.

'I muſt confeſs, Gentlemen, that your Method of reaſoning on this Occaſion is very dark and myſterious; a middle State in a Legiſlature conſiſting of Two Eſtates only, or an intermediate Term between Two that admit of no Third, is to me incomprehenſible. Arguments founded on no better Proofs than what you may deem might be the Intent of the Charter; forced Conſtructions, and ſtrained Implications of Powers meant to be granted, will weigh but little with me in a Caſe ſo important and intereſting as this is to the Lives and Rights of his Majeſty's Subjects. Nay, if the Proprietary Charter was ever ſo expreſs on this Head, yet it might perhaps with great Reaſon be queſtioned, whether, under the Royal Grant, the Proprietary could ſubject Engliſhmen to this Mode of Trial, before a ſingle Perſon, acting at once in the ſeveral Characters of a Judge and Jury, ſo very different from any known to the Britiſh Conſtitution. At preſent, however, there is no Occaſion to go into the Diſcuſſion of this Point, as you acknowledge, that neither by Charter or Law, the Governor has ſuch a Power expreſsly delegated to him.

'But you are pleaſed to ſay, that you propoſe to veſt your Governor with the Power of a Houſe of Lords only in an inferior Degree. This is a Mode of Expreſſion as unintelligible to me as ſome of your former ones. The Power, Gentlemen, neceſſary to any Judicature, or public Body as ſuch, is indiviſible in its Nature; it cannot be parcelled out into Parts; or if it could, I can hardly look upon you as the Diſpenſers of it. If a Governor could once perſuade himſelf, that it is neceſſary for the Safety and Peace of this Province, that he ſhould exerciſe the Power of a Houſe of Lords in one Caſe, he may in another; and if you conſent to his exerciſing one Degree of that Power, he may think himſelf intitled to claim and exerciſe the Whole; and by this Means may bring all Cauſes, both Civil and Criminal, before him in the laſt Inſtance, as is the Caſe in the Houſe of Lords, which is the laſt and higheſt Court of Judicature in the Kingdom. Power, Gentlemen, once granted, is hardly ever to be regained; and ſhould I depart ſo far from my Duty as to accept of the extraordinary Power you now preſs upon me, or could I think any Governor or ſingle Man would be permitted by the Britiſh Legiſlature to enjoy both the Powers of the Crown, and of the Houſe of Lords, in theſe Colonies, you and your Poſterity might, perhaps, long have Reaſon to repent the Raſhneſs of the Offer. Will it not, Gentlemen, appear very extraordinary in the Eyes of all Men, that you, who have been denying your Governors the conſtitutional and eſſential Power of a Voice in the Appropriation of the Public Money, and the Right of appointing Militia Officers, ſhould now, all at once, deſire to inveſt me with a Power over the Lives, Liberties and Fortunes of your Conſtituents, without the Aid of Juries, or the common Proceedings of Juſtice. Such a Power may be ſafely veſted in ſo numerous and auguſt a Body as the Houſe of Peers, whoſe independent Stations and high Characters ſet them far above Corruption or Party Views: But in the Hands of a ſingle Man, Gentlemen, it might prove of ruinous and dreadful Conſequences.

'That your Conſtitution is defective in many Reſpects, I ſhall not diſpute with you, but undoubtedly this would not be the Way to mend it. For my Part, I have nothing in View but to exerciſe the little Share of Authority it gives me, and to leave its Defects, where it has any, to be amended by the Wiſdom of our Superiors.

'The Inſtance you give of a former Aſſembly's being of Opinion, that they had a Right to impeach, and the Governor to judge of ſuch Impeachments, is no better Proof than your own Opinion. It is a Rule, that long Cuſtom and Uſage are the beſt Expoſitors of every Law, and of the Senſe of thoſe who framed it; and in this Caſe, it is very remarkable, that you do not offer to produce a ſingle Inſtance, ſince the Date of the preſent Charter, where a Governor of this Province has dared to exerciſe the Juriſdiction you offer me, though greatly tending to aggrandize himſelf.

'On the contrary, I mentioned to you a former Governor of this Province, who had the Virtue to refuſe a like Offer, and for that Reaſon you fall upon his Memory in the bittereſt Terms of Reproach, declaring him deſtitute of every Virtue, moral, political or religious, and alleging in Proof thereof, that he was charged by the Aſſembly with a Behaviour offenſive to God Almighty. If the Charges, Gentlemen, which are made by the Aſſemblies of this Province againſt their Governors could be admitted as any Proof of their Guilt, it has been our Misfortune, that this Province has ſcarcely had an honeſt or good Governor in it. Mr. Evans, in all his Writings, ſhews himſelf to have been a Gentleman of Learning; and we know that he was ſupported in this Inſtance by the Advice and Aſſiſtance of an able Council, and a Judge, famous for his Integrity, and his Abilities in the Law. His Meſſages prove that he had political Virtues; and whatever you may be pleaſed to allege to the contrary, the Refuſal mentioned above will ever 1758. January 25.

'be an Inſtance of his moral Virtue.——Almoſt every civilized Nation ſuffer their Dead 'to reſt in Peace: And ſurely, Gentlemen, it may be enough for you, that you can 'uſe an unbounded Freedom in calumniating your living Governors, without raking 'into the Aſhes of thoſe who are no more.

'But you are pleaſed to remark further, that a Governor's aſſuming a Power to determine 'on the Impeachments of the Aſſembly, cannot be attended with the leaſt Inſecurity to the 'Lives and Liberties of the People, but will, on the contrary, be the beſt Means of bringing 'to Juſtice thoſe who oppreſs the Subject.——A Sheriff, ſay you, may be corrupted, a Jury 'packed, a Court who hold their Commiſſions during Pleaſure may be influenced, but it is 'unnatural to preſume that the Repreſentative Body of the People ſhould be partial, corrupted, 'or do Injuſtice. Is it poſſible, Gentlemen, that you, who conſider yourſelves as the 'Repreſentatives of Freemen and Engliſhmen, can be ſerious in theſe Opinions? Can 'you be really deſirous to deſtroy at once the great Bulwark of Engliſh Liberty, and 'throw an Odium upon Trials by Juries, and the Judgment of our Peers, that ineſtimable 'Privilege purchaſed and preſerved by our Fathers at ſo great a Price; and which neither 'ought or can be taken away by implied Conſtructions? If it be unnatural to preſume 'that the Repreſentative Body of the People, who do not act under the Tie of a par- 'ticular Oath, ſhould be partial, corrupted, or do Injuſtice, is it not yet more unnatural 'and uncharitable to ſuppoſe that in any Cauſe depending in a Court of Juſtice, a Sheriff, 'who, as well as yourſelves, in this Province, is elected by the People, may be corrupted, 'a Jury, againſt whom the indulgent Law gives the Party charged every juſt Cauſe of 'Challenge, packed, and a Court influenced; all of whom, it is further to be obſerved, 'diſcharge their ſeveral Duties under a particular and ſolemn Qualification and Oath? '— What Man would not rather truſt his Cauſe to a Number of his Neighbours, and 'Equals, choſen and ſworn for that particular Purpoſe, than to any ſtanding Body what- 'ſoever, whoſe Powers may be ſtretched to any Extent, being uncontroulable and unde- 'fined by any expreſs Law?

'Upon the Whole, Gentlemen, give me Leave to tell you, once for all, that I neither 'will conſent to take upon me the Powers you offer, nor yet to remove Mr. Moore from 'his Offices, without a full Hearing, in order to ſatisfy myſelf of the Truth of the 'Charges againſt him, agreeable to the Practice of all preceding Governors of this Pro- 'vince on Complaints exhibited againſt Juſtices of the Peace. It will therefore be in 'vain for you to ſpend the public Time in any farther Debates or Overtures on this 'Head. The late Aſſembly were ſo far from thinking ſuch an Enquiry unreaſonable, 'that at my Inſtance, they furniſhed me with Copies of the Petitions and Evidence ex- 'hibited in their Houſe againſt him in his Abſence; and it is entirely owing to your 'ſudden and unexpected Determination of changing the late Aſſembly's Addreſs to re- 'move Mr. Moore into Articles of Impeachment, and your Confinement of his Perſon, 'that Mr. Moore, if guilty, is thus long continued in his Commiſſion. Had you per- 'mitted the Enquiry I propoſed to go on, it would have been brought to a Concluſion 'before now, the Public would have been fully ſatisfied, and a great deal of Time and 'Expence ſaved to the Province. What may have been your Motives in this Part of 'your Conduct, I will not ſay, but muſt confeſs they appear to me very extraordinary.

'You are quite miſtaken in aſſerting, that a former worthy Governor of this Province, 'when he was about to paſs a Bill of Diſability, required no other Satisfaction of the Guilt 'of the Perſon, than what he collected from a Conference with a Committee of Aſſembly. 'The Council Books, which have been inſpected on that Occaſion, plainly ſhew, that 'the Perſon, againſt whom the Bill was preferred, was called before the Governor in 'Council, the Matter fully heard, and the Governor ſatisfied of the Truth of the Facts 'ſet forth in the Bill, previous to his paſſing it.

'A Governor muſt be made a very inſignificant Perſon indeed, if he was obliged to 'yield implicit Obedience to the Addreſs of an Aſſembly, which, as you ſay, may ſome- 'times be founded on Rumour only, to remove or continue what Officers they think proper, 'without ſatisfying his own Mind as to the Guilt or Innocence of the Perſons. It is 'remarkable, that you have formerly put it among the Liſt of your Grievances, that 'the Judges and Magiſtrates hold their Offices during the Pleaſure of a Governor; and 'now you deſire that they ſhould hold them during your Pleaſure, and be continued 'or diſcarded agreeable to your Directions; which muſt be the Caſe, if they are to be 'removed on your bare Remonſtrance againſt them. My Motive for refuſing the Power 'of judging on Impeachments, does not ariſe, as you inſinuate, from any Deſire in me 'to ſcreen Mr. Moore from Juſtice; he is a Gentleman with whom I have not the leaſt 'Acquaintance, nor is he ſo much as perſonally known to me.

'You conclude, Gentlemen, by calling on me to redreſs Grievances, to relieve your 'Fellow-Subjects from Oppreſſion and Slavery, to reſtore the Conſtitution, and then you 'promiſe that every Thing I can reaſonably aſk will chearfully be granted me. Gentlemen, 'if your Conſtituents feel the Weight of any Grievances, I will chearfully join in doing 'every legal Act in my Station to redreſs them; but beyond the Limits of my juſt

'Power

'Power I never will venture to go. I have neither oppreſſed or enſlaved your Fellow-
'Subjects, or invaded the Conſtitution; when I am convinced of the contrary, I ſhall
'think it my Duty, independent of any other Conſideration, to exert myſelf by all 'Means in my Power, to apply a Remedy adequate to the Evil. 1758. January 25.

'You will ſuffer me, Gentlemen, to call on you in my Turn, if you are that loyal
'and faithful People you profeſs to be, ſolicitous of aſſiſting in the general Defence of 'America, as well as in that of your own particular Province, to give ſome immediate 'Proof thereof. Proceed to grant the neceſſary Supplies for the current Year; frame
'and paſs effectual and conſtitutional Bills to eſtabliſh a Militia, and regulate the Indian
'Trade; attend to the ſeveral weighty public Matters I have repeatedly recommended
'to you in my former Meſſages, and conſider how unbecoming it is to neglect theſe
'great Services, and employ yourſelves in new Heats and Diſputes, at a Time when 'public Danger ſurrounds us on every Side, and our vigilant Enemies, who indeed threaten
'us with Oppreſſion and Slavery, are every Moment preparing to renew their Cruelties
'and Barbarities on the Inhabitants of this and the neighbouring Colonies; and unleſs
'Meaſures are ſpeedily taken to defeat their wicked Schemes, may too ſoon accompliſh
'that Ruin, from which nothing but Union, and a vigorous Exertion of our natural
'Powers, can ſave us.

January 24, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

William Smith, with his Counſel, attending according to Notice, were ordered in, Poſt Meridiem and Mr. Speaker acquainted Mr. Smith, that the Houſe having found him guilty of promoting and publiſhing a Libel, entituled, The Addreſs of William Moore to Governor Denny, had therefore ordered, that he be committed to the common Goal of the County, there to remain till he ſhall give Satisfaction to this Houſe for the ſaid Offence.

The Counſel for Mr. Smith then moved, that he might be allowed the Privilege of an Appeal to the King and Council, from the Judgment of the Houſe, which they conceived him entitled to, as well from the Royal Charter, as a Law of the Province; and further begged that the Priſoner might be furniſhed with Tranſcripts of ſuch Minutes and Reſolves of the Houſe, as had been made during his late Trial, or in Conſequence thereof; and then acquainted Mr. Speaker, that Mr. Smith was ready to give any Bail or Security the Houſe might demand, during the Proſecution of the ſaid Appeal.

The Houſe, after ſome Time ſpent in conſidering the Words of the Royal Grant, and the Law of the Province, referred to by the Council, were of Opinion, that no Appeals were intended to be directed by either to the King and Council from Judgments of the Houſe of Aſſembly, relating to Breach of Privilege, and Contempt to the Houſe, but only from thoſe of the inferior Courts, relative to Matters of Property; and acquainted the Priſoner, that, upon making the Submiſſion required by the Houſe, he would be under no Neceſſity of giving Bail to prevent a Commitment. —— To which the ſaid Priſoner replied, that as, in the Courſe of his Trial, no Evidence had been produced ſufficient to convict him of the Charge objected to him, and as others, equally culpable, or more ſo (even upon their own Confeſſion) had been diſmiſſed unpuniſhed by the Houſe, he could not but look on himſelf to be ſingled out as the peculiar Object of their Reſentment; that as he was not conſcious of having given any juſt Cauſe of Offence to them, or done any Act by which the Conſtitution had been injured, or the legal Rights of the People violated, he could not in Conſcience make any Acknowledgments, or profeſs Sorrow and Contrition to the Houſe for his Conduct; and, ſtriking his Hand upon his Breaſt, aſſured them, no Puniſhment they could inflict, would be half ſo terrible to him, as the ſuffering his Tongue to give his Heart the Lie.

Upon the Concluſion of which Speech, a loud tumultuous Stamping of Feet, Hiſſing and Clapping of Hands being ſet up by a few of the Priſoner's Friends, Orders were given from the Chair to ſhut the Doors, and ſeize the Perſons concerned in ſo riotous an Inſult on the Houſe. And the ſober reputable Freeholders preſent being then deſired by Mr. Speaker, and the Members, to give what Information they could, reſpecting the Authors and Abettors of the ſaid Inſult, ſeveral of them came to the Bar of the Houſe, and being ſeparately examined, declared they had ſeen, while ſtanding in the Crowd, John Bell, John Wallace, Merchants of the City, James Young, Paymaſter of the Pennſylvania Forces, and Charles Oſborne, Druggiſt, join in the ſaid Inſult, by clapping their Hands. Three of the ſaid four Gentlemen were then ſeverally brought to the Bar, acknowledged their Miſconduct, pleaded Ignorance of the Cuſtoms of the Place, their being ſurprized into it, and aſked Pardon for what they had done: Whereupon they were diſmiſſed, with Orders to attend the Houſe in the Morning, and not depart till they ſhould obtain Leave for that Purpoſe.

Mr. Smith, with his Counſel, and the Crowd, being directed to withdraw, James 1758. January 25. Coultas, Eſq; Sheriff of the County of Philadelphia, was ordered to attend the Houſe, and having been called in, Mr. Speaker ſigned and delivered him an Order of the Houſe, to take Mr. William Smith into his Cuſtody, and thereupon likewiſe delivered another Order to the Serjeant at Arms, to deliver up the ſaid Smith to the Sheriff, and an additional Charge to the Sheriff reſpecting the Writ of Habeas Corpus, if the ſame ſhould come to his Hands, as before given him in the Caſe of William Moore.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

January 26. The Committee appointed to regulate the Fees of the ſeveral Officers belonging to the Houſe, reported, they had made an Eſſay for that Purpoſe, and delivered the ſame at the Table, which being read, and conſidered, was agreed to, and is as follows, viz.

Report of the Committee for regulating Officers Fees belonging to the Houſe.

The Houſe being informed that a Number of the Freeholders was attending without, in Purſuance of the Requeſt of the Houſe laſt Night, to give what Information they could, reſpecting the Perſons concerned in the late Inſult offered to the Houſe, they were admitted, and having given in the Names of Thomas Fiſher and John Elliot, as Perſons who had ſomething to ſay in Evidence, touching the Authors and Promoters of the ſaid Inſult, the ſaid Fiſher and Elliot were ſeverally called to the Bar, and examined, and then ordered to withdraw.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem Others of the Inhabitants, ſending in their Names to the Houſe, they were called to the Bar, and examined as to what they knew, or had ſeen, of the Perſons who had committed the late Inſult; and it appearing from their ſeveral Examinations, that James Young, John Bell, John Wallace, William Vanderſpeigel, Thomas Lawrence, Richard Hockley, Lynford Lardner, Charles Oſborne and William Peters had all been concerned therein, Ordered, That Mr. Speaker do ſign Orders for apprehending the Six laſt mentioned of the ſaid Gentlemen, and bringing them to the Bar of the Houſe, to anſwer for the ſaid Inſult. And the ſame being made out accordingly by the Clerk, they were ſigned by Mr. Speaker, and delivered to the Serjeant at Arms.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

January 27. More of the Inhabitants giving in their Names as Evidences, touching the late Inſult, they were examined in the Houſe.

The Houſe having examined the Witneſſes, and being informed, that Mr. Vanderſpeigel was attending without, in Cuſtody of the Serjeant at Arms, he was ordered in, and acquainted by Mr. Speaker, that he had been charged before the Houſe with being concerned in the late Inſult offered to the Repreſentatives of the People, and was therefore now brought to the Bar to exculpate himſelf from the ſaid Charge, if in his Power. The ſaid Vanderſpeigel, in Reply, aſſured the Houſe, that he was not only in part, but wholly, innocent of the Accuſation; that he very much diſapproved of ſuch Behaviour, as extremely wrong, and had left the Houſe upon it; but had he been any way inſtrumental in promoting it, he would immediately aſk Pardon of the Houſe with the greateſt Chearfulneſs.

The Evidence againſt Mr. Vanderſpeigel was then called for, but being out of the Way, the ſaid Vanderſpeigel was diſmiſſed till the Afternoon.

Lynford Lardner, Eſq; being charged with the like Offence, was next called to the Bar, and acquainted therewith. In Anſwer to which, he aſſured the Houſe, he had not been in the Aſſembly Room during the Evening on which the Diſturbance happened, nor at any Time ſince the Beginning of the Examination and Trial of Meſſrs. Moore and Smith; and that his Family could teſtify to his being at Home unwell the whole Evening in which the Houſe had been inſulted. He was thereupon directed to withdraw, and to attend the Houſe again in the Afternoon, with ſuch Evidence as he had to produce in Proof of his Abſence at the Time of the ſaid Inſult.

Adjournment. The Houſe then adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Mr. Thomas

Mr. Thomas Willing, being present when the late Disturbance happened in the House, and inconsiderately joining therein, by clapping his Hands; but having since, from a Conviction of his Error, and not from any Evidence that hath appeared against him, voluntarily applied to a Member, to move his being admitted to make his Acknowledgements to the House, and now attending for that Purpose, the said Willing was called in, and having confessed he was sorry for the Countenance he had given to, and the Part he had borne in, the said Disturbance, the House received his Acknowledgments, and dismissed him. 1758. January 27. Post Meridiem

Mr. Vanderspeigel being then called in, the Evidence charging him, was examined before him, and again asserted, in the most explicit Terms, what he had at first declared. Whereupon the said Vanderspeigel was acquainted from the Chair, that if he could produce Persons to depose any Thing in his Favour, he was at Liberty to do it, and in Case those Persons should refuse attending, upon his Request, the House would issue Orders for bringing them. —— He withdrew.

Lynford Lardner, Esq; was next called to the Bar, and produced his Servant Woman as an Evidence, who was examined, and the House being fully satisfied, from her clear and positive Testimony, of that Gentleman's Innocence, he was forthwith discharged.

Thomas Lawrence, Esq; was then called to the Bar, and being acquainted with the Charge against him, acknowledged he had clapped his Hands, but did not in the least intend thereby any Insult upon the House; and further declared, that had he suspected they would have taken such a Conduct in that Light, he would not, upon his Honour, have joined in it.

Richard Hockley, Esq; being next ordered to the Bar, and having heard the Charge against him, denied the same positively.

William Peters, Esq; was then called, and being acquainted with the Charge against him, confessed he did clap his Hands, but designed thereby neither any Approbation of Mr. Smith's Speech, or the least Offence to the House, having done it suddenly, and inconsiderately; for had he thought at all, he should have condemned it as an Indecency, and was sorry for it, because an Act he ought not to have been guilty of —— owned it was a Fault, and his Duty to confess it; was sorry for it, and should be cautious of such Conduct for the future.

Mr. Osborne appeared next at the Bar, and, after hearing his Charge, replied, that had he believed his applauding Mr. Smith's Speech would have given Offence to the House, he should not have done it; but hurried by the Example of others, he owned he had joined in the Clap, though could he have imagined it would be considered by the House as an Insult upon them, he should not have done so; further declaring, that he would offer no Insult to any Man, and much less to that Body, and was sorry for his Conduct.

Mr. Wallace was last called to the Bar, and having heard the Charge against him, acknowledged he did clap his Hands, and hiss, at the Conclusion of Mr. Smith's Speech; but, in Justice to himself, and in Respect to the House, declared he was sorry for it; and that he had done it in Surprise, and without thinking; for had he had Time to reflect on it, he should have concluded it an Indecency. —— He further said, he did not attempt to stir after it, and had he been questioned when before at the Bar, he should have owned it was a very indecent Action.

The said Gentlemen being then called together to the Bar, were acquainted from the Chair, that the House would take into Consideration the several Acknowledgments they had made of their Misconduct, and were remitted to the Care of the Serjeant at Arms, till they should be again called for.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The House taking into Consideration the late riotous Disturbance committed in the House, and the several Testimonies, charging Persons concerned therein, January 28.

Resolved, That stamping of Feet, hissing and clapping of Hands in a tumultuous Manner, in the Presence of, and before, this House, at the Time William Smith ended his insolent Speech, after he had been found guilty of promoting and publishing an infamous Libel, entituled, The humble Address of William Moore, &c. are an high Contempt to the Authority of this House, a Breach of the Privileges thereof, and destructive to the Freedom and Liberties of the Representatives of the People.

Resolved, That Mr. John Bell, of the City of Philadelphia, Merchant, is guilty of the said Offence.

Resolved, That Mr. James Young, Paymaster of the Pennsylvania Forces, is guilty of the said Offence.

Resolved,

1758. Reſolved, That Mr. Charles Oſborne, Druggiſt, of the City of Philadelphia, is guilty of the ſaid Offence.

January 28. Mr. Charles Coxe and Mr. Andrew Hodge, being produced to the Houſe as Evidences by Mr. Vanderſpeigel, they were admitted, and ſeverally declared, that one of them having ſeen the ſaid Vanderſpeigel the ſame Evening, and the other the next Morning, after the Riot had happened, he aſſured them he had not joined therein, but diſapproved of it as an Inſult on the Houſe, and therefore went out.

Mr. Thomas Gregory was then called for, as a further Evidence for the ſaid Vanderſpeigel, but was not to be found.

Richard Hockley, Eſq; was next called in, and being aſked, whether he had any Evidence to produce, he named Mr. John Read, who declared, that when the late Diſturbance happened, he was ſtanding next to Mr. Hockley in the Crowd, but did not ſee him clap his Hands, or hear him ſay to any Perſon, Why don't you clap? or in any other Manner urge thoſe about him to do it.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Monday next, at Five o'Clock in the Afternoon.

January 30. Poſt Meridiem The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

January 31. Meſſieurs Bell, Young, Wallace, Lawrence, Peters and Oſborne, being ſeverally called, and having reſpectively made ſuch Acknowledgments of the Charge of joining in the late Inſult on the Repreſentatives of the People, as were ſatisfactory to, and accepted by, the Houſe, they were, after a proper Caution and Reprehenſion from the Chair for ſo great Miſbehaviour, diſcharged, upon Payment of their reſpective Fees.

Richard Hockley, Eſq; was next ordered in, and acquainted, that as the Evidence againſt him, was not poſitive, and he had produced others, whoſe Teſtimony had ſome Tendency to exculpate him from the Charge of joining in the late Inſult offered to the Houſe, he was acquitted.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Four o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem Mr. Speaker brought in, and communicated to the Houſe, a Letter he had received from Mr. Smith, in Goal, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

SIR,

Mr. Smith's Letter to the Speaker.

AS I do not think that the Refuſal of your Houſe to receive, or admit, the Appeal which I tendered to them on Wedneſday the Twenty-fifth Inſtant, can either deprive his Majeſty of his Royal Prerogative to hear Appeals from any Judgment in this Province, nor any of his Subjects of their Right to make ſuch Appeal, I think it proper to acquaint you, and this Houſe of Aſſembly, that I am ſtill determined to lay my Appeal and Complaint before his Majeſty in Council, and to proſecute the ſame in ſuch Manner as I ſhall be adviſed, in order to obtain that Redreſs which I have Reaſon to hope from the Royal Clemency and Juſtice.

I do therefore require of you, and the Houſe, that you will be pleaſed to order your Clerk to ſign the Depoſitions and Papers which he has already delivered to me, or my Counſel, by your Order; and likewiſe that you will grant me Copies, under his Hand, of all other Papers, Minutes, Orders and Reſolves of your Houſe, concerning me, or my Caſe, which may be neceſſary to enable me to proſecute the ſame with Effect; for which Copies I am ready to pay. I am, Sir,

Philadelphia, January 30, 1758. Your moſt humble Servant,

To Thomas Leech, Eſq; Speaker of the Houſe of Repreſentatives of the Freemen of Pennſylvania. WILLIAM SMITH."

The Houſe taking the foregoing Letter into Conſideration, and being of Opinion, that it was a farther Inſult upon them, returned no Anſwer thereto.

Colonel Edward Jones and Mr. Oſwald Peele attending agreeable to Notice, were called in and examined as to what they knew reſpecting the Conduct of Mr. Vanderſpeigel during during the late Disturbance at the House: —— To which they both declared they knew nothing in particular of the said Vanderspeigel's Behaviour on that Occasion, as they had not seen him in the House, but only out of Doors, and did not then speak to him, or hear any Person or Persons say they had heard the said Vanderspeigel acknowledge he had clapped his Hands on the Conclusion of Mr. Smith's Speech. 1758. February 2.

Mr. Hall being then called in and examined why he had, in his late Evidence before the House, stiled himself the Province Printer? He replied, he had done so on Account of his Connection and Partnership with Mr. Benjamin Franklin, who has generally been ordered by Mr. Speaker to print the Proceedings of the House; but allowed his own Name had never been made use of in any Orders for that Purpose. —— He withdrew.

Resolved, That the Assemblies of Pennsylvania have never paid a Salary to any Person as Printer to the Province, but only occasionally employed whom they thought proper to print their Votes, and paid for the same as others do, without having any Printer properly belonging to the House.

Mr. Vanderspeigel then acquainted the House, he had no other Evidence to produce, and that it was his Misfortune those already heard were but circumstantial; he could, however, chearfully submit his Case to the Judgment and Lenity of the House.

He was ordered to withdraw; and the House taking into Consideration the Evidence, as well in Favour as against the said Vanderspeigel, he was called in again, and told by Mr. Speaker, that positive Evidence had been given against him, to which he had adduced circumstantial Evidence only, and his repeated Declarations of his Abhorrence of the Fact, soon after it was committed; that he had again so fully expressed the same before the House this Day, in a Manner becoming a Gentleman, that he (Mr. Speaker) had the Orders of the House to acquaint him, that they, in Consideration of his respectful Behaviour, do discharge him, paying his Fees.

SIR, New-York, February 13, 1758.

Lord Loudoun's Letter to the Governor.

AS I am directed by his Majeſty to apply to the ſeveral Governments in North-America, for ſuch Aid and Aſſiſtance as are neceſſary for carrying on the War in this Country, which is likewiſe fully expreſſed in the ſeveral Letters tranſmitted by his Majeſty's Secretaries of State, down from Sir Thomas Robinſon's Letters to them, of the Twenty-ſixth of October, 1754, to this Time, directing that they ſhould correſpond and co-operate with his Majeſty's Commander in Chief, for the Time being, in North-America, and that they will uſe their utmoſt Endeavours to induce their Councils and Aſſemblies to give the neceſſary Orders for raiſing their Quotas of Men with the greateſt Expedition, ſo that they may be ready to march to ſuch Places as the Commander in Chief ſhall direct.

In Conſequence of which Orders I now apply to you to uſe your utmoſt Endeavours, with your Council and Aſſembly, to furniſh a Body of Eight Hundred good Men, and that as many of them as poſſible ſhould be uſed to ranging, to act in Conjunction with his Majeſty's Forces the next Spring, in carrying on vigorous and offenſive Meaſures againſt the Enemy, over and above what is neceſſary for the Defence of your own Forts on the Frontiers of your Province, and that this Body ſhould be ready to march by the Beginning of April.

As this will occaſion the raiſing an additional Number to what your Province now have, I would propoſe to you, that the Addition ſhould be raiſed only for the Campaign, and to be diſmiſſed at the End of it, by which Means, I am of Opinion, that it will not only be leſs expenſive to the Province, but you will ſooner complete your Quota with good Men, as they will be enabled to return to their own Habitations in the Winter.

I am the further induced to expect that they will readily comply with this Requeſt, that I will, as ſoon as they join his Majeſty's Forces, ſupply them with the King's Proviſions, at the Expence of the Crown, which will greatly eaſe the Province in that material Article, and as the Service I propoſe to employ them on, will be an immediate Benefit and Security to your Province, I need uſe no Arguments to induce you, who are ſo well acquainted with the Intereſt of this Country, to uſe your utmoſt Endeavour to forward this Meaſure, ſo eſſential for carrying on the War, and the Safety of your own Province. I am, with great Regard,

Sir, your moſt obedient humble Servant,

LOUDOUN."

A true Copy,
Examined by WILLIAM PETERS, Deputy Secretary.

A Petition from the Overſeers of the Highways, in divers Townſhips within the County of Philadelphia, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth, that they are,

by

by the Laws of the Province, obliged to keep the public Roads of their respective Townships in good Repair, but that the said Laws have made no Provision for supplying them with the Materials required for that Purpose, such as Wood, Stone, Gravel, &c. and Carriages to collect them at the several Places in which they may be wanted;——that near the City, where the Roads, from being most used, oftenest stand in Need of Repairs, the said Materials cannot be procured, few People being able to supply them, and such as can do it, will not spare them without a Consideration for the same:—— That the Petitioners therefore humbly pray the House to take their Case into Consideration, and afford such Redress as they shall judge proper. 1758. February 20.

A Petition from such of the Merchants in the City of Philadelphia as are interested in the Palatine Trade was presented to the House and read, setting forth, that by an Abuse of the Act of Assembly, entituled, An Act for the Relief of insolvent Debtors, they the Petitioners have lost considerable Debts and Sums of Money, contracted for and agreed to be paid by Palatines imported here, for their Passages or Freights, who, under Colour of the said Act, absconding and secreting themselves from their Creditors for the Space of two Years, have, by Virtue thereof, been exonerated from the said Debts, though in Circumstances to discharge them:——The Petitioners therefore pray the House to re-consider the said Law, and make such Amendments thereon as may effectually prevent the like Abuses for the future. February 21. Referred to further Consideration.

Upon Motion, That there is an absolute Necessity to fit out the Pennsylvania Frigate with all possible Dispatch, for the Protection of Trade against the Enemy Privateers, now infesting our Coast; and that there is no public Money remaining at the Disposal of the Governor and Provincial Commissioners for that necessary Purpose, the House took the said Motion into Consideration, and Ordered, That the Clerk do apply to the Collector for an Account or Estimate of the Tonnage of all Vessels that have been entered and cleared at his Office for the Space of one Year last past, and that John Baynton, Esq; one of the late Provincial Commissioners, entrusted with the Equipment of the Pennsylvania Frigate, for her last Cruize, do lay before this House an Account of the monthly Expence of the said Frigate, during that Cruize.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Post Meridiem

The Petition of John Proby, one of the first Settlers in York-Town, was presented to the House and read, setting forth, in a prolix and circumstantial Manner, various Hardships, Abuses and Acts of Injustice suffered by the Petitioner from George Stevenson, Clerk of the Court, and James Smith, Attorney, Harman Uptagrave, Magistrate, John Lawrence, Attorney, John Adlum, Sheriff, Benjamin Swoope, &c. &c. and praying Redress from the House. Referred to further Consideration.

Mr. Baynton, agreeable to the Order of Yesterday, reported to the House an Estimate of the Expence of the Ship Pennsylvania Frigate, for a Six Months Cruize, which was read, and is as follows, viz. February 22.

OFFICERS and Mens Pay, at Six Hundred Seventy-seven Pounds, Twelve Shillings and Six-pence per Month, ——	£	4,065	15	0
Provisions for 170 Men, at Twenty-five Shillings per Man per Month,		1,375	0	0
Tradesmens Bills, &c. as per List, —— ——		985	0	0
	£	6,425	15	0

Estimate of the Expence of the Pennsylvania Frigate.

Which is One Thousand and Seventy Pounds Nineteen Shillings and Two-pence per Month, exclusive of several small incidental Charges, which I cannot now account for.

It is impossible to ascertain exactly the Out-fit of the Pennsylvania Frigate, but, as near as I can form a Judgment, it will be as above, completely fitted for a Six Months Cruize.

The Equipping of the Province Ship in August last, extra of her prime Cost, was Four Thousand Six Hundred Pounds, but then her Cruize was but for three Months.

GENTLEMEN,

'I HAVE ordered to be laid before you a Letter I received Yesterday from his Ma'jesty's principal Secretary of State, which contains Matters of the utmost Importance
'to his Majesty's Service, the common Concern of his Dominions on this Continent, and A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

1758. March 8.

'more particularly the Security and Protection of this and the Southern Provinces. The 'vigorous Efforts determined on by his Majeſty the enſuing Campaign, to repair our 'late Loſſes, and to ſecure us from the future Deſigns of his Enemies, give the moſt 'convincing Proofs of his Royal Care and paternal Regard, and muſt neceſſarily inſpire 'every loyal Heart to make the moſt grateful Returns. I cannot therefore doubt a ready 'and chearful Compliance on your Part with the moſt reaſonable Demands made of this 'Province by his Majeſty, in the Secretary of State's Letter. On an Occaſion ſo in-'tereſting, I muſt, in the warmeſt Terms, preſs you, Gentlemen, to uſe Vigour, Una-'nimity and Diſpatch in your Councils, that nothing may be wanting towards the im-'mediate Execution of ſuch offenſive Meaſures as the Commander in Chief may judge 'neceſſary for his Majeſty's Honour and Intereſt; in which you may aſſure yourſelves of 'my moſt hearty Concurrence.

March 8, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Secretary of State's Letter follows in theſe Words, viz.

SIR, Whitehall, December 30, 1757.

Mr. PITT's Letter to the Governor.

HIS Majeſty having nothing more at Heart than to repair the Loſſes and Diſappoint-ments of the laſt inactive and unhappy Campaign, and by the moſt vigorous and extenſive Efforts to avert, by the Bleſſing of God on his Arms, the Dangers impending on North-America; and not doubting but all his faithful and brave Subjects there will chearfully co-operate with, and ſecond to the utmoſt, the large Expence and extraor-dinary Succours ſupplied by this Kingdom for their Preſervation and Defence: And his Majeſty conſidering, that the ſeveral Provinces, from Pennſylvania incluſive to the South-ward, are well able, with proper Encouragements, to furniſh a Body of ſeveral Thouſand Men to join the King's Forces in thoſe Parts for ſome offenſive Operations againſt the Enemy: And his Majeſty not judging it expedient to limit the Zeal and Ardour of any of his Provinces, by making a Repartition of the Forces to be raiſed by each reſpectively, for this moſt important Service; I am commanded to ſignify to you the King's Pleaſure, that you do forthwith uſe your utmoſt Endeavours and Influence with the Council and Aſſembly of your Province, to induce them to raiſe, with all poſſible Diſpatch, as large a Body of Men within your Government, as the Number of its Inhabitants may allow, and forming the ſame into Regiments, as far as ſhall be found convenient, that you do direct them to hold themſelves in Readineſs, as early as may be, to march to the Ren-dezvous at ſuch Place or Places as may be named for that Purpoſe by Brigadier General Forbes, appointed to command his Majeſty's Forces in thoſe Parts, in order to proceed from thence, in Conjunction with a Body of his Majeſty's Britiſh Forces, and under the ſupreme Command of Brigadier Forbes, appointed as above, ſo as to be in a Situation to begin by the Firſt of May, if poſſible, or as ſoon after as ſhall be any way practicable, ſuch offenſive Operations as ſhall be judged, by the ſaid Commander of his Majeſty's Forces in thoſe Parts, moſt expedient for annoying the Enemy, and moſt efficacious towards re-moving and repelling the Dangers that threaten the Frontiers of any of the Southern Co-lonies on the Continent of America. And the better to facilitate this important Service, the King is pleaſed to leave it to you to iſſue Commiſſions to ſuch Gentlemen of your Province as you ſhall judge, from their Weight and Credit with the People, and their Zeal for the public Service, may be beſt diſpoſed and enabled to quicken and effectuate the ſpeedy levying of the greateſt Number of Men: In the Diſpoſition of which Com-miſſions, I am perſuaded, you will have nothing in View but the Good of the King's Service, and a due Subordination of the Whole, when joined to his Majeſty's Commander: And all Officers of the Provincial Forces, as high as Colonels incluſive, are to have Rank according to their ſeveral reſpective Commiſſions, in like Manner as is already given by his Majeſty's Regulations to the Captains of Provincial Troops in America.

The King is further pleaſed to furniſh all the Men, ſo raiſed as above, with Arms, Am-munition and Tents, as well as to order Proviſions to be iſſued to the ſame by his Ma-jeſty's Commiſſaries, in the ſame Proportion and Manner as done to the reſt of the King's Forces; and a ſufficient Train of Artillery will alſo be provided at his Majeſty's Expence, for the Operations of the Campaign: The Whole therefore, that the King expects and requires from the ſeveral Provinces, is, the Levying, Cloathing and Pay of the Men; and on theſe Heads alſo, that no Encouragement may be wanting to the full Exertion of your Force, the King is further moſt graciouſly pleaſed to permit me to acquaint you, that ſtrong Recommendations will be made to Parliament, in their Seſſion next Year, to grant a proper Compenſation for ſuch Expences as above, according as the active Vigour and ſtrenuous Efforts of the reſpective Provinces ſhall juſtly appear to merit.

Although ſeveral Thouſand Stands of Arms will be forthwith ſent from England, to be diſtributed to the Troops now directed to be raiſed in the Southern and Northern Provinces; yet, as it is hoped that the Numbers of Men, levied in all Parts of America, may greatly exceed the Quantity of Arms that can at preſent be ſupplied from England, it is his Majesty's Pleasure, that you do, with particular Diligence, immediately collect and put into the best Condition all the serviceable Arms that can be found within your Government, in order that the same may be employed, as far as they will go, in this Exigency. 1758. March 8.

I am further to inform you, that similar Orders are sent by this Conveyance to Maryland, Virginia, North-Carolina and South-Carolina.——The Northern Governments are also directed to raise Men in the same Manner, to be employed in such offensive Operations as the Circumstances and Situation of the Enemy's Possessions in those Parts may point out; which, it is hoped, will oblige them so to divide their Attention and Forces, as will render the several Attempts more easy and successful.

It is unnecessary to add any Thing to animate your Zeal in the Execution of his Majesty's Orders on this great Occasion, where the Safety and Preservation of America, and of your own Province in particular, are at Stake, and the King doubts not, from your known Fidelity and Attachment, that you will employ yourself with the utmost Application and Dispatch, in this urgent and dangerous Crisis. Sir, your most obedient humble Servant,

W. PITT."

1758. March 14. The Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage being tranſcribed accordingly, was ſigned by Mr. Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, and is as follows, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

IT was with Hearts filled with Loyalty and Gratitude to our moſt gracious Sovereign, that we received his Royal Orders for the moſt vigorous and extenſive Efforts for the Defence of his American Dominions in general, and of this Province in particular. After the laſt inactive and unhappy Campaign, as well of the King's regular Troops, as of the military Force of this Province, the vigorous Meaſures his Royal Wiſdom is determined to proſecute againſt the common Enemy, cannot but give us the moſt ſenſible Pleaſure. This we eſteem one among many demonſtrative Proofs of his Majeſty's Royal Care and paternal Regard for his Subjects in this Part of his Dominions; and we ſhould think ourſelves wanting in our Duty to the beſt of Kings, did we not embrace this Opportunity to return him our moſt humble and ſincere Thanks for the gracious Protection he hath hitherto afforded us in common with the reſt of his American Colonies, and for his mild and paternal Inſtructions, which he hath tranſmitted to us in his Secretary of State's Letter.

We are ſenſible, that Vigour, Unanimity and Diſpatch, in the Colonies, are abſolutely neceſſary to crown, with Succeſs, his Majeſty's Meaſures for their Protection and Defence; and your Honour may aſſure yourſelf, that nothing, on our Parts, which can be expected from the moſt loyal, zealous and faithful Subjects, ſhall be wanting to co-operate with his Majeſty's Forces in their offenſive Operations in theſe Parts of his Majeſty's Dominions.

At the Time your Honour laid before us the Secretary of State's Letter, of the 30th of December laſt, we were upon a Bill for granting a Sum of Money to his Majeſty's Uſe, for fitting out the Provincial Ship of War for protecting our Trade, which now lies before you for your Aſſent; and upon his Excellency the Earl of Loudoun's Application, had further reſolved, by a Land-Tax, to furniſh the Crown with Seven Hundred Men for the enſuing Campaign; beſides the Forces we judged neceſſary to remain in Garriſon on our Frontiers, referring your Honour to your other Government to complete the Number of Eight Hundred Men, requeſted of you by his Lordſhip: But upon receiving the abovementioned Letter, we are determined to comply with his Majeſty's moſt gracious Demand of this Colony, and to encreaſe that Number, as far as the preſent diſtreſſed Situation of the Province, and Abilities of its Inhabitants, will permit; and we are accordingly preparing a Bill to be preſented to your Honour for that Purpoſe, to which we hope you may be at Liberty to give your moſt hearty Concurrence; not doubting your Honour will think it your Duty to apply to your other Government to exert themſelves on this extraordinary Occaſion.

May it please your HONOUR,

A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

WE find, by the Minutes of your Conference with Teedyuscung, on the Fifteenth Instant, which you were pleased to lay before us Yesterday Afternoon, that far distant Tribes of Indians have freely entered into our Alliance, and wait for nothing but the faithful Performance of the Articles of Peace, stipulated on your Part on the Treaty held at Easton, to join heartily in the British Interest.

On this important Occasion, when the Peace of this and the neighbouring Colonies, and the Success of his Majesty's Arms in the ensuing Campaign, seem deeply interested in your Deliberations, we do assure you, that to effectuate these good Purposes, and strengthen your Hands, we will chearfully contribute every Thing, which can be reasonably expected from us, to confirm the Indians in their good Dispositions towards us; and we think it our indispensable Duty to put you in mind of your Promises to them, that we may heartily join in demonstrating our good Faith by our Actions, and making it their true Interest to preserve a perpetual Intercourse and Peace with us, and all other his Majesty's Subjects in North-America.

" General Abercrombie, his Majesty's Commander in Chief in North-America, " having signified by his Letter of the Fifteenth Instant to the Governor, received by " Express last Night, that his Majesty's Service requires an Embargo to be forthwith " laid on all Ships and Vessels in this Port, his Honour has accordingly done it. And " I am commanded by his Honour to lay that Letter before you for your immediate " Consideration, and he most earnestly recommends it to you to comply with the Demand " therein made with the utmost Dispatch."

The said Letter from General Abercrombie being read, follows in these Words, viz.

SIR, New-York, March 15, 1758.

General Abercrombie's Letter to the Governor.

BY circular Letters from Mr. Secretary Pitt (bearing Date at Whitehall, December 30, 1757,) to all his Majesty's Governors on the Continent of North-America, from Pennsylvania inclusive to the Southward, which Letters arrived here on the Fourth Instant, by the Squirrel Ship of War, and were immediately forwarded to you by Express from Lieutenant Governor De Lancey, you will find, Sir, that the King having judged proper that the Earl of Loudoun should return to England, his Majesty, at the same Time, was pleased to appoint me to succeed his Lordship as Commander in Chief of the King's Forces in North-America, with the same Powers and Authorities; and you will likewise find, that in Pursuance of that Appointment it was his Majesty's Pleasure, that all his Governors on the Continent should apply to, and correspond with, me, on all Matters relating to the King's Service; in Consequence of which Pleasure so signified to you, and repeated to me, I am to recommend to you to use your utmost Endeavours and Influence with the Council and Assembly of your Province, to induce them to raise, with all possible Dispatch, as large a Body of Men within your Government, as the Number and Situation of its Inhabitants may allow; all which has already been strongly recommended to you by his Majesty's Secretary of State, as likewise several other Matters contained in that same Letter, which, for the Sake of Brevity, I shall avoid repeating, and solely refer myself to, as it is so full, that I do not think it can want any Additions; so far I will venture to go for your further Guidance, as to fix the Number of Provincial Troops, that may be wanted for his Majesty's Service in these Quarters, to Six Thousand, to be furnished by Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania, in such Proportions, 1758. and upon the Terms, ſet forth in the above quoted Letter of Mr. Secretary Pitt, to his Majeſty's Governors in North-America.

March 18. I am, at the ſame Time, to acquaint you, that as it is abſolutely neceſſary for his Majeſty's Service, that an immediate Embargo ſhould be laid on all Ships in the different Ports of the reſpective Provinces in North-America; and as you have already been forewarned, that whenever ſuch Directions ſhould be tranſmitted to you by his Majeſty's Commander in Chief in theſe Parts, you ſhould, without any the leaſt Difficulty, comply therewith, I make no Doubt, that upon Receipt hereof you will forthwith publiſh the ſaid Embargo, which is to hold good until ſuch Time as you receive Notice from me to take off the ſame, which you may depend on being tranſmitted to you as ſoon as his Majeſty's Service will allow of it.

I have nothing further to add, but to deſire that you will give me the earlieſt Notice poſſible of the Succeſs you meet with in your Application to your Council and Aſſembly, and what Reſolutions they are likely to come to upon the Subject of the Troops to be raiſed by them, conformable to his Majeſty's Directions, eſpecially as the Seaſon is ſo far advanced, and there is no Time to loſe. I am, with great Regard,

Sir, Your moſt obedient humble Servant,

JAMES ABERCROMBIE.

Poſt Meridiem The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, returned to the Houſe the Bill for laying a Duty of Tonnage, &c. with his Amendments thereon, which were read, and referred to further Conſideration: The Secretary alſo brought down a written Meſſage from his Honour, which was read, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

‘ WHEN I conſider that this Province in a great Meaſure owes its quick Riſe and flouriſhing State to Commerce, and the great Encouragement given to Trade, ‘ I cannot avoid expreſſing my Apprehenſions to you, leſt the Bill lately preſented to me ‘ for laying a Duty on the Tonnage of Veſſels, may prove very injurious to your Conſtituents in its Conſequences. I therefore could have wiſhed you had at leaſt fallen ‘ on Meaſures of laying Taxes that might have come in Aid, and leſſened the Weight ‘ of the Burden, that by this Bill will be impoſed on Trade: However, as you have ‘ conſidered this Matter, and think ſuch a Bill neceſſary, I have ſent it down with ſuch ‘ Amendments as appear to me proper and reaſonable. You will obſerve, that I have ‘ ſtruck out of the Bill ſuch of the Commiſſioners as are Members of your Houſe, who, ‘ I muſt further inform you, have, on ſeveral Occaſions, heretofore, in the Courſe of ‘ their Conduct, as Provincial Commiſſioners, treated me with ſo much Diſregard, that ‘ it is impoſſible I can for the future tranſact any Buſineſs with them.

March 20, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

March 21. The Houſe reſuming the Conſideration of the Governor's Amendments on the Tonnage Bill, after ſome Time ſpent therein, adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem The Houſe reſumed the Conſideration of the Supply Bill, which being in Part read, and ſome Time ſpent therein, they adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

March 22. The Houſe went again upon the Supply Bill, and, after ſome Debate thereon, adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem The Houſe reſumed the Conſideration of the Supply Bill, and a Difference of Opinions ariſing on particular Clauſes thereof, Ordered, That Mr. Fox, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Maſters, Mr. Hunt, Mr. Strickland, Mr. Gibbons, Mr. Carpenter and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to reconſider and amend the ſaid Clauſes, agreeable to the Sentiments and Inſtructions of the Houſe, and report the ſame To-morrow Morning.

The Governor, by James Young, Eſq; Paymaſter of the Provincial Forces, ſent down to the Houſe a Copy of the Minutes of a Conference held Yeſterday, in the Council Chamber, with Teedyuſcung, &c. and a written Meſſage to the Houſe, which being read, follows in theſe Words, viz.

1758.

GENTLEMEN,

'I LAY before you the Minutes of Yesterday's Conference with Teedyuscung. You will find, at the Close, he reminded me of the Promises made to him at Easton, of an Allowance for Ministers and School-Masters, for the Use of the Indians, when they should be settled at Wyoming; and has now made a further Request, that two Persons might be allowed them, for the Management of their Affairs in general. As they only stay in Town to receive my Answer, I desire you will enable me, as soon as may be, to give them a satisfactory One, that our friendly Indians may see the Government does not refuse them any reasonable Request.

March 23, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

March 23. A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

The House taking the above Message from the Governor, and the Minutes of Yesterday's Conference, into Consideration, after some Debate thereon, Ordered, That Mr. Hughes and Mr. Plumsted wait on the Governor, and acquaint him, that the House being of Opinion, that the Requests of the Indians, contained in his Honour's Message, are of very great Importance to his Majesty's American Service in general, and to the Safety and Interest of this Province in particular, they incline to reconsider the Indian Bill lately offered to the Governor, and send it up again for his Assent, as the only Means in their Power of enabling the Governor to comply with his Promises to the said Indians at Easton, as well as with the Requests they have since made of this Government.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Members appointed to wait upon the Governor with the Message of the House, reported, they had delivered the same, according to Order; and that his Honour was pleased to say, it was very well. Post Meridiem

The House then taking into Consideration his Majesty's Royal Orders, signified to them by the Secretary of State's Letter, and being sincerely disposed to comply with the same to the utmost of their Abilities,

Resolved, That immediate Provision be made for Raising, Paying and Cloathing Two Thousand Seven Hundred effective Men, Officers included, to act in Conjunction with a Body of his Majesty's British Forces, and the Forces of Maryland, Virginia, and the Lower Counties on Delaware, in such offensive Operations as shall be carried on and prosecuted by his Majesty's Commander in Chief, in these Parts, during the ensuing Campaign.

Resolved, That the Men already raised, and in the Pay of this Government, be a Part of the Number to be furnished by the foregoing Resolve.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this House, that there be allowed to each able-bodied Man, entering voluntarily into the said Service, the Sum of Five Pounds, as a Bounty for his Enlistment.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this House, that there be allowed to each Officer, properly authorized, the Sum of Twenty Shillings for each able-bodied Volunteer he shall enlist into the said Service.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock To-morrow Afternoon. Adjournment

March 24.

Upon Motion,

That a Copy of the Resolves of Yesterday be made out, and sent to the Governor, and that a Message to his Honour, upon the said Resolves, be wrote to accompany them, together with another short Message, respecting the Release of our suffering Fellow-Subjects, in Captivity with the Indians, the same were accordingly done; and the said Messages being read, were agreed to by the House, signed by Mr. Speaker, and are as they respectively follow, viz. Post Meridiem

May it please your HONOUR,

WE his Majesty's faithful and loyal Subjects, the Representatives of the People of this Province, taking into our Consideration the Demands of our most gracious Sovereign, and being sincerely disposed to comply with them to the utmost of the Abilities of this young Colony, and conscious that we cannot do his Majesty, and the good People of this Province, a more effectual Service, than by joining with Vigour and Resolution in the offensive Operations, planned by our Sovereign for the Protection and Defence of his American Subjects, have chearfully agreed to raise, clothe and pay Two Thousand Seven Hundred Men for this great and necessary Purpose, in full Hope that, under the Blessing of divine Providence, his Majesty's Arms will be crowned with Success, and Peace be once more restored to this unhappy and distressed Province. A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

In doing this, we have not so much attended to the Poverty and Inability of our Constituents, as to their present imminent Danger, the Necessities of the Times, and the great Prospect there is of relieving them from their present unhappy Circumstances by one united and vigorous Effort. And therefore, animated with a Zeal for the Execution of his Majesty's Orders, in which the Safety of this Colony, and the Preservation of America,

1758. March 24. America, are ſo intimately concerned, we have agreed to furniſh on this intereſting and important Occaſion, more Men than a full Share, according to the Proportions required of this Province, Maryland and Virginia, notwithſtanding the Country has been drained of its ſingle Men (our Servants not excepted) by the great Numbers that have been enliſted into his Majeſty's Service, and many others that have entered on board the Privateers of this and the neighbouring Provinces.

It is alſo the Opinion of this Houſe, that Five Pounds be given as a Bounty to every able-bodied Man that ſhall voluntarily enter into the Service of the Province, and Twenty Shillings to the Officer for every ſuch Man he ſhall enliſt.

The Houſe, earneſtly ſolicitous that this Province may be diſtinguiſhed among the Colonies for its Loyalty, Ardour and Zeal, in promoting ſo great an Undertaking for the Defence and Preſervation of America, beg Leave to recommend it to your Honour, that you would exert your utmoſt Endeavours, and leave no Method uneſſayed, that may tend to raiſe the Men in ſuch Time, that they may be ready to march to the Place of Rendezvous by the Firſt of May, agreeable to his Majeſty's Royal Orders: To accompliſh which, we apprehend nothing can ſo effectually contribute, as a ſtrict and ſpeedy Compliance on your Part with his Majeſty's wiſe and gracious Commands, in "iſſuing Commiſſions to ſuch Gentlemen of the Province, as ſhall be judged from their "Weight and Credit with the People, and their Zeal for the public Service, may be "beſt diſpoſed and enabled to quicken and effectuate the ſpeedy Levying of the greateſt "Number of Men."—— We know from Experience, on the one Hand, that unleſs the Officers are ſuch as are agreeable to the People, no Bounty that the Province is able to pay will procure the Number of Men wanted in Time; and on the other, if his Majeſty's Royal Command is purſued, it will greatly "facilitate this important Service."

March 24, 1758. Signed, by Order of the Houſe,

THOMAS LEECH, Speaker."

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

WE beg Leave to obſerve, that by the Minutes of the Conferences laid before us from Time to Time, ſince the Treaty of Eaſton, it does not appear that any effectual Meaſures have been taken to recover our Fellow-Subjects from the Captivity they are under with the Indians, with whom a Peace has been long ſince concluded, nor even to remind them of their Engagements to reſtore them. We therefore think it our Duty to recommend it to your Honour, before the Indians depart from this City, to make ſome Enquiry after the Captives, and to take ſuch Meaſures as ſhall be moſt likely to reſtore them to their Country, Families and Friends. We alſo think it abſolutely neceſſary for the Welfare of this Province, and the Promotion of his Majeſty's Indian Intereſt in America, that a friendly and kind Invitation ſhould be given to the Chiefs of each of the eight Tribes of Indians, that have, by a late Meſſenger, ſhewn an Inclination to enter into an Alliance with his Majeſty, and to take up Arms againſt his Enemies, that ſome of them would, when it was convenient to them, take an Opportunity of viſiting this Government, and further ratifying the great Work of Peace, ſo happily begun, and now almoſt perfected. The good Effects this Province has already felt, and his Majeſty's Intereſt in general is like to receive from the late Conferences with them, are ſuch Proofs of the good Policy of ſuch an Invitation, that we hope we need not add any Thing further to enforce it.

March 24, 1758. Signed, by Order of the Houſe,

THOMAS LEECH, Speaker."

Ordered, That Mr. Wayne and Mr. Plumſted wait on the Governor therewith, and deliver the ſame.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

March 25. The Members appointed to wait on the Governor with the two Meſſages of laſt Night, and the Reſolves of the Houſe, reported, they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, he received them very kindly.

The Committee appointed to reviſe and continue the Act for extending ſeveral Sections of an Act of Parliament, &c. reported, they had made an Eſſay for that Purpoſe, which they delivered at the Table, and the ſame being read the firſt time, was ordered a ſecond Reading.

The Remonſtrance of Samuel Preſton Moore, Eſq; Provincial Treaſurer, was preſented to the Houſe, read, and referred to further Conſideration.

An Addreſs from the Truſtees and Treaſurer of the Friendly Aſſociation for regaining and preſerving Peace with the Indians, by pacific Meaſures, was preſented to the Houſe and read, offering the Loan of a Sum of Money to the Government, for defraying Expences incurred by ſome late Conferences with Teedyuſcung, &c. and ſuch other Expences as may hereafter ariſe in negotiating Indian Affairs, till further Supplies ſhall be granted for the public Service.

And

And the said Address being considered, 1758.
Ordered, That the Thanks of this House be given to the said Friendly Association, for their seasonable and generous Offer. March 25.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, sent down to the House two written Messages, with some Papers therein referred to, and the said Messages being read, are as they respectively follow, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'I HAVE ordered the Secretary to lay before you Extracts of Letters I lately received 'from Brigadier General Forbes, containing Demands of several important Matters 'to be done by this Province, for the facilitating and forwarding the Expedition to the 'Westward, and earnestly recommend it to you to take the same into your Consideration, 'and make speedy Provision for this necessary Service.

'The Mayor has acquainted me, that Quarters are demanded for One Thousand and 'Seventy-two Men, including Forty Officers; of which Two Hundred and Twelve are 'already in Town, and the rest expected in a Day or two. As the Public-houses in the 'City and Suburbs cannot at most contain more than Six Hundred, I desire you would 'be pleased to give Directions that the Barracks be forthwith made ready, and furnished 'with such Necessaries as are required in Quarters, and particularly that a proper Quan-'tity of Straw and Wood be ready against the Arrival of the other Troops.

'Some Time ago I desired one of your Members to acquaint the House, that the Act 'for Quartering of Soldiers would expire at the End of this Sessions, that it might be 'renewed; and I now remind you that this is the Case with respect to the Act for re-'gulating Carriages, to be employed in his Majesty's Service. A Number of Waggons 'will be wanted for the Expedition, which will make it necessary for you to fix the 'Prices of Carriages and Horses, without confining the Hire, as in the late Act, to the 'inhabited Parts of the Province, or limiting it to a Day, or any certain Time.

'Many of the Arms given to the Provincials being very bad, and unfit for Use, I pro-'pose to supply them out of the public Magazine in this City, and desire you would 'make Provision for the Expence that will attend the Carriage of them.

March 28, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'BEFORE I received your Message of the Twenty-fourth Instant, in Answer to 'mine of the Day before, I intended to have spoke to Teedyuscung, and to have taken 'my Leave of him in public; but, on his acquainting me that the Messengers had heard 'of the Arrival of some Parties of Cherokee Warriors in Virginia, and were uneasy to be 'dispatched, that they might put the Indians who sent them on their Guard, with re-'spect to these Parties, I did not think it proper to detain them for a formal Con-'ference, but gave them my Answer as soon as it could be got ready.

1758. March 28.

'You will see by the Minutes now laid before you, that I reminded Teedyuſcung of the 'Priſoners remaining among the Indians, aſſuring him it would give great Satisfaction to 'me, the Council, Aſſembly, and all the People of the Province, to ſee as many of them 'brought here as was poſſible. This I ſaid in the Preſence of the Meſſengers, and other 'Indians. To himſelf much more was ſaid, intending it ſhould likewiſe be ſaid in their 'Preſence; but he adviſed me to the contrary, telling me that theſe Meſſengers would 'return inſtantly with agreeable Anſwers from the Indians, and till then no more need 'be ſaid, and it would do more Harm than Good.

'No Opportunity has offered, ſince the Treaty of Eaſton, for my taking any Meaſures 'reſpecting the Reſtoring of the Priſoners, more than reminding Teedyuſcung of his En-'gagements on this Account, which I have not failed frequently to do, though not 'formally, as that would have anſwered no Purpoſe. The very firſt Opportunity that 'offers with theſe or any other Indians, ſhall be very heartily embraced, and the Matter 'urged upon them with all the Zeal and Care in my Power.

'Not knowing how far an Invitation to the Chiefs of theſe eight Tribes of Indians, 'who it ſeems live at great Diſtances from one another, might interfere with the Meaſures 'taken by his Majeſty's Commander in Chief, or Sir William Johnſon, the Superintendant 'of Indian Affairs in this Diſtrict, I have not ventured to make it; but have tranſmitted 'to the General Copies of the Conferences, and of your Meſſage, and mentioned the Ad-'vantages that would ariſe from ſuch Invitation, deſiring his Advice therein.

'I have likewiſe diſpatched a Meſſenger to Colonel Waſhington, or the commanding 'Officer of the Virginia Forces, at Wincheſter, with an Account of theſe Conferences, and 'the good Diſpoſition of the Indians, and deſired it might be forthwith communicated to 'the Cherokees, and they be requeſted to have Regard thereto in their future Excurſions.

March 28, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Papers delivered by Mr. Secretary, with the foregoing Meſſages, were Extracts from General Forbes's Letters to the Governor, of the Twentieth and Twenty-third of this Inſtant; requeſting that the Forces raiſed in this Province, for the King's Service, be able-bodied Men, furniſhed with the beſt Arms to be procured in the Province; and that as many as may be, of the ſaid Forces, be Carpenters, and good Ax-Men: Likewiſe, that this Government would ſupply Fifty good Men, well mounted, upon tight, ſerviceable Horſes, and every way accoutred, to ſerve in Conjunction with thoſe to be furniſhed by the other Provinces, as a Body of Light Horſe, from whom very important Service may be expected.

Alſo a Meſſage delivered to Mr. Secretary, for the Governor, by Teedyuſcung, requeſting his Honour would diſpatch the Meſſengers who came down with him, back to the Indians, with the good News of what has been done here, and that other Meſſengers be ſent immediately to the Cherokees, to inform them of the Alliance concluded with eight more Indian Tribes, living near, and ſome even among the French.

And laſtly, a Copy of the Minutes of a Conference held with Teedyuſcung, at the Governor's Houſe, on Saturday, the Twenty-fifth of this Inſtant.

Reſolved, That this Houſe do recommend to the Provincial Commiſſioners to make Proviſion

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

THE Houſe, taking into their Conſideration your Honour's Meſſage of the Twenty-eighth Inſtant, and the Requeſt made by Brigadier General Forbes, and being ſincerely deſirous that every Meaſure may be taken that may tend to expedite and facilitate the important Operations now carrying on againſt our common Enemy, beg Leave to recommend it to your Honour, that you would comply with the General's Requeſt, in furniſhing him with "Fifty good Men, well mounted, on tight, ſerviceable Horſes," out of the Men directed to be raiſed by the Bill now before you; and that you would forthwith iſſue your Orders to the Sheriffs of the ſeveral Counties, directing them to give Notice to the Overſeers of the Roads, where the King's Troops are likely to march, to amend ſuch of them as are in the interior Parts of the Province, and to widen and repair the Road from Lancaſter, leading towards Williams's Ferry, on Potomack, fit for the Carriages of Cannon, &c. agreeable to the General's Directions: And that the ſame may be done in Time, we apprehend it will be expedient, that Orders ſhould be given to a proper Number of the Troops, in the Pay of the Province, to aſſiſt in this neceſſary Work, in the County of Cumberland, as many of its Inhabitants have been driven from their Plantations. And, with reſpect to Carpenters and Ax-Men, we are informed there are many among the Men already in the Province Service; but ſhould it, on Enquiry, prove otherwiſe, we doubt not your Honour will take the neceſſary Steps to procure them.

We have now before us a Bill for regulating the Hire of Carriages, which we expect will be preſented To-morrow to your Honour for your Approbation."

Poſt Meridiem The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down the Bill for granting the Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds to his Majeſty's Uſe, &c. with Amendments: Alſo the Bill for extending ſeveral Sections of an Act of Parliament, paſſed in the Thirty-firſt Year of the preſent Reign, entituled, An Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, and for the better Payment of the Army, and their Quarters, with one Amendment thereon: Likewiſe the Bill for regulating the Officers and Soldiers commiſſionated and raiſed by the Governor for the Defence of this Province, with a verbal Meſſage, that his Honour was ready to paſs the two laſt mentioned of the ſaid Bills, whenever preſented to him for that Purpoſe.

Mr. Secretary further delivered, with the ſaid Bills and Amendments, a written Meſſage from the Governor to the Houſe, which was read, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'I HAVE conſidered the Bill for granting to his Majeſty the Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds, and for ſtriking the ſame in Bills of Credit, and for providing a Fund for ſinking the ſaid Bills of Credit by a Tax on all Eſtates real and perſonal, and Taxables within this Province, and have given it all the Diſpatch which the Length and Importance of it would admit of, and now return the Bill to you, with a few Amendments.

'You will find that I have ſtruck out ſuch Parts as relate to the Aſſeſſing and Taxing the Proprietary Eſtate in common, and in the ſame Mode with the reſt of the Inhabitants of this Province. You are not, however to underſtand by this, that I mean or wiſh to exempt their Eſtate from being taxed. This is what they themſelves do not

'deſire.

1758. April 3.

'desire. On the contrary, they are willing that every Tract of Land within the Province, surveyed and appropriated for their Use, should bear an equal and proportionable Share of any Burdens that may be imposed on the People in the necessary Defence of this and his Majesty's other Colonies. By the Bill the Estates of the People are to be rated and assessed by Assessors elected by them for that Purpose. This Mode you think a very equitable one, and that it would be unreasonable that the People should be taxed by any others than such as they chuse and approve of. I conceive, Gentlemen, the same Justice is due to your Proprietaries, and that it would be equally unreasonable their Estate should be assessed and valued by Persons in whose Nomination or Appointment they or their Deputy have not the least Share. This would be to exclude them from the Rights and Advantages you think ought to be granted to the meanest of his Majesty's Subjects. I should have amended the Bill on the above Plan, with regard to the Taxation of the Proprietary Estate, and proposed Commissioners to be inserted for that Purpose, had I not been apprehensive that it might have retarded the Passing it at a Time when our Duty to our gracious Sovereign, ourselves and our Country require it should not be delayed a single Moment. But I now offer you, that, if a separate Bill of this Sort is approved of by you, I will, on my Part, chearfully concur with you in it.

'Having, in my Message to you of the Twentieth of last Month, relating to the laying a Duty on Tonnage, &c. objected to five of the Commissioners named therein, and declared to you, that they had, on several Occasions heretofore, in the Course of their Conduct, as Provincial Commissioners, treated me with so much Disregard, that it was impossible I could for the future transact any Business with them, I cannot but express my Astonishment to find that they are, notwithstanding, named as Commissioners in this Bill. I would fain hope, Gentlemen, this was not intended to obstruct the Passing a Bill so necessary at this critical Juncture. It is with great Reluctance I am once more obliged to inform you, that I never can consent to their being again appointed Provincial Commissioners. Besides their extraordinary Behaviour towards me, and the strong Objection I have often urged against appointing any of your own Members to be Commissioners, I must acquaint you that they, on several Occasions, have laid out and expended divers Sums of the Money heretofore given, by Act of the Legislature, to his Majesty's Use, without previously obtaining my Consent, or even consulting me, which was a manifest Violation of their Trust, and expressly contrary to the Directions of the Law. They have, moreover, had Meetings among themselves, without summoning or giving Notice to Mr. Lardner and Mr. Mifflin, their Brother Commissioners, who are first named in the Law, and had equal Power and Trust with them. They have likewise neglected to inform me of the State of their Accounts, or how they have applied the King's Money, though I long since demanded it of them; so that I know not to this Day in what Manner it has been expended, or what new Contracts may have been made by them. At the late Treaty held at Easton, wherein Peace was concluded with the Indians, being informed that they had bought, with the Money given for his Majesty's Use, a Parcel of Goods, and brought them to that Place to be disposed of in Presents to the Indians, I demanded of them a List of such Goods, and the Amount of them, that I might be enabled therefrom to form a better Judgment how to conduct myself towards the Indians, or what Expectations to give them on an Occasion so interesting to his Majesty and this Province; in Answer to which they were pleased to tell me, that they would, in due Time, prepare and lay before me a List of such Goods. This, however, was delayed a long Time, and was all the Satisfaction I could obtain from them, till after the Conclusion of the Treaty. Under these Circumstances, I should be inexcusable to his Majesty, and the Public, in vesting, with new Powers, Persons who, in so many Instances, have acted in direct Opposition to their Duty prescribed by the Law by which they were appointed; I am therefore under the disagreeable Necessity, Gentlemen, of insisting, that you insert in the Bill some other Persons, in their Stead, well qualified for so high a Trust, which, in so populous a Country as this is, I presume you can be at no Loss to do.

'I shall have Regard to the General's Request, of furnishing him with Fifty Light Horse, out of the Men directed to be raised by the Bill, as soon as that Bill shall be passed into a Law, and hope you will give it all possible Dispatch, as the Season for Action is advancing very fast. The several Matters requested by you in your Message of the Thirty-first of last Month, shall have my particular Attention.

April 3, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Governor's Amendments on the Bill for granting to his Majesty the Sum of One Hundred Thousand Pounds, &c. together with the single One on the Bill for extending several Sections of an Act of Parliament, passed in the Thirty-first Year of the present Reign, entituled, An Act for punishing Mutiny and Desertion, &c. being read,

The House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment April 4.

The House resumed the Consideration of the Governor's Amendments on the Bill for granting 1758. April 4. granting to his Majeſty the Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds, &c. and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the following Queſtion was put, viz. Whether the Clauſe in the ſaid Bill, taxing the Proprietary Eſtate in common with the other Eſtates of this Province, ſhall be continued as a Part thereof?——And the ſame was reſolved in the Affirmative by a great Majority.

Adjournment Poſt Meridiem. Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

The Bill for preventing Abuſes in the Indian Trade, &c. being tranſcribed, was read the third time, and compared at the Table.

Reſolved, That the ſaid Bill do paſs.

The Houſe then reſumed the Conſideration of the Governor's Amendment on the Bill for extending ſeveral Sections of an Act of Parliament paſſed in the Thirty-firſt Year of the preſent Reign, entituled, An Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, &c. and having anſwered the ſaid Amendment, by inſerting a few Words in the Bill, Ordered, That Mr. Grubb and Mr. Hunt wait upon the Governor with the ſaid Bill, and the Bill for preventing Abuſes in the Indian Trade, &c. for his Honour's Aſſent to the ſame.

Adjournment April 5. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor with the two Bills ſent up laſt Night, reported, they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and that his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, he would take the ſaid Bills into Conſideration, and give them all the Diſpatch in his Power.

The Committee of Accounts, to whom the Conſideration of Mr. Joſeph Armſtrong's Account had been referred by the Houſe, reported thereon as follows, viz.

"WE, your Committee, having examined the within Accounts, find a Balance due to Mr. Joſeph Armſtrong, of Five Pounds Ten Shillings and Nine-pence, and are of Opinion, he ought to be allowed a Commiſſion of Two and an Half per Cent, on the whole Sum, amounting to Forty Pounds Nine Shillings and Three-pence, which we, however, ſubmit to the Houſe.

DANIEL ROBERDEAU, RICHARD PEARNE."
JOSEPH FOX,

Five of the Provincial Commiſſioners, Members of Aſſembly, having taken Notice of ſundry Charges exhibited againſt them in the Governor's Meſſage of the Third of this Inſtant, and having thereon deſired and obtained Leave of the Houſe to bring in a written Defence or Vindication of their Conduct againſt the ſaid Charges; the ſame was accordingly drawn up, delivered at the Table, and being read, follows in theſe Words, viz.

The ANSWER of five of the PROVINCIAL COMMISSIONERS, to the ſeveral Charges made againſt them to the Houſe in the GOVERNOR'S Meſſages.

Mr. SPEAKER,

Anſwer to the Charges of the Governor againſt five of the Provincial Commiſſioners

WE thankfully acknowledge the Juſtice of this Houſe, in giving the Provincial Commiſſioners the Liberty of making their Defence againſt the unjuſt Charges and Accuſations contained in the Governor's Meſſage of the Third Inſtant; and beg Leave, in Vindication of our injured Reputations, to remark thereon.

Firſt, in general, that the Governor has not ventured, with all his Heat and private Reſentment againſt us, to accuſe us with appropriating any Part of the Public Money to our own Uſes, and not to Purpoſes directed by the Law, and for his Majeſty's Service, nor even that we have drawn Orders for any improper Services whatſoever. Had we in the leaſt Degree failed in this eſſential Part of our Truſt, no one can doubt but his Honour would with the ſame Pleaſure have exhibited it againſt us, as a Part of our Charge. But it is with Satisfaction that we can, from a conſcious Senſe of a faithful, induſtrious and honeſt Diſcharge of our Duty, call on the Governor, and every of his Council, who are concerned with him in this wicked Attempt to injure our Reputations, to point out a ſingle Inſtance of ſuch a Breach of Truſt. Until this ſhall be done, we reſt ſatisfied, that by this Houſe, and the honeſt and impartial Part of Mankind, we ſhall be deemed groſsly injured in our public Characters, and unjuſtly accuſed.

The firſt Charge exhibited againſt us is, "that we had, on ſeveral Occaſions, in the "Courſe of our Conduct as Provincial Commiſſioners, treated him with ſo much Diſ"regard, that it was impoſſible he could for the future tranſact any Buſineſs with us." We humble conceive, that in every Place where Juſtice is not an entire Stranger, it is a fixed and invariable Rule, that every Charge, even againſt an Individual, and much more a public Body, ought to be made with that Preciſion and Certainty, that he may with Safety anſwer, and, if innocent, be capable of refuting it; and that it ſhould be fully proved by ſomething more than mere Aſſertion. But how widely has the Governor ſtrayed from theſe eſſential Rules of Juſtice! This Charge is a general one, and points out no particular Fact to which we can answer, does not assert the Manner in which we have "treated him with Disregard," and stands supported by his Assertion only, which we apprehend ought not in the least Degree to affect the Reputation of any Person whatsoever. General Charges are like Stabs in the Dark, which the most innocent Man, or skilful Swordsman, cannot guard against or parry, as he cannot know at what particular Part the Lunge will be made. What the Governor means by our "treating him with Disregard," we cannot conjecture. In our public Conduct we are conscious that we have never been guilty of this high Offence, unless a conscientious Discharge of our Duty to the People, and the Trust they had reposed in us, and therein differing in Sentiments with the Governor on sundry Occasions, may be termed so. By the Law appointing us Provincial Commissioners, we had a Right, nay, it was our Duty to dissent from the Governor in every Matter, in which we apprehended he did not pursue the Country's Interest and Welfare. Indeed this was the very Design of our Appointment, otherwise there could be no Use in appointing Commissioners at all. That we have repeatedly, from a sincere Regard for the People's Interest, differed in Sentiments from the Governor, and refused to defray the Expence of many Projects, which we conceived could answer no useful Purpose, and were rather calculated to squander the Public Money entrusted to our Care, than do the Public Service, we acknowledge. Numerous Instances of this Kind might have been given by the Governor, had it suited his Purpose. A few of them at present we think it our Duty to mention.

The Governor, on the Thirteenth Day of May last, did request, that we would defray the Expence of erecting a Fortification at Ray's-Town, "to be garrisoned with "500 Men, in the Pay of the Province." When we considered the advanced Situation of this Place towards the Enemy, its great Distance from the inhabited Parts of the Province, the vast Sum of Money which must be necessarily expended in erecting a Fortification there, the Expence of escorting Provisions to support 500 Men, and the great Difficulty of defending it when finished, we rejected the Proposal,—as it was manifest it would require more Money than was at that Time subject to our Draughts for defraying the whole Expence of the Year, and could only serve to waste the public Money, answer the private Purposes of Individuals, and to load the Country with a Debt it could not possibly bear. We have also thought it our Duty to refuse to comply with the Governor's earnest Request, of throwing into the Hands of the Military Officers Sums of Money, from Time to Time, to be disposed of by them as they should think proper, without ever knowing to what Use they were to be appropriated: This we apprehended we could not answer to ourselves, nor the Public, as it would be giving up that Share in the Disposition of the Money the Law invested us with, which would be a Violation of our Trust indeed; yet such an one as the Governor, we are assured, would never have complained of. It is with Reluctance that we are also obliged to declare, that we have been so bold, from Time to Time, as we frequently found it our indispensable Duty, whenever the public Interest and Welfare demanded it, to remonstrate, with Decency, to the Governor, the great Neglect of the Military Service, which was obvious to every Body, and under his immediate Notice; the Disregard shewn to the Law, in not issuing Ranging Orders as it expresly enjoined; and in not recruiting the Battalions until long after the Time of the Enlistments was expired; also the distressed and bleeding Situation of the Frontiers, occasioned by these Neglects, while the Troops were sleeping in Garrison, without the necessary Orders for ranging and protecting the Inhabitants. This we apprehend every Subject had a Right to do; but when it is considered that we were entrusted with the Money which was to pay the Provincial Troops, that Right seems to be changed into an indispensable Duty. In these, and such like Transactions only, we have given the Governor Disgust. If this be "treating him with Dis-"regard," we confess we have done it, incited thereto from a conscientious Discharge of our Duty to the Public; if not, we hope we shall be presumed innocent of the Charge, until the Governor shall be just and generous enough to point out some particular Facts, to which we may answer, and from which we may vindicate our injured Reputations, which he has unjustly attempted to sacrifice to his private Resentment.

The second Charge is, that we "have laid out and expended divers Sums of Money "heretofore given to his Majesty's Use, without previously obtaining the Governor's "Consent, or even consulting him." If this Accusation contained the least Degree of Truth, we have certainly deviated much from our Duty, and acted inconsistent with the Directions of the Law. But this Charge is of the same Nature with the other, a general one, and can only be denied or answered generally. 'Tis rather calculated to wound the Reputation of the Innocent, than to give them an Opportunity of a Vindication. We are not conscious that we have ever drawn Orders for any Sums of Money for Purposes not particularly specified in the Law, and approved of by the Governor. But, on the contrary, we have ever been so cautious and careful, knowing that every little Slip, or inadvertent Mistake, would be construed into the most heinous Offence, as not only to consult

1758. April 5. conſult the Governor, but to lay many Matters before the Houſe, to whom we apprehend we are accountable for our Conduct, before we would draw Orders to defray their Expence, as this Houſe can teſtify. 'Tis true, the Governor not attending the Board, the Commiſſioners were obliged to ſettle Accounts, and draw Orders, agreeable to the Directions of the Law, in the Governor's Abſence; but never, to our Knowledge, for any Purpoſes to which he had not agreed or given his previous Conſent, either by Letter, directed to the Board, or by having ſigned an Order for the like Service. This was ſtrictly agreeable to the Practice and Manner of tranſacting the Public Buſineſs, ſettled and agreed on by the late Governor Morris, and former Boards of Commiſſioners, and has never been altered or objected to by the preſent Governor. Their Method was, "for the Governor and Commiſſioners to agree on the Service for which Money was "neceſſary; then the moſt conſiderable Contracts are laid before him for his Approba- "tion, or recommended by him to the Board, and thoſe Agreements and Approbations "are entered on the Minutes. The Commiſſioners, only, afterwards have ever ſettled "the Accounts, which is troubleſome enough, and given Orders for the Payment, in "Purſuance of ſuch previous Agreements and Contracts, and the Direction of the Law. "They would be glad if the Governor would attend the Board, and aſſiſt in ſettling the "Accounts, and tranſacting the Buſineſs, but that would take up too much of his Time, "and is therefore impracticable. And it would be uſeleſs to give him the Trouble of "ſigning every Order, when he cannot ſpare Time to examine the Accounts, upon "which the Orders are founded." And could he ſpare Time, the Law does not render his ſigning neceſſary, provided his Approbation be obtained in any other Manner. 'Tis fortunate for us, that all the Contracts and Purpoſes to which the Public Money hath been appropriated, together with the Governor's Agreements to, and Approbation of, them, appear on our Minutes, and are, we hope, more than a ſufficient Refutation of the Governor's unjuſt and groundleſs Accuſations. And we further declare, That, to our Knowledge, we never did, either directly or indirectly, draw Orders at any Meeting, without Directions being given to the Clerk for ſummoning the whole Board, and, as we believe, without Lynford Lardner and John Mifflin, Eſquires, the two Commiſſioners of the Governor's Council, he ſo much approves of, having Notice to attend *. This is all the Anſwer the Nature of this general Charge will admit of, and we hope will be ſatisfactory to the Houſe, and every impartial Mind, until the Governor ſhall act ſo far on the Principles of Juſtice, as to be more particular herein, and point out the Sum that has been thus expended, "contrary to Law, without obtaining his Con- "ſent, or even conſulting him."

The third Charge is, "that we have neglected to inform the Governor of the State of "our Accounts, or how we had applied the King's Money, though he had long ſince "demanded it of us." 'Tis true, ſome ſhort Time before this Seſſion of Aſſembly, the Governor did deſire that the Commiſſioners would lay their Accounts before him. 'Tis alſo as true, that the Board was ſo far from having any Deſign to conceal their Tranſactions from the Governor, that they gave immediate Orders to the Clerk to furniſh him with them as ſoon as poſſible; and as the Clerk had in every other Inſtance acted with the greateſt Care, we did not doubt but it had been done. How it happened to be neglected, we beg Leave to refer this honourable Houſe to the Examination of their own Clerk, who at that Time was the Clerk of the Board. It ſeems, though the Books were put into the Hands of the Governor's Secretary's Clerk, and ſome Progreſs made therein, yet it was by ſome Means forgot by the Clerk of the Board to be ſent to the Governor, without the leaſt Knowledge or Privity of ours. We cannot help remarking, that there appears in this Tranſaction and Charge, a fixed Deſign to enſnare us. For had the Governor ever called on the Clerk (which perhaps was the propereſt Application to procure the Minutes or Accounts of a Board, of which he conſtituted one Half, and whoſe Officer the Clerk was, as well as the Commiſſioners) or had given us the leaſt Intimation of the Omiſſion, the Board, though they never met regularly after, would have reminded the Clerk of it, and had it done. From whence it would ſeem, that the Omiſſion was more pleaſing to the Governor, than a Compliance with his Requeſt. Beſides, it ſeems ſtrange to us that he ſhould exempt from this Charge the two Commiſſioners, Members of his Council, whoſe Duty it was equally with us to enquire into this Omiſſion. If there be any Crime in this Neglect, and it is imputable to the Commiſſioners, we leave it to the Governor's great Impartiality to give a Reaſon, why the ſame Fact is Innocence in them, but conſtrued, in us, to an heinous Offence.

As to the fourth Charge, that being "informed the Commiſſioners had bought, with "the Money given for his Majeſty's Uſe, a Parcel of Goods, to be diſpoſed of in Pre- "ſents to the Indians, he (the Governor) demanded a Liſt of ſuch Goods, and the "Amount of them, that he might know how to conduct himſelf towards the Indians, "which was delayed a long Time." By the Manner of making this Charge, it would ſeem as if the Commiſſioners had purchaſed theſe Goods without the Governor's Conſent.

The

* See the Clerk's Affidavit.

The Facts relating to this Transaction will clear up that Insinuation, and are as follow: The Governor, by his Letter to the Commissioners, dated the Eleventh of July last, informed us of the Number of Indians expected at the Treaty, and "desired that we would "provide Presents in Proportion to their Numbers, a List of which should be shewn to "Mr. George Croghan, for his Approbation." A List was accordingly made out, and shewn to George Croghan, the King's Deputy Agent for Indian Affairs, and the Goods, under the Care of the Commissioners, carried up to Easton, where we attended on the Public Service, by the Direction of this House. On the Twenty-sixth of July the Governor "desired we would furnish him with a List of the Goods provided for the Indian "Presents;" to which the Commissioners returned the following Answer: 1758. April 5.

SIR,

"We have indeed brought up a Parcel of Goods, purchased for the Use of the Pro-"vince, which we shall be ready to join with your Honour in disposing of to the In-"dians, whenever the present Treaty is brought to an Issue, that will justify us to our "Constituents in such Disposition of them, and in due Time we shall prepare a List of "the Goods to be laid before you, being heartily desirous to concur with you in every "Thing that will conduce to the public Utility."

The uncertain Circumstance and gloomy Prospect the Conference was then under; the great Disgust Teedyuscung had taken, in being refused the natural and reasonable Privilege of a Clerk to take down the Minutes of the Conference on his Part; the Art made use of by the Proprietary Agents to divert and prevent the Indians from prosecuting their Claim to the Lands which they assert they have been deprived of by Fraud; and the Uneasiness they discovered at other Schemes, that were then prosecuting, rendered it very uncertain what Quantity, if any, of the Goods, the Commissioners could justify themselves in giving at that Time, as they, with many others of the sensible and judicious Part of the People, despaired of any good Effects flowing from the then Measures; and rather apprehended that the Consequence would have been a more cruel and barbarous War, than a happy and fortunate Peace. However, on the Thirtieth of the same Month, these Measures being in some Degree laid aside, and a better Prospect presenting itself, a List, which had been before made out by the Orders of the Board, was delivered by the Clerk to John Mifflin, Esq; one of the Governor's Council, by whom he repeatedly communicated with us. The Conference did not end until seven Days after, so that if the Governor had not the List till after it was over, as he declares, how he can with Justice impute this Neglect to us, and not to the Commissioner to whom the Clerk delivered the List, we are at a Loss to judge. For the Truth of these Facts we beg Leave to refer this honourable House to our Minutes, and the Examination of our Clerk.

Thus much we have thought it necessary to say at present, in our Vindication against the unjust, trifling and groundless Charges exhibited against us by the Governor, without the least Shadow of Reason or Proof to support them; Charges that have no other Foundation but his private Resentment, occasioned by our exercising our Judgments in the Discharge of a most important Trust, and because we could not pay the same implicit Obedience to his Direction and Will, as he has declared he is bound to do to the Instructions of the Proprietaries. Had we joined with his Honour in every extraordinary Scheme that he proposed to us, however inconsistent with our Duty, the Law, and the People's Welfare, these Charges, we are convinced, would never have been thought of; but, on the other Hand, the Monies entrusted to our Care would have been laid out, as we are ready to make it appear, to Purposes from which the People and Province would have received no Kind of Benefit or Advantage. We shall only add, that we hope these Facts will satisfy the House, until the Governor shall do us the Justice as to ascertain his general Charges in such Manner that we may know what they are, and have an Opportunity of answering them. And whenever that shall be done, we hope we may be able to shew, from the most evident Proofs, that we have been actuated by no other Motives but the general Good and Welfare of the People, and how to lay out the Money, entrusted to our Disposition, with the best Oeconomy and Justice to the Public. And that we have been so far from wittingly misapplying it, or appropriating any Part thereof to our own Use, that some of us are in considerable Advance, out of our private Fortunes, for his Majesty's Service.

WILLIAM MASTERS, JOHN HUGHES,
April 5, 1758. JOSEPH FOX, JOSEPH GALLOWAY."
JOHN BAYNTON,

The CLERK's AFFIDAVIT.

WHEREAS the Governor hath been pleased, in his Messages to the Assembly, of the Twentieth of last Month, and Third of this Instant, to charge five of the Provincial Commissioners, Members of Assembly, not only with Disregard of him on several Occasions, but also of the following Instances of Breach of Duty, viz. Affidavit of the Assembly's Clerk.

1758. April 5.

1. That, "at the late Treaty held at Eaſton, wherein Peace was concluded with the Indians, being informed that they (the ſaid Commiſſioners) had bought, with the Money given for his Majeſty's Uſe, a Parcel of Goods, and brought them to that Place to be diſpoſed of in Preſents to the Indians, he, (the Governor) demanded of them a Liſt of ſuch Goods, and the Amount of them, that he might be enabled therefrom to form a better Judgment how to conduct himſelf towards the Indians, or what Expectations to give them on an Occaſion ſo intereſting to his Majeſty and this Province; in Anſwer to which, they were pleaſed to tell him, that they would, in due Time, prepare and lay before him a Liſt of ſuch Goods. This, however, was delayed a long Time, and was all the Satisfaction he could obtain from them, till after the Concluſion of the Treaty."

2. That the ſaid Commiſſioners (Members of Aſſembly) "have, moreover, had Meetings amongſt themſelves, without ſummoning or giving Notice to Mr. Lardner and Mr. Mifflin, their Brother Commiſſioners, who are firſt named in the Law, and had equal Power and Truſt with them."

3. That "they have likewiſe neglected to inform the Governor of the State of their Accounts, or how they have applied the King's Money, though he long ſince demanded it of them; ſo that he knows not to this Day in what Manner it has been expended, and what new Contracts may have been made by them."

And whereas, ſince the above Meſſages, the Governor hath been further pleaſed, in Converſation with two of the ſaid five Commiſſioners (Members of Aſſembly), at his own Houſe, to reproach them with having been mean enough to get the Clerk of the Board to take their Faults upon himſelf, and pretend they were Conſequences of his own Neglect and Forgetfulneſs; I, who have acted as Clerk to the Provincial Commiſſioners, and been preſent at, and taken Minutes of, almoſt all the Tranſactions of that Board, do therefore, in Juſtice to the Characters of the ſaid five Commiſſioners (Members of Aſſembly) ſolemnly, ſincerely and truly teſtify, declare and affirm, that I did, by Direction from the ſaid Commiſſioners, on the Thirtieth Day of July laſt, to the beſt of my Remembrance, deliver a Liſt of the ſaid Indian Goods, as demanded by the Governor five Days before, into the Hands of John Mifflin, Eſq; then at the Governor's Lodgings in Eaſton, where I was attending on other Buſineſs of the Commiſſioners.

I do moreover declare and affirm, that the Provincial Commiſſioners, on the Second Day of April, 1757, the fourth time they met after their Appointment, when all were preſent except Lynford Lardner and John Hughes, Eſquires, did make, agree to, and order to be inſerted on their Minutes, the following Reſolve, viz.

"That the Members of this Board, or a Majority of them, do for the future meet regularly on Tueſdays and Fridays every Week, at Nine o'Clock preciſely, in the Committee Room, or Council Chamber, for tranſacting Buſineſs, and that the Clerk give his Attendance accordingly."——A general Rule for the Meetings of the Board being thus eſtabliſhed, it could not be neceſſary, or a Duty incumbent on the Clerk, to call the Members together, except by particular Order from ſome of them, when ſpecial Meetings were required on the intermediate Days, for diſpatching Buſineſs, not to be poſtponed: In which Caſes I ſolemnly declare and affirm, that I never received from any of the ſaid five Commiſſioners (Members of Aſſembly) the moſt diſtant Direction, or even a Hint, to omit giving due Notice thereof to their Brother Commiſſioners of the Governor's Council; nor did I ever fail herein, to the beſt of my Knowledge, Recollection and Remembrance, except once, through Forgetfulneſs, with John Mifflin, Eſq; who nevertheleſs, having by ſome other Means received Notice of the Meeting, attended the Board, enquired why he had not been ſummoned, was acquainted with the Reaſon, and heard my Apology for the Omiſſion.

I do further declare, teſtify and affirm, that I received Orders from the ſaid Commiſſioners (Members of Aſſembly), upon their Receipt of the Governor's Letter of the Twenty-ninth of December laſt, demanding a State of their Accounts, to make out from the Minutes of the Board a Liſt of all the Orders, with their ſeveral Uſes, drawn by the Provincial Commiſſioners on the Truſtees of the General Loan-Office for the Hundred Thouſand Pounds, granted laſt Year to the King's Uſe, and when finiſhed, to deliver the ſame to the Governor: In Purſuance of which Order, I did, a few Days after, put the Minutes of the Board into the Hands of Robert Levers, the Governor's Secretary's Clerk, and emyloyed him to make out the ſaid Liſt, being myſelf at that Juncture, and ever ſince, too cloſely engaged in the Service of the Houſe for ſuch an Undertaking. About a Week or ten Days after, the ſaid Levers brought to me an unfiniſhed Eſſay towards ſuch a Liſt, and through my great Hurry and Want of Time to compare it juſt then with the Minutes of the Board, as well as the Orders themſelves in the Hands of the Truſtees, before it could be completed, the Matter was deferred to a more leiſure Interval, and afterwards entirely forgot, till revived by the Charges in the Governor's Meſſage of the Third of this Inſtant, when I did, by a ſecond Order from the ſaid five Commiſſioners, carefully reviſe, collate and finiſh the ſaid Liſt with all convenient Diſpatch, and on the Sixth following lowing presented the same to the Governor with my own Hand; and likewise delivered to him, from a Consciousness of my Neglect, a written Apology for the Delay, dictated and voluntarily drawn up by myself, unadvised by, and unknown to, any of the said Commissioners, whose Reputation the Governor seems to suspect I have been prevailed on to skreen at the Price of my own. 1758. April 5.

'before WILLIAM PLUMSTED, Esq;'

The House resumed the Consideration of the Governor's Amendments on the Bill for granting to his Majesty the Sum of One Hundred Thousand Pounds, and the Question being put, Whether the House do adhere to their Bill? the same was resolved in the Affirmative by a great Majority.

Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. Pearne wait on the Governor with the said Bill, and acquaint him, that the House adhere to the same.

Then the House adjourned to Four o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor with the Bill for granting to his Majesty the Sum of One Hundred Thousand Pounds, &c. and to acquaint his Honour, that the House adhered thereto, reported, they had done the same according to Order. Post Meridiem

A Petition from a considerable Number of the Trading Part of the Citizens, and others, was presented to the House and read, setting forth the mischievous Effects apprehended from the Bill lately under Consideration of this House, for imposing a Duty of Tonnage on all Vessels, &c. and praying that the same may not be enacted into a Law.

Whereupon the House resumed the Consideration of the said Bill; and, after some Time spent therein, adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The House went again upon the Consideration of the Bill for granting to his Majesty a Duty of Tonnage upon all Ships and other Vessels; also certain Duties upon Wine, Rum, Brandy, and other Spirits, &c. and, after some Time spent therein, the said Bill was dashed. April 6.

Ordered, That Mr. Norris, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Melvin and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to bring in a new Bill for the said Purposes, more agreeable to the Sentiments of the House.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, sent down the Bill for preventing Abuses in the Indian Trade, &c. with the following verbal Message, viz. "That as soon as his Honour is "satisfied by the Commissioners that the One Thousand Pounds, mentioned in the said "Bill to be laid out in Goods, and consigned to John Carson, at Fort Augusta, have "been so expended, he shall be ready to pass the said Bill whenever offered to him for "that Purpose."

The Secretary also delivered a Letter from Sir John St. Clair, Deputy Quarter Master, to the Governor, dated Philadelphia, April 5, requesting his Honour to give Directions for establishing two good Horses at each of the following Stages, viz. Trenton Ferry, Philadelphia, New-Castle, Dover, Lancaster and York; and acquainted the House, the Governor earnestly recommended to them a Compliance with the said Request.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The House taking into Consideration Sir John St. Clair's Letter to the Governor, and having spent some Time therein, a Message to his Honour was drawn at the Table, agreed to, and follows in these Words, viz. Post Meridiem

May it please your HONOUR,

UPON considering the Request made by Sir John St. Clair to your Honour, that you would establish two good Horses at Trenton Ferry, Philadelphia, New-Castle, Dover, Lancaster and York; we think it so reasonable and necessary for his Majesty's Service, that we earnestly request the Governor to take the proper Measures to comply therewith, at the several Places within this Government. To defray the Expence of this, and other necessary Transactions for the King's Service, a Bill now lies before your Honour for your Concurrence, to which we earnestly desire the Governor's Assent, as the Season for military Operations advances fast. A Message to the Governor from the Assembly.

Signed by Order of the House,
THOMAS LEECH, Speaker."

Ordered, That Mr. Melvin and Mr. Saunders wait on the Governor, and deliver the foregoing Message to him.

The Members returned, and reported, they had delivered the said Message according to Order.

Mr. Fox, one of the Provincial Commissioners, appointed by that Board to lay out a Thousand Pounds of the Public Money in Indian Goods, to be consigned to John Carson, Agent at Fort Augusta, for opening a Trade with the Indians, on Account of the Province,

1758. April 6. vince, in Purſuance of the Meſſage ſent down by the Governor in the Forenoon, with the Indian Bill, delivered at the Table an Account of the Application of the ſaid Sum to the above Purpoſe, which was read, and the Houſe being ſatisfied therewith, as clearly and properly ſtated, Ordered, That Mr. Fox and Mr. Hughes wait on the Governor with the ſaid Account, whereby his Honour may be alſo ſatisfied that the ſaid Sum hath been applied to the Uſe for which it was depoſited in the Hands of the ſaid Commiſſioner.

The Committee appointed to bring in a Bill for laying a Duty of Tonnage on all Ships and other Veſſels, &c. reported, they had eſſayed a Draught for that Purpoſe, which they delivered at the Table, and the ſame being read the firſt time, was ordered a ſecond Reading.

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor with an Account of the Application of One Thouſand Pounds, lodged in the Hands of Mr. Fox, to be laid out in ſuitable Goods for opening a Trade with the Indians at Fort Auguſta, in Behalf of the Government, reported, that, in Obedience to the Order of the Houſe, they had waited on his Honour, and attempted to deliver the ſaid Account, with the Meſſage committed to their Charge, but the Conduct and Behaviour of the Governor, and the Treatment they met with from him, were of ſuch an extraordinary Nature, they thought it their Duty to communicate it to the Houſe in Writing, and the ſame being read, follows in theſe Words, viz.

Report of Mr. Fox and Mr. Hughes to the Houſe.

"BEING admitted into the Governor's Room, Mr. Fox, addreſſing himſelf to his Honour, ſaid, Sir, As you were pleaſed to ſend a Meſſage to the Houſe this Morning, in which you deſired to be informed of the Application of the One Thouſand Pounds, allotted by yourſelf and the Provincial Commiſſioners, for opening a Trade with the Indians at Fort Auguſta, we have waited on your Honour with an Account of the Goods purchaſed for that Uſe, and ſent up to Mr. Carſon, Agent at the ſaid Fort; we alſo lay before you the ſaid Carſon's Receipt for ſuch Goods, to the Amount of Eight Hundred and Thirty-four Pounds, and here is my Acknowledgment of the Balance, which I am ready to pay, as your Honour may think moſt proper, either to Mr. Carſon, or into the Hands of the Provincial Commiſſioners.———The Governor, interrupting Mr. Fox, replied, Sir, your Eloquence is very great——Sir, your Eloquence is very good; but let it be ſhort.——It is very good, Sir,—but let it be ſhort.——Your Account will ſpeak for itſelf, I ſuppoſe.——What Sort of Treatment is this to a Governor?——Half an Hour ago, or a Quarter of an Hour, or Twenty Minutes, or leſs, I received a Meſſage from your Houſe (holding a Paper in his Hand);——why this is ſtrange Treatment to a Governor: What! ſhall I not have Time to do the Public Buſineſs?——I was juſt now conſidering your Meſſage, and here comes another.——This Treatment to a Governor?——This Treatment to a Governor? Whereupon Mr. Hughes ſaid, Sir, your Honour miſtakes us; we come by Order of the Houſe. Here the Governor interrupted Mr. Hughes, and ſaid, Very pretty!—very pretty, indeed!——What do the Houſe mean?——Who is to judge of the Miſtake? You, Sir?—You, Sir?——Sure!——You, Sir?——Very pretty Treatment, indeed, to a Governor! not to give me Time to do the Public Buſineſs. Then turning himſelf to Mr. Fox, and making a low Bow, further ſaid, Sir, leave your Paper. It will ſpeak for itſelf, and I will conſider it. Upon which Mr. Fox ſaid, Sir, here it is,—and will ſpeak for itſelf. The Governor replied, O! yes, Sir, your Eloquence is very great; but leſs of it.—It is very good, but no Matter how ſhort, Sir.——Mr. Fox then put down the Paper on the Table, and ſaid, Here is the Account, and I am ready to ſettle. Aye, Sir,—Aye, Sir, (anſwered the Governor) you have a good deal to ſettle,—you have a great deal to ſettle;—you keep back your Accounts,—you refuſe your Accounts to me, though you are mean enough to get your Clerk to take it on himſelf, and ſay it was a Neglect of his. Whereupon Mr. Fox was going to reply, but the Governor prevented him, by ſaying, Aye, Sir,—aye, Sir, you are very eloquent,—you are very good, Sir, and if you will look in a Glaſs, you will ſee your own Picture. He then deſired us to ſpeak the Truth after we left the Room; to which Mr. Fox replied, Sir, I defy your Honour, or any Man elſe, to charge me with the contrary; and we withdrew."

The Houſe taking the foregoing Report of Mr. Fox and Mr. Hughes into Conſideration, Reſolved, N. C. D. That it is an undoubted Right of this Houſe, either by themſelves, or any of their Members, to have free Acceſs to, and decent Treatment from, the Governor, on the Public Buſineſs, at all ſeaſonable Times.

Reſolved, N. C. D. That the Manner of the Governor's receiving the Members of this Houſe, and the Treatment he gave them, when they were about to deliver their Meſſage, were extremely unbecoming his Station, indecent, unparliamentary, and ſuch as hath an evident Tendency to ſubvert and deſtroy that Freedom of Acceſs which the Repreſentatives of the Freemen of this Province have a Right to, and without which the Affairs of Government cannot be tranſacted.

Then

1758.
Adjournment April 7.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, sent down the Bill for regulating the Hire of Carriages to be employed in his Majesty's Service, with a verbal Message, that he was ready to pass the same, whenever presented to him for that Purpose.

The Secretary likewise brought down the Bill for granting to his Majesty the Sum of One Hundred Thousand Pounds, &c. and acquainted the House, that the Governor adhered to his Amendments thereon, and that on Monday next the Assembly of the Lower Counties was to meet by Summons from his Honour, and would require his Presence.

With the said two Bills, and verbal Messages, Mr. Secretary further delivered a written Message from the Governor to the House, which was read, and follows in these Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'I RECEIVED Yesterday, by two of your Members, the Bill for granting to his Majesty the Sum of One Hundred Thousand Pounds, &c. with a verbal Message, that the House adhered to the Bill; which is all the Notice you have been pleased to take of the Amendments, or my Message of the Third Instant, sent with them. When I reflect, that the wise and vigorous Measures formed by our most gracious Sovereign for the Protection of his Subjects in these Colonies, must be defeated, and thereby this and the neighbouring Provinces again be exposed to the cruel Incursions of our merciless Enemies, unless the Supplies demanded of each Government, for carrying into Execution the Plan of Operations concerted by his Majesty, are granted, I cannot but be greatly concerned, that a Bill so important in its Consequences, should be obstructed, or meet with the least Delay. Give me Leave to observe to you, Gentlemen, that the Taxation of the Proprietary Estate hath already been the Subject of much Altercation, in which a great deal of precious Time has been lost. To solicit, and bring this unhappy Contest to a final Decision before our Superiors, an Agent hath been appointed, and sent Home, on the Part of the Assembly; and in the mean Time the Dispute hath been permitted to sleep, and a Supply Bill passed by the Legislature, wherein the Proprietary Estate hath been altogether exempted. This being the Case, I was not a little surprized to find a Foundation laid for new Debates, by a Clause inserted in the above Bill for taxing the Proprietaries; and that too, at a Time when Unanimity and Vigour in our Councils are so absolutely necessary. Permit me to remind you, Gentlemen, that our indispensable Duty to the best of Kings, a Regard to our own Interest, and every Motive that can actuate British Subjects, and Lovers of their Country, demand it of us, on the present Occasion, to bury, or at least suspend, all former Heats, and to guard against every Thing that can possibly impede the vigorous Efforts his Majesty is determined to make against his Enemies the ensuing Campaign; on the Success of which, the very Being of this Province may depend. That nothing might be wanting on my Part, I have offered every Thing in my Power, consistent with my Duty.——So far from being desirous to exempt the Proprietary Estate from bearing a Share in the public Burthen, I proposed to you, in my last Message, to concur with you in taxing all their located and appropriated Tracts, provided Commissioners were appointed in the Bill for that Purpose, such as should be approved of by both of us; and I intended, if any Difficulties should arise about the Commissioners, further to propose, that an equal Number should be nominated by you and me. This was a Proposal so equitable, that I did not doubt your Acceptance of it; and I am at a Loss to know what Reasons could move you to reject it. I once more make you the like Offer, and hope, on reconsidering the Matter, you will either concur with me in it, or suffer the Bill to pass, as others of the like Kind heretofore have, exempting the Proprietary Estate till the Point is settled and adjusted on the other Side of the Water. It would be very disagreeable to me to enumerate the Reasons I gave you, in my former Message, for objecting to five of the Persons named in the Bill for Provincial Commissioners; they are so strong and full, that it is unnecessary to say any Thing in Support of them. I cannot help lamenting it, however, as a public Misfortune, that you did not turn your Attention to the raising Supplies for the Service of the current Year, before the Season was so far advanced: You must do me the Justice to acknowledge, that I have not failed frequently to put you in mind of the Necessity of making such timely Provision. I pressed you on this Subject, in my Message to you of the Seventeenth of October last, at your first Meeting; and at your next Meeting in my Messages of the Third, the Thirteenth, and Twenty-fourth of January, and Eighth of March, when I laid before you the Letter I received from his Majesty's principal Secretary of State. It may not yet be too late to exert ourselves, and do every Thing incumbent on us to comply with his Majesty's just and reasonable Demands. But if any Charge of Delay should be imputed to this Province, it is a great Satisfaction to me, that no Part of the Censure can justly lie at my Door.

1758. April 7.

Ordered, That the Bill for regulating the Hire of Carriages to be employed in his Majeſty's Service, to which the Governor hath given his Aſſent, be engroſſed.

The Houſe taking into their moſt ſerious Conſideration the Supply Bill, returned by the Secretary, and the Governor's verbal Meſſage, that he adhered to his Amendments thereon; and having alſo duly weighed the Propoſal contained in the foregoing written Meſſage from his Honour, reſpecting the Taxation of the Proprietary Eſtate, after ſome Time ſpent therein, the Queſtion was put, Whether the Houſe do adhere to their Bill? And the ſame was reſolved in the Affirmative, by a great Majority.

Mr. Fox preſented at the Table a Letter he had juſt received from Colonel Haldimand, Commanding Officer of the King's Troops here, complaining of a great Want of Neceſſaries at the Barracks for the ſick Soldiers; and reported, that he had been himſelf with the Colonel to the Barracks, and finding the Complaint not altogether groundleſs, he had been deſired by him, and had engaged to repreſent the ſame to the Houſe.

Reſolved, That it is the Opinion of this Houſe, and recommended by them to the Provincial Commiſſioners, that they do make Proviſion at the Barracks of the Neceſſaries required in Quarters, for the better Accommodation of his Majeſty's Troops.

Ordered, That Mr. Galloway, Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. Maſters be a Committee to draw up a Remonſtrance to the Governor, upon his Refuſal of the Bill for granting to his Majeſty the Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds, &c.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, ſent down the Bill for extending ſeveral Sections of an Act of Parliament, paſſed in the Thirtieth Year of the preſent Reign, for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters, with the following verbal Meſſage, viz.

" The Governor returns the Bill, entituled, An Act for extending ſeveral Sections of " an Act of Parliament, paſſed in the Thirtieth Year of the preſent Reign, entituled, An " Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and " their Quarters, and obſerves, that it is not the ſame which was preſented to him at " firſt, and will paſs it if the Word [Eight] be inſerted, inſtead of the Word [Twelve] " in Page 4, Line 11, as Colonel Haldimand has declared to his Honour that no more " can conveniently be put into one Room, without endangering the Health of the Sol- " diers. The Letter of the Commanding Officer of the King's Troops is ſent here- " with."

The Houſe taking into Conſideration the ſaid Letter, and the Meſſage from the Governor, Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. Yorke wait on the Governor with the ſaid Bill, and acquaint his Honour, that inſtead of his propoſed Amendment of [Eight] the Houſe are willing to admit the Word [Ten] into the Bill.

The Members return, and report, that they had waited on the Governor with the ſaid Bill, and the Meſſage from the Houſe, and delivered the ſame according to Order; to which his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, he would conſult with the Officers thereon, get their Opinion in Writing, and communicate the ſame to the Houſe.

Adjournment

Then the Houſe adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

April 8.

The Remonſtrance of the Houſe to the Governor, on his Refuſal of the Bill for granting to his Majeſty the Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds, &c. being tranſcribed, was ſigned by Mr. Speaker, by Order of the Houſe, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

WE his Majeſty's moſt dutiful, faithful and loyal Subjects, the Repreſentatives of the People of this Province, in General Aſſembly met, do hereby earneſtly remonſtrate to your Honour;

That on the Eighteenth of March your Honour laid before us a Letter from General Abercrombie, containing the firſt Notice we had of the Number of Troops that was expected from theſe Colonies; and in a few Days after, we reſolved to furniſh and pay as large a Proportion of Men as this Province could poſſibly ſupply, Thirteen Hundred whereof are now ready to join the King's Forces; and on the Twenty-ninth of the ſame Month we preſented to your Honour a Bill, granting One Hundred Thouſand Pounds to the King's Uſe for this Purpoſe, which you have thought proper twice to reject, notwithſtanding the Seaſon for military Operations is ſo far advanced, that his Majeſty's Service muſt be greatly injured and retarded thereby.

That the Mode propoſed by your Honour of taxing the Proprietary Eſtate, is without Precedent in our Mother Country, anti-conſtitutional, and inconſiſtent with the Rights of the People: That his Majeſty, and the Peers of the Realm of Great-Britain, do not inſiſt

1758. April 8.

insist upon a Right of appointing Commissioners with the other Branch of the Legislature, for taxing their Estates; but, on the contrary, have wholly left to the Commons the Right of nominating Commissioners in their Supply Bills, which admit of no Amendment; and therefore we can only look on this Proposal as calculated to exempt the Proprietary Estate from bearing an equal and just Proportion of the necessary Taxes at this critical and important Juncture, contrary to Justice and Equity.

That we have, from a Spirit of Loyalty and Gratitude to the best of Sovereigns, in Pursuance of his most gracious and paternal Requisition, at a Time when the People are labouring under an heavy Burthen of Taxes, agreed to furnish and pay Two Thousand Seven Hundred Men, in order to assist his Majesty's regular Troops in the offensive Operations he is resolved to prosecute for the Defence of this and his other Colonies; and to enable your Honour to discharge your Duty herein to the Crown, we have presented a Bill, granting One Hundred Thousand Pounds to his Majesty's Use, for this Purpose.

That the Right of granting Supplies to the Crown is in the Representatives of the People alone, as an essential Part of our Constitution, and that the Bill is framed agreeable to Justice and Equity in all its Parts, as well with respect to the Proprietaries as others, and not repugnant to the Laws of our Mother Country, but as nearly agreeable thereto as our different Circumstances will admit.

That as the Bill presented to your Honour was a free Gift of the People of this Province to the Crown, at the special Request of his Majesty, for the general Defence of America, we apprehend that the Governor's refusing to permit us thereby to grant Supplies for the Defence and Protection of the Colonies, unless we exempt the Proprietary Estate from paying its just Proportion, is inconsistent with his Duty to the Crown, the Heighth of Injustice, Ingratitude to the best of Kings, and an arbitrary Invasion of the Rights of the People.

The House is resolved to adhere to the Bill, and preserve their own and the Rights of their Constituents, and therefore they once more present this Bill to your Honour, for your Assent; and, in the Name of our most gracious Sovereign, and the distressed and oppressed People we represent, we insist that your Honour accept of the Number of Men granted, and the Supplies offered to the Crown for raising and paying them, and give your Assent to the Bill we now present, as you shall answer the rejecting so considerable an Aid, in the present important Operations, to his Majesty and his Parliament.

April 8, 1758. Signed, by Order of the House,

THOMAS LEECH, Speaker."

Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau, Mr. Pearne, Mr. Hunt, Mr. Melvin, Mr. Saunders, Mr. M'Connaughy and Mr. Plumsted wait on the Governor, and deliver the foregoing Remonstrance, together with the Bill for granting One Hundred Thousand Pounds to the King's Use; and that they acquaint his Honour, the Bills to which he has given his Assent, will be ready to be passed by Four o'Clock in the Afternoon.

The Members return, and report, they had delivered the Remonstrance of the House, with the Supply Bill, to his Honour, and that he was pleased to say, he had before rejected the said Bill, by the unanimous Advice of his Council, and returned the same to one of the Members; but on being acquainted that it was unparliamentary, he received it again.

Ordered, That Mr. Pearne and Mr. Hunt join with two of the Members of Council in comparing the engrossed Copies of the Bills, to which the Governor hath given his Assent, with their Originals.

Then the House adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment

The Members appointed to join with the Gentlemen of the Council in comparing the three Bills to which the Governor hath given his Assent, reported, they had done the same, and found them to agree. Post Meridiem

The Governor, by the Secretary, again sent down the Bill for extending several Sections of an Act of Parliament, passed in the Thirtieth Year of the present Reign, entituled, An Act for punishing Mutiny and Desertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters, with a verbal Message, that his Honour adhered to his Amendments thereon, having been again assured by Colonel Haldimand, that the Rooms in the Barracks will not accommodate a greater Number of Men than Eight in each, without manifest Danger to the Lives of the King's Troops.

Mr. Secretary also brought down a second time the Supply Bill, with the following verbal Message, viz.

" The Governor returns the Bill, entituled, An Act for granting to his Majesty the " Sum of One Hundred Thousand Pounds, and for striking the same in Bills of Credit, in " the Manner herein after directed, and for providing a Fund for sinking the said Bills of " Credit, by a Tax on all the Estates, real and personal, and Taxables within this " Province; and commands me to acquaint the House, that he will not pass it, for the " Reasons

1758. April 8. " Reaſons given in his Meſſages; but adheres to his Amendments, with the unanimous " Advice of his Council; and that he will tranſmit to his Majeſty a Copy of the Bill, " with his Reaſons for rejecting it."

A Meſſage by Mr. Secretary:

" SIR,

" The Governor requires the Attendance of Mr. Speaker and the Houſe, in the Coun- " cil Chamber, to enact into Laws the Bills prepared and agreed to."

Then Mr. Speaker, with the whole Houſe, waited on the Governor, and being returned, the Speaker reſumed the Chair, and reported, that they had waited on his Honour with three Bills, reſpectively entituled as follows, viz. An Act for preventing Abuſes in the Indian Trade for ſupplying the Indians, Friends and Allies of Great-Britain, with Goods at more eaſy Rates, and for ſecuring and ſtrengthening the Peace lately concluded with the Indians inhabiting the Northern and Weſtern Frontiers of this Province.

An Act for regulating the Hire of Carriages to be employed in his Majeſty's Service.

An Act for regulating the Officers and Soldiers commiſſionated and raiſed by the Governor for the Defence of this Province.

To all which Bills his Honour had been pleaſed to give his Aſſent, by enacting the ſame into Laws.

Ordered, That Mr. Pearne and Mr. Hunt do ſee the Great Seal affixed to the ſaid Laws, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office.

The Members appointed to ſee the Great Seal affixed to the three Laws enacted this Afternoon, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office, reported, that they had done it accordingly.

The Provincial Commiſſioners reported, that in Purſuance of the Recommendation of the Houſe, they had, notwithſtanding the Public Money ſubjected to the Governor's and their Diſpoſal has been long ſince expended, beſpoke Beds, Blankets, and other Neceſſaries, for the King's Troops, on the Credit of the Government, and ordered the ſame to be ſent to the Barracks with all convenient Diſpatch.

The Houſe taking into Conſideration the Governor's poſitive Refuſal of the Bill for granting to his Majeſty the Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds, &c. after ſome Time ſpent therein, Reſolved, That this Houſe hath repeatedly offered to the Governor a Bill granting an Hundred Thouſand Pounds to his Majeſty, for furniſhing the Crown with an Aid of Two Thouſand Seven Hundred Men, to act in Conjunction with his regular Troops in the important Operations now carrying on for the Defence of America; which Bill the Governor hath as often rejected.

Reſolved, That the ſaid Bill is juſt and reaſonable, and not repugnant to the Laws of England, but as nearly agreeable thereto as our different Circumſtances will admit.

Reſolved, That the Right of granting Supplies to the Crown is in the Aſſembly alone, as an eſſential Part of our Conſtitution; and the Limitation of all ſuch Grants as to the Matter, Manner and Time, is only in them.

Ordered, N. C. D. That the ſaid Bill, entituled, An Act for granting to his Majeſty the Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds, &c. together with the Governor's propoſed Amendments thereon, be tranſmitted, by the Committee of Correſpondence, under the Great Seal, to Benjamin Franklin, Eſq; and the other Agents for this Province, to be by them immediately laid before the King and Parliament now ſitting, if they ſhall receive the ſame in Time.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Tueſday, the Eighteenth of this Inſtant, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon.

Adjournment.

April 18. Poſt Meridiem The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

The Governor, by the Secretary, ſent down a Meſſage to the Houſe, with a Letter from Captain Thompſon to Colonel Armſtrong, dated at Fort Loudoun, April 9, 1758, containing Intelligence of the Arrival of forty Cherokee Indians at ſaid Fort: Alſo an Extract of a Letter from Colonel Armſtrong to the Governor, reſpecting the Manner in which the ſaid Indians are to be treated by this Government.

The Meſſage from his Honour being read, follows in theſe Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

' LIEUTENANT Colonel Armſtrong has informed me by Expreſs of the Arrival ' of forty Cherokees at Fort Loudoun, and that more are daily expected; and deſires ' he may receive my immediate Directions in what Manner they are to be treated and ' ſupplied, as they are come without Arms or Clothes. The Commander in Chief is ' made acquainted with their Arrival, and I have requeſted, that as theſe Indians come ' for the general Service of the Colonies, his Excellency would be pleaſed to order Pro- ' viſion to be made for them; but there not being Time to wait the General's Anſwer, ' without running too great a Riſk of diſguſting theſe friendly Warriors, I earneſtly

April 18, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

The House resumed the Consideration of the pressing Necessity of an immediate Grant of Money to his Majesty's Use, together with the Governor's Refusal to pass a Bill lately offered to him for that Purpose, unless the Proprietary Estate be therein exempted from the Taxes imposed on other Estates within this Province for the Defence thereof, and, after some Debate thereon,

Resolved, That a Bill be brought in for granting to his Majesty the Sum of One Hundred Thousand Pounds to be raised by a Tax on all Estates, real and personal, and Taxables, within this Province, in the Manner prescribed by the Act for granting Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use; and the Supplement to the said Act for granting to his Majesty the additional Sum of One Hundred Thousand Pounds; and it is referred to Mr. Norris, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Masters, Mr. Melvin, Mr. Morton, Mr. Saunders, Mr. Allen and Mr. Yorke to prepare and bring in the same.

The House then resumed the Consideration of the unhappy Necessity, by which they had been compelled, contrary to Equity, and the Usage of their Mother Country, to continue and extend an Exemption of the Proprietary Estate, by the Bill now sent up to the Governor, from its just Proportion of Taxes, in the Manner the same are laid on other Estates within this Province, in order to comply with his Majesty's most reasonable Demand of Aid from this Colony towards the general Defence of America, and, after some Time spent therein, Ordered, That Mr. Norris, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Masters, Mr. Strickland, Mr. Morton and Mr. Webb be a Committee to draw up Resolves upon the said unavoidable Exemption of the Proprietary Estate in the said Bill.

Then the House adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

A Petition from divers of the Inhabitants of Lancaster County was presented to the House and read, setting forth the great Inconvenience of being obliged to attend the Issue of Causes, commenced in their own County Courts, at the Supreme Court held in the City of Philadelphia, to which they are frequently removed; and praying the House would take the said Hardship into Consideration, and make such Provision therein as they shall think proper. April 21.

" mands me to acquaint the Houſe, that he has received from Mr. Lardner an Ac" count of the Sum of Two Thouſand Pounds, expended by him for the Uſe of the Pro" vincial Frigate; but has not received from Mr. Fox and Mr. Baynton their Accounts
" of the Sums of Five Thouſand, Three Thouſand Seven Hundred, and Eight Thouſand
" Pounds, paid into their Hands, in Virtue of Orders drawn on the Truſtees of the " Loan-Office.

" The Governor deſires the Houſe will furniſh him with a Liſt of the Orders men" tioned in the Bill to be drawn on the Provincial Treaſurer."

The Governor's ſaid Amendments being read, and conſidered, it was reſolved, upon the Queſtion, by a great Majority, that the Houſe will adhere to the Bill, and return it to his Honour.

The Houſe again took up the Tonnage Bill, and ſpent ſome Time thereon.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, ſent down the Supply Bill, with a written Meſſage to the Houſe, which was read, and is as follows, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

' DURING the Courſe of your late Seſſions, I have had too frequent Occaſion to ' lament the melancholy State of this diſtreſſed Country, the unſeaſonable Animo-
' ſities wherein you have been engaged, your particular ill Treatment of myſelf, and your ' unaccountable Delays to turn your Attention to the important Concerns of the pre-
' ſent Campaign, till it is almoſt too late to be of any real Uſe.

' You have now been ſitting near four Months, with an Intermiſſion only of ten ' Days; during which Space, you have been repeatedly called upon for the neceſſary Sup' plies of the current Year. You have had the Secretary of State's Letter on that and ' other important Subjects laid before you. You have ſeen the Aſſemblies of the Pro' vinces around you meeting, and with exemplary Zeal and Diſpatch furniſhing their ' reſpective Contingencies, and returned to their ſeveral Homes; while your Part, to
' the unſpeakable Detriment of the general Service, remains yet undetermined and un-
' ſettled. It is true you have not been wanting in Profeſſions of Loyalty, Duty and ' Zeal; and if theſe could paſs for real Merit, you have ſuffered none to excel you. But ' Actions ſpeak louder than Words, and how far your Actions and Profeſſions have cor-
' reſponded, need hardly be ſhewn.

' Three Months of your Sitting were expired before I received any Money Bill from ' you, and the firſt you ſent me was ſo framed that you knew I could not paſs it, being ' only calculated to keep up Diſputes, although the Seaſon was too far advanced to ad-
' mit of that Delay, and the Operations of the Campaign in theſe Parts in a great Mea-
' ſure ſuſpended on our Account.

' My principal Objections to that Bill, as appears from my Meſſages of the Third ' and Seventh Inſtant, were two. The firſt related to the unjuſt Method propoſed for ' taxing the Proprietary Eſtate; and the ſecond to the Appointment of the Provincial ' Commiſſioners from among the Members of your own Houſe, accountable only to ' yourſelves; a Practice liable to ſo many glaring Exceptions, that it muſt require an ' extraordinary Degree of Hardineſs even to propoſe it.

' The former of theſe Points you have given up in the preſent Bill, which I received
' the Twentieth Inſtant, having totally exempted the Proprietary Eſtate, and chuſing
' rather to deprive your Conſtituents entirely of the Benefit that would ariſe from an ' equal Taxation of that Eſtate, than not ſubject it entirely to your own Mercy in the ' Mode you propoſe.

' As to the latter Point, although I refuſed your Bill Yeſterday on that Score, yet you
' ſtill adhere to it, and ſeem determined to ſee the Province brought to the utmoſt De-
' ſtruction, and all the Meaſures concerted by our gracious Sovereign, for our Relief,
' defeated, rather than the Fingering of the public Money ſhould not be in a few leading
' Men of your Houſe, who, in various Inſtances, have abuſed their former Truſt, diſre-
' garded me, and acted in open Contempt of Law.

' Theſe are hard Charges, Gentlemen, but I have made them publicly, and if theſe
' Men regarded their own Characters, or if you had that Regard which might have been ' expected for the Honour of your Houſe, you would either have obliged them to ex-
' hibit their Accounts, when required, or you would have left them out of the preſent
' Bill, and inſerted ſome other unexceptionable Men in their Stead. But all this you ' have

1758. April 22.

'have ſtill declined to do, and what renders the Matter ſtill more ſuſpicious, is your in-
'ſerting a Clauſe in the Bill, notwithſtanding my repeated Proteſtations and Objections 'to the contrary, intimating, that they have, with my Conſent, already expended the Sum 'of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds.

'This, Gentlemen, is indeed a ſhort Way of ſettling Accounts, and is one of the 'boldeſt Impoſitions that perhaps was ever offered to a Governor. From your Obſtinacy,
'and the hard Neceſſity of the Times, I am reduced to this Dilemma: I muſt ſubſcribe
'my Name to a Falſhood, ſhelter theſe Men under an Act of Aſſembly, and preclude
'myſelf and the Public from calling them to any future Account, or ſuffer all the Mea-
'ſures concerted for your Safety to ſtand ſtill; the numerous Body of Indians, come to our 'Aſſiſtance, to return Home; and the preſent Campaign to be as inactive as the former,
'ſo far, at leaſt, as regards the Part theſe Southern Colonies are to act; and how fatal that 'might prove to the grand Cauſe of Liberty and Religion, which ought to be ſo dear to 'us, is but too obvious. The Expence of the Mother Country and the Neighbour
'Colonies, to ſtrike a deciſive Blow now, is too great to be continued, and if the preſent
'Opportunity is neglected, we may wiſh in vain to recall it, when it will be too late.

'Wherefore, under theſe Conſiderations, and to ſhew my Regard for his Majeſty's
'Service, I do agree to paſs your Bill, as it ſtands, if you think proper ſtill to adhere to it,
'and ſhall be ready to attend you for that Purpoſe in the Council Chamber, at any Time
'you will appoint this Day, in order that there may be no further Delays. But I muſt
'do it with a ſolemn Proteſtation to all the World, that it is contrary to my Conſcience,
'and in Violation of Truth, that I am obliged to ſay, that the former Hundred Thouſand
'Pounds is expended with my Conſent; not to mention the Obſcurity of the Bill, and
'other material Objections, which I waved, for the Sake of Diſpatch.

April 22, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Houſe having taken the Governor's Meſſage into Conſideration,

Ordered, That Mr. Morton and Mr. Wayne wait on the Governor, and acquaint him, that as it is impracticable to get the Supply Bill, juſt ſent down by his Honour to the Houſe, engroſſed Time enough to be paſſed this Afternoon, they have examined the returned Copy of the ſaid Bill, and find it very fair and legible, and as it is not unprecedented to make uſe of ſuch inſtead of an engroſſed Copy, the Houſe will attend the Governor at any Hour he may be pleaſed to appoint for enacting the ſame into a Law.

The Members return and report, they had waited on the Governor, and delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order; and that his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, he would attend immediately in the Council Chamber for that Purpoſe.

Ordered, That Mr. Webb and Mr. Yorke do ſee the Great Seal affixed to the ſaid Bill, when paſſed into a Law, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office.

A Meſſage by Mr. Secretary:

SIR,

" The Governor deſires the Attendance of Mr. Speaker and the Houſe in the Council " Chamber, in order to enact the Bill, to which he hath given his Aſſent, into a Law."

Then Mr. Speaker, with the whole Houſe, waited on the Governor, and being returned, the Speaker reſumed the Chair, and reported, that the Houſe had waited on his Honour with the Bill, entituled, An Act for granting the Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds to his Majeſty's Uſe, and for ſtriking the ſame in Bills of Credit, and for continuing the ſeveral Acts of Aſſembly of this Province herein after mentioned for ſinking the Bills of Credit ſo to be ſtruck, at the Times and in the Manner herein after directed and appointed; to which his Honour had been pleaſed to give his Aſſent, by enacting the ſame into a Law.

Ordered, That Mr. Norris, Mr. Fox, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Maſters, Mr. Walker, Mr. Morton and Mr. Saunders be a Committee to prepare and bring in an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of this Day, and his other Meſſages ſtill unanſwered.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Tueſday next, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon. Adjournment

April 25. Poſt Meridiem

The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

The Members appointed to ſee the Great Seal affixed to the Act for granting to his Majeſty the Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds, &c. and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office, reported, they had done it according to Order.

The Petition of a Number of diſtreſſed Women, Wives of Soldiers belonging to his Majeſty's Thirty-fifth Regiment of Foot, lately tranſported from this City to Halifax, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth their neceſſitous Circumſtances, and praying they may be ſent, at the Expence of the Government, to their Huſbands at Halifax.

The Houſe taking into Conſideration, and commiſerating, the forlorn and deſtitute Condition of the ſaid Petitioners,

Ordered, That the Clerk do acquaint them, that the Houſe recommend to them to lay their Petition before the Governor, and let him know, that the Houſe, having conſidered

it,

1758. it, are willing the Expence of tranſporting them to their Huſbands at Halifax ſhould be defrayed by the Government, if his Honour is conſenting thereto.

April 25. Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

April 26. The Houſe being informed that Meſſieurs William Moore and William Smith, committed to the public Goal for Breach of Privilege, and a Contempt to this Houſe, had, during the late Receſs thereof, been releaſed by a Writ of Habeas Corpus, took the ſaid Releaſement into Conſideration; and, after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That the ſaid William Moore and William Smith be again taken into Cuſtody of the Serjeant at Arms belonging to this Houſe, and that the Clerk do make out Warrants accordingly.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Warrants for apprehending and re-committing the ſaid Moore and Smith to the Cuſtody of the Serjeant at Arms, being made out, and ſigned by Mr. Speaker, the Serjeant was ordered in, and the ſame delivered to him from the Chair.

The Houſe then went upon the Conſideration of the Tonnage Bill, which being read the ſecond time, was agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

April 27. A Petition from the Inhabitants of the Town of Reading, and others, in Berks County, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth the great Diſtreſs of the ſaid County, from certain late Ravages committed therein by the Indians, and other Enemies, in Conſequence of which, many of the Settlers have abandoned their Plantations, and praying immediate Succour, leſt that Part of the Country be wholly deſerted by its Inhabitants, from an Apprehenſion of further Depredations and deeper Incurſions of the Enemy upon them.

The Houſe taking the ſaid Petition into Conſideration, and truly commiſerating the Sufferings and expoſed Situation of the ſaid People, and being of Opinion their Petition ought to be laid before the Governor, with a Recommendation from the Houſe to his Honour, to order a Detachment of the Provincial Troops to be ſtationed in the ſaid County, for their Protection, the following verbal Meſſage was drawn at the Table, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

"WE have juſt received a Petition from the diſtreſſed Inhabitants of the Town of "Reading.———Their unhappy Situation ſeems to be more eaſily conceived than de- "ſcribed, occaſioned by the Want of a due Exertion of the military Force in that Quar- "ter: We therefore think it our indiſpenſable Duty to lay the Petition before your Ho- "nour, and earneſtly entreat you would give Orders that ſome of the Provincial Forces "be ſent to the immediate Relief of that and the neighbouring County of Lancaſter."

A Petition from James Child, of the City of Philadelphia, was preſented to the Houſe and read, praying that he may be appointed Collector of the Duties of Tonnage, &c. to be laid by the Bill now under Conſideration of the Houſe.

The ſaid Bill being tranſcribed, was read the third time, and compared at the Table.

Reſolved, That the ſaid Bill do paſs.

Ordered, That Mr. Walker and Mr. Trimble wait on the Governor therewith; as alſo with the Bill for extending ſeveral Sections of an Act of Parliament, paſſed in the Thirtieth Year of the preſent Reign, entituled, An Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, &c. and deſire his Honour's Aſſent to the latter as now preſented to him: And alſo deliver the Petition from the Inhabitants of Reading, together with the foregoing verbal Meſſage from the Houſe thereon.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Four o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem Mr. Secretary acquainted the Houſe, that his Honour deſired the Company of Mr. Speaker, and the Members of Aſſembly, from his Houſe to the Market-place, to be preſent at publiſhing a Proclamation of the Encouragement offered by this Government to ſuch able-bodied Men as ſhall voluntarily inliſt in his Majeſty's Service, for the enſuing Campaign: Whereupon the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning, and attended the Governor, as requeſted.

Adjournment

April 28. The Members appointed Yeſterday to wait on the Governor with the two Bills, together with the Reading Petition, and the verbal Meſſage from the Houſe thereon, reported, they had delivered the ſame according to Order; to which his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, he would take the ſaid Bills into immediate Conſideration, and that as the Inhabitants of Reading had preferred a Petition to him, of like Import, a few Days before, he had provided for their Protection and Security, by ordering a Company of an Hundred Highlanders into that Part of the Province.

The Committee appointed to prepare and bring in an Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-ſecond Inſtant, reported, they had eſſayed a Draught for that Purpoſe, which being read by one of the Committee, at his Chair, was delivered at the Table, and referred to further Conſideration.

Adjournment Then the Houſe adjourned to Three o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, ſent down the Bill for granting to his Majeſty a Duty of Tonnage, &c. with a verbal Meſſage, that his Honour was ready to paſs the ſame, whenever whenever preſented to him for that Purpoſe; and alſo, that on the Governor's Application to General Forbes, he has engaged to order an Hundred Men, with proper Officers, to march to Reading from hence in a few Days, and, on all Occaſions, the General will take Care that the Country ſhall be protected to the utmoſt of his Power.——The Secretary further acquainted the Houſe, that the Governor recommended the deſtitute and ſuffering Caſe of about Seventy poor Women (Soldiers Wives) to their Conſideration; and deſires they would make ſuch Proviſion for their Relief, as they may judge moſt proper. 1758. April 28.

The Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-ſecond Inſtant was again read, and re-committed to the Committee which brought it in, for ſome Alterations recommended by the Houſe.

The Houſe having taken into Conſideration General Forbes's kind Aſſurance to this Province, of Protection to the utmoſt of his Power, Ordered, That Mr. Maſters, Mr. Yorke and Mr. Allen do wait on the General with the Thanks of this Houſe for ſo obliging an Inſtance of his Care and Regard to the Province.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

The Gentlemen appointed to wait on General Forbes, and return him the Thanks of the Houſe, reported, they had done the ſame according to Order; to which he was pleaſed to ſay, he was very ſenſible of the Honour the Houſe had done him; that he was here by his Majeſty's Command, and was bound by Duty as well as Inclination to do every Thing in his Power for his Majeſty's Service, and the Protection of the Country; aſſured the Houſe, that nothing ſhould be wanting on his Part, and hoped that they, and every one, in their different Stations, would exert themſelves on this Occaſion, in which all were ſo deeply intereſted. April 29.

The Governor, by the Secretary, returned the Bill for extending ſeveral Sections of an Act of Parliament, paſſed in the Thirtieth Year of the preſent Reign, entituled, An Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, &c. with a verbal Meſſage, that his Honour was ready to paſs the ſame whenever preſented to him for that Purpoſe: And that he alſo recommended to the Houſe to appoint a Barrack-Maſter, to be anſwerable for ſuch of the Neceſſaries required in Quarters, as have been furniſhed to the Barracks, at the Expence of the Province, and ſhall be left there after the Departure of the Troops.

Mr. Secretary likewiſe, by Order of the Governor, laid before the Houſe a Letter from General Forbes to his Honour, requiring the Appointment of a Provincial Treaſurer, or Paymaſter, to attend him, with a Sum of Money ſubject to his Orders, for defraying contingent Expences; and informed the Houſe, that the Governor deſired they would comply with the General's Demand, and enable him to give a ſatisfactory Anſwer thereto.

Ordered, That the Bill brought down by the Secretary, to which the Governor hath given his Aſſent, be immediately engroſſed.

Ordered, That M. Roberdeau and Mr. Saunders wait on the Governor, and acquaint him, that the Houſe have complied with all the Demands of the Crown, communicated to them by the Secretary of State's Letter, and have appointed Commiſſioners to diſpoſe of the Money granted for thoſe Purpoſes, with the Governor's Approbation:——That, as the Payment of the Troops was Part of what was requeſted by his Majeſty of this Province, they doubt not the Commiſſioners will take Care that a Paymaſter attend on the Forces under the General's Command, and that they will in all other Reſpects think it their Duty to comply with the Law, as the Rule of their Conduct: That the Houſe, being informed, by three of their Members, that the General had mentioned to them, it would be of ſingular Service in the military Operations to the Weſtward, to be furniſhed with the additional Number of Fifty Light Horſe, have recommended to the Commiſſioners to comply with the General's Requeſt herein, provided they do not thereby encreaſe the Number of Men granted by Law: That they deſign, before their Adjournment, to appoint a Barrack-Maſter, and as they have ordered the two Bills, to which the Governor hath given his Aſſent, to be engroſſed, the Houſe will be ready to wait on his Honour at any Time this Afternoon he may be pleaſed to appoint, to ſee the ſame enacted into Laws.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Four o'Clock, P. M. Adjournment Poſt Meridiem

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor, reported, they had delivered the Meſſage of the Houſe according to Order; and that his Honour was pleaſed to ſay, he would attend in the Council Chamber at Five o'Clock, to enact the aforeſaid two Bills into Laws. And the ſaid Bills being engroſſed, Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. Saunders do meet the Members of Council, to compare the engroſſed Copies thereof with their Originals.

The Gentlemen appointed to join with the Members of Council in comparing the ſaid engroſſed Bills with their Originals, reported, they found them to agree.

A Meſſage by Mr. Secretary:

SIR,

"The Governor requires the Attendance of Mr. Speaker, and the Members, im"mediately in the Council Chamber."

1758. April 29. Then Mr. Speaker, with the whole Houſe, waited on the Governor, and being returned, the Speaker reſumed the Chair, and reported, they had waited on the Governor with the two following Bills, viz. An Act for granting to his Majeſty a Duty of Tonnage upon Ships and Veſſels; and alſo certain Duties upon Wine, Rum, Brandy and other Spirits; and a Duty upon Sugar, for ſupporting and maintaining the Province Ship of War, for protecting the Trade of this Province, and other Purpoſes for his Majeſty's Service. Alſo, An Act for extending ſeveral Sections of an Act of Parliament, paſſed in the Thirtieth Year of the preſent Reign, entituled, "An Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters."

To both which Bills the Governor had been pleaſed to give his Aſſent, by enacting the ſame into Laws.

Ordered, That Mr. Roberdeau and Mr. Saunders ſee the Great Seal affixed to the ſaid Laws, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Monday next, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon.

May 1. Poſt Meridiem Adjournment. Mr. Speaker, and Twenty-two of the Members, met, purſuant to Adjournment; but a Quorum not appearing, they adjourned to Nine o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

May 2. The Houſe met, purſuant to their Adjournment.

The Members appointed to ſee the Great Seal affixed to the two Laws paſſed on Saturday laſt, and the ſame depoſited in the Rolls Office, reported, they had done it according to Order.

The Committee to whom the Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage was committed for ſome Alterations, reported, they had made an Eſſay for that Purpoſe, which they delivered at the Table, and the ſame being in Part read, and agreed to, the Houſe adjourned

Adjournment. to Three o'Clock in the Afternoon.

Poſt Meridiem The Anſwer to the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-ſecond of laſt Month, and his other Meſſages of a prior Date, being read through by Paragraphs, was agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

May 3. The Anſwer of the Houſe to the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-ſecond of laſt Month, &c. being tranſcribed, was compared at the Table, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. AT this Time of general Calamity and Diſtreſs of the Colonies, when every Liberty, both civil and religious, is at Stake, we were determined to wave every Thing that might tend to create new Diſputes between the two Branches of the Legiſlature, and therefore have poſtponed anſwering your ſeveral Meſſages, and rather ſubmitted, for a Time, to lay under the Load of Reflections and Calumny they contain, than, by any Means, impede his Majeſty's Service, or obſtruct the generous Meaſures he has been pleaſed to concert for our Preſervation and Defence. But the Aids are now granted to the Crown, and your Meſſage of the Twenty-ſecond ult. is of ſuch an uncommon and extraordinary Nature, a Regard for our Characters, Truth, and the Public Welfare, will no longer permit us to be ſilent; though the Paſſion and Injuſtice it contains are ſo evident, 'tis more than probable that it will ever carry with it a full Remedy againſt the unhappy Diſpoſition your Honour has diſcovered to deprive us of our juſt Rights, as a Branch of the Legiſlature, and, as far as lies in your Power, to ruin our Reputations as Individuals, by calumniating and condemning, unheard, particular Members of our Houſe, without the leaſt Foundation. How far this Conduct correſponds with the large Profeſſions of Juſtice you made in the Caſe of William Moore, that you would "condemn no Man unheard," nor "without giving him and his Accuſers a full Hearing, Face to Face," we leave your Conſcience and Reaſon to determine, declaring, that they appear to us the moſt glaring Contradictions.

You have been pleaſed to lament the melancholy State of this diſtreſſed Colony, and the "unſeaſonable Animoſities we have been engaged in;" at which we cannot help being ſurpriſed, ſince it is known to almoſt every Inhabitant, that you have long had it in your Power to relieve us, in a great Meaſure, from the firſt, and, in no ſmall Degree, contributed to the ſecond. Actions ſpeak louder than Words. To theſe we appeal. Will it not appear ſtrange, that this Government, entruſted to your Honour's Care and Protection, has expended, ſince your Adminiſtration, upwards of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds, in ſupporting three Battalions of Troops under your Command; and yet has received very little Defence againſt the Depredations of the moſt barbarous and cruel Enemy.—Was your Concern as ſincere as you profeſs, would you have acted in Violation of the Law, pointing out the only effectual Mode of defending the People, in not iſſuing Orders "for making Incurſions into the Enemy's Country?" Would you have neglected the military Service, upon which the Lives of Thouſands depended; permitted the Officers and Men to remain inactive in the Forts; ſuffered the Inhabitants to be murdered and captivated from Time to Time, when every Mean in your Power ought to have been exerted for their Defence and Preservation? These are Facts so notorious, so sensibly felt by our bleeding Fellow-Subjects that we cannot but doubt of the Sincerity of your Concern at a Distress, the Continuation of which has too long been owing to your own Neglects and Omissions. 1758. May 3.

As to the "Animosities" you are pleased to say "we have been engaged in," we know not what they mean, unless it be the Trying and Punishing the Author and Abettor of the most virulent Libel that ever was published against the Representatives of a People, and Rights of Government. To enquire into, and punish, this insolent Attack on the Rights of the Subject, was our indispensable Duty. This was concluded long before the Demands of the Crown, made by Secretary Pitt's Letter, were communicated to us, and therefore could not impede or affect our Aids to his Majesty for the ensuing Campaign, but rather proved advantageous to the common Cause, by preventing the House from rising before we had received the Secretary of State's Letter. However, insolent as this Attack, and virulent as the Libel was, your Honour, and some of your Council, thought fit to take the Authors under your Protection, and therefore we are not surprised at your thinking the Enquiry "unseasonable," since it is natural for a Man to call every Measure so that tends to support those Rights which he has so frequently shewn a Disposition, during his short Administration, to abridge and destroy.

Your Honour is next pleased to say, that "we have delayed to turn our Attention to "the important Concerns of the present Campaign;" a groundless Charge, and not more easily made than refuted. The first Intimation we had of the Operations to the Westward, and of the Assistance expected from us, was by Lord Loudoun's Letter, laid before the House the Twentieth of February; immediately thereupon our Proportion of the Eight Hundred Men demanded was resolved on with the greatest Chearfulness, and the necessary Sum for their Support voted. On the Eighth of March we received his Majesty's paternal and animating Instructions, informing us of the Measures he was determined to pursue, for the Preservation of this and his other Colonies and desiring us to exert the Strength and Abilities of the Province on this important Occasion. It was with Impatience we waited to know what Part it was expected we should act in these interesting and necessary Operations; but we did not receive the least Intimation of it before the Eighteenth of March, when General Abercrombie's Letter was laid before us, mentioning the Number of Troops required of this District of the Colonies, and therefore could not come to any determinate and certain Conclusion before. Eleven Days after we presented your Honour with a Bill for furnishing Two Thousand Seven Hundred Men, to act in Conjunction with his Majesty's Troops to the Westward. A Bill in its Nature reasonable and just, adapted to the Circumstances of the Province, and a Bill, which your Duty to his Majesty, and the People entrusted to your Care, would have obliged you to pass, had not those sacred Obligations been constrained to submit to the most tyrannical and unjust Proprietary Instructions. Had your Honour passed this Bill when presented, as you ought to have done, we should have been the first of the Western District who had given exemplary Proofs of an hearty Zeal for his Majesty's Service, and a chearful Compliance with his gracious Demands. But this reasonable Bill you thrice rejected, as you inform us, "by the unanimous Advice of your Council," and was resolved, by taking an Advantage of our present bleeding and distressed Situation, either to exempt the Proprietaries from bearing their just Proportion of the Tax, to defend their own Estates, or effectually to prevent us from complying with the most interesting Demands of the Crown. So that it seems his Majesty's Province would have been defenceless, his gracious Demands rejected, and the glorious Plan, concerted for the Defence of these Colonies, frustrated, had the Representatives of the People, with the same Inflexibility, adhered to their natural Rights and Privileges, as your Honour has to the slavish Instructions of the Proprietaries, impracticable in themselves, arbitrary in their Nature, and abhorrent to every Rule of common Justice. Thus all the Delay from that Time can be only imputable, with Justice, to your Honour and Council, who have been so regardless of his Majesty's Interest and Service, and so fearful to infringe the Proprietaries Instructions, as to reject a reasonable and most necessary Bill at this critical Juncture, because their Estates were to bear a Proportion of the Tax, to defend their own Property.

Your Honour further asserts, "That the first Bill we sent you, was so framed, we "knew you could not pass it." How you should be acquainted with our Knowledge and Thoughts, we cannot conceive. We beg Leave to inform you, that in this you are under a great Mistake. We well knew your Honour is bound to obey such Instructions, from Time to Time, as are given you by the Proprietaries, which are liable to Alterations and Changes; and therefore we could not know but you might have received Orders to have passed a Bill in which their Estates were included. And we could not suspect that his Majesty had a Subject so destitute of Loyalty and Gratitude to the best of Kings, and regardless of every Rule of common Justice and Equity, as to continue their Instructions to the contrary. Is it possible, that the Proprietaries can still insist that their great Estates should be protected at the Expence of his Majesty, and every Person within his Dominions, 1758. May 3. Dominions, capable of paying Taxes? Could we conceive that they would venture to claim a Privilege no Peer of the Realm, nor even Royalty itſelf, ever pretended to? If theſe Things are reaſonable, then we might have known that the Bill we preſented was ſuch as "your Honour could not paſs;" if otherwiſe, we ought to have been as well acquainted with the Proprietaries unjuſt Diſpoſition, as you ſeem to be, to have believed it.

But your Honour would fain perſuade the World, that you are not againſt taxing the Proprietary Property, and are pleaſed to ſay, that "one of the principal Objections to this "Bill related to the unjuſt Method propoſed for taxing their Eſtates." Let us enquire what this "unjuſt Method" was. In the Bill the Return of Property was to be procured and made by the Conſtables of the reſpective Townſhips, and Aſſeſſors, the latter of whom were to be Freeholders, and choſen by the People. By them, and the County Aſſeſſors, the Eſtates of the Proprietaries, and all others, were to be taxed, by the ſame Method and Rule, and in the ſame Proportion. Theſe have ever been Men of Character and Integrity; and being under the awful Obligation of an Oath, or ſolemn Affirmation, to diſcharge their Duty, no one can preſume they would do any Man Injuſtice in the Taxation. But ſurely our Proprietaries, in the Characters of private Subjects, may venture to ſubmit to a Mode of Taxing, attended with equal Security and Equity, with that by which the Peers of Great-Britain, and their gracious Sovereign, are, by a long Series of Precedents, rated and aſſeſſed. All Money Bills take their Riſe with the Commons. Supplies cannot be raiſed without their Grant. The King, and Houſe of Lords, do not pretend to the Right of amending Money Bills. They ever ſubmit their Eſtates to be aſſeſſed and rated by Perſons choſen by the Commiſſioners, who are nominated by the Commons, and have no Voice in the Election, or Negative on ſuch Perſons. Where then is the eſſential Difference between, or greater Security in, their Mode of Taxing, than that pointed out in our Bill? 'Tis really no more than the Commiſſioners, who are nominated by the Repreſentatives of the People, chuſe the Aſſeſſors in the one Caſe, and in the other they are elected by the People themſelves. But nothing leſs will ſatisfy the Proprietaries than the inveſting their Deputies with a Share in the "Nomination and Ap-"pointment" of the Aſſeſſors.——We entreat your Honour would inform us what Share would ſatisfy them. Is it a ſingle Vote? Or do they claim as many Votes as all the reſt of the People in the Province, or one Half of the Choice? Or are we to preſent to your Honour Bill after Bill, alter and change the Aſſeſſors therein to be named, until we ſhall fix on ſuch Perſons as you ſhall approve of, and ſuch as will nearly anſwer all the Purpoſes of totally exempting the Proprietaries Eſtates in the Bill? This would be giving you the ſole Nomination of them; for we can ſee no Difference between a Perſon's chuſing an Aſſeſſor himſelf, and having a Power to reject, until the Perſon he likes be preſented to him. If either of theſe be the Meaning of your Meſſage, you will excuſe us, if we ſay, the Propoſal is anti-conſtitutional, and without Precedent in our Mother Country, and is the more unreaſonable in our Proprietaries, as it is claiming a Right which the Nobility of the Realm, or his Majeſty himſelf, do not pretend to. And as your Honour muſt know we cannot conſent to it, conſiſtent with our Duty to the People we repreſent, it muſt be mere Evaſion and Illuſion, calculated only to exempt the Proprietary Eſtate from bearing a juſt Proportion, and to throw an additional Weight of Taxes on our Mother Country, the diſtreſſed Freemen of this and the neighbouring Provinces. This will appear ſtill more evident, when the Part of the Proprietaries Eſtate, which your Honour propoſes to tax in this extraordinary Way, is conſidered. You aſſert, that the "Pro-"prietaries are willing that every Tract of Land within the Province, ſurveyed and ap-"propriated for their Uſe, ſhould bear an equal and proportionable Share of any Burdens "that may be impoſed on the People, in the neceſſary Defence of this and his Majeſty's "other Colonies." And is this all the Property the Proprietaries will ſuffer to be aſſeſſed for the immediate Preſervation of their own Fortunes? Muſt the high Quit-rents, ariſing from ſeveral Millions of Acres; the large Eſtate in Ground-rents, and their other conſiderable Property in this Province, be exempted from bearing a proportionable Part of this neceſſary Burden? This would be truly the Caſe, ſhould we loſe all Senſe of our Conſtituents Rights, and agree to the extraordinary Mode propoſed by your Honour; for nothing elſe is to be taxed but the "located and appropriated Lands." After mentioning theſe Facts, how weak and abſurd appears your Aſſertion, That we "choſe rather "to deprive our Conſtituents of the Benefit that would ariſe from an equal Taxation of "theſe Eſtates," than not ſubject it entirely "to our own Mercy in the Mode we pro-"poſed." What great Benefit could flow from ſo ſmall a Part of their Eſtates, when by much the greater Share was to be exempted? And in what Manner can it be ſaid, with Truth, we were determined "to ſubject them to our Mercy?" We had no Share by the Bill either in the Rating or Levying the Money.——That Matter was left to the Commiſſioners and Aſſeſſors, who were to be ſworn, or ſolemnly affirmed, to do equal Juſtice; nor could the Repreſentatives of the People interfere therein.

Your Honour's ſecond Objection to our Bill, "related to the Appointment of the Pro-"vincial Commiſſioners from among Members of our own Houſe," accountable only to ourſelves.

ourselves. If this Practice be liable to so many glaring Exceptions, why did you not object to it in the late Supply Bill, passed in your other Government? Why did you consent that six Members out of their House, consisting of Eighteen only, should be Commissioners, and yet object to five being chosen out of the Members of our House, consisting of Six-and-thirty, joined with two of your own Council? Why does it require an "extraordinary Degree of Hardiness in us even to propose it," and not in that Assembly? Is it not as reasonable in the one Government as the other? Does the Soil, Climate, or Nature of the Country, make that Practice just and equitable there, which is not so here? Why did you not object to this Practice in the former Law for granting Money to the Crown? But this strange Conduct in your Honour we leave to be accounted for, whenever you shall think yourself capable of reconciling the most evident Contradictions. 1758. May 3.

With the same Degree of Reason and Justice, you next assert, "that we seem determined to see the Province brought to the utmost Destruction, rather than that the "Fingering of the Public Money should not be in a few leading Men of our House." This, it is true, "is a hard Charge," as you say: But we have been of late so used to receive high Accusations from our Governors, which, upon a little Examination, have proved groundless, that, with the sensible Part of Mankind, they are looked upon as Things of little Meaning. As to the "leading Men of our House," we know of none such, here every Man is left to the free Exercise of his Reason and Judgment. We are not confined to the Instructions or Directions of any Man, or Set of Men; and we sincerely wish, for your own Sake, the Sake of the People we represent, and of his Majesty's Service, you were as independent of, and free from, the Leadings and Directions of a few ruling Men of your Council, and Proprietary Instructions, as we are from any undue Influence whatever.—By the Bill the Commissioners are not to finger one Farthing of the Public Money, and their Power only extends to draw Orders on the Trustees for the Purposes mentioned therein, with your Approbation, and the Money is to be paid by the Trustees to the Persons in whose Favour they are drawn. The great Relish for Fingering the Public Money, we apprehend, is rather to be found with the Governor, and we should be glad his Connections were such with the People that we could safely confide in him. But when he looks on himself only as "a Passenger," and regards not whether the Barque, entrusted to his Care, shall sink or swim, provided he can by any Means reach the Shore, it is our indispensable Duty to take every Measure in our Power, to preserve that Oeconomy and public Justice in the Laying out and Appropriating the People's Money, for which this Government hath ever been so very remarkable.

As to the Commissioners, we shall only say, that they have ever been reputed Men of Integrity, and are well acquainted with our Public Affairs, from long Experience. They have satisfied us of their Innocence with respect to the Charges you have made against them in the most loose, general and unjust Manner. And we think ourselves obliged to return them our Thanks, for the great Pains they have taken, the Time they have spent, and for their prudent Conduct in the faithful Discharge of the Duties enjoined them by the late Act for granting One Hundred Thousand Pounds to the King's Use. Being convinced of this, we are not surprised to find your Honour's Indignation and Resentment so remarkably exerted against that Part of our Bill, nominating the same Gentlemen Commissioners, where the Fingering the Money is no more in your Power than in theirs; this we suspect will ever be the Case, till a Set of Men can be found agreeable to your Honour's Mind, who may be less exact and careful of, and more profuse with, the Public Interest. The Commissioners, in the early Part of our Session, laid their Accounts before us, which have been for some Time in the Hands of a Committee, and will be settled as soon as possible. What therefore your Honour means by "obliging them to exhibit their Accounts when required," we cannot understand, any more than we can your Design, or Merit, in declaring, "with a solemn Protestation to all the World," that the Passing our Bill was "contrary to your Conscience," and that, "in Violation of Truth, your were obliged to say, that the former Hundred Thou- "sand Pounds was expended with your Consent." Did you ever attempt to make out this Assertion? Did you ever point out the Sum that was not expended with your Consent? Does your Honour think every Declaration of yours is to pass with us for solemn and incontrovertible Truths, sufficient to condemn and destroy the Reputation of Men, of whose Integrity and Fidelity to the Public we have had manifest Proofs? We are sorry for the Governor, and amazed at this Part of his Message, and could wish sincerely, for his own Sake, that he had reconsidered the Bill, without that Bitterness and Passion, which appear too much to have blinded his Judgment in these solemn Assertions, which can do him no Credit, with respect either to his moral, religious or political Reputation.

Thus having answered all the material Parts of your unkind Message, filled with the grossest Invectives and Misrepresentations, we must assure you, that we are desirous to submit our Merit to the Test of our Actions. Every Thing has been done for the Good 1758. May 3. of our Conſtituents, and his Majeſty's Service, that your Honour would permit us to do; and many Things further, equally neceſſary, which your Honour has obſtructed, we would have done. It woulb be happy for Pennſylvania, could you, with equal Safety, appeal for a Juſtification of your Conduct, to the ſame Teſt. Have you not ſupported a Man in his Acts of Extortion, Oppreſſion and Tyranny, over the poor Inhabitants of Cheſter County, againſt the ſolemn Examinations and Remonſtrance of the Repreſentatives of the People? Are not the Widow and Fatherleſs groaning under his arbitrary Meaſures, and yet remain without Hopes of Relief? Have you not continually uſurped an arbitrary Power of amending our Money Bills, and thereby repeatedly violated one of the moſt eſſential Rights of the People? Have you not rejected a reaſonable Bill for furniſhing the Crown with Two Thouſand Seven Hundred Men, for the Recovery of the Proprietaries Fortunes from the Poſſeſſion of the Enemy, becauſe their Eſtates were to bear a reaſonable Proportion? Have you not retarded and obſtructed the granting Supplies to the Crown, by tenaciouſly adhering to your Inſtructions? Have you not had under your Command Fourteen Hundred Men, and yet permitted the moſt trifling Parties of Indians to depopulate a great Part of the Province, captivate and murder the Inhabitants, while our Troops have been inactive in our Forts? Have not Orders for making Incurſions into the Enemy's Country, though expreſsly directed by the Law, been entirely neglected? Has a ſingle Party been ſent out on this Account, or one of the Enemy been killed or taken Priſoner ſince your Adminiſtration, though our Frontiers have been almoſt continually bleeding by their mercileſs Hands? Have not the People, through this unhappy Neglect, been ſurpriſed and murdered in their Beds, who otherwiſe might have had timely Notice of their Approach, and defended themſelves? In ſhort, what Protection or Defence has this unhappy Colony received from the large Sums of Money it has generouſly granted? Theſe are the unhappy Marks of your Honour's Regard for his Majeſty's Service, which the good People of this Province have fatally felt, at a Time when their Repreſentatives have been exerting the Power and Strength of the Province almoſt beyond what it could bear, to relieve them from the Butchery and Ravages of the moſt barbarous Enemy, whoſe Blow has fallen the heavier on us through the Frauds and Injuſtice they declare they have received from the Proprietaries, and their Agents, with regard to their Lands.

Signed by Order of the Houſe,

May 3, 1758. THOMAS LEECH, Speaker."

Ordered, That Mr. Wayne and Mr. Plumſted wait on the Governor with the foregoing Meſſage, and acquaint him, that the Houſe, having gone through the Buſineſs that was before them, incline to adjourn to Monday the Fourth of September next.

The Committee appointed to prepare and bring in an Anſwer to the Governor's long Meſſage of the Twenty-fourth of January, conceiving their Sentiments thereon would more properly come under the Form of a Report to the Houſe, than a Meſſage to his Honour, deſired Leave to bring them in accordingly, which being agreed to, the ſame were preſented at the Table, read, and follow in theſe Words, viz.

Report of the Committee on the Governor's Meſſage

IN Obedience to the Order of the Houſe, we have conſidered the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-fourth of January laſt, and as he has poſitively declared, that he will neither remove William Moore from his public Offices, or receive the Impeachment and Charge of the Repreſentatives of the People againſt him, we apprehend reaſoning with his Honour, under theſe Circumſtances, can anſwer no good Purpoſe, but would rather tend to impede his Majeſty's Service, by creating further Debates between the two Branches of the Legiſlature; to avoid which Inconveniency, we beg Leave to throw our Remarks into the Form of a Report to the Houſe, rather than that of a Meſſage to the Governor.

We cannot help remarking in general, that this Meſſage contains a Series of the moſt groſs Miſrepreſentations of the Conduct of this Houſe, the moſt extraordinary Perverſions of the Meaning and Words of their Meſſage of the Seventeenth of January, and a Charge againſt them, as groundleſs as it was unjuſt. He is pleaſed to aſſert, that the Houſe have ſo far deviated from the Rules of good Manners, as to "charge him with "a direct Falſhood," and that "they claim a Right of vilifying and abuſing their Go- "vernors as one among the many boaſted Powers and Privileges they have lately diſco- "vered." This Kind of Warmth in his Honour's Meſſage, and Marks of his Eſteem for the good People of the Province, the Houſe have been accuſtomed to, but ever paſſed them over unnoticed, as they were always averſe to any Diſputes but what a Regard for the Rights of the People neceſſarily engaged them in; —— the Governor, however, having thought proper to repeat theſe Charges, your Committee think it abſolutely neceſſary to ſhew them in their true and natural Light.

It appears by the Governor's Meſſage of the Ninth of January, that "he was deter- "mined on a full and cloſe Enquiry into the Charges againſt William Moore, to make a "public

" public Example of him, and to that End he had appointed the ſame Day for hearing " all the Proofs in the Caſe, after due Notice given to the Parties, and their Witneſſes, " and accordingly attended with his Council in the Council Chamber." This Declaration rationally induced the Houſe to think that he intended to erect a new Court of Judicature, for the Trial of the Offences charged againſt William Moore, in which the Governor and Council were to ſit both as Judges and Jurymen; Judges of the Law, and Tryers of the Facts, without being veſted with a legal Power of compelling the Attendance of the Parties or Witneſſes to adminiſter an Oath, or of forcing them to anſwer, when attending, or without the leaſt Spark of judicial Authority whatſoever, neceſſary to a juſt and legal Enquiry: That by this new Method of Enquiry, he did deſign to ſuperſede and lay aſide the candid and ſolemn Examination of the Aſſembly, whoſe Right to enquire into the oppreſſive Conduct of that Gentleman, or any other, in their public Station, cannot be diſputed; though it is well known, that the Governor had delegated all his judicial Authority to the Judges of the ſeveral Courts of Juſtice, and therefore could not legally exerciſe any, and that his Council have not the leaſt Pretence to it. That by the great Charter of Engliſh Liberties, no Man ſhall be put to anſwer, but by the Laws of the Land, or due Proceſs of Law: And that no Power in the Conſtitution, ſave the whole Legiſlative, can legally erect a new Court of Juſtice. It was alſo as evident, that as the Governor's intended Mode of Procedure was perfectly lawleſs, and unſupported by any known Example or Precedent in our Mother Country, ſo it muſt be uncircumſcribed in its Authority, and tranſcendent in its Powers; and as it has no Law or Rule to fix its Boundaries, or to limit its Extenſion, but the Diſcretion of his Honour and Council, and that Diſcretion might extend it over the Lives and Properties of the Subject, the dangerous Tendency, and miſchievous Conſequences of this Mode of proceeding, could not fail of alarming any Set of Men, to whom the Safety of a free People was entruſted, eſpecially when it was calculated to deſtroy one of their fundamental Rights, the Power of redreſſing Grievances: And therefore, with that Decency and Spirit that became a free People, this Houſe proteſted againſt it, and endeavoured to convince the Governor by fair Arguments, that it was lawleſs in itſelf, anti-conſtitutional, and of the moſt dangerous Tendency to the Liberties and Properties, if not Lives, of the Subject. To which the Governor was pleaſed only to reply, that "a conſider- " able Part of our Meſſage was taken up with trite Queſtions and Reaſonings," without attempting to confute one of them, and then cry out, that we had " in this charged " him with a direct Falſhood." If in this he was charged with a direct Falſhood, it was not by us, but by his own Expreſſions, from whence our Arguments were fairly and honeſtly deduced. 1758. May 3.

It certainly is as unbecoming, as it is uncommon, for a Perſon to be guilty of an Offence, and ſoon after venture, without any Foundation, to charge another with the ſame; and yet this will appear to be the Governor's Caſe, to every Perſon who peruſes his Meſſage of the Twenty-ninth of September laſt, wherein he declares, without the leaſt Proof, " our Aſſertions to be falſe:" This is Language which does not become one Gentleman to another, much leſs one Branch of the Legiſlature to the other. Decency is certainly due to the Governor of the Province. We have reviewed the Meſſages of the Houſe, and cannot find any Thing that has the leaſt Tendency to " vilify and abuſe " our Governors," unleſs the melancholy Period is arrived, when ſpeaking Truths, and ſupporting the Rights of a free People, may be deemed ſo. Decency is likewiſe due to the Aſſembly, as Repreſentatives of the People, and however the Governor may have deviated from it, in his Intercourſe with them, and endeavoured to provoke them to follow the Example, the Houſe have carefully avoided it, and proceeded in their Diſputes with that Reſpect which is due to his Station; but, at the ſame Time, with that Spirit and Reſolution, which became the Delegates of a free People, when every Thing they held dear and valuable is attacked and invaded.

We are ſorry, that neither the Want of Law, Precedent in our Mother Country, or the direct Prohibition of Magna Charta, have ſo much Influence with the Governor, as the Practice of preceding Governors. We apprehend, a Practice not ſupported by, but contrary to, Law, ought to be aboliſhed, not purſued. We alſo know it to have been the Practice of preceding, as well as of the preſent Governor, to turn Juſtices out of Commiſſion without ſuch Enquiry, and either without any Reaſon at all, or upon private Repreſentations. The Inſtances are ſo recent, we need not particularize them. We are therefore at a Loſs to know why the ſame Juſtice is not due to other Magiſtrates, as is to William Moore. Why one ſhall be removed without a Hearing, or Enquiry, and another ſhall be ſupported againſt the ſolemn Examinations of the Aſſembly? Why the Governor will turn Officers out on private Complaints, and not upon the Addreſs of the Repreſentatives of the People? But further, to ſhew the Danger of this Attempt in the Governor, your Committee beg Leave to make Uſe of his Honour's own Arguments againſt him, nearly in his own Words.

The Power neceſſary to any Court of Judicature " can only be granted by an Act of " Parliament,

1758. May 3. " Parliament, and when granted," is indiviſible in its Nature; " it cannot be par-" celled out into Parts;" and, " if it could," we can hardly think it conſiſtent with the Rights of the People, that a Governor, who is obliged to purſue the Advice of a Proprietary Council, and arbitrary Inſtructions, " ſhould be the Diſpenſer of it. If a " Governor once perſuades himſelf that it is neceſſary, for the Safety and Peace of the " Province, that he ſhould exerciſe the Power of a Court of Judicature," without the leaſt Tittle of Authority, " in one Caſe, he may in another: And if we ſhould conſent " to his exerciſing one Degree of that Power, he may think himſelf entitled to claim " and exerciſe the Whole; and by this Means bring all Cauſes, both civil and criminal, " before him in the laſt Inſtance, as is the Caſe in the Houſe of Lords, which is the " higheſt Court of Judicature in the Kingdom. Power once" uſurped, " is hardly " ever to be regained, and ſhould" this Houſe " depart ſo far from their Duty as" to permit a Governor to aſſume, without Law, the extraordinary Power he is ſo fond of, without proteſting againſt it, " or could" they " think any Governor, or ſingle Man" ought to be permitted by an Aſſembly of this Province " to enjoy all" the Powers of a Judge, the Grand and Petty Jury, we and our " Poſterity would certainly have Reaſon " long to repent it. Will it not appear very extraordinary in the Eyes of all Men, " that" the Governor, who has appeared ſo averſe to aſſuming an Authority which he thinks not expreſsly granted, and has refuſed the Power of giving Judgment on the Impeachment of, and Trial by, the Aſſembly, or to remove William Moore from his Office, upon their Remonſtrance, after they had, in the moſt ſolemn Manner, enquired into his public Conduct, and found it extremely diſtreſſing and oppreſſive to the Subject, ſhould be ſo earneſt and deſirous of uſurping a Power, which with the ſame Degree of Law he " may extend over the Lives, Liberties and Fortunes of our Conſtituents, with-" out the Aid of Juries, or the common Proceedings of Juſtice? Such a Power may be " ſafely entruſted" with a Governor, aided by ſo numerous a Body as the Repreſentatives of the People, " whoſe independent Stations ſet them far above Corruption or " Party Views; but in the Hands of a ſingle Man, it might prove of ruinous and dread-" ful Conſequences."

Your Committee having thus vindicated the Houſe from the Imputation of treating the Governor ill in our late Meſſage, and ſhewn the dangerous Tendency of inſtituting a new Court of Judicature, unſupported by Law, with Deſign to defeat an inherent Power in the Aſſembly of impeaching Criminals, and redreſſing Aggrievances, we ſhall carefully conſider that Part of his Honour's Meſſage, in which he has endeavoured to ſhew the bad Conſequences that might attend the Power of impeaching and trying Offenders before him.

The Power of impeaching Criminals, and redreſſing Grievances, the Governor agrees, is granted by the Proprietary Charter to the Repreſentatives of the People. By the Royal Grant, the whole Powers of Legiſlation, and of raiſing Money, are expreſsly given to the Proprietary, or his Deputies, with the Advice and Aſſent of the Delegates of the Freemen of the Province. The Mode of exerciſing that Power has ever been, as near as might be, in a Parliamentary Way, though our Circumſtances are very different from a Britiſh Parliament, and the Method is not expreſsly pointed out. The Governors of this Province have ever aſſumed all the Legiſlative Authority of the Houſe of Lords, with every Incident thereto, though no more expreſsly granted to them, than the Power of judging on the Impeachments of the Aſſembly. The Impeaching and Trying of Criminals, and judging thereon, your Committee apprehend, is a concurrent Power in the Houſe of Lords and Commons, and cannot be exerciſed by one of them without the other. This Power, we conceive, is a neceſſary Incident to the Legiſlative Authority, and cannot be ſeparated from it. It is veſted in different Perſons, and diſtinct from that by which the King and Lords aſſume the Cognizance of all the Tranſactions of inferior Courts, correct and redreſs their Errors. The Power of impeaching and judging thereon is incident to the Legiſlative Authority; the Power of correcting the Errors of inferior Courts, veſted in the King and Lords, we apprehend, is independent of it, therefore the Commons have it not, and other Courts of Juſtice exerciſe it without any Legiſlative Capacity. The requeſting the Governor to aſſume a concurrent Juriſdiction with the Aſſembly, incident to their Legiſlative Capacity, and implicitly granted him by the Royal Charter, cannot, with the leaſt Appearance of Reaſon, be conſtrued to inveſt him with other Powers diſtinct therefrom, and neither expreſsly or implicitly granted, nor incident to his Legiſlative Authority, as is the Caſe of this remedial Power of the King and Lords. So that the Governor might and ought to perſuade himſelf, that it is neceſſary for the Peace and Safety of the Province, that he ſhould exerciſe the Power of the Houſe of Lords, in ſome Caſes, to wit, in Matters of Legiſlation, and judging on Impeachments, which is an Incident thereto, and implicitly granted; but nothing could juſtify him in aſſuming other diſtinct Powers of the Houſe of Lords, which are not incident thereto, and neither expreſſed or implied in the Royal Grant.

The

1758. May 3.

The Governor is pleased to say, "our Method of Reasoning is dark and mysterious, a "middle State in Legislature, consisting of two Estates only, is to him incomprehensible." The House have endeavoured to convey their Ideas with Perspicuity, and we apprehend, in this Case, a little Good-nature and Attention, could the Governor spare them, would readily have unfolded the Mystery. In one Part of the Message it is said, "the Governor "may be deemed to supply a middle State;" in another, quoted by the Governor, "That "he may be deemed to supply the Place of the House of Lords, in an inferior Degree." Had the Governor given proper Attention to the Words, it was no difficult Task to understand them. —'Tis easy to conceive that two Persons may be invested with the Powers of a third, or that one of two States may supply the Place of a third. But what gives us most Astonishment is, that the Governor, in order to find Reasons to support his Assertions, should descend so far as to affirm, that "we agree with him that the House of "Lords hath the sole inherent Powers of trying Impeachments." Upon this Position the Governor is pleased to build all the "dreadful and ruinous Consequences" that would attend his accepting the Assembly's Offer; and in Pursuance thereof he declares, that the House were "desirous of investing him with a Power over the Lives, Liberties and For- "tunes of our Constituents, without the Aid of Juries, or the common Proceedings of "Justice." This Assertion of the Governor's, your Committee beg Leave to say, is without the least Foundation, and they cannot conceive in what Part of the Message the Governor could find it.

The House were not so ignorant of the Powers of Parliament, as to advance so great an Absurdity. But if the Governor claims it as one of the Privileges in Controversy, to make his Opponents speak what he pleases, be it ever so absurd or distant from their Thoughts, or the Meaning of their Expressions, he may first lay down such Principles as will best suit his Purpose, take them for granted, and make them speak the greatest Inconsistencies in Nature. "The House of Lords, as we find, have a Power of judging "or determining upon the Complaints of the Commons, but do not assume to them- "selves Trial at common Law; neither do the Lords at the Trial of a common Im- "peachment by the Commons, decedere de Jure suo, for the Commons are then instead "of a Jury, and the Parties Answer, and the Examination of Witnesses are to be in their "Presence, or they to have Copies thereof, and the Judgment is not to be given by the "Lords, but upon their Demand, which is instead of a Verdict, so the Lords do only "judge, not try, the Delinquent." In the Case of Simon de Brereford, the Lords "dis- "claimed that they had such a Power of trying others than their Peers, and confess it "was contrary to the Laws of the Land." For when the Commons impeach a Delinquent, they are Patria sua. If this was not so, the Lords might try a common Person in direct Breach of that fundamental Maxim in the Constitution, that every Man shall be tried by his Peers or Equals. Hence the Power the House offered the Governor, being no more than the Power of the House of Lords, in the Case of an Impeachment of a common Person; it was not the Powers of Trial, or of a Jury, but simply that of giving Judgment upon the Demand of the Assembly, they being satisfied of the Guilt of the Person charged; such a Power as three Justices of every Quarter Sessions, and two Judges of the Court of Oyer and Terminer, constantly exercise. The Trial was to be by Thirty-six Men, the Peers and Equals of the Delinquent, returned not by a Sheriff, but by the general Voice and Approbation of the Freemen of the Province, without whose Demand no Judgment can be given, or Punishment inflicted. Thus the "dreadful and "ruinous Consequences," painted in the Governor's Imagination, and which he would have persuaded the World the House were introducing in the Constitution, are vanished, and more Security appears in this Mode of Trial, than any other known in the Government.

But the Governor is pleased to say, "we are desirous to destroy at once the great Bul- "wark of English Liberty, and throw an Odium upon Trials by Juries, and the Judge- "ment of our Peers." Could the Governor be serious in this Charge, or expect that the meanest Capacity cannot see the Force of the Arguments in Support of it? The House endeavoured to shew that Trials by and upon the Impeachment of the Assembly were attended with as much, if not more, Security to the Rights of the People, than the Trials by a Jury; the one being by Thirty-six Men, returned by the Freemen of the Province, from all Parts of it, who cannot be presumed to be dishonest, or prejudiced against any particular Person, nor partial or corrupt; and the other returned by a single Person, who may be with more Ease corrupted than a "public Body:" To explain this Truth, which the Governor seems so unwilling to understand, A Sheriff is but a single Person, the Representatives of the People in this Province are in Number Thirty-six.—A single Person is more easily corrupted than Thirty-six; for if it requires an Hundred Pounds to corrupt one Man, it will require Thirty-six Hundred to corrupt Thirty-six. Corrupt the Sheriff, and the Jury is packed of Course: "But to say that an Assembly will be partial, or unjust, or "corrupt, or do any Thing out of Malice, is to raise a Scandal upon the whole People, "whose Representatives they are." Lex. Parl. 62. 63.

The Governor is pleased to ask, "What Man would not rather trust his Cause to his 1758. May 3.

" Friends and Neighbours, choſen and ſworn for that particular Purpoſe, than to any " ſtanding Body whatſoever ?" Your Committee apprehend it would not have been imprudent in the Governor to have conſidered that this Mode of Reaſoning militates more againſt the Honour and Juſtice of a Britiſh Houſe of Commons, than againſt an Aſſembly, annually choſen. The Houſe of Commons is a "ſtanding Body," and have often aſſumed the ſame Power the Houſe contend for; and yet, till now, we never have heard of any Perſon who has ventured ſo far to reflect on the Honour and Juſtice of that reſpectable Body, as to inſinuate that there is greater Security in a Trial by a Jury of Twelve Men, than by that auguſt and honourable Houſe.

The Governor further adds, that "a Governor muſt be made a very inſignificant Per- " ſon indeed, if he was obliged to yield implicit Obedience to the Addreſs of an Aſſembly." Your Committee are of Opinion with the Governor, that he is not to be obliged by an Aſſembly to do any Thing contrary to his "Reaſon and Judgment:" We wiſh he was as free and independent of arbitrary Proprietary Inſtructions and Council, as he is of the Repreſentatives of the People; we ſhould then have ſome Ground to believe that he would exerciſe his own Judgment and Reaſon, and more would be done for the Country and his Majeſty's Intereſt, than ever will be under his preſent Situation. But the Governor ſhould remember, that there is little Difference with reſpect to his "Significancy" in the Government, whether he is obliged to obey an Addreſs of an Aſſembly, or the Inſtructions of the Proprietaries, and the Advice of their Council. In either Caſe he is equally "inſignificant." The Crown has repeatedly, upon the Addreſs of the Commons, removed the greateſt Men in the Nation from Public Offices, and ſometimes where it was on Rumour only; and your Committee have Reaſon to believe, that our moſt gracious Sovereign, when the Houſe ſhall addreſs him, and lay the Affidavits taken in this Caſe before him, he will not think it beneath his "Significancy," and Importance in the Nation, to liſten to, and redreſs, the Complaints of his oppreſſed Subjects in the moſt diſtant Parts of his Dominions; his Ear, we doubt not, will be open to the Cries of the Widow and Fatherleſs, as well as to the Addreſs of the Repreſentatives of his free Subjects in this Colony.

The Governor is pleaſed to aſſert, "he never has invaded the Conſtitution:" We are charitably induced to hope he thinks ſo; but if he does, it muſt ariſe from a very great Defect in the Knowledge of our Conſtitution. Inconteſtable Facts are againſt the Governor;—Facts, for the Truth whereof we appeal to his own Confeſſion and Meſſages. He has declared, "that the whole Powers of Legiſlation are in the Governor and Aſ- " ſembly, and that it conſiſts of two Branches only." If this be the Caſe, as it truly is, by the expreſs Words of the Royal Grant, in Virtue of what Right or Authority do our Proprietaries, Strangers to our Situation and Circumſtances, from Time to Time give unreaſonable and arbitrary Inſtructions, reſpecting Matters of Legiſlation.——Inſtructions that impede his Majeſty's Service, prevent the Defence of his Colony, and in their Conſequences, if not withdrawn or ſuperſeded, muſt inevitably deſtroy the Province.—— Why did the Governor accept of them or his Commiſſion under ſuch Terms? And why is he now, though he has from Experience found them to be very pernicious, reſolved to execute them? By Virtue of what Right does the Governor undertake to nominate Commiſſioners in Bills, by which the Public Money is to be diſpoſed of, and invade one of the moſt eſſential Rights of the Aſſembly, the amending their Supply Bills? If theſe are not Invaſions of the Conſtitution, we have no Conſtitution at all. Your Committee agree with the Governor, that "Public Danger ſurrounds us on all Sides," and that we have very "vigilant Enemies, both foreign and domeſtic, who indeed threaten us with Op- " preſſion and Slavery." Of the two our domeſtic Enemies are moſt to be dreaded, who are in the Bowels of our Country, and ſo far join with our foreign Enemies, as to embrace the ſame Opportunity, while they are diſtreſſing us Abroad, to execute their arbitrary Schemes at Home. Slavery is of the ſame Nature, let it come from what Quarter it may; and your Committee have little Reaſon to hope that either ſalutary Laws will be paſſed, the Country defended, or his Majeſty's Intereſt promoted, while the Governor is tied down to the Advice of a Proprietary Council, and bound to obey the moſt arbitrary Inſtructions, which, if long continued, muſt ſacrifice one of his Majeſty's Colonies to the ambitious Views of private Men."

Adjournment

Then the Houſe adjourned to Four o'Clock, P. M.

Poſt Meridiem

The Members appointed to wait on the Governor with the Meſſage of the Houſe, reported, they had delivered the ſame according to Order; and acquainted his Honour the Houſe inclined to adjourn to Monday, the Fourth of September next; to which he was pleaſed to ſay, it was very well.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, ſent down a Meſſage to the Houſe, with ſome Papers referred to therein, and the ſaid Meſſage being read, follows in theſe Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

' I LAY before you a Letter I have juſt now received from General Forbes, on which ' I deſire to know your Reſolutions before you riſe, that I may be enabled to give him ' a proper Anſwer.

Teedyuſcung

1758. May 3.

‘ Teedyuſcung has renewed his Requeſt to have the Houſes finiſhed at Wyoming, for which this Government ſtands engaged. I propoſe ſending the ſame Gentlemen that were appointed laſt Year, and ſhall recommend it to the Commiſſioners to defray the Expences that will attend the Execution of this Commiſſion.

May 3, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY.”

The General’s Letter, ſent down with the Governor’s Meſſage, was read, and is as follows, viz.

SIR,

General Forbes’s Letter to the Governor.

FINDING that the Storeſhip with the Tents, Arms, &c. has not arrived from England with the Tranſports, I applied to General Abercrombie, to know how I was to proceed, with regard to Camp Neceſſaries, and his Anſwer is:

“ With regard to Camp Neceſſaries for the Provincials, they muſt be furniſhed by the “ different Provinces; thoſe to the Northward have agreed to it, and their Troops are “ to come provided with them at their Expence.” I muſt therefore beg to know the Reſolution of the Province upon this Subject directly.

Upon your Application, I promiſed to ſend an Hundred of the Royal Americans up towards Reading; but as theſe Companies are very ſickly, coming from Carolina, and very much want ſome Days of Reſt and Refreſhment, I muſt therefore beg you will excuſe me from my Promiſe, and in their room you may ſend ſome of the new raiſed Provincials, which will anſwer every Purpoſe fully as well.

I ſhould be glad to know your Opinion of the Party of Cherokees at Carliſle, whether they ſhould be allowed to proceed, or turned another Way. I ſhould likewiſe want very much to know how far the Province thinks themſelves obliged to take Care of thoſe Indians, by Preſents, Cloathing, &c.

I beg, Sir, that the Orders about the Light Horſe may be given as ſoon as poſſible: And that you will likewiſe be ſo good as to order the Horſes to be placed, for the Conveying Intelligence through your Counties, according to the Plan given to you by the Quarter-maſter General.

I really think Teedyuſcung’s Demands ought to be agreed with, as he has the public Faith for the making ſuch a Settlement, although I would parry off all Convoy of Troops, as Ax-men and Carpenters will anſwer all his Purpoſes, and I think that he and his Tribes ought to be our Guards for thoſe Back Settlements this Summer, as we ſhall want all the Troops ſomewhere elſe. I am, Sir, with great Regard,

Your moſt obedient and moſt humble Servant,

Philadelphia, May 3, 1758. JOHN FORBES.”

With the above Letter from the General, Mr. Secretary laid before the Houſe one from Capt. William Thompſon, dated at York-Town, the Twenty-ſixth of April, to Colonel Armſtrong, acquainting him, that the Cherokees and Catawbas, who left Fort Loudoun, to go to War, marched in Company till they croſſed Juniata, at which Place ſome Miſunderſtanding ariſing among them, occaſioned the four Catawbas to return to the Fort, but the Cherokees proceeded towards Fort Duqueſne, by the Franks-Town Road: That they propoſed being out twelve or fourteen Days, and ſaid, if their Brethren of Pennſylvania had any Inclination to hold a Treaty with them, they were ſure a Preſent would be ſent them by the Time they returned: That he (Captain Thompſon) intending to ſet off for Fort Loudoun the next Day, and not having received any Orders reſpecting the ſaid Indians, would be glad to know, as ſoon as poſſible, what his Honour the Governor, and the Aſſembly, intended to do with them.

The Houſe taking into Conſideration the Governor’s Meſſage, General Forbes’s Letter, and the Intelligence from Captain Thompſon; after ſome Time ſpent therein, Ordered, That Mr. Hughes, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Maſters and Mr. Yorke be a Committee to prepare and bring in an Anſwer thereto.

The Committee appointed to prepare an Anſwer to the Governor’s Meſſage, &c. reported the ſame to the Houſe, which being read, and, after ſome Alterations, agreed to, was ſigned by Mr. Speaker, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

WE much approve of your Deſign in ſending the ſame Gentlemen that were appointed laſt Year to finiſh the Houſes begun at Wyoming, at Teedyuſcung’s Requeſt, and as the more expeditiouſly this Meaſure is executed, the ſooner we ſhall have an Indian Barrier in that Quarter; we hope no Time will be loſt in diſpatching them.

With reſpect to the General’s Demand of Tents, Arms, Camp Neceſſaries, &c. for the Provincials, we beg Leave to obſerve, that by his Majeſty’s Royal Inſtructions, by his Secretary of State, the Whole that the King expected or required from us, was the Levying, 1758. May 3. vying, Cloathing and Paying the Men; in Conſideration of which, we have ſupplied as large a Number of Men as the preſent Circumſtances of our Conſtituents would admit: The Supplies in the Bill are appropriated to theſe Purpoſes, which we are very apprehenſive they will fall ſhort of anſwering; and as we preſume the General muſt be inveſted with Powers to ſupply theſe Things, agreeable to the Royal Promiſe, in caſe of any Accident, we doubt not he will chearfully comply with it.

As we underſtand the Cherokees are invited by the Crown to aſſiſt in the general Defence of the Colonies, which receive an equal Benefit from their Services, we are of Opinion they ſhould either be maintained, cloathed, &c. by the Crown, or at the general Expence of the Colonies, and not by this Province only; which muſt appear the more reaſonable to your Honour, as you know this Government has very lately expended large Sums of Money in Indian Affairs, from which the other Provinces have received equal Advantages, though they have not contributed any thing towards the Expence therof.

May 3, 1758. Signed, by Order of the Houſe,

THOMAS LEECH, Speaker."

Ordered, That Mr. Hughes and Mr. Baynton wait on the Governor with the foregoing Meſſage, and deliver the ſame.

The Houſe then taking into Conſideration the Part of the Governor's Meſſage of the Twenty-ninth ultimo, relating to the Appointment of a Barrack-Maſter, together with the Provincial Treaſurer's Remonſtrance, reſpecting the Nomination of a Collector of Exciſe for the County of Cumberland, Reſolved, That Joſeph Fox, Eſq; be, and he is hereby appointed to the Office of Barrack-Maſter, with full Powers to do and perform every Matter and Thing which may be requiſite to the comfortable Accommodation of his Majeſty's Troops within the Barracks lately erected in this City.

Reſolved, That Benjamin Chambers be, and he is hereby appointed Collector of Exciſe for the County of Cumberland, in the Place of Nathaniel Wilſon, who hath reſigned the ſaid Office.

Adjournment. Then the Houſe adjourned to Monday, the Fourth Day of September next.

September 4. MR. Speaker, and ſeveral of the Members, met, purſuant to their Adjournment; but a Quorum not appearing, they adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning.

SIR, Namure, Louiſbourg Harbour, Auguſt 5, 1758.

Admiral Boſcawen's Letter to the Governor. AS the great Trade of the Colony of Pennſylvania is a Nurſery for many able and good Seamen, and as Trade depends much on deſtroying the Enemy's Privateers, I hope for your Aſſiſtance for ſome Recruits towards manning the Fleet under my Command, and if you would ſend me Three Hundred, I ſhould thereby be enabled to ſend to Philadelphia the Echo, of Thirty-two Guns, taken here, and will appoint her to that Station directly, as ſoon as you will furniſh Men for that Service. I ſend the Port-Mahon, under the Command of Captain Wallis, who is a very diſcreet Officer, with this; he has my Orders to receive any Men you may raiſe for his Majeſty's Service. I am told the Merchants, Planters, and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly, will be ready to give their Aſſiſtance on this Occaſion. I am,

SIR, Your moſt obedient humble Servant,

The House taking into Consideration the Request of Admiral Boscawen to the Governor, and having spent some Time therein, the following verbal Message was agreed to, and sent up to the Governor, viz.

" Upon considering the Admiral's Letter, laid before us by your Secretary, we apprehend it is not expected that the Recruits therein mentioned should be at the Charge of this Government; besides, we have already granted such large Aids to the Crown, at the particular Requisition of the Secretary of State, and at a great Expence to the Province fitted out a Ship of War, now on a Cruize, for the Protection of Trade, that it is not, under our present Circumstances, in our Power to comply therewith, the public Funds being nearly expended, and many of the Troops, in the Service of the Crown, yet unpaid. The Application, we apprehend, is to your Honour, for your Assistance (as the executive Part of Government) to the Gentlemen commissioned by the Admiral for that Purpose."

Adjournment September 11. Post Meridiem

Then the House adjourned to Monday next, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, sent down to the House a written Message, with some Papers therein referred to, and the said Message being read, follows in these Words, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

'THE Honour and Interest of this Province are so deeply concerned in the late Request made by Admiral Boscawen, to furnish him with a Number of Seamen, that I cannot avoid recommending it strongly to you to re-consider the Matter. You will please to remember, that his Majesty, in a Letter from Mr. Pitt, his principal Secretary of State, bearing Date the Thirtieth Day of December last, laid before you in March, signified to me his Royal Pleasure that all legal Methods should be used to supply the Commander in Chief of his Ships in North-America with such a Number of Sailors, from this Province, as he should, at any Time, require for his Majesty's Service. When, therefore, I received the Admiral's Letter, generously offering that the Echo, a Ship of Thirty-two Guns, should, in Return for a Supply of the Seamen demanded, be immediately stationed here for the Protection of our Trade, I made no Doubt of your readily acceding to so advantageous a Proposal.

'You are pleased to say, that it is not in your Power to comply with this Requisition, because the Province hath been at a very great Expence in fitting out a Ship of War, now on a Cruize for the Protection of your Trade, and the public Funds are near exhausted.

'Gentlemen, when you consider that a Man of War, stationed on your Coast, will render, for the future, the Province Ship useless, that the great Sums necessarily expended in supporting her, will thereby be saved, and at the same Time your Trade will be more effectually secured, I am persuaded you will agree with me, that it is your Duty, as well as your real Interest, to fall on proper Means to furnish the Admiral with the Number of Seamen he demands, without Delay.

'New Funds will be wanting, to supply the Deficiency of those already raised; but it is certain that the Taxes hereafter to be imposed will be easier on the People, if, by the Measure proposed, the heavy Expences of supporting the Province Ship can be saved to them.

'I have the Pleasure to acquaint you, that, from the present Face of Things, Indian Affairs seem to have a very favourable Appearance. Since your Adjournment in May last, I have been particularly attentive to improve every Opportunity that has offered, to reclaim such of them as have joined our Enemies, and of conciliating the Affections of the Indians in general. Several Messages and Conferences have passed between us, in Consequence of which a general Meeting has been agreed upon, to be held at Easton; and I have lately received Intelligence that many are already arrived on our Frontiers, and great Numbers are assembling together, and may be daily expected there. At this Treaty the Governor of the Jersey has, by the particular Desire of the Indians, agreed to attend; and, in order to make an extensive as well as durable Peace with the Indians in general, I have invited the Governors of New-York, Maryland and Virginia, and Sir William Johnson, to favour me with their Presence and Assistance.

'A very considerable Expence must necessarily attend this important Transaction,

1758. September 12.

'which the Commiſſioners have agreed with me to defray out of the Sum laſt granted to his 'Majeſty by this Province. I hope every Hand and Heart will be united in endeavour-'ing to bring to a happy Iſſue this Treaty, ſo intereſting to his Majeſty's Service, and 'the Colonies in general.

September 12, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

The Papers ſent down with and referred to in the foregoing Meſſage, were, Secretary Pitt's Letter, of the 30th of December laſt, and ſome Conferences held by the Governor with Teedyuſcung, and other Indians, during the Receſs of the Houſe.

Ordered, That Mr. Norris, Mr. Galloway, Mr. Roberdeau, Mr. Maſters, Mr. Gibbons and Mr. Ingham be a Committee to enquire into the Management of the late Hearing and Acquittal of William Moore, Eſq; before the Governor and Council, and report thereon to the Houſe this Sitting; and the ſaid Committee have Power to ſend for Perſons, Papers, &c.

The Governor ſent down to the Houſe, by Mr. William Peters, Deputy Secretary, a written Meſſage, together with a Letter to his Honour from General Forbes, which were ſeverally read, and are as they reſpectively follow, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

'I LAY before you a Letter from General Forbes, which I have juſt received by Ex-'preſs. You will thence collect the Situation of Affairs under his Direction; and 'I moſt earneſtly entreat you will conſider it, and, on this preſſing Occaſion, do every 'Thing in your Power to promote the King's Service, by falling on the moſt ſpeedy 'and effectual Method for ſupplying the King's Army with Carriages, for want of 'which the General is in the utmoſt Diſtreſs.

September 13, 1758. WILLIAM DENNY."

SIR,

Fort Loudoun, September 9, 1758.

Letter from General Forbes to the Governor.

I HAVE the Honour of laying before you the Situation of his Majeſty's Affairs under my Direction in theſe Southern Provinces, at this critical Juncture; and at the ſame Time to ſhew you how much it depends on you and the People of this Province, to aſſiſt in carrying on a Service which his Majeſty has ſo much at Heart, or, by their Neglect and Obſtinacy, have it in their Power to render every Step that has been taken (for the Safety of theſe Colonies) fruitleſs, and to no Purpoſe, but to expend a very great Sum of Money.

The laying in Proviſions for the Support of the Army I attempted to do without even being obliged to impreſs any Carriages. The Quantity of Proviſions to have been collected at our principal Magazine, has fallen greatly ſhort of what I had Reaſon to expect, becauſe moſt of the Waggons were not loaded with more than Fourteen Hundred Weight, and took a Third more Time in the Carriage than they ought to have done, which obliged us to break in upon the Stock of Proviſions laid in at Rays-Town, while the Troops were opening a Road over the Mountains, and ſecuring its Communication, which is now effectually done to within forty Miles of the French Fort; ſo that if the Inhabitants who have Waggons are not obliged to furniſh a ſufficient Number of them, who, in one Trip to Rays-Town, might tranſport the Quantity of Proviſions wanted, and where they may receive Payment for the Trip, at a juſt and equitable Price, to be fixed by Authority, in Proportion to the Quantity of Proviſions ſo delivered, and to the Length of the Journey that they make, the Expedition cannot go forward; nor can I maintain the Ground I am already Maſter of, but ſhall be obliged to draw off my Maſter's Forces to the inhabited Parts of the Country, and take Proviſions and Carriages wherever they can be found. The Evil which will attend this Procedure is, that the Innocent muſt ſuffer with the Guilty, and the Exigence of the Caſe is ſo preſſing as to admit of no Delay.

I know there has been ſeveral Complaints made of the Scarcity of Forage, and that ſeveral Waggoners had been abuſed by Officers: If there was any Scarcity of Forage, it was owing to the Want of Waggons for its Tranſport; and no Driver ever made his Complaint but the Perſon who abuſed him was puniſhed; ſo that I am induced to believe every Complaint of that Kind is without Foundation, and therefore ſhall not further inſiſt on a detailed Account of the infamous Breach of Contract on the Part of the Inhabitants.

I have ſent to Philadelphia the Quarter-Maſter General, who will explain to you fully the the Situation of the Army. I ſhould be ſorry to employ him in executing any violent Meaſures, which the Exigency of Affairs I am in at preſent muſt compel me to do, if I am not relieved by a ſpeedy Law for the providing the Army with Carriages, or a general Concurrence of Magiſtrates, and People of Power in thoſe Provinces, in aſſiſting, to their utmoſt, to provide the ſame, and that with the greateſt Diligence. 1758. September 13.

Every Thing is ready for the Army's advancing; but that I cannot do, unleſs I have a ſufficient Quantity of Proviſions in the Magazines at Rays-Town. The Road that leads from the advanced Poſts to the French Fort, may be opened as faſt as a Convoy can march it; therefore my Movement depends on his Majeſty's Subjects entering chearfully in carrying up the neceſſary Proviſions. The new Road has been finiſhed without the Enemy's knowing it, the Troops having not ſuffered the leaſt Inſult in the cutting it.

And as one Trip of the Waggons will be ſufficient for carrying up Proviſions to Rays-Town, they ſhall be paid off at that Place for the Weight they carry, and diſcharged. When they arrive at Rays-Town, I ſhall have nothing to do, but proceed with the Army under my Command, which hitherto have exerted themſelves with the greateſt Vigour and Spirit, in the great Labour they have undergone. I have done every Thing, in the Power of Man, to carry on this Expedition with Vigour; if any Stop is made to it now, there can be no Part laid to my Charge; for this Stop you know I have long dreaded, as ſix Weeks ago I wrote circular Letters to the different Magiſtrates, to give all their Aid and Aſſiſtance in procuring Waggons to the Contractor's Agents, for tranſporting Proviſions, and that nothing has been neglected, that could occur to me, for expediting this ſo neceſſary Branch of the Service.

I need not repeat to you the Care I have hitherto been at to prevent our Parties from falling upon the Indians, leſt, by Miſtake, it might have fallen upon thoſe who are any wiſe well diſpoſed to us, and who are, I hope, by this Time, at Eaſton, to meet you, where I hope you will, as ſoon as poſſible, bring Things to an Iſſue, letting the Indians know that the Regard I had for them has been the only Reaſon why I had not long ago fallen upon their Towns, Wives and Children; but that now I could no longer ſtop from putting in Execution the Orders of the King, my Maſter, againſt his Enemies, and all who joined with them.

As you will ſee Mr. Croghan, you will be ſo good as ſend him, with thoſe who will follow, up to me as ſoon as poſſible; and pray, as ſoon as you can form any Idea how Matters are likely to turn out, let me know by Expreſs. And I beg your Sentiments, as to my Proceedings, if God grant us Succeſs, againſt the Enemy. You ſee the Difficulty of leaving a Garriſon there, and you know how your Province have put it out of my Power of leaving any of their Troops after the Firſt of December; ſo I am really at a Loſs what Step I muſt take. I have the Honour to be,

Sir, Your moſt obedient and moſt humble Servant,

JOHN FORBES.

P. S. As I am willing to embrace every Meaſure for carrying on the Service, I have wrote to ſeveral of the Members of the Aſſembly, to deſire their Aſſiſtance in relation to Carriages, as I ſuppoſe you may think it proper to lay my Letter before them."

The foregoing Letter from the General, together with his Honour's Meſſage attending it, being read, and ſome Time ſpent in Debate thereon, they were referred to further Conſideration.

The Committee appointed to bring in an Anſwer to Part of the Governor's Meſſage of the Twelfth Inſtant, reported, they had eſſayed a Draught for that Purpoſe, which they delivered at the Table, and the ſame was read.

Then the Houſe adjourned to Ten o'Clock To-morrow Morning. Adjournment

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly.

WE have conſidered your Honour's Meſſage of the Twelfth Inſtant, ſo far as it relates to Admiral Boſcawen's Requiſition of a Supply of Seamen from this Colony, " as Recruits towards manning the Fleet under his Command," and have reconſidered the Secretary of State's Letter of the Thirtieth of December, 1757, to which you have been pleaſed to refer us in your ſaid Meſſage; and are of Opinon, that if it was expected we ſhould recruit his Majeſty's Fleet at the Expence of this Province, we are at preſent ſo circumſtanced that it is not in our Power to comply with it. Your Honour muſt be ſenſible, that the Sitting of this Aſſembly muſt ſoon terminate, and the large Grant we have 1758. September 14. have already made to his Majeſty for the Service of the current Year, is almoſt expended; what little remains we apprehend will be taken up in defraying the Expences of the enſuing Treaty at Eaſton, which though for the immediate Service of the Crown, and the general Intereſt of the Colonies, is likely to become principally, if not wholly, a Charge upon this Province.

September 14, 1758.

Signed by Order of the Houſe,
THOMAS LEECH, Speaker."

The ſaid Anſwer to Part of the Governor's Meſſage being tranſcribed, was again read, ſigned by Mr. Speaker, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

A Meſſage to the Governor from the Aſſembly. IN Anſwer to that Part of your Meſſage of the Twelfth Inſtant, relating to Indian Affairs, we heartily approve of the general Meeting, which has been agreed upon to be held at Eaſton, as the moſt probable Means of regaining and confirming the antient Friendſhip and Alliance of the Natives to the Britiſh Intereſt; to which End this Province hath exerted itſelf in a particular Manner, and at a very great Expence.

In an Affair ſo intereſting to our moſt gracious Sovereign, and the Britiſh Nation, we ſincerely hope with you, that every Hand and Heart will be united in bringing this Treaty to an happy Iſſue.

Report of the Committee appointed to enquire into the Acquittal of William Moore, &c.

YOUR Committee, upon examining the Minutes of the laſt Aſſembly, find, That from the Commencement to the End of their annual Seſſion, they were repeatedly interrupted in the Buſineſs of Legiſlation by a Number of Petitions preſented to the Houſe, from Time to Time, by the Inhabitants of Cheſter County; ſome of them ſigned by a great Number jointly, others ſingly, by diſtreſſed Widows, and many poor labouring Men, who were burdened by large Families of ſmall Children, charging William Moore, as well with many Acts of Injuſtice, Extortion and fraudulent and corrupt Practices in his Office of Juſtice of the Peace, as in his private Tranſactions as a Dealer, and entreating that Houſe to redreſs their reſpective Aggrievances; ſome of them declaring, that unleſs they could obtain it from them, they had not the leaſt Expectation of it from any other Quarter; having, from Time to Time, as is well known to your Committee, made ſeveral fruitleſs Applications to the executive Part of Government for that Purpoſe; but through the Intereſt of the ſaid Moore, by himſelf, or the Interceſſion of his Friends, their Complaints had been diſregarded, and their Injuries not only unredreſſed, but unheard. We further find, that Houſe, in Compaſſion to the diſtreſſed Petitioners, and from

from a just Sense of their Duty, having given the said Moore repeated Notices to attend and vindicate his Conduct, if he could, proceeded to examine into the Complaints, with the utmost Candour and Impartiality, and in the most public and solemn Manner, a great Number of the reputable Inhabitants attending on that Occasion. And many Acts of Extortion, fraudulent and corrupt Practices, and excessive Oppression, being fully proved against him, by a great Number of Witnesses, to the general Satisfaction of the House, they apprehended it their indispensable Duty to address the Governor to remove the said Moore from his said Office of Justice of the Peace, and from all his public Offices, Posts and Employments within the Government, under an Expectation thereby to procure, for the future, an Indemnity to the unhappy Sufferers, and that Relief which it is the Right of every Subject to expect under an English Government. 1758. September 26.

But the Governor, regardless of the Address of the Representatives of the People, through the Influence of some of the Proprietary Council, as your Committee have good Reason to believe, hath continued the said Moore in his said Office, to the great Terror and Oppression of the People, for near a Twelvemonth, under a Pretence of giving the said Moore a Hearing before him and his Council, to satisfy his Conscience, whether the said Moore was a fit Minister of Justice.———A great Number of positive and clear Affidavits, taken in the most solemn and public Manner, and laid before his Honour, not being sufficient for that Purpose.

Your Committee must have been at a Loss to account for this strange Conduct in the Governor and his Council, had they not been Witnesses to an apparent Design to overthrow the Constitution, and enslave the People, by depriving their Representatives of their most essential Rights, Powers and Privileges, and particularly that of redressing the Aggrievances of the Subject. We apprehend it cannot be necessary to say much to convince the House, that upon the Preservation of this Power in the Assembly, the Security of the Liberties and Properties of the People essentially depends. It is the most important Check in the Constitution on the Actions of wicked Officers, who hold their Commissions during Pleasure, and of Course are under the Influence and Direction of the executive Part of Government. Magistrates, whose Duty it is to administer Justice, and relieve the Distressed, will become the Instruments, in the Hands of Power, to oppress the People, and enslave the Country, when they know they are answerable only to those whom they serve, and will support them at all Events. In short, as a due Support and Exercise of this Power in our Assembly must bring about an upright Administration of Justice, a faithful Execution of our Laws, and a Restoration of our late happy Constitution; so on the contrary your Committee are of Opinion, the Want of it must, in the End, necessarily render the Liberty and Property of the Subject precarious, tend to a Subversion of our Laws, and an Innovation in the Government, from a State of Freedom and Liberty, to that of the worst of Tyranny and Oppression; the Oppression of inferior Instruments, under Colour of Law.

This Design will appear more evident, when it is recollected, that the late infamous Libel against the Powers of Assemblies, signed by the said Moore, was advised and approved of by some of the Proprietary Council, denying the Authority of the Assembly to enquire into and redress the Injuries of the People. Besides, if this was not the Design, your Committee cannot conceive why the Governor, when the Address of the Assembly was presented to him to remove the said Moore, and the Affidavits laid before him, containing all the Crimes laid to his Charge, did not order the King's Attorney, who is likewise one of his Council, to prosecute him in the inferior Courts of Justice, where some of them were cognizable. Had a private Person made Information to the Governor, or the King's Attorney, of any Acts of Extortion and Fraud against William Moore, can it be disputed that it was not their Duty to set on Foot a Prosecution against him, that public Justice might be done?——Could such an Enquiry as was lately instituted before the Governor and Council, satisfy the Laws or public Justice? Is it reasonable to think that a Governor, who was desirous of honestly discovering the Guilt or Innocence of a Person accused, would not rather chuse to have had him tried by a Court of Justice, appointed by his own Commission, and a Jury of the Country, than by an illegal, anti-constitutional and arbitrary Mode of Trial before himself and Council, unprecedented in our Mother Country, and but lately instituted here, to serve the Purposes of supporting bad Men in their Acts of Oppression; especially as it was destitute of any legal Power of compelling the Attendance of the Parties or Witnesses, of administring the Oath to them when attending, and every Kind of judicial Authority, necessary to a legal and just Enquiry.

Your Committee therefore apprehend, that this Hearing was calculated, not for the Sake of enquiring into the Guilt or Innocence of William Moore, but to render ineffectual the Enquiries of the late Assembly, and to prevent, for the future, the Representatives of the People from exercising that essential Power of examining into their Oppression, and redressing their Grievances; a Power indispensably necessary in a mixt Form of Government, to check and suppress the extravagant and lawless Use of Authority in the executive cutive Part of Government; and therefore is of the moſt dangerous Conſequence to the Freedom of the Conſtitution, and Rights of the People.

After theſe Obſervations, your Committee beg Leave to acquaint the Houſe, that, in Purſuance of their Orders, they proceeded to hear a Number of Perſons, who were preſent at this Hearing before the Governor and Council, who were all examined in the moſt ſolemn Manner; by whoſe Teſtimony the foregoing Obſervations are abundantly confirmed.

GEORGE ASHBRIDGE and SAMUEL LIGHTFOOT, Eſquires, being examined, both agreed, that when ſeveral of the Complainants, who charged the ſaid Moore with corrupt and fraudulent Practices, appeared to make good their Charge, they were told by the King's Attorney, and one of the Governor's Council, that they would not enquire into any Matters but ſuch only as related to the Malfeazanze in the public Office of the ſaid Moore, by which Means many of the Petitioners, who had been greatly injured and defrauded, returned Home unheard. Among which your Committee beg Leave to mention one.

JOHN CARL being examined before the late Houſe of Aſſembly, declared, that he purchaſed a Term of Years in a Piece of Land, in Pikeland Townſhip, in Cheſter County, for which he paid, and obliged himſelf to pay, Three Hundred and Thirty Pounds. That ſome ſhort Time after, the Leſſor applied to him for Forty-three Pounds, Rent due, but unknown to this Examinant at the Time of Purchaſe; that he, this Examinant, made this known to the ſaid Moore, who adviſed him to make over his Leaſe to him, the ſaid Moore, and alſo One Hundred and Forty-ſeven Buſhels of Wheat, Eighty Buſhels of Oats, Eight Waggon Loads of Hay, a Waggon, Two Horſes, and Gears for Four Horſes, promiſing that he would ſecure them for him, this Examinant, and his Family, in Spite of all his Creditors. That by theſe fair Promiſes the Examinant was prevailed on to aſſign over the ſaid Leaſe. That the ſaid Moore then produced a Bond for Fifty Pounds, and deſired the Examinant to ſign it, which he refuſed, declaring, that as he owed him, the ſaid Moore nothing, he knew not why he ſhould ſign that Bond. That the ſaid Moore replied, you Fool, if you bring a Child to be chriſtened, muſt not you give it a Name? I (the ſaid Moore) muſt have ſomething to ſhew the People why I hold theſe Goods. That hereupon the Examinant was prevailed on to execute the ſaid Bond, and a Bill of Sale for the Goods before mentioned. That upon this the ſaid Moore told him, he would give the Oats to his Horſes, that they might be ſtrong to carry him, this Examinant, off in the Spring. That the ſaid Moore further adviſed him, this Examinant, to go to Germany, and to be ſeen here no more, and offered him Money to carry him thither. That this Part of his Advice was too terrible, as he could not bear the Thoughts of leaving his Wife and ſix ſmall Children to ſuffer Hardſhips and Want. And this Examinant further ſaid, that he was not, at the Time of the Aſſignment, indebted any Thing to the ſaid Moore, and that he never received any Conſideration for his Effects, but one Piſtole. And that he was not indebted to any other Perſon than as aforeſaid, ſave George Aſhbridge, who never ſued him.

JOHN ADAMS being examined in Support of the foregoing Facts, declared, that being a Conſtable in the Neighbourhood, he was frequently aſked by the ſaid Moore, whether the ſaid John Carl was in Being, or whether in Goal or not; upon being told that he was neither dead nor in Goal, the ſaid Moore requeſted the Examinant to adviſe the ſaid Carl, when he ſaw him again, to go out of the Parts, and to tell him there were many Warrants or Writs out againſt him, the ſaid Carl, that ſhould he be taken, the ſaid Moore could not ſave him from Goal, and that the ſaid Moore ſent a Horſe by the Examinant to the ſaid Carl, that he might make the beſt of his Way off. That the Examinant had no Warrants (though a Conſtable at the Time) to ſerve on the ſaid Carl, except one, ſomething under Five Pounds, whoſe Iſſue depended on another Warrant, by which Five Pounds was recovered, and paid to the ſaid Carl's Wife.

It alſo appears to your Committee, that the ſaid Carl did run away from this Province to Virginia, where he remained ſome Time, and is now returned, but as yet deſtitute of any Redreſs againſt the Fraud of the ſaid Moore.

GEORGE ASHBRIDGE being examined, declared, that a conſiderable Time after he heard that John Carl was run away, on or about the Twenty-firſt of January, 1755, he went to William Moore's, to ſee if he had any Effects of ſaid Carl's in his Hands, (as the ſaid Carl was, at the Time of his abſconding, indebted to the Examinant, in a conſiderable Sum of Money) upon which he, the ſaid Moore, told him, the ſaid Examinant, that Carl was much indebted to him, and that he had got his Place, for which he gave him, ſaid Carl, Fifty Pounds; the Examinant then aſked him, the ſaid Moore, if he would let him have it for Fifty Pounds? After a little Conſideration, ſaid Moore ſaid he would; and accordingly brought the Leaſe, and ſat down to draw the Aſſignment, but making a Stop, ſaid he had a Judgment Bond of Carl for Fifty Pounds, beſides the Fifty Pounds he had bought the Place for; that he alſo had ſome Wheat, and a Waggon, with two Horſes, that was to be deducted out of it; but there would be a Balance due to him after,

after, and that the Examinant must pay that too, which was agreed to; then the Assignment was made, and the Examinant obligated himself, on the Back of the said Judgement Bond, to pay to said Moore what would be justly due to him from said Carl, upon a fair Settlement, and the next Day the Examinant paid the first mentioned Fifty Pounds; afterwards he, the said Examinant, went to said Moore, to have a Settlement, and to pay the Balance that should appear to be justly due upon this Judgment Bond, agreeable to his Contract; but said Moore told him, that his Books were not posted, and so could not conveniently settle with him then, and put it off at that Time; the said Examinant went a second time, when he had got an Account of the Effects in said Moore's Hands, which, to the best of his Remembrance, was One Hundred and Forty-seven Bushels of Wheat, and Eighty Bushels of Oats, a Waggon, Two Horses, and Gears for Four Horses, which he desired to have allowed: But the said Moore then would allow of no Settlement, but demanded of said Examinant the full Sum of Fifty Pounds upon Account of the Judgment Bond; and further said, that nothing short of that Sum should excuse him; the Examinant then told said Moore, that he knew what he had engaged to do, and that he would not pay the Fifty Pounds; and farther, that if he would not settle with him according to Agreement, he would sue him to a Settlement, for he would not let his Obligation remain on the Judgment Bond as it was, but that he could not get any Thing done at that Time. That on or about the Eighth Day of September following, he met with said Carl's Wife, who told him, that said Moore denied having received any Money of the said Examinant for the Place, and offered to go to said Moore's, to prove that he had not paid any, which was agreed to. And that they, the Examinant and Carl's Wife, did meet at said Moore's, and, after a good deal of Discourse, the said Moore brought the aforesaid Judgment Bond, and, without any Consideration, offered him, the said Examinant, the said Judgment Bond, and told him to take off his own Seal, without defacing the Bond; but the Examinant replied, that nothing less than taking off his Name, as well as Seal, would satisfy him, and accordingly cut both off, as would appear by the said Bond, were it produced; and that the said Moore acknowledged, before the said Carl's Wife, that he had received the said Fifty Pounds, and denied he had told her to the contrary. 1758. September 26.

Here your Committee must observe, that had the Governor nothing else in View but "to satisfy his Conscience whether William Moore was a fit Minister of Justice," as he has expressly declared, they cannot see why this heinous Fraud, so well attested, should not deserve his Notice. For certainly if a Man at once, by Art and Contrivance, can defraud the Creditor of his just Debt, rob the Owner of his Property, and reduce a helpless Family to Poverty and Want, he cannot be esteemed a "fit Minister of Justice," nor hesitate as a Justice of the Peace to perpetrate Crimes, oppressive to the Subject, under Colour of his Office; Power of any Kind ought not to be trusted in the Hands of such a Person.

MICHAEL CYPHER being next examined, declared, that upon the Tenth of August, 1755, he purchased of Conrad Shymer, in the Presence of Simon Shunk, his, the said Shymer's, Son-in-Law, a Servant Girl, for which he was to give the Sum of Four Pounds. That this Examinant, with the said Shymer, went the next Day to the said William Moore's, to have the Indenture of said Servant assigned to him. That when the said Moore was about drawing the Assignment, he asked this Examinant what was the Consideration? who answered, Four Pounds, the said Shymer being by; that the said Moore replied, that Sum will not do; it is too mean, and that it would prove to his, this Examinant's, Prejudice, if he intended to sell the Girl again, for if any Person who inclined to purchase should see such a trifling Sum in the Assignment, it would give them Reason to suspect the Servant was good for nothing, let us therefore put down Fourteen or Fifteen Pounds; to which this Examinant agreed. That the Assignment was made accordingly, and Fourteen Pounds inserted as the Consideration. That in March following, Conrad Shymer told him, this Examinant, that he must go to said Moore's about the Servant Girl and the Money due for her; that this Examinant accordingly went, when Shymer being present, Moore asked him why he did not pay Shymer? That this Examinant replied, that he owed Shymer Four Pounds for the Servant, and if Shymer desired the Money, that he would pay him. That said Moore answered, that was not the Case; that the Bargain was made before him, and that he would be an Evidence that he, this Examinant, was to have nothing for the Girl, but a handsome Reward for the Sale of her; which the Examinant denied, and repeated his Bargain again and again, that he had bought the Girl for Four Pounds, in the Presence of the said Shunk. That the said Moore replied, he could or would swear that the Examinant was to have but a handsome Reward for selling the Girl, and asked Shymer what he would have of the Examinant for his Servant; who replied, Twelve Pounds Ten Shillings;——but being told by said Moore it was too much, he fell in his Demand from that Sum to Ten Pounds, then to Nine Pounds,—and at last to Eight Pounds;—when the said Moore said that was very reasonable, and told this Examinant he must pay that Sum, which he repeatedly refused; when the ſaid Moore told the ſaid Shymer, he might ſue the Examinant, and recover much more of him.—That the Examinant calling to Mind the Offer of the ſaid Moore to ſwear againſt him to a Bargain never made, and urging Shymer to ſue him, he was ſo intimidated and frightened, that he yielded to the Terms propoſed by the ſaid Moore, as he thought it in vain to contend with two ſuch powerful Opponents. That the ſaid Moore immediately drew two Notes of Four Pounds each, payable in one Month, which he, this Examinant, ſigned. That at the End of the Month he paid the Four Pounds due on one of the ſaid Notes, and refuſed to pay the other, deſiring Shymer would recollect the Bargain, and not inſiſt on it.—That Shymer replied, he made no Matter of Conſcience in taking it, ſince the Magiſtrate thought it was right. That ſome Time after the ſaid Moore ſent a Precept for him, the Examinant, for the Sum of Four Pounds unpaid, upon which he appeared. That the ſaid Moore ſhewed him the Note, aſked him if the Signing was his Hand.—That the Examinant replied, perhaps it was. That the ſaid Moore ſaid he was ſure it was, for he was a Witneſs to it, and aſked why he had not paid it. That this Examinant replied, it was an unjuſt Debt. That the ſaid Moore then told him, if he did not pay the Money, or give good Security, he would ſend him immediately to Goal. That the Examinant produced his Bail, paid the Charges, by the Orders of the ſaid Moore, and two Days before the Time of Payment was expired, he alſo paid the ſaid Four Pounds to the ſaid Moore.

1758. September 26.

SIMON SHUNK being examined on ſome of the ſaid Facts, ſaid, that he was ſent by Shymer, his Father-in-Law, to bring Cypher to buy the ſaid Servant; that he was preſent when the Bargain was made between the Parties, and that Four Pounds, and no more, was the Conſideration which the ſaid Cypher was to pay for the ſaid Servant.

Your Committee find theſe ſeveral Facts were declared before the Governor and his Council, in Subſtance as they are above related. But further, to confirm the Truth of the two laſt Examinations, we think it neceſſary to add the Examination of Conrad Shymer, the Perſon who ſold the ſaid Servant to the ſaid Cypher, who ſaid, that about three Years paſt he ſold a Servant Girl to ſaid Cypher for the Conſideration of Four Pounds, and no more, and that there was nothing to be allowed, or afterwards to be paid to the ſaid Shymer by the ſaid Cypher, as a further Conſideration, ſave only the Four Pounds, and that he never expected any further or other Conſideration. But that when he, the Examinant, was before the ſaid Moore, about the ſaid Aſſignment, he heard ſome Talk about having the ſaid Aſſignment drawn, and the Conſideration of Fourteen Pounds inſerted therein; the Reaſon of which he was ignorant of. That in March following a certain Michael and Adam Hollman came in Company, and informed this Examinant, that by bringing ſaid Cypher before ſaid Moore, he might get conſiderably more Money for the ſaid Servant than the Four Pounds, for which he had ſold her; and that the Perſon who told him of this Scheme, deſired him to come down and get Cypher with him, and that the Examinant need not ſay any Thing, for that every Thing relating thereto was determined on already. That accordingly the Examinant did acquaint ſaid Cypher that he muſt appear before ſaid Moore about ſaid Servant, which they both did, and that the ſaid Moore did draw and procure for the Examinant two Notes, for Four Pounds each, payable to him by ſaid Cypher one Month after Date. That at the ſame Time he was ſenſible that it was wrong in him to take Four Pounds more for the ſaid Servant than what he had ſold her for, but thought as the ſaid Moore, who was a Juſtice, did not object, he might ſafely do it; and that at the ſame Time the ſaid Moore well knew that the Girl was really ſold for Four Pounds, and no more.

EDWARD HUGHES, being examined by the Committee, ſaid, that about May, 1754, he bought a Horſe of William Moore, Eſq; for the Conſideration of Twelve Pounds, was, by Agreement, to have a Year's Credit, and gave a Bond for the ſaid Sum, payable in May following, without Intereſt. That in Auguſt next after the Agreement aforeſaid, he was apprehended by Benjamin Robinſon, with a Warrant at the Suit of John Thomas, for a Debt not exceeding Five Pounds, granted by William Moore, commanding the Conſtable to carry the Examinant before the ſaid William Moore, and no other Juſtice, at which he expreſſed much Surpriſe to the ſaid Robinſon, as he well knew he did not owe a Farthing to any Man of that Name. That the next Morning he was carried by the ſaid Robinſon before the ſaid Moore, who, as ſoon as he ſaw this Examinant, called him a damned Raſcal, told him he was about to cheat him out of his Money, and that he woul commit him for a Cheat. That the Examinant replied, he did not intend to cheat him, and would give him his Clothes and Tools as a Security, he being a Carpenter by Trade. That notwithſtanding the Offer aforeſaid, the ſaid Moore told Robinſon, the Conſtable, to keep him in Cuſtody until John Thomas, the Plaintiff, could be had, for he was then very ill. That the Examinant then aſked who the Plaintiff was, and whether he had left any Note or Account againſt him? declaring, at the ſame Time, that he owed no ſuch Man a Farthing. That the ſaid Moore anſwered, there was no Note or Account left with him, but would give him, the Examinant, no Satisfaction, or other Account of the Plaintiff. That hereupon the ſaid Moore took the Examinant into a Room, and told him, that there were some small Debts against him, which would ruin him; but if he would give him three Notes, payable on Demand, for the Horse before sold, he, the said Moore, would stand his Friend, and put him, the Examinant, in a Way that nobody should hurt him. That the Examinant, being much terrified at the Threats of Commitment, and of being detained in Custody until the Plaintiff should appear, consented, and gave three Notes, payable to the said Moore on Demand, two of them for Five Pounds each, and one for Forty Shillings. That the said Moore immediately enclosed the said Notes in a Letter to Isaac Davis, Esq; one of the Justices, &c. and commanded the said Robinson to keep the Examinant in Custody, by Virtue of the said Warrant, until he should carry the Examinant before the said Davis. That the said Robinson then demanded his Fees of the said Moore, who told him the Examinant must pay them. That he gave the said Robinson a Note for the Costs on the said fictitious Suit, which Robinson delivered to the said Moore, who afterwards received the same of Abraham Williams, on this Examinant's Account. That shortly after, the said Robinson carried the Examinant in Custody to Justice Davis's, and after a short Time the said Robinson again arrested him, at the Suit of said Moore, on one of the said Notes, and carried him into a Room before the said Davis, who produced to him his said three Notes, and read a Letter from said Moore, directing him to proceed on said Notes against the Examinant. That the Examinant then related the foregoing Facts to the said Davis, and complained of the ill Usage of the said Moore; but was told by the said Davis, that he was sorry for it, but could not help it. That the said Davis then gave Judgment against the Examinant, issued three Executions against his Body, by Virtue whereof he was sent to Chester Goal, where he remained three Weeks and three Days. And the Examinant further said, that at the Court following his Commitment, he offered to give said Moore sufficient Security, if he would wait untill the Money was lawfully due, which he refused, but said he would give him a Month. That afterwards he procured Abraham Williams, by promising to make him Satisfaction by Servitude, to become Security for him to the said Moore, for the Payment of the whole Money in one Month, Ten Pounds whereof the said Williams afterwards paid the said Moore, and likewise discharged all the Costs accrued on the said three Executions; and the Examinant repaid the said Williams, Part by Service and Part in Money; and the remaining Forty Shillings was allowed by the said Moore, for Work done before the Notes were given. That the Examinant hath never heard of the said John Thomas since, nor of any Claim any such Person had against him. That, to the best of his Remembrance, he declared the above Facts before the Governor and his Council, and was asked by one of the Council, if he had any Evidences? he replied, he had Evidences, but the Notice given him was too short to have them there: Then the said Moore was asked if he had any? who answered, that he had nothing but his Memorial, which he read. And that this, to the best of the Examinant's Knowledge, was, in Substance, what passed relating to his Complaint before the Governor and Council.

were

Benjamin Robinson being examined, declared, that about August, 1754, a Warrant was delivered him, as a Deputy Constable, by Daniel Goldsmith, signed by William Moore, at the Suit of John Thomas, against Edward Hughes, upon which he arrested said Hughes, who told the Examinant that he owed no such Man a Farthing. That he afterwards carried the said Hughes before said Moore,—who, upon meeting them, was very angry with said Hughes, called him a Cheat; that Hughes answered, he had no Design to cheat him, and offered the said Moore his Clothes and Tools as a Security.——That he attempted to return his Warrant to said Moore, who told him he must keep the said Hughes in Custody by his Warrant until another Constable (he being a Deputy) should come and take Care of him until John Thomas, who was sick, should appear. That afterwards Moore and Hughes went into the House, and left him before the Door, and on their Return he understood from them that Hughes had given Moore three Notes, two for Five Pounds each, and one for Forty Shillings, in Discharge of a Bond which Hughes told him was not due. That Moore ordered him to keep Hughes in Custody, by Virtue of the said Warrant, and carry him before Isaac Davis, Esq;——That he did demand the Costs of serving the said Warrant of Moore, as no Plaintiff appeared, who said Hughes must pay them, and that Hughes gave his Note for them and other Costs due to the said Robinson. That the Examinant, according to Moore's Orders, did carry Hughes to said Davis's, and thinks he delivered the Warrant at the Suit of said Thomas to him. That while they were there, he received from said Davis another Warrant, at the Suit of the said Moore, against Hughes, with which he again arrested him, who thereupon confessed Judgments on the said three Notes, and said Davis immediately issued Executions against the Body of the said Hughes, by Virtue of which he carried said Hughes to the Goal at Chester. That he saw Moore's Son deliver to the said Davis a Letter, which he understood, and believes, was to desire Davis to proceed on said Notes, to give Judgement, and issue Executions thereon.——That he never heard of any one, by the Name of John Thomas, appearing on the said Suit since these Things happened.

Humphrey Wayne, being examined, said, that about the Beginning of Harvest, in the 1758. the Year 1754, the ſaid Moore told him he wanted Edward Hughes to work for him,

September 26. for that he had ſold him a Horſe worth Fifteen Pounds, for Twelve Pounds only, and had given him twelve Months Credit for the Payment thereof.

CHRISTIAN EVERHART, being examined, ſaid, that he was ſummoned before William Moore, Eſq; to anſwer Samuel Humphreys. That he appeared at the Day, carried the Money, and paid it to William Moore, before any Judgment was given; that there were no Witneſſes ſummoned, nor Qualifications adminiſtered, as he did not deny the Debt, and was ready to pay it on his Appearance; that he aſked the ſaid Moore what were his Fees, who anſwered Three Shillings, which he then paid, and alſo Five Shillings to the Conſtable.

WILLIAM EVANS, being examined, declared, that he, being a Conſtable, ſummoned Chriſtian Everhart, at the Suit of Samuel Humphreys, before William Moore, where the ſaid Everhart, and David Humphreys, in Behalf of his ſaid Son Samuel, appeared; that upon converſing together, Everhart told Humphreys that he could keep him out of his Money three Months, but rather than be at the Charge of a Judgment he would pay him, and that this was before they appeared before the ſaid Moore; that then this Examinant went in and informed Moore that the Parties were at the Door; Moore then aſked him why he did not call them in; he replied, that the Defendant had the Money, and was willing to pay it, and David Humphreys was ready to accept of it, in Behalf of the Plaintiff, his Son; that Moore replied, you Fool! you ſhould not let the People make it up, that does not bring Griſt, or Water, (he don't remember which) to our Mills; and told the Examinant to call them immediately, which he accordingly did. That Moore then aſked Everhart if he had the Money, who replied, I don't know; Moore then aſked if he had Bail, he replied, he believed ſo; that the ſaid Everhart offered one Chriſtian Waganer for Bail, into whoſe Circumſtances Moore began to enquire, upon which Waganer perſuaded the ſaid Everhart to pay the Money, which he accordingly did in the Examinant's Preſence; that no Bail was taken, the ſaid Waganer refuſing, after the Enquiry aforeſaid, to be Bail; that no Service was done by the Juſtice but the Iſſuing of the Warrant, to his Knowledge; that he gave on Oath this Account to the Governor and Council, as near in Subſtance as his Memory ſerved him. That the ſaid Moore produced his Docket to ſhew that Bail was entered, and that there was a Stay of Execution for three Months, and ſaid he would prove the Examinant perjured.

Your Committee, to ſhew the Falſity of the ſaid Moore's Book, and in Support of the two foregoing Examinations, think it neceſſary to add the Affidavit of CHRISTIAN WAGANER, who being examined, ſaid, that he was preſent when his Brother-in-Law, Chriſtian Everhart, paid the Money due to Samuel Humphreys.——That the Fees charged by the ſaid Moore was Three Shillings, and the Debt Forty Shillings. That he did not acknowledge to ſtand Bail in the ſaid Suit, but reſolved againſt it before he left Home, expecting that Everhart had ſufficient to pay the Debt, and that he and this Examinant could make up the Coſts.——And it further appears to your Committee, by a Receipt from David Humphreys, now in our Hands, that the Money was paid at the Time of their meeting before the ſaid Moore, as alſo by the Examination of Samuel Lightfoot, Eſq; to whom the ſaid Moore hath confeſſed it ſince the Hearing aforeſaid before the Governor and Council, and therefore there could be no Occaſion for Bail.——The Service done by the ſaid Moore then being no more than iſſuing his Warrant, for which, by the Table of Fees, he ought to take but Nine-pence; the taking Three Shillings, your Committee apprehends, is extortionate and unjuſt.

JAMES PUGH, being examined, ſaid, that he bought for Thomas Dalrymple half a Gallon of Rum from James Fullerton; that ſome Time after he paid ſaid Fullerton for the ſaid Rum. That afterwards the ſaid Fullerton ſued the ſaid Dalrymple before William Moore, Eſq; That he, with the ſaid Dalrymple, appeared before the ſaid Moore, and made it appear that the Examinant had already paid the ſaid Fullerton for the ſaid Rum. That finding the Examinant's Allegations, in Behalf of the ſaid Dalrymple, not regarded, to avoid future Trouble to the ſaid Dalrymple, he paid for the ſaid Rum a ſecond time. That ſome Time after the ſaid Moore iſſued his Warrant againſt the Examinant for the Coſts accruing on the ſaid Suit againſt Dalrymple, although he was not a Party thereto, nor concerned therein, nor ever aſſumed to pay the ſaid Coſts. That upon this Suit he was committed to the Goal of Cheſter, where he was confined till he paid the Sum of Two Pounds and Six-pence for the Coſts aforeſaid, and the Coſts of the ſaid Commitment. That after his Diſcharge from Goal he received another Precept from the ſaid Moore, at the Suit of the ſaid Fullerton. That when he appeared before the ſaid Moore, he was informed the ſaid Fullerton had proved an Account againſt the Examinant, amounting to Two Shillings and Three-pence Halfpenny, upon which he offered to make his Defence, as he had paid the ſaid Fullerton all his Demands; but that the ſaid Moore would not admit him to ſay any Thing in his Defence, but ordered him to get out of the Houſe, paſſed Judgment againſt him unheard, and iſſued Execution againſt the Examinant; upon which the Examinant was obliged to give his Note to the Constable for Fifteen Shillings, to prevent his going to Goal a second time. 1758. September 26.

THOMAS DALRYMPLE, being examined, said, that some Time ago he wanted some Rum; that his Father-in-Law, James Pugh, as it was for the Use of his, the said Pugh's, Daughter, offered to procure it for him, the Examinant, at the Store of James Fullerton, which he desired him to do, and to have the Price charged to him, the Examinant, for that he had no Money at that Time. That afterwards being summoned to appear before William Moore, at the Suit of the said Fullerton, the said Pugh accompanied him. That upon the Evidence of the said Pugh, the Account of the said Fullerton (he not being present) was proved to be paid; but that the said Pugh, in order to avoid any future Trouble from said Fullerton, told the said Moore he would pay it again, and upon that delivered the said Moore a Bill, and that he saw other Money returned in Change.

WILLIAM BELL, being examined, said, that having heard that one John Hambright (to whom he was indebted a few Shillings) had left his Book of Accounts with William Moore, Esq; he immediately went to him, and tendered the Sum due, which the said Moore refused to receive, until he had paid him Three Shillings and Six-pence, which he alleged were the Costs on a Summons he had issued against the Examinant; that he never had a Summons served on him for that Money, and therefore he apprehended the said Three Shillings and Six-pence was illegally, extortionately, and, by Colour of his Office, exacted from him.

THOMAS ROBERTS, being examined, declared, that having heard a certain John Hambright, to whom he was indebted a few Shillings, had left his Book of Accounts in the Hands of William Moore, Esq; he immediately tendered the same to him, who refused to receive it, unless he would pay Milage, and other Costs, which he, the said Moore, alleged had accrued thereon, though no Precept was ever served on the Examinant.—But at last the said Moore received the said Debt, and obliged the Examinant to pay for a Summons, Serving and Judgment, though the Debt never was denied by him.

MORRIS EVANS, being examined, declared, that hearing that John Hambright's Book was lodged in the Hands of William Moore, and that he had sued a Number of People, and knowing that he was indebted to said Hambright Six Shillings and Four-pence, he went to the said Moore, in order to pay the same, and prevent Costs, but that the said Moore refused to receive it without Costs, viz. One Shilling for proving the Book, One Shilling for Serving, Two Shillings and Four-pence for Milage, and Nine-pence for a Judgement, though the Debt was never denied, nor any Precept served, nor, to his Knowledge, made out; and that he did borrow Money to dicharge the said Costs.

JOHN ERRIT also declared, that he was sued by John Robinson, for a Debt not exceeding Five Pounds, and gave a Freeholder Security to pay the Money in three Months before William Moore, Esq; and at the same Time paid, in the Presence of the said Freeholder, the Constable all his Fees. That, at the Expiration of the said three Months, the Examinant, with the said Freeholder, went to the said Moore to pay the Debt, but the said Moore obliged the Examinant to pay the Constable's Fees over again, although the said Freeholder averred they had been paid before to the Constable. That the said Moore said the Constable was a damned Rascal, and had no Business to receive it. That the Examinant then requested a Precept for the Constable to recover the said Costs again, not judging it reasonable he should pay it twice, but the said Moore refused to give him one.

WILLIAM EVANS, being examined, said, that, by Virtue of an Execution issued by William Moore against Michael Nutt, he took in Execution a Horse belonging to the said Nutt, published the Sale of the said Horse, at which William Moore, Esq; attended, called the Examinant aside, and ordered him, when he, the said Moore, should bid at the Horse, to strike him off to him; that, when the Horse was on Sale, some of the People desired the Privilege of riding him, to try his Gaits, which Request the said Moore forbid him to grant. That the Horse was, by this Means, sold for Two Pounds Eleven Shillings, though he was worth at the Time at least Eight Pounds.—That being but a young Constable, and said Moore a Magistrate, he did not think it right to disobey his Orders.

Thus far only your Committee have had Time to enquire into the fraudulent and extortionate Acts of William Moore, Esq; upwards of twenty Petitions and Complaints of the excessive Oppression of the said Moore, on the poorer Sort of People, remaining yet to be examined into. Many of the Witnesses are of known Credit, and as all of them stand fair and unimpeached in their Reputation, they could not fail of giving your Committee full Satisfaction as to the Guilt of William Moore. By such unwarrantable Proceedings as these, we apprehend, though several of the Sums extorted are not large, yet as the poorer People are mostly affected by them, it must render their Lives miserable, their Poverty insupportable, and in the End their Families must become a Burden to the Public.

1758. September 26. Your Committee beg Leave further to obſerve, that the late Acquittal of William Moore before the Governor and his Council not only appears to them highly partial and unjuſt, from the foregoing Examinations, but from the very Mode of the Enquiry. Firſt, Your Committee find that the Witneſſes examined were at Liberty either to qualify, or not, by which Means we do not underſtand that more than two were qualified. 2. That a Number of the Complaints laid before the Governor by the Aſſembly, even of thoſe which related to the Conduct of the ſaid Moore as a Magiſtrate, were not examined into, though the Governor, in his Acquittal, has endeavoured to perſuade the World, that all ſuch as related to the public Conduct of the ſaid Moore were with Patience and Attention heard, and the reſt referred to the Courts of Law. 3. That as to ſeveral of thoſe he did enquire into, a Paper, drawn up by the ſaid Moore, called his Memorial, ſupported only by his own Aſſertion, appears to your Committee to have been received as concluſive Evidence againſt what was then alleged in Support of the Charge, and the ſolemn Examinations of the late Aſſembly, then in the Governor's Poſſeſſion. Theſe being the true Circumſtances of the late Hearing before the Governor, we cannot help expreſſing our Aſtoniſhment to find him, in his Acquittal of the ſaid Moore, not only declare, "that the Petitions appeared to him to be entirely groundleſs, and that the ſaid "Moore had acted in his Office with great Care, Uprightneſs and Fidelity; but that he "was ſo far from deſerving Cenſure, that, in many Inſtances, he merited the Thanks "of every good Man, and Lover of Juſtice."

Your Committee beg Leave further to add, that the Guilt of the ſaid Moore appears very evident to them, from the foregoing Examinations; that he has arbitrarily deprived the Subject of his Liberty and Property by Virtue of his Power as a Juſtice of the Peace, and under Colour of his Office; that the ſaid Hearing was inſtituted with a Deſign to ſupport the ſaid Moore in his Oppreſſion, contrary to the earneſt Remonſtrance of the Repreſentatives of the People, and to ſerve as a Cloak for maintaining an arbitrary Miniſter of Juſtice in his Acts of Tyranny: And that if the Complaints of the Subject againſt the oppreſſive Meaſures of wicked Miniſters are to be thus ſuperficially enquired into, and paſſed over, and the ſolemn Examinations before the Repreſentatives of the People rendered ineffectual, a Door for the moſt univerſal Oppreſſion is open, and the Liberties and Properties of the People will not only be ſubject to the Will of every Chief Ruler of the Province, but to the arbitrary Inclination of each inferior Magiſtrate."

Ordered, That the foregoing Report of the Committee appointed to enquire into the Management of the late Hearing of William Moore, Eſq; before the Governor and Council, be forthwith publiſhed in the Pennſylvania Gazette.

Whereas Information hath been made to this Houſe, that a certain Perſon in the City of Philadelphia hath now in his Cuſtody or Power ſundry original Papers belonging to the Public, and in particular the original Draught of the City of Philadelphia, and ſundry Papers thereto relating.

The Members appointed to see the Great Seal affixed to the Law enacted Yesterday, and the said Law deposited in the Rolls Office, reported, the same had been done according to Order.

The Committee appointed to inspect the Provincial Commissioners Accounts of the Disposition of an Hundred Thousand Pounds granted last Year to the King's Use, delivered their Report thereon at the Table, which was read, and follows in these Words, viz.

Report of the Committee on the Accounts of the Commissioners for disposing of £ 100,000.

WE the Committee appointed to audit and examine the Accounts of the Commissioners directed to dispose of the Hundred Thousand Pounds granted to the King's Use by an Act, entituled, A Supplement to the Act, entituled, An Act for granting the Sum of Sixty Thousand Pounds to the King's Use, and for striking Fifty-five Thousand Pounds thereof in Bills of Credit, and to provide a Fund for sinking the same, and for granting to his Majesty the additional Sum of One Hundred Thousand Pounds, report, that we have carefully examined the said Accounts, and do find, as well from the Commissioners Orders drawn on the Trustees of the General Loan Office, as from Accounts, Receipts, and other sufficient Vouchers produced to us, that not only the whole Sum of One Hundred Thousand Pounds aforesaid (except Eight Thousand Pounds thereof, deposited in the Hands of Mr. Fox for erecting Barracks, not yet accounted for, as the Barracks are not compleated) has been carefully and frugally laid out for the King's Service, and to no other Use or Purpose whatsoever, but that some of those Gentlemen were upon that Act considerably in Advance for the Public.

And as your Committee have not at this Time an Opportunity of stating a particular Account, agreeable to the Usage of former Assemblies, we pray an Order may be given to the Trustees of the General Loan Office, that, from the Orders drawn by the said Commissioners, they make out an Account of the said Hundred Thousand Pounds, to whom paid, and to what Uses appropriated, as expressed in the abovementioned Orders, that the same may be published with the Votes of this House.
